LASKA GOLD RUSH STARTS MINERS LEAVE SEATTLE

ne Man Makes Sure of Fortune by Planning to Start a Chicken Ranch in the Iditarod District ---Will Sell Hen-Fruit at $6 Per Dozen

(Special to the Optimist)

eattle, March 6.—The rush for the ska gold fields started in real earnest ay, when the steamer Admiral Sampson left the port with a full passenger and over a thousand tons of freight. re was a great demand for berths, only those who had secured resations long in advance were able obtain accommodation on board. cargo is mainly composed of tents, visions for prospecting parties, and ing equipment. Other steamers to follow in the course of a few days have their accommodation all bought up in advance.

One of the most interesting items in the manifest of the Admiral Sampson is that of several crates of live chickens. The enterprising owner is taking them out to Iditarod district, there to start a chicken ranch. He claims that the nearest competition in the way of laying hens will be five hundred miles away. With eggs selling at six dollar a dozen he is calculating on making his fortune no matter who finds the gold mines.

Why Does Willie Not Visit Us?

The Vancouver World of Feb. 28th has the following interesting paragraph:

"Mr. Wm. Manson, M.P.P. for Skeena, and Mayor of Prince Rupert, is spending a week with relatives in the city."

If Mr. Wm. Manson can retire from his Legislative duties early in the session to go visiting relatives, why does he not come home to Rupert, to the folks who are paying him salary for twelve months?

Even if he cannot straighten out this wretched strike tangle, it would look better to be on the spot attending to duty.

This absentee Mayor business can be carried too far.

AUTHORITIES ARE URGED TO REPRESS SOCIAL EVIL

Mr. L. W. Patmore Suggests That Our Streets and Public Assemblies Must be Forbidden Certain People---Earnest Address by Dr. W. T. Kergin to Large Audience

On Sunday afternoon at a crowded meeting, for men only, held in the Empress Theatre Dr. W. T. Kergin, L. W. Patmore, and Bishop Du Vernet dealt with the subject of the Social Evil. Bishop Du Vernet presided. L. W. Patmore dealt with the legal aspect of the subject and Dr. Kergin spoke from the medical point of view. The doctor's address was marked with great earnestness. He spoke of the difficulty of dealing with this problem of sin and its attendant suffering which has been with the human race for ages, and is deep rooted in passions perverted by artificial conditions of life. Touching on the terrible toll of disease, misery and death (often to the innocent) which is the direct result of the sin dealt with, Dr. Kergin gave to his hearers the cold, clear warning of medical science that the punishment of this sin is relentlessly severe, and hat "the sins of the fathers are visited upon the children even unto the third and fourth generation." Doctor Kergin spoke of

A CIVIL WAR AT ZION CITY

DOWIEITES ARE UP IN ARMS AND RIOTING

They Resent the Order of the State Board of Health Compelling Them All to be Vaccinated. Armed Guards Are on the Streets.

(Special to the Optimist)

Zion City, March 6.—There is war—civil war—in Zion today. The order of the State Board of Health ordering the citizens to be vaccinated is at the bottom of the trouble. President Voliva is at the head of the rebellion against the civil authorities. He had had a drum placed at the top of the citadel. At a drum beat, given on every approach of the vaccination squad, the faithful turn out in force to repel them.

The rioting has been caused by internal dissensions. The anti-Volivaites are with the authorities, and this caused rioting. Rioting was only stopped by the intervention of armed guards, who were posted to prevent any outbreak from the anti-Volivaites.

RECIPROCITY IS AID TO FISHING

WM. SLOAN GIVES OPINION TO THE PEOPLE OF TORONTO

Says That Reciprocity Will be a Great Aid to Fishing, Lumbering and Mining—Will Not Injure the B. C. Fruit Business.

(Special to the Optimist)

Toronto, March 6.—"The reciprocity agreement will prove a great stimulus to the fishing industry of British Columbia, the mining and the lumbering trades," said William Sloan in an interview here today.

Mr. Sloan says he is in the East on private business. He does not expect any set-back to the fruit trade of British Columbia if the agre ment passes. "The orchards of British Columbia are not fully developed yet. It will take five years for them to reach their full producing stage, and by that time the demand on the prairies will far exceed the supply," he said.

WILL NOT LEASE INTER-COLONIAL

AUTHORITATIVE STATEMENT BY HON. GEO. GRAHAM IS MADE

Says No Negotiations Are in Progress, and That the Line Will Remain a Government Line for Some Time Yet.

(Special to the Optimist)

Toronto, March 6.—Rumors current for a year or more past that the C. N. R. and other private companies were anxious to arrange for the leasing of the Inter-Colonial Railway, were set at rest today by an authoritative statement from Hon. Geo. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals.

"There are no negotiations going on for the acquisation or lease of the Inter-Colonial by any private company. The line will remain a Government road for a long time yet," said Mr. Graham in answer to a direct question.

MAY MAY NOT

C. P. R.'s Favorite Princess Perhaps Won't Arrive Tonight

There is no official confirmation of the rumor current in the city that the steamer Princess May will not be here tonight as expected. But the Princess Ena brought the news that the May might not be ready in time, and at the C. P. R. office it was stated that the Beatrice might take her place.

S. Camozzi of the Grand View Hotel, was charged in today's police court with having sold liquor without a licence. This is the outcome of the statements that the high board bills of certain men on strike, were due to their having been supplied with whisky. The case stands adjourned.

HOW RECIPROCITY WILL BOOST PRINCE RUPERT

Arguments to show how reciprocity would result in building up the fishing industry in Prince Rupert and all along the Coast of northern British Columbia have been presented in this paper during the controversy over the proposed trade agreement.

A striking corroboration comes from Seattle. In the Seattle Daily Times of March 2nd is an article on reciprocity in which the following statement appears:—

"J. P. Todd, the best posted man on fishing matters in the Northwest, has pointed out a serious objection to some of his friends in Seattle. Under the reciprocity bill fish are admitted free of duty, and Todd shows that if this measure carries the halibut fleet that makes Seattle its headquarters will move to Prince Rupert as soon as the Grand Trunk Pacific is completed to the Coast.

This action is logical for the fishing fleet could save two or three days time by making Prince Rupert its headquarters, and could ship direct Eastern markets just as now can be done from Seattle. The loss to Seattle would be whatever money or business 6,000 men involve."

Six thousand fishermen, their ships, their families and their business would make quite an addition to Prince Rupert's population and wealth.

In the same article it is claimed the reciprocity bill "will give Canadian lumbermen, equipped with cheap labor and low stumpage charges, an unlimited lumber and shingle market in the States."

The Revival of Morris Dancing

Children in England are learning the old-fashioned morris dances and their elders look on with delight. In the large cities of the United States the folk dances of the countries of the old world are being taught the children of the schools in the poorer districts. This revival of dancing is looked upon as an excellent sign of he times by many observers.

The dance is glorified movement as poetry is glorified speech. Only, of course, in the greatest dancers is this mastery complete; but the ordinary child can learn a great deal of the art of bodily expression, enough at least to play his part in the dance as a player of ordinary powers can play his part in a band. Indeed, the art of dancing is e idently far easier han the art of music, since children can be quickly trained so that their dancing will give the most exquisite pleasure to onlookers, so that while they dance they seem to live and move and have their being in a golden age of common and innocent delight. To see them dancing thus is to undergo a very strange and moving experience. For as they take to the dance with an eagerness that proves they have some inherited desire and aptitude for it, so the sight of them dancing stir the onlooker to a delight which appears so familiar that there must be some kind of inherited memory in it. They recall to him a past which he has never known, they speak a language which he has never heard yet understands as soon as he hears it.

Causes of Long Life

A hereditary tendency to long life.

A moderation approaching asceticism in eating and drinking.

A serene disposition.

Congenial work, and abundance of it.

Ability to see the playful side of life—"the sense of humor," as it is called.

Daily open-air exercise; preferably walking or wood chopping.

Sound sleep every night, six to eight hours.

Recuperative power.

It will be noted that neither health nor wealth is included in this summing up. In point of fact, many centenarians have had periods of invalidism, the result of apparently chronic or obviously acute disease. An American centenarian, Miss Yardley, who died in Chicago some years ago at the mellow age of one hundred and five, had been given but six months to live when her physicians declared her incurable at eighteen. The veteran American humorist, Donald G. Mitchell ("Ik Marvel"), was also "a hopeless case" before he reached twenty. In these and in other cases the hinth cause of longevity, "recuperative power," was most strongly marked. Indeed, insurance experts, especially in England, are inclined to place the ability to recuperate as the first desirable qualification for a long-life "risk."

If absolute health is not a condition of longevity, great wealth is still less so. Most of the centenarians have been poor, or but moderately provided with worldly goods. The few who had command of money lived frugally, avoiding all the grossness, all the excitement, all the fatigue and all th extravagances which shorten the lives of so many rich people.

TWO NEW RECIPES

Mush Muffins

Two cupfuls of warm cornmeal mush, two cupfuls of milk, two tablespoon uls of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, and sufficient flour to make a drop batter. Mix in order given; add one-half yeast cake dissolved in a little lukewarm water, and heat five minutes. Stand i a warm place until light. Half fill your muffin rings, set on a well greased griddle and, when raised and brown on the under side, turn and brown on the other dies.

Crystalized Nuts

Boil slowly together two cupfuls of granulated sugar and one cupful of water until on dropping a little ice water it can be rolled in a ball between the fingers. Pour it into a straight sided pan of such size as to have the syrup one inch deep. Gently drop in the nuts to be crystallized, not allowing one to touch the other. Set aside in a dry, m derately warm place and leave undisturbed for twenty-four hours. If hen sufficiently covered with the crystals, drain off the syrup and put the pan in a cool place until the nuts are dry.

HOUSEHOLD HITS

When carpets are not taken up, they can be greatly freshened by washing over with wdter to which a tablespoonful of ammonia has been added to each pail of water. This should be done after a thorough sweeping.

An excellent way to remove a spot from a dark woollen skirt, is to rub it hard wi h a piece of soft old linen. In nine cases out of ten the spot will be absorbed by the linen without any cleaning fluid being applied.

For a meat pie crust take a quart of flour, add three tablespoonfuls of lard, two and a half cups of milk, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a teaspoonful of salt. Work all together as quickly and lightly as possible.

TROUSER SKIRTS ARE JEERED AT

DISORDERLY SCENES ARE WITNESSED IN PARIS

Several Parisian Gentlemen Thought the Fashion so Unladylike They Pelted the Wearer with Eggs—Police Had to Protect Woman.

Paris, Feb. 28.—Incidents of public disturbances accompanying the appearance in the streets of women wearing the new trouser skirts occur daily. The Avenue de l'Opera was the scene of one of the most serious male outbreaks. The woman having been surrounded by a laughing, jeering crowd, was unable to proceed, and a man, taking advantage of the occasion, purchased a basket of eggs from a dealer in a side street and distributed them among the other men, who in order to show their disapproval of what they considered unladylike conduct, pelted the helpless wearer of the new garment until a squad of police intervened and aided the woman to escape.

Doubts appear to have arisen among the leading Paris dressmakers as to whether the skirt will be adopted by women as a general fashion. But few have been ordered thus far, and these have gone chiefly to women from abroad who are shopping and wish to take home the latest sensation. Many have been sent to America.

PLUCK

Did you tackle that trouble that came your way
With a resolute heart and cheerful?
Or hide your face from the light of day
With a craven soul and fearful?
Oh, a trouble's a ton, or trouble's an ounce,
Or a trouble is what you make it;
And it isn't the fact that you're hurt that counts—
But only how did you take it?

You are beaten to earth? Well, well, what's that?
Come up with a smiling face.
It's nothing against you to fall down flat,
But to lie there—that's disgrace.
The higher you're thrown, why, the higher you bounce,
Be proud of your blackened eye.
It isn't the fact that you're licked that counts,
It's how did you fight and why?

And though you be done to the death—what then?
If you battled the best you could,
If you played your part in the world like men,
Why, the Critic would call it good.
Death comes with a crawl or comes with a bounce.
And whether he's slow or spry,
It isn't the fact that you're dead that Counts,
But only how did you die?

BLIND TROOPER WEDS HEIRESS

TROOPER MOLLOY'S BRIDE IS WEALTHY SEATTLE GIRL

Blind Hero of South African War Met Miss Jean Munro Six Years Ago in London—She Has Studied Under Tetrazzini.

Ottawa, March 4.—A marriage of much interest to Canadians generally took place in the Methodist church at Waddington, N. Y., yesterday when Trooper L. W. R. Mulloy, the blind hero of the South African campaign, led to the latar Miss Jean Munro, daughter of a Seattle, Washington, millionaire and the possessor of half a million in her own right. Trooper Mulloy is in the novel position of having never seen his bride, as the romance which culminated in the recent engagement only began some years after he received the injuries which resulted in his complete loss of sight, he having met her in London, England, about six years ago. The trooper himself gave out the news of his intending nuptials recently, surprising a party of friends by calmly remarking that when they next saw him they would see him "double." Miss Munro is an accomplished musician and the possesor of a ma nificent soprano voice. She has studied in Italy for five years, and was a companion of Madame Tetrazzini, the noted opera singer.

TORONTO GETS WATER AGAIN

FORTY MEN AND A DIVER CLEARED THE OBSTRUCTION

City Had to Send a Hundred Sleighs Laden With Water Barrels to Keep the City from Going Thirsty.

Toronto, March 3.—After two days' suspension of water services the obstruction in the intake pipe was dislodged at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and in a few hours water passed northward from the downtown district to the highest points in the city, filled the reserve mains, and started filling up the empty reservoir. The conditions which made the blockade possible, the immense field of ice extending five miles from shore, remained unchanged, although the wind lessened considerably during the afternoon. A wind off shore, it was said, would relieve the engineering department of much of its anxiety, and perhaps clear the danger zone.

Forty men and a diver were engaged in clearing away the ice and sand at the intake, and removed nearly a thousand cubic feet. Two centrifugal six-inch pumps were used.

Property and Street Commissioner Harris did not relax his preparations to extend relief, despite the improved conditions. Although the pressure gauge in Waterworks Engineer Fellowes' office indicated by twenty minutes to four yesterday afternoon that normal conditions had been established, Mr. Harris allowed his men, with 108 sleighs and 883 barrels of water, to finish their rounds, the drivers increasing the humorous features of life in the outskirts very materially by tooting horns to let the householders know where and when the water was to be had.

THE "NEW DIRECTOR"

Interesting Pen Sketch of Sir Felix Schuster of the G. T. P.

Now that he is a Director of t e Grand Trunk Railwaty Canadi ns will take more interest in the public utterances of Sir Felix Schuster. Sir Felix is the Governor of the Union of London and Smiths Bank, Limited, and is possibly the foremost banking authority in London. Recently he has attracted attention to his scheme for the popularization of the British Consuls, which scheme includes the re-conversion of the premier British security on a three per cent basis.

Sir Felix should take an especial interest in the mountain section of the Grand Trunk Pacific, for he is Vice-President of the Alpine Club and fond of mountain climbing. He has occupied the chief offices in most of the larger banking associations and is a member of the Council of the British Empire League. One of his offices at present is that of Governor of the London School of Economics.

DAILY EDITION. MONDAY, MARCH 6

The Muzzled Watchdog

At the time of Alderman Newton's election, the hope was widely expressed that he would prove a watchdog on the council. His readiness to bark and waken the town at the slightest whisper, his genius for making a noise before investigating the facts, justified that belief.

In this, however, the public has been disappointed. The watchdog has been muzzled. Naughty oys may throw stones at him or pull his tail, but he snuggles quietly in the corner of his kennel.

It is not that the watchdog's spirit is broken. He is still as able to bark at a shadow as ever. But his bark is not valued now. His friends prefer to dispense with his aid, so that they are not troubled with his bark. There is mystery about it.

To be more explicit, the public are wondering why Alderman Newton keeps silence in the face of the demand that he explain his Skating Rink utterances. "Every individual on the city staff will receive cons deration" he told the Industrial Workers. "Do you understand that without it being put in a bald way" he continued, and went on to explain that it was the council's intention to give all the workers increases, save the snow shovellers, who could be paid 37 1-2 cents "so as to show in court if necessary that such a thing xists."

Now the public does not understand the matter "without its being put in a bald way." They are anxious that the alderman whom they appointed to look after their interests should enlighten them in a plain honest way as to what actually is the nature of the settlement they have made with the Industrial Workers. In this many of the Industrial Workers join, preferring that any concessions made to them by the coun il shou d be open and above board, and not granted surreptitiously.

If Alderman Newton's words mean anything at all, they mean that the council's resoluti n was drafted to bear a different interpretation than appears on its face.

Knowing how Alderman Newton once drafted a charge of "Selling liquor to non-license holders" against Alderman Mobley, which bore a very different interpretation than appeared on its face, the public have grounds for uneasiness.

Knowing how the pre-election promises of wage increases were drafted by some of the members of the city council to bear a very different interpre ation than appeared on their face, the workingmen also have grounds for uneasiness.

The editorial silence which has followed Alderman Newton's speech at the Skating Rink confirms the impression that there is something in the alderman's remarks. Why not unmuzzle the watchdog? Why not let the public know if the alderman's explanation of the resolution on the wage increase is a correct one?

Justified His Defeat

(New York Times)

Mr. William S. Bennett, who for a little more than a fortnight longer will represent the Seventeenth New York District in Congress and then retire to private life, has thoroughly justified his defeat at the last election. The impertinent resolution requesting the President to begin negotiations for the annexation of Canada, which he shamelessly introduced Thursday, is an example of a kind of politics that would not astonish anybody if, say, Mr. Macon of Arkansas was the offender. Mr. Bennett, who has hitherto posed as a man of serious character, an energetic if somewhat juvenile statesman looking to the welfare of his country, has fairly put himself in the blatherskite class. A fine ending to his public career this solicitous friend and supposed confidant of Gov. Hughes has made

The resolution was offered only to be rejected. Its sole purpose is to cause trouble in England and Canada. Probably some of the English newspapers which have been opposing Canadian reciprocity will point out that Mr. Bennett's record, until lately, has been fairly good, and that he has won some sort of repute for ability. He has permitted himself to be used as a catspaw. The reciprocity agreement wi l prevail in spite of a thousand Bennetts. Intelligent Englishmen understand the Bennett kind of politics. There is plenty of the same sort of thing in Parliament. The measure cannot be beaten in Canada. All the mischief it can accomplish has already been accomplished, and that is not worth worrying about. The voters of the Seventeenth District who elected Mr. Henry George to Congres in November will congratulate themselves on their judgment and foresight.

TO DEVELOP NAAS RIVER

Preparations Being Made to Bring in the English Colony

Vancouver, March 3.—Mr. J. S. Rear has just received word from Mr. Keefer, the Dominion Government engineer at New Westminster, that the Federal Government has authorized him to blast the rocks, etc., out of the Naas River as soon as he can get his men up the river, and place the same in condition for navigation by river boats from the Naas Harbor to the entrance to the Naas Valley. This is a most important move as it will enable river boats to run right up to the end of the valley. An English syndicate has made arrangements to place a number of settlers from t e British Isles and to colonize the whole valley. Mr. Rear is at the head of this syndicate.

REMARKED AROUND TOWN

Tiny Trifles Tripped Over on the Trot To and Fro

Hot meals are being provided at the Industrial Hall on Third avenue, by the P. R. I. A. to a few of the strikers who are shy of the needful. A good cook stove has been provided, and likewise a capable cook.

At the wharf today, the Pr ncess Ena is discharging coal. She brought up coal, lumber, and machinery consigned to Prince Rupert. The machinery is for the Sash & Door Factory.

In the police court today, L. Pavlou charged with the illegal sale of spirits, addressed the Magistrate as "Mr. Chairman." Result of attending strike meetings no doubt. Pavlou, fined $5, had no money. Three months.

H. F. McRae writes to his local headquarters that business at his Vancouver branch is going strong. Rupert lots continue in demand down below, and with freshening in erest too.

Stanley Baldwin who early poisoned himself with carbolic acid ion Saturday is be ter now. He has been removed from the hospital to the police cell.

Was it a Prin e Rupert boy who when asked "Who's speaking please?" over the 'phone today, cheerfully answered "Me"

City Council tonight. City Clerk Wo ds has been very busy signing cheques for contract employees, and for the city employees for the past day or two.

From Edmonton, C. Planitz sends news to Prince Rupert of a briskening in real estate over there. Edmonton investors also think well of Prince Rupert lots.

READS SOMEWHAT CONTRADICTORY

MANITOBA FREE PRESS HAS TWO EDITORIALS

One Praises Sifton's Speech Against Reciprocit —The Other Condemns the Wh le Agitation Against It as a Manufactured One.

Winnipeg, March 4.—There is a strange anomaly today on the editorial page of the Free Press, which is owned by Hon. Clifford Sifton. An editorial leader headed "P aying with fire,' bitterl assails, en masse, those who oppose reciprocity, while a half column editorial devoted to Mr. Sifton's speech, runs in part, as follows:

"It is this note of independence and personal conviction which gives the speech its distinction, making it the first memorable and formidable criticism of the agreement that has been submitted to the House. It will be universally read and gives careful and respectful condiseration by all and not less by those political associates of Mr. Sifton who have not been able to see eye to eye with him n this matter."

In the course of the editorial attacking those who oppose reciprocity, the Free Press says:

"A blind man can see that the agitation, in a large degree, is not spontaneous. It is being planned, nursed, stage-managed, financed and advertised. Who are the men on the job? First, of course, the leaders of the Conservative party who, living up t the full opportunities of their positions are opposing the government with all the resources at their command. Beyond doubt, organized and powerful business interests have thrown the full weight of their enormous influence into the fray to prevent, if possible, the ratification of the agreement. These interests are not difficult to identify. They are chiefly the manufacturers of Ontario. Scratch a manufacturer and you find almost invariably an inveterate foe of reciprocity."

Tommy—On top or sideways?

Teacher—What do you mean by on top or sideways?

Tommy—Why, half from the top of 8 is 0 and half of it sideways is 3.

Napoleon was waiting anxiously for Grouchy.

"He has th key to the situation" muttered the great commander.

But he was wrong for once. There wasn't any key. It was a time lock that held the situation, and Grouchy had set it wrong.

"Thank goodness," he cried, "that will force the landlord to repaper the room."

Herewith he wished it had extended to the whole flat.

The minister was shaking hands with a new membe of his co gregation, a girl fresh from Sweden, and said, cordially: "I would like to know your address so I can call on you."

"Oh," said the girl, innocently. "I haf a man."

MOTHER

(Written by an Australian girl aged 16)

So long the day has seemed
Left all alone;
So sad and still the home,
With mother gone.

The swing beneath the elm
Has lost its charm.
For what can send it up
Like mother's arm.

With books and dolls and toys
I love to play,
But joy—and mother, too—
Have gone away.

So slowly falls the night,
And from my cot,
I listen for her step,
And hear it not.

And then—oh, hush—she comes
My heart beats fast,
And joy—and mother, too—
Have come at last.

WOULD LIKE COUNCIL TO PAY OFF CONTRACTORS

Workingmen on Strike Think They See a Way by Which They Could Then Get 45 cent Rate--No More Strike Breakers to Come.

General and minor matters in relation to the strike from the principal subjects of discussion at the P. R. I. A. meeting last night in their hall on Third avenue. The general feeling of the meeting was expressed by a speaker who said hat the workers felt that the responsibility for the strike lay entirely with the contractors who still held out agai st the 45 cent rate. The workers would be surprised if the community of Prince Rupert favored the cont nuance of the difficulty, and wished to see the improvement work in the city to remain at a standstill just to suit the pockets of two or three contractors who were not in business for their health.

Not Angry With Council

No kick comes to the city council from the P. R. I. A. at present. The workers' war is all against the contractors. It will be found that the strongest resistance to the increase comes from the English-speaking contractors concerned. Today, in fact, Lackovitch's gang resumed operations on Third avenue near Fifth street and an understanding exists that Louis Vuckavitch will start his men up at the 45 cent rate tomorrow. There is a strong probability that M. Gurvitch will follow suit. McInnis & Kelly, . P. McMordie, and S. H. Watson hold out, and remark that it is easy for the non-English speaking contractors to come through with the raise as they work in the cuts with their gangs more or less, and share and share with the men.

The Strikers' Argument

The strikers maintain that whether they gain the increase or not, the contractors stand to lose by their resistance to it. If they try to break the strike with imported abor, say the men, they will have to use inexperienced rockmen and laborers of the Vancouver "out of work" class, clerks out of jobs, and "down and outs." "We have good men, trained rockmen and miners in our ranks," say the strikers, "and such men cannot be brought in here for less than $3.50 a day. Only a poor class of men will scab on their fellow-workers."

Want Council to Break Contracts

An idea which comes in for quite a lot of approval among the workers is that the city should arrange to pay off the contractors for the work already done, and have the work completed by the men on strike at the city wage rate of 45 cents an hour The men declare that they could put on two shi ts if necessary, and do the grading bet er and quicker than it is being done now as they have the best rockmen in their ranks.

No Newcomers Expected

It is not anticipated by the P. R. I. A. that any more labor will be invited here from the south. "But if it comes, we are ready with a welcome for it like the last," they say. As a matter of fact, R. A. McMordie remarked this morning that it was not the intention to bring in any more labor to be absorbed by the strikers. From the contract rs' point of view, he said that the effect of the strike was trifling. The work is of a nature to lie idle unharmed. Only the interest on capital outlay or plant is being lost. As for the $25 per day penalty clause for delay over the time limit, Mr. McMordie is of the opinion that this is not likely to be enforced. The time limit is liable to be extended to compensate for delay occasion d by city operations on the contract area.

Mr. John Goodman Wants Empire's Report Corrected

Mr. John Goodman, proprietor of the Grand Hotel, who was reported in Saturday's Empire as having been charged with permitting gambling on his premises, has requested the Optimist to contradict the statement. Mr. Goodman says he was not summoned to court, either as a principal, or even as a witness. He was not present at the time the police entered his house. The charge, which was against a guest at his house, was dismissed, as the game which the men were playing when the police entered was not for money.

TO REPRESS SOCIAL EVIL

the girls of the dead line as often more sinned against than sinning at first, and said that the saddest lives on earth are theirs.

Taking up the legal aspect of the evil, L. W. Patmore expounded the law of the Dominion on the subject showing that it is comprehensive and leaves no loophole for the offender male or female to escape the punish ments of the Law. "But," said Mr. Patmore, "the police and magisterial system of any community is but the mirror of that community's moral sense." Therefore in certain places, chiefly in Western Canada, the segregation of vice is allowed. From the historical point of view Mr. Patmore spoke showing that the social evil has baffled various systems of dealing with it. In Paris the home of the segregation system the evil extends beyond its segregation limits to nearly thrice the extent of its roll within them. Mr. Patmore emphasised the importance of keeping this evil well confined and controlled. "Young girls," he said, "seeing these women at concerts and public assemblies, hearing their laughter, seeing their jewels and fine dresses are apt to be led away to think lightly of the life these women lead. They do not know of the bitterness and degradation of the life. Whatever we do, and I do not speak on the subject as a dogmatist in any sense, we must insist that if these women. if tolerated are kept off our streets and away from our public assemblies."

Bishop Du Vernet's brief but eloquent appeal to the moral and spiritual sense of his hearers closed the meeting with a strong note of confidence in the ultimate triumph of purity and goodness through education and legislation under the power of God.
