LOCAL SOLDIERS TOOK THREE HUNDRED PRISONERS

Mining Property Of Great Promise At Babine Mountain

Sir Sam Hughes' Very Indiscreet Speech At Toronto

Indiscreet Speech At Toronto That Caused Sir Sam's Retirement

The speech, which it is said was the final act calling for Gen. Sir Sam Hughes resignation, was that delivered recently at the Empire Club in Toronto. In the course of the speech Sir Sam told of his efforts, finally successful, to secure control of troops, arms, equipment and hospitals overseas. British methods, equipment and organization, he maintained, had proved inferior.

"On the principles of responsibility," he said, "we in Canada rose and asserted ourselves." Sir Sam added that he did not blame the British Government. "It was the fault of officials who had no experience of any kind."

"In the second year of the war," he said, "we found that Bavaria and Saxony and other German states, integral parts of the German Empire, controlled their own troops, their appointments, although the men were all paid out of the German Imperial Exchequer. Yet Canada, paying her own men, bearing the entire cost, had no similar privilege. It need not, therefore, surprise anyone to learn that when this was brought up, those in responsibility objected to being treated any longer as a crown colony, and took steps to see that Canada should be recognized in this matter and that our promotions and ap-

Local Men Took Huns Prisoners To Number Of Three Hundred

Word received from the front indicates that the 102nd Battalion, which represents this part of the Province at the front, is doing its part well. On October 21, when Capt. Adair Carss of this city, was killed, together with several other officers of the Battalion, the local regiment put up a very determined fight. A letter received last night indicates that the local company had 300 German prisoners to their credit on that day. This information was received by the parents of A. and Fred Hardy, who had their part in it.

The letter received gives the information that Fred Hardy,, who will be remembered here as not of very large statute was nevertheless responsible for three prisoners. He was reminded by a German of his low statute and told that he was too small for a Canadian. A tickling up with Fred's bayonet, however, made him realize that that was no place to discuss questions of height.

In his letter reference is made to the death of Capt. Carss and the other casualties in the regiment. Fred was himself wounded, as previously reported, and is now in hospital in Sheffield, England, but says he will soon be able to get back at the Huns.

Al. Hardy, his brother, was shut out of the fight by reason of being incapacitated, through what is known as "trench feet." He is in a hospital but will soon be all right.

For three days previous to this fight Al. had been detailed to the guns in the trench. For these three days there was no respite. When he did leave, it was only to get a few hours, when he was ordered out for the action. His feet had, however, swollen up so that he could not

FUR BUYERS ARE INVADING NORTH

PEACE RIVER, NORTH OF EDMONTON, HAS BECOME A NEW CENTRE

Agents Are Going Out In Autos To Get Their Stocks.

Peace River is the mecca for fur buyers this season no less than five prominent houses declaring their intentions of placing agents there says the Edmonton Journal. Besides these there are a number of free lance buyers working out of here.

This year will see, as never before, the travelling buyer working out into the very heart of the fur country. Already the advance guard has scattered away among the trappers as far distant as a hundred miles or more, picking up the first catches of the season. As an instance of what is being done along that line, and to show how universal is the quest for Mr. Fur-bearing Animal, recently an itinerant buyer hired an autor driver to take him through the well settled districts of Fredinstall and Waterhole, and to the surprise of the driver he picked up in one forenoon furs to the value of two hundred dollars.

A good winter trail leads to Fort Vermilion and already buyers have started out over it to pick up the skins already caught.

This coming of the buyer to the trapper's very door is new to him and gives him a new idea of his importance; likewise, it gives him a new idea of prices that should prevail. This going out into the wilds and taking the fur from the trapperr, giving him the good had cash, is discomforting to the old-time trader, too. He finds now that his goods lie on the shelves from year to year, so far as the trapper is concerned, and he either must change his methods and cater to the modern custom or go out of business.

GERMAN FORCES HAD SLIGHT SUCCESSES BELGIANS ALSO WON

Paris, Nov. 16.—Strong German forces today attacked the French positions north and south of the Somme. A slight advantage was gained, but at an exceedingly heavy cost to the enemy. The Germans also secured footings in St. Pierre, at Vaast Wood and at Pressoire.

The Belgians, near Dixmude, however, turned the tide. They raided the German trenches and secured several prisoners.

CANADIANS MADE SMART SHOWING AT BARB WIRING

A letter received by Mrs. Knight of this city, from her brother, W. C. White, who is with the 119th Battalion at Bramshott, gives the information that that Battalion has made the best time by six minutes at barb wire work. This is the battalion that was raised by Col. Smythe, M. P., in Algoma.

GERMAN RAILWAY LINES SUFFER AT HANDS OF THE AEROPLANES

British Chaplain And Few Men Capture Huns In Ancre District.

London, Nov. 16.—British aeroplanes have again been showing their superiority. They have, within the past twenty-four hours, been carrying on most successful bombing attacks over the German lines.

The attacks were against the enemy aerodromes, railway lines, stations and rolling stock.

A British chaplain, with only a few soldiers assisting made a roundup of four hundred Germans who surrendered. This took place in the Ancre district.

Most Promising Mine Located At Babine Maintained On G.T.P. Line

Reports from Edmonton are to the effect that capital is being raised there to develop fully a most promising silver property on Babine Mountain, close to the line of the G. T. P.

The new silver mining concern is the Keystone Mining Company, capitalized at $200,000, with powers to carry on a general development business in silver, lead, gold and copper. It has twelve claims on the west side of Babine Mountain, which is about half way between Prince George and Hazelton.

The galena ore on this slope of the mountain runs in value at from $75 to $125 a ton in its native state, and is in such formation that mining can be done at a minimum of expense. A Chicago company which has corresponding rights on the east side of the mountain has already made plans for active development next spring, and its concentrating plant will, by special arrangement, be used by the Edmonton company for treating the ore from the west side as soon as it is ready. An outlay of some $300,000 will be made by the Chicago people next spring, including a main tunnel into the mountain, and the Keystone mine will have the advantage of this closely adjacent plant without the necessity of putting in one of its own.

Trust Company's Affairs Are Made Subject Of Enquiry In Court Case

The affairs of the Continental Trust Company are now being investigated in the Supreme Court, incidental to a law suite which is being tried, McGregor vs. Naden et al. The plaintiff, D. M. McGregor of Vancouver, a stock broker, seeks to recover from G. R. Naden, T. D. Pattullo and M. P. McCaffery for the price paid by him for the controlling interest in the Continental Trust Company in 1914. He does so on the ground that the situation of the company was not properly represented to him when he bought. For the defense it is alleged that there was no attempt to conceal anything, but that the true posiion of the company was presented. The plaintiff is represented by W. Steers of Vancouver. For Mr. Pattulo, L. W. Patmore appears,, while Messrs. Naden and McCaffery is represented by W. E. Williams. The case is being tried by Mr. Justice Morrison.

Plaintiff's Contention.

Mr. McGregor, the plaintiff, testified yesterday morning to the effect that in February, 1914, he had been offered stock in the Continental Trust Company by Mr. McCaffery, who said he represented besides himself Messrs. Pattullo and Naden. He had said that the company would require about $2,000 or $3,000 to put it in good shape. A fourteen day option was taken on the 110 shaes of the company, which was represented for $2,000. Mr. Wilson was to join him in the enterprise, but later dropped out, leaving Vancouver.

Later he came to Prince Rupert, and upon a statement prepared by THE PASSING OF SIR SAM.

The forced retirement of Sir Sam Hughes from the position of Minister of Militia is regrettable in many ways. A change at a time like this is not desirable. Moreover, he has qualities that made him a most useful minister for a time that demanded quick action. Had Sir Sam been born dumb it might have been better for him and for all concerned. He was ever too anxious to talk, and on occasion was too flippant in his manner of dealing with weighty subjects. At the same time Canada has had a Minister of Militia in Sir Sam that grasped the situation that arose and did good work.

INDISCREET SPEECH.

pointments, while accepting a British officer in command of the field, should be accepted, that in these matters Canada and Canada alone, should control these appointments and these materials."

No Successor.

No successor to Gen. Sir Sam Hughes has been named and probably none will be announced for some time.

Rumor associates the name of Hon. A. E. Kemp with the vacant portfolio, but this is only rumor. His name is being mentioned as he has been acting minister on several occasions, and has made a great success of the War Purchasing Commission. It is very likely, whoever is the new Minister of Militia, he will not be a military man.

Breach Created.

The present trouble, although the result of an accumulation of difficulties has largely developed as a result of the recent three months' visit to England of General Hughes. It is said the Minister went overseas with definite instructions in regard to reorganization of the handling of the Canadian forces in England. He absolutely disregarded these instructions and paid no attention to Sir Robert Borden or the Cabinet in his plans of reorganization and in his appointments. The appointment to which most objections was taken was that of Col. A. D. McRae, formerly of the C. N. R. as Deputy Minister of Militia in England; the personnel of the proposed Overseas Militia Council was also unsatisfactory.

Explanations Unsatisfactory.

Explanations were demanded on the return of General Hughes by the Premier. These explanations, it is said, were not only unsatisfactory, but the Minister adopted in his letters the attitude that he would not tolerate interference. His letters are said to be of a characteristic nature, and will make interesting reading when they are published. This correspondence has been in progress for some three weeks and the climax came on Friday when Sir Robert wrote General Hughes asking for his resignation.

GOVERNMENT BULLETIN OF THE ATHABASKA COUNTRY

Interesting Facts About The Great North Country Contained In Publication.

At present the public mind turns—momentarily, but regularly—from the consideration of the world war to the conditions which are bound to exist at the conclusion of the struggle. The eyes of thousands of men—Canada as a land of opportunity. Fortunate it is that Canada has land enough, and to spare.

The Railway Lands Branch of the Department of Interior has just issued a neat little pamphlet descriptive of a new settlers' country. It is the district through which the Athabaska River flows, and is second only in importance to that "New Northwest"—the Peace River country.

The Athabaska flows for about 600 miles from the Rocky Mountains to Lake Athabaska. Two stretches of about 280 miles each—or about 90 per cent. of the total length—are navigable. But much more effective means of transportation is now being rapidly completed in the railway under construction. This will open up for settlement a vast territory hitherto only accessible with difficulty,—a new, old country traversed over 100 years ago by Sir John Franklin and other pioneer explorers. A number of permanent settlements have already been established. The climate and crop conditions appear to be very much akin to those obtaining in the neighboring Peace River district.

There are also indications of many of the economic minerals, such as coal, iron, petroleum and asphaltum. Taken as a whole, the Athabaska River country may well be looked upon as a field for the incoming settler.

This pamphlet, which contains a number of descriptive illustrations, is being distributed free of charge by the Railway Lands Branch, Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

TRUST COMPANY'S AFFAIRS MADE SUBJECT OF ENQUIRY

Mr. Hobin and Mr. Peterson, he came to the conclusion the company was practically breaking even and he took the stock. He had paid, in addition to the $2,000, another $2,350 into the company to keep it going.

Matters got worse with the company, however.

Cross-Examination.

Cross-examined by Mr. Patmore, witness said he delayed in the payment of the first instalment of $1,000 because he was endeavorring to get Mr. Wilson to assume it, which was his part. T. D. Pattullo understood that when he was pressing for the payment.

Asked if he had told Mr. Peterson that he intended to float stock to the amount of $100,000, which could easily be sold, witness said he could not remember ever making such a statement.

Witness admitted that there were only $500 in cash to meet the demands of the depositors, although there were $800 of assets in the form of calls due. He took the precaution then to have Messrs. Naden, Pattullo and McCaffery stay behind the institution for 60 days after taking it.

Calls were sent out for overdue amounts, witness said.

T. D. Pattullo's position.

The only complaint he had with Mr. Pattullo, as a result of the discussion of the statement of the affairs when he met him at his house, was with respect to the statement of the company, which witness analysed as requiring only $3,000 to put it in shape.

Cross-examined by Mr. Williams, witness said that he had been told previous to February, 1914, that Messrs. Hobin and Peterson were drawing $100 a month. Mr. McCaffery had told him of this salary also. He remembered later a cock and bull story about a minute being on the books fixing these salaries at $150; they were to put the $50 back in again and thus swell the deposits.

A minute, specifying that these salaries should be reduced by $50, and that the $50 should be paid in stock of the company, or in cash if they so elected was produced.

Afternoon Sitting.

Upon resuming in the afternoon Mr. Williams continued his cross-examination of Mr. McGregor. The latter said that the statement of the affairs of the Continental Trust Company in February, 1914, was such that the company was about breaking even. About $3,000 was necessary to put the company in good shape. There was nothing said by Mr. Hobin as to extreme urgency at the time.

Witness believed that the statement was lacking, in that about $900 was omitted from the liabilities, being the amount which had been endorsed for by Messrs. Pattullo, Naden and McCaffery. He would not agree that the $900, which was due to Messrs. Hobin and Peterson under the agreement set forth in the minutes, should properly be credited to the savings account. That would be juggling.

Shortly after this a pamphlet was prepared, looking to selling stock. His named was used on this as president of the company. It was prepared by Mr. Wilson and witness had objected to it.

H. W. Leyens Evidence.

H. W. Leyens, examined by Mr. Steers, gave his occupation as an investor of securities. Witness had been shown statements of the Continental Trust Company in the fall of 1914. In January, 1915, he came here with Mr. McGregor.

He had had a conversation with Mr. McCaffery, and on the strength of that came to Prince Rupert to look into the subject of some city bonds. While here he met the men identified with the Continental Trust Company. After looking into the affairs he told Mr. McGregor he would not go in on the Trust Company. It did not look too solvent. One feature he did not like about it was, that there was money owing to the officers of the Trust Company. At a meeting with Messrs. Hobin, Peterson, Naden, McCaffery, Pattullo and McGregor were all present, witness suggested that the local men should give notes for $1,000, to cover up what he regarded as a deficit in the savings account. Mr. Naden and Mr. McCaffery were agreeable to this, but Mr. Pattullo would not agree to this.

Cross-examined by Mr. Patmore, witness said that neither he nor Mr. McGregor had agreed to put money in when this offer was made.

Had Suffered Losses.

Examination for discovery, put in by Mr. Steers, showed that Mr. McCaffery admitted that he thought Mr. McGregor was rather easy to pay $2,000 for the 110 shares of a company that had shown a loss of $12,000.

Mr. Steers asked if the other side would admit that Mr. Naden and Mr. Pattullo knew that Mr. McCaffery went to Vancouver with the object of selling the stock. This was admitted on behalf of Mr. Naden, but denied on behalf of Mr. Pattullo.

Mr. Naden's evidence for discovery was put in, in which Mr. Naden said that he had gone to see Mr. Arnold of the Dominion Trust, while in Vancouver and asked Mr. Arnold if he did not think it would be a wise thing to purchase.

Expert Evidence.

E. D. Johnson, City Treasurer, called for the defense, testified to having 17 years' experience as an accountant. He had been called in to examine the books of the Continental Trust Company. He considered the statement, presented as an exhibit, was a fair one. It was a statement of the company's standing at January 31, 1914. Had an accountant wanted to, he could have obscured the losses to some extent in the statement. This was not done.

Witness did not think that it could be regarded as juggling with figures to include the amount held back from the officials' salaries under the savings deposit. He thought it better to put it as the auditor did in the statemen for 1914, when he set it forth as due the men. It was simply a different way of looking at the transaction. If the $50 a month were to be taken as cash it could be placed in the saving's account.

He regarded the company as solvent at the time.

The court adjourned with Mr. Steers cross-examining Mr. Johnson.

Production and Thrift

"CANADA from her abundance can help supply the Empire's needs, and this must be a comforting thought for those upon whom the heavy burden of directing the Empire's affairs has been laid. Gain or no gain the course before the farmers of Canada is as clear as it was last year—they must produce abundantly in order to meet the demands that may be made. and I believe this to be especially true in regard to live stock, the world's supply of which must be particularly affected in this vast struggle. Stress and strain may yet be in store for us all before this tragic conflict is over, but not one of us doubts the issue, and Canadians will do their duty in the highest sense of that great word."—HON. MARTIN BURRELL, Minister of Agriculture.

"MODERN war is made by resources, by money, by foodstuffs, as well as by men and by munitions. While war is our first business, it is the imperative duty of every man in Canada to produce all that he can, to work doubly hard while our soldiers are in the trenches, in order that the resources of the country may not only be conserved, but increased, for the great struggle that lies before us. 'Work and Save' is a good motto for War-time."—SIR THOMAS WHITE, Minister of Finance.

We must feed ourselves, feed our soldiers, and help feed the Allies. The need is greater in 1916 than it was in 1915. The difficulties are greater, the task is heavier, the need is more urgent, the call to patriotism is louder—therefore be thrifty and produce to the limit.

"THE AGRICULTURAL WAR BOOK FOR 1916" is now in the press. To be had from The Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

JOHN BARRYMORE IN "THE RED WIDOW"

To Be Show At The Westholme Theatre Tonight Only.

At the Westholme Theatre this evening John Barrymore will be featured in "The Red Widow," a melodramatic Comedy by Channing Pollock and Rennold Wolf. John Barrymore possesses the greatest opportunity he has ever had since becoming a photo-play star for demonstrating beyond all doubt his right to be called the foremost comedian of the screen today. In the role of Cicero Hannibal Butts, the distinguished corset salesman, who seeks to combine his honeymoon and a business trip to Russia, and who as a result finds himself inextricably caught in a number of comic predicaments involving the Russian secret police and innumerable Nihilists, including the fascinating Red Widow, to whom he is introduced as the greatest living king-killer. John Barymore is screamingly humorous in the depiction of his miseries and his futile efforts to clear himself in the eyes of the government and more principally his wife, who herself believes that Butts has deserted her for the Red Widow. How these humorous difficulties are at last explained is unfolded in the final scene of this sparkling comedy in the typical and inimitable Barrymore manner.

The 11th episode of "The Girl and The Game," featuring Helen Holmes, will also be shown this evening.

stand. In consequence he was sent back to hospital.

Other letters have been received, written just previous to the fight of October 21. Magistrate Carss received a letter written by his son, Capt. Adair, just two days before his death. He told of the situation of affairs, and that they were able to make themselves very comfortable.

P. J. Palmer has also written about the same time, telling that there was a great crowd of them about, and J. A. Kirkpatrick, in a letter of the day before the fight, told of the quarters he and P. J. Palmer had in a ruined village. It was fairly comfortable, the best in the village and was consequently a rendezvous for all.

trial Association, is the man who first located this double hillside of wealth on Babine. In the summer of 1915 he staked out a number of claims on the east side of the mountain, and sold them to the Chicago interests that are now proceeding to develop them; during the last summer he located the claims on the other side, which form the working area of the local company just incorporated.

With Mr. Harrer are associated three other Edmontonians, W. C. Dunn, H. J. Munton and Thomas V. Michie. The balance of the capital has been subscribed across the line, a considerable amount of Pennsylvania money being involved in the project.

The intentions of the company are to begin operations with a force of twenty men or more, as soon as the weather conditions will permit next spring.

MANY IN PRINCE RUPERT TRY SIMPLE MIXTURE

Many Prince Rupert people are surprised at the QUICK action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka. This simple remedy acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing such surprising foul matter that ONE SPOONFUL relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. A few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. The INSTANT, easy action of Adler-i-ka is astonishing. C. H. Orme, Pioneer Druggist. g-c.
