Gen. Botha Bespattered With Mud While Electioneering

Gen. Botha Howled Down At Meeting And Bespattered

London, Oct. 16.—General Louis Botha has concluded another electioneering tour, in which he addressed many meetings in the former rebel centres in Western Transvaal.

At the majority of the meetings he received a peaceful hearing. There were also votes of confidence passed at most of the gatherings. At Christiania, however, he was howled down and his face bespattered with mud.

PARKER WILLIAMS ATTACKS PARTIES

HE PLEADS FOR SOCIALISM AS CURE FOR POLITICAL ILLS.

Leader Of Opposition In Legislautre Addressed Public Meeting.

In the Empress Theatre last evening Parker Williams, M. P. P., addressed a public meeting condemning the Conservative and Liberal parties and recommending socialism as a cure for the ills. The meeting which was held under the auspices of the Trades and Labor Council was presided over by S. D. Macdonald.

Mr. Macdonald in introducing the speaker, referred to the fact that Mr. Williams was the leader of the Opposition in the Legislature.

Mr. Williams said that being the leader of the Opposition, which consisted of himself and one other man, was a good deal like a hen with one chicken. He had from the start of his political career in British Columbia been in the role of a Socialist candidate. He very rarely spoke on the platform of socialism. There were abler speakers than himself on that subect. He was going to speak on the political situation.

British Columbia was a blessed country. In its valleys everything could be grown that could be provided in the temperate zone. In minerals, timber and fish the province was rich. In its people they had the best type of men. The qualities of the various peoples were blended together here. They had responsible government in the province.

In his address he would attack the Conservative party. This did not mean that he had any less love for that party than for the Liberals.

The United States Conservation Commission, about ten years ago, came to the conclusion that in about 23 years at the rate that it was being used, timber in the United States would disappear. Attention was then directed to the timber of the country. A commission appointed in British Columbia found that in 1905,-6,-7, the larger part of the timber areas were alienated. The timbermen found that one hundred and forty billions of feet of timber was alienated. The consumption of timber was a billion a year in the province. He could see no reason why so much was alienated.

The coal ares had also been alienated. It was the same with respect to the lands of the province. In the holding of large areas of lands, they would find some Conservative members interested. Some of the large land holders in the old country, who had sat on the necks of the working men, held larger areas in British Co-

QUIET SEEMS TO REIGN ALONG FRONT IN BELGIUM

Paris, Oct. 16.—A Belgium official despatch says the night and morning were calm. This afternoon a feeble cannonade on both sides occurred to the south of Nieuport. There was no infantry action.

From November 1 Till End Of War All Saloons Will Close Early.

Commencing November 1 and till the close of the war all saloons in the Province of Ontario must close at 8 p.m. instead of at 11 p.m. each day except Saturday, the Ontario Government has decided, Premier Hearst announced. The closing hour on Saturdays will remain as usual, 7 p.m. November 1 is the date upon which military forces in training for overseas service are to go into winter quarters. The decree, formally given out by the Licence Commission will curtail by three hours, five days a week, the selling time in 1,400 hotels throughout the Province of Ontario. Social clubs and shops are not affected by the decree. The Minister of Militia, the Premier said, has approved of the early closing measure.

GOVERNOR BLACK OF YUKON HERE

HE WENT THROUGH LAST EVENING BY PRINCESS ALICE

Large Number Of Passengers Were Travelling By Vessel.

The C. P. R. steamer Princess Alice, which went south yesterday afternoon on her way from Skagway, had on board a large number of northern people on their wav south for the winter. These for the most part comprised those who were taking advantage of the river navigation before the freezing up for the winter.

Among those aboard was Governor George Black, of the Yukon Territory, who was accompanied by Mrs. Black. They had on the same, the body of their niece that died in the north, and whose remains are being taken east by Mr. and Mrs. Black for interment in her old home in New Brunswick.

BACK FROM ANCHORAGE AFTER INSPECTION TRIP

N. Scheinman Arrived Home Yesterday From North.

N. Scheinman, of the Acme, returned yesterday after a trip as far north as Anchorage in Alaska. He says that that point is quiet now, and is likely to be so all winter.

Of the Alaskan points visited, Juneau is the most lively. With the mining operations there, a pay-roll of half a million a month exists. This, it is expected, will be increased owing to another company starting up.

ATLIN HOPEFUL AS TO FUTURE

PAST SEASON HAS BEEN A GOOD ONE IN NORTHERN CAMP

Judge Young Returned Yesterday From Holding Court.

Atlin Camp is very hopeful at present. The season has been a good one, producing good returns. Judge Young returned yesterday by the Princess Alice after holding court in the north. He says he never saw the residents of the camp so optimistic with regard to the place. Many are staying in all winter this year.

The Engineer Group which is showing up well is to be opened up still further. Machinery for the mine is going in.

Spruce Creek is starting to be opened up. There will be work done there this winter, in drifting, in the hope of locating the old channels.

The camp has suffered this year to some extent by the shortage of water, which has materially shortened the season.

Wm. Sloan and his son who went into Atlin with Judge Young returned by the steamer yesterday again. They went on south by the Alice.

WHITE PASS AND YUKON OFFICIALS SOUTHBOUND

Several Passed Through Here Yesterday On Way Out.

Several officials of the White Pass & Yukon Railroad passed south on the Princess Alice last evening. Included in the number were President Elliot, of Chicago; H. Wheeler, General Manager of the Company; and A. F. Zipf, Traffic Manager.

Fighting On West Front In Favor Of The Allied Forces

Paris, Oct. 16.—An official report says: In Artois we completely repulsed a new German attack in Lebois en Hache on the slope of the Valley of Lahouche. Fighting from the trench, supported by cannonading on both sides is being continued south of the Somme.

The enemy has renewed its bombardment of the regions behind our Champagne front, employing shells causing an irritation of the eyes. Our artillery replied against the enemy's batteries and trenches.

A struggle with bombs and grenades occurred in Argonne, to the north of Hoyette as well as at Vaunois.

In the Vosges a violent counter attack enabled us to recapture all our positions on the summit of Hartmann's Weilerkopf. We took in addition a small fort previously occupied by the enemy. We took about 100 pieces of cannon.

A group of aeroplanes bombarded Sablons station at Metz. A number of explosions were observed to be taking place around the station, and a moving train which was compelled to stop at the switching post was blown up.

BRITISH SUBMARINE PROVED TOO MUCH FOR GERMAN BOATS

London, Oct. 16.—The British submarine E-19, in a battle with a German cruiser and three destroyers, sunk two of the destroyers with all hands.

The rest of the fleet is to the south, engaged in a battle in the sound, between Sweden and Denmark.

Serbs Winning In Fight With Bulgars Allied Troops for Front

London, Oct. 16.—There has today been fierce fighting in the region of Doiran, near the Greek frontier, between the Serbians and the Bulgarians. It has taken a turn in favor of the Serbs.

The first detail of four hundred German prisoners has reached Nish.

Allied Troops Move.

Heading For Bulgaria.

Bucharest, Oct. 16.—British and French troops in Saloniki will not be sent to Nish, but will make a direct attack on Sofia, the capital of Bulgaria, from the Serbian frontier, cutting Bulgaria in two and stopping the Austro-German advance on the Nish-Saloniki railroad.

Greece Is Slow.

London, Oct. 16.—Disappointment has been caused by the announcement that Greece will not join in support of Serbia. There is, however, gratification over the slowness of General Mackensen's campaign.

Serbians in Nish express a fear that they will not be able to resist the advance unless reinforcements are forthcoming.

Italy Will Aid.

Italy is reported to be sending 150,000 troops to aid the Allies in striking at strategic points along the Serbian-Bulgarian frontier.

Bulgarian Attack.

Athens, Oct. 16.—Forty thousand Bulgarian troops have begun an attack on the Saloniki railroad, twenty miles north of the Greek border.

Lights Extinguished.

All lighthouses along the Greek coast have been extinguished. Entrance to Dede Agatch has been forbidden, except by daylight.

FISH ARRIVED IN SPITE OF STORM

MALOLO AND HELIGOLAND CAME IN WITH HALIBUT YESTERDAY

Capt. Hurley Met An Old Friend Of His In Mr. Sandwick.

In spite of the rough weather that has prevailed outside, interfering with fishing, two schooners came in yesterday. Of the trips one went to the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Company and the other to Mr. Roberts, of the San Juan Company.

The Malolo, Capt W. C. Hurley, had 25,000 pounds, which was bought by the Cold Storage. Capt. Hurley met here an old-time friend in Mr. Sandwick, the buyer for the cold storage. They served together some years ago.

The Heligoland, Capt. Alfred Wieding had 30,000 pounds of fish. This was bought by Mr. Roberts, of the San Juan Company.

ARBITRATION HELD OVER RUFFNER INTERESTS

Judge Young Had To Dispose Of Long Case In Atlin.

Among those who returned from the north by the Princess Alice yesterday was H. A. McLean, of Victoria, formerly deputy Attorney-General of the province, but who is now practising law. He has been to Atlin in connection with a complicated arbitration proceeding there. The case was a lengthy one, involving a lot of technicalities.

Mr. McLean represents the Columbia Hydraulic, O'Donnell Placers, North Columbia Trading Company and the Peace River Power Company, of these companies J. M. Ruffner was manager.

PARKER WILLIAMS.

The criticism that a man like Parker Williams offers a government and a party has its good effects. It has a tendency towards righting any wrongs that may exist. Mr. Williams, of course, takes a very critical view of everything. He belongs to the class that is ready to tear down and find fault. He and his party have no records to be tied to. The friction of that party is to ridicule what a government is doing. To find fault is one of the easiest tasks. To suggest remedies is often-times much more difficult.

LICENSE LAWS.

The Province of Ontario is to have a more stringent license law in connection with the liquor traffic. The hours have been shortened during which liquor can be sold. This is probably as wise a way of dealing with the liquor question as there is. We have through long usage become accustomed to license laws, and therefore any tightening up on the regulations along this line comes in without the creation of a lot of new machinery. British Columbia, in view of the movement for more stringent liquor laws, might well consider the Ontario plan and have the traffic more fully controlled.

PARKER WILLIAMS.

lumbia than at home. In all other parts of the world the move was towards breaking up the large areas. Only in British Columbia was this not possible. It had been the part of an Irishman, Premier McBride, to introduce the principles of landlordism in British Columbia. If there was one thing he liked the average Irishman for, it was because he hated the landlord.

Incidentally Mr. Williams said that he would continue, as in the past, to vote for woman suffrage.

He argued that the accounting, as shown by the public accounts, was a farce. Holding the volume up, said it represented $16,000,000. In Alberta it took a lot larger volume to account for $3,000,000 expenditure. The details were lacking in the British Columbia public accounts. Mr. Williams made humorous allusions to many things. He referred to Mr. Bowser as the Attorney-General and other things, and that was most of the things. He objected to paying Mr. Bowser's trades union dues in the form of his law society fees.

He wanted to call the attention of the Lord's Day Alliance to the fact that a road sweeper here, R. O. Jennings, put in nearly the whole year of 365 days. He believed, however, that as a year ran slightly over the 365 days, and had about 5 hours pay coming to him.

Referring to the commissions, he said that he did not believe that the labor men got 40 cents worth out of the Labor Commission, which cost $40,000. He attacked the Agricultural Commission also. The agricultural credit bill had been passed, but it had not been put into effect, because they had not the money. The Indian Commission appointed to find out how to do the Indian out of his land.

There were heavy travelling expenses for the ministers. There were splits in the Conservative party. This was usually over whether which broken-down bartender or bar-room tough should be appointed a game warden. A minister had to travel there to settle the matter. He attacked the speaker of the Legislature, who he said, seemed to fill the office of speaker to interpret rules against himself and his brother Socialist. He contended that a vote of $375 was made to Mrs. Eberts as the beneficiary of her brother who died in the service.

The government which controlled the resources used its influence to control the press of the province. The independent papers, he contended, had been squeezed out. He attacked J. S. H. Matson, stating that he was a disgrace to journalism. He garbled the reports of the Legislative Assembly to serve the Conservative party.

The Legislative Assembly of British Columbia had degenerated into a farce. The important legislation was settled behind the doors by McBride and Bowser. The members of the Legislature had little influence. He, (Parker Williams), had more influence upon the legislation than a party supporter. With an opposition as small as that at Victoria, a government supporter could be very independent, because he did not jeopardize his government.

Dealing with the local member, Mr. Manson, he said that a Conservative to get the nomination, had to do a lot of scheming. A man having shown that disposition, one would expect that there would be some great principle that he was going to represent. The records of the House showed nothing of the local member, as of many others. There was nothing to show even whether "he were he, she or it." The indication was that Mr. Manson was there to get the "stuff," which was a large vote for Skeena district. If the money that came into Skeena was to be used to take the moral fibre out of men, it would be better if none came in.

The province was $20,000,000 "in the hole." For the next two years the expenditure will have to drop. The province was just about as near bankruptcy as it ever was. For some time affairs will have to be carried on with capital raised in the province. Had care been exercised, the danger would not have existed. The province for the future needed a move in some small way at least, along lines which the Socialists have advocated.

He appealed that in splitting from the Conservative party, they should look into what the Socialists stood for. The day was past when it could be said it was only a party of "rough necks." "God pity the country that had no 'rough necks'" added Mr. Williams. They could not be opposed to Socialism until they understood what Socialism was.
