CANADA WILL SEE THE WAR THROUGH

Sir Robert Borden Says the Dominion Will Back Great Britain to the End In The Present European Conflict

Outlining the justness of the cause of Great Britain, reviewing what Canada has done and expects to do for the aid of the Empire and expressing the unflinching determination of Canada along with Great Britain to see the war through to a successful conclusion, Sir Robert Borden addressed a most enthusiastic combined meeting of the Canadian and Empire clubs of Toronto.

Sir Robert, in opening, emphasized that he was convinced that no nation ever desired peace more than Great Britain and no statesmen ever wrought more to avoid war than did the statesmen of Great Britain in the weeks which immediately preceded the conflict. The Premier referred briefly to the military teaching to which German people have been listening for the past half century by which war has been glorified as a solemn duty for the cause of national development. The influence of the teaching of these war philosophers upon the German people can be realized from their unquestioning support of the enormous increase in their military and naval forces.

War Inevitable.

Sir Robert said that the military autocracy of Germany had taught their people for more than twenty years that the British Empire stood chiefly in the path of German expansion and that war was inevitable. No one could predict the exact occasion which would be seized but no one could doubt the intention of the Prussian militarists.

"In the end the storm broke suddenly," said the Premier, and the country was confronted with responsibilities greater than those which it had ever faced. The situation demanded action, it demanded immediate and unhesitating action beyond the authorization of the law as it then stood; it was impossible for the Government to wait, and by Order-in-Council we promulgated necessary measures in advance of a meeting of parliament. The people of Canada loyally acquiesced in these measures and our course had been ratified by the necessary legislative sanction.

Sir Robert reviewed the steps leading up to the sending of the first contingent and expressed pride at the work which had been accomplished at Valcartier Camp in so short a period.

Organization Not Excelled.

"It is difficult," added the Premier

British Forced Germans Back

London, Dec. 10.—The Germans have been driven out of Armentieres by the British and hurled back beyond artillery range at that point.

Germans Lost All Their Fleet In South Atlantic Battle

London, Dec. 10.—An Admiralty report announces officially that the German cruiser Nurnberg was overtaken and sunk by the British fleet in the South Atlantic. Buenos Ayres reports say that the Dresden was sunk also.

The British Admiralty reports that the British lost only eighteen men killed in the naval battle off Falkland Island in the South Atlantic. The British South Atlantic squadron, according to information received here recently, was reinforced by several vessels bearing heavy guns.

Allies Dropped Bombs From Airships On Station At Freiburg

Paris, Dec. 10.—The general situation with our army remains unchanged. Yesterday our aviators succeeded in dropping sixteen bombs on the station of the aviation hangars in Freiburg. In spite of a vigorous cannonade by the enemy they returned without accident.

STEALING CASE UP BEFORE ASSIZE COURT

Evidence Is Very Contradictory From The Women Connected With It---Crown's Witnesses Have All Been Examined---Accused Is On Stand

All day yesterday in the Assize Court the case of Rex vs. Harris was before the court. It is not yet finished but will be proceeded with this morning. The following jury was selected: Douglas Sutherland, foreman; O. J. Kirkpatrick, M. M. Wells Phil McDonald, F. E. Clapp, F. W. Renworth, J. A. Edwards, J. J. Walsh, Wm. Blane, H. W. Tooker George M. Shirley, and Lachlan McDonald.

The case is one in which Lily Harris is charged with stealing about $700 from the trunk of another woman in the restricted district named Daisy Lee. The evidence is quite contradictory and is occupying a long time to get from the witnesses. W. E. Fisher appears for the Crown, while A. M. Manson, representing the private prosecutor, Daisy Lee, is assisting. L. W. Patmore appears for the accused.

The Evidence.

Daisy Lee was the first witness. The accused, she testified, had lived with her from August 29 to September 12, when she left for Vancouver, where she was arrested and brought back charged with theft. She told of keeping the money in her trunk and accused the Harris woman of getting the key and taking the money. She had withdrawn the money from the bank at the suggestion of the accused because she said it was not safe in the bank owing to the war.

Lily Harris complained of being sick and about the time decided to go to Vancouver, which she did. The witness missed the money after she left.

There was a lot of trouble getting at all the facts, the witness being very ready to express herself rather freely as to the accused.

The whole forenoon was taken up with her evidence and that of Alva O'Neill.

Afternoon Sitting.

Upon resuming court in the afternoon the first witness called for the

GERMAN SUBMARINES ATTEMPT ATTACK ON DOVER AND FLEET

Fortunately The British Got Warning And Frustrated The Plans Of The Attacking Flotilla---Several Of The Vessels Making The Attempt Were Sunk According To The Information Received---Destroyers Searched All Day In The English Channel In Vain For The Enemy's Craft

Dover, Dec. 10.—This place has been thrown into intense excitement by an announcement that the Germans early this morning attempted a submarine attack upon the harbor works here and the fleet anchored in this harbor. Last night was dark and a heavy rain made searchlight work difficult, which militated against the local forts and in favor of the German attacking force.

Fortunately, however, the forts were put on the alert by the appearance off the harbor entrance of an unidentified ship which refused to stop. Upon a shot being fired across the bows of the vessel she retired.

It is believed that she was a tender for the fleet of German submarines.

Half an hour later a single submarine was sighted. One of the heavy guns of the harbor fired at the submarine, which was evidently the advance guard of a flotilla. It disappeared, and later observers noticed what is believed to have been a fleet of six submarines several miles out in the channel.

The channel forts commenced firing and this was kept up almost half an hour.

The torpedo boat destroyer flotilla from here then put out to sea in search of the enemy and remained out all day.

There has been no official confirmation of the fact that the German submarines were seen. It is reported however, that two or three of the submarines were sunk.

U. S. DEPENDS ON BRITAIN FOR CHARTS

Washington, Dec. 10.—It would be practically impossible for the United States navy to make any strategic move outside of American waters unless it first purchased British Admiralty charts to ensure safe navigation.

This statement is made by Capt. Thomas Washington, hydrographer of the navy, in his annual report.

He says that his office has now fairly begun the task of reproducing by zincography these British charts, of which it would be necessary to purchase 1,752, and the hope is expressed that the United States may soon be independent of foreign chartmakers for the safe navigation of its ships.

Rouliers Has Been Taken

Amsterdam, Dec. 10.—The Allies have entered Rouliers in West Flanders, about twelve miles northeast of Ypres, according to the Sluis correspondent of the Handelsblad.

The Kaiser Probably Very Much Alive

Last evening a flash message received from Edmonton over the line of the G.T.P. Telegraphs conveyed the information that the Kaiser was dead. Inquiry by wire elicited the information that the report was one received in Edmonton late in the afternoon but in no wise confirmed, simply a report. From Vancouver the information was received about midnight that no information to that effect had been received there. It is therefore to be fairly established that the Kaiser still lives and is working out his designs against Britain and her allies.

G. T. P. Telegraph Rate Reduced

The G.T.P. Telegraph Company is able to announce that the rate from Prince Rupert to Vancouver and Victoria has been reduced from $1.25 to $1.00 for ten words, and 7 cents each additional word. This brings the rate to the same as that under the Government line's new schedule. It will be received as good news by those using the wire.

Shipping Salmon To Belgium

The proceeds of the patriotic concert given by the Ladies' Musical Society of this city has been devoted to the purchase of salmon for the Belgians. The proceeds of that concert given in the Empress Theatre has been sufficient to purchase 74 cases of salmon. The G.T.P. has kindly offered to carry the shipment free of cost. It will be shipped tomorrow morning for transshipment by the Belgian consul to the sufferers from the war.

STEALING CASE.

Crown was Rosey Bloom, who testified that she knew the accused but did not know anything about her finances.

Cross-examined by Mr. Patmore, witness testified that the girls were all excited on the night that Chivers committed suicide on the line.

E. Haynes of the Postoffice inspector's office, Victoria, identified the covering of a parcel which he examined. The parcel was mailed in Prince Rupert about September 11 last. It went to Toronto, where it remained for thirty days, when it was opened. The wrapper was sent to him to investigate. He got the contents later. These were a blouse and bills to the amount of $218. Part of the bills which were produced were, according to his information, wrapped in the collar of the blouse.

Admitted Sending Blouse.

Mr. Patmore for the accused admitted the sending of the blouse to Toronto. The parcel according to the stamp was received in Toronto on September 19.

Cross-examined by Mr. Patmore witness contended that the date on the wrapper was not September 10 or 12 but September 19.

R. M. McIntosh, postmaster, testified as to the sailings of the boats from Prince Rupert, but said he could not be very sure without the records. He said that his opinion was that the date mark at Toronto was September 19.

Mr. Haynes recalled, said he examined the records of the postoffice and found that a mail left here September 11 by the Venture at 8:10 p.m., September 12 by the Princess May at 4 p.m., September 13 by Princess Royal at 6:30 p.m.

The court wished fuller records going back over dates from September 7.

Statement to Chief.

Chief Vickers, called, testified to having had the accused arrested in Vancouver. When she returned she was warned by Fred Peters, K.C., the city solicitor, in his presence. After that the woman made a statement. At the Salvation Army barracks she had told witness that she had $361 in cash; $73 she spent for a ticket to Toronto, $20 for a dress $5 for a pair of boots, and $10 which she spent for other things. She said she had no other money. He had searched the trunk of the accused after it came from Toronto. On a third search he found $80 in a rosette in a dress.

Testifying as to letters received, the chief said one letter was in Yiddish from her mother; another was from Paul Gottlieb. Letters came to her addressed to Fanny Hermann.

Sailings of Boats.

Mr. Haynes recalled produced the records from the postoffice, showing that on Tuesday, September 8, a mail went by the Chelohsin at 8:30 p.m.

In reply to His Lordship witness said anything posted on September would not go forward until September 11.

Dr. Tremayne had been called to said anything posted on September 9 11. She was suffering from nervousness.

Cross-examined, witness said the woman had given the death of Chivers as having upset her.

Reading the evidence of Bertha Schwartz taken at the preliminary hearing the statements were made that accused said she was making little money. The accused did not appear to have much money. The woman complained of being sick. She said she wanted to go home and was going. She never told her how much money she had.

The cross-examination of Mr. Patmore being read showed that Bertha Schwartz had stated that when girls had money it was not usual to tell the others.

Other evidence taken at the preliminary was also put in.

Evidence for Defense.

This closed the case for the Crown.

Mr. Patmore outlining the case contended that the accused, as was customary, kept her own counsel as to what money she made.

Harry G. Smith, who was a messenger, had, in connection with his business, sent money away for the accused. About July 17 or July 18 he sent $100 away for her to Paul Gottlieb in Buffalo. About August 1 he sent $150 to the same address for her.

Accused on Stand.

The accused being called said she went under the name of Lily Harriss. She arrived here about July with $2. She made $175 clear the first week. Most of the money was made by drinks, intoxicating liquor. It was nonsense to say they were not selling liquor on the street. They all sold it. Alva O'Neill could not make money as she used opium. Witness did not care about dressing in Prince Rupert.

Witness said that Alva O'Neill and she were never good friends. Witness considered that she was not fairly dealt with by the O'Neill woman, who charged her too much rent. She also said that she said that Chivers had not been fairly treated.

She accounted for the money being sewn in the dress in that she did not like the garment and wanted to return it. The man would not take it back and so according to a custom on the line she sewed $80 in the dress for luck. No one knew what money she had. She never let it be known.

Witness did not know where Daisy Lee kept the key of her trunk.

Witness explained that she addressed the parcel with money in it to her sister, Fanny Hermann, in Toronto, so that her sister might get it. If she sent it by an order her husband would know it.

Upset by Suicide.

She said she had never been very strong. On September 9 when Chivers' suicide took place she became upset. She made up her mind then that she would not stay in Prince Rupert. Witness said that she did not make all her money on the street. She came up city and had friends.

Witness said she was discharged by the police magistrate. She could have left the city but she decided to stay and clear herself of the charge.

Cross-examined by Mr. Fisher, witness said she had about $400 when she went to Daisy Lee's. She had forgotten about the $80 in the dress. She did not remember it until she was shown it in the police court. The partnership between herself and Daisy Lee lasted only one week. She was not a bright enough woman to be in partnership with her and keep track of her money, said the witness in reply to questions.

Witness was very fully examined by Mr. Taylor as to her finances. She contended that before she went away if all were counted she had about $760.

A Weather Question.

Referring to getting $22 from a man which she gave to Daisy Lee and which was wet, witness admitted the money was wet. The man told her he was a fisherman.

Mr. Fisher asked if it was not a wet morning, when witness replied, "When fishermen come to Comox Avenue they are not looking for weather."

In explanation of making money she said that a new face always made more money. She said that anything she said to these women was not to be depended upon because she did not tell them the truth. She never associated with any respectable people while she was there.

When she told the chief the money she had she did not include the money in the blouse and in the dress. As to what she told Chief Vickers she answered that if she told him anything it was the truth.

"You regarded the chief as respectable," returned His Lordship, with which the witness agreed.

The court then adjourned until this morning.

CANADA WILL SEE.

"for those who did not see the camp and who have not studied all that has been accomplished to realize the tremendous demands made upon the organizing ability of the Canadian people to accomplish all this. I venture the assertion that the organization and arrangement of Valcartier Camp have not been excelled in any part of the Empire, since the commencement of this war."

The Premier pointed out that as soon as the first contingent was despatched the Government immediately announced that another would follow. The number now training will be fifty thousand and as soon as each contingent goes forward a corresponding number of men will be enlisted to take its place. This will proceed regularly and continuously until peace is achieved or until they were satisfied that no more men were needed. He said that Canada was prepared not only to send one hundred thousand men, but two or even three hundred thousand. We preferred to name no figure.

Canada Will Answer Call.

"If the preservation of our Empire demands twice or thrice that number," declared the Premier, "we shall ask for them, and I know that Canada will answer the call. But remember that men cannot be sent forward more rapidly than the British authorities are prepared to receive them and undertake their final training."

Continuing, he said: "There can be but one issue to this war, but do not expect it will be a speedy issue. I have reason to know that the results hitherto attained have been all that were anticipated by the Allies, but so far as can be foreseen, there is a long struggle before us."

The Premier referred at some length to the patriotic spirit which was manifest throughout the whole of Canada. The war had demonstrated also the essential unity of the Empire. Sir Robert closed with the following eloqfent peroration:

Cause Is Just.

"Canada is united in the strong conviction that our cause is just and in an unflinching determination to make it triumphant. This appalling conflict was not of Britain's seeking. Having entered upon it there is but one duty, to stand firmly united in an inflexible resolve to force it to a victorious and honorable conclusion. Reverses may come, but they must only inspire us with a deeper courage and greater determination. Our fortitude and our endurance must equal all demands that the future shall make upon us. All that our fathers fought for and achieved, all that we have inherited and accomplished, our institutions and liberties, our destiny as a nation, the existence of our Empire, all are at stake in this contest. The resolution, the determination, the self-reliance which never failed Canada in the stress and trials of the past will assuredly not fail her now."

ONE GREAT BRITISH UNIT.

Extract from British Officer's Letter Shows Spirit of Self-abnegation.

The magnificent spirit animating British officers was illustrated in a letter written to a friend by the late Captain Norman Leslie. The following extract was read by the Primate of Ireland during a brief address he delivered at a memorial service for the deceased officer, held at Glasslough, County Monaghan.

"Try and not worry too much about the war units. Individuals cannot count. Remember we are writing a new page of history. Future generations cannot be allowed to read of the decline of the British Empire and attribute it to us. We live our little lives and die, and to some are given the choice of proving themselves men, and to others no chance comes.

"Whatever our individual faults, virtues, or qualities may be it matters not; but when we are up against big things let us forget individuals and let us act as one great British unit, united and fearless. Some will live and many will die, but count not the loss. It is better far to go out with honor than survive with shame."

MR. HARRY HANSON,
"The Reliable Plumber," Prince Rupert, B.C.:

Dear Sir,—I have great pleasure in certifying to the excellent hot water and heating system that you installed in our parsonage and that after six months of operation through the winter months it has given every satisfaction.

The system heats a thirty-gallon tank of water to boiling temperature in one hour after the fire has been started; it in no way interferes with the oven for baking purposes. In addition to this the wall radiator which you placed in dining room and connected with the range boiler has given us splendid satisfaction, supplying us with ample heating throughou the winter, saving us the cost of a stove and fuel. I most heartily testify to the satisfaction and efficiency of your system and gladly recommend it.

Sincerely yours,

Rexall TRADE MARK

The Rexall Stores of Canada

CONTRIBUTE TO

The Canadian Patriotic Fund

THE Rexall Stores of Canada, 400 of the leading Drug Stores in Canada have unanimously agreed to contribute to the Canadian Patriotic Fund, FIVE PER CENT. of their total purchases of all Rexall Toilet Goods, Rexall Remedies and other merchandise manufactured or sold by he United Drug Company, Limited, Toronto, from October 15th o December 31st, 1914.

This action of the Rexall Drug Stores of Canada has been undertaken co-operatively, because as a co-operative organization, they realize how much more can be done unitedly than individually, and it has been taken for two reasons—to fulfill a humane duty in raising a fund for the relief work of the Canadian Patriotic Organization, and a patriotic duty in an endeavor to keep a large staff of Canadian employees busy.

The 400 Rexall Stores of Canada make an appeal to your sympathy and support in their doubly worthy cause for increasing the funds of th Canadian Patriotic Organization and for the support o Canadian workmen because:—The fund that would be raised on the basis of last year's business can be tremendously increased if every man and woman in Canada will help a little by the simple process of purchasing Rexall Goods at the Rexall Stores.

No need to give space in this announcement to emphasize the high quality of Rexall Toilet and Medicinal goods. Sufficient to say that 7,00 of the leading Drug Stores in Canada, Great Britain, and the United States place their personal and collective reputations behind them; that the public in these countries endorse them to the extent of several million dollars worth of purchases a year.

Better goods are not made, and you take no risk in buying, for every Rexall Store will return you your money if any Rexall Product is not entirely satisfactory and do it, too, without the slightest objection.

There's a full list of Rexall products waiting for you at the Rexall Store in your town.

Ask for it—kindly pass he word along to your friends. It is the collective purchases of all that will make this Rexall Store Fund for the Canadian Patriotic Organization work a big one.

The Fund will be collecte from each Rexall Store in Canada by the United Drug Company, Limited, Toronto, and will be paid by them direct to the officers of the Canadian Patriotic Organization, and the amount so collected will be published in this paper when paid over.

REXALL GOODS ARE MADE IN CANADA and you can procure them in your town only from

He Has Been Left a Fortune of Over Half a Million Dollars.

Last week Mr. L. R. Ross, Intercolonial station or terminal agent at St. John, New Brunswick, was dependent on his modest salary of $2,000 a year. This week he has an estate of more than a quarter of a million.

The late Col. J. J. Tucker, at one time member of parliament for St. John, who was never married, died a few days ago, leaving property valued at $564,500. After providing some moderate bequests and remembering certain local charities, Col. Tucker left the remainder of his estate, amounting to $540,000, to be divided equally between a cousin in England and Mr. Ross, whom he describes as a friend who had rendered him some services.

Mr. Ross is a brother of the late Wallace Ross, at one time a competitor with Hanlan for the rowing championship of the world.
