KISPIOX INDIANS VISITED BY THE CONSTABULARY

NATIVES TAKEN BY SURPRISE AND SIX OF THE ROAD CAMP MARAUDERS TAKEN

On Wednesday, after the row between the road foreman and three Indians, some eight Indians from Kispiox village visited the road camp and by force of numbers seized the camp outfit and supplies belonging to the government. The road gang, left without tents or grub, went to Hugh Taylor's ranch for the night.

The robbery of the government stores at the camp of the road gang working in Kispiox valley passed the limit of endurance. Attempts at intimidation, continued friction between Indians and settlers and a general truculance on the part of the natives had all been overlooked as not being cause sufficient to justify arrests. However, when the road gang was put out of business and government work held up Chief Maitland started out to reach the seat of the trouble and with the force of five constables together with about thirty specials, sworn in for the occasion, he started out to bring the trouble to a head if there was any real trouble and, if not, at least let the Indians know that they would not have far to seek if thev felt as beligerent as claimed. Plans had been laid to arrive at the village at daybreak. To this end three men with a large canoe started up the river at noon on Friday, and within two hours individuals of the special corps slipped out of town unobserved and took the trail north for a rendezvous at a point chosen beforehand on the opposite side of the river and not far from the Indian village. Shortly after midnight the main body of the detachment was collected and took up the march.

The entire body was transported across the Skeena by five o'clock in the morning. The special constables were left in a body just north of the village and Chief Maitland-Dougal with the regular force went into the town to gather in the Indians responsible for the seizure of the government supplies. One by one they were awakened and as soon as dressed were handcuffed and sent under guard to the main body. The surprise had been complete and no resistance was encountered. One Indian attempted to wrest a rifle out of E. E. Charleson's hands but special constable Sweeny smashed the stock of a shotgun over the native's head which put a stop to the business. Another Indian made a break for the woods; a shot was fired which brought him to a stand but as he was not one of those wanted he was allowed to go.

Six prisoners were taken and sent under guard by canoe to the jail at Hazelton. Two of those wanted were not in the village and so escaped the round-up. By one o'clock in the afternoon all the constables had returned and the incident closed.

The trial of the prisoners taken will be held later.

PLUCKY ROAD FOREMAN.

Thursday afternoon three Indians attempted to bring to a close the government work now going on in Kispiox valley. They informed the foreman of the road gang, James McCulley, that their tribe did not want a road through their country; would not have it; and the work must be stopped. The scene of all this happened near the river so McCulley threw two of them in to cool off a bit and then proceeded to thrash the other soundly.

STEAMER OMINECA WRECKED NEAR BEAVER DAM.

The steamer Omineca of the river fleet belonging to Foley, Welch & Stewart, went on the rocks at Beaver Dam, about fourteen miles below Hazelton and is in a fair state to become a total loss.

The Omineca left Prince Rupert October 28th with about fifty passengers and forty tons of freight for Hazelton. Among those aboard was J. B. L. McDonald, superintendent of construction for Foley, Welch & Stewart.

At the time the accident occurred the boat had a line out and was hauling over the rapid, made necessary by the low stage of water in the Skeena. At the most critical stage of the operation the cable broke and the steamer swung around and drifted on the rocks bow foremost. Two holes were made in the bottom on the port side and the wheel was considerably damaged. The cargo was lightered ashore by Indian canoes after which it was thought she might be floated. The steamer Distributor is coming to the assistance of the Omineca. All passengers were safely landed and of the twenty or more bound for Hazelton most of them reached their destination Thursday evening.

The Omineca was a new boat, built in 1909, and fitted with the machinery taken from the Caledonia which was wrecked on the lower river in 1908.

The cargo aboard the Omineca was for the railroad camps of Freberg and Stone and Duncan Ross. It will be brought the rest of the way by canoes and will round out the stock of supplies so work may be carried on all winter.

More Polling Places in Interior

R. O. Jennings arrived from Prince Rupert Thursday and had with him the proclamation of the returning officer as to the coming election in Skeena district. According to this the number of polling places in the interior has been largely increased. The expedition to Kispiox to bring in certain offenders is a mve that lea ves us to hope for better things for the future in the conduct of Indian affairs in this district. Hazelton and the surrounding country has received a great deal of unenviable notoriety in the past twelvemonth over so called Indian scares and it was fully time that such a demonstration should be made as would convince people in general that there are no Indian troubles other than can be taken care of with the means at hand.

It is hoped that the last settler has been threatened and run off his place, and the last threatening letter written. The local government officials deserve credit for acting in such a decisive manner.

Attempts to grow fruit trees this far from the coast has not, so far, been attended with a marked degree of success. Farther down the Skeena and consequently nearer the coast, apples of the finest quality, pears, plums and other fruits are grown with great success. In the vicinity of Hazelton the difficulty so far encountered has been the killing of the trees the first or second winter after being planted. Why this should be so has not been satisfactorily explained unless from the fact the trees were brought from nurseries in the viciniiy of New Westminster where they have very little frost in the winter. Apple trees stand zero weather in Ontario and there is no reason why they should not do the same here if given equally hardy trees with proper care.

Another reason given for lack of success in the vicinity of Hazelton is the transportation question. Trees can not be landed at the head of navigation by steamboat earlier than the first week in May, nor later than the last week in October, which means that trees have to be kept too long out of the ground or are taken up in the spring after growth has commenced or taken up in the fall before growth has been completed. Those interested in the possibilities of the country for fruit growing are by no means discouraged, realizing that more knowlege of the subject and the right kind of trees are all that is needed to make it a success.

With nominations but five days away William Manson is practically assured of election by acclamation. There is no sign of a movement in the Liberal camp, nothing to indicate that they propose to place a candidate in the field. In Conservative ranks Mr. Manson seems to be the unanimous choice. Delegates from Prince Rupert to the district convention to be held at Prince Rupert November 9th were unanimously instructed for Manson as were also all the delegates so far chosen in the interior.
