PRESIDENT TAFT TO CALL EXTRA SESSION OF SENATE

Awaiting Formal Notice to Issue the Order—Determined to Beat the Blocking Tactics—Ottawa Awaits News With Keenest Interest

(Special to the Optimist)

Washington, March 4.—Direct from the White House, practically from the lips of the President himself came the intimation this morning that the President had abandoned all hope of the Senate passing the Canadian reciprocity agreement before the end of the session, and that he is only awaiting the formal announcement of the Senate's failure to issue an order for the extra session.

The disappointment of the President at the delay in taking up the reciprocity agreement is known to be intense. He is quite determined to force the matter in the Senate

Ottawa, March 4.—The interest in the reciprocity discussion is now all centred at Washington. "What will the Senate do with the bill?" is the one great topic of conversation in official circles.

The Conservatives make no secret of their wish that the American Senate will not only fail to put the measure through at the present session, but that President Taft instead of calling a special session will allow the matter to lie until it is taken up at the next regular session of the Senate.

The Liberals are equally frank in their hope that the Senate will force the matter through before ending their deliberations. Failing that they are looking to President Taft to call a special meeting of the Senate

INDIAN CHIEFS SEE McBRIDE

THEY WANT COURTS TO DECIDE QUESTION OF TITLE

Ninety-six Chiefs Present Memorial Claiming Proprietory Rights on Unsurrendered Land—Get Small Comfort.

(Special to the Optimist)

Victoria, March 4.—The ninety-six Indian chiefs and delegates who called on Premier McBride yesterday afternoon to present a memorial claiming proprietory rights to all unsurrendered lands in the Province, got small comfort. They made an imposing deputation and their spokesmen went right to the heart of the subject. He said "We wish to hear from you whether you claim that this big country called British Columbia belongs to you, or does it belong to the Indians. If you claim to own the country, we are of the opposite opinion, and we desire to go to some big court house and get it settled."

In reply, the Premier informed the deputation that the question of title had already been settled and would not be reopened. The Indians have no legal claim to the unsurrendered lands, he said.

His two companions were sentenced to terms of fifteen years each.

Their business with the railway company is said to be connected with the proposed scheme of putting the Pacific Empresses on the route between Canada, Boston and the West Indies next spring, when the new Pacific liners replace them on the China route.

Following the news of the new Ontario legislation providing for special taxation on all bars which do more than $40 a day business, comes the announcement from the Toronto hotel keepers that a raise in the price of drinks will take place at all Toronto bars.

Under the old scale drinks were two for twenty-five. The new tariff makes them fifteen cents straight. Tue new legislation is not proving popular.

STANLEY BALDWIN DRINKS DOSE OF CARBOLIC ACID

Is Now Under Guard at the Hospital on a Charge of Attempting to Commit Suicide—Domestic Troubles Said to be at Bottom of it

Painfully burned internally with carbolic acid, Stanley Baldwin was hurried to the hospital yesterday afternoon. Prompt application of the stomach pump saved his life, but his condition is still critical.

Baldwin's wife is also burned about the hands by the acid, and says that her husband poured the stuff into a dipper and was going to drink it. Her hands were burned by the spilling of the acid in the struggle with him. Whether Baldwin intended to throw the liquid at his wife or not is not clear, but that he drank some of it is sure. He will be charged with attempting suicide as soon as he is well enough to appear in court, and may or may not be charged with assaulting his wife with the intent to do bodily harm. He is under guard while in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin lived in a shack at the back of the Grand View Hotel. Mrs. Baldwin came here only about ten days ago. Her husband has been here about ten months. There are three children, and the trouble is said to have arisen over the custody of them in the event of the husband and wife's living again in different towns

JAD WOLGAST IS DEFEATED

WORLD'S CHAMPION LIGHTWEIGHT MEETS HIS MATCH

"Knock-out Brown" of New York Gained Popular Decision of the Champion in a Slashing Ten Round Bout.

(Special to the Optimist)

New York, March 4.—Ad. Wolgast, the world's champion lightweight went down to defeat last night in a slashing ten round bout with "Knock-out Brown" a local lad who gave the champion a severe handling.

The boys met first in a match three weeks ago when Wolgast got slightly the better of the exchanges. Brown showed up so well however that another match was arranged. Last night, Brown forced the fighting from the start and throughout gave more punishment than he received. The decision was a popular one.

NO ASIATICS FOR AUSTRALIA

"WHITE MAN'S POLICY" IS DECIDED ON BY MINISTRY

Japanese Pearl Fishers on North Coast Are to be Expelled—Will Give Japanese Spies no Opportunities to Learn Things.

Melbourne, March 3.—The federal government has gone a step further in its campaign against the Asiatics in Australasia. Regulations have just been issued which will have the effect of practically expelling the Orientals who are engaged in the pearl fisheries on the north coast of West Australia. Although the trade is worth to the Commonwealth about one hundred thousand pounds sterling the government has made no scruple in carrying out its policy. The ostensible reason of the ministry's action is that the "White Australia" policy permits of no infringements such as are caused by the presence of the pearlers on the coasts but the real reason is that the authorities charged with the duty of securing the defence of the island continent are anxious lest the Japanese should have an opportunity of spying out the land.

Under the compulsory service law 125,000 boys have registered for army training. These figures show that the response by the youths of the Federation has been most enthusiastic.

DEVOTED PRINCIPALLY TO THE INTERESTS OF WOMEN

This is a little section of the paper, which from day to day will be devoted to subjects of special interest to women. Any and all of the ladies of Prince Rupert are invited to contribute to its columns, and to take part in its discussions. Suggestions and criticisms are invited by the editor. The hope is expressed that "The Cosy Corner" will fill a social need.

Have Women a Sense of Humor;

Once in a while (if not more often) there arises public discussion on that. Eternal Question—have women a sense of humor. People write letters to say that women have no more claim to be considered humorous than a High Court judge has.

Other people write on scented notepaper to declare that a woman's sense of humor is keen enough to cut things with. But in the end all the talk dies down, and is eventually buried under the epitaph "This discussion must now cease."

Let me settle the matter now, once and for all. My dictionary defines humor as "a mental quality which delights in ludicrous and mirthful ideas."

N w consider, for example, the hobble skirt. It is ludicrous and mirthful. Women delight in it. Therefore—Quite so

Men undoubtedly possess more humor than women, but women don't use theirs up so quickly. A little humor goes a long way with a woman; she has an insight for economy.

A sense of humor, remember, does not lie in an ability to laugh. I know men who laugh till their ears ache, and yet they have no real sense of humor.

Many a woman owes her dazzling smile to her dentist, and not to her bump of h.mor. A t ing need not necessarily be funny because they feel like it, and many women laugh because they feel they ought to.

And remember, my son, that a woman usually laughs her heartiest when she wants to exasperate a man. And there's nothing funny in that

There are two certain ways of amusing a woman with a sense of humor. You can either propose marriage to her, or propose to some one else. A woman always thinks it's fu ny you could possibly expect her to marry you; and she always thinks it's funny you could ever think of marrying any one else.

Comic literature does not appeal to women unless it is in manuscript, is delivered by post, an. has a lot of little crosses at the foot of the page.

The feminine idea of smart repartee is to get in the last words. Any old words will do, so long as they are the last. I am such an admirer of wit that I would give anything to hear the very last words of some women.—F. Morton Howard in London Opinion.

How About the Harem Skirt;

In pen ing the above delicious bit of satirical humor about the hobble skirt Mr. Morton Howard discreetly forgot to drag in the trousers skirt. Nothing more clearly proves the interfering nature of the average man's humor than the reports of its reception. In New York, Madrid and Paris the wearers were obliged to seek police protection. In the latter abode of chivalry a crowd of men threw eggs at the costume of a woman who was brave enough to become a pioneer of the new fashion.

Granted even that women are taking a backward step in rationalising their costume to make it more like that of men, it seems an amazing impertinence of any man to say how any woman's costume should be cut.

Embroidered Monograms

I take the embroidered initial or monogram from old bolster and pillow cases and use them on new slips. Cut letter from old slip, leaving a three-inch square around it (letters for bed-linen are usually two inches); then cut the material to form an oval, leaving a small margin to turn under. Sew to the new slip, then outline with embroidery cotton to conceal stitches. Outline another row one-fourth of an inch from the first and work eyelets at intervals between the rows to form a medallion. The result is even prettier than when first embroidered.

USEFUL HINTS

Children's hair should never be strained tightly off the forehead if you wish it to grow thick. Receding hair in later life is often caused in this way.

Eggs are most easily disgested when eaten raw. If this is impossible, place them in a pan of nearly boiling water, and stand at the side of the stove for seven to eight minutes.

Hot water is a simple drink that ought to be more popular, for it promotes secretion better than cold, and is at all times a stimulant of no mean nature. Taken the last thing at night and in the early morning this beverage is a boon to gouty people.

DAILY COOKERY HINTS

Macaroni With Brown Sauce

Boil one-quarter of a pound of macaroni in plenty of boiling stock fifteen or twenty minutes or until tender. Drain in a colander. Melt and brown two tablespoonfuls of butter; add two teaspoonsful of flour; mix until smooth and brown; then add the stock drained from the macaroni (there should be one pint). Stir continually until it thickens, add one tablespoonful of mushroom catsup and the macar ni; stir until it is heated through; season and serve.

German Salad

One small head of cabbage, one large beet, six boiled eggs. Cut the cabbage as fine as you would for slaw; season with salt and pepper. Place this on a flat dish, pile it quite high, and arrange around with alternating slices of boiled beet and hard boiled eggs. Garnish the edge thickly with the delicate part of celery curled and the small leaves. Do not stir the mixture with the vegetables and boil the eggs twenty minutes. Whip to a thick froth a pint of rich cream and pour over the whole.

C.N.R. MAGNATE ON RECIPROCITY

SIR. WM. MACKENZIE MAKES AN OFFICIAL STAT M NT

Thinks Fruit Growers Wil Not be Hurt, Railways Will See that Canadian Wheat Does Not Go to U. S. Mills.

Winnipeg, March 3.—In a cable received here from Sir William Mackenzie he says his views on the proposed reciprocity agreement have been misrepresented. He is of the opinion that some details of the treaty are good and some are bad. He does not think the fruit growers will be seriously affected and he says the railways will see to it that western Canada wheat will continue to go to the lakes, and not to the American milling centres. He says nothing i the agreement will hurry annexation or affect business between eastern and western Canada.

The Council's Plea For Mercy

In the "official advertising medium for the City of Prince Rupert" there appeared last night an article in its editorial column pleading for mercy for the city council. It had all the earmarks of an inspired article.

The plea was based on the ground of consistency; that because the Optimist at the close of last year protested against the campaign of abuse and falsehood against the old council that therefore it ought to be silent against the shortcomings and incompetence of the present council.

Consistency has been called "the vice of small minds." In the present case the appeal to consistency is foolishness and disloyalty. There is no parallel between the honest, legitimate and courteous criticism which the present council has received from the Optimist, and the charges of trying to steal the telephone franchise, and the flood of "The Mayor is a Liar" editorials which maligned the old council.

And not even the Journal would have the audacity to deny that the old council were a race of giants, compared with the present council.

The Optimist has no desire to hurt the feelings of any of the members of the council. As private citizens they are all estimable gentlemen. But as a body of civic administrators it is hard to grow enthusiastic over them.

With no desite to press criticism on them, let their record stand without comment. They inherited office, found the departments organised and the work of civic development in progress. The electric light plant was well on its way; the one great question was to secure a new water supply for the city.

But what has the council done? They commenced by abolishing the office of permanent city solicitor, and placed the legal patronage on the patronage list. They took away from the city engineer his privilege of appointing his own staff, and placed the engineering appointments on the patronage list. In order to fulfil their election pledges to the Industrial Workers on whose votes the present council with the exception of Alderman Pattullo were elected to office, the council brought the ratepayers, the contractors and the workingmen into conflict, with the result that the workingmen are now on strike, the contractors are at a standstill, and the ratepayers are dissatisfied.

If the Journal can find anything to enthuse over in that, it is welcome to its joy. For our part we decline to keep silence, much less to join in the chorus of praise led by the Journal.

There is real work to be done by the council, and it would be the worst kind of disloyalty to stifle criticism of a council that shows no serious attempt to tackle the larger problems which confront the city. We will remind the Journal of its plea later on if a water famine visits the city, and finds the council still peddling patronage instead of building waterworks. A water famine will "knock Prince Rupert"; honest criticism of its council will not.

In the meantime we would remind the council of our pledge on the day following their election:

> "The Optimist will stand loyally by the new council in its enterprises launched in good faith, and carried out with regard to public economy. But any attempt to sacrifice the public weal to satiate the machine, will meet with a rigorous and unflinching criticism."

That promise still stands.

Hold Down These Stocks

(Toronto Globe)

The Montreal Star has been making an appeal to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, "the one man who can save Canada." A month ago, according to The Star, certain very foolish, if not, indeed, treasonable, members of his Government went down to Washington and were given a present of "a Trojan Horse." The Star feels certain that reciprocity horse will bring ruin upon us. Listen:—"If we turn the swollen stream of our food exports away from the west-east lines that carry it to the British market and send it along north-south lines to the American market—or rather, the American 'middleman'—we will utterly shatter the costly steel framework of this nation and debase the Dominion to a string of subject Province serving the convenience of the nearest American centres. The 'bridge' over the wilderness north of Lake Superior will be broken. Confederation will be cut at a half-dozen vital points. "

That is a very lamentable prospect. For a few days after The Star's prophecy business men held their breath awaiting the first tremendous crash of "the costly steel framework of this nation." But a curious thing happened. The C. P. R. is, of course, the most important part of the "costly framework." On the day upon which the "Trojan Horse" was turned over to Canada—that is to say, when the reciprocity agreement was signed—C. P. R. stock sold at 209 1-2. Yesterday after all the talk of ruin to our railways as a result of the "breaking of the bridge" over the wilderness and the cutting out of the east and west haul, C. P. R. sold at over 212. If there are any patriots among the operators in C. P. R. let them keep both hands on the stock. Should it go up any higher its flight will indicate all too plainly that there is not a bit of real apprehension of injury to Canadian railways as a result of freer trade with our neighbors.

Take the canners' case also. The canners are still protesting that ruin stares them in the face. Yet the price of Canadian Canners common, which was 48 when the agreement was made, has already advanced to 57. The holders of the stock are thinking of memorializing Mr. Fielding to send on some more canned ruin and lay in a stableful of Trojan Horses.

ABOUT TOWN TODAY

Small Items of Interest Caught on the Flutter Round

City Clerk Woods was more than busy today paying out cheques to the workmen whose time-slips have been handed in by the contractors. The cheques average about $40 or so. Some have deductions for board. All are less $1 for hospital fee.

Judge Young intends to leave on the steamer Princess May for the north tomorrow. The Judge will open court at Atlin on his arrvial shere.

Alderman Morrissey is bound to be interested in the sketch design for Prince Rupert City all as it might be erected on the Fulton street site, which is exhibited in F. G. Dawson's office window on Third avenue. The design is by G. L. Procter.

The Cetriana came in this morning with general freight and two hundred tons of coal for Messrs. Rogers & Blackstewart.

A set of boxing gloves contributes greatly to the amusement of the men on strike as they gather about the hall on Third avenue. The contests are lively but very good humored.

A charge of gambling against John Fredericson preferred in the police court today was dismissed. The charge was the outcome of a police raid on the Grand Hotel last night. Fredericson was arrested but later released on $100 bail.

PROSPECTOR IS LOST IN STORM

SAD DEATH OF YOUNG JAMES McELVOY

Was Lost in Blinding Snow Storm in the Mountains on Vancouver Island—Died of Exposure and Starvation While Alone.

Victoria, March 3.—Lost in a blinding snow storm in the mountains back of Rock Bay on Vancouver Island, with his food supply entirely exhausted, a young prospector named James McElvoy died of exposure and starvation last Tuesday. Word to this effect was received at the provincial police office this morning.

McElvoy, accompanied by Gus Miller and Alfred Hegg, left Rock Bay about a week ago on a prospecting expedition through the mountains. After traveling for a couple of days they lost their way in the storm. As their food supply was very scanty and starvation stared them in the face unless relief could be obtained, Miller and Hegg volunteered to go back to a cabin some eight miles away and obtain assistance. McElvoy, tired from his already strenuous tramp, decided to remain.

The two prospectors obtained assistance and hurried back to the spot which had been arranged as a meeting palce. McElvoy was not waiting and a search failed to disclose his whereabouts.

Later on the body of McElvoy was found face downwards about three hundred yards from the spot where the trio had originally separated. His food supply had been entirely exhausted and only a few charred embers remained to mutely tell the story of the last struggle which the unfortunate prospector had made for his life.

With no trail down the mountain side and with a storm raging, it was impossibel to carry the body down to Rock Bay.

McElvoy came from Hillsdale, Ont., and since coming west had made Vancouver his headquarters. His relatives in the east have been notified.

WILL REPRESENT RUPERT'S RIFLES

COLOR SERGEANT GEO. LEEK TO ATTEND CORONATION

Successful Smoker Held Last Night in Regiment's New Quarters—Good Time Going—Arrangements for Spring Drills.

Color Sergeant George Leek will represent Earl Grey's Rifles at the Coronation in June. He was chosen last night by the regiment at their successful smoker held in the old schoolhouse now converted to drill hall and regimental quarters.

Draped with the British flag on all sides the drill hall looked gay, and the smartly uniformed men of the Rifles present added to the scene an air of spick and span efficiency worthy of the regiment. Commanding Officer F. Stork presided, and an excellent program was given. While the smoker was in progress Mrs. George Leek and Mrs. Frank Mobley were making preparations for a splendid supper which was thoroughly appreciated.

Only a few men are required now to bring the company up to its full strength. Parade will be held next Thursday night, and the drills for the spring will now continue regularly until the Annual Inspection about the middle of Arpil General satisfaction is expressed at the convenience of the Company's new quarters as compared with former arrangements.

CHIPS FROM THE HUMORISTS

Mrs. John—I do wish I had a good recipe for falling hair.

John—Most women nowadays just pick it up again and hang it on the back of a chair.

"The man died eating watermelons," someone said to Brother Dickey.

"Yes, suh," he said. "Providence sometimes puts us in paradise befo' we git ter heaven."

"She is neglecting her game of bridge dreadfully."

"Why is she doing that?"

"Some silly excuse. Says the children need her, I believe."

"De wust thing 'bout a person dat tells all he knows," said Uncle Eben, "is dat he's almos' certain to run away wif hisself an' tell a heap he don't know."

"I don't see any sense in referring to the wisdom of Solomon," said the man smartly. "He had a thousand wives."

"Yes," answered the woman tartly; "he learned is wisdom from them."

"Professor," said the reporter, "you have read, I presume, what Edison or somebody says about the feasibility of extracting gold in paying quantities from the dirt in the streets."

"Yes."

"May I ask what you think of the idea?"

"Well," said the professor, "it seems to me highly probable that it can be done. Speaking as a taxpayer, I know that we sink all kinds of money on our streets."

STRIKE BREAKERS JOIN THE MEN

CROWD OF A THOUSAND PEOPLE MET THE CAMOSUN LAST NIGHT---MEN DID NOT KNOW THAT STRIKE WAS ON

STRIKERS PARADED WITH RED BANNERS

After Meeting the Men from Vancouver the Strikers Formed a Procession and Paraded Up Town to Their Hall---Lots of Enthusiasm But No Disorder ---Banners Had Striking Inscriptions in Many Languages

The blast of the Camosun's whistle last night was answered by the trampling of hundreds of feet do n Centre street. About a thousand people, strikers and other people interested, urried to the wharf to meet the steamer. Rumors that a number of laborers were to arrive from Vancouver to work for McMordie had been pretty well confirmed, and the members of the P. R. I. A were ready with a welcome for the party.

Had Red Banners

Penetrating the darkness, the searchlight on the Camosun's bridge lit up a serried mass of men crowding closely at her landin berth. Red banners bearing in white letters the legend "Strike On. Don't be a scab. Be a MAN." were held aloft by the men in front. The banners were worded in different language , and strong s eakers of v rious nationalities stood ready to shout out the state of affairs to the newcomers as soon as the steamer got within hearing distance.

Men Were Surprised

On the Camosun's foredeck could be seen clustered a group of some fifty men gazing in surprise at the crowd on the wharf above. Seamen's voices first hailed at the wharf, and the news "Strike On" was shouted to the officers by the shore officials. Before the heaving lines came ashore a babel of voices broke out forward and on the wharf. Some of the whirlwind orators of foreign races represented amongst the strikers got in a rush of explanation for their comrades on the steamer, and a fusillade of question and answer was kept up as the Camosun tied up.

Joined the Strikers

Before the gangway was run ashore it was all over. Arrived here in absolute ignorance that a strike had been declared the little band of laborers on the steamer had declared themselves with their comrades on the wharf. They would join the ranks of the strikers. They would not scab. "We would rather cut our throats than scab" some of them are said to have cried.

Had Triumphal Pr cession

Once ashore the laborers numbering about thirty, lined up in the shed and as soon as they emerged they were greeted by the strikers. In a body the men then marched off to their hall shouting and cheering as they passed throgh the city. At the hall a meeting was held for t e benefit of the newcomers, and the situation was explained to them more fully than had been possible at the landing. They confirmed their intention not to "scab." There was neither violence nor the threat of violence. The newcomers simply fell in with their countrymen as it had been predicted they would do.

TELKWA IS PLEASED

Look for Mining Boom to Follow the Railway

Telkwa, March 1.—The news that the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has consented to construct a branch line from the main line to tap the Silver Cup, Lead King and other mines in Nine Mile mountain is most encouraging to the people of this place. It is looked upon merely as the first of such r ilway facilities for the development of the mines of the district.

James Cromin will no doubt get one to his mine in Babine mountain a few miles east of Telkwa, which branch can be under constructio next fall: then there will be extensive development in the Hudson Bay mountains to the west of Telkwa from which ore can be shipped as soon as a branch is completed. and the Grand Trunk Pacific railway will have to build a branch to their own coal mines up the Telkwa river and almost within sight of this town, as soon as they begin running trains between Telkwa and Prince Rupert.

The incoming stage this week brought in a big load of passengers for Fort George. Every week brings news of others who are preparing to come in soon. That we may expect a big rush of settlers and others into Fort George and district in the early spring is becoming more and more certain. It is to be hoped that the government will take early action in regard to the opening of a Government Office here, and the building of roads and the installing of ferries which have been petitioned for and which are an absolute necessity to the community.—Fort George Herald.

Dr. H. E. Ellison Will Return in May With His Bride

An interesting announcement falls to be made regarding Dr. Herbert E. Ellison, who was in business here as an optician last winter. Dr. Ellison left Prince Rupert some time ago on a visit to New York. During his stay there matters more romantic than mere business have occupied his attention, with the result that on his return to Prince Rupert early in May next, he will be accompanied by a charming bride. Dr. Ellison's marriage took place on February 26th at New York. The bride's maiden name was Miss Davids n, and her home is in New York City.
