ROCHER DE BOULE A CAMP OF PROMISE

GREAT RESULTS IN FEW WEEKS

Principal Vein, Three to Eight Feet Wide, Traced For Three Thousand Feet

The recent mineral discoveries on Rocher de Boule mountain, southeast of town, which have attracted so much attention, were visited by a Herald representative within the past week, and found not to have been exaggerated in the first reports of the locators.

The claims of which fifteen or twenty have been located so far, are in air line about eight or ten miles southeast from Hazelton. The principal showings are on a creek, named Juniper creek by the prospectors, running south into Kitseguecla river, about two miles from the Skeena. A high divide reaching just above timber line separates the claims from the Skeena, from which they are distant four or five miles.

What appears to be the principal vein of the camp is visible from the opposite hill and could be seen for a distance of five miles if there were no obstructions in the line of vision. Three claims have been located on this vein. For a distance of more than three thousand feet the vein filling has been worn away and the walls left standing, some times as high as forty feet. The width is from three to eight feet for the entire distance. Boulders and wash cover the ore for the greater part. The lode is on a contact between granitic and altered sedimentary rocks, called by the prospectors granite and quartzite. The assays obtained by the locators returned values of about eighty-five dollars a ton but from present indications it would appear as though it would be a low grade concentrating proposition in the main, with here and there bodies of high grade ore. Minerals visible in surface rock are galena, gray copper, and some zinc and iron pyrites. An aneroid barometer showed the elevation of the highest point on the vein to be about 2,500 feet above the creek level. Several other claims have been located on the same mountain on showings of ore up to eighteen inches or two feet in width.

On the west side of the creek two parallel veins have been found in granite with the quartzite near at hand. On the upper one of these, where the vein is crossed at a right angle by a small creek, there is a showing of solid chalcopyrite four feet wide, uncovered for a distance of ten feet. No work has been done to determine the width of the vein, but it may prove to be ten feet or more in width. On the lower vein which is narrower there is in one place a showing of eight or nine inches of solid chalcopyrite with galena alongside. In other places only the galena appears. Both veins are traceable for more than 3,000 feet, and in the case of the upper one at least it appears to cut through the mountain and crop out on the Skeena side.

W. Sargent and Colin Monroe, who discovered the camp, have in the last few days blazed out a trail down Juniper creek to Kitseguecla river and then to the Skeena, estimating the distance at eight miles.

Considering that these claims have been located but a few weeks and no work done, the showings are remarkable and well worth a visit from any one interested in mining.

A WEEK OF STRIKES THROUGHOUT THE DISTRICT

Following close upon the discovery that the Rocher de Boule range is mineral bearing there was quite a rush of prospectors into those hills and the result has been that there have already been a number of good finds reported.

G. Gervais and partner have staked a group of claims on the side of the range facing Bulkley river and five claims were staked in the first basin at the head of Mission creek and not over three or four miles from the railway line. The ores in both cases are galena.

About five miles north of town on a spur of Nine Mile mountain, three prospectors, Sam. Long, Geo. McBain and Jas. Latham, have made a promising discovery and staked a group of six claims. They state the veins are from two to three feet wide, carrying galena, gray copper and chalcopyrite. They are at a low elevation, being only a few hundred feet above the level of Hazelton. All three of the stakers are at work opening up their showings. There is a large stretch of country between the new claims and the nearest locations on Nine Mile which, owing to the heavy growth of timber, has so far not been reached by prospectors.

J. Fred Ritchie of Prince Rupert, and A. B. Mackenzie of Rossland, accompanied by R. J. Talpey of Prince Rupert spent this week at Hazelton, making trips to Nine Mile mountain where they are interested in the Silver Cup and Sunrise properties, to return down river by steamer Operator. All three were much impressed with the great mineral showings seen and predict a brilliant future for the Hazelton district.

FOUR MILE REVEALS ADDITIONAL WEALTH

RICHEST SHOWING IN DISTRICT

Winter Cabins to be Constructed and a Full Crew Employed Throughout the Year

E. L. Kinman returned from Vancouver early in the week to look after the work on the Erie, on Four Mile, where he has a force of from four to eight men working for nearly two months. At Mr. Kinman's invitation a Herald representative was over the property on Friday, and the improvement over the showing of a month ago has been enormous. Surface stripping has been carried on continuously and ore is now uncovered for a length of 275 feet with the ledge exposed for another 200 feet by a series of open cuts across the vein. Little ore is in sight in the cuts owing to the capping.

At one point in the main trench a steel tape showed solid ore ten feet five inches in width with the same solid ore passing under the earth on the foot wall side. The narrowest showing in the 275 feet is three feet wide and the removal of the capping which is three or four feet deep shows ore underneath of unknown width.

At the present time this is the greatest showing of ore in this vicinity. Taking into consideration the high values of the rock it is wonderful.

The shaft is down about fifty-eight feet and will be discontinued for the present. A cross-cut is being started toward the hanging wall to meet the high-grade streak of ore which passed out of the shaft some weeks ago, and if is found to hold its own sinking will be resumed, otherwise the shaft gang will be placed at work on the big showing.

Seven veins have been located on the Erie claim, but only on two of them has any work been done, the one stripped and the one on which the shaft is being sunk.

Work will be commenced on cabins for winter quarters in a short time.

Five samples of the ore in the big open cut were taken by the Herald man and the results will be published as soon as the returns are received. The results of the last samples sent out by Mr. Kinman were as follows:

No, 1.—Gold $2.00; silver 1300 ounces, value $650. Total $652.

No. 2.—Gold $0.60; silver 510 ounces, value $255; copper 3.2 per cent, value $6.40. Total $262.

No. 3.—Silver 93 ounces, value $46.50; lead 39 per cent. Total $75.

No. 4—Silver 124 ounces, value $62; lead 74 per cent. Total $128.

No. 5—Silver 424.5 ounces, lead 60.8 per cent. Total $273.

No. 6—Silver 108.2 ounces, lead 39.2 per cent. Total $86.91.

What accounts for the astonishing values in sample No. 1 is the presence of argentite which occurs scattered through the other ore and in stringers of quartz up to four inches in width, in irregular shaped masses up to the size of a man's thumb, constituting high grade streaks through the ordinary galena.

The Problem of Ore Transportation

The question of cheap freight and treatment charges for ores from this district is one of absorbing interest to all holders of mineral property. So far in its history the only shipments made were for test purposes only and cost was a secondary consideration. Now that large amounts of ore are in sight on several properties, the subject is being closely inquired into by the managers of the different mines.

Freight is the big item and the expense under this head in delivering ore at Prince Rupert from the properties is the largest single item, offering no alternatives, and only to be reduced by the completion of the railway this far, and the construction of wagon roads or provision of other means than pack trains of getting the ore to the rails. From Prince Rupert there is a choice of smelters to be patronized, and it is their comparative advantages that are being looked into.

One of the steamship companies offers a rate of six dollars per ton from Vancouver to Swansea, Wales, where the by-products are saved and paid for. San Francisco is also occasionally considered as a possible shipping point, but so far information concerning minimum freight rates to that place is lacking. Tacoma would present a much shorter haulage, but the smelter located there is said to be taxed to its fullest capacity by contracts already entered into and therefore need not be considered. Trail, while not very distant, is handicapped by the additional expense of re-loading the ore from steamship to rail at Vancouver.

There is no doubt but that the rate of six dollars per ton now offered for the haul from Vancouver to Swansea could also be secured for Prince Rupert as soon as sufficient tonnage is assured, and in view of the additional revenue from saved by-products offered by Swansea ore shipment to the latter point will undoubtedly be the most economical, at least until the time when a smelter is in operation close to the mines at a point on the G. T. P.

Fort George Herald

We are in receipt of the first issue of the Fort George Herald, published at South Fort George, J. B. Daniell, who has wielded the pen of the Cariboo Observer for the past two years as editor. It starts off in vigorous, straight-from-the-shoulder fashion.

A Meddlesome Inspector

It is to be expected that the report of the inspector of Indian agencies will include a recommendation that white families be no longer permitted to rent houses from Indians and live on the reservation surrounding Hazelton. Just what reasons are at the bottom of the matter are not known; the ostensible one being that there is no precedent for the existing condition of affairs.

It would be an easy matter for the Indian department to get rid of the whites on the reservation and if one single good reason could be advanced for so doing it ought to be done.

It is the welfare of the Indian that should be thought of first by the department and instead of hindering him at every step he should have all encouragement in reaching a higher plane of existance. The Indians who are renting houses to white families are getting a good rental. In a number of cases whites took uncompleted buildings and paid several hundred dollars for completing them, under an agreement with the native owner, sanctioned and supervised by the Indian agent, for the improvements to be taken out in rent. The inspector would now make those agreements void and cause the whites to lose their money.

The Hazelton townsite consists of about eleven acres and it is for the greater part already built upon. With the advent of the railway in a year or less a part of the population at least will be moving to a town situated on the railroad.

Thus the reservation will clear itself; the Indians will meanwhile receive their rents or improved buildings and no one be harmed. If the whites are forced to move in the next few months the Indians will be deprived of considerable revenue; the whites put to great expense in securing other quarters which could only be temporary and the only object achieved is conformity to precedent. It is a pity a little common sense could not be used in the matter.

Time for an Announcement

If the Grand Trunk Pacific Terminal and Townsite Company or the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company has any intention of establishing a town in the vicinity of Hazelton or if they have no intention of doing so it is high time an announcement was forthcoming from the officials of one or the other of those companies.

It is a matter of the protection of the public in either case. If they have a townsite purchased and intend to market it selling lots to the public then they also intend to make it "the" town of this district. This will pass without argument as they could not do anything else that make their lots as valuable as possible. In maintaining a continued silence while several hundred acres of land is being platted into lots and sold up and down the coast on the strength of an agreement or alleged agreement with the other townsite owners and also receiving part of the profits, they are participating in a swindle if they have a townsite of their own up their sleeve which they intend to "spring" later.

Aldermere Townsite Sold

First Bulkley Valley Townsite Sold to J. R. Blank

News comes this week of the transfer of all the remaining interests of the original owners of the Aldermere townsite to J. R. Blank, formerly of Glasgow, Scotland. Five well known residents of the valley were the holders of the property, L. Broughton, J. Ouellette, V. Spencer, J. Spencer and Harry Fink. Some lots have been sold since the townsite was platted several years ago but up to the time of the recent sale the bulk of the property remained in the hands of the syndicate. No consideration was mentioned.

Aldermere was the first townsite to be platted in Bulkley valley and consists of 320 acres situated not far from the north east bank of Bulkley river, 56 miles from Hazelton. Like most other towns in the district located before the railway surveys were completed, it has been passed by in the final location of the route of the G. T. P. which is on the other side of Bulkley river.

MORE FACTS FROM BABINE LAKE

R. P. Trimble and W. Gearin returned from the south end of Babine lake this week with further reports of discoveries near the south end of the lake in which they are interested. They have not as yet done enough work to fully determine the extent or worth of their holdings but the indications are of great promise.

One vein about eight inches in width yielded quartz which, when roasted, showed bubbles of gold, proving the mineral to be a telluride and free gold was found in the country rock close to the vein walls. Native silver was also found in considerable quantities in narrow veins. They will come up the river in the spring prepared to carry on work on an extensive scale.

ON HUDSON'S BAY MOUNTAIN

Reports recently received indicate a strike of ore on the properties owned by J. W. Stewart, of Foley, Welch & Stewart, and Dan Carroll. Carroll has been driving a tunnel which he expects to tap the high grade shoot of ore which was found on the surface, at a depth of about fifty feet, and it is in this tunnel the strike was made. Besides the galena characteristic of that district native silver in fairly large flakes was also found. What width the ore body showed in the tunnel is not reported but it appears on the surface about eighteen inches wide.

ARE BUILDING CABINS

On the group of five claims, under bond to G. L. Faulkner and others of Vancouver, the foreman, Wm. Dalton, has the work of constructing the winter camp well in hand and actual development of the property will commence in a few weeks.

C. A. Burbank of Portland, Ore., real estate and insurance broker, is in town investigating the possibilities of the district as a field for investment.

ON NINE MILE MOUNTAIN

On the Silver Cup the number two tunnel is being driven ahead and ore is being sacked for shipment this fall. Work on the Duchess claim of this group has shown a fine body of ore and proved the Cup vein for a length of over 3000 feet, with practically the whole of the Silver Dollar claim unexplored.

Ore is being sacked at the Sunrise group and the tunnel driven to tap the vein at depth.

The force on the Lead King is working in ore on the surface and underground operations will not be commenced until winter sets in.

Leaving Kispiox

After sixteen years service in the missionary field at Kispiox, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pierce are leaving the scene of their labors and are going to Port Essington where Mr. Pierce will take up the missionary work at that place. When they first came to Kispiox the old heathen religion prevailed and theirs was the task of supplanting that with Christianity; they have seen the old heathen architecture replaced by buildings after the white man's style. Perhaps the greatest evidence of what they have accomplished is the sums raised by the Indians and devoted to church purposes. During Mr. Pierce's incumbency a church building, costing $2660, was erected, an Epworth League hall, costing $645, and a total of $1894 contributed to the general fund of the Missionary Society, besides paying all running expenses amounting to $328. The saw mill established by the efforts of Mr. Pierce has contributed $26,358 in gross revenue to the support of the Indians.

Rev. Robert Zee from Port Essington will succeed Mr. Pierce and will arrive in about two weeks. Rev. and Mrs. Pierce expect to be stationed permanently at Vancouver after a time.

HUGH FREIGHT INCREASE FOR 1910

Inquiry at the office of the steamboat companies develops the fact that over 1,700 tons of freight have been delivered at Hazelton already this year, not counting the dynamite and gasolene brought by the Foley, Welch & Stewart boats which would amount to 25 tons more.

The whole amount delivered here for the year 1909 was 1,250 tons. Both the H. B. Co's boats and the steamer Inlander have all the work in sight that they can expect to do and further contracts are being refused. Reckoning on the basis of an average year the Inlander should bring 300 tons between now and the time navigation closes and the Hudson's Bay Company's boats 500, making a total for the year of about 2,500 tons. This will be an increase of almost exactly 100 per cent.

Of the whole amount about 160 tons goes over the Babine trail to the various posts of the H. B. Co. in the interior and probably forty tons more would represent the amount used by others in the same country, making a total of 200 tons going over the Babine trail.

About 250 tons will represent the amount going into Bulkley valley on direct consignment. The whole amount used there is more but the remainder is represented by purchases by farmers and miners from Hazelton merchants.

Railway construction camps are supplied from the warehouses at Sealey. The great increase in the amount of supplies needed means that the resident population in the distaict has practically doubled this year. Many new settlers have arrived; development work is in progress on a number of mining propositions, both metal and coal and the number of men employed is constantly increasing.

Demands for the winter can be fairly well anticipated and merchants do not look for a shortage unless there are accidents to the boats or the season of navigation is brought to a premature close by weather conditions. They expect to be sold out by spring but that is nothing unusual.
