New Device for Saving Fine Gold

This week witnessed the departure of a party of three men, headed for the creeks of the Omineca river, witn an experimental outfit, which, if it meets the expectations of the owners, will make productive a great deal of placer ground that could not be otherwise worked, unless with an expensive machinery plant. The essential idea of the proposition is not altogether new but the originator of the present undertaking, J. S. Whitaker, is a placer miner with many years exerience in all parts of North America and he thinks his device will make a saving of fine gold thirty per cent. greater than the best that has been done with a rocker.

The machine when set up will consist of a wheel arranged on a divided float and with arms carrying paddles and with a canvas bucket attached to each paddle. The force of the current will cause the wheel to revolve and carry the filled buckets to the top of the wheel where they will automatically dump into a box, whence the water will be carried through canvas hose to sluice boxes. The net height gained in elevation of water is eleven feet. Similar wheels have been used in Alaska and elsewhere and with success. The main thing in working bar diggings in the Omineca river country is saving the fine gold. For this purpose they will use canvas in the bottom of the sluice box, overlaid with wire screen and battened down. Mercury in the meshes of the screen will amalgamate the gold.

There are numerous bars along Omineca river that will pay three dollars or better working with a rocker. Messrs, Whitaker, Cook ann Owens, the owners, are confiident that in such ground they will be able to make fifteen or twenty dollars a day to the man.

The Steamer "Hazelton" arrived Friday evening with the following list of passengers:- R. P. Trimble, T. J. Sheedy, Geo. Patten. E. F. McKinnon, Dan McKinnon, J. S. Kelly, Fred Sachreson, M. Peterson, K. Chaffey, J. T. McDonald, F. Trainer, W. T. Bennett, A. F. Augustine, W. Farquharson, A. E. Johnson, M. Stenerson, Chas. Brown, R. A. Rice, M. Murray, A. McKenzie, J. Webber.

R. P. Trimble of Portland, Oregon, arrived by the steamer Hazelton yesterday. Last fall he took a bond on the claims on Hudson Bay mountain, owned by John O'Herin and Joe Matouche, and upon which he proposes to put a force of men at work at once.

Indians Getting Hostile

L. L. Dutton, a settler in Kitwangar valley, John Blume and Arthur Skelhorne, the latter two well known. were held up in the Kitwangar valley bv armed Indians and forced to leave. All three came to Hazelton by steamer and laid the matter before the authorities. Warrants were sworn out for the arrest of three of the leaders of the disgruntled Indians. It seems that the Indians resent the idea of the Kitwangar valley being settled by whites. A few more such instances as this and it will become necessary for the Indian department to confine its charges strictly to the reservations.

When things come to a pass where a settler is kept off his land by the Indians it is time for someone to act. That sort of thing must be stopped at any cost and stopped at once.

GOVERNMENT TO REDUCE WAGES

GOVERNMENT TAKES INITIAL STEP IN REDUCING WAGES IN THIS DISTRICT

Notice was received here that wages were to be reduced on government road work from $3 per day with board to $3.50 per without board.

A mass meeting was held in the mission school house Thursday evening to consider the proposed reduction in wages for men engaged on government work in this district. The meeting was largely attended and from numerous expressions of opinion was unanimons on one point, that any reduction in wages at the present time would not be justifiable. Owing to the high cost of living, it was the unanimous opinion that the wages paid last year were as low as men should be asked to to work for. Below is a copy of the minutes of the meeting.

Minutes of the public meeting held in the Mission school house ta discuss the rumor of the proposed lowering of wages on government road work in this district,

C. F. Morrison was elected chairman of the meeting and E. C. Stephenson secretary.

E. H. Hicks Beach asked for the origin of the report of the proposed cut in wages. L, Meany replied that Messrs, Allison and Rogers had stated such to be the fact.

Proposed by E. Hoops, seconded by E. H. Hicks Beach that a committee be appointed by this meeting to wait on the minister of Public Works upon his arrival and explain the feeling of the people here in regard to the proposed cut in wages for road work in the district, and also that the committee forward a copy of the resolution passed to the minister of works at Victoria. Carried.

Proposed by E. H. Hicks Beach seconded by Mr. McKay that the comittee consist of five members. R. S. Sargent was nominated as a memder of the committee by F. Field, seconded by S, Robertson, E. C. Stephenson, J. C. K. Sealy, H. H. Hicks Beach and W. J. Larkworthy were nominated and then on motion the nominations were closed and the nominees declared elected.

Moved by G. M. Swan, seconded by S. Robertson that the committee be instructed to take measures to ascertain from the department of public works at Victoria, definitely where Mr. Taylor is and on what date he will arrive at Hazelton in order to lay the matter before him and and have him pass upon it before the road work is commenced and the precedent is established.

On motion the meeting then adjourned.

On the first trip of the Hazelton this week a part of the plant of the Ellis-Thompson saw mill was brought from the canyon. This mill will be complete in all details and when in running order will be able to furnish Bulkley Valley with every thing in the way of building material that can be sawed out of a log. The machinery represents an expenditure of about $15,000. Owing to the inability of the river boats to handle the mill last summer it has been over a year in transit, causing considerable loss to the owners. With an early arrival of the remainder of the plant the mill should be in operation before fall.

The Political Outlook.

Local men who have returned from the coast cities say this part of the country is beginning to loom up on the political horizon as a district of importance, which will be good news to the people of the Northern Interior as there is no doubt the sections which are regarded as important politically find it easier to obtain the many concessions which must be looked for by a new country. A strong effort is being made to have the Omineca district made an electoral district and the provincial authorities seem to regard the proposition favorably, representatives of the local organizanions having received assurances that the matter would receive consideration at the next session of the house, when a redistribution bill will be brought in.

There is not a man in the district who will question the advantage of having our own representative in the Legislative Assembly, and it would appear that in the near future such an advantage will be ours. It is possible, however, if credence is to be given recent reports from the capitol, that there will be an election before the next regular session of the House, in which case our only chance for direct representation is to elect an up-country man to represent the Skeena constituency. It is believed by those who have made a study of the political situation that this can be done. True, the growth of Prince Rupert and other places on the coast has been very rapid and the casual observer might be inclined to cede the lower part of the district a greater voice in Skeena affairs than the upper country; but we who are familiar with the enormous strides which the Northern interior has made in the last three years and is still making, are not prepared to yield precedence.

It is stated, by those who have gone into the question, that the sentiment against the election of any but an actual resident of the district is so strong throughout the constituency that there is not the least probability of an outsider being placed in nominotion by either of the principal parties. This would appear to eliminate the possibility of a Vancouver man, for instance, being sent up as a candidate for Skeena.

Though there is no definite prospect of an election, there has been considerable discussion of the matter and those who are accustomed to take an active part in politics in this part of the district do not intend to be caught napping, but will probably have their candidates ready for nomination even should an election be called defore it is generally expecteq. We are informed that the friends of Mr. R. S. Sargent, one of Hazelton's principal merchants and president of the local Conservative association, have suggested that he run in the Conservative interest in case of an election and, while no names have been mentioned, it is understood the Liberals have also a local man who will be brougth forward in due time as a candidate for the nomination of that party.
