Ten Carloads Of Halibut Being Landed At Wharves In City

The fishing season can be fairly said to be now open again. Yesterday five boats arrived in port with about 150,000 pounds of fish. This, with the catches brought in by the Athena, the Washington, and the Ann St. Leon, the night before, brought the total amount of fish disposed of on the markets yesterday, to over 260,000 pounds, or about 10 carloads. The waterfront, in consequence, presented a lively appearance again yesterday, resembling the summer and fall of last year.

There reached port yesterday the Progress, Capt. Otterson, with 50,000 pounds; the Yakatat, Capt. Hanstrum, with 45,000 pounds; the Venus, Capt. Bernhoff, with 25,000 pounds; the Elsie with 20,000; and the Kincolith with 8,000.

Of these vesesls, all sold their catch to the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Company, with the exception of the Kincolith, which went to the Atlin Fisheries. Then Mr. Bernhoff, representing the National Independent Company, bought the Washington's 42,000 pounds; and H. O. Roberts, of the San Juan Company, bought the Athena's catch of 70,000. The result was a very busy day on the fish wharves, getting the halibut ready for shipment.

Seattle papers make mention of the fact, that a few days ago, 10 carloads of halibut were taken out of there in one train, being a record for that port. Prince Rupert has sent out a larger train load of fish than that. With the halibut taken in yesterday, a train load of 10 cars could have been sent out.

London, Jan. 21.—An official report from the Kameruns says that after the occupation of Yuanda on Jan. 1, the columns of the Entente Allies, which were despatched to endeavor to cut off the enemy's retreat, reached Koimaka, on the Nyong River, on Jan. 8. There they released a number of alien prisoners.

It is stated the Germans evacuated Ebolowa and Ako Linga. The German Governor, Evermaier, escaped from the Spanish.

From Muni fighting is also reported further south, close to the German-Spanish border, where two small French columns are advancing from the coast from the French Congo, trying to prevent the escape of the Germans into Muni.

Minister Of Public Works Advises Citizens To Remain Optimistic With Respect To Future Of This City

Hon. C. E. Tisdall Thinks Prince Rupert Should Accomplish In Fifteen Years What Vancouver Has Done In Double That Time---Province Of British Columbia Is In Proud Position As To Its Financial Standing---Excellent Smoker In Honor Of Members Of Government Last Night

The Provincial Minister of Works, Hon. C. E. Tisdall, who in company iwth Hon. William Manson, President of the Council, leaves this morning by the G. T. P. on a tour along the line of the G. T. P. railway, is very optimistic with regard to Prince Rupert and the northern part of British Columbia. At a smoker tendered him and Mr. Manson last night, by the local Conservatives, he admonished the citizens to have faith in the city and they would see their dreams accomplished. Mr. Tisdall came into Vancouver in the construction days of the C. P. R., and is therefore a practical pioneer. He believes Prince Rupert will attain, in fifteen years, what Vancouver took thirty years to reach. His advice to the citizens is to do their best for the city and all will come right.

A Decided Success.

The smoker given to the ministers in the Empress Theatre was, as is usual with Conservative gatherings of that kind, a decided success. The speeches of the ministers were not election ones. In addition to the addresses a number of excellent musical selections were given. The attendance, in spite of the weather, was good.

J. E. Merryfield, the Conservative candidate for the House of Commons, presided at the meeting. He explained the object of the smoker, which was to give the new ministers the opportunity of meeting with the citizens.

Hon. William Manson.

Mr. Manson recalled the fact that, from the platform on which they sat, there had been many interesting campaigns fought. He referred to the municipal elections that had been held. Many whom they had been accustomed to see at these public meetings were now at the front. Mentioning the name of Cy. Peck, now Major Peck, the audience greeted the reference with applause.

The resignation of Premier McBride was referred to. The Province was not losing his service, as he would be of invaluable advantages to British Columbia as Agent-General at London.

The New Premier.

In the advent to power of Hon. Mr. Bowser, a premier had come into power who was an indefatigable worker, who would give the Province excellent service. Mr. Manson made reference to the new Minister of Public Works, Mr. Tisdall. He was taking advantage of the visit of that minister to Northern British Columbia, to impress upon him the needs of the district. When the tremendous extent of territory was taken into account here, the needs for expenditures was very great. He appreciated, that in war times like this, the Government could not do as much for the district as would othewise be the case.

Advantage was taken of Mr. Tisdall's visit, to impress upon him the opportunities for ship-building here. The Government would, in any aid that might be decided upon, have to proceed along sensible lines.

To Develop Country.

The fishing industry, with its rapid development here, and the mining industry were referred to. He would like to see it possible to do more in the matter of building trails to mining properties. There was, however, something rather problematical as to the value of prospects in the early days.

Alluding to his having been given Cabinet rank, Mr. Manson assured them he would at all times use his influence to advance the interests of the district.

Mr. Manson paid a tribute to the men who had left here to save the country in the war. It was up to those who remained at home to do what they could in bringing the war to a successful issue. He had not come to make a political speech. When the proper time came, he would only be too glad to give an account of his stewardship.

Hon. C. E. Tisdall.

Mr. Tisdall expressed his pleasure at being present. He said he was here to get in touch with the needs of this northern district. He had visited Prince Rupert more than a score of years ago. He was glad to find a hopeful city here. It was characteristic of every part of the Empire, now that armed men were ever present. He remarked upon the absence of young men in audiences at a time like thim. These men were where they ought to be in the trenches or training for the defense of the Empire. No matter how long the war lasted, men would be in training to march upon Berlin.

He remarked upon the fact that, from the moment the British fleet disappeared at the start of the war, the control of the seas as it was now.

As Canadians they should feel proud of the action taken. Those at home should be ready to do their utmost.

DURING AND AFTER THE WAR.

In the Annual Review number of The Monetary Times, the editor, Fred W. Field, takes a reassuring view of the present financial situation and of the outlook. He denies that the huge war expenditures by all the nations engaged involve a diminution of the world's aggregate wealth as it existed before the war. "For all practical purposes the wealth of the various nations is substantially unchanged, less the shrinkage in the market value of property and securities arising from the rise in the rate of interest. The latter factor should, however, be in large measure disregarded, as when the war is over and capital again accumulates rapidly the rate of interest and the value of property will probably return to levels not far removed from those prevailing prior to the war."

In Canada extraordinary crops, saleable at exceptionally good prices, and a huge munitions business, combined with public and private economy, have changed a heavily unfavorable into a highly favorable trade balance, and raised Canadian bank deposits to a new high level. There has been a steady increase in what, in the true sense of the word, are savings deposits, and ordinary depositors, being either unable or unwilling to lend their funds at present, have transferred abnormally large current account balances to savings bank accounts. "Looking at all the money signs, it would seem that after the war, when it is hoped that confidence will be fully restored, and allowing for the demands of war loans, there will be ample funds for legimitate investment purposes, with a tendency for the rates to harden as the world gets back into its peaceful gait."

According to The Monetary Times, "there need be little fear in regard to the relation of war taxation to Canadian credit. During the war and after, taxation is quite unlikely to jeopardize the security for Canadian loans. Financing since the war has followed the best British traditions, and this will continue. Not only will the tax burden of Canada be immensely less than that of any of the leading belligerents, but there is ,as a back-bone to credit, immense natural resources and increasing production therefrom." In trade openings after the return of peace, particularly in the way of exports to Great Britain, Belgium, France and Russia, a great opportunity is described. If this is taken advantage of to the full, and if effective means of getting disbanded soldiers and selected immigrants on the land are adopted, there seems to be no reason why the Dominion should not in a few years double its population and its wealth.

Correspondence

To the Electors of Prince Rupert,

Ladies and Gentlemen:—

I wish to thank you for the confidence you have shown in me as your representative on the Aldermanic Board, by electing me three times to that position. My decision to offer my services for the front, precluded me from seeking you votes this year. I have not lost interest in the city of Prince Rupert, but will continue to look upon it as my home.

I would have taken an earlier opportunity to have conveyed my thanks to the electors, immediately upon retiring from my position as Alderman, but absence from the city prevented my doing so.

Kindly accept my sincere thanks for your support, with the hope that the new council may succeed in the discharge of its duties, and that the city may enjoy prospertiy.

Yours obediently,

THOMAS MAITLAND.

TERRACE MEETING WAS POSTPONED

TERRIBLE STORM RAGED YESTERDAY AT INTERIOR CENTRE

Farmers' Institute Gathering Called Off Owing To Blizzard.

The meeting in the interests of the Farmers' Institute, which was to have been held in Terrace yesterday had to be postponed owing to the state of the weather. A perfect blizzard was blowing there, and the lecturers decided that it would be impossible for the farmers to attend, and so postponed it for a date to be fixed later, at the close of the tour.

J. R. Terry, of Victoria, of the Poultry Department; H. E. Walker, of Terrace, of the Agricultural Department; and A. H. Tomlinson, of this city, of the Horticultural Department, all reached here last night by the train. They leave this morning by train for Hazelton, where they will hold a meeting.

It had at first been the intention to have Mr. Terry address a meeting here tonight, but this has been cancelled also.

The weather in the interior has been very severe. One man who came to attend the gathering had his face frozen on the way. The storms along the track delayed the train last night. It did not reached here until 11 o'clock last night.

MINISTER OF PUBLIC WORKS.

was now in excellent condition. The bonded indebtedness of the Province was only some $21,000,000, while the sinking funds were $3,000,000, leaving only $18,000,000 indebtedness. Alberta owed $26,000,000, Saskatchewan owed almost $21,000,000. The City of Vancouver had a bonded indebtedness of $36,000,000. The Province of Alberta and Saskatchewan had not the great natural resources that British Columbia had. The value of the timber to the Province was estimated at $400,000,000. The lands were held at $100,000,000. This was a matter of congratulation.

Value Of North.

The Government fully realized the great value of the country opened up by the G. T. P. It was with the object in view, of looking into the best methods of developing this country, that he was here.

The Government had 1,100 unfortunate persons who had lost their reason. At the mental hospital at Essondale, the best of care was taken of these. British Columbia had faced this problem in a human way.

A prison farm that looked to the reforming of prisoners had been opened up under this Government.

School System.

The school system of the Province was one that they all felt proud of. To top it off the British Columbia University had been opened up. It was costing $25,000 a month at present. It was being conducted in temporary quarters in Vancouver, but later there would be splendid arrangements made for the institution at Point Grey. He was strongly in favor of a thorough technical education.

Mr. Tisdall made reference to the railway situation. The G. T. P. construction money had been spent. It had opened up a country of great resources. The Asiatic trade in Vancouver gave employment to 600 or 700 longshoremen, in handling the freight. He felt that similar conditions would come to Prince Rupert. If Prince Rupert was true to itself, there would be a large number of steamers running to outside points, bringing the trade to this city.

Prince Rupert's Development.

He felt that Prince Rupert must presently have elevators, through which grain from the prairies would be sent out to the world. Prince Rupert should accomplish in fifteen years, what Vancouver did in thirty. The people of Prince Rupert had immense possibilities. He advised the residents to get down to actual business. He advised them to "get a hustle on and to have confidence in the city."

Musical Programme.

During the evening an excellent musical programme was given. V. Davis acting as accompanist. Messrs. Jones, Meth Davis, A. Clapperton and V. Davis, rendered the Sailors Chorus in fine style. Frank McKinnon contributed an excellent solo. Messrs. Clapperton and Jones, in the "Two Beggars," brought down the house. William Murray was given hearty applause for a patriotic selection, which was well sung. Mr. McGuire, in costume, contributed comic selections. Meth Davis was heard in solos and A. Clapperton also contributed selections. William Cummings, in Father O'Flynn did excellent, and was recalled.

The meeting closed with the singing of God Save the King.

BRITISH SUNK SMALL AUSTRIAN CRAFT IN ADRIATIC

Eye Troubles Corrected

Mr. Bulger has had over ten years experience in sight testing and fitting glasses, and last mid-summer took a post graduate course, which included the latest discoveries in the science of optometry or eye measuring. One of the most important is dynamic skiametry. The new method of Prof. A. J. Cross, of New York, in which the eye is measured by a beam of reflected light and any error is recorded.

But we do not simply rely on one method; each eye is tested separately, in three different ways, besides trying the muscular balance, together and the nervous acuteness.

We use the new drugless methods, no drops in the eye and no heavy frame resting on your face; ours swings from the wall by a bracket.

Notice! The Latest!

By persistent experimenting I have now evolved a system of heating two rooms in a residence with your kitchen range, besides supplying hot water for domestic uses, regardless of the position of the range boiler. By the turning of one valve you turn your stove into a house heating system. I am now trying to improvise a thermostic automatic valve which will do away with the handling of any valves.

Now in use and on exhibition at my shop, 139 Second Avenue.

Quality vs. Imitation

The difference between a real thing and an imitation of it is illustrated by the difference between "Budweiser" Beer and beers that seek to resemble

Budweiser

The nearest to the original that imitators ever came was in the counterfeiting of our label. But they have never produced a beer that in any way equals "Budweiser," nor can they ever.

Budweiser is bottled only (with corks or crown caps) at the

Anheuser-Busch Brewery
St. Louis, Mo.
