BRITISH RECOVERED TRENCHES LOST IN COUNTER

RUSSIA THREATENS ACTION AGAINST BULGARIANS

French Aeroplanes Still Bombarding The Enemies' Lines

Bulgaria Warned By Russia To Behave Or Suffer Results

Petrograd, Oct. 2.—The Bulgarian Government has been again warned, this time by Russia. Sergius Sasonoff, the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, has declared that if the Bulgarians persist in their present traitorous course, they must answer an ultimatum from Russia.

This ultimatum has not yet been presented, but he presumes one will be within a very short time.

Bulgaria's Move.

Paris, Oct. 2.—A report from Athens states that Bulgarian troops from Sofia are moving in the direction of the Serbian frontier. Other troops are making for the Greek border.

The principal point of concentration is the Stouma River, southwest of Sofia.

Ready For Action.

It seems certain that there is to be a renewal of war in the Balkans. Britain, France, Italy and Russia have arranged plans to cope with any attacks which may be made on Serbia and Greece. There are pro-German manifestations in the Bulgarian cities along the Danube, and artillery is massing on the frontier of Dobrudja in Roumania.

RUSSIA APPEARS TO BE MAKING STEADY PROGRESS

London, Oct. 2.—There are optimistic reports from Russia, following the withdrawal of pressure by the enemy. The Russian front now extends in a straight line from Dvinsk to the Roumanian border.

On Visit To City.

R. D. Pinneo, of Seattle, Assistant General Freight Agent of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, is in the city. He will spend a few days here looking into the business conditions. The fish traffic from Alaska is one that affects the company which Mr. Pinneo represents, and he will on this visit, make some investigation relative to trade through here.

PRESENTATION MADE TO WESTERN SCOTS

Sir James Douglas' Powder Horn Given To New Victoria Regiment.

The 67th Battalion, Western Scots, made their first appearance on street parade at Victoria a few days ago, when they marched from the Willows to the Parliament Buildings and were presented by the Premier, Sir Richard McBride, on behalf of Mrs. Dennis Harris, with a powder horn used nearly a century ago by Sir James Douglas, Mrs. Harris is the youngest daughter of the first governor of the province.

The battalion has been recruited since the return of Lieut.-Col. Lorne Ross from the battlefield of France, this fact being referred to by the Premier in a speech he made on the arrival of the soldiers at Parliament square. He thought the battalion a striking testimony to the willingness of the young manhood of the province to answer the Empire's call.

The Premier spoke of the return of Lieut.-Col. Ross and his mission. The result, as seen in the new battalion, he said, was the answer to the suggestion made by the Germans that Great Britain was having difficulty in securing men from the overseas Dominions for service at the front. He told the colonel and his men that the people of British Columbia had every faith in them, and were confident they would most worthily do their duty when the battlefield was reached.

The Premier then made the presentation with the following words: "Mark well the motto on the Douglas arms, 'Jamais Arriere' (never behind). It is an appropriate one for such a fine body of men."

Major Stewart expressed the pride which the people of Victoria felt in the new battalion. There had been doubters of the ability of Lieut.-Col. Ross to raise the battalion, he said, but these were now fully answered. The raising of the regiment in so

INQUIRY INTO PURCHASE OF SUBMARINES IN PROGRESS

Evidence Given Before Sir Charles Davidson At Victoria.

Victoria, Oct. 2.—S. S. Taylor, K. C., of Vancouver, representing the Liberal party, was refused status in the submarine inquiry, which opened here today. Sir Charles Davidson ruled that counsel John Thompson is capable of conducting the inquiry, and does not allow counsel on either side.

Richard Ryan, janitor of the Parliament Buildings, said that he handled a cheque for $1,150,000 for the submarines, as agent for the government, when the vessels were handed over at sea.

J. V. Patterson, of Seattle, admitted receiving $40,000 commission for himself, and stated that this was all the commission paid in the transaction. He claimed that the submarines were proper vessels and perfect in construction. The commission is still in session.

Fined For Dice Shaking.

In the police court yesterday a conviction was secured in the case against V. Cole for shaking dice in connection with the cigar selling. He was fined $1 by Magistrate Carss.

THE INDIAN COMMISSION ON INDIAN LANDS

It is a common practice to rail against Royal Commissions. It matters little how persistent the demand may be for such a body, it seems to be the general rule to find fault after the appointment is made. Of the commissions that have served in the west, few have come in for as sweeping condemnation on the part of the general public as the Indian Commission. We are prone to agree, that in no small measure the criticisms are warranted. That body has never impressed us. The appointment of that body was an ill advised act, we believe, in spite of the fact that many who rail against it now, persisted in crying out for some such body. In its conduct, since appointment, it has pursued a course that lends itself to severe censure.

We believe, even that were it to come to an end, that could not be described as is so often said of sudden deaths, that it was untimely. We believe the commission was unnecessary. We have little hope of any good coming from its findings. In its peregrinations there has been a lack of good judgment, whoever was the guiding mind of the body. Especially at a time when it could be expected that even a child would grasp the lesson of wartimes and practise economy, this commission is found travelling with a pomp that is nauseous to the public.

The appointment of the commission, we believe, was a mistake. We have always held that opinion. It was created in the first instance at the suggestion of the Federal authorities, in answer to a demand made by certain so-called friends of the Indians to arrive at a settlement of what was called by these people, a vexed question of Indian titles to the land. The attitude of Sir Richard McBride preceding this is well known. He would not acknowledge the claim of the Indians, and persisted to refusing to open the question, a stand which we believe was well taken. But a cry was raised by the "Friends of the Indians," who in fact were really the enemies of the Indians. The organ of the Liberal party in this city at that time, actuated without doubt by a fervid desire to support anything that might embarrass the Government of British Columbia, wept copious tears on behalf of the Indians and their claims. The heart of the News bled for these poor Indians, and nothing but a full investigation into the claims would do. The Laurier Government had had the opportunity to have taken the matter up, but had for years before pursued a balanced position without doing anything. Sir Wilfrid's Government sympathized deeply with the friends of the Indian, and so encouraged further agitation. That same government had avoided action, however, trusting to promises very largely.

It is a pity the Government of Sir Robert Borden had not taken the advice of Sir Richard McBride on the subject and given a definite answer against entertaining the claims put forward. That Government, however, coming into power with the subject pressed very strongly upon it for consideration, decided to investigate. Hence the commission. Sir Richard McBride, while opposed to considering the claims, found it necessary to co-operate in order to safeguard the interests of the province.

Thus the commission was organized and entered on its duties. As stated before, we believe it should never have been. There is one satisfaction, however. It cannot live much longer.

British Have Regained All The Ground Lost A Few Days Ago

London, Oct. 2.—In a counter attack delivered by us today we achieved our objective says an official announcement. This objective was two German trenches southwest of Fosse.

These had been recovered from us by the enemy in a counter attack on September 26.

Canadians Had Part.

The Canadians have been participating in the great advance. On the first day or two (excepting the Eighth Battalion of Winnipeg, reported in the fight) only the Canadian artillery was engaged in support of the attacking masses of British infantry, but later other Canadian battalions moved up to join in the general assault on the German trenches.

It is reported that a large proportion of the first division was in the fight yesterday and the day before, and are still advancing with the victorious army.

It was later reported that the Canadians did not attack but assisted in the general advance by holding the trenches under heavy fire; consequently their losses would not be as heavy as if they had taken part in the charge against the enemy's lines. They will soon assume part of the active fighting, it is expected.

The Canadian artillery is doing magnificent work and the behavior of the infantry equals the splendid conduct of the Canadians at the battles of Ypres, Festubert and Givenchy, making another glorious chapter in Canadian history.

ALICE ARM IS TO BE REPRESENTED AT FRONT

Four From There Have Enlisted While Fifth Has To Remain.

Joseph McFee, a pioneer of Prince Rupert is a sad man these days. He wants to go to the front with a group of companions but his eyes will not pass the test. He came from Alice Arm with his friends in the hopes of getting away.

The others who came with him from the north, and who have been accepted are: John Marshall, an old-timer here, who has lived also in Stewart, but who has been working at Alice Arm lately; O. M. Watson, of Alice Arm, who has a rich ranch in the Naas Valley; George Young, another old-timer in this district, who has a ranch at the Naas also, but who has been working at Alice Arm; O. V. Laid, of the Alice Arm contingent.

These will leave Tuesday morning. They are all men who are well prepared to do all that is asked of them.

APPALLING STORY OF TURKS MASSACRES

Christian Martyrdom It Is Stated Has Never Assumed Such Colossal Proportions.

New York, Oct. 2.—Dr. M. Symbad Babriel, president of the Armenian general progressive association in the United States, has received from Nubar Pasha, diplomatic representative in Paris of the Katholikos, or head of the Armenian church, advices in regard to the massacres of Armenians in Turkey, in which it is stated 'that Christian martyrdom has at no time assumed such colossal proportions."

The letters containing the advices were received by Nubar Pasha "from authoritative sources" in Constantinople and Athens, and contain an appeal to the United States to intercede and stop the persecutions."

Dr. Gabriel, in making public the letters, said that from information contained in them, and from other reports he had received directly, he estimated that 450,000 Armenians had been put to death and 600,000 rendered homeless or exiled, out of a population of 1,500,000.

Massacres Incredible.

"What has occurred in a few months in Cilicia and Armenia," wrote Nubar Pasha, in transmitting the correspondence, "is unbelievable. The great massacres of Abdul Hamid seem insignificant compared to the recent atrocities, which are without precedent in the history of our nation's martyrology. It is nothing more or less than the annihilation of the whole people. But Armenia is so far away that practically nothing has yet been heard about this frightful tragedy in Europe and America."

A letter from the Constantinople source says that Armenians in all the cities and villages of the province of Cilicia have been deported en masse to the desert regions south of Alepho.

"Moslems have occupied the lands and houses abandoned by the Armenians," the letter reads.

"The deported are not allowed to carry with them anything. They have to travel on foot distances requiring a month or two of walking in order to arrive at the desert assigned for their habitation, where they will find no horses, no work, no livelihood, but their graves.

Forced To Fight.

"Let it be borne in mind that the persons from 20 to 45 years are at the front. Those from 45 to 60 are employed in the military convoys. As to those who have paid the required sums for exemption from military service, they have been either exiled or imprisoned on some pretext. So the aged, the women and the children only are deported.

"We have also been informed of conversions to Mohammedanism, the wretched population having no other alternative for saving their lives.

"The villages in the Vilayets of Van and Bitlis have been pillaged and the populations put to the sword. All the Armenians of Kara-Hisal have been massacred, except a few children, who escaped by miracle.

"The court martials have been functioning everywhere. Numerous Armenians have been hanged and others condemned to ten or fifteen years of hard labor. The latter are honest merchants, having no relations whatever with any political

Sir James Douglas' Powder Horn Given To New Victoria Regiment.

The 67th Battalion, Western Scots, made their first appearance on street parade at Victoria a few days ago, when they marched from the Willows to the Parliament Buildings and were presented by the Premier, Sir Richard McBride, on behalf of Mrs. Dennis Harris, with a powder horn used nearly a century ago by Sir James Douglas, Mrs. Harris is the youngest daughter of the first governor of the province.

The battalion has been recruited since the return of Lieut.-Col. INQUIRY INTO PURCHASE OF SUBMARINES IN PROGRESS

Victoria, Oct. 2.—S. S. Taylor, K. C., of Vancouver, representing the Liberal party, was refused status in the submarine inquiry, which opened here today. Sir Charles Davidson ruled that counsel John Thompson is capable of conducting the inquiry, and does not allow counsel on either side.

Richard Ryan, janitor of the Parliament Buildings, said that he handled a cheque for $1,150,000 for the submarines, as agent for the government, when the vessels were handed over at sea.

J. V. Patterson, of Seattle, admitted receiving $40,000 commission for himself, and stated that this was all the commission paid in the transaction. He claimed that the submarines were proper vessels and perfect in construction. The commission is still in session.

THE INDIAN COMMISSION ON INDIAN LANDS

It is a common practice to rail against Royal Commissions. It matters little how persistent the demand may be for such a body, it seems to be the general rule to find fault after the appointment is made. Of the commissions that have served in the west, few have come in for as sweeping condemnation on the part of the general public as the Indian Commission. We are prone to agree, that in no small measure the criticisms are warranted. That body has never impressed us. The appointment of that body was an ill advised act, we believe, in spite of the fact that many who rail against it now, persisted in crying out for some such body. In its conduct, since appointment, it has pursued a course that lends itself to severe censure.

We believe, even that were it to come to an end, that could not be described as is so often said of sudden deaths, that it was untimely. We believe the commission was unnecessary. We have little hope of any good coming from its findings. In its peregrinations there has been a lack of good judgment, whoever was the guiding mind of the body. Especially at a time when it could be expected that even a child would grasp the lesson of wartimes and practise economy, this commission is found travelling with a pomp that is nauseous to the public.

The appointment of the commission, we believe, was a mistake. We have always held that opinion. It was created in the first instance at the suggestion of the Federal authorities, in answer to a demand made by certain so-called friends of the Indians to arrive at a settlement of what was called by these people, a vexed question of Indian titles to the land. The attitude of Sir Richard McBride preceding this is well known. He would not acknowledge the claim of the Indians, and persisted to refusing to open the question, a stand which we believe was well taken. But a cry was raised by the "Friends of the Indians," who in fact were really the enemies of the Indians. The organ of the Liberal party in this city at that time, actuated without doubt by a fervid desire to support anything that might embarrass the Government of British Columbia, wept copious tears on behalf of the Indians and their claims. The heart of the News bled for these poor Indians, and nothing but a full investigation into the claims would do. The Laurier Government had had the opportunity to have taken the matter up, but had for years before pursued a balanced position without doing anything. Sir Wilfrid's Government sympathized deeply with the friends of the Indian, and so encouraged further agitation. That same government had avoided action, however, trusting to promises very largely.

It is a pity the Government of Sir Robert Borden had not taken the advice of Sir Richard McBride on the subject and given a definite answer against entertaining the claims put forward. That Government, however, coming into power with the subject pressed very strongly upon it for consideration, decided to investigate. Hence the commission. Sir Richard McBride, while opposed to considering the claims, found it necessary to co-operate in order to safeguard the interests of the province.

Thus the commission was organized and entered on its duties. As stated before, we believe it should never have been. There is one satisfaction, however. It cannot live much longer.

British Have Regained All The Ground Lost A Few Days Ago

London, Oct. 2.—In a counter attack delivered by us today we achieved our objective says an official announcement. This objective was two German trenches southwest of Fosse.

These had been recovered from us by the enemy in a counter attack on September 26.

Canadians Had Part.

The Canadians have been participating in the great advance. On the first day or two (excepting the Eighth Battalion of Winnipeg, reported in the fight) only the Canadian artillery was engaged in support of the attacking masses of British infantry, but later other Canadian battalions moved up to join in the general assault on the German trenches.

It is reported that a large proportion of the first division was in the fight yesterday and the day before, and are still advancing with the victorious army.

It was later reported that the Canadians did not attack but assisted in the general advance by holding the trenches under heavy fire; consequently their losses would not be as heavy as if they had taken part in the charge against the enemy's lines. They will soon assume part of the active fighting, it is expected.

The Canadian artillery is doing magnificent work and the behavior of the infantry equals the splendid conduct of the Canadians at the battles of Ypres, Festubert and Givenchy, making another glorious chapter in Canadian history.

ALICE ARM IS TO BE REPRESENTED AT FRONT

Four From There Have Enlisted While Fifth Has To Remain.

Joseph McFee, a pioneer of Prince Rupert is a sad man these days. He wants to go to the front with a group of companions but his eyes will not pass the test. He came from Alice Arm with his friends in the hopes of getting away.

The others who came with him from the north, and who have been accepted are: John Marshall, an old-timer here, who has lived also in Stewart, but who has been working at Alice Arm lately; O. M. Watson, of Alice Arm, who has a rich ranch in the Naas Valley; George Young, another old-timer in this district, who has a ranch at the Naas also, but who has been working at Alice Arm; O. V. Laid, of the Alice Arm contingent.

These will leave Tuesday morning. They are all men who are well prepared to do all that is asked of them.

APPALLING STORY OF TURKS MASSACRES

Christian Martyrdom It Is Stated Has Never Assumed Such Colossal Proportions.

New York, Oct. 2.—Dr. M. Symbad Babriel, president of the Armenian general progressive association in the United States, has received from Nubar Pasha, diplomatic representative in Paris of the Katholikos, or head of the Armenian church, advices in regard to the massacres of Armenians in Turkey, in which it is stated 'that Christian martyrdom has at no time assumed such colossal proportions."

The letters containing the advices were received by Nubar Pasha "from authoritative sources" in Constantinople and Athens, and contain an appeal to the United States to intercede and stop the persecutions."

Dr. Gabriel, in making public the letters, said that from information contained in them, and from other reports he had received directly, he estimated that 450,000 Armenians had been put to death and 600,000 rendered homeless or exiled, out of a population of 1,500,000.

Massacres Incredible.

"What has occurred in a few months in Cilicia and Armenia," wrote Nubar Pasha, in transmitting the correspondence, "is unbelievable. The great massacres of Abdul Hamid seem insignificant compared to the recent atrocities, which are without precedent in the history of our nation's martyrology. It is nothing more or less than the annihilation of the whole people. But Armenia is so far away that practically nothing has yet been heard about this frightful tragedy in Europe and America."

A letter from the Constantinople source says that Armenians in all the cities and villages of the province of Cilicia have been deported en masse to the desert regions south of Alepho.

"Moslems have occupied the lands and houses abandoned by the Armenians," the letter reads.

"The deported are not allowed to carry with them anything. They have to travel on foot distances requiring a month or two of walking in order to arrive at the desert assigned for their habitation, where they will find no horses, no work, no livelihood, but their graves.

Forced To Fight.

"Let it be borne in mind that the persons from 20 to 45 years are at the front. Those from 45 to 60 are employed in the military convoys. As to those who have paid the required sums for exemption from military service, they have been either exiled or imprisoned on some pretext. So the aged, the women and the children only are deported.

"We have also been informed of conversions to Mohammedanism, the wretched population having no other alternative for saving their lives.

"The villages in the Vilayets of Van and Bitlis have been pillaged and the populations put to the sword. All the Armenians of Kara-Hisal have been massacred, except a few children, who escaped by miracle.

"The court martials have been functioning everywhere. Numerous Armenians have been hanged and others condemned to ten or fifteen years of hard labor. The latter are honest merchants, having no relations whatever with any political party. Many have succumbed to cruel beating. The priests of the village of Kurk have, with their companions been subjected to the same fate on their way from Souchehrk, Sivas.

Churches Are Destroyed.

"Even the churches and convents have been pillaged and destroyed. Almost all the bishops have been arrested and delivered up to the court martial.

"If the neutral powers, especially the United States of America, do not intercede at once to stop the persecutions of the people there will remain very few of the million and a half Christian Armenians in the Turkish Empire. Christian martyrdom has at no time assumed such colossal proportions."

A letter from the Athens sources says:

"The city of Deurtyol, after having been evacuated by its Armenian population, has been peacefully occupied by Turkish families, and not by military authorities. The whole of the Armenian inhabitants have been sent away, turned out of their homes, and are suffering from hunger. The exposure is something that cannot be described. Before evacuating, some nine leading merchants were hanged on the accusation that they were in communication with the British fleet, and that they were spying for the Allied forces."

PRESENTATION MADE.

short a time was testimony of the loyalty of the men of the province. It clearly demonstrated that there were men and more men to respond to Earl Kitchener's appeal.

Lieut.-Col. Ross replied on behalf of the battalion, thanking Mrs. Harris, through the Premier, for the gift to the battalion. He felt sure the Western Scots would follow the intrepid example of Sir James Douglas, and that they would make a record of which the province would be proud. Cheers then were given for the King, and the regiment returned through the city to the Willows camp.

The horn, now the property of the new regiment, is of the type used by the Hudson's Bay people throughout Canada. It is hung upon a shield of British Columbia wood, and above it is the badge of the 67th Battalion. Below are a representation of the Douglas arms and this inscription: "This powder horn of Sir James Douglas, K. C. B., first Governor of British Columbia, presented by his daughter, Mrs. Dennis R. Harris, to the 67th Battalion, Western Scots, in memory of the great pioneer and Empire builder of the west."
