President Wilson Takes Determined Stand On Foreign Affairs

Washington, Feb. 23.—President Wilson has sent a warning to Congress that he will not tolerate any interference with America's International relations. The administration has taken a stand, it is learned from a reliable source, that any agitation which might be construed as a criticism of the State Department might have an adverse effect upon the belligerent European nations.

The President has told certain Senators also, that he has decided to force an immediate show-down by the Teutonic Empires on the question of submarine warfare.

CASE IN COURT ON DEFALCATION

THE PRINCE RUPERT CLUB SEEKING FROM BOND COMPANY

Judge Robertson, Of Prince George, Is Hearing The Action.

In the County Court yesterday Judge Robertson, of Prince George, heard the evidence in the action brought by the Prince Rupert Club against The Employers' Liability and Assurance Corporation. This is to recover the amount of the bond provided by the late Assistant Secretary, the amount being $1,000. A. Carss appeared for the plaintiff Club, while A. M. Manson was counsel for the defendant Company.

The evidence was confined to officers of the Club, who testified as to how the business was transacted in connection with it. H. F. McLeod, the Secretary; and A. T. Broderick, the President at the time, gave evidence. The case is one largely of argument.

Mr. Manson moved for a non-suit. He contended that the plaintiffs had failed to carry out the obligations imposed upon them under the contract contained in the policy. He contended that notice of defalcation had to be given within a specified time, which was within the life of the policy or six months after, to the head office in Montreal, direct. The evidence, he said, showed that a letter was written and handed to Mr. Forster and not sent to the office in Montreal.

It was not even shown that Mr. Foster was the agent of the Company. The Company could not be bound by any statement made by Mr. Foster.

There was no verification of the statement as to the defalcation taking place during the life of the policy.

It was admitted that for one month there was no audit, which was enough to relieve the Company. There was no evidence that the cash was counted monthly.

His Honor wanted to know if there was anything to show that the Treasurer should take the actual money in a bag or in his hands into the directors and actually count the money.

Mr. Manson contended that the money should have been counted monthly under the contract. He contended that the audit was in reality a farce. The Club had to live up

GERMANY SHUT OUT OF AUSTRALIA

PREMIER HUGHES SAYS HUNS WILL NEVER COMMERCIALLY SET FOOT THERE AGAIN

Present War, Canada's And Australia's As Much As England's.

"This is not England's war any more than it is Canada's war or Australia's war. This war is for every principle that has made government in Canada or Australia possible. There is no alternative for any free man."

Such was the keynote of the speech delivered by Premier W. M. Hughes, of Australia, at a dinner given in his honor at the Rideau Club, in Ottawa, by Sir Robert Borden.

Sir Robert proposed the toast of "The Premier of Australia" in a speech in which he referred to the glory with which the troops of Australia and New Zealand had covered themselves at the Dardanelles, and hailed the visit of Mr. Hughes as "a message of brotherhood, of kinsman to kinsman."

The toast was seconded by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He spoke of the relief which the Australians had brought to Canada when they had rid the seas of the last of the German pirates on the Pacific. He said the war had made us more proud of our British citizenship. There had never been a greater triumph for England than to see in this war the Dominions rally around

GERMANS APPEAR ABOUT TO STRIKE

WHAT MAY BE FINAL BIG OFFENSIVE MOVE IN WEST STARTING

Allies Will Be In Position To Cooperate On Large Scale.

Paris, Feb. 23.—A triple German offensive is now in progress in Flanders, in the Artois district and in Alsace. This is believed by military experts to be the last great effort to break the Allied lines in the west.

If unsuccessful, they say the Kaiser will be forced to assume a defensive attitude on every front until the end of the war.

The present offensive may prove the war's turning point. Both England and France will be in a position to co-operate with Russia in a gigantic campaign to exhaust the Teutonic Empires.

Russian Aggressive Against German Forces In The East

Petrograd, Feb. 23.—Recently Russian guerilla troops destroyed a considerable stretch of railway between Libau and Ponevitch. German trains carrying shells and guns were wrecked and the line blown up. More than a hundred soldiers were killed or injured.

In the region of Olyka Dunbyo we captured extremely strong positions. All the stubborn counter attacks by the Austro-Germans failed. In several regiments the enemy's losses reached 40 per cent. of those composing the regiment.

TURKS STILL RUNNING.

London, Feb. 23.—The Turks are evacuating the Province of Trebizond on the Black Sea, and the Russian advance forces are within a day's march of Rizeh.

The Turks are fleeing from Erzerum to Rizeh in an effort to reach Trebizond, and the Russians are forcing a movement to cut off the Turkish retreat.

ZINC PROPERTIES TO BE DEVELOPED

MINISTER OF MINES POINTS OUT OMINECA IS RICH IN ORE

Tonnage Is Not Sufficient On Coast At Present For Works.

The development of zinc metallurgy at Trail smelter has given an incentive to further developments along this line. The Provincial Government recently agreed to subsidize the French process, and a Spokane company is endeavoring to arrange with the Provincial Government, which has a mortgage on the property, for the lease of the Fairview zince experimental works at Nelson, for the purpose of establishing a spelter plant under patents which it holds covering an electro-thermic process.

The Provincial Government have been approached to support spelter works on the coast, but Hon. Lorne Campbell has properly pointed out that no supplies of zinc ore, sufficient to provide a permanent supply for such works, have yet been proved up on the coast. The Omineca district is as rich as the Slocan in zinc prospects, but it may be some time before these deposits are sufficiently

No Vote Will Be Needed On City's Rate Of Interest Charge

It will not be necessary to submit to a vote the question of an increase in the rate of interest on the serial bonds it is proposed to float by the city to cover its indebtedness. Mayor McCaffery yesterday received from Victoria a message from the City Solicitor, Fred Peters, K. C., in which the latter said that the officials of the Government, who have been in conference with the city's officials, decided that the vote by the people would not be necessary. The power to fix the rate at 6 per cent. will be given in the private bill.

This, when carried out in the form of legislation by the House, will do away with the delay necessary in taking a vote of the property owners, and will effect a saving in trouble and some little expense.

It had been intended to have this vote taken, but delay followed when it was ascertained that votes on some other questions might have to be taken. It was deemed wise to postpone the voting to allow it all to come up at once.

The following is a copy of a letter received from Private A. S. Johnson, of the 16th Canadian Scottish, now in France. It is dated Jan. 20, 1916.

Mayor, Prince Rupert,

Dear Sir:—

It gives me great pleasure to be able to write you these few lines, thanking you and the citizens for your generous gifts of cigarettes which came to hand about a week ago. I feel it my duty to send the citizens a letter of thanks, and I hope you will convey these thanks to the people who have so generously offered. I hope that the time is not so very far off that peace will reign once more, and that we are back again in dear old Rupert.

The President of the Trades and Labor Council took opportunity of expressing his appreciation that labor had been recognized in the appointment of Mr. John Vierick, one of the members of the Council, on the Licence Commissioner's Board. PETITION ASKS FOR.

Province of British Columbia, an act to appoint a commission to investigate the sanitary conditions and the safety to life and limb of the children attending our schools daily, as we believe the said schools, in-so-far as the City of Prince Rupert is concerned, are not safe, and we judge by the reports from different parts of the Province the same conditions exist and that there should be a clause in the School Act to govern the height of all railings around stairs and approaches to schools, and that proper bandages and stretchers and telephone equipment should be provided at all schools, and that the said commission be duly authorized to investigate the schools at least twice a year, and that there orders should hold the members of the School Boards responsible for all damage done to life and limb, if it can be proven to be caused by their neglect, and that the height of stairs and other railings be not less than four feet, and all stairs shall not exceed a six-inch rise, to a twelve-inch tread, as anything over this rise and less than this tread makes it very dangerous to little ones going up and down.

We ask for these amendments to the School Act and pray that they may be granted without unnecessary delay.

There were attached to the petition one hundred and twenty-six names. Mr. McPherson explained that he expected to have fifteen hundred names of bona fide voters signed before the petition was presented to Hon. William Manson.

Eye Troubles Corrected

Mr. Bulger has had over ten years experience in sight testing and fitting glasses, and last mid-summer took a post graduate course, which included the latest discoveries in the science of optometry or eye measuring. One of the most important is dynamic skiametry. The new method of Prof. A. J. Cross, of New York, in which the eye is measured by a beam of reflected light and any error is recorded.

But we do not simply rely on one method; each eye is tested separately, in three different ways, besides trying the muscular balance, together and the nervous acuteness.

We use the new drugless methods, no drops in the eye and no heavy frame resting on your face; ours swings from the wall by a bracket.

BRITISH NAVY IS PROTECTING STATES

WALL STREET JOURNAL DEALS WITH QUESTIONS RELATING TO WAR

The British Navy Is The Principal Backer Of The Monroe Doctrine.

Col. Roosevelt is on impregnable ground when he attacks the peace-at-any-price people. Unfortunately, they seem to be incapable of understanding a logical argument. They make one fundamental mistake in their objection to preparedness for defence. They confuse it with preparedness for aggression. Between the two there is a difference, not of degree, but of kind. So says the Wall Street Journal, of New York. Continuing, this magazine says:

Every self-respecting man is, in certain emergencies, prepared to defend himself. But he does not prepare to attack anybody. If he does he rapidly joins the ranks of violent and dangerous criminals. The matter is one of the greatest importance when the parallel is applied to nations. For a century we have benefited by our geographical position. But modern methods of transport have bridged that gap. Our sea coast, in fact, is now, in effect, more vulnerable than our Canadian border, where we have a neighbor whose every interest is to maintain the peace.

It must be apparent to the student of history who applies its lessons to the problems of the times, that the Monroe Doctrine cannot go on forever with the British navy as its principal backer. It is true that Great Britain, as the largest holder of territory in the Americas, is equally interested with ourselves in the prevention of European expansion on this continent. But this is merely a political condition and subject to change, while the British navy at present has its hands full.

It is one of President Wilson's pacifist fallacies that an understanding between all the republics of South and Central America is an equivalent for the Monroe Doctrine. It is nothing of the sort. If any one of these twenty-one States chooses to make a bargain with Germany or Japan ceding a coaling station, the Monroe Doctrine goes up in the air, even if the President's plan had not the fatal defect of excluding the self-governing colony of Canada and the British Crown colonies of the West Indies, to say nothing of the Danish, French and Dutch possessions there.

A nation which is not prepared for defence in liberal proportion to its vulnerability is like a great city which attempts to economize by dismissing its police force. It is all very well to say that the citizens will so behave that burglars and other criminals will be unknown. We know that this Sunday School theory will not work in practice. Whatever may be the result of the war in Europe, the present military condition of the United States is a criminal tempting of fate.

SUPREMACY IN MEDITERRANEAN

HOW THE WAR AFFECTS THE SITUATION IN THE BALKANS

Britain's Interest In Near East Is Linked Up With India.

To understand aright the situation in the Balkans, one must consider the present war as a conflict between Germanism and Slavism, writes a special correspondent of the Toronto News from Kieff, Russia. The interests of all the nations of Europe are vitally related to this conflict. The representatives of both Germanism and Slavism have been ambitious to obtain direct communication with the Mediterranean Sea.

Germany's policy has been to reach the Aegean Sea by way of the Balkans to the port of Saloniki. Russia's interest was to protect Serbia and secure a Slav communication with the Mediterranean by way of the Adriatic Sea. The conflict of these policies has given the Balkan Kingdoms an exaggerated prominence, and one to which their strength did not entitle them.

Annexation of Bosnia and Hertzegovina, antedating the war by some years, was a marked advance for Germanism. When these provinces were annexed, Serbia was the chief sufferer. Russia, as protector of Serbia, showed signs of uneasiness and unwillingness to accept the action of Germany. A communition from the latter amounted practically to an ultimatum. Russia was unprepared and had to submit, but ever since the annexation of these two provinces war in Europe has been inevitable. The advance made by Germanism in Hertzegovina made Serbia the next obstacle, as the latter's borders are less than 40 miles from Saloniki. The racial relationshhip of Serbia and Russia and the even stronger political and religious relations left Germanism no hope of finding a peaceful solution for the realization of its ambition, a road to the Mediterranean. The Austrian ultimatum to Serbia was a series of demands which could not be accepted if Serbian independence was to be secured.

The interests of France and England were opposed to Germany reaching the Mediterranean for such would have meant the creation of a great German naval power. Britain must, at all costs, keep control of water communication to India and the far East, which would have been menaced by a Teuton fleet. This war will settle the question of supremacy in the Mediterranean and control of the eastern and western outlet and inlet.

CASE IN COURT

to the strict letter of the law.

His Honor called attention to the fact that the Company took steps to have Bratt arrested, instead of relying upon the ground that the contract had not been lived up to.

Mr. Manson argued that it was the right of any one to give information relative to crime.

His Honor, however, called attention to the fact that on a hair-splitting proposition, was it not peculiar that an American should come over here and "butt into" something that did not concern him.

Mr. Manson pointed out that Americans were every day giving information relative to crimes in this country.

His Honor said that this was where they were directly interested also.

Upon Mr. Manson concluding, His Honor wished to deal only with the application of a non-suit.

Mr. Carss thought Mr. Manson had gone into the whole question.

His Honor said that Mr. Manson stated at the opening that he was speaking to the non-suit application.

Mr. Carss argued that Mr. Foster represented himself as the representative of the Company. The arrest of Bratt was at the instance of the Company. Mr. McLeod's evidence was that he was about the Club almost every day, and the audits were duly made. The only thing upon which to base an assertion, that there was not an audit for a month, was the statement that Bratt had said so. Reading from authorities, Mr. Carss contended that an audit, where there was no suspicion aroused, was not required to be so very searching. In this case due precautions were taken when suspicion was aroused. The directors were responsible only in cases of gross negligence.

Mr. Carss argued that it could not be expected that directors should be in reality auditors. The Club had not been negligent.

His Honor reserved judgment on the point, and will resume court this morning.
