BRITISH COLUMBIA MINING LAWS POPULAR IN THE STATES

P. J. Jennings Tells American People How Canadians are Leading-- Government Helps the Miners and Mine Owners-- Delighted with Hazelton

John Bull may be pugnacious to a fault and "cranky as Sam Hill" on certain ticklish points, but when it comes to encouraging mining he "puts it all over" Uncle Sam. As an instance, last year the government expended $8,000,000 in British Columbia in the construction of new trails and wagon roads in order to facilitate the opening up of new mines and prospects, and to aid the miner in conveying with less trouble and expense his provisions and machinery to camp and to help haul ore to market.

P. J. Jennings, of Portland, Ore., was at the Cullen yesterday. He has spent the greater part of his life mining in California, Oregon, Montana, Idaho, Arizona, Alaska and Canada. It was through Mr. Jennings that John F. Cowan, of this city picked up his copper-silver-lead bonanza last fall at Hazelton, B.C., for a syndicate of prominent Utah mining men. For instance, take this Utah proposition. As soon as it was shown the "Gold Commissioner" of the district that the Rocher de Boule people meant business, the situation was immediately gone over; the matter was reported favorably to the head western office at Victoria; the sum of $9,000 set aside and at once a good nine-mile trail was constructed into camp along a route which is now being widened for the convenience of ore wagons. Every step was marked with thoroughness and dispatch, all this having been accomplished since last fall when the Americans got in there.

Mr. Jennings says a mining claim in Canada is 1500 ft. square containing about 50 acres. No apex conflicts come in there; the owner's rights stop with his side or end lines. He knows from the beginning just how far he can mine and just where he must stop.

Securing permanent title there is about the same as in the United States and casts the same, about $5 an acre. Expenditures of $500 in improvements must be shown before a "crown grant," or patent, may be secured from the government, after surveys and other preliminaries have been made. In order to hold property prior to securing a crown grant $100 development yearly must be performed. One man working 20 days at $5 a day is acceptable to cover.

Every prospector or man in the mining business in British Columbia is required to take out an annual license. This costs $5 a year. It is procured from the district gold commissioner. All miners who take out these licenses need worry no longer about getting their wage. The government guarantees to see that they get it, and if mine owner, contractor or leaser fails to come through with

On the Surprise Group

John F. Cameron, of Vancouver, came in last week on the Inlander in the interests of the holders of the bond on Surprise Group on Glen Mountain. Mr. Cameron is now preparing the ground and the camp for men to start work on a cross cut tunnel. He will let a contract for the work in a few days and then there will be quite a force on the ground. The tunnel will eventually be run a distance of 300 or 400 feet, although the first contract will be for only about 100 or 150 ft. to tap the first vein. This will prove up the ground and they will know what kind of material they have to contend with. The bond holders propose developing this property as rapidly as possible.

OFF THE RESERVE WHITES GOT NOTICE

The Residential and Large Part of Business District will Be Effected by the New Order

There have been doings this week in Indian circles. Supt. of Agencies Tyson, accompanied by Constable Phillipson, are in town. On Tuesday they held a couple of meetings with the Indians in the hall on the reserve, and the Indians aired all their grieveances and imaginary grieveances to which the Superintendant listened and upon which he will report to the department at Ottawa. What these were are of no particular interest to the general public. What concerns the white race most of all is the confirmation of the rumor that was spread around early in the spring, viz: that all whites would be notified to move off the reserve at once. This notice has now been served by the Superintendent and the constable, or is being served, on all the whites. Naturally there is quite a commotion as it is very difficult to know what to do or where to go. The notice also applies to the business houses, and there are not a few with places of business or with warehouses on the reserve.

A Good Time Coming

[By a Spasmodic Optimist]

There's going to be a better time—
  There's not the slightest doubt of it;
And speculators in their prime
  Will make a fortune out of it.

The signs are all for better days—
  For business and prosperity,
When shares will rise and markets blaze
  With all their old celerity.

I feel it coming in the air—
  The atmosphere is full of it;
And those who want to do a "bear"
  Had better make a "bull" of it!

The bears will soon be in retreat,
  For such is their proclivity,
When there are dealings in the Street
  Of vigor and activity.

A boom—a boom—is now the tip,
  And great may be the length of it;
So now I think I'll take a trip
  To Hazelton on the strength of it.

PERSONAL AND LOCAL

The ferry that will run across the Bulkley river is now completed and everything is ready for operation as soon as the traveller arrives and it is on its way.

Gus Olson, Jas. Bates and Burns Bowerman returned from the Omineca district on Monday evening where they had spent the winter. They expect to go back again towards the middle of summer.

Larry Canty came in from the Ingenica country Tuesday night with a good catch of furs. He and his partners had been trapping all winter and met with fair success.

Dan Horrigan spent a couple of days in town this week on business. Dan spent the winter in California and has just come back to straighten up some old business.

Owing to some of their players being out of town the New Hazelton ball team was unable to come to the old town last Sunday. If they can get their boys together they will be over next Sunday.

A general meeting of the Board of Trade is called for Monday night to consider the bylaws.

Looking for Land

H. O. Cameron, of Portland, Ore., accompanied his uncle, J. F. Cameron, to this district, and he will spend the next few months looking over the prospects for investment and business. Mr. Cameron is interested more or less in farm and fruit lands and it is this branch, more than any other that he will look after.

WHEAT AND OATS YIELD BIG CROPS

Deputy Minister of Agriculture Expresses Opinions Regarding Northern Interior

Deputy Minister of Agriculture Scott, Provincial Horticulturalist Carpenter and Road Supt. R. O. Jennings were in town Tuesday night having come up on the Inlander from Kitseukla. They had just got in from their trip through the Naas valley and were on their way back to the coast, calling at Kitsumkalum and Kitselas on the way down. Mr. Scott stated that he was more than agreeably surprised with what he had seen since he left home. He had no idea there was such an area of first class land in the north. He expressed keen regret that he was unable to spend more time in this immediate vicinity as he was greatly interested. In referring to this district he said that not only would small fruits and garden truck be a very profitable crop, which has been amply proven, but that the country would very successfully grow wheat and oats; that the district is ideal for dairy farming and that the men who go on the land now will make a lot of money when the railroad is through. Speaking of the market available for local crops Mr. Scott stated that just as soon as the road was connected up with the prairie section that there would be an immense market in Edmonton for everything that could be produced here, to say nothing of Prince Rupert.

ROCHER DE BOULE CLAIMS SOLD

Five Claims Adjoining the Big Mining Property Bring $15,000---Will Be Developed This Spring

The first mining deal for this season has been completed and a good sum of money changed hands. The new owners are practical mining men and they are going to do a lot of development work on the property. W. S. Sargent and C. H. Munro, who have already got valuable holdings on Rocher de Boule mountain, have purchased from Messrs. Slavin and McKay a group of five claims which adjoin the Rocher de Boule Mining Co.'s property to the north and east. These claims are Balmoral, Highland Boy, Silver Tip, Happy Jack and Islander, and they show the same character of ore as found on Rocher de Boule. The deal was put through by Harvey & McKinnon and the price paid was $15,000. Arrangements are being made to develop the claims as soon as the snow is gone, and it is going fast now.

Auto Car Coming

Word was received from George McBean yesterday that the auto car was on the Inlander and would here Friday night or Saturday morning.

HORRIBLE ROAD TO ALDERMERE

Contractors, Miners, Farmers and Stage Men up in Arms—Road Practically Impassable

British Columbia has always made the boast that it has done more for good roads, and has more real roads than any other province in the Dominion. If the Aldermere road is a sample of the good roads throughout the province then the other provinces are surely to be pitied. There is probably no other one country road in the province that carries the traffic that does the Aldermere road. Hundreds of teams are daily travelling, or trying to travel from New Hazelton to Aldermere, and as yet there has not been one hours work put on the thoroughfare by the government this year. Every contractor connected with the construction of the railroad is up in arms. Every rancher, every miner who goes that way, the stage lines and the mail carriers are all complaining and justly so. It is doubtful if there is as bad a road, that is called a road, anywhere in the country. One contractor stated this week that he had one team stuck in the mud at about fifteen mile for a whole day and finally they had to pull the horses out by the neck. This traffic is not merely temporary, but it will be as heavy and even heavier as the season advances, and when the railroad is completed there will be immense traffic. The road, instead of getting better as time goes on, is getting worse and right now is almost impassable. To draw a wagon and a ton and a half of freight requires a four horse team of the strongest horses that are bred and then they make a very few miles per day. The Hazelton district and the northern interior is surely entitled to at least one road that is passable.

Mining Property Wanted

Hazelton mining properties are in great demand in all parts of the continent. There is hardly a mail comes in but that there is at least one bona fide enquiry for a mining property. This week a wire was received from New York mining men asking for a silver-lead property. Last week a mining man in St. Louis wanted information. The investing public is now interested in this district and there is a market for every good property. For the prospector who knows his business and gets out and does some rustling there is a wonderful field here. One of the oldest mining men in the district, and one who has been in nearly every camp in the west, says that not one of the old camps could compare in any way with this district from a prospectors stand point. He has travelled over great stretches of territory and he has found mineral everywhere. To his mind this is the promised land for the prospector and he cannot understand why there are not more of them coming in as there are hundreds of them lying around the western cities across the line.

The People are Coming

It is good to see the new faces and to hear other people. Hazelton has taken on new life after the long tedious, but beautiful winter. The first boats have come and gone and each brought a lot of passengers, all of whom are to be permanent residents of Hazelton, New Hazelton or the interior. What might be called the advance guard came up the river some time ago by train, dog sleigh, stage, or on foot. But the vast majority were waiting for transportation right through. They were waiting for the boats to start. These are the people we have been waiting for—the people who are to help develop the wonderful resources that abound in the immediate vicinity and for a hundred miles or so in every direction. These new people are to play a most important part in making the local history. It is their labors, their minds and their capital which will transform the Hazelton district from inactive rock piles to living mining properties; from wild lands covered with light and heavy timber and brush into flourishing farms, gardens and orchards.

The new people have a big work before them but they will also reap big fortunes in return. It is, thersfore, a more than usually warm welcome we extend to the new comers, and the worst wishes we have for them is that they succeed beyond their most optimist expectations. With their success we expect to increase our own worldly possessions, and may the hundred or more first arrivals be rapidly followed by thousands. There is room and wealth for all, and the same warm welcome awaits those still coming.

DAIRY INTERESTS GETS ATTENTION

Western Land & Dairy Co., Propose to Import Thoroughbred Stock for the Farmers to Start Business With

The council of the Board of Trade met last week and heard the proposition from John Dorsey regarding his dairying scheme. Mr. Dorsey has organized the Western Land & Dairy Co., and they have established a station in Prince Rupert which is supplying sweet cream, butter and butter milk imported from Bellingham, and are thus proving that milk can be shipped and sold at a profit and in best of condition. John's scheme is to interest all the farmers in this district in the dairying business. His company will furnish the holstein cows and take all the product from those cows and ship it to Prince Pupert where there will be a big market at all times, and also supply other towns and cities as they spring up in the northern interior. The plans prepared by the company show that there is a big profit for everyone, and the scheme made a very favorable impression upon the Board of Trade council. There is no doubt but that this country is one of the greatest dairy countries on the continent and Mr. Dorsey's scheme will be put into practice in the not distant future.

Empire Day Events

It is evident that the people of Prince Rupert do not relish the idea put forward by some of their own to celebrate Empire Day at Terrace. A meeting of citizens was held there a short time ago and a committee of business men appointed to prepare for a big celebration in Rupert on that day. It is proposed to make the chief features Indian events. In case Prince Rupert and their baseball club cannot agree to make one big day, either at Terrace or in Rupert, in which the whole district could join, it will be better for Hazelton to have a celebration of their own and bring the people from the immediate vicinity in here.

Home from Ground Hog

Thos. Brewer got back from the Ground Hog on Monday afternoon and had a fine trip. He reports that for 20 miles the other side of 6th cabin he travelled on bare ground. From the 5th to the second cabins there is lots of snow for snowshoeing, but from there down the ground is bare. He says the season is earlier than last year and that there is nothing like the snow in the hills there was last year. If the snow continues to disappear as fast as at present it will be possible to start the pack trains out from here about the first of June.

HAZELTON MINING DOPE

The Harris mines continue to produce good ore. At the 110 ft. point in the shaft on No. 2 vein the first drift was started and it is now in over 18 feet and is on good ore all the way. The shaft is down nearly to the 150 foot level and then the second drift will be run in the opposite direction. There will also be considerable work done on No. 1 vein this summer. As yet practically nothing has been done on it and it is one of the best on the property. A big bunch of supplies were sent up this week to keep the men going for some time.

All the mining men will be glad to learn that P. J. Jennings and his son George will leave Spokane tomorrow for Hazelton. Mr. Jennings has been doing some good work while away the past winter and he is coming back prepared to take up any mining property that proves worthy of attention. He has a strong syndicate of Salt Lake City financial men behind him who are greatly interested in this country since Rocher de Boule has turned out so well.

Mr. Jennings writes and says that Mr. Cowan has been offered a half million dollars for Rocher de Boule by one of the largest smelting firms in the western states, but that he turned it down. He and his associates are convinced that they have a mine and they are going to develop and operate it themselves.

Ed. Bowling sent in a fine sample of silver-lead ore this week from Tacla lake from his property there. It was a big sample and appears very rich. It can be seen in Harvey & McKinnon's window

Several men started out this week to fix up the trail to the Hudson Bay Mountain Mining Co.'s property and to get things in shape for the supplies which will be sent out soon.

Joe Sheedy left this week for his claims on Hudson Bay Mountain where he will do considerable work this season.

The Hudson Bay Mountain Mining Co. have completed their outfit for packing and they will pack all their own supplies this season. The Inlander brought up some five tons of supplies on Tuesday night for them.

EIGHT HUNDRED FOOT TUNNEL

Will be Driven on Hudson Bay Mountain--Smelter to be Built as soon as Property is Opened Up

R. G. Steele and Harry Carpenter were among the passengers on the steamer Inlander which arrived Saturday morning and they received a warm welcome from their many friends here. Mr. Steele is representing the Hudson Bay Mountain Mining Co., whose head offices are in London, Eng. He spent the winter in London and is now prepared to start a very active compaign on their property on the Hudson Bay Mountain. Pete Shuffer has a contract to drive a 400 foot tunnel which is calculated will cut two big veins on an angle and at a depth of about 800 feet.

The object of the company and of Mr. Steele is to make a mine and if they are successful with this season's work a shipment of 30 tons of the ore will be made to England for a smelter test. With satisfactory results Mr. Steele says that everything is ready for the establishment of a smelter at a very early date at the foot of the mountain and only about half a mile from the railway.

He has a large sum of money at his disposal for this year's work and every effort will be made to get into the hill and prove up the property. Mr. Shuffer will take out his supplies within the next few days and then Hudson Bay Mountain will be as active as any of the hills in the district.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

the miners' wage, licenses are revoked and all such are put out of business. Should the mining man develop the delightful propensity of jumping claims, mistreating his men, or the like, his license is revoked and he is done for as far as mining in his majesty's domains is concerned.

"Canadian mining laws are broad and intelligently interpreted, and operators from the Uuited States find them entirely satisfactory," declared Mr. Jennings. "That is a wonderful country up there, and it has not yet been scratched. For instance, the new camp of Hazelton is 600 miles north of Vancouver and about 200 miles inland. Above that is a wilderness of thousands of miles which has hardly felt the foot of man. A friend of mine came overland across the country 500 miles to the north last August and in one mountain stretch he was travelling for 100 miles in an almost solid field of raspberries. This west coast is tempered by the warm Japan stream, and one day will be teaming with wealthy agricultural and mining communities." — Salt Lake Herald-Republic.

POULTRY DEPARTMENT

Soft Ground for Young Chicks

Growing chicks should be allowed to keep on the soft ground as much as possible. Many times where the chicks are growing rapidly and are kept on hard floors, or even packed earth floors, they will develop leg weakness. Many chicks thus affected never recover from the ill effects. If leg weakness develops and becomes pronounced, the chick that is half grown will never be overstrong on its feet. A case in connection with this point came under the writer's observation last summer. There was an unusually fine cockerel in the yards that was growing rapidly, and in fact grew too fast, insomuch so that he became a little unsteady on his feet. This bird developed into a fine male, but always walks with a peculiar gait due to that early experience. Soft, well spaded ground, free from stones of any size, is ideal ground on which to keep rapid-growing chicks.

Plenty of Litter for Growing Chicks

If you use the ordinary colony houses in which to put your chicks after they leave the brooder, see to it that they are kept clean. So many times the filth is allowed to accumulate. The odor from this is injurious to the chicks that are roosting in the place. Such a colony house should be cleaned daily. If you do not let them roost, give them plenty of litter on which to lie. Crooked breast bones often come from chicks resting all night on hard floors. While they are young, the breast bone is nothing more than a pliable tissue and is easily put out of its proper shape. When stretched out for the night, you will find that the chicks hit this bone on the floor. If it is a hard floor it is liable to turn it to one side and keep it in this position all night. Soon it becomes permanent, and you have a crooked breast bone.

Off to Telkwa

Robert Heddel, popularly known as Bob, has left the employ of C. F. Willis, and is leaving very shortly for Telkwa where he will open up a blacksmith shop on his own hook. He has all his tools and outfit on the way from Prince Rupert and it will not be long before he will be doing business. Bob is a real mechanic and what he does not know about blacksmithing in any of its various branches would not take long to learn. He will be missed around this vicinity and Telkwa is the richer.

HORTICULTURE DEPARTMENT

Cabbage

There are three groups of cabbage commonly grown: the Red, White, and Savoy types. The Red Cabbage is commonly used for pickling. The White cabbage is commonly used as a vegetable, while the Savoy Cabbage, which is of the best quality, is little cultivated because production is not so abundant as with the common kinds. The three types of cabbage as to shape are the pointed, round and flat. The pointed are early, the round medium, while the flat are late varieties.

Soil and Manure. The best soil for cabbage is a rich loam, moist, yet well drained, and in fine condition. Early cabbage usually need richer soil than late cabbage. It is a good plan to occasionally change the land. Cabbage are gross feeders and need lots of rich manure. A small quantity of hen manure placed around each plant and mixed with the soil will give very good results, especially with early cabbage.

Early Cabbage. Seed should be sown in the greenhouse or hotbed, about the middle or end of February. If only a few plants are required they can be grown in shallow boxes in the house. When the plants are about two inches high, transplant them into flats, placing the plants one and one-half to three inches apart, depending whether they are to be transplanted once or twice before setting in the field. The ground should be plowed in the fall and well prepared in the spring, and the plants should be hardened off before setting them in the open ground.

It is important that early cabbage should be planted out as early as possible in the spring and set deep enough to bring the base of the leaves below the ground. Cabbage plants will grow at a low temperature. They may not show much increase in the leaf surface at first, but they form roots rapidly. The distance apart for plants depends somewhat on the variety grown, but the usual distance for early cabbage is eighteen inches apart in rows 30 inches apart. If there is very hard frost after planting, the plants may be covered with earth for two or three days, but should be immediately uncovered if the weather turns fine. Cultivation should begin as soon as possible and be continued every week or ten days, and after every rain until the heads are well formed.

The crop should be ready for market from July first on. If the land is at once plowed when the early cabbage is harvested, it can be used for some late crop, as beans, spinach or celery in some districts. If the market is over supplied the heads may be retarded by pulling the plant to one side and so breaking off some of the roots.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the North-west Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

NEW HAZELTON DOINGS

Dr. Green, of Chicken Lake has gone to Prince Rupert to meet Mrs. Green who will spend the summer in this district.

Mrs. Bosworth arrived on the Inlander last Saturday to join her husband who is at the Engineer's headquarters, having succeeded Mr. Baird.

Splendid progress is being made with the clearing on section Two. The cleared part looks vastly different and is a great improvement.

Chief Engineer Kelliher returned from his trip to the valley on Monday and hustled over to the old town where he caught the Port Simpson going down. He only went as far as Chicken Lake this trip.

T. M. Baird, wife and child left last week for Twin Falls, Idaho where they will reside on Mr. Baird's ranch. Mr. Baird has given up railroading forever. Their many friends in this district regret their departure.

Walter B. Smith returned to town this week from Victoria and was a guest of his cousin, V. W. Smith, for a couple of days before he went out to Sheedy & Smith's camp at Barrett's Ranch where he will remain all summer

The bank manager set a bad example a short time ago when he had the front of the bank premises cleaned up. Ever since then other business houses have been doing the same and some have even gone one better and are cleaning up all the brush and fallen trees on the back of their lots.

There was no strike on May Day as was threatened by the I. W. W. On the contrary there are more men coming into the district and going out to the various camps than ever before. One party who came in from the valley this week said he never saw so many men on the road going to work as he did this trip.

The superstructure for the Skeena Crossing bridge is now completed and the camp is almost abandoned by Foley, Welch & Stewart's men. The steel men under Wall & Swan, the contractors, are making good headway with the steel. Wall & Swan are now working five camps on the various bridges between the Crossing and New Hazelton. The two largest are trestle and they will be completed about the same time as the steel is laid on the crossing bridge. In a few months the headquarters for the bridge men will be moved from Sealey, where it is now located to this town and will remain here for several months longer, or until after the big steel bridge at Mud Creek is completed.

PERSONAL AND LOCAL

A general meeting of the Board of Trade is called for Monday night to consider the bylaws.

D. J. Dempsey, Supt. of Construction for the G.T.P. was in town a couple of days this week.

Barney Mulvaney spent a few days in town this week looking after his business interests here.

C. H. French, of Victoria, who is connected with the Hudson's Bay Co., was one of the passengers of the Port Simpson.

Mrs. John Bostrom arrived in Sealey on the Omineca last Saturday and will spend the summer in the valley with her husband.

The Rocher de Boule Copper Co. are preparing to instal an electric plant on their big property across the river.

J. Asher Cowan left on the Inlander on Wednesday morning for Skeena Crossing and then up to the Rocher de Boule mine.

Louis N. Lavigne and Mrs. Lavigne who came in on the Inlander last Saturday left on Tuesday for the Valley where they will spend the summer.

C. G. Harvey has been appointed to the executive committee as representative from the Skeena District to the Merchants Protective Association of B.C.

On her first trip up the steamer Port Simpson brought sixty-one tons of general freight. Half of it was for the Hudson's Bay Co. and the other half for other merchants.

Pat. Phillipson, Dominion Indian Constable was in town this week in company with Inspector of Indian Agencies Tyson. They also visited Kispiox and other reserves in the district.

The Interior Lumber Co. have completed their contract for the timber in Ross' tunnel, over two and a half million feet, and are now closed down for a short time. They also have a large stock of lumber in their yards to meet the demand for this season's building operations.

British Are Coming

Purchasing farm lands in the northern interior of British Columbia is becoming very popular with the lords and wealthy gentlemen of the old country. The Duke of Sutherland started the move some time ago when he bought a large tract from the North Coast Land Co. in the Fort George vicinity. Since then several others have bought a thousand and fifteen hundred acre tracks and they are starting to prepare them for the settlers who will be picked English, Scotch and Irish farmers. Alexander Simpson has recently purchased a thousand acres in the Hazelton district and now Capt. C. E. Hutton is in the province looking for more large tracts for British Capital.

Ball Game Sunday

New Hazelton have signed up Muckleston and they will be coming over here for the second game on Sunday afternoon. The boys have got new suits and hit-and-run caps like the old town players and these will help a lot in winning the game. The New Hazelton fans are confident that they will retain their lead and the old town boys say that there is nothing to it but a win for the old timers. They have been doing some practicing since the last game.

Ball Players

Manager Reilly has recently received several applications from top notch pitchers, catchers and infielders, and all heavy hitters, for a place on tne Hazelton team. Since the local boys won so much fame by winning the Pea-Vine League championship last year the outside players are looking for jobs. The greatest drawback to bringing in more than half a dozen players is that they all want a salary attached to the job.

TRIP TO HAZELTON BY P. E. SANDS

A Feature of the Good Roads Convention in San Francisco in August

Plans for the Third International Convention, to be held in San Francisco, August 5th, 6th and 7th, are well under way in that the two evening sessions of the association have been definitely arranged for.

Samuel Hill, a wealthy good roads enthusiast of international reputation and son-in-law of the railroad builder, James J. Hill, will occupy the first evening session of the convention In view of the fact that Mr. Hill has spent almost a lifetime in developing the cause of highway improvement, both in America and Europe, his lecture will probably be the most educating and interesting feature of the meeting.

The other evening will be taken up by an illustrated log of the two pathfinding trips that have been promoted by the Pacific Highway.

First, the one to Hazelton which was sufficiently carried out by P. E. Sands of Seattle. A very interesting set of British Columbia views have been collected that were taken on this trip.

Then what will be of as great interest will be the recital of the hardships and difficulties overcome by the path-finders laying out the Pacific Highway route from Los Angeles to the City of Mexico by Chester Lawrence and T. J. Beaudet who were sent out for the Pacific Highway Association by the Los Angeles Examiner Pictures of this trip will also be shown. Lawrence has already established for himself a world-wide reputation as a pathfinder and is now laying out the Ocean to-Ocean route from Los Angeles to New York City.
