GERMAN-AMERICANS RAID CABLE STATION

Victoria, May 15:—A raiding party of Germans from Washington, in a launch, are reported to have made an attempt to cut the Canadian - Australian cable at Bamfield. They were driven off by the guard. A government patrol boat has been despatched in search of the would-be invaders.

Dave Loughnan Wounded

Corporal D. Loughnan, who left The Miner staff last August to go to the front, was wounded in the great battle at Ypres. So far as known, Dave was the only Hazelton man engaged in the fight which established the reputation of Canada's soldiers. His wounds are not thought to be serious.

Murderer to Hang

Vancouver:—T. C. McKillarney, found guilty of the murder of Detective Levis on August 25 last, was sentenced to be hanged on Aug. 3.

BIG CHEQUE FOR PATRIOTIC FUND

The government agent has received from W. J. Goepel, provincial treasurer of the Patriotic Fund, acknowledgment of a cheque for $2,332.46 for the Omineca district fund. This included $1000 from the district between Telkwa and Rose Lake. Previous remittances totalled $917.50. The list is still open, and Mr. Hoskins requests subscribers to remit to him. Acknowledgment of subscriptions by towns and districts will be made next week, with additional individual subscriptions.

A special train from Smithers will bring the Bulkley Valley excursionists and the Smithers ball team down to Hazelton's big celebration on May 24.

R. Ponder, who left the police staff to join the navy, has received a commission. S. Geary, who is also in the navy, received his commission some months ago.

Registrar Kirby has been notified that all applicants for naturalization must appear in court personally, accompanied by two British subjects to vouch for them.

Many friends will extend congratulations to John L. Christie, the popular merchant of Telkwa, who was recently married, in Vancouver, to Edith M. French, of Edinburgh, Scotland.

F. W. Dowling, superintendent of the government telegraphs, is here this week. He is arranging for repairs to several sections of the system. A small crew will immediately start repoling six miles of the line immediately west of Hazelton.

ALLIES CONTINUE ON OFFENSIVE

AMERICAN NOTE TO GERMANY---

ITALY PREPARED, BUT UNDECIDED

Paris, May 15 (official):—To the north of Arras, condition of ground has rendered operations difficult. Our offensive, however, has been continued. At the southeast of Angres we have attacked and taken a strong German trench extending on a front of about two-thirds of a mile; a forest which had been organized for defence, and behind that a trench of the second line. We found in this vicinity 407 Germans dead. More to the south we have continued clearing of slopes east and south of Notre Dame de Lorette. We have taken additional houses at Neuville St. Vaast. According to the testimony of prisoners, our artillery has inflicted extremely heavy losses on the enemy. The number of officers made prisoner since Sunday is about 100. The number of guns captured is 20, including eight heavy guns. In addition, we have taken one hundred machine guns and bomb throwers.

The enemy obtained a momentary footing in our first line, but were forced back by a counter attack.

Capetown: — Grave anti-German rioting is reported in some of the principal towns of the Union, and is accompanied by wholesale destruction of German property. The total loss is expected to exceed $5,000,000. Towns of Johannesburg, Kimberly, Bloemfontein and Port Elizabeth were scenes of rioting.

Petrograd (official): — In the region of Shavli, fighting is deveveloping under conditions favorable to us. Yesterday we took more than 1000 prisoners and captured nine machine guns. In Western Galicia intensity of fighting lessened on May 10. Our troops are concentrating gradually on the line of the river San with the object of occupying a shorter front. The Austrian army evacuated, on the 11th, a strongly fortified position extending from Bistritza river to the Rumanian frontier—about 94 miles—and fell back precipitately on the 12th beyond the River Pruth. The enemy's cavalry, which was sacrificed in repeated charges to protect the general retreat, was dispersed by our fire. Our cavalry divisions broke through the enemy's front at various points and by successful charges threw the enemy's columns, which were on the march, into disorder.

Rome, May 15:—Troops have occupied Milan, where a strike has been declared as a protest against Italy's delay in entering the war. The army is concentrated on the Austrian border and the fleet is prepared for action. Parliament is to decide the war question. Twenty thousand people assembled in front of the Austrian and German embassies here to denounce the Kaiser.

Washington: Herr Dernburg, the German emissary, has been recalled as a result of the cabinet's displeasure at his speech justifying the sinking of the Lusitania. Bernstorff's recall is expected.

Washington, May 14: — The president's note to Germany, presented today, calls attention to the "unlawful and inhumane destruction of the Lusitania" and to other violations of American rights. Germany is asked to disavow the acts of submarine commanders in torpedoing the Lusitania and Gulflight; to make reparation, and to take steps to prevent recurrence. No time is set for a reply and no course of action in the event of non-compliance is indicated. The note concludes with the statement that it is the duty of the United States to omit no word or act in defence of the rights of the American people.

Germany will probably attempt to justify its submarine action, and is expected to insist on the right to destroy vessels carrying contraband. It is believed the United States, in that case, will not declare war, but will denounce Germany as an outlaw among nations, will discontinue relations, and seize interned ships if further attacks are made.

PROGRESS OF THE GREAT WAR DAY BY DAY

London, May 10:—The identification of the nameless dead from the Lusitania is the only immediate problem. The Cunard company's report has dissipated the last hope that there might be other survivors, and the death roll totals well up to 1500.

Lord Mersey is to conduct an inquiry, and until that begins official opinion as to how the Lusitania came to be caught and why so many lives were lost will remain a secret. The general unofficial opinion is that several German submarines were employed, and that they maneuvered the steamer into a position from which she could not escape. Passengers say the vessel had altered her course before the first torpedo was fired, and they believe one submarine showed itself, sending the liner in the direction where other underwater craft lay in wait.

Liverpool: The sinking of the Lusitania caused anti - German riots here. Shops owned by Germans were wrecked. Twenty of the rioters were arrested.

Victoria: Anti-German demonstrations caused the reading of the riot act by the mayor. On the failure of the crowds to disperse and the refusal of the firemen to turn the hose on them, martial law was proclaimed. In the rioting, the crowds wrecked the Kaiserhof and Deutscher Verein bars and attacked the stores of Simon Leiser, Moses Lentz, and Carl Lowenburg.

Paris: Six Turkish transports have been sunk in the Bosphorus and two in the Sea of Marmora by the Russians.

Geneva: An Italian army of 600 000, fully equipped and ready for the field, has been concentrated at Verona.

Austrians and Germans are fleeing from all parts of Italy.

London, May 11:—Sir John French reports no change in the general situation on the western front today.

The Paris official report says enemy positions at St. George's, Belgium, were captured yesterday. In a night attack the Germans attempted their recapture, but were repulsed.

To the north of Arras, where the French gained ground yesterday, further progress was made, especially between Carency and Sanchez.

In the last two days ten cannon and fifteen machine guns have been captured, and a number of prisoners, including forty officers have been taken.

Violent anti-German outbreaks are reported from practically every seaport in Great Britain.

Vancouver:— The police are

VOL. IV. SATURDAY, MAY 15, 1915. No. 37

Readers of the newspapers and followers of the course of the war must long ago have become convinced that the situation grows more and more intense and critical day by day. Great Britain is faced not alone by outside enemies, but by labor troubles and by lack of those immense internal resources in the matter of food production that Germany and Austria-Hungary possess. She cannot feed herself, and is compelled to rely largely on other countries for a supply of the necessaries of life. In such case, the duty of her children is distinctly plain. It is noteworthy of her enemies that they are not only thoroughly united but that they are enduring with what fortitude they possess the rigid military enforcements that are placed upon them for the conservation both of food and material. Every man, woman and child, from the Kaiser down, have been put on rations. The idea is three-fold—to guard against any possible emergencies, to mislead the foe into over-confidence and by thoroughness to bring such pressure to bear as will hasten the final decision. Britain is pursuing the same course. She has not yet found it necessary to place her population individually on short rations, but she has found it desirable to take munition factories in order to secure supplies that mean either life or death to the nation. Meantime, Germany by cowardly submarine assassination is endeavoring to starve her people and cripple her resources.

With such state of affairs existent it is hardly necessary to explain to stay-at-home Canadians how best they can fulfil their manifest duty and show the burden-bearers how completely they possess their sympathy. But the bugle blast has its rallying power in peace as in war. To all the people, and to farmers, breeders and settlers in particular, the Patriotism and Production movement that is in progress is blowing its bugle, or, in other words, carrying its message. Its object is to arouse all and sundry to the part they are called on to play. That part of necessity does not mean harder work nor increased acreage; but it does imply the exercise of every faculty in attention and vigilance. It does imply in order to secure increased and improved production, by which alone cultivators of the soil can contribute towards the credit of the country and empire, the greatest care in the selection of seed, in the breeding of livestock and in economy of the land.

Canada at the Fair

Of the Canadian exhibit ta San Francisco the Los Angeles Herald says:

"Citizens of the United States who go to the exposition at San Francisco will return with increased respect for Canada and the Canadian government, thanks to the great building and the extraordinarily fine exhibit that represents Canada's power.

"There never was seen a more complete, inspiring exhibit of the wonders of a great country.

"The Canadians have gone at the thing thoroughly, they have eclipsed completely the exhibits of every one of our individual states, and that is putting it very mildly.

"Every Canadian certainly should visit the Panama-Pacific Exposition, if only to confirm the opinion he probably holds that Canada is a wonderful place and its government a magnificent and capable government.

"In addition to Canadians, representatives of every state and every county in the United States should make it a point to spend a thoughtful day in the Canada building.

"They will learn there that it is possible for a people not afraid of 'paternalism or government influence' to do wonders for the building up of a country.

"And they will see splendid work done by private corporations, railroads and others, under proper and efficient control by the people.

"The Canada building is a magnificent, dignified structure; its employes are intelligent, courteous, well-chosen men.

"Marvellously ingenious and striking exhibits tell the story of the great nation that lies north of us. Canada is an empire of strength, beauty, prosperity and unlimited possibilities.

"Intelligent citizens of this nation will rejoice in that Canadian exhibition, with its many proofs of Canadian intelligence, energy, good government and citizenship."

Will Exact Reparation

"When the proper time comes, due reparation will be exacted of those—whatever their position or antecedents, if it can be shown that they have violated the rules and usages of civilized warfare," said Premier Asquith in the House of Commons last week, during a debate on the treatment of British prisoners in Germany. He added that a careful record of events would be kept, and evidence which could be obtained and preserved in order that, when the proper time came, proper punishment might be meted out.

"The duty of this country," concluded the premier, "is to preserve a clean record."

The Miner is two dollars a year.

THE MINER WAR BULLETINS

busy rounding up Germans and Austrians, who are being sent to the concentration camp at Vernon.

Rome:—It is reported today that Austria has conceded all of Italy's demands, including the cession of Trente, to Brenner, in the Tyrol, together with Trieste, Istria and Pola.

London: — The Allied troops continue their advance in the Gallipoli peninsula. The Turkish losses are 45,000. Constantinople hospitals are crowded and wounded are now being sent to Asia Minor.

An Athens despatch says the Turks are making desperate attacks every night, but without result thus far. They succeeded in surrounding half a company of Australians, whom they massacred, although the Australians fought determinedly.

One thousand notables have been arrested in Smyrna, on orders from Constantinople.

Petrograd (official):—In the direction of Olti our troops have dislodged the Turks from their position and have driven them back to the southwest. In their hurried retreat the Turks abandoned a large quantity of tents and munitions. In the direction of Tabriz the Turks have been driven from the South Pass.

The enemy made a fruitless attack on the Uzsok Pass, where our troops on Saturday rushed the trenches and swept the enemy from the district. On Sunday our vanguard crossed the Dneister and attacked Chaboruki and took 1,300 prisoners and many machine guns.

London, May 12 (official):—Yesterday afternoon the Germans made another attack east of Ypres, in the neighborhood of the main road. Although they subjected the Allies' trenches to a very heavy bombardment and made their infantry advance under cover of poisonous gas, their attack failed. During this attack shrapnel from the Allies inflicted very heavy casualties on the enemy when they were in mass formation, literally mowing them down.

Paris, May 12 (official):—North of Dixmude Belgian troops, who succeeded in throwing up a bridge head on the right bank of Yser, were subjected to violent attacks by three German battalions last night. The Belgians repulsed these, inflicting heavy losses and taking about 50 prisoners. Another Belgian division has gained ground to the south of Dixmude.

East of Ypres, British troops have again been attacked with the aid of asphyxiating gases. Under the protection of masks recently put into use, they allowed the fumes to pass over, and by rifle and machine-gun fire they annihilated, at the very point of their guns, the German column which had advanced in close formation. The success of the Allies north of Arras was sensibly enlarged today. In an engagement of extreme violence in front of Loos, they captured, after a desperate struggle and despite an intense cannonade, an important German work and an entire system of trenches constructed along the road from Loos to Vermelles. Further south by assault the Allies captured the big blockhouse and the chapel of Notre Dame de Lorette. This position had been ardently defended for months by the Germans, who had turned it into a veritable fortress. It was surrounded and invested and was taken yesterday afternoon by the allied troops, who have, without pause, pursued success in pressing the enemy energetically between the chapel of Notre Dame de Lorette and Ablain St. Nazaire.

Franco-British forces, operating in the southern part of Gallipoli peninsula, supported by the guns of the Allied fleet, delivered a general attack on those positions of the Turks which had been penetrated the day before. Our troops, with conspicuous spirit and courage, carried at the point of the bayonet several lines of trenches on the heights near Krithnia. This gain has been consolidated.

Rome:—The Austrian and German consuls in Southern Italy are leaving, despatches from the frontier say. Notwithstanding substantial concessions made by Austria, Italy is expected to issue a proclamation of war. Austria has suspended navigation in the Adriatic. The government withholds details of the Austrian proposals.

London, May 13:—The British battleship Goliath has been torpedoed in the Dardanelles. Twenty officers and 160 men were saved, but it is feared 500 have been lost. The British submarine F-14 penetrated the Dardanelles and entered the Sea of Marmora, sinking two Turkish gunboats and one transport. The land forces are advancing and now dominate Gallipoli peninsula.

London:—The war office announces the capture of Windhoeck, the capital of German East Africa, by the British force under General Botha. Little resistance was offered. The victors secured large quantities of munitions. The town has a population of 15,000, and is an important railway center.

Violent anti-German riots occurred yesterday in Johannesburg. Over fifty buildings owned by Germans were destroyed, with a total loss of over a million dollars.

Throughout Australia riots also occur. Workmen refuse to work with Germans, and a national strike is threatened.

Paris, May 13 (official communication):—"Fighting to the north of Arras continued with extreme violence last night. The enemy, reinforced, delivered several counter-attacks, which, however, were without result. In that directed against Neuville St. Vaast the Germans suffered very heavy losses. We found in cemetery alone more than two hundred bodies of Germans and we took about 100 prisoners. A second attack between Carency and Ablain was likewise repulsed. A third from the direction of Ablain was completely checked."

London:—A report of Field-marshal Sir John French, dated May 12, says: "East of Ypres, last evening, we repulsed another German attack, south of Menin road. This was the third costly failure experienced by the Germans at this place yesterday. Elsewhere along the front there is no change in the situation."

Petrograd, May 13 (war office communication):—"In the Shavli region our troops on Tuesday continued to press successfully on the heels of retreating Germans, who have been driven back from the town of Shavli southwest. On the left bank of the Niemen and on the front of the Narew there is an almost general lull.

"On the left bank of the Vistula, south of Sokhatchoff, our infantry is in command, having crossed the Bzura on Tuesday night and captured, after a bayonet fight, a group of German trenches and took several dozens of prisoners and an officer. German attempts to attack our reconstruction of troops south of Skierniewice and Nava were repulsed. In Western Galicia, on Monday, our troops to the north, in the direction of Lutowiska, continued falling back to positions previously chosen, and the enemy's offensive was checked by our counter attack.

"In the direction of the Uzsok Pass and the Stry river, the Austrian attacks were repulsed, with great losses to the enemy. Near Rojanka, the enemy exploded a mine close to our trenches and followed this up with an attack on our positions in that vicinity. They succeeded in occupying part of the crater made by the explosion, but our men in a furious onslaught dislodged the Austrians, who fled in disorder, leaving several hundred dead. We also captured many prisoners.

"In the region of Javornik, we completed our success by an energetic offensive. During the last few days the enemy at this point has suffered heavy losses, leaving five thousand dead on the mountain slope."

London, May 14:—The steamer Collairna rammed and sunk a German submarine off the Northumberland coast.

A Dutch trawler was sunk by a German aeroplane, all the crew being lost.

The internment of 40,000 Austrians, Germans and Turks began today. All over military age, with women and children, are being deported.

Paris, May 13 (official):—The Belgian army, by a new attack last night, on the right bank of the Yser, repulsed the enemy, who left, in retiring, several hundred dead.

On the ground north of Arras, we have obtained some new and important results.

By the capture of Carency there has fallen into our hands much war material which it has not yet been possible to enumerate correctly. It includes two cannon, one howitzer, two mortars, a dozen bomb-throwers, a large number of machine guns, 3000 rifles and a large supply of shells and cartridges.

In the wood of Hill 165 we found the bodies of three companies of Germans who had been annihilated by our artillery.

The successes reported this morning in the Forest of Lepretre have made us masters of the last German organization which had still resisted in that wood. The entire position is now in our hands.

Liverpool, May 13:—Two hundred Germans in Liverpool have been attacked by rioters. The damage to property resulting from the attacks is estimated at $200,000. One hundred and fifty Germans were gathered today for internment and were removed under a military escort to Harwich, Northumberland. All public houses in Liverpool and district closed at 6 o'clock last evening.

London, May 14:—A despatch to the Times, from the Island of Lemnos, says the coast line of Gallipoli peninsula is now in the Allies' possession and that troopships from Egypt and France are landing reinforcements and guns.

London:—A Reuter despatch from Petrograd gives the following official statement regarding Russian military operations:

"In the fighting between the Vistula and the Carpathians from May 6 to May 9, the Germans planned to break our front by quick blows directed in the neighborhood of Krosno by five divisions of the German army, after heavy artillery preparations. The Germans gained no tactical success. Our reserves, by a flank blow, enabled our army to rearrange a line of advantage, our positions eliminating all fear of final retreat. Our army has received strong reinforcements and is ready to exact heavy revenge. Our falling back was carried out methodically. The enemy's losses were heavy.

J. McPherson, of Babine, returned on Saturday from a visit to the coast cities. He has received excellent assay retutns from his claims. Galena from the Lakefield, on Copper Island, carried 53 per cent lead and 48 oz. silver.

Charles P. Richardson is here from Kitselas, with some nice-looking copper ore from the Busted Prospector group on Kitselas mountain. Some development work will be done this season, and Mr. Richardson expects to interest outside capitalists in this promising property.

Chief Johnny Patsey requests The Miner to extend his hearty thanks to Dr. and Mrs. Wrinch, Mr. Loring, Mr. Harris, Mr. Reid and Mr. and Mrs. Cox for their kind money donations, and also to thank those who worked so hard, during the burning of his house, saving most of the valuable contents.
