U. S. TO WITHDRAW FROM MEXICAN ROW

May Decide to Let Huerta & Co. Fight Matter Out.

Policy of Intervention Changed to One of Absolute Non-Interference.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Intimations are contained in Provisional President Huerta's reply to the American note, presented by John Lind, that President Wilson is not backed up by congress or the American people in his stand against the recognition of the Huerta government.

Referring to the attacks on the Washington administration by members of congress, and pointing to the official recommendations of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson advising recognition, Huerta declares he is entitled to be recognized. He holds that the Democratic party's power is temporary and argues that recognition of his government is an artisan question in the United States.

He intimates that he reaches his conclusion on private advices from Washington.

Though negotiations between John Lind, personal representative of President Wilson, and Provisional President Huerta are continuing on a cordial personal basis, neither side is receding from its position, and alternative measures already are under consideration here. No definite course has been formulated, but the policy that is at present under consideration and most likely to be adopted is one of absolute non-interference.

Fight It Out.

The American government under such a policy would continue to deny arms to both sides, would withdraw Americans from trouble zones, insist on proper protection to property and lives, and in effect let the Mexicans continue their controversy on the battlefield.

No Intervention.

The administration is determined against intervention or war, and the only other alternative, friendly mediation, has apparently failed. Officials here believe, however, that the United States, through the mission of Mr. Lind, will have satisfied foreign governments generally of its desire to bring about peace, and they do not conceive that there will be any pressure to bring about intervention.

To grant arms to the constitutionalists would, in the opinion of many officials, only add to the dangers of anarchy in the republic, equipping bandit bodies with weapons of destruction of which they have hitherto been deprived.

AWAIT PEOPLE'S OPINION.

Washington, Aug. 20.—The present administration purposes deferring recognition until a constitutional election shall have been held, and President Wilson stands firmly against recognizing the Huerta regime under any circumstances. From these considerations it is not likely that Mr. Lind's informal parleys with the Huerta officials will continue long. He will remain in Mexico City indefinitely, however, as the adviser to the administration embassy which is without an ambassador.

Will Keep Hands Off.

That the United States will "keep hands off" was considered more than likely in many quarters here tonight, and administration officials pointed to an important precedent for such action during the term of President Hayes, when General Porfiro Diaz assumed the reins of government on May 2, 1877, after defeating the forces of President Le Erdo. Germany recognized Diaz on May 3 of that year, Salvador and Guatemala on June 7, and Spain on June 16, there being no other goverments, except the United States, represented at Mexico City at that time. In President Hayes' message on December 1, 1877, he announced that recognition of the Diaz government had been deferred on account of opposition to him in Northern Mexico, and Minister John W. Foster was instructed by Secretary Seward to state that the "Washington government wouldd wait before recognizing General Diaz as president of Mexico until it shall be assured that his election is approved by the Mexican people and that his administration is possessed of stability to endure, and of disposition to comply with the rules of international comity and the obligation of treaties."

It was not until May, 1878, nearly a year after Diaz came into possession of the de facto government in Mexico City that recognition was extended by the United States. During the interval peace was obtained through the legal convention, as at present through the embassy, due attention being called to the necessity for protection of American lives and property.

Settlement Likely.

Advices that the Huerta government is seriously handicapped by the lack of funds, there is little money with which to pay troops and news of constitutionalists' victories, strengthen the belief, in official circles here, that a settlement of the revolution will be accomplished by the constitutionalists within a short period of time.

OVERCROWDING IN NANAIMO JAILS

One Hundred and Fifty Men Are Now Held For Trial.

Rioting Now Over, and Some Men Return to Work—Dominion Government Watching Affairs.

Nanaimo, Aug. 20.—That the colony farm would probably be used as a temporary jail for the housing of prisoners taken at Nanaimo, and other Vancouver island points where the coal strike is in progress, was the statement given out by T. B. Shoebotham, personal representative of Attorney General Bowser here today.

With 150 men now under arrest the Nanaimo jail is taxed over capacity, andl some of this number will be transferred to Victoria and others to New Westminster, in event of their being committed for trial.

Mine on Fire.

A visit to No. 1 mine which is the big mine of the district under the management of the Western Fuel company showed that everything was idle. There has been destruction done to the plant, and it was stated by those in charge that the mine is on fire, but there being no men within to discover its location, preparations are being made to flood the mine. This is not being done yet and there is a suspicion among some that men may be sent down and the fans set in motion and the fire fought.

Jingle Pot Mine Starts.

The Jingle Pot mine has now been started, and there are now over 80 men at work and by the end of the week the mine will be in full operation and several hundred men will be at work. There is no report of anything in the way of a settlement with any of the other companies for the present.

Extension Quiet.

A visit to Extension in the afternoon revealed a quiet which has not been felt there for some time. There are hardly any men to be seen there with the exception of the special constables who are patrolling the district. Nearly all the men in the place have been arrested, there being 30 from there in jail. Only the women and children are left in charge of the constables and a few soldiers who were spending the warm afternoon bathing in the water tank at the collieries. The only man at work in the place is a Chinaman who is acting as guardian of 50 mules which are stationed in the yard at the pit-head.

Militiamen Get Leave.

In the city of Nanaimo and at the other parts of the district there is absolute quiet. This was the first day since their arrival that any of the militiamen have been allowed to leave during the day. In the neighborhood of Extension there was discovered today a large quantity of dynamite and ammunition. The exact quantity and the location of the find cannot be learned and in fact the numerous discoveries of ammunition and guns is being kept a secret and a number of rumored finds are so obscure that they may readily be doubted.

It was expected that the Extension and Cumberland prisoners would be arraigned this afternoon but it was found impossible to do so, and the only ones brought up today were those from Ladysmith. Tomorrow the Extension batch will come up and be remanded but there will be sufficient numbers to carry on the proceedings on Friday. The preliminary hearings will be taken on Monday morning and the court will then be busy for two or three days.

Everything quiet.

This has been the quietest day since

THAW'S BIG FIGHT COMMENCES TODAY

Both Governments Bound to Convict Him on Some Charge.

Will Be Deported from Canada as Undesirable Alien If He Gains Freedom.

GOVERNMENT WAITING.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—The Dominion government is simply waiting the trend of events at Sherbrooke, and no change has taken place in the Thaw case so far as the capital is concerned. The immigration inspector reported the proceedings to date to the department here today.

Sherbrooke, Aug. 20.—Harry Kendall Thaw's fight against deportation to the United States, after his dramatic escape from the Matteawan hospital for the criminal insane on Sunday last will begin in this Canadian frontier town tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. He is to be produced then before Judge Globensky, of the superior court on a writ of habeas corpus obtained by his counsel this afternoon.

If the writ is sustained he will be a free man. But for how long he will be free is problematical. Dominion immigration authorities, watching the case, announced tonight that they are ready to detain him, should he be released, and then take steps to thrust him back across the border as an undesirable alien, either at the New Hampshire line, where he entered the Dominion, or at some point in New York state.

Will Not Talk.

Facing such a situation, Stanford White's slayer, ordinarily too loquacious, has shut his lips tight and for once in his life has refused to be interviewed. He has talked vaguely of matters not pertaining to his escape, but not one word has come from him regarding his flight from Matteawan or of the inception of the plot that led to his delivery, nor of the five men who spirited him away.

Chauffeur Taken.

Of these five, one is believed to be in jail in Sherbrooke. He gave the name of Michael Thompson and insisted that he was a resident of Toronto. But both Sheriff Hornbeck and District Attorney Conger of Duchess county, New York, who looked him over today, said he was none other than "Gentleman Robert" Conger, late of New York city and reputed chauffeur of the black automobile that whirled Thaw from Matteawan at 60 miles an hour.

Thompson was idling in the superior court room, waiting for the Thaw case to come up when the immigration officers arrested him. He was quickly identified as one of the two men with Thaw when he was arrested. He denied that he aided Thaw in crossing the border and maintained that he had met the fugitive by chance. Notwithstanding his protestations of innocence he was held in $500 bail for a hearing on Friday. Unable to furnish the bond he was remanded to jail.

Aiding and Abetting.

Technically he is charged with aiding and abbetting a lunatic to cross the Canadian border, an offence punishable with a $500 fine. If the authorities fail to hold him on this charge, District Attorney Conger will seek his extradition on a warrant charging Roger Thompson with conspiring with others to defeat the ends of justice in liberating Thaw.

The warrant is here but will not be served until the immigration law has been tested.

Arrest Unnoticed.

Thompson's arrest in the court room today was unnoticed by the casual spectators. The prisoner dodged the camera squad while being taken to jail. Shielding his face with a handkerchief he broke into a run, greatly to the alarm of the aged deputy who had him in charge, and stopped only when bystanders began a hue and cry. Then, still holding his handkerchief over his face, he went quietly to jail and was lodged in a cell not far from Thaw.

WESTMINSTER CAR HITS VANCOUVER MAN

Vancouver, Aug. 20.—Sam Harris residing at 732 Johnson road, was struck by an interurban car, Westminster bound, at 6:15 this evening, receiving injuries which necessitated his removal to the general hospital. Harris had six of his ribs broken as well as sustaining several cuts on the face and body. The car was in charge of Motorman W. Boyd and Conductor W. R. Andrews. It is stated that Harris was walking along the track near Victoria drive and 18th avenue when he was struck.

Trade Church for Hotel.

Port Coquitlam, Aug. 20.—A proposal is on foot here to remove the Presbyterian church from the site on which it stands to a location on the corner of Wilson and Shaughnessy streets, and the congregation will meet on Monday evening to discuss the project. A local hotel proprietor has offered to take the church site for the other site mentioned.

GLYNN RECOGNIZED BY STATE OFFICIALS

Given Office and Outlines His Policy as Governor.

Sulzer Still Recognized and Clash Between Two Men Expected Today.

Albany, N.Y., Aug. 20.—Martin H. Glynn was officially recognized as acting governor of the state by the board of trustees of public buildings late tonight when new rooms in the capital were designated as "the executive chamber" for his use. The assembly parlor in a committee room were set aside for the acting governor's quarters. They are situated on the third floor, while the executive offices to which Governor Sulzer still clings are on the floor below.

Outlined Policy.

As his first act after moving into the new offices, Mr. Glynn issued a statement outlining his policy. In part the statement says:

"I do not intend to employ a temporary occupancy of the governorship for the purpose of partisan warfare.

"Under me, as acting governor, there will be no political earthquakes and no factional reprisals.

"I have no intention of removing departmental heads for mere political reasons. I purpose discharging by sworn obligations for the best interests of the public.

"I ask the hearty co-operation of all state officials and all good citizens to help bring order out of chaos in the state government, until the court of impeachment shall have rendered a verdict.

"No act of mine will compound the present confusion. Official chaos must end and the affairs of the state proceed as if no impeachment proceedings were pending. Until the court of impeachment renders its decision I intend to do only such things as may be necessary for the smooth running of the business of the state."

Clash Expected.

An immediate clash of authority between the rival governors may follow Mr. Glynn's action of today. He announced that he will call upon the executive industrial staff which so far has remained loyal to Governor Sulzer for any service which may be needed. As an attempt at dismissal will follow the refusal of any employee to obey either claimant of the governorship it is predicted that a conflict which offers possibilities of bringing the situation to a head may be precipitated at any time.

GIVING UP ALL HOPE FOR MISSING COUPLE

The personal property of Ben. A. Wade, missing since the State of California went down near Juneau, and window dresser at the Johnston shoe house here, was to be searched last night in a last effort to locate the man's relatives, in order that they may be notified of the accident.

After days of waiting to learn whether or not Mr. Wade was saved, people here who knew him decided that it was time this be done. Each hour they have waited for some message from Mr. Wade, anad thus far their waiting has been in vain. From casual remarks of the missing man it is understood that his family live in Springfield, Mass., and if the proper addresses can be learned they will be sent word of the floundering of the State of California and made acquainted with existing circumstances.

No Search Yet.

Although it was said on Tuesday that Miss Anna L. Cassady's room was to be searched last night for traces of the address of any friends or relations, this search was not made then, but will likely be made soon.

As was reported before, the pair were said to have been engaged to be married and had joined a party of out-of-town friends on the fatal trip up the coast.

Miss Cassady, who was a graduate nurse here, is also thought to have come from Springfield, Mass., and to have been a life long acquaintance of Mr. Wade.

Diving for Lists.

Seattle, Aug. 20.—Until the divers who went north on the steamship City of Seattle last night to explore the sunken hulk of the Pacific Coast Steamship company's steamer State of California, which lies a wreck at the bottom of Gambier bay, Alaska, where the steamship struck a rock Sunday morning, it is unlikely that any additional names will be added to the list of dead or missing passengers.

If the purser's records are recovered from the wreck it will be easy to establish the exact number lost, but until this is done it is impossible to say how many more than those whose names have been given went down with the ship as the purser has only his memory to rely on and is uncertain of the number aboard the vessel at the time of the accident.

on Honeymoon.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 20.—The Rev. John Van der Lass and Mrs. Clar Van der Lass were lost on the State of California, wrecked off the coast of Alaska Sunday, on their honeymoon trip. They were married here August 6. Van der Lass was a minister of Phoenix, Ariz. He was 35 years old.

Juneau, Alaska, Aug. 20.—A launch arrived tonight from Gambier Bay, where the steamship State of California was wrecked Sunday morning, with the body of W. A. Dyer, of Milwaukee, Wis., which was picked up in flating wreckage on the bay. This is the eleventh body recovered.

The Indians in the vicinity salvaged a large amount of whiskey, freight and steamer fittings. They became drunk on the whiskey but were careful to turn over all personal property.

Soundings with a 34 fathom line show no bottom where the State of California went down 200 feet from shore.

TOTAL DEAD AND MISSING NOW NUMBERS 32

Seattle, Aug. 20—Tonight's dispatch from Juneau saying that the lead of a 34 fathom line did not touch the hulk of the state of California, destroys all hope that the divers who have gone north will be able to explore the wreck. It will be possible, however, to blow up the vessel and release some or all of the bodies.

The Pacific Steamship company, owner of the lost vessel, today added four names to the list of missing. All the missing are given up for dead.

The names are: Frank Faller, embarked at Prince Rupert; James Gustaveson, embarked at Wrangel; Ernest J. Reid, embarked at Prince Rupert; August Versh, embarked at Prince Rupert.

This brings the list of known missing up to 17. Among these 17 names are given those of eight women, three of whom are unidentified and their bodies are being brought to Seattle on the Northwestern. Deducting these three leaves the number of missing passengers 14; passengers' bodies recovered, 11; crew missing, 7; total dead and missing, 32.

MOTOR 'BUS LINE THROUGH THE VALLEY

Persons Are Prepared to Finance the Scheme if Municipalities Will Not.

A project has been discussed amongst a number of influential citizens of Coquitlam to establish a motor bus service between Port Moody, New Westminster and Vancouver.

The proposal is to have it municipally owned and it is probable that the subject will be brought up in some form at next meeting of the municipal council.

It is pointed out that a motor amnibus between Vancouver and the golf links on the Austin road, Coquitlam, travelling via Boverment road, Burnaby, with passengers would be an assured success, whilst another service between Port Moody and New Westminster via North road had every prospect of becoming remunerative.

The franchise could thus be conserved to the municipality.

Should the scheme not commend itself to the council or the ratepayers of Coquitlam the promoters of the enterprise are prepared to organize and finance a private company, confident that they will receive the hearty support of Port Moody and New Westminster public bodies, as well as private citizens. At any rate the desire for better communication between Port Moody and New Westminster and intervening points is such that the matter will be brought before public notice in concrete form shortly.

MOST PEOPLE WOULD STAND AT THAT PRICE

New York, Aug. 20—The sale of a seat on the New York stock exchange for $46,000 was reported today. The price represents an advance of $5000 over the last previous transfer and is $9000 over the season's low prices, which established a low record for more than a decade. Since the improvement in business on the stock exchange during the last few weeks a numbeer of offers of seats have been withdrawn.

NEWS FLASHES

Fatal Cave-in.

Raton, N.M., Aug. 20.—In a cave-in in the Old Raton tunnel at 4:30 this afternoon, F. D. Stamphill and four Mexicans were killed. Efforts are now being made to reach the dead men.

Big Calgary Will.

Calgary, Aug. 20.—The will of John Lineham, probated today, shows the estate to have a total value of $668,000. The will bequeaths to Elma Martin Lineham and Elizabeth Barbara Lineham, daughters, $200,000 each, while W. D. Lineham, a brother, is given $75,000. Angus McIntyre Lineham and Donald Malcolm Lineham, brothers, $10,000 each, while a score of other relatives will receive from $2000 to $3000 each.

Big Earnings.

Calgary, Aug. 20.—The gross earnings of the Calgary municipal railway for the fiscal month was $75,357 as against $58,778 for the corresponding month last year.

Convention in West.

Calgary, Aug. 20.—The industrial bureau has received advices from Ottawa to the effect that the 1914 convention of the Life Underwriters' association of Canada will be held in Calgary.

Buffalo for Ireland.

Montreal, Aug. 20.—Two fine specimens of buffalo, from the famous herd at Wainwright park, which the Dominion government has presented to were placed on board the Inishowen Head which sailed from this port for Dublin today.

May Visit Coast.

Montreal, Aug. 20.—On his first visit to the western hemisphere, Cameron of Lochiel, and his wife, arrived from Scotland today. The visitors are going through the west and at Winnipeg the noted Highland regiment will be reviewed by the distinguished Scotsman.

Spoiling Crops.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—The continued drought is doing much damage to the crops in the Ottawa district. Near Hull forest fires are causing much uneasiness, the fires at present only smouldering, but should heavy winds spring up at any time the fire would be extremely dangerous owing to the absence of fire fighting facilities in the country districts. Farmers at Chelsea, Tenaga, Cascades, Wakefield and other places have taken the precaution to plow the ground in the vicinity of their buildings.

DISPUTE OVER WILL IN COURT HERE

Hon. Justice Morrison Sets Case Down for Next Court Day.

Justice Morrison held a chambers sitting in the county court room yesterday when a number of formal applications and routine affairs were disposed of.

One case mentioned by J. D. Kennedy dealt with the construction of a will and was set down for argument next court day.

Dead Twelve Years.

The will in question is that of Frank Wade, who died 12 years ago. He left his property to his wife, an Indian woman, for her use during her life, and directed that it should thereafter be divided between the families of two friends, Robert J. McKarney and Goodwin Purcell, share and share alike, or the survivor of them.

Wife Also Dead.

Mrs. Wade died about a year ago at Port Douglas, Harrison. Both McKarney and Purcell predeceased her, McKarney being the first to die. Purcell's heirs now claim the property as the representatives of the man who survived the other legatee, whilst McKarney's heirs contend that the interpretation of the will must be share and share alike, in the circumstances that both predeceased Mrs. Wade.

J. D. Kennedy represents Purcell's heirs and W. G. McQuarrie is acting for McKarney's heirs.

STORM ON PRAIRIES WORKS GREAT HAVOC

Damage Is Only in Small Section of Saskatchewan and Northern Montana.

Moose Jaw, Aug. 20.—From the large track of country to the south, details are beginning to come of the great damage done by the storms experienced there during the end of last week. Willow Bunch appears to have suffered more than any other district on this side of the boundary, but in Montana the damage was far greater, and but few of the farmers in some northern parts of that state have any crops left at all.

One storm came from across the boundary and cleared everything before it until reaching Willow Bunch and then the hail changed to rain. It was the worst ever experienced in this part of Saskatchewan and there is but little left in its path, for the damage was complete.

SMALLEST ISSUE OF STOCK MADE

California Railway Commission Authorizes Sale of Fifteen One Dollar Shares.

San Francisco, Aug. 20.—The smallest issue of stock for which any California corporation ever sought authorization from the railroad commission is one which the commission passed upon today and which consists of 15 shares of the par value of $1 each.

The application was filed with the commission by the Finnell Warehouse company of Tehama county and it set forth that the company desired to issue the stock to obtain $15 to pay to the secretary of state for filing the company's articles of incorporation. The application states that $15 was loaned to the corporation so that it could pay for obtaining its articles of incorporation and that this loan is to be repaid from the proceeds of the sale of stock.

The commission authorized the company to issue the stock.

B. C. E. R. EMPLOYEES' VOTES ALL IN TODAY

Whether the motormen and conductors of the B. C. E. R. will reject or accept the minority report of the conciliation board in the matter of a new agreement with the company, will probably be known sometime today. The ballots will all be in this morning, when counting will have been started. Whether or not the men reject the report, it will be necessary to take another vote if the strike rumors materialize, and before this is done it is expected that the company and men will have gotten together again in order to find a way out of the dispute.

THINKS THE BYLAW SHOULD BE PASSED

Edmonds, Aug. 20.—According to Councillor Coldicutt, the municipality of Burnaby will be placed in a serious position and one from which it cannot extricate itself in a short time, unless the bylaw to be placed before the people on Aug. 30 authorizing the raising of the interest rate on the unsold bonds of 1912 from 4 1-2 to 5 per cent is carried. This intimation was given The News yesterday in an interview with the councillor.

"There is opposition to this bylaw and this opposition, in the main, is seeking to ferment additional trouble within the municipality, by representing statements which are untrue and which can easily be explained.

A Money Bylaw.

"This bylaw is nothing else than a money bylaw and if defeated cannot, according to law, be resubmitted to the people until a year has elapsed. One can readily see what a predicament the municipality would be in should this be turned down, as it will mean that the entire plan of Reeve McGregor to finance matters would be held up, the London financiers would refuse to take over the bonds, and work for the settlers, which is promised for this fall, would be left over for an indefinite period.

"Many people," continued the councillor, "imagine that if they vote this bylaw down they will kill the proposed paving of additional roads. This is erroneous, as the $500,000 bonds for this paving work are 5 per cent bonds and will be taken up by the London company, providing the 1912 4 1-2 per cents are raised an additional half per cent.

Burnaby First.

"Burnaby is the first municipality in British Columbia to have such an offer made as that to Reeve McGregor, and before long the other municipalities will be jumping over themselves if they ever get a chance like we have had to tide over the financial stringency.

"Pass this bylaw and there will be work for a large majority of the settlers in Burnaby. In my opinion there

HON. J. D. HAZEN AT LUNCHEON TODAY

Minister May Make Announcement in His Address to Citizens Here.

Arrangements for the big luncheon to Hon. J. D. Hazen, minister of marine and fisheries, who comes here today, have been in the hands of the board of trade and the Progressive association and everything points to a large attendance at the function.

Following the announcements of Hon. Robert Rogers on Tuesday, the minister of marine and fisheries may also tell of new work to be done to have this river brought to its natural position in the marine world.

Civic and government representatives from New Westminster and the district have been invited and others wishing to hear Mr. Hazen are advised to see Mr. Darling of the Progressive association before noon today.

The luncheon is being given at the Russell hotel and will take from 1 to 2 o'clock. Immediately following its conclusion the party of public representatives will board the Fispa.

Among those who will make the trip down the river will be Col. J. D. Taylor, M.P., Mayor Gray, Aldermen Keltington and White, Messrs. Thomas Gifford, M.P.P., and F. J. MacKenzie, M.P.P., Harbor Engineer Powell, Messrs. Worsfold and Nelson, of the public works department, W. G. McQuarrie, C. H. Stuart Wade, D. S. Curtis, W. R. Gilley, G. Blakeley Allan, Purvis, W. L. Darling, J. W. Cunningham, chief inspector of fisheries, F. H. Cunningham, Dr. F. P. Smith and W. T. Reid.

TO GUARD EX-KING MANUEL ON HIS WEDDING DAY

Sigmaringen, Germany, Aug. 20.—Extensive police precautions have been taken by the Sigmaringen authorities on account of the presence here of ex-King Manuel of Portugal, who is to marry Princess Augusta Victoria, daughter of Prince Wilhelm of Hohenzollern, in September. All strangers are placed under strict surveillance, possibly on account of the fears held by the police that an attack may be made on the ex-Portuguese king.

UP GO REALTY PRICES.

Saskatoon, Aug. 20.—City Bacteriologist Bucknell is authority for the statement that a nugget of gold about half an inch square has been found on the north bank of the river near the pumping station here. One sample only was found and when tested at the city laboratory gave every evidence of being the genuine article. Samples of mica have also been found and a claim is to be staked out.

ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY.

And next comes Hon. J. D. Hazen, minister of marine and fisheries.

Spurred on by their success with Hon. Robert Rogers, minister of public works, who put on a pair of New Westminster harbor glasses and looked at things in the right light, the local authorities have all the assurance they need to brace the head of the department of marine for such little items as a respectable light and lightship at the sandheads and suitable other aids to navigation up this fresh water channel, which is to be ready for the deep sea traffic of the world within three months.

With his colleague pledged to do everything in his power to make this port what it should be in the shortest possible time, Hon. Mr. Hazen has a chance to show that he appreciates the responsibilities of his position—and no doubt he will. But, in case he might overlook some minor details, it will not come amiss for those who meet him today to pour into his ear the proper solution to dissolve the departmental wax which is generally believed to haunt the organs of hearing of federal ministers.

A good story can't be told too often and repetition is certain to make an impression.

Harry Thaw may be crazy, but it's a safe bet he isn't half as mad as his former keepers.

It took two hundred operations to save his life to kill a man from Baltimore. Read it slowly and figure it out.

Here's where the foolish jokemaker lost a good chance: Nine cows in a Wisconsin town ate dynamite and —died of poisoning.

If many more of those cabinet workers visit us from Ottawa, there'll be hands enough here to start another industry on Fraser's muddy banks.

The larger the number of cabinet members to hear the tale of New Westminster's harbor needs, the greater the chance of getting what we want.

During one of those recent hot days the people of Minneapolis ate ten thousand gallons of ice cream, about $20,000 worth, and then they talk about the hard times.

There doesn't need to be any law on the statute books of this country to prevent a woman wearing legs, but it hardly seems good taste for her to dress so that the man in the street can't forget she has 'em.

If the Hindus try to run shiploads of their countrymen into this province of British Columbia there'll probably be a celebration that will make the Nanaimo strike riots look like a silent prayer session at a summer camp meeting.

The English suffragettes recently tacked up a placard to the effect that if Mrs. Pankhurst died, Lloyd George would be a murderer. Not being judge and jury, the ordinary man can't say that much, but it's a cinch the little Welshman would be immensely relieved.

It does sound a little stiff to hear that a man has been sent to jail because he has been caught walking on a railway track, seeing that the people support the railways and pay for the tracks a half a dozen times over, but then a fellow's better in the jug than forming the principal set piece in a parade to the cemetery.

ESTIMATE WORLD'S COAL RESERVES

Geological Congress Hears Interesting Report From Special Committee

An estimate of the coal reserves of the world is given in the summary of the mammoth three-volume report presented at the geologists' congress at Toronto by Secretary R. W. Brock and the special committee appointed to study the resources of the world's coal supply. This committee comprised Messrs. G. G. S. Lindsey, of Toronto; F. D. Adams, of Montreal; R. W. Brock, of Ottawa; D. B. Dowling, Charles Fergie, of Nova Scotia; James McEvoy, of British Columbia, and J. B. Porter, of Montreal.

This Continent Leads

The report shows that America has the most coal of any of the five continents. Of the dwindling, visible supply of hard anthracite, however, Asia has far the largest supply. Following is a table showing at a glance just how the world at large stands for coal in the second decade of the twentieth century. These figures include totals for the three classes of coal, figures for each of which are given in the report, the three classes comprising anthracite, bituminous and sub-bituminous, brown coals and lignites. The figures represent the number of million tons:

	Anthracite	Total
America	22,542	5,105,528
Europe	54,346	784,190
Asia	407,637	1,279,586
Africa	11,542	57,839
Oceania	659	170,410
Total	496,846	7,397,553

The greater part of the known coal reserves of the world is found in the northern hemisphere, Mr. Dowling says in the introduction, the fact being due to the greater amount of land in the northern zones, and the comparative absence of the carboniferous formation in the world's crust in the northern hemisphere. The great coal basins of western Europe and eastern North America contain the larger proportion of the world's known coal. A large part of the coal included in the estimate it will be impossible to mine because of its death or inaccessibility, and considerable loss in mining will have to be deducted before arriving at the net total available for the world's consumption.

Coal Production

The report also gives interesting figures concerning the coal production covering the period since 1865 to 1910. Coal mining figures were not available, however, for Australia, New Zealand, China, Japan, South Africa or Canada, until 1895. The United States is the greatest coal mining country, producing over 445,814,000 tons in 1910, out of a world's total of 1,143,380,000 tons. Canada, in 1910, produced 13,010,000 tons.

Great Britain produced 264,500,000 tons, and Germany, the next producer, mined 221,980,000. The next greatest coal producing country is France, with only 38,570,000 tons in 1910.

China has the bulk of the remaining hard coal, being credited with 387,464,000,000 tons in reserve and 607,523,000,000 tons of bituminous.

Of the American continent's reserve Canada has 2,158,000,000 tons of anthracite, or 1,234,769,000,000 tons of all three classes. The United States has 19,684,000,000 tons of anthracite, or 3,838,657,000,000 altogether. Newfoundland, with no anthracite, has 500 million tons of bituminous, and Central America five millions tons altogether.

HON. W. R. ROSS TO HOLD INQUIRY

Will Hold Sessions on Mainland to Hear Evidence of Lumbering Interests

Victoria, Aug. 20.—Hon. W. R. Ross, minister of lands, has brought the question of timber royalties to a head by announcing that it is his intention to go into the matter personally and commission-wise, with a view to arriving at a suitable basis for levying the government charges upon timber areas.

This interesting announcement was made yesterday, together with a list of places and dates forming the first itinerary of the commission of the minister of lands. The itinerary is as follows: Vancouver on September 8; Kamloops, September 9; Revelstoke, September 10; Nelson, September 12, and Cranbrook, September 15.

The Hon. W. R. Ross has taken upon himself the task of inquiring into the various phases of the question, and it will be welcome news to the lumber interests of the province. Some little time ago the suggestion was made that a commission would be appointed, but at that time it was not conjectured that the minister would be able to undertake the task himself, and consequently the information will be greeted with all the more pleasure because it is a matter of common knowledge that no man in the province is held in higher esteem by the lumbermen than the Hon. W. R. Ross.

History of Agitation

The history of the agitation for a basis for timber royalties in this province goes back some little way. When the amendment to the forest act was under consideration during last session laid before the house certain proposals for readjustment of that portion of the price at which crown timber is sold, known as royalty. After the submission of the draft proposal to the house a representative committee of the lumber interests of the province conferred with the minister of lands on the subject, and as a result of that conference the amendment affecting the royalty was worked out in further detail and a tentative agreement was reached which appeared to offer a satisfactory solution of the problem. After further consideration, however, a conviction was reached that so important and complex a subject as the sale price of crown timber rendered even fuller investigation necessary; and accordingly the minister declared that time would be given for inquiry, all action, that is legislative action, being postponed until results of the proposed inquiry were available.

One Plan Spoiled

Some weeks ago it was thought the lumbermen of the province and the minister would get together in Victoria and discuss the question fully. A representative delegation was arranged for from the coast and mountain associations of lumbermen, but circumstances intervened to render the meeting impossible, and at the last moment the delegation did not materialize. But now, happily, the problem is about to be faced in a manner that must meet with the commendation of the interested parties.

In addition to the hearings arranged for, which, by the way will be of a public character, the members of the lumber industry will be invited to submit their views to the commission in writing should it be impossible or difficult for them to be present at any of the hearings. And after the matter contained in the evidence has been carefully compiled and carefully considered, the next step will be taken, which will be that of making the announcement regarding the adjustment to be effected in the royalty and following upon that the necessary amendments to the forest act, embodying the changes, will be made at the forthcoming session of the legislature, so that next year the lumbering industry will be in possession of exact knowledge regarding the government tributes to be levied upon it.

THE MANAGER'S CORNER.

Suppose you could run back over every purchase of every kind you have made in the past twelve month. Suppose you could classify them and analyze them just as the purchasing departments of big business concerns do.

Do you not think that you would check up many a purchase made unwisely, many an item that cost too much, and here and there some article bought that wasn't at all what you thought you were buying?

Family expenditures and personal expenditures of course aren't made with anything like the accuracy or system that would mark the purchases of a well organized business. But this very fact ought to impress upon every family, every individual, the necessity of closer attention to their annual expenditures.

In this matter the newspaper is one's best friend. The advertising columns point the way to economy and satisfaction.

Where ignorance is not bliss, it is better to be wise.

OWNERSHIP AND THE TALL GRASS

Noxious Weeds Regulation Causes Trouble in Ontario—How Should Grass Be Classed?

Toronto, Aug. 20.—The legislation pased by the Ontario legislature empowering the city to compel owners of property to cut down the noxious weeds growing on vacant land is proving inadequate to prevent this disfigurement of some of the leading residential streets in the city, and the probability is that the provisions of the legislation will be enlarged under a special clause of the act which gives the city the right to include growths not mentioned in the legislation.

Mr. William Fitzgerald, of the property department, who has charge of the weed-cutting branch, has experienced difficulty in cleaning up some of the streets because the owners of properties refuse to regard long grass as an obnoxious weed. The growth of long grass makes the streets unsightly, and the property commissioner will be appealed to to have the law amended by the city council so that he may include long grass as an objectionable growth.

Mixed Ownership.

The work of Mr. Fitzgerald is also leading to the discovery that some citizens think they own vacant land that belongs to some ope else, and they are now thanking the property department for helping the mto make the discovery. Two property owners on High Park boulevard were notified to cut down the weeds on lots adjoining each other, and in reply to the property department both citizens claimed ownership of one piece of land. A search was made of the assessment rolls at the city hall, and the owner who did not own the lot that was void of a growth of weeds was notified that it was his lot to which the scythe had to be applied.

Next day this gentleman appeared at the city hall with his wife and the deed to the piece of property which he alleged belonged to him. Mr. Fitzgerald was not inclined to argue with the citizen, but merely invited him to go with him to the assessment department to search the rolls. The invitation was accepted, and to the surprise of the citizen he discovered that the lot he thought he owned belonged to another citizen, and that the lot he thought was owned by the other citizen belongs to him. He will not have the weeds cut on his own lot, although he contributed fifty cents to have the weeds cut on his neighbor's lot.

ENGLISHMAN DOES NOT WANT IT NOW

Seeks to Cancel Sale of Regina Subdivision Property on Grounds of Misrepresentation

Regina, Aug. 20.—There has been sitting in Regina during the past few weeks a commission for the hearing of evidence in a case of unusual interest, particularly to real estate men. It is an action to cancel the sale of sub-division properties on the ground of misrepresentation.

The case is set down for hearing before the court of King's Bench in London, England, and the evidence now being taken in Regina is presumably to be used when the case comes up in England. The plaintiff is a man named Veale, and the defendants are an investment company which did considerable business in Regina real estate in England, the co-defendants being Messrs Hern and Neville, who are well known in Regina.

While the exact style of the action could not be learned, as the papers are all on file in London, it is understood that the action has reference to certain lots in the sub-division of Belgravia, which is situated about five miles south-west of Regina post office. The plaintiff claims it is said, that the facts regarding this property were misrepresented to him, and wants to cancel his agreement of sale.

Mr. Vaughan, a solicitor from London, is in the city representing the defendants in the case, and M. D. J. Thom is acting for the plaintiff. The evidence is being taken before C. J. Bell, registrar of the supreme court here, and a considerable number of witnesses have been heard, among whom was Mayor Martin. The latter gave evidence as to what was, in his opinion, the present value of the property and the future prospects for it.

FINALLY CATCHES HIM

Merritt Constable Gets Indian He Went After Last April

Merritt, Aug. 20.—Last April Provincial Constable King, was stabbed in the wrist while arresting an Indian named George Bent. The provincial constable at the time tackled two men who were both drunk, one being Bent, and the other man, who got away, was Alec Spike, an Indian. Bent was subsequently tried at the assizes, convicted, and sentenced to six months' imprisonment.

Up to Saturday last, despite several attempts at capture, Spike has evaded arrest under the warrant that was issued for him. In the early hours of last Sunday, the provincial constable, with two assistants, proceeded to a shack on the Shulus Indian reserve and in the king's name demanded admittance, which was refused. A forcible entrance was then made and King arrested the prisoner. Alec Spike was at the provincial court house on Tuesday last, charged with drunkenness and fined $20 and costs or three months at Kamloops.

SCHOOL SYSTEMS ARE CLASHING

Separate School Trustees Want to Collect From Those Who Have Jumped to Public Rolls

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—Action will be taken immediately by the separate school trustees to collect from former separate school supporters who have jumped to the public school rolls, taxes on debenture debts contracted while these citizens supported the Catholic schools.

A motion by Trustee O'Neil at last night's meeting of the board, provided that the secretary secure the names and addresses and the amount of the assessment of all former separate school supporters who jumped to the public rools this year. His motion eneded here, but one by Trustee A. A. Freeland provided that when the names of all delinquent ratepayers who formerly supported the schools, are obtained, the city be instructed to go ahead and collect them at the rate they were paying when they jumped from the separate board.

What Law Says

"The law says we have the right to collect from these ratepayers who jumped to the other rolls because of the lower rate, and I intend to ask everyone who votes for my motion to see this matter through to the end and make these people pay up," said Tustee O'Neill.

Trustee Freeland remarked that in simply asking for the names, Trustee O'Neill was not going far enough. He said the securing of names should be followed by some action and that all those who ever supported the schools should be held equally responsible with the others for debenture debts contracted while in the separate board's rolls.

Mr. McNeill advised that the sum of money owed by delinquents be ascertained and the city be instructed to go ahead and collect the money from the ratepayers. If the city does not do so, the next step would be to sue the coropration for the amount and he was confident it could be collected. He didn't think any more than those who jumped this year could be held responsible.

For Three Years

Chairman Genest said that those who left within the last three years at least could be held responsible. Two years ago agitation had been started to recover the money.

Trustee Freeland was confident the law applied for all time.

The motion was then declared carried. Trustee Lanigan said the matter should first be considered by the finance committee, but the others declared that enough delay had already been caused by referring the matter to committees.

The agitation which resulted in last night's motion was started by Trustee Dr. Freeland, who has worked unceasingly to bring former separate school ratepayers in line, since his election to the board.

OTTAWA CITIZENS ARE SLOW PAY

City Has to Shut Off Their Water Supply to Collect Cash Due for Service

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—The city's cash on hand has been augmented to quite an extent during the past two days as a result of City Collector Robertson's assertion that he had ordered water services to about one hundred and fifty houses discontinued because of non-payment of rates.

"It brought in a lot of them," said Mr. Robertson today. "Some of them made haste to the city hall, while others did not wait for that, but rushed to the telephone and told us they were coming right down and asked that the water be not turned off till they arrived. Others asked for a little time to make payment because of money stringency."

Waterworks Engineer said today that he had a couple of men out to close off services. He did not know whether any had been turned off or not.

It was pointed out that the shutting off of the water services might lead to serious unsanitary conditions because without water for sewer pipes, etc., houses would undoubtedly become unsanitary.

"If the water was shut off for many days we would certainly have to placard the houses as unsanitary and make occupants move out," said Dr. Lomer, M.O.H. "But it is unlikely anyone would allow his home to be without water this weather merely to avoid paying rates."

City Collector Robertson said there would be few cases where the water service would be discontinued more than a couple of hours.

"As soon as it was turned off they would come right down and settle up" he said.

"The appearance of the man with the big key in front of their houses is all that is necessary to cause them to see the error of their ways."

Mr. Robertson said that none of the people who had neglected to pay their water rates had given as a reason the condition of the water.

"Some have spoken of what they called the injustice of paying for poor water, when having their bills receipted, but as far as I know none of those who haven't paid have given that as an excuse."

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL MINING rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal sub-divisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee will be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

COTTAGE BUILDING IN OLD COUNTRY

Interesting Controversy Gives Side-lights on Cost of Construction in Great Britain.

London, Aug. 20.—In view of the large amount of building in progress in Canada, more particularly in the west, Canadians are likely to feel an interest in a controversy which is now raging in this country and which will rage still more furiously on the cost of building a cottage for the agricultural laborer. What can you do it for? Can you build one on paying lines—lines which will give you a fair return on your money? And what is a fair return on your money? There is another problem which is not very easy to decide.

The ordinary person who builds a cottage on his land in the country does so with the primary object of keeping the laborer on the soil. He knows perfectly well that nowadays the ordinary worker rightly demands a much higher standard than has been customary in the past when the pig was frequently better housed and the dog had frequently a better time. He demands altogether a more decent accommodation or he migrates to towns where he is certain at least of finding a place where he can bring up his family in comfort. At the same time he cannot afford to pay very much, for his wages do not permit it, and the employer knows this well.

Small Wage

A man who only earns from twelve to fourteen shillings a week is not in a position to pay very much in rent and indeed his cottage is usually added to the amount of his weekly earnings. Suppose he rents it? Obviously, half a crown is a very good price for a weekly rental, or £6 10s. a year. Now, what is the cost of a cottage? Usually they are built in pairs, as it is cheaper, and it used to be the case that a builder could manage to construct at a cost of £250 the pair, providing the landlord was willing to accept a very low return for his outlay, the more so when it is recollected that he will have to pay rates and taxes. This will not leave him much out of the £13 he will receive in rent for the two—possibly two and a half per cent. or at the best three. A man needs to be a philanthropist to invest money at this rate of interest. In the last year or two the prices of material and labor have all gone up, and the price of cottages that once cost £250 now entail an outlay of at least £300. The return is therefore, less than ever, and as there are few landlords who are so well off that they need not bother about interest at all, the majority are frankly admitting their inability to embark on a policy of construction. Conferences are being held on the subject by individual landlords, by the government and by politicians, and it is now frankly admitted that if any policy is to be carried out on a wholesale scale, it must entail government financial assistance, which there is reason to believe will be forthcoming.

Put to the Test

Only this week there was a meeting of landlords interested in the subject to discuss whether it was not possible to build a cottage for £150, and one of the number offered the free use of a piece of land not far from London for the erection by any builder of any cottage at this figure which should pass the requirements of the local bylaws, promising eventually to buy it if it fulfilled these conditions. There you have the difficulty. The local bylaws are as a rule exceedingly strict, and practically prohibit, save for bungalows erected on costly fireproof lines and up-to-date foundations, the use of wood in any form for the external walls. It is true that here and there these regulations have been modified, but even in the country—one can understand the objection in a town—they remain in a very uncomprising form. Even at a cost of £150 there is no great return on one's money, but then it is clear that the housing in the country for people who earn starvation wages must be a matter for the state and not for private enterprise. It may be said that the wages of the agricultural laborer are so low that he ought to be paid more. Everyone agrees, but even suppose they raised his wages from fourteen shillings to a pound, which is what is suggested, how can it be supposed that he will be ready to pay more than half-a-crown in rent, and rightly so when one recollects the dictum that no man ought to pay more than one-tenth of his salary or earnings in house accommodation.

Material Dearer

Moreover the pair of cottages which as already indicated cost £300 now will probably cost £350 in two years' time, since all material is becoming dearer and dearer, and more particularly wood, and there is no indication of any saving unless the maximum of standardization in construction be observed. This will hardly tend to beautify the landscape, but it will not affect the comfort of those who inhabit the houses. No one suggests that we should be able to have what one may call the free and easy methods which are popular in Canada as regards house construction, but there is really no reason why there should not be much greater freedom in building dwellings which may not be up to the highest requirements of very particular public bodies, but which will, at any rate, satisfy all the reasonable requirements of those who live in them.

ONLY ONE LADY AT BIG CONGRESS

The only lady delegate to the Geological congress, says the Toronto Star, is from Germany, Fraulein Anna Maria Elisabeth Rathgen. Quite young she is still in her student days at the University of Bonn am Rhein, in Germany—she is already a traveler of wide experience. She is paying her first visit to this continent. Before reaching Toronto she made a trip through Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, and she is now about to start for the Rockies. She has visited practically every European country, and speaks the language of most of them fluently. English she speaks with remarkable ease and accuracy. She has also visited South Africa. So it will readily be seen what an intrepid traveler she is. For she came to this country unaccompanied by friends—"though I find it easy to make friends on a trip," she told the reporter. And small wonder, for she is as unaffected as she is capable.

"I was rather surprised," she said to the Star, in the course of a chat, "to meet so many people in this country who seemed to think it odd that a girl should come all the way from Germany by herself to attend a congress. I thought that in these days—and particularly on this continent—there would be considered nothing remarkable in that. I left Germany in last June, and am not returning there till next April."

Referring to her work at Bonn university, Fraulein Rathgen said that she was a pupil of the noted geologist Prof. Steinmann, and was engaged in museum work.

"This is my first congress," she added, "and I am naturally delighted with everything. But I fear that I have too much neglected the scientific for the social side of it. So much has been done for us in Toronto that I seem to have been literally swimming in amusement during the past week. What are my impressions of Toronto? Well, generally, that it is everything that is charming. But I never forget that, when one visits a place for so short a time, one can only obtain a very superficial idea of the place itself—on an occasion such as this, when one is a guest and is treated with so much consideration, one sees, perhaps, only the best side. I should add that I am very fond of mountaineering, and have done work in the mountains of Greece and Switzerland and France, as well as in those of my own land."

WOMAN RIDING ACROSS CONTINENT

Lady Reporter Aims to Bisect Continent on Bicycle—Roasts Quebec Roads.

Montreal, Aug. 20.—Seeking her support by selling magazine subscriptions and writing an account of her adventures for a newspaper, Mrs. Evelyn B. Roberts, an English journalist, is on her way from Amherst, N. S., to the Pacific coast, traveling all the way by bicycle.

Mrs. Roberts has arrived in Montreal full of condemnation for the roads of the province.

"Some days I had to push my bicycle eight or ten miles between Quebec and Montreal," she said. "On fair roads I can make between fifty and sixty miles a day, and when I reach Ontario and the west I expect to go much faster."

Mrs. Roberts is not trying for a speed record in crossing the Dominion as her trip is for the purpose of seeing the country first hand. An account of her adventures is published in several newspapers in the lower provinces; and she has promised to write a book when her travels are over. So far she has met with little in the way of exciting adventure, and has been lost only once.

"In one place in New Brunswick," said Mrs. Roberts, "I heard reports of a bear which had been prowling in the neighborhood; but as I pack a gun, I was not in the least frightened. Needless to say, bruin did not put in an appearance."

Mrs. Roberts is traveling light, 12 pounds being the total weight of her luggage. She sleeps at farm houses along her way, and says the country people in Quebec have been most hospitable. Mrs. Roberts is conferring today with officials of the Automobile club of Canada, who will supply her with suggestions for the rest of her itinerary.

SEVENTEENTH EARL COMES OF AGE

Lord Doune Attains His Majority and There Are Rejoicings Among The Scots

Edinburgh, Aug. 20.—The coming of age last week of Francis Douglas Stuart, Lord Doune, eldest son of the seventeenth earl of Moray, was a happening of unusual interest, says the "Scotsman." For over sixty years there was no direct heir to the Moray earldom. From 1848 to 1909 there were six earls of Moray, none of whom had a son, and it is nearly a century since a Lord Doune came of age. The Moray family has always been intimately associated with Edinburgh.

The present Earldom of Moray was bestowed by Queen Mary in 1562, upon her natural brother, James Stuart, the son of James V., by a daughter of Lord Erskine. He was a man of great ability, who played an important part in events of his time. For a period of from one to three years, he governed Scotland, and that so successfully as to earn for himself the title of the Good Regent. His marriage took place in the kirk of St. Giles in 1561, the Queen herself, giving the wedding feast at Holyrood.

Adjoined Holyrood

The house in which the first Earl of Moray resided adjoined Holyrood Palace on the north side. In St. Giles his body was laid to rest after his assassination at Linlithgow in 1570. The funeral oration was pronounced by John Knox in the presence of a congregation of mourners, and the Latin inscription which may yet be read on the ancient brass plate on the front of the restored tomb was composed by George Buchanan. Regent Moray left no son, and was succeeded by his eldest daughter, who married James Stuart, eldest son of Lord Doune, so created in 1581. This marriage combined the estates of Doune with those of Moray, and has given all the subsequent earls a descent in the male line from the Regent Albany.

Doune castle, which was the scene of festivities in connection with Lord Doune's coming of age, came to the Moray family through this marriage. The old castle stands on a peninsula formed by the Teith and the Ardoch, at one end of the village of Doune, in Perthshire. It has been said to date from the 11th century but was probably either founded or enlaged by Murdoch Stewart, second Duke of Albany, and governor of Scotland.

At his execution in 1425 it passed to the crown, and was afterwards given by James IV. to his wife, Queen Margaret Tudor. At her death it passed to her third husband, Henry Stewart, Lord Methven, a descendant of the Regent Albany, and uncle of the first Lord Doune (who ultimately received a grant of Doune castle) whose son's marriage brought this old historic house to the Moray family. Through the care of George, fourteenth Earl of Moray, who was greatly interested in Scottish history and antiquities, Doune castle has been preserved from further decay and portions of it have been faithfully restored. It is open to the public, and is well worth visiting.

The son of Lord Doune, who married the Regent Moray's daughter, became in her right the second earl and is the "Bonnie Earl of Moray," of the ballad. Like his predecessor, he too, was murdered, and his remains lie in St. Giles, beside those of his father-in-law.

ONE FIRM TO SHIP 45,000 BOXES

Kelowna Apple Yield Will Be Heavy—Large Shipments of Other Fruits as Well

Penticton, Aug. 20.—According to a statement made by J. W. Woolsey, manager of the fruit union at Kelowna, the output of fruit from that place this year will exceed former years for the reason that the increased yield from the younger trees would more than offset the decrease of the yield in other respects. About forty-five thousand boxes of aples will be shipped from the fruit union, and in addition to this there are three other large concerns shipping fruit. About two thousand cases of peaches, four or five thousand cases of prunes, six thousand cases of pears, twenty-five thousand or more cases of tomatoes, and numerous other truck and fruit will be shipped from the union. The estimates from the other concerns are vague as yet and, owing to the speed with which the fruit has ripened, the over-plus is going through the canneries very rapidly.

Seven Carloads

Seven carloads of fruit were shipped by the local fruit company during the last ten days, consisting of apricots, apples and peaches. It is understood that the company here is having a bigger rush of business than anywhere up the lake. Apricots will be about over by the end of the week and crab apples will take their place. The highest output for one day here is 800 boxes, while Summerland has not yet reached 500. Twenty-seven helpers are employed by the local company, about 18 of these being packers, while the others are employed in checking the fruit and weighing it as it comes in, box making, etc.

The staff in the packing house are kept working early and late to keep up with the fruit rush.

COAST SCENERY IS THE FINEST EVER

Traveler Who Has Visited Many Parts of the World Impressed by B. C. Views.

Many distinguished travelers and writers have taken in the trip along the British Columbia coast, and in their talks and accounts of the magnificent sea voyage they never fail to laud the scenic beauties of the land-locked waters through which the steamers proceed. C. A. Bruce, who has traveled extensively over the globe, writes to the Victoria Times telling of what he thinks of the northern trip as follows:

"An exceedingly delightful sail though a long panorama of exquisite loveliness was the description of the steamer Prince George given by one of the passengers, and it was well deserved. I have sailed up and down Loch Lomond more than once, and up and down the Coledorian canal, sailed along the Lake of Lucerne repeatedly, and sailed down the Rhine and up again; and even visited Rothesay Bay. But none of these transcend the beauty of the inside passage from Victoria to Prince Rupert, and thence to Stewart Alaska. True, the Pacific coast has not got the agricultural display along its shores that you see in the Highlands of Scotland, nor the vineclad hills of Germany, nor yet the snowy peaks piled one above the other of Switzerland, but it has a beauty majestically all its own. Emerald islands set in a sunlit ocean, soaring hills snow-capped many of them, rising five and six thousand feet up, vast forests where foot of man has rarely trod, and bay and beach and rocky strand on every side combined to make the scene one to be remembered.

"We left Vancouver at midnight and after the heat of Sunday when the thermometer in the afternoon stood at Capilano at 88 degrees in the shade, and ventilation was bad, as a friend put it, the prospect of the cool coast was very attractive.

"After passing through delightful surroundings on Tuesday amid the sunshine, we reached Prince Rupert Wednesday morning, where we inspected the town.

"The beautiful Portland canal riveted our attention, but it is no work of man, it is really a Canadian Loch Lomond nearly one hundred and twenty-five miles long. The scenery is grand in the extreme, majestic mountains; one of them being 7,000 feet high, and many of them capped with snow, even now amid the heat of July, with many a rushing torrent down their sides and vast stretches of pine woods.

"On Friday morning early the Prince George brought us safely into Prince Rupert again, and though the day was very hot the coast breeze was bracing to a degree. Seeing the former scenery backward, making it look like another picture, was an attractive pleasure. On the last day of the trip old sol was shining as if he meant to outshine himself, and with Vancouver Island on the right hand and the mainland on the left we sailed quickly home. We passed Powell river, which about eighteen months ago was in its virgin solitude, but is now the busy center of paper manufacturing for western Canada, and has already a growing town of some 1,000 inhabitants. We passed several logging stations and fish canneries, but agriculture so far as the eye can reach is here unknown."

SECURE BONES OF HANGED CHINESE

And the Ones Who Went After the Relics Did So in Fear and Trembling.

Lewiston, Idaho, Aug. 20.—Three well dressed Chinamen believed to be representing San Francisco Chinese interests in America, late last week ventured into Pierce City, the almost forbidden teritory to celestials. The men registered at hotels along the way. When they arrived in Pierce City they proceeded at once to the Chinese burying ground, in which are interred the remains of many Chinamen who died during the pioneer mining days of that section of Idaho.

From their maneuvers their expressed purpose was to recover the bodies of the Chinamen who met their death at the hands of the white miners, who, on one evening hanged five Orientals to a historic tree.

Nine Graves Opened.

From the graves the remains of nine celestials were taken, and were loaded into crude boxes and immediately shipped over the old pioneer Wells-Fargo express line, over which they traveled in making their rush to seek their fortunes with the native settlers of that part of the state. The bodies will be taken to San Francisco and then sent to China, where proper burial in their native land has been arranged.

The San Francisco Chinamen made a quick trip to Pierce over the stage route. They displayed uneasiness while there. They had nothing to say to the people of Pierce, but performed their mission quietly and left immediately.

To Lewiston pioneers it recalls the thrilling incidents of the pioneer gold rush into the interior of the state and the hostilities which existed between the colony of yellow men then numbering more than 400, and a few scattered white miners.

Stunning? Rather!

Glenwood Springs, Colo., Aug. 20.—Glenwood Springs resort society has put over a new one. The daylight tango dances have been surpassed in startling fashion, for invitations to "tango in the swimming pool Saturday night" are out and the colony is agog. "Wear the one-piece bathing suit." Those giving the party will say only that it is to be a stunning affair.

TO LEARN OF CANADA.

Principal of English School Prepares Pupils' Text Book.

London, Aug. 20.—The enlightenment of the younger generation of school children as to the real conditions and modes of life existing in Canada is occasioning much concern among some of the English educational authorities. With a view to establishing an accurate knowledge of Dominion affairs by means of an entertaining and instructive text book, Headmaster Cyril Fitzgerald of Oxford high school, Junction road, London, is bringing a plan to the attention of the members o fthe Ontario legislature. He is seeking assistance in the publication of "The Schoolboy of Canada," a little volume dealing with problems of industry, tariff, natural resources, business opportunity, etc., for distribution in the old land. The intention also is to make its use in the schools universal.

Mr. Fitzgerald states that the plan is favored at home, and that several of the large transportation companies are sharing in the financing of the scheme. His real object in Canada is to obtain the sanction of some responsible men for its used, and from his reception thus far he is confident of success.

HERE'S A BRAND NEW TALE OF GYPSY KIDNAPPING

Watertown, Conn., Aug. 20.—Word reached here today that Frederick Brosseau, aged 24, who was kidnaped by gipsies 17 years ago, has been restored to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Brosseau, of Sissonville, N. Y. They had long mourned him as dead.

On October 14, 1896, when but 7 years old, young Brosseau left home to meet his father at the edge of the village. That was the last seen of the boy in Sissonville.

About a week ago a young man deserted from a band of gipsies in the Canadian wilds and took refuge with the monks of Oka, whose isolated monastery is forty miles from Montreal. He could remember nothing of his history previous to becoming a member of the band, except that he had been called Fred and that his former home was in northern New York.

The presence of the wanderer was reported by the monks to the Montreal police and an aunt of the young man recognized his picture in a newspaper. The parents were notified and went to Montreal, where they positively identified Brosseau by a birthmark. He is being detained by the police as a witness against some of the gipsies, who are under arrest charged with kidnapping.

GIRL OF FIVE YEARS LOST FIVE DAYS IN THE WOODS

Cobalt, Ont., Aug. 20.—By nothing short of a miracle, little Grace Cooper, a five-year-old childd, who was lost since 1 o'clock on Friday afternoon on Burnt Island, which lies in Lake Temiskaming, midway between Ontario and Quebec, and about three miles from Haileybury, where her mother lives, was found alive and well at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, five days and two hours after her disappearance. The child was found by C. P. Burton and John McLennan of Haileybury, on the east shore of the island about two miles from the camp from which she had strayed. Her head was resting one one log and her feet on another, and caught in this position she had evidently been unable to free herself.

A gasoline launch arrived most opportunely just as the child and her rescuers returned to the main party and she was rushed back to Haileybury for medical attention with all expedition. Grace looks none the worse for her terrible experience and Dr. Arnold says that all she requires is careful nursing.

How the child reached the other side of the island and was found alive is a mystery. The bush in many places is almost impenetrable to a strong man and want of food and the wet and cold weather might have caused the death of many a seasoned bush man lost for such a period.

WIDOW OF RENEGADE SUES BENEDICTINE ORDER

Paris, Aug. 20.—An extraordinary narrative of a monk's marriage and subsequent return to his monastery, was related before the Sixth Tribunal, here when Mme. Tremblay be la Houssaye, his widow, sued the Benedictines of Solesmes in connection with a check for $1,250.

The woman admitted eloping to New York in 1897 with Houssaye, then a nineteen-year-old student at the monastery. In 1900 the couple returned to Europe, the husband preceeding to attempt to regain by legal process his fortune of $1,500,00 which he had made over to the order on taking his vows as a youth. Half way through the litigation he was persuaded to abondon the suit and actually re-entered the monastery.

The sequel came a year later, when one night, according to the widow, young Houssaye arrived at her house on Rue Vavin here, murmured a few words and expired.

Then trouble began. The monks refused to continue the widow's small allowance and ultimately she was compelled by circumstances to accept a lump sum of $1,250. But certain conditions were imposed by the monks, the most important being that certain compromising correspondence written to her husband from the monastery at the time of his marriage should be returned. This Mme. Houssaye claims she complied with, but the monks say she has kept back the more important documents. Hence the present lawsuit, which is likely to drag on, in the French way, for many months.

SUPERINTENDENT DROVE CAR WHEN MEN WERE AFRAID

Regina, Aug. 20.—There is a good story told of Superintendent Doughty of the Regina street railway, in connection with the flooding of the subway recently. There was five feet of water in the subway, and the motormen refused to take the cars through because, as is well known, it is exceedingly dangerous to run a street car through water of any considerable depth when the car is propeleld by electric current. The motormen knew this, and would not take any chances. Bluntly they refused, and this raised the ire of the superintendent. Figuratively "tightening his belt," Superintendent Doughty mounted a street car on the north side of the subway, and seized the controlling leve. The crew jumped for the superintendent had fire in his eye. Throwing on full speed ahead, the superintendent shot the street car into the subway. People on the south side couldn't see the car coming for slush. The water was thrown clear to the top of the subway and it rushed in at the front doors of the car, only to find an exit at the rear end as the car mounted the incline on the south side. Doughty was still at the lever and stopped the car when dry pavement was reached again. Without a word he dismounted, walked back through the subway, mounted another car and made the dangerous trip a second time, while the motermen and conductors stood around in open-mouthed awe.

TOO MANY BOSSES AND NOT ENOUGH LABORERS

Hull, Que, Aug. 20.—It is likely that at the next meeting of the Hull city council Aldermen Chenier and Hamelin will demand that an investigation be made into the complaint of numerous residents of the city that the city's engineer's department is wasting money in unnecessary expenditure in connection with local improvements.

The kick is that on several jobs where there are only two or three laborers employed that there are as many foremen as laborers. During the past two keeks $1,700 has been paid for streets and improvements and an accounting of how this money is being spent is now asked for by the ratepayers.

In reply City Engineer Laforest states that in the instances cited the work is being done for the city by contractors as schedule prices and that they can hire as many foremen as they want to as long as the work is up to the contract. The city engineer's department is only responsible for the quality of the work, not for the expense.

SOCKEYE CATCHES GREATLY DECREASED

Both Up and Down River and in Straits Salmon Are Scarce—Many Humpbacks.

The B. C. canners' report yesterday says:

Bellingham got about 70,000 salmon, 90 per cent. of which were humpbacks.

Anacortes is getting all the sockeyes required, but the proportion of humpbacks is steadily increasing.

The catches on the upper and main rivers fell off yesterday, and in consequence a number of canneries did not operate to more than one half capacity. Boats operating out of Canoe pass and the north arm were more successful, some boats bringing in 200 sockeyes. Humpbacks were more numerous.

CANNERS WOULD EMPLOY WHITES ONLY

Delegation Tells Hon. J. D. Hazen that White Men Are Preferred to Japs.

Representatives of salmon cannerymen waited on Hon. J. D. Hazen, minister of marine and fisheries, at the Hotel Vancouver on Tuesday, presented their views on the industry and assured the minister of their willingness to employ a steadily increasing proportion of white fishermen. Among the delegation were Dr. D. Bell-Irving, Messrs. W. H. Barker, R. J. Ker and W. D. Burdis, secretary of the Fraser River Canners' association. Inspector of Fisheries Cunningham, of New Westminster, also was present.

Asserting that the interests of the canners and fishermen are identical, the deputation referred to the investment of $8,000,000 and the employment of 9000 men during the season as of sufficient importance to warrant serious consideration of the demands of the industry. In view of the magnitude of the enterprise the deputation advanced the opinion that continuk amendment of the regulations should not be made, that proposed changes should be promulgated several months in advance, so the probable effect could be estimated.

Suggestion was made that present investments be protected by restraining the number of licenses for new canneries, and limiting the fishing licenses according to recommendations made three years ago by the rating committee.

Employment of Japanese was explained as due to inability of the canners to secure a sufficient number of competent white men, the Japanese being satisfactory and persistent fishermen.

The minister was told the canners desire the settlement of white fishermen on the coast, and for this reason had volunteered to guarantee to employ an increasing proportion of white men, commencing with 29 per cent. of the total number, and making the increase gradual.

Vancouver Island Coal.

A scow of Vancouver island coal has come into this port for Gilley Bros. The shipment was brought from the mines at Union and Ladysmith. Some one along the waterfront has remarked that the firm who received such a rarity would likely keep the fact secret, also most of it would be stolen for souvenirs.

Take Scientists North.

Captain John McLeod, the veteran northern navigator of the C. P. Selling Nets.

About 1500 fathoms of 5 3-4 inch mesh net in various lengths will be sold by public auction at the Dominion fisheries wharf, Sapperton, on Saturday, the 23rd at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Helen M. Scanlon was at the city market wharf yesterday afternoon.

The first upright of the two city harbor derricks was raised yesterday and others are being placed and the machinery installed.

The Fispa will leave the department of public works wharf this afternoon at 2 o'clock with the minister of marine and fisheries, and a party of local authorities aboard.

Capt. Morrisby's Rapid Rise.

Dame Fortune has been exceptionally kind in the past few years to Capt. Morrisby, now master of the fine liner Niagara and commodore of the Union Steamship company, of New Zealand. He has had several promotions in that time and has risen more quickly than any other mariner operating on the Pacific ocean. Two years ago he was commander of the old steamship Moana, which is one of the smallest ocean going ships of the Union fleet. Today he is master of the finest liner of the company, the Niagara.

Big Firms Merging.

London, Aug. 20.—A big shipbuilding merger was rumored in Belfast yesterday between Harland & Wolff and Clark & Co. Harland & Wolff headed the list of shipbuilding firms as the largest builders in Great Britain last year, having ten ships to their credit, aggregating 118,209 tons, while Workman, Clark & Co. occupied seventh place in last year's list with ten ships, aggregating 66,399 tons.

CANNERS CHARGED WITH CHILD LABOR

Ninety Separate Cases Filed Against Owners and Contractors Near Bellingham.

Bellingham, Aug. 20.—Following investigations made by State Labor Commissioner E. W. Olsen and Mrs. Theresa McMahon, representing the industrial welfare commission of the state, information was filed in the superior court here today in 90 separate cases against salmon cannery owners, for violation of the child labor law, by employing children under 14 years of age without permits from the juvenile court.

The Pacific American Fisheries company, the largest cannery on the coast, has 53 cases against it, the Bellingham Cannery company three, the Alaska Packers' association two, Chin Wang, a Chinese labor contractor, one, the West Coast Packing company of Blaine 14, the Blaine Packing company two, and the Ainsworth & Dunn company of Blaine 18 cases.

Wholesale Charges.

Every cannery in the country except the Carlisle Packing company and the Lummi Bay company is represented in the wholesale filing of charges. The fine on conviction may be $10 or a maximum of $500, which makes it possible for the total in fines to reach $45,000.

DATES EXTENDED FOR SPECIAL RATES

Saskatoon, Aug. 20.—Word has been received by M. J. McGrath, who is in charge of the government employment bureau in Saskatoon, that the government have decided to extend to August 31 the period during which men can travel to positions on farms in the west at the reduced rate of a cent a mile from the prairie towns and cities.

The first order of the government was to the effect that this cheap railroad rate would only be in force between points in the prairie provinces from August 1 until August 15. The local board of trade considered the matter at one of their meetings and sent forward a resolution urging the government to keep the rate in force until the last of the month, and it would now appear as if they had gained their point.

A continual stream of men anxious to secure farm positions are calling at the Second avenue government employment agency, and during the first seven days the agency was kept open certificates had been issued to no fewer than 524 men.

Many of these, according to Mr. McGrath, have come from Prince Albert and Edmonton, lately having been unable to obtain work there.

During the next few weeks the harvest excursions will arrive. Mr. McGrath explains that the men for Saskatchewan will not be distributed from Winnipeg to the farms as last year, but will be sent to Moose Jaw, Regina and Saskatoon where the employment agencies have been established and sent to their destination from these three cities.

While some 20,000 men are wanted in Saskatchewan to harvest this year's crop Mr. McGrath thinks the province will be fortunate if 15,000 men come in.

Colonel Sam Says No.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—Colonel Sam Hughes, minister of militia, denied today a rumor that Colonel Woods, now professor at the royal military college, Kingston, is to be made commandant to succeed Colonel Crowe.

TO PROTEST AGAINST MILITIA AT NANAIMO

B. C. Federation of Labor Holding Meeting in Vancouver Tonight—Medicine Fatal.

Vancouver, Aug. 20.—A mass meeting will be held on Thursday evening in the Arena rink to protest against the use of the militia in connection with the coal miners' strike on Vancouver island. The meeting will be held under the auspices of the British Columbia Federation of Labor, and Vice-president Kavanagh will preside. Frank Farrington, organizer of the United Mine Workers, and other speakers will address the meeting. The Federation of Labor has more than 12,000 affiliated members and nearly every trade union in the province is represented. Victor R. Midgley, secretary-treasurer of the Federation, says that the Federation is considering a suggestion to call a general strike as a protest against the methods used by the government to break the strike on Vancouver island.

Remedy Kills.

Drinking a bottle of home-made rheumatism remedy, James Wright Stratton, a tailor, 2202 Main street, was poisoned last night and died before medical aid could arrive. It is believed that he took the medicine in mistake. According to Mrs. Stratton, who was absent at the time, her husband had been drinking heavily recently. He had gone to bed after supper last night and while she was away he drank the mixture which was kept for rheumatism. Dr. Wilson, 175 Broadway, was sent for but could do nothing when he arrived. Detective Lowry investigated the matter for the police and took the bottle to the station.

Conservative Outing.

A Conservative picnic, to be held tomorrow at Courtney, Vancouver island, will be addressed by Hon. Dr. Young, M. Manson, M.L.A., and H. Clements, M.P., for Comox-Atlin. Mr. Clements will leave here next Tuesday to attend a similar affair in the northern part of his riding to be held at Terrace, B.C., on Sept. 1. Terrace is midway between Prince Rupert and New Hazelton and special trains will be run that day to accommodate the hundreds who are expected to turn out. Hon. W. R. Ross, minister of lands, will accompany Mr. Clements on the northern trip, and in all probability so will J. B. Williamson, secretary of the British Columbia Conservative association.

Pipe Figures.

Further figures regarding the Vancouver and Point Grey partnership pipe—the result of the most careful preparation on the part of the engineering department—were submitted by City Engineer Fellowes to the civic water committe this afternoon and constitute a direct rebuttal of the statement of Alderman Cleland as to the lower cost of the route mapped out by H. M. Burwell.

the rioting of last week in the city, and the principal interest has been shifted to Ladysmith. Forty-three prisoners were there arraigned before Magistrate Stewart, and faced with charges of disorder and assault. Remand for eight days was granted in each case without bail and all the men were brought back to the jail at Nanaimo. Twenty-eight had been under arrest before today and were taken down in a special train conducted by special constables and the military. The other 15 were arrested at Nanaimo and Extension so that there are now over 150 in jail here.

F. Taylor, the vice-president of the local union was also brought up at Ladysmith today. He was arrested at Victoria on Saturday last and arraigned there, but as this was irregular he was brought up to Ladysmith today. He was defended by F. Higgins of Victoria, and in his case after an argument on some technicalities a remand was given until Tuesday next. Taylor was taken back to the jail at Victoria.

Few Leaders Left.

The other men arraigned were defended by A. Leighton, who is undertaking the defence of all the union men. Among the union leaders who have not been arrested, are Frank Farrington, the organizer of the United Mine Workers, who has been promoting the union and the strike in the district; Foster, who is the president of the local union, and Pettigrew, one of the local organizers. It is thought that the authorities have nothing against these men.

More Trouble at Cumberland

There has been further trouble at Cumberland and this morning, instead of the Princess Patricia making her run to the mainland she went up the coast to Union Bay, with a company of the Seaforth Highlanders. A strike has broken out in the construction camps up there and the men came out from the district. Over 50 of them arrived this afternoon on the steamer Charmer. They meant to land at Nanaimo but were not allowed to do so and had to go on to Vancouver. Passengers on the steamer also reported that the men who were working in No. 8 mine went out yesterday and there are thus no white men working in the mines up there.

Labor Minister at Work.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—Hon. W. E. Crothers, minister of labor sails on the Empress of Britain for England tomorrow, and will not be home again until about Oct. 1. Mr. Crothers is making the trip primarily for the purpose of studying industrial conditions in the old country, and will give special attention to the conditions under which coal mines are operated there. He will seek for information regarding miners' unions and the attitude followed by them when a dispute with the mine owners arises. The reason the minister is going to give special attention to the coal miners organizations is because of the recent trouble in Nanaimo and Nova Scotia.

DEPUTY MINISTER FOLLOWS CHIEF

J. B. Hunter Sees Through Hon. Robt. Rogers' Glasses in Viewing New Westminster's Harbor.

Following the historic trip down river of Hon. Robert Rogers, minister of public works, Dominion Deputy minister J. B. Hunter, very informally came to New Westminster, talked with Dominion officials, Col. J. D. Taylor and others, and made a trip of inspecition of the city's harbor work yesterday.

Ever since it was first proposed Mr. Hunter has followed every detail of the work. This, however, was from far off Ottawa and to acquaint himself with things as they are, he boarded a launch and in company with Engineer Doncaster of the department of public works offices here, inspected various details of the scheme from the mouth of the Brunette to Annacis island.

Sees Need of Waterway.

The result is that Mr. Hunter is convinced of the need of a great wide open waterway here, and seeing what the city is doing in anticination of the government's action he is convinced more than ever of the use of the Fraser can be put to.

Fine Plant.

In coming from Vancouver to New Westminster by auto Mr. Hunter, in company with Mr. Doncaster, spent an hour and a half at the creosote plant on the North Arm, where piles are given special treatment. The plant, Mr. Hunter thought was one of the finest, if not the finest, he had ever seen and compared favorably with the plant at Transcona, near Winnipeg.

The visit was purely unofficial.

WEDDING BELLS

ROUTLEY-MILLARD.

The marriage of Miss Juanita Millard, eldest daughter of Alderman Millard, Port Coquitlam, and Wesley Routley, contractor, was celebrated very quietly in New Westminster on Tuesday afternoon. The young people were heartily congratulated by their many friends in both cities.

McDONALD—McBETH.

A pretty wedding took place yesterday morning when Miss Bertha McBeth became the bride of Leo McDonald, a member of the fire fighting brigade at No. 2 station.

The ceremony was held at the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Lou Cross, Hamilton street, with Rev. J. S. Henderson officiating.

Following the wedding breakfast the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to Victoria and points on Vancouver island.

COQUITLAM DAM MATTER MAY BE ARRANGED

The city council and Chief Engineer Conway, of the B. C. E. R. company, with the solicitors of both parties, had a long conference yesterday on the subject of the Lake Coquitlam dam agreement. The whole subject was thoroughly discussed and with the exception of one clause parties ultimately found themselves in accord. The clause on which there is a difference has been submitted to the legal representatives of the city and the company for arrangement.

PORT COQUITLAM TAX BILLS MAILED LONG WAY

Port Coquitlam, Aug. 20.—Some idea of the number of people financially interested in this city may be gathered from the fact that during the past two weeks City Assessor G. Roy Leigh has mailed no less than 2598 letters containing over 3000 tax notices for separate parcels of land in Port Coquitlam. A good many of the notices were sent to residents, but the bulk were to property owners living outside the city. The majority went to Vancouver, hundreds to Eastern Canada and all parts of the United States, and scores to the old country and other parts of the world.

TO FLOAT OLD SPAN FOR NEW BRIDGE

Port Coquitlam, Aug. 20.—The span of the old C. P. R. bridge which was recently purchased by the provincial authorities for the public bridge across the Pitt river was expected to be floated tonight from the place where it has been for years, to the location of the government structure near Pitt river ferry. Arrangements for the removal were made today and providing a satisfactory tide was secured the change was to be made. Four pontoons are now under one span and the proposal is to float it up river and leave it standing there on piles until proper foundations are erected.

Excellent progress is now being made with the $2,000,000 new C. P. R. bridge across the river.

MAY UNITE VETERANS

Proposal to Join Two American Societies.

Denver, Aug. 20.—A proposal to merge the army of the Philippines and the American Veterans of Foreign Service organizations was injected today into the deliberations of the joint convention in session here. The question was considered informally at a caucus of officers of the army of the Philippines. It seemed likely that the proposal would be taken up formally again when officers will be chosen.

The headquarters of Brigadier General Irving H. Hale, organizer of the army of the Philippines, and Brigadier Jacob Smith, of California, were centers of interest for the several delegates in attendance from all parts of the United States.

ALEX GIBSON WAS HISTORIC CAPTAIN OF INDUSTRY

Pioneer Maritime Province Lumberman Dies at Age of 94

Fredericton, N. B., Aug. 20.—Alexander Gibson, sr., one of Canada's greatest captains of industry, who retired from active business in the latter part of 1908, after one of the most remarkable business careers in the annals of the Dominion, is dead at his home in Marysville. Some time before he celebrated his 94th birthday on August 1 last, Mr. Gibson had been critically ill, suffering from a general breakdown. Two sons, three daughters, 19 grand-children, and several great grand-children survive.

Born in the last year of the reign of George III., it was little past the middle of the century when Mr. Gibson made a fortune as a lumber operator on the shores of the Bay of Fundy. When the timber along the Bay shore had been pretty well cut or burned away, about the end of the United States civil war, he moved 100 miles up the St. John river. There opposite Fredericton, where the Nashwaak joins the main stream, Alexander Gibson built first a lumber mill then a church, then the town of Marysville. He became the "King of the Nashwaak." His lumber operations exceeded those of any single operator in that part of the world, either before or since. When he acquired timber limits remote from sizable streams, he built sawmills in the woods, and also 200 miles of railway from the Nashwaak to the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Thirty years ago he built one of the largest cotton mills in Canada at Marysville. Several years ago he sold his railroad and it is now part of the Intercolonial.

MUST PERK RIGHT UP

Mann Cuppers Needs Must Gird up Their Loins or They Will Lose the Trophy.

Unless the Mann cuppers show a decided improvement in their work during the next two weeks, local fans have about come to the conclusion that the amateur lacrosse championship of the world, held in Vancouver during the past two seasons, will board the C. P. R. train for the city of Winnipeg following the series of games to be played in Vancouver within a short time, with the cup at stake.

Because the C. N. R. team which came west last year met with such strong opposition by the V. A. C. team of that season, is no criterion of the cup staying on the coast another year. The C. N. R. improved themselves wonderfully by making the trip last fall, they saw the real western style of play and despite all this coaching they failed to take the measure of the Young Conservatives, who have now won the championship of the Winnipeg league.

Strangely enough, the star of the Manitoba organization has been a young fellow named Hearne, who hails from Revelstoke. He has been displaying a dashing game at first home and his work has been the feature of the contests, which have improved interest in Canada's national pastime in the prairie city.

During their stay on the coast the Conservatives will most likely be seen in action at Queen's park against the bunch under Manager Alex. Turnbull. The showing made by the senior amateurs during the past few weeks indicate that if the Mann cup is saved from its trip to the east this season, it will be resting in the Fraser city before another year has gone by.

LABOR DAY FIGHT

Campbell and Eddie Moy to Battle—Winner Meets Ritchie on Labor Day.

Vancouver, Aug. 20.—Ray Campbell, of Seattle, and Eddie Moy, of Allantown, Pa., will battle between themselves for the privilege of meeting Willie Ritchie, the world's champion, in the Brighouse arena, Labor day afternoon. Moy and Campbell have been matched to go ten rounds on the afternoon of Saturday, Aug. 23 and the winner will be automatically matched to meet Ritchie on Labor day.

Moy was first signed for the match with Ritchie, but so many of the local fans favored Campbell, whose recent 15 round battle with Freddie Welsh created a profound local impression, that Manager Chet McIntyre finally decided to give the Seattle boxer a chance. So the elimination bout was staged for Saturday of this week and popular prices will prevail.

Articles Signed.

The last arrangement was completed when Ritchie, through his manager, Harry Foley, signed articles to meet the winner Labor day. If Ritchie comes through the Labor day battle still holding his title, he will meet Freddy Welsh in the same arena on Saturday, Sept. 20, for the world's lightweight title.

Weight in at 135 Pounds.

Moy and Campbell will weigh in at 135 pounds at ringside for their elimination bout. Both were in training when matched, Moy using the quarters at the Imperial rink, English Bay, fitted up for Welsh, while Campbell has moved into Welsh's old gymnasium at the Stratford hotel. Ritchie is also in training, starting his hard work this week, and boxing in his new pavilion at Bert Halstead's Eburne hotel, near the arena every afternoon.

LOCAL SHOTS DO WELL IN VANCOUVER.

New Westminster men were right in front in the tournament held by the Vancouver Gun club yesterday afternoon. Clarence McLean, the best shot in the Royal City, tied for high honors with a Vancouver man, and then courteously refrained from shooting off the time. Jimmy Price, secretary of the local club, won a handsome trophy, and Dr. MacSween was also among the prize winners. It was the opinion of the locals that if they had had Bill Maiden with them they would have captured high average for the meet.

Chose Death to Drugs.

Butte, Mont., Aug. 20.—In the death of Fred W. Martin in a local hospital a story was unfolded which has resulted in the arrest of Frank Clampett on a charge of murder. According to Martin's story to the authorities he was kept a prisoner in Clampett's cabin for many hours and threatened with death by Clampett who brandished a knife over him, unless he partook of a drug to which Martin says Clampett was addicted. Martin says he yielded after he had been shot.

Secured Statement.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—John E. Mac, acting assistant district attorney of New York state, was in town today for two hours in consultation with the immigration officials, regarding the Thaw case. Mr. Mac secured from the department a statement of its intention to deport the fugitive.

London Market.

London, Aug. 20.—The stock market was quiet but steadier today. Dealers advanced prices on the belief that the Mexican and Balkan situations had improved. Mexican securities and copper shares had a good tone, Marconi and oil shares being active and consols finishing a fraction higher.

Large Will Filed.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—The will of the late David Smith, of Todmorden, was filed for probate today. The estate amounts to $264,917, and the widow and son divide the property equally.

Young Wife Suicides.

Moose Jaw, Sask., Aug. 20.—Mrs. Barbara Rehbein, aged 19, wife of John Rehbein, of the Wellbank district, has committed suicide. Her husband found her hanging in the barn when he returned from work. She has been married for 17 months and her parents reside in Regina.

SERIOUS SETBACK

Port Coquitlam Team to Disband and Four Cornered Series Improbable

The proposition of having the four teams in the B. C. league play off a series of sudden death games in order to decide the championship of the organization, received a serious setback yesterday when Manager Fitzgerald, of Port Coquitlam, stated that his team would disband after Saturday and that as far as he was concerned he felt in the right to not only claim the championship of the league, but also that of the lower mainland.

Fitz is willing to meet the Westminster Moose either this week or on Sunday afternoon at Fraser Mills, but Manager Graham will neither accept nor reject the proposition.

"If the Moose still persist in claiming the championship why don't they look up their record with outside team this season and compare this with Coquitlam in order to make a decision," stated the Port Coquitlam manager to The News.

"Graham has still a chance to hook up once more against my team with Ruyle or anyone else in the box and I'm willing to bet my little pile that we take the game."

BILL FELL DOWN

Maiden Was Left All Alone at the Local Traps and Lost to Dr. Duff.

Shooting like a house afire, Dr. Duff, of Vancouver, won high average at the traps of the New Westminster club last evening. Believing that the local honors were safe, the best of the local shooters were over at the Vancouver Gun club shoot, leaving Bill Maiden all alone to defend the local honors, which Bill failed to do, losing out by one bird to the Vancouver expert, but finishing in second place. Following are the scores for the evening:

ANNUAL RUSH TO GO BACK TO THE LAND

Six Thousand Men Leave Winnipeg Per Day to Harvest the Great Grain Crop.

Winnipeg, Aug. 20.—With the harvest in progress, and an increasingly insistent demand for help from the farmers all over the country, approximately six thousand men will leave the city within the next 24 hours to garner the great crop, which passes all records, both in volume and excellence, according to the advices which the railway officials have received.

The immigration shed on Maple street which is the principle centre of the clearing passing of the farm laborers through the city, presents a busy scene, and the officials have everything in readiness for the record crowd which will swarm all over the headquarters this afternoon.

Eight Trainloads.

In all no less than eight trainloads of farm laborers will reach the city this afternoon, in addition to the large volume of the unemployed tradesmen of the city who are realizing that the pshysological moment has arrived for them to secure positions before the rush from Eastern Canada.

MONTREAL MAN STABBED IN HIS OWN STORE

Montreal, Aug. 20.—While waiting on a customer at his store, 241 Craig street, E. J. Papas was asked by a stranger who came in followed by two tough-looking customers, for fifty cents.

The request was more in the nature of a threat than a loan, and as the man asking for it was unknown to him the proprietor ordered him out of the place. The fellow refused to go quietly and with the assistance of his two clerks the man and his tough-looking friends were hustled toward the door. They proceeded to put up a fight and Mr. Papas was the target for the fists of one man, who punched him in the face, while another whipped out a knife and sank the blade in the proprietor's arm.

Three times the blade found a lodging place in the left arm, while Mr. Papas exerted himself to hold his assailant. His clerks closed the door on the other two men, who were held until the arrival of Constables Lebretin and Senlin, from the Chabolliez street station, who placed the men under arrest.

This morning they gave their names as Ivan Iestnill and Raoul de Gastnay. They pleaded not guilty to a charge of attempted murder, and were remanded until September 9th.

TONIGHT WILL TELL

West Ends and All-Stars to Clash for City Intermediate Championship at Queens Park.

Whether the West Ends, the new champions of the City Intermediate league, can hold their own against the combined forces, or rather a selected team from Burnaby and Sapperton, will be known after this evening, for then the first of the post series games are to be carried out at Queens park.

Yesterday the executive of both the Burnaby and Sapperton teams subjected their playing lists to the elimination test, with the result that they feel the combination is worthy of showing the best lacrosse of the season, and well capable of taking the West Ends into camp.

Feeney, Storme and Murray, the goal scoring aggregation of the West Ends, will find themselves well guarded, while the All-Stars attack looks pretty strong on paper.

Tonight's game will commence at 6:15 o'clock at Queens park with the following players representing the All-Stars: W. Coutts, R. Chambers W. Follis, R. Coulson, Parsons, Sait, H. Sclater, Sayers, J. Chambers, Feedham, Mitchell and W. Dawe.

BOLD, BAD BURGLAR MAN ROBS HOUSE OF PRIEST

Reverend Father Was Surprised and Thief Escaped.

Lemburg, Sask., Aug. 20.—Yesterday at about 2 o'clock in the afternoon Father Gabriel of this town returned to his home near the Roman Catholic church, which lies about three-quarters of a mile from the C. P. R. depot, and on approaching within a few yards of the building saw to his surprise a strange man coming out from the cellar window loaded with goods. The reverend gentleman was carrying home some window glass, and some varnish, and in his surprise, and with both hands full, he did not unburden himself and close with the man at once, and the man got out of the window, dropped his ill-gotten goods, and made off into the bluffs with Father Gabriel in chase. Dr. Knoke, who was passing at the time, saw the chase, and drove into town and informed the police, who with others turned out and went to the scene, some in motor cars, but the thief was too quick for them, and evidently got away under the cover of the bluffs that surround the place, and the search party had to return, leaving him at large. The man appeared to be about twenty-five years of age, and judging from the manner he entered the house, and by the way he deposited the stolen property whilst he went back for more, he was no novice in the art of housebreaking.

"Minnie Haha" is White

St. Thomas, Aug. 20.—Little Hazel Ford, the eight-year-old girl who was taken from the den of snakes at Aylmer, by the authorities and brought to the St. Thomas children's shelter, has been committed by County Magistrate Hunt to the care of the Children's Aid society at London, as it has been ascertained that the mother, who resided in London, and who consented to the child being exhibited, has proven unworthy of guardianship. The father, James Ford, and a colored man, Charles Cox, exhibited the child, blackened with cork, as "Minnie Haha." Under the act they are liable to fines of $100 each and one month imprisonment. Public sentiment is very strong against the accused. The child was discovered to be white by the black coloring wearing off in spots. There are four other children in the Ford family, all younger than Hazel, and it is likely they will all be placed in charge of the Children's Aid society.

SAYS MONEY WAS FOR ICE CREAM

Jap Players at Nanatan Don't Know What Chips Are—Purely a Game of Skill.

The charge of keeping a common gaming house preferred against Mrs. Mitta, a Japanese woman storekeeper, was prosecuted to a conclusion yesterday before Magistrate Edmonds in the police court. The court reserved his decision until today.

J. P. Hampton Bole, for the defence, argued that the game, "Nanatan," was not shown by the evidence adduced to be anything but a game of skill. The sum of 75 cents lost by one player and founded on by Mr. Martin for the prosecution as evidence of gambling was for the purchase of ice cream or light refreshments.

G. E. Martin having also adressed the court and both counsel quoting authorities, decision was reserved.

"EVERYWOMAN" NEXT WEEK.

The production of the dramatic spectacle, "Everywoman," which will be presented next week at the Empress theatre, Vancouver, is the original and only production of the singular play made by Henry W. Savage and is offered here under his management after two weeks in Los Angeles, three weeks in San Francisco and one week in Portland. The organization is this week playing in Seattle.

The Empress theatre was secured for the Vancouver engagement as it contains sufficient stage room to successfully manipulate all the big effects, as there is an entire train load of scenery and electrical devices.

The music of "Everywoman" was composed by George Whitefield Chadwick, an American writer whose works have had foreign recognition. It is symphonic in character, though there are 26 numbers ranging from grave to gay. A symphony orchestra is carried by the organization to render this score.

In addition to the regular matinee Saturday there will be a mid-week matinee on Thursday, and on Tuesday there will be a matinee which is designed especially for the benefit of teachers, students, club women and others of slender purses who would otherwise be unable to pay the tariff necessary for so huge a production. At the Tuesday matinee half prices for all the seats will be charged.

HOPE TO AVERT STRIKE OF MINERS AT TRINIDAD

Trinidad, Colo., Aug. 20—Hopes that a strike in the southern coal fields may be averted have been raised tonight by reports from Denver that steps have been taken by state officials in an effort to end the controversy now being waged between representatives of the United Mine Workers of America and the coal operators of district No. 15. State Labor Commissioner Edwin V. Brade envoy of Governor Ammons, declared this evening that "progress is being made and the situation looks much brighter."

HADLEY COMES BACK AS LUMBER TOWN

Used to Be Smelting Centre, Now It's in Mill Business

Ketchikan, Alaska, Aug. 20.—The town of Hadley, located a few miles north of this place and which was at one time a hustling smelter town, is fast coming into prominence again, but this time as a mill port.

Foss Brothers, representing in part San Francisco capital, have taken over the property and have installed machinery of the latest type for turning out all kinds of finished lumber. The present output is being warehoused until a supply sufficient for a whole ship's cargo is secured, when a steamer will be sent direct to Hadley from San Francisco to load. Extensions have been made and almost all the old wharf built over for the accommodation of large steamers.

The building up of the almost deserted town, together with repairing its water and light plant, has meant the expenditure of considerable money. The flume from the big dam above the city has been repaired and water turned into the big tank once used by the smelter people. Pipes are now being laid from the tanks to the mill, where a power house is being built to accommodate a Pelton water wheel which will operate a dynamo, furnishing light and power at the mill as well as in the residences.

The shipment of whole cargoes of lumber direct to the states is a new venture which will undoubtedly prove a great success, as Alaska woods are in demand on account of their excellent finishing qualities.

STEADY PRODUCTION AT COBALT LAKE

English Property There Now Turning Out 25,000 Ounces Per Week.

Cobalt, Aug. 20.—For the past two months the Cobalt Lake production has been placed on a 25,000 ounce a week basis and the months of June and July each show an output of 100,000 ounces of silver.

Alterations and additions to the mill early in June allowed the company to go on this basis of production and it is expected that the 100,000 ounce monthly output can be continued. Of this amount 80,000 ounces comes monthly from the concentrates of the mill, while the other 20,000 ounces is from high grade sorted under ground.

Since June the mill has been averaging 170 tons daily. As the classifications are adjusted and perfected it is expected that this capacity can be stepped up to eventually 200 tons daily with the forty stamps. The recovery is a satisfactory one from the additional twenty stamps installed last spring at the mill whereby the capacity was increased and the production graded at a higher rate.

A crosscut will be started shortly from the 225-foot level on No. 6 shaft for another McKinley vein which cuts into Cobalt Lake property at the southern end of the lake. Several McKinley Darragh swamp veins have been worked with success on the neighboring property and the new vein for which the working will be headed is a similar one to those already worked.

Speaking of the drainage of Cobalt lake, Manager M. B. R. Gordon states that he hopes to have the matter before Mining Commissioner T. E. Godson, K. C., at his first sitting in September. The plans and specifications will first be presented to the provincial board of health and afterwards placed before the mining commissioner and a date for the hearing asked.

TWENTY PER CENT. ARMY INCREASE

Germany's Plans—Machine Guns, "Greek Fire," Searchlights and All the Trimmings.

Berlin, Aug. 20.—The German army law has now been published and a couple of columns in the officials newspaper, the Reischsanzeiger, have sufficed to make the effect of the measure appear much clearer than all the speeches in the Reichstag. The chancellor has received the brilliants of the Order of the Black Eagle in compensation for his efforts in this connection, and the minister of war, General van Heerigen, has received a less anxious post as army corps inspector, while a younger officer, General von Falkenhayn, has been appointed in his place to cary out the huge increase and overhauling that the new law entails.

As a result of the bill the army is to be increased in force by more than 20 per cent., and is to be considerably reorganized into the bargain. The number of men in the ranks is to be increased from 544,211 to 661,478, and, with the minimum addition of 110,000 non-commissioned officers, 30,000 officers, and 15,000 so-called one-year men," the total peace strength is to reach the figure of 814,000.

The German army will not consist of: Infantry, 669 battalions; cavalry, 550 squadrons; artillery, 633 batteries, each of six guns; foot artillery, fifty-five battalions; pioneers, forty-four, troops of communication (post, railway, etc., thirty-one; commissariat, twenty-six.

Machine Gun Companies.

As regards alterations to existing arrangements, perhaps the most important is the increase in the number of machine gun companies by ninety-four. Every infantry battalion is to be given a machine gun company as a complement, and numerous other machine gun companies are to be distributed among the cavalry. The bicycle is to be introduced officially for the first time. The Prussian war office has decided against the folding machine used by the French army. Fourteen cyclist companies are to be formed. Six entirely new regiments are to be organized.

As regards smaller details, several novelties are worth mentioning. Each pioneer battalion is now to be equipped with a special searchlight team. The searchlight has already been put to so many uses during manoeuvers, notably for lighting the bridge builders at their work, and its value is now thought to be proved.

With this novelty the pioneers are also to use one of the very oldest of the warriors' equipments—viz., "Greek fire." It will be flung into the enemy's trenches in order to smother and stifle him. A new kind of highly inflammable "fire-tube" is to be used in somewhat similar circumstances, it being claimed that it can make the trenches wholly uninhabitable for the space of many minutes.

BOY IS AVARICIOUS

Wants $51,250 For Being Kicked Off Train

Seattle, Aug. 20.—Harry C. Goble, who says he was brutally beaten when thrown off a car roof by one Fleming, of the Southern Pacific company, yesterday commenced action against the railroad company for damages in the amount of $51,250.

The boy charges that he was on the car roof stealing a ride, and Fleming beat him over the head and neck with a revolver, using unnecessary force. It is charged that his scalp was cut, skull fractured, that he lay unconscious for a long time and that his mental strength is now diminished.

The assault took place near Redding, Cal., August 25, 1910. The plaintiff states that he would have left the train peaceably if permitted to do so.

LOOKS LIKE WORK OF ROBBER GANG

Suspicion of Organized Band of Criminals on Boundary Line in the East.

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 20.—Is there a gang of sneak thieves, confidence men and women working the transportation companies around the border?

One Toronto man has been foully murdered, presumably by an organized gang of thieves, and another young Toronto man was fleeced of his money and jewels last week in the city of Buffalo.

Harold Rich, son of Harry Rich, the old-time comedian and singer, of Crawford street, Toronto, was robbed of a wallet containing $20, a diamond stick-pin and a valuable diamond ring while in the wash-room of a Buffalo hotel last week. His parents, in view of the murder of Martin, the Toronto Milliner, in New York the other day, are thankful that their son escaped with his life.

The Rich Case

Harold Rich was on his way to Cleveland, taking the train from Toronto to Buffalo. He inteded going the rest of the way by boat. On the journey a stranger shared his seat in the train. Hhe was from Portland, Ore., he said. He asked for a lot of information about the arrival of the train, etc. Mr. Rich told him. After that the conversation took on a wider turn, and the two exchanged confidences. Mr. Rich was going to stay in Buffalo for a few hours, and intended taking in the matinee after dinner. The stranger decided to do the same thing. On arrival at the depot, both checked their valises in the station, the numbers on the checks folowing consecutively. At the hotel they both entered the wash-room. Mr. Rich took off his coat in which was his wallet containing the money, and also put his collar and tie on the same nail. The tie held the stick-pin. The finger ring was also placed in the coat. When Mr. Rich finished washing he looked around to find the stranger was gone. A search revealed the fact that his valuables had disappeared also.

Mr. Rich reported his loss to the Buffalo police and then returned to Toronto. At the depot in Buffalo Mr. Rich sought his valise, and found that the stranger had arrived and taken it away.

Since the association of a blonde lady in the Martin murder case, Mr. Rich recalls the fact of the presence of a lady of peroxide hue hovering around the Buffalo depot for an instant.

POOR SEASON FOR TOURIST TRAFFIC

Federal Capital Complains of Scarcity of Visitors—The Quiet Summer Time.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—"The season has been an unusually dull one so far as tourist parties are concerned," said the clerk at one of the city's leading hotels, this morning, in answer to a query.

"I don't think I can remember a season in years when business has been so slack during the summer months," he ocntinued. "We used to have quite a number of American tourists traveling by auto, but the number has dropped off this season; the trouble over the reciprocity of licenses between New York state and Ontario has probably had quite a bit to do with it. Except for a few commercial men there is absolutely nothing doing."

The deserted rotunda and the few signatures on the register, not only today, but for some time past, were mute testimony to this statement.

The vacation migration by a great part of the city's population strikes visitors as very peculiar. "Why just this morning I called up no less than eleven of my acquaintances and of that number ten were out of the city; practically all were professional men, too." This was the statement of a relieving bank manager at present in the city and who is well acquainted locally.

All over the city the situation is the same—in the civil service, around the city hall, offices, stores, no matter wheer you may go. Necessarily the absence of members of the staff means less efficient work by the entire force, particularly in the smaller concerns, for the work of the absent ones must be subdivided among those who have enjoyed their holidays already or who are anticipating them.

"Ottawa's dead in the summer time, there's no getting around it," was the sweeping assertion of one of pessimistic turn of mind.

MRS. LESLIE CARTER FIGURES JOHN OWES HER MONEY

New York, Aug. 20—Mrs. Leslie Carter, in private life Mrs. Caroline L. D. Payne, today brought action in the supeme court against John Cort, a theatrical producer of Seattle, for $9,242.87 which she alleges is due her as a result of Mr. Cort's failure to live up to the terms of a contract covering flive years, beginning September 1, 1910.

Mrs. Carter's attorneys are Moos, Prince & Nathan. The complaint sets forth that Mr. Cort agreed to give, or obtain for her, for each of the five years mentioned a thirty-week engagement season at $1,000 per week, together with 50 per cent. of the net profits. He is also alleged to have agreed to provide for use a carriage to and from the theatre whenever Mrs. Carter might be playing, and obtain for her drawing rooms and compartments in trains when traveling between cities covered by the season's trips.

During the season of 1911-12, according to Mrs. Carter's affidavits, Mr. Cort provided her only with an engagement covering twenty-five weeks during the period mentioned, and made various deductions, leaving his indebtedness to her $9,242.87.

CALLS SHYLOCK UNTRUE TYPE

Visiting Rabbi Backs Spokane Jews in Attack on Use of Play in School Studies

Spokane, Aug. 20.—The Rev. Dr. L. Jacobs, rabbi of Congregation B-ny Joseph of Chicago, editor of the Jewish Record and a graduate of Vienna university, Vienna, Austria, arrived in Spokane yesterday morning and will lecture Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Temple Emanu El on "The Merchant of Venice" and "All the World is Not Yet Ready for Civilization."

One of the first things noticed by Dr. Jacobs upon his arrival was the attempt of local Jewish societies to have eliminated from the curriculum of public schools Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice." The Rev. Jacobs is emphatically in favor of eliminating this piece of literature, and takes exception to the statements made by Rabbi B. H. Rosenguard of Temple Keneseth Israel, who criticised the play but is not in favor of barring it from the schools.

Owes Fame to Author

"'The Merchant of Venice' is spoken of as a great literary masterpiece," said Rabbi Jacobs, "but had it been penned by any other than Shakespeare it would have been looked upon as a rank failure. To portray a character or type of life one must be thoroughly familiar with it, and Shakespeare's 'Merchant of Venice' stands a monument either to his ignorance or to his vindictiveness. The picture of a Jew clamoring for blood is a manifest fallacy, for the religion and teachings of Jews make them abhor blood.

"Rabbi Rosenguard favors allowing this drama to remain in the schools and advocates that teachers impress upon the students the fact that Shakespeare was given expression to the frenzied state of mind of Catholic Italy, and that his portrayal is not true to Jewish character or life. Why should the character and honor of a race be trusted to a teacher who might, like the man who wrote that play, be prejudiced or narrow minded?

Not a True Type

"Where is the good of instilling in the mind of coming gereations this fallacy and contempt for a noble race? It is contrary to the great American spirit of broadmindedness.

"If the 'Merchant of Venice' portrayed the real character of Jewish people, and had an historical value, I would never object to it, but it has neither. If it had just portrayed a type of life it would not have been so bad, but why try to make out that such a type is characteristic of the Jewish race? If not out of fairness to the Jewish people, then for the memory and greatness of Shakespeare, this play should no longer be taught in the public schools.

"The character of Shylock never was applicable to the Jews, and, by virtue of their teachings, never can be. It would be better to have students employing their time in studying literature more worth while."

MAN HELD FOR CHILD'S DEATH

English Christian Scientist Charged With Manslaughter By Coroner's Jury.

London, Aug. 20.—A verdict of manslaughter was rendered by a coroner's jury today against a Christian Scientist, whose seven-year-old daughter died of diphtheria.

Benjamin Jewell, of Hornsey, the father of the child, and his wife are both Scientists. Evidence was given that they caleid a Christian Science healer and not a doctor and that the father expressed his belief in the efficacy of the Christian Science treatment.

Dr. Bell, who said that the child had died of diphtheria, was asked by counsel for the parents: "Is it within your professional experience that diphtheria may be present without its being detected during life?" He replied: "Sometimes it shows a slight character, and does not present noticeable symptoms. In all the modern methods of diagnosis that I used it is likely to be found out."

"So there may be diphtheria present without being detected?"

"It is improbable, but possible."

Dr. Bell said that when he called the child was dead, and the parents seemed to think that it had had the mump'.

The father was committed for trial on the coroner's warrant.

In charging the jury the coroner said that the whole question of Christian Science must be approached in an unbiased manner, and that the jurors must dismiss all preconceived notions about it from their minds. The facts were that a month ago one child was taken ill and was not ill very long and then the other was attacked by the disease. The parents got some Christian Science treatment by telephoning for the practitioner to do something. Just as the child was dying they sent for a doctor, but that was because they could not get a Christian Science practioner. The jurors had to consider whether the child was so ill that any reasonable person would have called in a doctor, and if they thought that and that death had been accelerated by want of medical aid, then it was a case of manslaughter. The coroner had expressed the opinion that the jury must be satisfied that death was accelerated, not that it might have been. The child might have been ill enough at first to cause anyone to call a doctor, and there was evidence that if they had done so on the fourth or fifth day the child was in a state in which the average death rate was 30 per cent.

The jury, after an absence of twenty minutes, returned with an agreed verdict among twelve, the thirteenth juror disagreeing.

WHY BIG NATIONS REFUSE TO EXHIBIT

On the Panama exposition at San Francisco and the refusal of several of the nations to participate, the New York Post says:

The refusal or hesitation of various European nations to exhibit at the San Francisco exposition, to the apparent chagrin of its directors, should do more than call attention to the fact that such fairs have been overdone. Since 1901 we have had the Pan-American, the St. Louis, the Jamestown, the Alaska-Yukon, the Lewis and Clark expositions, and now we are planning a sixth. The recent international decision that it was inadvisable to attempt exhibits more than once in three years would fall heavy on the United States alone. But the present attitude of European countries might point another lesson. Why insist that all our expositions be international?

The New Idea.

There seems to have been a feeling that it is impossible for a national or local exhibition to attract either tourists or interested inquirers. Since the Centennial there has not even been a state exposition that has aroused marked attention. Some municipalities—Boston, Chicago and other cities have planned industrial exhibitions upon a small scale, as an evidence chiefly of city patriotism. But no enterprise of this kind has ever reached any magnitude, while a national exposition has as yet been all but unheard of. The genuine artistic and industrial impulse has been wanting. The public bases its judgment of an exposition too lagely upon its size, its pomposity, its cosmopolitan air, and the gay waving of foreign flags above it, to have taken kindly to the other idea.

The local or special exposition should not come, of course, as a mere substitute forced by the impossility of securing exhibits from abroad. It ought to answer a definite demand. When the various sections and states become competitively interested in one another's products—their arts and crafts, their styles of architecture, interior and exterior, their schools of furniture and metal design, the lines along which painting and sculpture are developing—it will follow as an educational and commercial need. As exchanges of ideas they will not require huge and showy palaces of stucco and plaster; simple, substantial halls, designed with an eye to lighting and interior attractiveness, will better harmonize with the exhibits. Nor will they be founded upon a patriotic fervor.

Germany's Fairs.

In Germany notably, fairs of an industrial nature have become almost a matter of course in recent years. In Munich, in Baden, in Dresden, in Nuremburg, in Liepzig, frequent expositions of the work of local and national shops and ateliers draw studious visitors from all over western Europe. Arts-and-crafts exhibitions have virtually become an annual affair, moving from city to city.

From such local and popular expositions, founded upon a sober, business-like desire for instruction in industry and art, and a hope to further their development, the promoters of American expositions might learn much. We have not, it is true, carried the particular branches of craftsmanship that lend themselves best to public exhibition as far as have the Germans. With us arts develop slowly. But even the coarser, more unattractive bent of American manufacture would furnish a basis for similar expositions, which might prove useful in stimulating craftsmanship, industrial education, and a detailed economic development, which have rendered such undertakings a natural institution abroad, are making head here. When they produce a public eager to follow the latest ideas in every fiel dof labor, and exhibitors anxious to show their novelties, expositions on the German plan will find their place. Our present state fairs are remotely comparable to them. They are attended by a class seriously intent upon the lessons to be derived from a comparaticve range of farm products, machinery and appurtenances, they depend upon public and not governmental support, and their exhibitions are local in character. Such expositions as the Europeans have could well take the place of half our struggling international exhibitions, exchanging for the flitter of foreign bazaars a healthier interest in national endeavor. They would relieve us of the charge of a silly infatuation with world's fairs, as also of their expense and waste. Best of all, as carried from place to place, they would reflect a scunder regard for the real objects of industrial exhibition. Universal expositions would still have their uses. But held at greater intervals, they would constitute less of a tax upon a flagging interest, and would be viewed more sanely.

EASTERN TOWNS OBJECT TO DYNAMITE PLANT

Chelsea and Neighbors Have Things to Say About it

Chelsea, Aug. 20.—A protest against against the granting of a license for the erection of a dynamite storage plant near Chelsea has been sent by the residents of that section to the provincial treasurer.

When the residents of Chelsea, Kingsmere, and other villages in the township of Hull, up the Ottawa river, heard that the explosive company had been given permission by the council of the municipality to erect the plant they immediately arose in their combined wrath and set up a howl. The agitation started, has assumed great dimensions, and now, through their lawyers, Messrs. Wright Gamble and Smart, of Hull, a letter of protest has been sent to the provincial treasurer. The letter has been signed by nearly all of the residents of Chelsea and Kingsmere.

The protesting letter claims that the location of such a plant will seriously effect the value of property and be a continual source of menace to the safety of the residents of Chelsea, o.d and new, and also of Kingsmere. A petition is being circulated, and the residents ask the treasurer to suspend any action until those opposed shall have a chance to give their side of the matter.

About three weeks ago the Canadian Explosives company of Montreal, bought several acres of land from A. Moffat near Kingsmere, at a price of $6000, the land to be used for a site for the erection of a storage plant for dynamite and other explosives.

FIVE CAUGHT IN RAID.

Spokane Police Grab Alleged Gamblers in Bar.

Spokane, Aug. 20.—In a carefully planned raid on the Clarendon bar, on Howard street, between Riverside and Main avenues, City Detectives Chester Edwards and Victor Benway last night arrested five men alleged to have been caught in the act of gambling, including Henry Keenan, the alleged conductor of the game. Benway and Edwards occupied a dark room in an adjoining apartment and say they watched the game for half an hour, during which $100 changed hands. Then they made their presence known, but no effort to escape was made. They called for the patrol wagon and a big crowd gathered before the men were hustled to the station and booked.

Keenan is held without bail. The others arrested were, Charles D. Phillips, a farmer, aged 40 years, who was released on a $25 bond; J. Sullivan, a gardener, aged 22, released on a $25 bond; J. M. Hanley, a carpenter, aged 40, released on a $25 bond, and S. Oddson, a laborer, aged 20, who was kept in jail. Keenan was charged with conducting a game and the others with gambling.

LAST SON IS DEAD.

Jas. Hickey, Son of Ontario Pioneer, Passes Away.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—James Hickey, all his life a well known citizen of Ottawa and vicinity, is dead at the age of seventy-one. Mr. Hickey lived at 15 Chamberlain avenue and Bank street, which is part of the old Hickey property settled by his father, the late John Hickey, in the year 1832.

The late John Hickey, father of James Hickey, had five sons, of which James is the last. The boys were John, William, Thomas and Andrew and James, the twins.

The late James Hickey always took a keen interest in the public affairs and commerce of Ottawa. For many years he has conducted a large market gardening business near the city. He was a director of the exhibition here, a Fenian raid veteran, and in these and other activities he took a great interest.

STAIN OF ARREST DRIVES HIM OUT

Washington State Lawyer, Discouraged, Will Make New Start in California

Spokane, Aug. 20.—Discouraged because of the attitude of people toward him since his arrest last winter in Canada on a charge of abetting kidnapping, and determined to seek a new field, Denton M. Crow, attorney, United States commissioner, formerly captain of company H, and custodian of the state armory, a son of Judge H. D. Crow, of the Washington supreme court, has left Spokane for good, according to Neil C. Bardsley, Crow's friend and counsel, who is in charge of his affairs.

The decision to leave was arrived at suddenly last week, and his departure was made Saturday morning for Seattle. Mr. Bardsley denied yesterday that Mr. Crow's leaving at this time was because of the effort of W. C. Donovan, attorney, to procure a warrant for Crow's arrest on a charge of grand larceny on account of the disappearance of valuables left in his possession as United States commissioner.

Mr. Crow's resignation was filed in the federal court yesterday and Judge Frank H. Rudkin immediately appointed as his successor John L. Dirks, an attorney who has offices in the Rookery building.

Not Fleeing From Arrest

"Mr. Crow thought he could do better in California," said Mr. Bardsley. "He has gone over the whole case with me and he seemed to think that since his arrest last winter it was too much of an uphill pull to do anything in Spokane. He has not gone on account of Mr. Donovan's effort to secure his arrest. That case comes up tomorrow before Justice of the Peace Witt, but I don't think any warrant will be issued. Mr. Crow's wife has gone with him, but his two children are going to remain with their grandparents at Olympia for a time."

Rumors that Mr. Crow left debts aggregating a considerable sum were met by Mr. Bardsley with the statement that there are many bills, such as grocery, light, telephone and other items, but that there are sufficient assets to cover all indebtedness and that all debts will be paid.

Plans Not Revealed

Mr. Bardsley admitted that Mr. Crow's library and law office furniture are in possession of C. E. Mallette, agent for the Jamieson building, where he had his office, but added, "I will have possession of them in a short time."

It was said yesterday by various persons that Mr. Crow had expressed his determination, as long as two weeks ago, to leave Spokane. It was variously reported that he was goin to Seattle where he was said to have a position ready, and to San Francisco to enter the newspaper business, a line he is said to have formerly followed. His attorney declined to state what Mr. Crow would engage in, but said he did not think it was the newspaper business. He said he did not know his present destination, but he would be in touch with him later.

Toronto Market Unchanged.

Toronto, Aug. 19.—With the exception of Brazilians, Winnipeg Electric and Canada bread, there was little to take note of in the Toronto stock exchange today following the advance of the last week.

THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL of the Corporation of the District of Burnaby enacts as follows—

1. That the debentures authorized by said By-laws No. 120A, 121A, 122, 128, 129, 142, 143, 144 and 145 shall bear interest at the rate of five per centum (5 per cent) per annum computed from the First day of July, 1913, and such interest shall be payable half-yearly on the Thirtieth day of June and the Thirty-first day of December in each year during the currency thereof and the said debentures shall have attached to them coupons for the payment of the said interest which shall bear the signature of the Reeve and Clerk and such signature may be either written, stamped, printed or lithographed.

2. There shall be raised and levied annually during the currency of the said debentures authorized by said By-law No. 120A by special rate sufficient therefor upon all the rateable land within the limits of the said Municipality in addition to the annual sums required by the said By-law No. 120A the sum of One Thousand Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($1,250.00) to pay the additional interest authorized by this By-law, the same to be in addition to all rates to be levied and created in the said Municipality.

3. There shall be raised and levied annually during the currency of the said debentures authorized by said By-law No. 121A by special rate sufficient therefor upon all the rateable land within the limits of the said Municipality in addition to the annual sums required by the said By-law No. 121A the sum of Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($250.00) to pay the additional interest authorized by this By-law, the same to be in addition to all rates to be levied and created in the said Municipality.

4. There shall be raised and levied annually during the currency of the said debentures authorized by said By-law No. 122 by special rate sufficient therefor upon all the rateable lands within the limits of the said Municipality in addition to the annual sums required by the said By-law No. 122 the sum of One Thousand Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($1,250.00) to pay the additional interest authorized by this By-law the same to be in addition to all rates to be levied and created in the said Municipality.

5. There shall be raised and levied annually during the currency of the said debentures authorized by said By-law No. 128 by special rate sufficient therefor upon all the rateable land within the limits of the said Municipality (including District Lot One Hundred and Seventy-two (172) Group One (1) as mentioned in said By-law No. 128) in addition to the annual sums required by the said By-law No. 128 the sum of Seventy-five Dollars ($75.00) to pay the additional interest authorized by this By-law, the same to be in addition to all rates to be levied and created in the said Municipality.

6. There shall be raised and levied annually during the currency of the said debentures authorized by said By-law No. 129 by special rate sufficient therefor upon all the rateable land within the limits of the said Municipality (including District Lot One Hundred and Seventy-two (172) Group One (1) as mentioned in said By-law No. 129) in addition to the annual sums required by the said By-law No. 129 the sum of Three Hundred Dollars ($300.00) to pay the additional interest authorized by this By-law, the same to be in addition to all rates to be levied and created in the said Municipality.

7. There shall be raised and levied annually during the currency of the said debentures authorized by said By-law No. 142 by special rate sufficient therefor upon all the rateable land within the limits of the said Municipality in addition to the annual sums required by the said By-law No. 142 the sum of One Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($1,500.00) to pay the additional interest authorized by this By-law, the same to be in addition to all rates to be levied and created in the said Municipality.

8. There shall be raised and levied annually during the currency of the said debentures authorized by said By-law No. 143 by special rate sufficient therefor upon all the rateable land within the limits of the said Municipality in addition to the annual sums required by the said By-law No. 143 the sum of Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) to pay the additional interest authorized by this By-law, the same to be in addition to all rates to be levied and created in the said Municipality.

9. There shall be raised and levied annually during the currency of the said debentures authorized by said By-law No. 144 by special rate sufficient therefor upon all the rateable land within the limits of the said Municipality (including District Lot One Hundred and Seventy-two (172) Group One (1) as mentioned in said By-law No. 144) in addition to the annual sums required by the said By-law No. 144 the sum of Four Hundred and Twenty Dollars ($420.00) to pay the additional interest authorized by this By-law, the same to be in addition to all rates to be levied and created in the said Municipality.

10. There shall be raised and levied annually during the currency of the said debentures authorized by said By-law No. 145 by special rate sufficient therefor upon all the rateable land within the limits of the said Municipality (including District Lot One Hundred and Seventy-two (172) Group One (1) as mentioned in said By-law No. 145) in addition to the annual sums required by the said By-law No. 145 the sum of One Hundred and Forty Dollars ($140.00) to pay the additional interest authorized by this By-law, the same to be in addition to all rates to be levied and created in the said Municipality.

11. This By-law shall come into effect on its receiving the consent of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council.

12. This By-law may be cited for all purposes as "BURNABY DEBENTURE INTEREST CONVERSION BY-LAW, 1913."

ALBERTA TO HAVE 46 NEW ELEVATORS

Work Now Commenced and Buildings Will Be Ready for This Year's Grain.

Calgary, Aug. 19.—Forty-six line elevators will be constructed in Alberta this year in time to handle this season's crop, by the Alberta Farmers' Elevator company, authorized under the Farmers' Elevator bill, passed at the last session of the Alberta legislature. The new company is closely allied to the United Farmers of Alberta and the Grain Growers' Grain company, of Manitoba.

The work of building half of these elevators is well under way and materials for the other half are on the ground at the various locations. For the erection of these elevators 46 local companies have been formed in various grain communities of Alberta. The announcement of the status of the work, which comes as a surprise, was made at the meeting of the provisional directors of the Farmers' Elevator company, held here today. Active in the deliberations of today's session was President W. J. Tregillus, of the United Farmers of Alberta; Secretary Woodbridge, of the same organization; Vice-president E. J. Fream, of the Grain Growers, and many other prominent members of the farmers' organization from all parts of the province. More than 100 were in attendance.

SUDDEN HITCH IN U. S. CURRENCY BILL.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Unexpected developments in regard to currency reform legislation in the senate today promised serious complications for President Wilson's plans for the passage of a currency bill at this session of congress. At a conference of the Democratic members of the senate currency committee, Chairman Owen, who has been considered one of the original framers of the bill, made it clear to his associates that he was opposed to several features of the bill, including the plan for 12 regional reserve banks, and that he would recommend important changes in the measure.

The results of the senate conference have been to leave the currency situation entirely open tonight, so far as the senate's probable action is concerned.

TO DISFRANCHISE IMMORAL MEN

Washington Court Will Be Asked to Kill Citizenship of Mann Act Violators

Seattle, Aug. 20.—Seeking the disenfranchisement of Joe Albin and Jake Gronich, federal prisoners serving time in McNiel penitentiary for violation of the Mann act, C. B. Brockway, assistant United States district attorney, yesterday filed papers and instituted proceedings in the federal district court. These cases are said to be the first in the country, and are test cases to decide in a court of law whether convictions under the Mann act, when immoral character is proven before enfranchisement, can be cause for disenfranchisement.

If Albin and Gronich are found to be guilty of immoralities prior to the granting of their citizenship papers, and they are disenfranchised by the court, they are liable to deportation as undesirable aliens. Grunich is Austrian born and Albin is Russian born.

In affidavits filed with the district attorney, John Speed Smith, chief examiner of the naturalization department, declares that the orders admitting the two men to citizenship in Mahoning county, O., October 29, 1904 was under the names Issia Albin and Jake Garnich, while their real names are Joe Albin and Jake Gronich. It is charged by the examiner that the witnesses for the two men, Albert Warner and Harry Warner, swore falsely that from 1895 until date of the oath of enfranchisement the men had proved themselves of good moral character. It is charged they lived off the earnings of fallen women.

The men were sentenced to federal prison from a federal court in Youngstown, O., July 1912.

The men are cited to appear within sixty days and make answer to a petition asking that the order of the Ohio court, granting them citizenship, be set aside.

NO CURE YET FOR DREADED CANCER

Progres Made in Investigations But Nothing Has Been Discovered to Wipe Out Disease.

London, Aug. 20.—Under the auspices of the Duke of Bedford the annual meeting of the Imperial Cancer Research fund has brought out some valuable information.

In presenting the annual report Sir William Church said the statistical investigations carried out by the Germans in India, our colonies and dependencies and among uncilivized races, had been continued with profit. Inbestigations carried out by the German colonial office confirmed the results they had arrived at. The German report stated: "It is certain that no new growth occurs in Germany which is not also found int he natives of the tropics, and no new growth occurs in the tropics which is not found in Germany."

During the year there had been more than the usual number of requests for information as to the existence of cancer houses, or as to districts in which the occurrence of cancer was above the average. Investigations showed that in each case which could be satisfactorily examined, the age and sex of population appeared to be the determining factor rather than local or climatic conditions.

As in former years, various claims of possessing a cure for cancer were brought to the fund's notice. Where any information which could be relied on was available these claims were investigated, and were, he regretted to say, not borne out by the evidence obtained.

The breeding experiments to try and solve the question of heredity in cancer have been continued.

FEWER STRIKES.

Dominion Figures for the Past Month Satisfactory.

Ottawa, Aug. 19.—According to the record maintained by the department of labor, industrial conditions showed an improvement in regard to the labor disputes during July. There were 24 in existence as compared with 27 during the previous month. A still greater improvement is seen when the comparison is made between the present month and the corresponding period last year when there were 46 strikes and lockouts existing in the Dominion. During July, 1913, about 152 firms and 8000 employees were involved in strikes and lockouts as compared with 450 firms and 11,957 employees affected by trade disputes during the previous month.

There was a slight increase in the loss of time to employees, about 188,000 working days being lost, as compared with approximately 181,000 during June.

HULL PROPERTY TO BE BE SOLD UP FOR TAXES

Hull, Aug. 20.—Some thirty Hull properties will be sold by the city to satisfy their demands in the matter of municipal taxes and assessments, which have not been paid for the past two years.

City Clerk Boulay is hard at work making out lists of the delinquents and these will be posted around the city. The sale of property is advertised to take place on September 24, but the property owners will be given a chance to retain their property by paying their taxes in the interval.

These taxes have all been owing for two years and the amounts vary from $11 up, the highest being $271.42. The list of negligent property owners includes many prominent ratepayers of Hull. Among them are: The Gatineau Macadamized Road company, the National Vinegar company, M. P. Walters, the Russel and Wright estates and neary thirty others.

SULZER'S RECORD THAT OF FIGHTER

Chnaces Good for Lively Scrap Between Impeached Governor and Tammany.

Albany, Aug. 20.—Governor William Sulzer's troubles seem to be due to the fact that—being William Sulzer—he had the temerity to fight Boss Murphy, of Tammany Hall.

For eighteen years he was a Tammany man in congress, and a lively one. For five years previously he had been a Tammany man in the state legislature and a docile one. For just eight months he was a rebel.

Tammany is particularly vindictive. But it has been facing a very dangerous situation. It lives upon patronage and contracts, and patronage and contracts had been taken away from it. Mayor Gaynor has never been unfriendly to Tammany, but no one has ever dared go to the city hall to give Gaynor orders.

President Wilson not only refused to recognize Tammany, but appointed John Purroy Mitchell as collector of the port, on the distinct understanding that if he were nominated by the fusionists for mayor of New York he should have the support of the national administration in an attack upon Tammany—and Mitchell was so nominated.

Up at Albany Sulzer was reorganizing departments and eliminating Tammany men from the pay roll. He was attacking contracts entered into by the state, in which Tammany men were deeply interested. The national and state administrations were actively hostile to Tammany, from every point of view the most powerful political organization in the United States, and the city administration thought of itself first and of Tammany now and then. Tammany had to fight.

"We must live," is the way Tammany men put it. "The boys won't follow a leader who leads them only into a swamp. It's up to Murphy."

Always Tammany Man.

Murphy is a silent blue-eyed, florid, calculating follower of that good game, golf. He had assented to the nomination of Sulzer for governor in 1912 with no undue enthusiasm. But Sulzer was shouting his independence of Tammany, and the political cat was taking some queer jumps that year. Job Hedges, who had been nominated for governor by the Republicans, had never denied himself the pleasure of speaking his mind about his own party men and matters. He was nominated because a machine man was impossible. Oscar S. Straus, well known for his philantropy, had been placed at the head of the Progressive ticket. An independent label on a Tammany man seemed an ideal combination to Murphy. The chairman needed help in the up-state counties.

Sulzer had always been a Tammany man. The popular judgment of Sulzer was perhaps best expressed by that keen old gentleman, Joseph G. Cannon, when he was speaker of the national house was Sulzer was a long-haired and shouting member.

Sulzer was addicted to the desk-splintering sort of oratory. One day he threw back his mane of yellowish hair and began to bellow about some wring then being done to the cause of humanity. Mr. Cannon listened with attention for a time and then turned over his gavel to a substitute. He moved down to the floor of the house and took a seat directly under Mr. Sulzer's eloquent lips—under the dripings of the oratory, so to speak. By and by Sulzer paused to pant. Mr. Cannon removed his cigar for a second:

"Go on, Bill," he said. "Fool the people some more."

MILLIONAIRE HELD NOT IN CONTEMPT

When He Came to B. C. He Was Not Putting Slight on Seattle Court.

Olympia, Aug. 20.—Holding that the court had jurisdiction to hear the matter on affidavits, that the plaintiff was not guilty of contempt for failing to heed an interlocutory order of the court, that leaving the state was not contempt, that failure to obey the final judgment was contumacious conduct, but that the right of appeal is something not to be taken away lightly, the supreme court today denied the petition to have the appeal dismissed in the case of Harry A. Jones, appellant against Clara B. Jones. The case had been heard before Judge John E. Humphries, of the King county superior court.

Appeal is Matter of Right.

The supreme court says, in part:

"Whereas, in this state an appeal is a matter of right, the party feeling himself aggrieved by a judgment is not deprived of the privilege of having it reviewed by reason of the fact that he may be in contempt for disobedience to such judgment."

In this case Jones, a Canadian millionaire, started suit for divorce in the King county superior court, alleging himself a resident of Washington. His wife was granted a decree on a cross bill, was awarded certain property deeded her before, and was to get certain Vancouver, B. C., property. Jones was given a certain time to deposit the deed in court or to pay $250,000 alimony. After Jones left, the court said he wouldn't make it optional, but wanted the deed turned over.

Hastens to Canada.

Before the time expired Jones hastened to British Columbia and attacked the action of the Washington court, said he was not a resident here, and Judge Humphries, when Jones didn't appear, entered judgment against him for alimony in the sum of $300,000 with $10,000 attorney fees. Despite Jones' departure, the court refuses to dismiss his appeal in the divorce case.

The supreme court reverses the Adams county superior court in allowing $150 damages, but affirms it in awarding a smaller sum for the actual repairs performed, in the case of J. E. McManamon and wife against Theodore Tobiason, appellant, the litigation growing out of a difference of opinion in regard to the terms of a contract covering the leasing of a hotel at Othello.

Nels Loses Rehearing.

In the case of the state against H. A. Nels, who was charged in the lower court with stealing a gold chain fom a woman, the supreme court denied a petition for a rehearing. It was alleged that the chain belonged to Nels' wife, but the court refuses to reopen the case.

The supreme court denied rehearing ing the case of J. M. Jorguson, appellant, against the Apex Gold Mining company; Steve Yenco against oJhn Ballog and others, appellants, and the city of Seattle against Arthur King, appellant.

The supeme court has affirmed the Spokane superior court in the case of Lridgett Codd as administrator for the estate of William Codd, deceased, appellant, against Joshua B. Langley. The litigation resulted over the correction of the terms of some written documents executed in connection with a stock deal involving securities of the Home Telephone company.

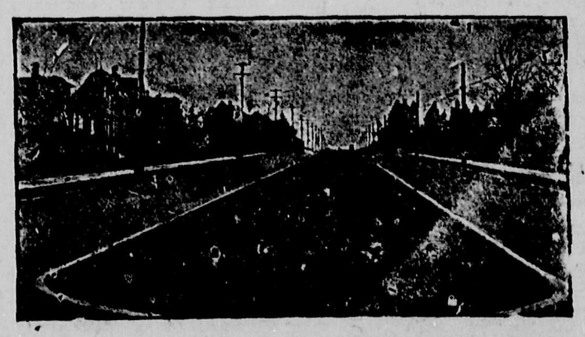
Bitulithic Paving

The Most Scientific of all Pavings

is meeting with the greatest favor wherever laid.



Bitulithic on Second Street, New Westminster with Boulevard Down the Centre.

Bitulithic is noiseless, non-slippery, practically dustless, easy on horses' feet, and, above all, particularly durable. For these reasons Bitulithic is commended highly by owners of automobiles and horses, householders, and city officials. It has been adopted by fifteen cities in Canada, and over two hundred in the United States.

The city school trustees meet tonight in the board offices at 8 o'clock.

The annual garden fete of St. Alban's church will be held at the residence of Mrs. L. C. Hill, Burnaby Lake, on Saturday, 23rd, 2:30 to dark. Tennis sports. Refreshments. Admission free. Everybody welcome. (1919)

W. M. Chapman, accountant at Lees Limited for some time past, has resigned to take a position as head accountant in the Dominion fishery offices here, in place of Mr. Etherington, who is to be in charge of the commercial department at Columbian college, when the fall term opens.

Lacrosse—Don't forget the date, Saturday, August 23, Queens park, at 3 p.m. Admission 25c. (1923)

Money to loan on first mortgages, improved city and farm property, 9 per cent. Alfred W. McLeod. (1828)

Each mistaking the other's actions, two autoists, one from Vancouver and the other a local man, collided opposite the Westminster Trust building yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. The cars suffered little damage, both drivers feeling well pleased that nothing serious resulted and each blamed himself for the cause of the mix-up.

Burquitlam persons wishing to show what the district can produce will send anything they wish towards Vancouver district exhibit to W. Whiting not later than August 27. (1903)

H. J. Russell, a man well known in business circles here, has opened a down-to-date auction house in the King's block, Columbia street. The concern is known as the Westminster Auction house, and although in operation but this week, everything points to its success. Furniture is the only article handled, and owing to skilled and experienced management this line of goods can be handled to the utmost advantage of either buyer or seller.

Najar Singh, charged with forging a cheque purporting to be signed by one Kapoar Singh, and also with obtaining the sum of $90 from Phillip K. Sangster by means of a worthless cheque, elected for trial by jury yesterday before the Hon. Justice Morrison. His trial was remitted to the next assizes. Bail was allowed in a personal bond of $2000 and two collateral securities of $1000 each, to the satisfaction of the registrar.

Lacrosse match at Queens park Saturday, August 23, Vancouver vs. Westminster, at 3 p.m. Admission 25c. (1923)

A charge of the theft of $36 laid by one Sikh against another in the police court came up for hearing yesterday. Lahna Singh, who laid the charge, expressed a wish to withdraw the accusation on restitution being made. Bahtar Singh, the accused man, declared he took possession of the money for safekeeping as Lahna was drinking and he feared he would lose it. The magistrate was not altogether satisfied and will deal with the case today.

The trustees of the Burnaby school board are opening two manual training centres, one at Kingsway west (West Burnaby) and the other at Edmonds street school. George Sievers, late of Dawson school, Vancouver, has been appointed instructor. The Kingsway west centre will be open for inspection on Friday, the 22nd inst., between the hours of 10 and 12, and 2 and 5, when it is hoped the residents will look over the school, which has been thoroughly equipped in accordance with the government's requirements.

Fred Davis will sell by public auction (for H. J. Russell), at his Westminster auction house, King's hotel block, Columbia street, on Saturday evening, August 23 at 7:30 sharp. Goods will include beds springs and mattresses, oak book cases and hall stands, gas ranges, heaters, couches, linoleum, etc. (1921)

The last lap of the paved highway between Edmonds and Central Park will likely be completed toward the end of this week. Yesterday morning the paving company commenced operations on laying the cement for a short distance near Royal Oak, and when once this set, the top layer will be laid and traffic allowed through direct from New Westminster to Vancouver. The portion between Edmonds and Tenth avenue will take a little longer time to complete, still the company will have finished the road within a few days of the contract time.

Insure with Alfred W. McLeod, the insurance man. All kinds written. Hundreds of millions to pay losses. (1828)

The Sapperton-Edmonds street car service was badly disorganized yesterday afternoon. Owing to the paving operations going on near Leopold place several delays have occurred there of late, while yesterday one of the steam rollers of the Hassam company went out of business while lying across the tracks, tying up traffic for nearly an hour. A similar delay, although not so serious, took place at Edmonds, when the same street car as was held up on the asylum hill, was delayed a few minutes by a steam roller owned by the Canadian Mineral Rubber company.

A building permit was issued yesterday to A. McConnel, Sixth avenue, to erect a residence there at a cost of $2500.

At the Burnaby board of trade meeting last night it was decided to change the scene of the annual picnic from Pitt lake to Indian river.

Fire Chief Watson will attend the annual convention of the Pacific Coast Association of Fire Chiefs at Tacoma. He leaves on Sunday morning nd expects to be absent a week.

H. J. Russel, formerly with Denny & Ross, has severed his connections with that firm and has gone into business for himself at the Westminster Auction house, in the King's block, Columbia street.

Last night the new moving picture theatre at Maillardville was opened by Messrs. Murphy and O'Brien with a good show. There was a crowded house and the exhibition was appreciated.

Word was received from Secretary Wade, of the board of trade, yesterday that Hon. George E. Foster, minister of finance, will be unable to visit New Westminster before he returns to the east. Mr. Wade paid a visit to Victoria on Tuesday in order to interview Mr. Foster as regards his itinerary.

B. C. telephone employees to the number of 414, of whom many were from this city, enjoyed the annual picnic arranged by the company on Tuesday evening, the destination being Bowen island. The steamer Bowena was chartered for the occasion and when the island was reached at 9 o'clock, dancing was indulged in until midnight. An orchestra was taken along on the trip. The Westminster party arrived back early yesterday morning by special B. C. E. R. car.

Still another boat has been found necessary to' carry the passengers who will attend the picnic of the bartenders' union at Derby on Sunday. The Transfer and the Fort Langley had been previously chartered and the committee added another vessel to the list yesterday.

The final organization of the News boys Protective union will be held in the Labor temple on Saturday evening, when all members will be obligated and permanent officers elected and inducted into office.

Mayor Mars and City Solicitor P. McIntyre, Port Coquitlam, left for Victoria yesterday. They will consult with Attorney General Bowser upon exact position of the city in regard to its power to impose flat rates of taxation upon industries locating in the city.

The residence on Craig street, Sapperton, occupied by Henry Hoodly was burned to the ground yesterday morning. The furniture in the house was totally consumed. The building belonged to J. Henderson, contractor, Kelly street, and was insured for $800. Although practically in Sapperton Craig street is in Burnaby about 100 feet over the city boundary. Mr. Headly and his family were absent from home at the time.

THINKS THE BYLAW SHOULD BE PASSED

will be no extravagance in spending this money just to give work to our own people. Any contracts that will be let will be made out in such form as to make it iron-bound for contractors to employ local labor only.

"You can quote me strongly in favor of paving additional roads. I have prepared data, together with the engineer, to show that macadamized roads are too expensive to maintain in this section of the Dominion.

"Take the Douglas road, for instance. This is one of the roads proposed to pave with a surfacing of asphaltum material immediately over the existing macadam.

First Cost.

"The maintenance of this road is estimated to cost $9854 every year, or $94,854 for ten years. Compared with this the cost of surfacing the road would in ten years time amount to $133,000, including the sinking fund, and interest. The first cost, maintenance, sinking fund and interest accounts for 1 macadamized road is estimated to cost $197,000 in ten years thus showing a saving in ten years of $64,000.

"A guarantee of ten years will undoubtedly be secured from the contractors on the proposed paving scheme, thus showing that in the long run the cost would be materially reduced.

"As for this talk of taxes being higher next year than this, the figures show differently. The waterworks system is more than paying for itself while the total revenue will be greater next year than ever.

"I say again," concluded Alderman Coldicut, "pass this bylaw by all means. It is a safe move by the council and we have received the best obtainable."

Just Like Autos.

London, Aug. 20—The novel sight of an airship towing her disabled companion was witnessed at Aldershot this afternoon. The British army airship Eta and a naval airship were out manoeuvering when the machinery in the latter vessel became disabled. The Eta attached a hawser to the other dirigible and towed her to the factory for repairs.

AUTOIST TO BE TRIED IN COUNTY COURT

George H. Leaf, of Burnaby, Charged With Wilful Neglect Elects for Summary Trial.

Changing his decision to call further witnesses, counsel for George H. Leaf, of East Burnaby, who is charged with wilful neglect while driving an auto on the evening of May 17 and doing bodily harm to William Watts also of East Burnaby, rested his case in the Edmonds court yesterday morning, after which Magistrate Beatty committed accused to stand trial in the county court.

Mr. Leaf elected for speedy trial before Judge Howay, the case being set for Sept. 27. Accused was allowed out on bail, furnishing personal securities of $1000 and two bonds of $500 each.

Watt was run down by Mr. Leaf's auto, while alighting from a street car at the corner of Sixth street and Seventeenth avenue, and remained in the Royal Columbian hospital for 13 weeks, while nine bones in his body broken by the impact, were allowed to mend. The man is 58 years old.

NO EXTENSIONS JUST YET ON B.C. ELECTRIC

Civic Delegates Receive Only Promise of Consideration Next Year from Company Officials.

A deputation representing Coquitlam, New Westminster and Port Coquitlam met Mr. Sperling, manager of the B. C. E. R. yesterday in Vancouver.

The extension of the Fraser Mills line to Port Coquitlam and the extension of the Sapperton line up the North road were discussed.

While the discussion was academically interesting the parties did not make much tangible progress. The money stringency bogey was trolled out in all its fearsomeness in the Fraser Mills case, and the high level bridge across the Brunette river did duty for the tightened finances in the North road case.

In the North road case it was represented to Mr. Sperling that the grade from the city to Brunette was less than the asylum hill and that one of the conditions upon which the Burnaby franchise question was settled was the extension of the Sapperton line up the North road as far as the Austin road.

Mr. Sperling expressed his desire to see both extensions accomplished but it was financially impossible just now. However, he promised to look into the matter very carefully and if the company found the projects at all feasible he would recommend that the necessary appropriation be made next year.

Those present were Reeve Barth, Councillors, R. J. C. Atkins and E. Martin, Coquitlam; Aldermen White and Dodd, New Westminster, and Aldermen D. E. Welcher and E. S. Morgan, Port Coquitlam.

Fishermen Drowned.

Macao, Aug. 20.—One hundred and fifty fishermen were drowned and many junks were wrecked by the typhoon which swept the Chinese coast. There also were many casualties on shore, the majority of them being due to houses collapsing.

VALUABLE INSTRUCTION BY LOCAL SCHOOL

New Westminster Business School Does Good Work.

The New Westminster modern business school, Columbia Street, opened Monday under excellent auspices. Most of the intending students have not yet tired of holidays, camping and summer pastimes, yet 18 day students have enrolled themselves in the stenography course, and are busy qualifying for the first test of 40 wards a minute on the typewriter. Three tests have been arranged by the United Typewriter company, Toronto, 40 words per minute, 60 words per minute and 80 words per minute. For those proficient in the first two classes certificates will be granted; in the third gold medals will be awarded. Three years practice after the securing of the second certificate are allowed to competitors for the third qualification.

Besides the above awards the local representative of the United Typewriter company presents a gold medal to the most proficient student of the year in the school. Last year the duy was Miss Edna Burden.

The school is divided into two departments, stenographic and commercial. Thorough tuition in both is provided by Principal Buick and his assistants, while the institution is admirably equipped with typewriters and other aids to instruction.

One excellent feature of the school is the splendid lighting of the rooms and the ventilation arrangements.

One very valuable machine is the multigraph which affords means of valuable tuition in a process that is competing seriously with the printers' art in turning out large numbers of copies of various commercial, legal and official documents quickly.

The success of the school since its inception has been phenomenal. Seven hundred students have been turned out to situations during that time, well equipped for commencing a business career.

The school is in close touch with legal and commercial houses desiring assistance and after a course in either or both departments, experience no difficulty in securing positions. The evening classes start on Sept. 1
