IN IMPERIAL HOUSE

Norton Griffiths Gives His Views on Reciprocity before Commons

He Combats the Theory That Canada Is in Favor of Free Trade As Represented

Mr. Norton-Griffiths, M. P., for Wednesbury, who is so prominently identified with Western Canada, speaking in the Imperial House of Commons on the Canadian Preference, said:

"This being the first time I have the honor of addressing the House, I am glad that it is to be on an important matter of such great interest. In spite of the views of the honorable member who last spoke, I should like to mention that my constituency, consisting of nearly all working men, sent me to this house because of my Imperial views. It is quite evident and the debate has certainly made it clear that the government of the day have not the slightest intention of trying to bring about closer or Imperial unity by adopting, in any shape or form, our method of Imperial preference, which we advocate as having the tendency to consolidate this great empire of ours. What is still more alarming to most of us who have the interests of the empire at heart is that the government during debate have not made any suggestions, nor do they appear to realize that there is any great urgency, or any urgency whatever for safeguarding our Imperial interests. Imperial preference is, after all, a means towards bringing about a commercial union between this country and our self-governing dominions. I think that the majority of our kinsmen who reside in the various sections of our Empire agree with us that that is a policy which would materially assist towards that end. Hitherto the government have done absolutely nothing to show that they are prepared to treat the dominions in any different way to that which they mete out to foreign nations, and as far as one can gather, they are, if anything, a little more polite to foreigners. The terms of the resolution reaffirmed at the conference of 1907 by all the members of the conference, except His Majesty's Free Trade government, were as follows:

"'That this conference recognizes that the principle of preferential trade between the United Kingdom and His Majesty's Dominions beyond the seas would stimulate and facilitate mutual commercial intercourse and would by promoting the development of the resources and industries of the several parts, strengthen the empire.'

Nor were these mere empty words. Canada, of which so much has been heard during the debate, has already given earnest of her desire to promote the unity of the empire by granting preference. Probably I have about as many years' experience of Canada as some who have spoken, but I speak with a considerable knowledge of that country. Only yesterday I heard the honorable member for Swansea (Sir A. Mond) state that there was a strong feeling for free trade in Canada. I fail to see or to realize where ne got his facts. I had the privilege of being attacked by the assistant editor of the Toronto Globe, and, as a matter of fact I think when the honorable member for Swansea was there that the editor was away, but I should like to point out for the information of some honorable members tnat the Toronto Globe is a more rabid Social-Radical paper than our finest home production in that line. At the time the Radical press of England were talking of free trade Canada in big head lines, I received a cablegram in Winnipeg, where I then was, asking if that were true. I can assure the house that my difficulty was to find those free traders. After some considerable trouble and time I was successful in unearthing an obscure organization of which I took very great care to get minute particulars and details which were published in the press here. With reference to that free trade which was referred to in such a prominent way by the Radical press, I may state that the Free Trade League, located at Winnipeg, consisted of 300 members, the pop-

ICE HOCKEY

The formation of a western Canadian ice hockey league embracing Victoria, Vancouver, Calgary and Edmonton and calling for an investment of half a million dollars in buildings and plants is anounced by Frak and Leter Patrick, of Nelson, sons of a wealthy lumberman of this province. These two young men are famed as hockey players throughout the Dominion. The proposition calls for artificial ice rings in the two coast cities and natural ice rinks in the two Alberta cities. Sites have been secured in Victoria and Vancouver and separate companies have been organized in each of the four cities to take control.

END OF MANCHURIA

Some Facts Connected with the Country Which Is Involved

Persistent statements are given out that Russia and Japan are negotiating for the partition of Manchuria between them. Japan has an old claim on part of this territory. By the treaty of Shimonoseki, following the war with China in 1895, the Liao Tung peninsula was surrendered to Japan. Europeon nations, including Russia, intervened, and Japan had to give up this territory, and be content with Formosa with an indemnity. A few years later, following the Boxer trouble Russia was in practical occupation of this peninsula, and in control of a large part of the province. She was driven out for the time by Japan, which has since included the peninsula in her own sphere of influence. During all these shiftings of control China has been the nominal authority throughout Manchuria. But China has no power to assert her ownership or to preserve order in this large part of her domain, and Japan is no more willing to withdraw from the territory than Russia was before the war. If it shall be found that Japan and Russit have decided that it is better to share the country than to fight over it, the world is well prepared for the information.

Manchuria, lying between the province of Chili and Amur River, bordering on Russia Asia, has an area of 363,000 square miles, and a population supposed to be not less than 18,000,000. It is subdivided into three provinces, Shen-King, Kirin and Helungkiang. The latter, which is larger than the two others together, lies to the north and might in case of partition fall to Russia. But the other provinces are more populas and valuable, one containing 10,000,000 and the other 6,000,000 inhabitants. Japan has now a firm lease of the southern extremity of the Liao-tung peninsula containince, with only 56,000 square miles of territory, has a population of nearly 200 to the square mile. Here the Manchu race has been largely displaced by Chinese immigrant farmers. Here are situated the city of Mukden, the Manchurian capital, which has 160,000 population, and Newchwang with 60,000—places of which we heard a good deal in war time. Mukden is connected by several railway lines with other parts ofthe territory, and Russia placed this capital on the Siberian railway circuit by the extension from aHrbin through Mukden to Port Arthur. If Russian ambitions had been satisfied this would have become the main road and the line by Vladivostock a less travelled branch.

By the treaty of Portsmouth following the war between Russia and Japan both parties agreed to evacuate Manchuria, except that part near Port Arthur covered by the Japanese lease. The exclusive administration was to be restored to China. A few months later China confirmed the the lease, gave Japan a right to construct and control several railways, and opened practically all the Manchurian ports to foreign commerce. Still later China gave Great Britain for defensive purposes a lease of a small area opposite Hong Kong. France also has a small bay in that neighborhood. But France took her ...e of China far south in Tonquin ...e years before.

MACHINIST'S TROUBLE

Over Three Thousand Men in Employ of Company Are Affected by the Demand

(Special to The Journal)

WINNIPEG, March 21.—Trouble is again brewing between the Canadian Pacific Railway machinists and the company, the men demanding an eight-hour day and an increase of 3½ cents an hour. The present rate is 42½ cents an hour.

The officials of all the divisions will meet here on Thursday to confer with the men. Over 3,000 employees are affected.

STREET LINES OUT

NEW WESTMINSTER—In the resurvey of the city, which is now nearing completion, it has been found that the present street lines in many sections are away out from the correct lines as laid out by the re-survey work. These lines vary from three or fourd feet in the business or residential sections of the city where buildings are at present located, to as much as 66 feet, the full width of the street, in some parts of the city, where the streets are not yet cleared or opened up. One of the outstanding examples of the latter is the east end of Eighth avenue in Sapperton, which is said to be fully 66 feet out from the correct line. When the re-survey of the city is completed a report will probably be presented to the city council showing these inaccuracies and it will then be for the council to decide what steps shall be taken to make the city streets conform with the correct lines. In the majority of cases this will not cause any great labor or expense for very few street lines of any kind have been given by the city and in cases where private property owners have made the mistake they will have to suffer, and, at the discretion of the council, may be made to move off the street.

CITY SEWER WORK

Objections Raised to Carrying on Operations Under Force Account

Proposition Made to Bring This Under the Day Labor System

The sewer work on Fraser street and Eighth street now being carried out under force account will probably be put under the city system and carried out under the day labor system.

Ald. Kerr called attention to the sewer work on Eighth street and Fraser street. He said that this would be needed this summer. It was an eight-inch sewer which made it a joke. A much larger sewer was needed. There was a large area to be drained by it. This work was being done on force account at an advance of 10 per cent. The city should take this over.

Ald. Hilditch said the engineer estimated that it wolud take about three weeks to finish it. The engineer approved of letting Mr. McMordie finish it as the city would know who to blame if anything was wrong. This would be poor satisfaction, however.

The question of how these sewers and culverts were to be paid for was something that should be decided. This work in Section 1 was being paid out of general revenue. Probably $30,000 was being expended now.

Ald. Morrissey called attention to a wooden culvert on Fraser street which he felt would be crushed by the fill.

Ald. Hilditch said this was a piece of work where there had been a miscalculation on the part of the engineer in not securing the pipe. As to the taking over of the sewer work he was prepared to have it taken over by the city. It could be done cheaper by the city than by focre account.

Ald. Newton moved to refer this matter to the streets committee.

The motion carried.

VICTORIA'S ELECTION

Lively Campaign is Fxpected in Contest for Civic Rulers

Mayor Morley May Be Unopposed in the Fight, but Many Aldermen Offering

(Special to The Journal)

VICTORIA, March 21.—The new civic election will probably take place on April 7, though it is problematical whether there will be a candidate in opposition to Mayor Morley. There is every assurance there will be a lively aldermanic contest in each ward, however, the voters' league having determined to endeavor to secure the return of men pledged to support the policy of the present mayor.

IRISH CONCERT

St. Patrick's Day Was Remembered in the City—A Good Programme Given

Last Friday evening the Irishmen of the city entertained their friends of less favored nationalities at a concert in the Empress Theatre. The programme was contributed to by a number who could not claim Ireland as the place of their birth. The concert was of a high class and was heartily enjoyed.

Ald. Morrissey, the president of the committee in charge of the entertainment, was exceedingly happy in his introductory remarks. Later in the evening J. S. Cowper delivered an address upon "The Day We Celebrate."

The programme, which was carried out as arranged, included a wide variety of entertainment, being contributed to by Miss M. Nyland, Miss Alice MacMillan, Mrs. J. F. Cameron, little Miss Daughtry, Mrs. P. Mullen, Miss Barker, A. W. Agnew, H. Hebert, L. Bullock-Webster, J. Couture and J. Russell.

STARTING THE WORK

Buoy Depot of the Dominion Government is Giving Employment to Considerable Force

Quarters for the Men During the Building Are Being Put up on Digby Island

The Pacific Coast Construction Company, of Victoria, are busy getting ready for active construction work on the Buoy Depot on Digby Island in this city for the Dominion Government. The operations will be carried out under the supervision of Frank Jennings, representing the Government.

Thos. Stedham, who is in charge of the company, left by the Camosun for the south after going over the situation and laying plans for the carrying out of the work. His brother, W. C. Stedham, remained in charge.

The necessary bunk houses and other buildings that will be used during construction are being now erected on the site preparatory to starting in ful lswing. There will be about 150 men employed at the start, it is expected. The work will take considerable time and will give employment to quite a number until completed.

The hearing of evidence on the charge against Charles Ingraham of keeping a gaming house, was partially heard this morning in the police court. An adjournment was taken until tomorrow.

The Christian Citizenship Meeting at the Epworth League, in the Methodist Church next Wednesday night will be addressed by Dr. W. H. Kergin and Mayor Manson. The topics for consideration will be: "How Our Laws Are Made," and "How Parliament Does Business." The executive of the League invites the public generally to their meeting, to listen to the presentation of these important themes. The meeting will open at eight o'clock.

MAY VISIT THE CITY

There is a prospect that during the coming summer Hamar Greenwood, the Canadian who has become so prominent in the politics of the Old Land, may again visit Prince Rupert. Some years ago before the sale of the lots in this city Mr. Greenwood on a visit to the Pacific Coast made a trip to this place and manifested a deep interest in the future of the city.

He has written tod Mayor Manson, who as government agent on the occasion of his last visit, took an active part in entertaining him, that he will probably come to the west again this summer and hopes on that occasion to again visit Prince Rupert.

FINANCIAL CONCERN

Prince Rupert will have a Strong Corporation Doing Business Here

The Continental Trust Company, Limited, Is Preparing to Open up Offices

Among the Camosun's passengers on Sunday morning was M. J. Hobin, the general manager of the recntly organized The Continetal Trust Compay, Ltd., of this city. He will be absent about five weeks, forming financial connections in the money centres of this country and the Uited States for the new corporation. He is to visit Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal, Detroit, Spokane, Seattle, Vancouver and Victoria.

Prince Rupert has in the new financial institution an enterprise which promises to be in active business by May 15. The Continental Trust Company, Limited, is a corporation recently organized and chartered by prominent business men of this city for the purpose of doing a general trust business. The officers o fthe new company are Dr. Wm. T. Kergin, president; David H. Hays, first vice president; M. J. Hobin, second vice president and manaer; Jay Kugler, secretary-treasurer. The board of directors consist of: Alfred Carss, J. F. Brandt, Vernor W. Smith, Wm. T. Kergin, David H. Hays, J. H. Kugler, M. J. Hobin, J. M. Bramlette and Jay Kugler.

The home office of the company is to be on Second avenue, near Sixth street, where construction of the building is now under way. The entrance will give into a wide hall richly wainscoted and lighted from above. On the right will be counters and on the left offices. In the rear, divided off by a fretwork of iron will be the safety deposit department of the company, the vault to be nine by twelve feet of reinforced concrete with walls twenty inches thick. The plans and apparatus for this are being furnished by the Herring-Hall-Marvin Company. On either side of the vault will be desks and conveniences for customers.

On the floor above the vault will be a handsome board room and the offices of the general manager and secretary. The contracts call for the completion of the whole structure early in May.

ESTABLISHING TRUCE

Mexican Insurrection may be Settled by Negotiations to be Carried Out

Madero, the Rebel Chief, Will Receive Proposals on Neutral Ground

(Special to The Journal)

EL PASO, Texas, March 21.—An unarmed truce is to be established in northern Mexico as soon as developments in Mexico City warrant, and Madero, the revolutionary president, will establish himself at a point in the field to be considered neutral ground, to receive any peace proposals which may come as a result of his return in Mexico.

Senor Limantour, who was recently in New York, conferred with insurrecto leaders. This was established in messages brought by courier from Madero, and is the first word coming direct from Madero since peace negotiations.

PASS LIQUOR BY-LAW

City Council Last Evening Disposed of Vexatious Measure Relating to Hotels

Bars Will Now Close at 12 o'Clock at Night Except on Saturdays

At the council meeting last evening, with Ald. Smith and Ald. Pattullo absent, the liquor bylaw as amended was finally adopted and ordered to have the seal attached. It passed in the form of allowing the bars to keep open until 12 o'clock at night with the exception of Saturday night when the hour of closing shall be 11 o'clock.

Ald. Hilditch moved that the bylaw be finally adopted.

It was suggested by His Worship that an amendment might be introduced making the fee for bartenders payable to the assessor instead of to the city clerk. The ntention was to make all taxes payable to the one official now.

Ald. Hilditch objected to this amendment because it would mean that the bylaw would be held up again before it could be finally adopted.

His Worship wanted to know if there was any particular hurry about this.

Ald. Hilditch said it had been a very troublesome bylaw and he wanted to get it off his hands.

Ald. Newton said he would move in the direction of amending the bylaw, but he saw there was no use. The "dry" members were absent, at least several of them were and he might as well leave this as it stood.

The motion of Ald. Hilditch to finally adopt the bylaw carried without a division.

Ald. Hilditch, speaking on a matter of privilege, said that there had been a good deal of feeling with respect to this. He felt strongly in favor of it, because it was in the shape it was in with respect to hours when the licenses were granted. If the commissioners would see that the Bowser act was enforced he felt there would be no ill effects from it.

On Saturday afternoon at a special meeting of the council held to take up the bylaw, Ald. Hilditch objected to the measure being disposed of until Monday night. He asked for a ruliag from the chair.

Mayor Manson said he did not find any rule which forbade the matter being dealt with without the consent of the father of the measure. He explained that the parliamentary practice was that the one responsible for the measure had the say as to whether it should be gone on with. It seemed to be a matter of courtesy to meet the views of the father of the measure.

Several members of the council expressed themselves as opposed to treating Ald. Hilditch discourteously and were ready to let the bylaw stand over.

This was agreed to in spite of strenuous objection by Ald. Pattullo

(Special to The Journal)

The Premier said the offer was a bitter disappointment and he would move a resolution on the subject probably on Wednesday.

HOSPITAL DEMANDS

William Manson Secures Necessary Books for Office from Government

Following the rapid filling up of the hospital, the Board of Directors have had to act promptly in the matter of added equipment. The house committee, acting under instructions from the board, has filled the post of janitor and orderly, vacated by George Phillpot. Capt. Eastcott, who has been a resident of the city for considerable time, has been appointed to the position and has entered upon his duties.

The committee is also authorizing the securing of another nurse who is expected to reach the city in about a month's time. At present the matron and the nursing staff are oblied to be on duty very long hours without any time off for recreation.

The board seems to have been fortunate in its choice of staff and those who have had to enter the hospital speak in high terms of the attention given and the character of the service and the food provided.

The hospital, being a young one, is in need of reading matter for the use of the convalescing patients. Magazines that have been read and are not required by private individuals, will be appreciated at the institution. The Prince Rupert Club is making a donation of a large number.

The need of additional private wards is pressing upon the board. With only six of these in the institution the capacity is taxed continually. Plans for meeting the difficulty are now under consideration.

At the last meeting of the board, Mayor Manson, the honorary president of the association, was welcomed back. At the request of the president, Mr. Manson explained that he had, in compliance with the request of the board, gone in the subject of books and records for the institution. Mr. Goepel, inspector of officers in the government emplay, had given him valuable assistance and had drafted the books necessary. The provincial secretary, Hon. H. E. Young, had approved of it and the preparation of those books in the government printing office was to be carried out without cost to the local board.

The thanks of the board was extended to Mr. Manson for his efforts.

The gift of three pairs of crutches from W. R. Morrison, for the John Houston ward was acknowledged. Mr. Morrison will be thanked for the gift.

Rules for the admission of patients were reported by the house committee and approved of. These provide that in cases of emergency or accident a patient shall be admitted without formality. Pay patients are admitted on the certificate of a registered practitioner who certifies that the person is in need of hospital attention and is not suffering from a contagious disease and is not of unsound mind. Free patients must have a certificate from a medical man that the person is a fit subject for hospital attention and is not of unsound mind nor suffering from a contagious disease. The patient must also have a card signed by two doctors before being admitted.

The rules governing the matron's duties were passed upon as recommended by the house committee. The matron is in charge at the hospital and the different members of the staff must take their instructions from her.

The duties of the managing secretary were discussed to some extent when they were laid over until the next meeting so that the Hon. Sect.-Treas. might go into them and ascertain if they conflicted in any way with the bylaws of the association.

FLOUR MILLS ON COAST

Some few weeks ago a Dominion charter was issued for the Bella Coola, Peace River and Alberta Railroad to what was understood at that time to be a party of Minneapolis capitalists who were interested in a project for the establishment of a flour mill industry up the Bella Cola Inlet. It has now transpired that the Pillsbury-Washburn interests, whose name is a household word wherever bread is baked, are at the back of this concern.

On the best of authority it may be stated that the Pillsbury-Washburn firm is about to build in the very near future a flour mill of enormous capacity for the manufacture of a superfine high-grade flour from wheat grown in Northern Alberta and the Peace River districts.

It has been recognized by this Company that the further north the wheat is grown the better the flour, and this at the same time is a reconized fact the world over. For many years past the Hudson's Bay Company has been growing wheat at their post at Fort Vermillion, which is 700 miles north of Edmonton. At the Chicago World's Fair, held in 1893, flour manufactured from wheat grown bp the Hudson's Bay Company at the fort, won the gold medal, the highest of all honors which it was in the power of the executive to bestow, and since that time it has been an incentive for a number of shrewd Americans to develope their plans and await the great opportunity which railroad facilities would give them.

The added facilities which will be afforded by the completion of the Panama Canal have not been lost sight of and they will add materially to the merchantable quality of the product.

As to the exact capacity of the mills which are about to be erected and established on the Inlet the details are not yet to hand, but within a few days they will be available.

It is understood that the railroad line will be in operation by the time that the mills are ready to work, and that in the meantime all the grist that comes to the coast by any methody will be speedily handled. Shipping facilities will be established and wharves, warehouses and elevators built, and the whole enterprise will be one of the greatest on the coast of British Columbia.

BACK FROM EUROPE

Well-Known Financier Has Arrived in Vancouver After Prolonged Visit to Old Land

Back from a holiday trip to Europe, which was intended to last three months, but through an attack of influenza has been made into four, Mr. Campbell Sweeny, manager of the Bank of Montreal in this city, returned, looking and being in first-class health, after a most enjoyable holiday, the first for many years, says the Vancouver News-Advertiser.

Every prominent man who comes back after a visit to the Old Country has the same strong impressions to give of the enormously enlarged place Canada is now taking in the eyes of Great Britain, and Mr. Sweeney was another amongst the number.

People in London, he said, were unquestionably greatly interested, and would be more and more interested in Canadian investments. A large proportion of those people had turned their attention to British Columbia investments. Everybody "at home" was extremely dissatisfied with affairs in England, and considerable numbers, after investigating one place and another in which to invest their money where they would get a sure return for it, had selected this province.

On his way back from England, Mr. Sweeny stayed for a day or two in Montreal, and amongst those he met there was a very prominent Scottish landowner, who, sick of Mr. Lloyd-George and his methods, had disposed of his large estates, and was on his way to invest his money in British Columbia.

Mr. Sweeny also met Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and confirms the report published that the Canadian Pacific Railway are about to arrange for the building of new Empress steamers for the Pacific trade, While agreeing that other steamship lines are creating keen competition over the Atlantic, and also that the question of mail subsidy was not yet settled, Mr. Sweeny felt there was no doubt but that the Canadian Pacific wolud at least quite hold its own, whatever competition entered.

As regarded the burning subject of reciprocity, he had read the reports of the way the Dominion government had professed to consider the opinion of British Columbia, which valuation he thought singularly incorrect, as the Provincial Government had expressed its views quite to the contrary, and he was more than confident that the feeling of the province was against it.

SIGNS OF PROSPERITY

Everything this spring indicates that the coming season is to be a lively one in this city. Prince Rupert is not dependent upon any one industry or enterprise in this respect. On the other hand, there is abundant evidence that in many diversified lines the spring will open in an active way.

The outlook for the mines of the north are exceedingly bright. There will be more money spent in development work this summer than has ever been expended before, it is predicted by those who know the situation. This will embrace the Hazelton District and Portland Canal and all the intervening section the whole of which is directly tributary to Prince Rupert.

The fisheries of the north are very much in the public eye and will from year to year be more fully developed.

A settlement of the G. T. P. question brings with it the promise of active work being commenced upon permanent works here which will have a reassuring effect in connection with the business life.

The waterfront with its large store houses is an assurance of business to any who may enter the harbor. Attention is more and more being directed this way.

A CASE OF BUTTER

Police Magistrate Dismisses Charge Concerning a Peculiar Situation

In the police court this morning, W. Fraser, one of the best-known workers in the city, was called upon to defend himself against a charge in connection with stolen butter. The evidence went to show that Mr. Fraser had bought the butter which was a 28-pound case, from a man named William Rhodes for $7.

Rhodes had been a longshoreman but had gone into the restaurant business with a few partners on Comox avenue. When they closed up business about the first of the year. Fraser, who was a personal friend of Rhodes, bought the butter on the urgent request of Rhodes, who wanted money.

The police, in search of stolen goods, located the butter at Fraser's place and arrested him. The butter was kept in a garret above his shack.

Police Magistrate Carss, in court, said he had no doubt the butter was originally stolen from Foley, Welch & Stewart, but there was not evidence to show that Fraser was implicated in it. He dismissed the case.

L. W. Patmore, who represented Mr. Fraser, laid stress upon the fact that his client was a leader among the workingmen and he thought he should be exonerated so as not to work an injustice upon him. The magistrate admitted there was nothing to show that Mr. Fraser had more to do with it than any one else would have had had they purchased the butter in good faith.

Mr. Fraser said he had no fault to find with the police in their action. He believed they acted in good faith in trying to get at the rott of the matter.

HUGE LUMBER DEAL

Patrick Lumber Company of B. C. Sells Its Mill and Other Property for $1,000,000

For a million dollars, the Patrick Lumber Company, Limited, has conveyed to the British Canadian Lumber Corporation, with headquarters at Montreal, its mill at Crescent Valley and 9,000 acres of white pine, spruce and cedar on the east and west branches of the Little Slocan River. These timber lands, which are conceded locally to be about the most valuable limits in the interior, have been owned outright. The sawmill's capacity on an ordinary run is 30,000,000 per year, and the plant is claimed to have no superior in the interior.

George Tite has gone south on a business trip.

RECIPROCITY DEBATE

Baptist Young People in Interesting Political Oratorical Contest

Decision Against the Proposed Agreement Given by the Judges at the Meeting

The subject of the debate at the Baptist Church last evening was: "Resolved, That the reciprocity agreement would be beneficial to Canada." The debaters were Messrs. W. H. Stuart and Hansen for the affirmative and Messrs. W. W. Wood and Clyde Rogers for the negative. The debate was keenly contested. There was enough rivalry and sharp rebuttal to keep the audience intensly interested.

Mr. Stuart was the first speaker, and said in part:

"I stand here tonight to prove the affirmative side of this debate. I am a Liberal and I would be disloyal to Canada and good politics if I did not seek to defend reciprocity as beneficial to Canada."

He said that reciprocity would permit the consumer to purchase goods on either side of the line without the present high tariff. Reciprocity was one step towards free trade and free trade had made Great Britain the financial centre of the money market of the world. She had also been the birthplace of the greatest industries. The workingman would be benefitted by this agreement. Smuggling wolud be prevented because unnecessary and thus would endthat common crime caused by protection. Our coal deposits and other minerals would be developed, timber industries flourish, wheat and other agricultural products find a ready market and in every respect Canada from Atlantic to Pacific would be benefitted by reciprocity.

Mr. Wood, leader of the negative, in introducing his side of the debate, said that he had been highly entertained as he listened to the eloquence of the former speaker but he had decided to spend his time in the statement of a series of facts that would prove conclusively that the reciprocity agreement would be a fatal blow to the best interests of Canada. He further stated that reciprocity was a certain step to annexation and the destruction of loyalty to the Mother Country. The implement manufacturers of Ontario and Quebec were yet in their infancy and needed protection from their large corporation rivals across the line. Canadian wheat is rigidly inspected and a certificate of inspection goes with all exported grain. It, therefore, sells at a higher figure than American wheat in the markets of the world. It will certainl ybe beneficial to the It will certainly be beneficial to the freeof duty to Duluth or other distributing points, mix it with poor American grain and sell the finished product, accompanied by this certificate of inspection, at the highest price inthe foreign markets. This poor grade of flour, made possible by reciprocity, will destroy the reputation of Canadian wheat. It is a plausible argument trat 90,000,000 of American people will make a great market for our wheat, but the fact remains true that these people export their own wheat products and will only need our grain to increase their export trade. Railroads will suffer if not be forced to declare deficits. Reciprocity will compel them to lose the long haul (east and west) to Atlantic and Pacific ports, as trade will be diverted to the shorter routes (north and south) to the cities of the United States. The reciprocity agreement was unconstitutional as the government was not fortified with the mandate of the people. It was not a plank in the party platform at the last election. The speaker thought this was a sufficient answer to Mr. Stuart's cry of loyalty to the Liberal party.

Mr. Hansen, in supporting the affirmative, gave a brief review of the history of reciprocity, declaring that in every instance reciprocal relations had been beneficial to Canada. He also referred strongly to the fruit and fish industries. His contribution was well received.

Mr. Rogers, in supporting the negative, spent his time in dealing with reciprocity as it would affect the natural resources and industries of British Columbia. He said that the fishing industry of British Columbia would be seriously injured and the fruit industry would be crushed in its infancy. He ably supported Mr. Wood.

The judges were Rev. Mr. Debarres, Rev. Mr. Kerr and Mr. Frank Deary. Rev. Debarres, in presenting the decision, ably reviewed the points of each speaker and stated that, although it had been a close contest, the judges had decided in favor of the negative.

NORTHERN LANDS

Deal Put Through in Winnipeg Involving Large Area in Peace River District

The purchase of 160,000 acres of land in the Peace River District of British Columbia has been completed by Mr. Edward Brown, of Messrs. E. Brown & Co., Winnipeg, the vendors being Messrs. John F. Bledsoe and S. R. MacClinton, of the Grand Trunk Lands Company.

In addition to this personal transaction, it is understood that the deal will involve still larger interests, including two syndicates of Winnipeg men and another from America, in which Mr. H. P. Carter, of Winnipeg, is arranging matters, and in which case the acreage will run into numbers closely approximating 200,000 acres and the amoun tinto something like $5,000,000. In this case this land deal will be the largest ever carried out in the province.

In either event the object is colonization. The transaction of Mr. Brown's was carried through by Messrs. Abbot & Hart McHarg, who looked after his legal interests in the matter.

Mr. Brown, who, it may be remembered, unsuccessfully contested South Winnipeg in the Liberal interests at the election there last year, was the first purchaser of colonization land sold in Saskatchewan. This was in 1902, when he bought 50,000 acres for the purpose and since that time he has dealt in similar purchases which now amount to over half a million acres.

In addition to his capitalistic interests, Mr. Brown is president of the British North Western Fire Insurance Company, now being organized at Winnipeg, and during his stay here, in company with Mr. F. Kent Foster, secretary of the company, he secured a local director for this province, in which the new company will also commence operations.

FOR YUKON TRADE

Among the 85 passengers who landed at this place by Monday evening's train, were members of three steamboat crews, nearly all of whom have since gone to the foot of Lake Lebarge, says the White Horse Star of last Friday.

At the head of a party of 23 men was Captain Syd C. Barrington, who will conduct a regular shipbuilding industry at the foot of the lake for the next two months. Captain Barrington, who is manager of the Side Streams Navigation Company, will operate two steamers this season, the Lafrance and a new and larger boat which he will construct at the foot of the lake, the York Barrington, named for his little son. The new boat will have practically new boilers which were in the steamer Vidette when she was purchased last fall but her engines are bran new and of the latest model.

With Captain Barrington as part of his crews are his brother, Hill Barrington, who will be purser on the new steamer, Captain Steve Martin, who will be her master, George Waltenbaugh, chief engineer, and Engineer R. R. Crosby, the latter to be chief of the Lafrance. The balance of the Barrington crowd are ship carpenters, of which G. W. Brenner, of Seattle, is foreman. They all left for the foot of the lake Wednesday morning.

By the opening of navigation will see about 200 tons of freight there for Barrington's two boats, each of which will convoy a large barge down the river, the latter to be built at the same time as the new steamer. Among other shipments will be 80 head of horses which will be taken by the York Barrington to the head of navigation on the Porcupine river for use by the American Boundary Survey corps. The remainder of the cargoes of the two steamers will be taken to Dawson for the N. C. company for their various Yukon and Tanana posts.

AUSTRALIA'S NAVY

Report on the Question Made by Admiral Henderson to Commonwealth Government

Rear Admiral Henderson, who at the request of the Commonwealth government, was sent out by the Admiralty to inquire into the condition of the naval defences of the country, has made his report to the cabinet, which has just been published. Rear Admiral Hnderson has made remarkable statements. He maintains that Australia cannot afford to keep up a navy commensurate with the length of its coastline, consequently the Commonwealth must co-operate with the British authorities on a population basis. At present an outlay of $20,000,000 is involved in the work of policing the South Pacific. The cost of the construction programme is to be spread over 22 years, and will amount to the sum of £52,000,000.

KING AT DURBAR

His Majesty Will Appear in Coronation Robes and Jewels on that Occasion

Reasons for the Sovereign Wearing This Apparel While in India

It is understood that King George at the Durbar will appear, when he receives the homage of the vassal rulers and feudatory Princes of India, on his coming visit to that great dependency, not in the mere uniform of a field marshal, but arrayed in his coronation robes, decked with the crown jewels, with the crown on his head, and in his hand the sceptre, from which will dazzle the greatest diamond in the world, the five-hundred-odd carat Star of Africa. It will be the first occasion of the crown jewels ever leaving Britain, and, representing, as they do, a value of many, many millions of pounds sterling, the most extraordinary precautions will be adopted for their safety in transit between the Tower of London, where they now repose, and the city of Delhi.

In thus arraying himself in the crown jewels at the Durbar, King George is prompted not by any mere desire of personal display—for he is a man of the most simple tastes—but because he appreciates the impression which will be created among the natives of every class and creed by appearing before them wearing the Koh-i-Noor, which for many centuries was the symbol of empire and of supreme power in India, and for the sake of which civil wars, appalling massacres, terrible invasions, conspiracies, assassinations and hideous tortures without number have taken place. Probably there is no precious stone in the world that has a more blood-stained history than the Koh-i-Noor, which came into the possession of the late Queen Victoria some seventy years ago.

According to legend, before figuring as the principal crown jewel of the oldtime emperors of India, the Koh-i-Noor formed one of the eyes of a particularly sacred native idol, and, of course, there is a possibility that some of the most fanatic priests and worshippers of the sect concerned may attempt to recover this priceless relic while on Indian soil, and great precautions will in consequence thereof have to be devised for its safety.

Another symbolic jewel which is to figure at Durbar is the celebrated Uma, which will adorn either the throne of King George at the homage cermony, or else the canopy above his throne. It is a jewelled bird about twelve inches long, shaped like a pigeon, with an exaggerated tail. Rubies, diamonds, emeralds and pearls are strewn about the quivering feathers of delicate golden filigree work. It holds a priceless ruby in its bill and an emerald of immense size and lustre hands from its breast.

King George wishes to bring this fact home to the people of India and to impress upon their minds, de visu, that the Koh-i-Noor and the Uma, the two symbols of Indian Empire, are in his possession. The Uma figured in olden times on the canopy above the throne of the great Indian emperor, Tippoo Sahib, and after being taken from him was presented by the East India Company to King George III. Sometimes it is hown on the principal sideboard at the state banquets at Windsor Castle and Buckingham Palace, a conspicuous feature amon gthe $15,000,000 worth of gold plate diplayed on these occasions. But more often it is to be seen on the royal dinner table at Widsor, and is an object of particular admiration and interest to Queen Mary.

A service paper relates that when a large number of privates were waiting anxiously in the canteen for news of the regimental team who were playing in a football cup final, the orderly room runner, an Irishman, entered hurriedly. He was at once asked whether he had heard the result of the match.

"Sure and I have," said Paddy;

There was cheering until Paddy spoke again.

"Yes, my boys," he said, "the rigimint's one, and the other spalpeens's three!"

Then he fled.

G. T. P. COAST PLANS

Captain Nicholson Tells What Will Be Done This Summer in the Matter of Service

Through Connection Will Be Given With Stewart by the Big Steamers

Announcement is made by Captain C. H. Nicholson, manager of the Grand Trunk Pacific steamship line, that the summer schedule, which goes into effect on April 19, provides for the extension of the service by the Prince George and the Prince Rupert to Stewart via Prince Rupert according to southern exchanges. The extension of the service to Stewart has been found necessary owing to the increasing travel and possibilities of great developments at and near Stewart during the coming summer. The Prince George, which broke her port column on Sunday when nearing the dock at Seattle, is being repaired at Esquimalt and will be ready to join the Prince Rupert when the twice-a-week service begins on April 19.

Captain Nicholson said: "Prospects are that this will be one of the busiest seasons in the history of the Pacific coast. There is every indication of an exceptionally heavy tourist travel. In the east capitalists have turned their eyes to the far west, and we are moving with a view to having large commercial developments all along the coast during the next few years."

Captain Nicholson gave a general outline of the new steamer purchased by him while in the east for the coastal trade, as already mentioned. The boat will be called the Prince John, and will be used in the trade between Prince Rupert and Queen Charlotte Islands. She is 185 feet long with a 30 foot beam, and has a passenger accommodation of 200 people, 50 saloon and 150 steerage passengers.

"This boat is about the most complete ship I have seen. She was built in 1910 at Glasgow and is especially equipped for rough weather, having double bottoms and larg ebulkheads, and plenty of horsepower. We want a boat that is capable of combatting the heavy weather on the Sound and one that will be able to weather any storm in these waters. The Prince John leaves Glasgow at once, and will arrive here in June, via the Horn."

Arrangements have been made for wharves and office buildings to be erected at Vancouver at the expiry on April 3 of the leases on the property secured between Main street and Gore avenue. The plans provide for 740 feet of waterfrontage and show two piers projecting out into the inlet sufficient to give four berths to each pier. On these piers will be built freight sheds.

"It is our intention," said Captain Nicholson, "to commence the erection of a modern fireproof office building and warehouse at the foot of Main street almost immediately. The office building will be designed to make a fitting termination to the street and will be three or more storise in height. This will be situated on the property now occupied by the iron works building. On the ground floor will be the ticket office and general waiting rooms of sufficient accommodation for our rapidly increasing passenger traffic. The upper stories will be occupied exclusively for our offices. The building to the east of our office building will be fitted up for stores and warehouses and will be partially occupied by the company's freight office and storerooms."

A certain Irish police officer was reviewing an R. I. C. station, the sergeant of which was a very bad speller. Looking through the books he came upon an entry: "Found, a pig wondering on the public road."

"Sergeant," said he, "what was the pig wondering at?"

"I don't know sir," said the bewildered man.

"Well," said the inspector grimly, "I do. He must have been wondering why I promoted you."

BRISTOL CLASS

Discussing the vessels which are to be built for the Canadian Navy, the British News of Canada says:

The vessels of the Bristol class are protected cruisers of medium size, high speed and powerful armament. They are designed for scouting, for the protection of trading vessels, and for the destruction of such vessels as may be let loose by an enemy to prey on British commerce.

They are much smaller than the cruisers of the Invincible class, which are intended to be real battleships of higher speed than the Dreadnoughts; but they are considerably larger than the scout steamers already in commission of the Boadica class. The tonnage of the Boadica is 3,160; that of the Bristol is 4,800. The Bristols are somewhat slower, but they are much more powerfully armed.

The selection of this type for the Canadian fleet was made by the Admiralty after the most careful deliberation, and for reasons that are already becoming more clearly obvious. Naval experts are all agreed that Great Britain needs a very strong fleet, even if there is no danger at all of invasion. The real danger is that an enemy's swift, but powerful cruisers may be employed in destroying helpless merchant ships, and thus cripping Britain's finances, to say nothing of endanering her food supply. The specific motive for the Bristol cruisers is to use them for the protection of British trading ships, and this is why the Admiralty prefers Bristols to Dreadnoughts. The latter can patrol the North Sea to prevent the invasion of Great Britain; the former are charged with the more difficult, if not more important task of keeping the nation from being put and kept in a state of siege.

There is no need to say much about destroyers. When the torpedo was made perfect as a powerful missile of destruction, it became necessary to produce "torpedo boats" from which to launch them. This gave occasion for the construction of torpedo boat destroyers, boats of comparatively large size, effective armament, and enormous speed.

These are now well known all over the civilized world as destroyers. For shore and harbor protection they are perfectly adapted, and they are supposed to act in co-operation with submarines on the one hand and with fast cruisers and battleships on the other. Destroyers are certain to play a prominent and effective part in the next great naval battle wherever and whenever it may take place.

SPORTS

RECORD SKI JUMP

E. Engen, of Phoenix, made a wonderful record in his ski jump of 113 feet 8 inches at Rossland Carnival, and Harvey Lynn, who has developed from an amateur, deserves all kinds of credit for his jump of 100 feet. In Michigan, they have making some records, too, in this great winter sport. Andrew Haugen, of Chippewa Falls, last year's national champion, jumped 152 feet. The previous American jump of 140 feet was made at Marquette, Mich., a year ago by August Nordby, of Superior, Wis. Amateur champion Barney Reilly, of Coleraine, Minn., made 154 feet, but he fell. Haugen averaed 145 2-3 feet in three jumps standing each time. An amateur made a jump of 138 feet. There is no doubt that ski-running and ski-jumping are destined to become highly popular sports.

At the annual meeting of the Dominion Rifle Association, a couple of weeks ago, the following officers were elected:

Honorary president—Sir Frederick W. Borden.

President—Col. Sam P. Hughes, M. P.

Vice presidents—Col. W. C. Macdonald, of Toronto, for Ontario; Lieut.-Col. E. W. Wilson, of Montreal, for Quebec; Hon. Senator Power, of Halifax, for Nova Scotia; Col. Tilton, of Ottawa, for New Brunswick; Col. S. B. Steel, of Winnipeg, for Manitoba; Lieut.-Col. Prior, of Victoria, for British Columbia; Lieut.-Col. Davidson, of Fifth Regiment, for P. E. I.; Lieut.-Col. E. A. Cruickshanks, D. O. C., of Calgary, for Alberta; Lieut.-Col. R. J. Gwynne, for Saskatchewan, and Mr. Congdon, M. P., for the Yukon.

Lord Strathcona and the president of the provincial associations are ex-officio vice presidents. The members of the council for Ontario are: Lieut.-Col. Wm. White, C. M. G.; Lieut.-Col. A. Bertram, of Dundas; Lieut.-Col. A. T. Thompson, of Ottawa; Lieut.-Col. Sherwood, of Ottawa; Lieut.-Col. W. H. Anderson, of Ottawa, and Lieut.-Col. A. E. Gooderham, of Toronto.

There are an equal number of the council appointed for Ontario by the provisional association. Ottawa men representing other provinces on the D. R. A. council are: Major H. C. Blair, Sir Frederick Borden and R. L. Borden, M. P., for Nova Scotia; Lieut.-Col. D. R. Street, for New Brunswick; Brig.-Gen. Macdonald and Senator Watson, for Manitoba; Capt. H. H. Gray, for British Columbia; Lieut.-Col. H. R. Smith; Lieut.-Col. R. A. Helmer, Lieut.-Col. R. Brown, and Lieut.-Col. S. M. Rogers, for Prince Edward Island; Lieut.-Col. Biggar, for Alberta; Lieut.-Col. J. W. Woods and Capt. A. A. Pinard, for Saskatchewan.

At the meeting Lieut.-Col. Davidson, of the Eighth Royal Rifles, Quebec, made a complaint about the short barrel Ross rifle, which he said did not compare with the match Ross rifle with the result that young shots who competed against men armed with the match rifle were discouraged and gave up shooting.

It was pointed out that a big issue of later pattern Ross rifles was to be made to obviate this. Col. Hughes announced that an effort would be made to have the 303 calibre bullet replaced by a .280 calibre throughout the Empire, as being much more effective with a lower trajectory.

Earl Grey expressed the hope that the prize list would eventually be so increased as to attract riflemen from all parts of the Empire on their way home from Bisley.

SELECTING TEAM

With the opening of the baseball season many of those interested in the big leagues are beginning to ask themselves whether baseball is going back or not. At present, as far as major leagues are concerned, at any rate, appearances are much in favor of the affirmative, there can be no doubt in the eyes of the close student of the game that America's national pastime is slowly deteriorating. The present day galaxy of stars reached its zenith four or five years ago, and ever since then the headliners have been gradually dropping back to the minors.

It is certain that such great stars as Bobby Wallace, Larry Lajoie, Hal Chase, Hans Wagner, Fred Clarke, Johnny Kling and a horde of others, including the intrepid Bresnahan, have served their best days on the diamond, and their future careers will continue for only a brief period at best, and their places will be filled with youngsters from the minor leagues.

The managers of the clubs fully appreciate the seriousness of the situation; this is shown by the mad rush for young players at the beginning of every season. And from this competition has arisen an evil greater even than the deteriorating of the stars.

One or two of the clubs are getting all the really good men and the National and American league series are each simply resolving into a race between two or three of the clubs. As a remedy for this deplorable state of affairs a prominent baseball magnote makes the following suggestion:

"Suppose the club owners should get together every winter and place in a recptacle slips of paper containing the names of all the first basemen, in another receptacle the names of all the second basemen, and so on down the line of players of different positions, and then each club owner draw a team for his city for the following year, of course obligating himself to pay the salary provided for in the contract originally signed by the player. This would hurt some of the owners who believe in keeping down the salaries.

"The scheme would be as fair for one club as another, and would have the effect of dealing a solar plexus blow to the selfish set now running over the weaker teams and turning a deaf ear to all offers to purchase or trade for superfluous talent.

"The suggestion of drawing for players would naturally break up the teams and create 'paregorical' pains among some of the club owners, but these same men would learn before the end of the season that the general attendance wolud be improved to such a remarkable extent that they would be well repaid for their sacrifices."

Con Jones manager of the Vancouver Lacrosse team, is making strenuous efforts to land some of the Montreal National's home players for the Vancouver line-up for this year. Some time ago it was reported that while in the east he had made overtures to Newsy Lalonde, Laviolette and Gauthier. According to the recent issue of the Montreal Herald there is a possibility that Lalonde and Gauthier may come west to join the Vancouver team this season. In support of this rumor they point to the fact that Joe Cattarinich has been appointed manager of the Nationals instead of Lalonde.

Con Jones says he expects these men to join the Vancouvers this year, but members of the New Westminister Lacrosse Club think the possibility pretty slim. It is a cinch that these French-Canadians would sooner play with a team composed entirely of their own countrymen, particularly as that aggregation is at the head of Lacrosse in the East. Added to that they feel that Newsy Lalonde had just about enough of bucking up against New Westminister lacrosse players when with Vancouver before.

The New Westminister lacrosse team have received an invitation from the Nationals to play exihibition games in the east on May 24 and 27 before the N. L. U. season opens. The question of whether they will accept will be discussed at the annual meeting of the B. C. L. A., which takes place the last of this month when the season's schedule is being prepared.

uation of Canada being about eight millions. I also have, if any one wishes to avail himself of it, the name of every single member of this organization and how it was fanned into existence of anti-British interest. The honorable member for Swansea also mentioned, or inferred, that there were no papers west of Winnipeg, advocating the protection policy, and insinuated that there was hardly a paper which supported anything else but the free trade policy. Those statements are made unintentionally, no doubt, but they are absolutely contrary to the fact, and, I thing it is the duty of anyone who realizes that it is so, to take the opportunity of clearly showing and proving that they are such. I have the pleasure of knowing many of the editors or owners of those papers. I have here a list of seven or eight papers west of Winnipeg which are Protectionist up to the hilt. 'The West Regina,' of October 26, 1910, contained the following:

"'Under present conditions American capital is pouring into this country and establishing Canadian branches of great United States industries. If the tariff is reduced materially this influx of money and factories will cease. Canadian raw material will cross the line to be manufactured by the United States workmen into finished articles of commerce for the Canadian market. Why take the work away from Canadian workmen?'

No Free Trade Movement

"The assertion which has been made for party purposes in this country that there is a free trade movement in Canada in the sense we mean, is quite contrary to facts. What has been called a free trade movement is really a movement for the readjustment of tariffs, and a movement that must periodically take place in all protected countries, according to the law of supply and demand. That was purposely misnamed by the Radical press for party purposes. I would like to emphasize that such misrepresentation made for the interest of parties does much to upset good feeling, and it is a regretable fact also that the extraordinary ignorance which is shown in this country about our empire is a matter of unending astonishment to our fellow-countrymen overseas. Attempts have been made to prove also that there is a strong desire in other parts of the empire in support of free trade. In which other Dominions is it manifest? If you take Australia there you have a labor government which is protectionist, and protects its labor and the products of labor in every shape and form. Does that evince any desire for free trade, and is there any evidence in favor of free trade in New Zealand or South Africa? I have personally visited most of those countries, and lived and worked in almost all of them, and I failed to see any trace whatever of free trade as we know it in this country.

"I go further, and, speaking from experience, say that practically no free trader ever leaves these shores and permanently resides in any section of the British Empire without openly admitting, when he has seen for himself, that although he was a free trader when he left England he is now a staunch protectionist. I have met scores of men who held out for a long time—mainly Scotsmen, who are very obstinate in the matter of giving up their views or changing their opinions, but, speaking generally, I do not know a single one among all those whom I have met in the many years that I have spent abroad, who has ultimately advocated free trade as beneficial either to this country or to any section of the empire. I refer, of course, to practical men—one does not meet many theorists in our Dominions or Colonies.

Imperial Unity

"This debate might go on indefinitely without any resultant benefit to the empire. Party divides us so much that it is impossible to arrive at a middle course which might be in the interests of the empire. I have fought two elections on this question of Imperial unity, and have tried to get to a higher plane than that of mere party, to see if the obstacles cannot be overcome. If we cannot secure Imperial unity by or through Imperial preference it seems to me that it may be possible by some definite or non-party step ultimately to bring us into closer intercourse with our kinsmen across the seas. Although from many speeches it would appear that there is no hurry about the matter the situation of the empire today demands unusual effort from every member of this house, and I hope that before this debate concludes the government will state if they have any suggestions to make for promoting the cause of Imperial unity. Although the various Dominions have their own parliaments, we have to recollect that this is the imperial parliament and the mother of parliaments, and that collectively our Dominions look to us to safeguard their interests. This parliament, however, as at present constituted, is imperial in name only. Just as our empire has expanded, so must we expand our constitution to cope with the present situation unless we want it to run the risk of disintegration. As it is evident that no form of emperial preference will be accepted by the present government, I suggest that as a means toward imperial unity the government should consider the advisability of appointing a committee, representing all sections of the House, to go expeditiously into the question of the commercial and other relations between the different parts of the empire, with a view to ascertaining in what way we can improve and permanently strengthen the ties between us. I emphatically maintain that if such a committee were appointed and took evidence, barring matters of a controversial nature, the government would obtain several valuable suggestions to lay before the next imperial conference.

An Overseas Desire

"From experience gained in some twenty years in various parts of the empire, I am convinced that the oft-made statement 'Let the Mother Country lead, and we shall follow,' truly expresses the desire of our fellow-subjects oversea. There is a universal desire, bordering on anxiety, that we should combine our forces in some more definite manner. To whatever section of the empire you might go—and I have been in three sections only recently—the feeling does exist uninfluenced by party politics, that all is not well in the empire. There is a real anxiety for the future. That may be due to the increasing strength of another power, or to the influx into various parts of the empire of alien blood, bearing no allegiance to the British flag, or to the consciousness of the extraordinary apathy with which so large a section of the British public regard the empire; but, whatever the cause, there does exist the feeling that while there is time steps should be taken to evolve some means of consolidating our interests and of knitting together the various parts of the empire in some real and effective manner, instead of depending mainly on sentiment, as we do at the present time. In my opinion the oly solution of this difficult and complex problem, which is at present blocked at every turn by party politics, is that should a committee as I have suggested should be apponted to devise some means of creating a permanent imperial council or senate by which, once for all, matters of imperial interest might be raised above the plane of party politics. I intend to take the earliest opportunity of asking the Prime Minister if he will take some steps to this end, and I hope when I do so that honorable members opposite, who contend that the welfare of the empire is as safe in their hands as in the hands of honorable members on this side of the house, will do their best to support me in endeavoring to press the matter to a successful issue. I thank the house for its indulgence on this occasion on which I have addressed them."

MEANING OF GUEST

Person Can Have a Drink After Licensed Hours Provided Meal Is Also Ordered

In the case of J. H. Quann, of the Rainier Hotel, charged with supplying liquor after hours without a license, Magistrate Shaw in Vancouver found that three of the witnesses who had testified to getting liquor after hours were taking bona fide meals in the dining room and no offence was committed in serving them as guests; but in the case of one man named Butler, he found he did not take a bona fide meal with his liquor, and in that case there was a technical breach of the liquor license bylaw. At the same time he believed that Mr. Quann had been honestly desirous of obeying the law, and as this was only a test case he would impose the minimum fine of $5.

LAST YEAR

REAL ESTATE OWNERS IN

MADE

$100,000,000

From the most accurate figures obtainable, over One Hundred Million Dolars was made by real estate owners in growing cities and towns of Western Canada last year. This vast wealth was exclusive of improvements and represented actual increase in land values alone.

Original records gathered by the Winnipeg Free Press prove that in eight Western Canadian Cities the value of land alone—not counting improvements—increased 562 per cent for the last five years—an annual increase of 112 per cent for each city during the last five years. These figures indicate that investments in live, growing cities in Western Canada are as safe and sure as an investment can be, and that 100 per cent profit each year is almost a certainty.

THIS YEAR

THEY WILL UNDOUBTEDLY MAKE $100,000,000 MORE

You have an oportunity now to participate in these immense profits by being one of the original purchasers of town lots in the Grand Trunk Pacific addition to the fast growing Western Canadian cities, otherwise known as

GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC RAILWAY DIVISION POINTS

WATROUS, MELVILLE, WAINWRIGHT, BIGGAR

The Grand Trunk Pacific offers in these splendidly located, fast growing Division Points and in the townsite of Tofield an opportunity for the investor to share in the large profits that are sure to accrue as a result of the rapid and substantial growth that characterizes Grand Trunk Pacific Division Points and well located cities and towns in Western Canada.

The Grand Trunk Pacific does not offer townsites or additions so located as to make investments in them of questionable value. The object in selling these lots at the low prices at which they are offered is to encourage the upbuilding of these cities from which the Grand Trunk Pacific will derive vastly more benefit than from the sale of lots.

Now is the time to buy. Choice lots range from $100 upwards on easy payments of 10 per cent cash and 10 per cent a month. You make your purchase direct and secure title from the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company. Write for literature and make your selection while the prices are extremely low and the possibilities unlimited. Address
