Loan Of Eight Millions Made By Government To G.T.P. Railway

Ottawa, May 2.—Supplementary estimates totalling $28,282,081 were tabled in the House of Commons today by Sir Thomas White, Minister of Finance. These include provision for a loan of fifteen million dollars to the C. N. R. and of eight million to the G. T. P.

There is an additional of $200,000 for Fraser River improvements, and $20,000 for improvements to the Lower Fraser.

The main votes include $1,500,000 for the new Parliament Buildings.

The loan to the railway companies referred to, is to aid these roads pending the investigations to be made by a commission it is proposed to appoint to go into the whole railway problem with a nationalization project in view.

GEN. TOWNSHEND'S HEROIC DEFENCE

THE FALL OF KUT-EL-AMARA AND ITS SIGNIFICANCE

Reasons Advanced Why Force Was Allowed To Remain At Point.

Critics of the British General Staff have repeatedly asked, why was Major Townshend and his heroic force at Kut-el-Amara frittered away in this distant venture when every man was needed, if not at Gallipoli, at least in France. No answer has been made, but with the map and recent history before us, it certainly looks as though there was method in this madness, and that the prime objective was to create a diversion so powerful as, on the one hand, to detach part of the defenders of Armenia, and, on the other, to relieve the pressure against Egypt. It does look, too, as if both these results were achieved. This theory would also explain the otherwise inexplicable temerity of the forward dash against Bagdad by this trifling force, hastily raised and equipped in India. In fact, it fits together the pieces of the puzzle into a comprehensible whole.

Bagdad was a great prize; its fall must have been an irreparable blow to Turkish prestige in the Orient. This was fully realized in Constantinople, and large forces were detached to Lower Mesopotamia. They secured their immediate purpose by driving back Townshend and his gallant little force to Kut-el-Amara, it-

BRITAIN TO MASTER SUBMARINE MENACE

Command Of The Situation Is Expected In A Few Months Owing To Certain "Construction Which Has Been Very Satisfactory."

The Wall Street Journal, in the course of a general review of the war situation, hints that certain construction on the part of Great Britain will in the near future give control of the submarine menace. It says:

"There have been rumors of peace, but they all arise either in Germany or America. We have advices from many points indicating that the French line is invincible, but is willing to trade ground for German dead at the ratio it has been traded around Verdun.

"The English have now more than 2,000,000 troops in France and are steadily extending their lines below the Channel, but there is no call for English assistance at the points where the French are doing the fighting.

"The Zeppelins are not taken seriously in England, the only uncertainty there being over the amount of damage the German submarines will be permitted to do to English tonnage.

"England is dependent for her food upon her control of the ocean. She must not only get her supplies from overseas, but in normal times she receives annually $50,000,000 of food from the North Sea fisheries.

"We have reason to believe, however, that in a few months the English will be in command of the submarine situation more completely than ever before.

"Certain construction has been going on which has been very satisfactory and the result will be visible in English waters in a few months."

GOLETAS COMPANY WILL SMOKE FISH

NEW CONCERN THAT IS OPENING UP IN BUSINESS HERE HAS SECURED SMOKE HOUSE

The Trade Will Be Carried Out On A Limited Sacle At First.

F. E. Payson, of the Goletas Fish Company, has completed arrangements for the carrying on of the business of his concern in this city. He will leave in a day or two for the south. Mr. Payson has great faith in the fishing industry in Prince Rupert, and believes it will make this port a lively one. Up to the present the deep sea fisheries are confined almost exclusively to halibut, but this is only a part of the business that will be carried on. There are many other kinds of fish that will be of greater value to the port than halibut is in the very near future.

Mr. Payson's company will enter the curing and shipping business here. The trade will be started off on modest lines, with the hope of enlarging and extending as time goes along. The headquarters of his company is in Vancouver.

A smoke house has been secured at Cameron Bay, and the curing of black cod and other fish will be followed there. In time, it is anticipated, an extension of business will fol-

DECISION GIVEN AGAINST CLUB

EMPLOYERS' LIABILITY ASSURANCE CORPORATION GIVEN JUDGMENT

Judge Robertson, Of Prince George, Decided Against Local Body.

A judgment which has been awaited with a great deal of local interest reached the city last night. This was the decision of Judge Robertson, of Prince George, in the action taken by the Prince Rupert Club to recover the amount of the bonds issued by the Employers' Liability Assurance Corporation to protect the Club with respect to its bookeeper. The latter was found short in his accounts, and upon the information laid by the Liability Company, he was sentenced to a term in jail.

The company, however, then refused to pay the amount of the security, $1,000, and fought the case which was tried here. The judgment, now received by W. E. Burritt, the Registrar of the Court, is in favor of the defendant company with costs. The ground is taken that no proper notice was given by the Club under the requriements of the contract.

Alfred Carss represented the Prince Rupert Club at the trial while Alex. Manson appeared for the defendant company, representing Martin Craig, of Vancouver.

Canadians Have Been In Heavy Fighting Along Canadian Front

London, May 2.—The latest reports from the western front are to the effect that there has been heavy fighting on the Canadian front. Intense artillery actions have been the rule. Infantry attacks by the Germans have been frequent. Our infantry held the Germans in check, but the enemy's bombardments have been very trying.

Casualty Lists.

The casualties bring the Canadian lossess as the result of the big St. Eloi battle reported up to last Friday up to 2,373, made up as follows:

Killed in action, 376; died of wounds and sickness, 184; found dead, 1; missing and believed dead, 12; unofficially reported killed, 1; missing and believed wounded, 5; missing, 40; missing and believed prisoner, 1; wounded, 1,650; ill, 91; suffering from shell shock, 12.

ALBERTA WILL HAVE PRACTICALLY SAME ACREAGE AS LAST YEAR

Calgary, May 2.—The acreage of Alberta in crop this year will not be much less than last year is the opinion of Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture, after looking over a portion of the province since the House closed. April was a good month for farmers getting in their grain, though too cold for much growth.

DUBLIN GRADUALLY RETURNING TO NORMAL CONDITIONS

London, May 2.—Dublin is gradually reverting to normal conditions. The work of clearing the small districts around the town is being carried out by an ever contracting cordon.

TURKISH TRANSPORT WAS SUNK BY BRITISH SUBMARINE

Saloniki, May 2.—The sinking of the Turkish transport Chirmetti Hieri by a British submarine off Rodosto, on the Sea of Marmora, is announced. Hundreds are believed to have been drowned.

French Have Made Advance Along Line Of German Trenches

Paris, May 2.—In a strong attack upon the German positions southeast of Fort Douaumont the French captured a first-line German trench 500 metres long.

West of the River Meuse the activity of the artillery continued through the night from Avocourt to the region to Deadman's Hill.

The war office also announced, that in the attack on April 29 and 30, north of the slope at Deadman's Hill, the French gained German trenches over a front of 1,000 metres for a depth of from 300 to 600 metres.

TO GET SHARE IN ORDER FOR CANNED BEEF STEW

Canada Is To Receive A Part Of The Order That Is To Be Placed.

Apparently Canada has an interest in the order likely to be placed on this continent by the British Government for 600,000,000 cans of beef stew for the army, according to the Monetary Times. The order, it is estimated, is valued at $91,000,000. A Philadelphia despatch states that the order is being handled by the Imperial Canners, Limited, a Canadian concern formed especially for that purpose a month ago by Philadelphians interested in the Colonial Packing Company.

Information respecting the order and these companies is unusually difficult to obtain, but it has been learned on the best authority that the Imperial Canners, Limited, of Toronto, is actually interested in the matter. This company has a capital of $200,000, and was incorporated with an Ontario charter on February 21 last. Members of a Toronto legal firm are the provisional directors of the company, but naturally are acting merely as legal advisors to the parties primarily interested. The company is authorized by its charter to manufacture, buy, sell and deal in all articles of food and food products.

If placed, the order will figure at about 15 1-6c per can of stew. The cans alone, if bought at current market prices, will cost approximately $6,000,000. Figuring 1,000 cans per base box of tin-plate the order would call for about 600,000 boxes, which at current market prices would cost $2,840,000. The tin-plate used in filling the contract would weigh roughly 300 tons, and weight of the cans filled with stew would total 300,000 tons. To carry this total to the Atlantic coast would require 150 trains of fifty standard box cars each. No single company except the American Can Company could turn out such a number of cans in a year. Running at full speed the American company might fill the order in something like two and one-half months—provided it secured its tin-plate.

Philadelphia seed houses are inter-

SOLDIER BACK FROM THE FIRING LINE

ONE OF FIRST CONTINGENT FROM HERE ARRIVED HOME LAST NIGHT

Private Allett Was At The Front Six Weeks Ago.

There reached the city last night by train W. Allett, who has come almost direct from the firing line "somewhere in France." He went out with the first contingent from here under the command of Major Peck. He was wounded early in the fighting, having his wrist shot through. After recovering from that he went back to the front and engaged in various kinds of work that he could do, such as putting up wire entanglements, etc. This work he followed until wounded in the back by shrapnel, when he was treated and ordered home.

It is only about six weeks ago since he saw some of those from here, including Major Peck, who is second in command in the 16th Battalion. He contradicts the reports that were received here that Major Peck has got thinner. He says he is quite as stout as when he left and is doing well.

Major Gibson, who has been given a commission as lieutenant, is back at the front again and well. He says Wilfred Macdonald is all right again.

Private Allett was with L. Crippen when the latter was killed. They were carrying up munitions when "Crip" was struck. He was killed practically at once, being almost shot in two.

According to the returned soldier, the prospects are of the war being drawn out very considerably. He thinks it possible that it may continue for two years longer time.

CANADA'S CONTRIBUTION.

The participation of the manhood of Canada in the war, directly as bearing arms and indirectly as munition workers now totals approximately 600,000. The total enlistment up to the end of March was 295,680, and as recruiting has been as active in April as in March, when the number of men signing up averaged over 1,000 a day, the enlistment up to date should total at least 310,000. The number of people engaged in the manufacture of munitions in Canada totalled 275,000 on March 1 last, and it is certain that many thousands have been engaged since. Thus, out of Canada's male population of 3,821,995 some 8 per cent. have donned the khaki, and another 8 per cent. are contributing to the direct prosecution of the war by turning out shells and other forms of war material.

Taking the male population from the age of 10 to 40 years as 2,505,278, the number given in a recent parliamentary return, the men in khaki now comprise 15 per cent. of the population. Sir George E. Foster has stated in the Commons that when Canada has enlisted the 500,000 men promised to the Empire, 62 per cent. of the male population from 19 to 40 years will remain in the country to carry on the ordinary activities. Such a number left behind to keep the wheels of industry going, and to transact mercantile business would appear to be sufficient.

SPELLING HANDICAPS SPREAD OF ENGLISH

Would Become World Language But For This, Is Opinion.

That a "whimsical mode of spelling" is the only thing standing in the way of English becoming the dominating language of the world was the idea of Dr. D. C. Croissant, speaking in the reformed spelling section recently.

He pointed out that for fifteen centuries Latin was the language of diplomacy, of the Church, of letters, of philosophy, and of science. Later French had supplemented it, but by the end of the nineteenth century the supremacy of French had disappeared.

"It is now," he said, "to be determined what language is to be the means of international communication in the future."

This, said Dr. Croissant, was not to be settled by the peculiar fitness of the language alone, but by the political and commercial position of the people who speak the language. The growth of English-speaking people of the globe had put English second only to Russian among European languages.

But English also had the peculiar fitness, in its cosmopolitan vocabulary, and grammatical simplicity.

But the great hindrance to the spread of its use was its spelling, encumbered by many superfluous letters, and confused by the misleading representation of many sounds by the same symbol and by its use of many symbols for the same sound.

"This," he said, "makes it practically impossible for foreigners to learn the language except by imitation, and is the greatest barrier to the extension of English as a world language."

MORE MEN THAN WOMEN HAVE APENDICITIS

Surgeons state men are slightly more subject to appendicitis than women. Prince Rupert people should know that a few doses of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka, often relieve or prevent appendicitis. This mixture removes such surprising foul matter that ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. The INSTANT, easy action of Adler-i-ka is surprising. ### SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal mining right of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Applications for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only; but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 per acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

GEN. TOWNSHEND'S.

self a place of considerable strategic value, situate at the junction of the Tigris and its important affluent, the Shatt-el-Hai. But it meant the abandonment of the advance on the Suez Canal and the weakening of the armies in Armenia, of which advantage was speedily taken by Grand Duke Nicholas. Kut-el-Amara thus contributed substantially to the capture of Trebizond.

If, then, the little force under Townshend at last was forced by famine and lack of munitions to come to terms with its besiegers, it has the satisfaction of knowing that it has wrought great deeds and achieved modifications in the general strategical situation of he Near East quite disproportionate to its actual effective strength. No doubt Britain has made blunders, and shall make more—war, as a great soldier said, is but a succession of blunders—but both these outpost affairs of Quatia and Kut-el-Amara are worthy of the best traditions of the British army, which continually undertakes heavy risks for great ends. The loss of the still considerable force under Gen. Townshend, it is true, is of some consequence; but there is the satisfaction that it will not have been in vain.

Gen. Townshend's forces had been besieged in Kut since Dec. 5—nearly five months. After the victory at Kut last September, Gen. Townshend's army, amounting, it is believed only to a division, or 20,000 men, pressed forward toward Bagdad, and on November 22 defeated a Turkish force at the ruins of Ctesiphon, 18 miles down stream from Bagdad. The Turkish forces were then strongly reinforced by three or four additional divisions. Gen. Townshend was forced to make a rapid retreat upon Kut, 80 miles distant, attacked and harassed all the way by overwhelming numbers. On the night of November 30, Gen. Townshend's column had to fight a desperate rearguard action, which enabled the force to reach Kut-el-Amara, with a loss of about one-fifth its number.

The remnant of the retreating army, with the considerable garrison which was holding Kut as a base, made a stand at this point, and took up a fairly strong position on rising ground between two banks of the river, which here makes a loop, almost an ox-bow. During December, Gen. Townshend's force was repeatedly atttacked—on Dec. 10, 11, 12, 13, 17, 18, 24, 29, 30. All these Turkish attacks were driven off; in some cases with heavy loss to the assailant. The besieged garrison has been in constant touch by wireless with the relieving force, and, as reported from time to time, it had sufficient supplies to hold out for some time. No figures as to the strength of the British garrison have been given out, but, presumably, it is in the neighborhood of 15,000 men.

A fact of some special interest to Canadians is that Gen. Percy Lake, who has charge of the operations looking to the relief of Kut-el-Amara was for some years in the Canadian service as head of the Canadian forces. He is a brother of R .S. Lake, Lieutenant-Governor of Saskatchewan. Gen. Townshend, also, has a slight historic connection with Canada, as he is the direct descendant of Gen. Townshend, who was second in command to Wolfe at the battle of the Plains of Abraham. This is Gen. Townshend's second experience of being besieged, for he was in command of the little fort in Chitral, on the northwestern frontier of India, when the late Sir George Robertson, who was political agent, was besieged there in 1895.

Seven miles east of Kut is the strong defensive position of Es Senn. It was at this point that the Turkish forces resisted the advance of Gen. Townshend's army last September. On that occasion the British found themselves confronted with a strongly-entrenched position, extending miles on both sides of the river. The British threw a pontoon bridge across the river, and, by a rapid concentration of British forces on the left bank, the Turks were outflanked and turned out of their positions on that side of the river. In the night they abandoned their remaining positions and retreated on Bagdad, and the British occupied Kut-el-Amara the next day.

BERESFORD SALUTES WITH HOT TEAPOT

London, May 2.—Admiral Lord Charles Beresford is the butt of considerable chaff just now over an incident which occurred at the tea-party recently tendered by the King and Queen to wounded soldiers at Buckingham Palace.

Lord Charles was present to aid at the naval table, tea-pouring. He was quite absent-minded.

While Lord Beresford was pouring tea for an invalid "Jackie," Their Majesties suddenly and unostentatiously entered.

Lord Charles, resplendent in his admiral's uniform, hastily tucked the tea-pot under his arm and stood at rigid salute.

The hot tea, naturally, trickled forward via Lord Charles' trouser leg.

Certain "Jackies" laughed, but Lord Charles didn't.

Suggestions for Successful ADVERTISING

The Best Time To Use Advertising Space

While the successful advertiser makes all times his own, their must of necessity be occasions when there are special advantages in presenting live facts about your goods to the public.

Advantages In Strenuous Times

Did it ever occur to you that in times when money is specially "tight" that the average buyer, and especially the thrifty housewife makes it a point to buy where the best can be got for the money expended? Have you an advantage to offer? Your advertising it will give you far better results than when times are better.

Buying Values Are Investigated

The value of money is appreciated now. Values count and are investigated by the public. This is the time to get full results from those who have good values to offer the public in any line of consumption.

Eye Troubles Corrected

Mr. Bulger has had over ten years experience in sight testing and fitting glasses, and last mid-summer took a post graduate course, which included the latest discoveries in the science of optometry or eye measuring. One of the most important is dynamic skiametry. The new method of Prof. A. J. Cross, of New York, in which the eye is measured by a beam of reflected light and any error is recorded.

But we do not simply rely on one method; each eye is tested separately, in three different ways, besides trying the muscular balance, together and the nervous acuteness.

We use the new drugless methods, no drops in the eye and no heavy frame resting on your face; ours swings from the wall by a bracket.

MR. HARRY HANSON, "The Reliable Plumber," Prince Rupert, B. C.,

Prince Rupert, B. C., April 9, 1914.

I have great pleasure in certifying to the excellent hot water and heating system that you installed in our parsonage, and that after six months of operation through the winter months it has given every satisfaction.

The system heats a thirty gallon tank of water to boiling temperature in one hour after the fire has been started; it in no way interferes with the oven for baking purposes. In addition to this, the wall radiator which you placed in dining-room and connected with the range boiler has given us splendid satisfaction, supplying us with ample heating throughout the winter, saving us the cost of a stove and fuel.

I most heartily testify to the satisfaction and efficiency of your system and gladly recommend it.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) (Rev.) J. F. DIMMICK.

Production and Thrift

"GAIN or no gain the cause before the farmers of Canada is as clear as it was last year—they must produce abundantly in order to meet the demands that may be made, and I believe this to be especially true in regard to live stock, the world's supply of which must be particularly affected in this vast struggle."—HON. MARTIN BURRELL, Minister of Agriculture.

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENTS ARE BASED ON REPORTS CONTAINED IN "THE AGRICULTURAL WAR BOOK, 1916," PUBLISHED BY THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, OTTAWA, ONT.

LIVE STOCK—The herds and flocks of Europe have been greatly reduced. When the war is over there will be a great demand for breeding stock. Canadian farmers should keep this in mind.

MEATS—In 1915 Great Britain imported 664,508 tons of beef, mutton and lamb, of which 364,245 tons came from without the Empire. Out of 430,420 tons of beef only 104,967 tons came from within the Empire.

The demands of the Allies for frozen beef, canned beef, bacon and hams will increase rather than diminish. Orders are coming to Canada. The decreasing tonnage space available will give Canada an advantage if we have the supplies.

DAIRYING—Home consumption of milk, butter and cheese has increased of late years. The war demands for cheese have been unlimited. The Canadian cheese exports from Montreal in 1915 were nearly $6,500,000 over 1914. Prices at Montreal—Cheese: January 1915, 15¼ to 17 cents; January 1916, 18¼ to 18½ cents. Butter: January 1915, 24 to 28¾ cents; January 1916, 32 to 33 cents.

EGGS—Canada produced $30,000,000 worth of eggs in 1915 and helped out Great Britain in the shortage. Shippers as well as producers have a duty and an opportunity in holding a place in that market.

WRITE TO THE DOMINION DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE AND TO YOUR PROVINCIAL DEPARTMENT FOR BULLETINS ON THESE SUBJECTS

Tens of thousands of Canada's food producers have enlisted and gone to the front. It is only fair to them that their home work shall be kept up as far as possible. The Empire needs all the food that we can produce in 1916.
