German Attempts Frustrated At Styr River By Russians

Petrograd, Nov. 19.—An official report says that on the west the German attempts made to cross to our side of the Dvinsk River have failed. The enemy was everywhere compelled to retire under our fire.

On the left bank of the Styr River the enemy attempted unsuccessfully to reach the river near the village of Czartorysk.

Our troops retired to the right bank of Styr, being well covered by artillery which prevented the enemy making an attack. Farther up the Styr the enemy several times opened fire on the bank of the river held by us.

CIRCULAR SENT TO CIVIL SERVANTS

GOVERNMENT AT VICTORIA DESIRES TO SEE THOSE FIT ENLIST

This Message Is Conveyed To Those Employed In This Province.

At a meeting of the Provincial Executive the Hon. Dr. Young was instructed to issue a circular to the civil servants of the province, setting out the desire of the Government to afford every facility to those who were disposed to respond to the ca'l for more recruits. The circular is to the following effect:

"The Government is desirous of seeing all those civil servants who are physically fit and with no dependents volunter their services for King and Country. The members of the service who are married men will be able to carry on the service and should any additional help be needed the preference will be given to married men, who would thus be able to support their families and relieve the patriotic fund of that obligation."

It is also provided that any civil servant who volunteers and who has dependents will receive the difference between military pay and present salary, providing that such civil servant shall have been in the service one year prior to the outbreak of the war.

The rule previously in force, in respect to the continuing if the pay of a portion of the salary of those who had volunteered applied only to those who were members of the militia prior to the outbreak of war.

LIBERAL PARTY PLAYING FOR TIME

SIR WILFRID LAURIER REPLIES TO PREMIER'S PROPOSALS

They Are Unsatisfactory With Regard To Length Of Parliament.

It is understood that the negotiations between Sir Robert Borden and Sir Wlifrid Laurier for an extension of the life of Parliament have so far been unsatisfactory, and that they have been unable to reach an agreement, says an Ottawa despatch. The replies of the Opposition leader to the proposals of the Premier have been unsatisfactory, and the present outlook is that Parliament will be called without any agreement having been reached.

Evidence is accumulating that the Liberals are playing for time and have no intention of coming to any agreement or reaching any decision until the bill is introduced in the House. If they think the time is propitious for an election for themselves and that they can risk taking the responsibility before the country, or can succeed in shifting the responsibility, they will, with the use of their majority in the Senate, kill the measure.

As for the Government, it is viewing the situation with equanimity. If the Liberal party refuses to agree to an extension of Parliament the Government will proceed to introduce a bill based on what the British House proposes to do. If it is rejected, then there can be only one issue—an appeal to the country. And this will be done, and with the utmost confidence that the country will approve of the vigorous and aggressive war policy of the administration. However, the Government is convinced that the Liberals will find the feeling too strong against them especially in the rank and file of their own party to dare venture the responsibility of forcing the Government to go to the country. Whatever happens, the present outlook is for an interesting and exciting session.

IMPROVING LOT OF THE INDIANS

DEPARTMENT IS APPOINTING FIELD MATRONS AND TEACHERS ON THE NAAS

This Move Is A Result Of The Representations Of Commission.

The lot of the Indian in the northern reserves is being improved as a result of the investigations made by the commission that has just visited the northern coast. On the Naas, the Indians received the commission in a most friendly manner, and as a result of the conferences held with them it has been decided to make certain improvements as to the educating of the natives.

The Indians have manifested a disposition to take advantage of any instruction along sanitary lines, and the department at Ottawa has taken the necessary steps to grant advantages in this direction. A medical man is being appointed who will open a temporary hospital at Aiyansh. This will serve the needs of the upper Naas.

About nine months ago a field matron, Miss P. Capper, was appointed at Lak-kalzop, the Indian village at Greenville, and has done good work. With Miss S. Sturgis, the teacher there, the Indians have derived great benefit. The field matron visits the homes and aids the women in carrying out plans for the better sanitation of the homes.

Now several more are being appointed on the Naas. A party will reach here on Monday bound for there. A teacher is going to Gitlakdamiks, which is situated at the head of the river. A field matron and a school teacher have been named to take charge at Aiyansh. There is a field matron and a teacher also coming for Gwinoha.

These ladies will be met here and will be escorted by C. C. Perry, the Indian Agent to their fields of labor.

DROP THAT FLAG.

The Toronto News thus writes of a short address given in that city by a young lieutenant just back from the war:

At the Massey Hall recruiting meeting Sunday evening an outstanding feature was the address of Lieutenant Forneret, of Hamilton, just home from the war, wounded at Neuve Chapelle. Had this gallant young officer worked a year on his talk to a Toronto audience it could not have been more of a classic. With modesty, amounting almost to diffidence, he spoke of the war and of his comrades. His words were well chosen and his sentiments those of the healthy-minded and cultured young gentleman unafraid. He aroused the keenest enthusiasm of the evening when he said:

"We don't talk much about the flag over there, for it's a sacred thing. It stands for—we hope—honor and liberty and righteousness. Just now hands red with the blood of the women and children of Belgium and of Edith Cavell are upon it and it is up to you to shoulder a musket and say to the man back of those bloody hands 'drop that flag,' and if they don't drop that flag let us stand them eye to eye and say again 'drop that flag or by the Living God we'll make you.' "

This stalwart son of Canada, erect, clear-eyed, resolute—and wounded, voiced in a few words the sentiment of every loyal citizen of this Dominion.
