KING OF GREECE CONFERS WITH BRITISH MINISTER

COALITION GOVERNMENT TO BE FORMED IN GREECE

Tahure Taken By French Forces With 1000 Prisoners

French Troops Have Captured Tahure And A Thousand Men

Paris, Oct. 6.—An official report says:

"Our action in Champagne has obtained for us new results. Our infantry troops after a strong artillery preparation captured by assault the village of Tahure. We reached also the summit of a small hill of the same name, constituting a point of support to the second line of resistance of the enemy.

"We likewise made progress in the environs of Narvin farm. The number of prisoners exceeds 1,000.

"On the rest of the front only artillery engagements are reported. These are especially intense in Artois, in the region of Givenchy wood, Hill 119, in Argonne, in Lorraine and in the Vosges."

Among The Killed.

London, Oct. 6.—Rudyard Kipling's only son has been killed in action in the recent fighting on the western front.

One well known member of the British House of Commons has been killed, and also members of the most prominent families in Britain.

NATIONAL DEBT OF GREAT BRITAIN

INFORMATION COMPILED RELATIVE TO THE INDEBTEDNESS OF COUNTRY

It Had Been On The Decline When The Present War Broke Out.

Some interesting and enlightening information about the British national debt is contained in a recent issue of the London Economist, which prints a brief history of the debt since its institution in 1689 during the war against Louis XIV.

At the time it was created the permanent debt was criticized as "Dutch finance." Nine years after it amounted to £20,000,000, and the interest rate ran from 6 to 8 per cent.

The figures as commented on above are conveniently summarized by The Economist in a table:

Debt in
1775 (before American War)	£ 128,583,000
1783 (Peace of Versailles)	249,851,000
1802 (Peace of Amiens)	520,207,000
1816	885,000,000
1857	836,000,000
1899	635,000,000
1903	798,000,000
1914 (March 31)	707,000,000
1915 (March 31)	1,165,802,000

GOOD ATTRACTION AT WESTHOLME THEATRE

"The Governor's Lady" Is A Very Entertaining Picture—Other Features.

Tonight at the Westholme will be repeated the great five-act Lasky production entitled "The Governor's Lady." This was the leading film last night.

At the outset, the story is a domestice idyl, picturing sweet and simple American home life. Unexpectedly wealth comes along, and with it political and social ambitions on the part of the husband, who is ultimately nominated for governor. Dissatisfied with his wife's lack of interest in his ambitions, he makes up his mind to seek a divorce, with the intention of marrying a younger and more ambitious woman. In the long run, the simple honesty of the wife who has helped him to win success, loyally and unobtrucively triumphs, and the story has a happy ending.

As in all Lasky features, the setting and photography are flawless, while Edith Wynne Mathison as the governor's wife, scores a big success. "Others started but Sophie Finished," a bright little comedy, concludes a splendid programme.

Assuming that Greece and Roumania will enter the war on the side of the Allies if Bulgaria joins the Austro-Germans, the Allied forces would be reinforced by nearly 1,000,000 troops, and the Austro-Germans by 720,000. Greece's forces are widely scattered, and she would probably be slow in mobilizing.

Coalition Government In Greece---The King Confers With British

London, Oct. 6.—King Constantine, of Greece, has conferred with the former Premiers Rhallis and Zaimis. He requested their assistance in connection with the situation created, and after discussion they decided on the principle to form a coalition government without Venizelos. The new government will be under the Premiership of Zaimis.

The British minister had a long conference with King Constantine today.

Loyal To King.

An Athens despatch says that the resignation of Venizelos was totally unexpected. It created a great sensation both among his partisans and among his opponents. The loyalty of the people to the King alone saved the situation.

Ground Of Disagreement.

King Constantine has intimated that he is opposed to the policy of the Venizelos Cabinet, which proposed to strike a quick blow in aid of Serbia and her Allies.

Only A Protest.

The Greek protest against the landing of Allied troops at Salonika is regarded as a formality, arranged to meet the requirements of the political situation. Local naval, military and civil officers received the Allies cordially and willingly lent assistance in the landing operations.

Bulgaria's Reply Is Not Satisfactory To The Allied Powers

London, Oct. 6.—Bulgaria's reply to the Russian ultimatum is unsatisfactory. The Russian minister has notified Premier Radoslavoff, of Bulgaria, of the rupture of diplomatic relations between the two countries.

The Russian interests in Bulgaria have been confided to the Dutch Charge d' Affairs.

Bulgaria's reply to Russia was delivered at 2:40 o'clock on the afternoon of Tuesday.

The Allies Agree.

Sofia, Oct. 6.—The Russian, French, British, Italian and Serbian ministers to Bulgaria have all asked for their passports, Bulgaria's answer to the ultimatum sent by Russian being unsatisfactory.

Roumania Active.

London, Oct. 6.—Reuters announces that Roumania is hurriedly despatching troops to the Bulgarian frontier, and is taking extraordinary military measures.

The Bulgarian artillery is now under the charge of German gunners.

A WELL KNOWN RESIDENT OF VANCOUVER DEAD

Vancouver, Oct. 6.—Archibald M. Beattie, one of Vancouver's well known old-timers, dropped dead on the street in Collingwood, while out walking last night.

Deceased was born in Dumfries, Scotland, 64 years ago, and came to Vancouver in 1886. He commanded the Richmond Field Artillery in the early days, and was consul for the Hawaiian Islands from 1892 until 1895. For years he had been a prominent auctioneer in the city.

INCREASING THE CARLOAD SHIPMENTS

DURING SEPTEMBER THERE WERE SIXTY-TWO CARS OF FRESH FISH

Last Month Was The Best In History Of Port.

The fish trade out of here is increasing every month that goes by. September proved to be the best one in the history of the port, as far as the shipping records show. During that month there were 62 full express cars shipped from here to eastern points. This does not take into account the broken shipments that are sent each week, and which represent at least eight carloads extra.

This record of fish, practically all halibut, represents on an average, over two carloads each day, including Sundays. These shipments are by train only. There was in addition to this quite an amount sent south by boat, including over-sized and undersized fish which were not used here.

The city of Prince Rupert is rapidly coming into its position of the premier fish port of the Pacific.

NATIONAL DEBT.

The Economist points out that the whole of the debt-reduction that had been effected in eight recent years was in 1914 swept away by two months of war, and by "March 31, 1915, £458,000,000 had been added to the national debt, it being then £1,165,802,000. Between March 31 and June 19, another £184,000,000 was added to this total, giving £518,000,000 to be made good by receipts other than from revenue." The writer says further:

"To meet this deficit, the Government had, up to June 19, borrowed £614,000,000. The November war-loan produced £331,000,000; exchequer bonds were issued for £48,000,000, and treasury bills sold to the value of £235,000,000. Of the exchequer bonds £16,500,000 have been paid off, leaving £597,500,000 as the net receipts from borrowings. But 'expenditure today, said Mr. McKenna, on June 21, 'is very nearly £3,000,000 a day, and the expenditure is rising.' Revenue brings in £732,000 a day, so that there is a deficiency of £2,250,000 per day, which will grow as expenditure grows. Mr. Lloyd George put the deficit at the end of the year at £860,000,000, but it will be nearer £900,000,000. In other words, unless revenue is increased by taxation at the end of the financial year, the national debt will have grown from £1,165,000,000 to over £2,065,000,000; and the debt charge from £19,000,000 (exclusive of sinking-fund) to nearly £90,000,000 per annum."

Correspondence

ON EARLY CLOSING.

To the Editor:— Dear Sir: Being a spectator at the council meeting last evening, and hearing a notice to quash the early closing bylaw, presented by ex-Ald. Morrissey and his attorney Judge Carss—being read and discussed—I am strong of the opinion some attention should be given this matter, more than being accepted and filed. The ratepayers retain a better memory when Jack Hilditch quashed the money bylaws some few years ago, at an expense to the city of some three hundred odd dollars, as the expert fee to Mr. Patmore, by the city losing its case. In these hard times, the city has no money to lose in trifling lawsuits, particularly as the bylaw in question will undoubtedly work a hardship upon a large portion of the patrons of grocery stores. If my memory serves me aright, this same ex-Ald. Morrissey, when at the council board was a great defender against the city entering into lawsuits, and by so doing, saved the city many dollars.

Yours in haste,
A CONSUMER.

ENORMOUS RESOURCES OF BRITAIN IN MEN

The Empire Can Call A Tremendous Force To Arms.

The decision of France to mobilize 1,000,000 natives of its colonies for service in Europe if they are needed directs attention to the enormous reserves upon which the Allies can call if their home resources in men are insufficient to destroy the German menace.

Already thousands of natives of India are serving under the British flag in France and Belgium and like the battalions of native troops from the French colonies in Northern Africa have acquitted themselves splendidly in combat with the enemy. But these forces are simply a part of the trained soldiery possessed by France and Britain in India and Africa when the war broke out and do not represent one tithe of the millions of men who are not only willing, but eager to serve their flags on the field of battle.

The British born must shoulder the rifle before any general call can be made upon India, but the fact remains that the Empire could put an additional military strength in the field which numerically would take second place to none of the belligerent nations, with the possible exception of Russia.
