Large Pack Train en route to their Properties in Groundhog Mountain District

A large party, including Leon Benoit of Winnipeg and R. C. Campbell-Johnston, mining engineer, of Vancouver, arrived on the Port Simpson en route to Groundhog mountain and the coalfields of the upper Skeena.

When interviewed by a Herald representative concerning their plans Mr. Campbell - Johnston said: "Besides Mr. G. F. Monckton, a well-known mining engineer and geologist, we have a party of seventeen men. We propose working the full summer and substantiating the data we already have; which leads us to believe that in area and quality we have an anthracite coal field second to Pennsylvania only on this continent.

"We know that coal exists for 45 miles on the Skeena side and 25 miles on the Stikine side, all of a continuous field, besides what holdings the National Finance Co. of Vancouver and the Lindsay interests of Toronto have. The coal bearing rock is from six to twelve miles wide. By the structure of the seams we recognize more than one seam. Other companies report eight separate seams. The width of the seams are from 4 to 8 feet of clean coal, being a commercial coal for that width. The analyses are: Fixed carbon, 78.5 to 89 per cent, ash 6 to 12 per cent, sulphur low.

"The natural exposures of the coal occur over the full length of the field at no interval greater than five miles. The coal is smokeless and adaptable to the navies and mercantile marine of the Pacific, when boilers are under forced draft. Coal fields have peculiarities of their own, and the peculiarities of the Groundhog field particularly fit the fuel for naval purposes.

"When we have proved a large tonnage we have tempting offers from French and British capital to take care of the enterprise. The British Columbia Anthracite Syndicate, formed of capitalists of Quebec, under the guidance of Mr. Leon Benoit of Winnipeg, are finding ample funds to prove without any doubt the immense future of these coal fields in employing men and transportation companies to market their product."

"The government has granted $3,000 for a trail along the Skeena from Fourth Cabin to enable people to get in and out later in the year than has been possible heretofore, when all travel was over a lofty summit where there was a heavy snowfall in September. Also Ottawa believes that a large coal field exists there and the geological survey is sending a man to report on the coal basin.

"For financial reasons the syndicate is securing the services of the most noted expert in the world to come in later in the season."

A pack train of 58 horses has been secured for the first trip which leaves the party a little short as it had been intended to take seventy. As the train will be working all summer packing supplies, no shortage is looked for. Mr. Benoit is returning to the coast on his way to Winnipeg by next boat.

SENTENCES HANDED OUT

Victoria, June 17:—The prisoners found guilty at the spring assizes were sentenced this morning by Mr. Justice Murphy as follows:

J. Vujovich, shooting with intent to do bodily harm, three years in the penitentiary; Mike Burich, Dan Mulovich, Mike Secovich, Antonessevich and Mike Savich, unlawful assembly and rioting, two years in the penitentiary; Noah Palovich, Vuck Yuchsan, and Steve Rado, unlawful assembly and rioting, with strong recommendation for mercy, one year at hard labor; Jura Radulovich, unlawful assembly and rioting, with strong recommendation for mercy, six months at hard labor.

Gunner Thomas Allen, who was found guilty at his second trial of manslaughter, was sentenced to life imprisonment. At his first trial he was sentenced to death.

C. Lloyd Faulkner, found guilty of rape on a girl of tender years, was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary. Faulkner was a young Vancouver real estate broker and but recently married.

Big Celebration

Dominion Day is to be celebrated in Hazelton according to the custom of the last several years, only on a larger scale this year than ever.

The management of the Hazelton baseball team has arranged a game with the G. T. P. engineers and a game is expected rivalling in interest the last one of the hockey series last winter. Hazelton has a good team and the G. T. P. engineers have good players among their number. All parts of the line are being drawn upon for material for the nine and a pitcher is being brought from Prince Rupert. A good game can be looked for, with the teams evenly matched.

Besides baseball there will be the usual program of sports, probably much enlarged. A meeting is to be called to select the committee to take the affair in hand.

Bulkley Ferry a Go

R. S. Sargent who holds the charter for the ferry across the Bulkley river states that the cable, now at Prince Rupert, is to be sent up immediately and that instructions have been sent to Kitselas to have it brought around the canyon as soon as it arrives and forwarded. Meanwhile the scow is to be built here and the ferry completed and in running order at the earliest possible moment.

TEMPLEMAN ON RECIPROCITY

R. de B. HOVELL PRESENTS ADDRESS FROM CITIZENS

Distinguished Visitor Hints at an Early Dissolution and Improved Mail Service

After having been announced for last Saturday evening and postponed on account of the delay in arrival of the chief attraction, Mr. Templeman, the public meeting to hear the Minister of Mines and Inland Revenue was held Monday evening in the town hall and the attendance somewhat exceeded the seating capacity of the hall. Accompanying Mr. Templeman on the trip up the Skeena were G. R. Naden of Prince Rupert and D. Nichols of Victoria.

R. de B. Hovell, as chairman, introduced Mr. Templeman and presented him with an address from the citizens in a speech short and felicitously worded. The address asked for improvements in the mail service along the Skeena and to points further into the interior; a reduction of telegraph tolls or at least a more equitable system in arranging the tolls; and the establishment of an experimental farm somewhere in the vicinity of Hazelton.

Mr. Templeman took up the subject presented in the address and stated that he would do what he could toward meeting the requests presented. As to the experimental farm in particular, he hoped that through his efforts one would soon be established between Hazelton and Aldermere.

Passing on he said that the tactics of the opposition in the House left no room for doubt that if continued, they must lead to an election before long. However, he disclaimed any intention of being here for political purposes. If the election could be deferred until after the census could be completed and a redistribution bill passed, the west, and particularly British Columbia, would receive a much larger representation at Ottawa. British Columbia would receive an increase from the present seven members in the house to eleven or twelve, and the four western provinces a total increase of 30 or 35 members. An election under the present representation would be unfair to the west.

He went into the reciprocity pact quite fully and evoked frequent applause. He thought that British Columbia would benefit more than any other province from a removal of all duties on food products and a lowering of the high duties on other articles of consumption. The cost of living might very well be reduced in British Columbia, especially Hazelton, without anyone being a loser.

Fish is the big thing in northern British Columbia and the free entry of our fish into American markets would mean a business that would double or treble every few years and with practically no limit to the market that would be opened up. The interior country would gain through the development of that business.

He thought the railway might be completed through from the east in 1915, though the railway officials had stated that it would be done in 1913. It is the best railway in grades and curves of any spanning the continent.

He proposed to see that the pioneers of this district received their mail at least once a week if it cost a dollar a letter to do it.

Mr. Templeman created a very favorable impression, and at the close of his remarks was greeted with loud applause.

Duncan Ross followed with a short speech in his usual able manner, dealing mostly with reciprocity, which was well received.

Duncan Ross, R. E. Loring, J. Mason Adams and J. C. Boyd were of the local Liberals who occupied seats on the platform, with G. R. Naden of Prince Rupert.

Election In Nova Scotia

Halifax, June 15:—The provincial general elections took place today and resulted in a victory for the government who carried 27 out of the 38 seats in province. Halifax elected three Liberals with a majority for the highest 1056 and the lowest 705. Cape Breton elects two Conservatives but the Conservatives expected to carry four. The notable feature of the election was the defeat of three cabinet ministers; Hon. C. Chisholm, commissioner of works and mines, B. F. Pearson in Colchester and Dr. LeBlanc in Yarmouth. Premier Murray has a large majority in Victoria and his colleague has also a big lead. The issues were chiefly local. The Liberals now have five years more to add to their 29 years. The opposition in the last legislature numbered five. They now have eleven and have the additional advantage of having with them C. T. Tanner the former opposition leader who was elected in Pictou.

Carr Claims Bonded

The Iron Mask group of claims owned by Carr Brothers at the head of Morice river has been turned over on a bond to C. B. Clark of Billings, Montana. Mr. Clark will arrive in a few days to start work. He first saw the property in 1908 and the deal this year is the result of the inspection made then. The ore is galena, twelve to fourteen feet wide on the surface and it is understood shows good values, somewhere around fifty dollars to the ton. Three years ago Clark was pretty well over the district and when leaving in the fall predicted to the Herald that he would return when the transportation question should be nearer a solution.

F. B. Chettleburg left this morning for Copper river where he will resume charge of operations on the big coal properties of the National Finance Co. Several men will be put to work on the surface.

LATE NEWS BY WIRE

PRINCE RUPERT RIOTERS CONVICTED AND SENTENCED

Imperial Conference in Favor of State Owned Cables Across Atlantic

Victoria, June 15:—After being out for twenty-one hours the jury in the case of Rex vs. Babich et al., charged with rioting at Prince Rupert, brought in verdicts of guilty against all but three of the twelve accused in assize court before Justice Murphy today. The verdict found Dan Babich, Nick Radolich and Chris Woods not guilty. Mike Secovich, Dan Milovich, Antoine Sebich, Mike Burich and Mike Savich guilty; Steve Rado, Noah Palovich and Yucksan Delvich guilty with a recommendation for mercy and Jura Radulovich guilty with a strong recommendation for mercy.

After being out four hours the jury in the case of Rex vs. Vujovich arising out of the Prince Rupert riots of April 6, brought in a verdict of guilty on the second count which was shooting with intent to do bodily harm. Sentences will be handed out at the close of the assizes. In thanking the jury his honor remarked that he felt it the court's duty to say it was the duty of the Prince Rupert authorities to read the Riot Act at the first intimation of trouble. It was most fortunate that no lives were lost.

At the Imperial Conference

London, June 15: — Premier Fisher of Australia today advocated at the Imperial Conference the nationalization of the Atlantic cable in order to cheapen and render more effective communication between Great Britain, Canada, Australia and New Zealand, thus acquiring complete control of a telegraph and cable line to secure an all-red route. Ward, Premier of New Zealand, advocated a state-owned cable beween England and Canada and a reduction of cable rates throughout the empire and the establishment of a chain of state-owned wireless stations.

A resolution proposed by the Postmaster - General of Great Britain to the effect that if the owners of the Atlantic cable could not see their way clear from time to time to reduce rates, the various dominion governments would consider the practicability of laying state-owned Atlantic cables. Both resolutions have drawn favor.

Revenue Increases

Ottawa, June 17:—The final revised figures of revenue and expenditure of the Dominion for the fiscal year ending March 31 have been issued by the finance department. They show that revenue amounted to $117,780,409 as compared with $101,503,710 in 1910, an increase of $16,276,699.

SATURDAY, JUNE 17, 1911

The statements of the Minister of Mines and Inland Revenue at the meeting last Monday evening could be construed as a pretty good assurance that there will be an election before the year is out. The time has passed when elections in Comox-Atlin will be allowed to go by acclamation by either party, and a contest may not only be expected but is liable to be waged in earnest.

Inasmuch as the Herald is not a political paper it is not intended to take any violent part in the campaign. However, the columns of the paper are always open for the discussion of questions of public interest and in this instance our readers are reminded again that communications favoring one side of the case are as welcome as another providing they are not anonymous. The real name is not necessarily for publication but as an evidence of good faith.

Correspondence

To the Editor of the Omineca Herald:—

Sir: It is difficult to understand what has started and sustained the present cry throughout the political circles of Canada for reciprocity with the United States.

For the last fifteen years, until the tour to the west of Sir Wilfrid Laurier last year, both the political parties in Canada abstained almost entirely from fiscal argument. But during those years there had come to the farmers of the west a conviction that they and other primary producers were obtaining for their produce lower prices than the same commodities were bringing to similar producers in the United States, while at the same time the things they had to buy, such as clothing and machinery, were dearer.

The Canadian farmer has been getting the lowest price in the world for his wheat, yet he and other consumers often pay a very high price for flour, bran and shorts. Here is an illustration of what a farmer pays: A Canadian-made harvester costs $155 in Alberta, but can be bought in England for $121. In fact, it has been asserted that there are few commodities produced in Canada which cannot be bought by the consumers of other countries much cheaper than they are being sold to the consumer in Canada. Yet none of the extra price goes to the primary producers, for they get the same for the home, as for the export, market, and the export market depends on the English market.

I get these remarks from a book lately published at Toronto, called Canadian National Economy, by James J. Harpell, from which I also draw the following observations:

A feature of present modes in Canada is the disappearance of small manufacturers and traders, the manufacturers being merged into large combines, and local stores being undercut by the immense departmental stores of the big towns, which buy their goods on special terms.

Thus in 1891 there were 5,398 boot and shoe factories; in 1906 these had been reduced to 138, with only two-thirds as many employees and a slightly larger output; of large slaughtering and packing houses (of interest to the farmer) there were 528 in 1891, and only 63 in 1906.

Again on the political and social side of present conditions one may make some remarks: Any popular agitation against the tariff is at once met by "inspired articles" in the local press, while independent journals lose advertising or find competitors started. During a parliamentary session lobbyists are kept busy at Ottawa, not appearing openly before committees, but to influence legislation privately.

It is difficult to boil down these and other particulars, and to see where they lead. The merger of businesses does not in fact reduce the price of the commodity, the subject of the merger, to the consumer. It is asserted that the recent merger of the cement houses cost the City of Winnipeg an extra $120,000 last year.

It may be that the transportation companies are the source of the high prices paid by the consumer, in many cases; why for instance are the prices at Vancouver prairie prices and not seaborne prices?

I am not sure that the subject can be adequately dealt with by debate in parliament or by public meeting in the country, except for the purpose of education; before one can adopt a considered view, it may be necessary to hold enquiry by special or royal commission so as to ascertain facts, trace out causes and record results.

A great increase in the public expenditure of Canada has also been noticed of late years. Nearly thirty years ago, in 1882, the cost of government was 42 millions. Sixteen years later, in 1898, it was scarcely higher, being 45 millions, but now the expenditure has risen to 138 million dollars; presumably customs furnish a large part of the public funds out of which this large expenditure is made, and if the customs revenue is foregone it will become necessary to find and develop other sources of revenue. What will they be?

It is said that the present government at Ottawa is found wanting in that it has impeded the spread of popular education, so essential in a democracy.—I am, etc., ELSTREE.

LATE MINING NOTES

On the Juniper Group, under bond to R. P. Trimble and W. P. D. Pemberton, work was started on the lower ledge a few days ago, as the upper one, where the fine copper showing is, was covered by snow. At the place where work was started there was last fall a showing of about 18 inches of ore of which less than a foot was solid, being a mixed copper pyrite and galena. A few shots showed more or less ore for a total width of 8 feet and a remarkable change for the better, which puts it almost on a par with the upper vein, which was the one considered to be really worth while when the bond was taken.

Both veins are in porphyry granite and at right angles to the line of contact with the altered sandstone.

Services at St. Peter's

Last Sunday morning, Trinity Sunday, an impressive service was held in St. Peter's church. After an opening address by Bishop Du Vernet, Rev. J. Field presented ten candidates, five female and five male, to the Bishop for the apostolic rite of confirmation. On the completion of this service the Bishop proceeded to the ordination service, when W. Sweetnam, of St. John's College, Winnipeg, was admitted to the office of deacon.

Rev. W. Sweetnam is of Cork, Ireland, but has been doing missionary work for a few years in Manitoba. He will be stationed first at Sealey, and then further up the Bulkley valley.

CROSBY SENTENCED

Andrew Crosbie, the Kispiox Indian who was convicted in Vancouver at the recent session of court of the murder of the Indian woman Janet, was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary by Justice Gregory. The account published in a coast paper reads:

Andrew Crosby, found guilty of manslaughter in the killing of an Indian woman at Kispiox, told the court that he had a good heart towards everybody, and did not know that he had killed the woman.

"I think," said Mr. Justice Gregory, "that the evidence shows that he really did know very little about it. The crime was most revolting, but you appear to have borne a very good character, and it can only be attributed to drunkenness, and is as much chargeable to the miserable creature who sold you the drink as it is to you. As it is well known that the Indians suffer more from confinement than white men, I think it will be a sufficient punishment to you and warning to your countrymen if I sentence you to five years in the penitentiary."

FOR MANY REASONS we recommend

Omineca Mines Limited
(Non-Personal Liability)

For many reasons we recommend the immediate purchase of stock in Omineca Mines Limited at the present offering 10 cents per share.

FIRST AND FOREMOST

WE believe that the stock will steadily advance on the true merit of the properties. Secondly, we believe in the management of the company, and further that the safety of the investors' money is absolutely assured. We believe furthermore that there is great value in the property holdings far and above the present selling price of stock.

The big developments underway today and those contemplated are most certain to bring about a big demand for Omineca Mines Limited, and the selling price of shares will be advanced to a price consistent with property development. Be one of the early purchasers and secure the maximum of profit.

Positively no more than 100,000 shares will be sold at 10 cents per share. Thereafter the sale of treasury shares will either be withdrawn or the stock advanced to a price consistent with the development of the property.

Terms of purchase are cash or one quarter cash with order and balance in three equal monthly payments.

LEAD MINES WANTED

Zinc in Good Demand Both Here and in Spokane

"Lead ores and consequently lead mines are in better demand than they have been for a long time," says M. Schott, of Denver, Colo., general manager of the Ohio and Colorado Smelting Co. and manager of the American Metal Co., Limited. The Ohio and Colorado company, until last week, had the handling of the entire output of the Hecla mine of Burke, Idaho, at its Salida (Colo.) smelter, that ore supply has now been contracted to the International Smelting and Refining company, Mr. Schott is looking around for other available supplies.

"When it comes down to lead, we cannot at present handle any ores mined in Canada, so we are looking very closely after all the new properties that are being developed in northern Idaho. So far as zinc is concerned, we can handle British Columbia products, as I am manager of the Bartlesville Zinc company and the Lanyon Star Smelting company, of Bartlesville, Oklahoma, as well as the Collinsville smelter, now building at Collinsville, Okla.

"There is beginning to be a considerable production of zinc in the Cour d'Alenes. Several of the new North Side mines promise to furnish a good deal of zinc concentrates, and some contracts recently have been entered into by eastern zinc smelters for their output."—P. R. Journal.
