TUNNEL AT ROCHER DE BOULE IS WELL ADVANCED

Mr. Justice Morrison Paid High Tribute To Local Officer

Damages Are Awarded For Accident At Cold Storage

Rocher de Boule May Have Tunnel To Vein Completed By Christmas

Word received from the Rocher de Boule mine, on Rocher de Boule Mountain, is to the effect that the main vein, which it is expected to encounter at depth, may be run into about Christmas or a little later. If this is done the ore body of the mine will be assured as of immense proportions.

At the present time the ore taken out is at a much higher level than the tunnel that is being driven. The tunnel is expected to reach the main vein at about 2,900 or 3,000 feet. It has been driven through the granite formation now to over 2,000 feet.

If the proposition turns out as expected it is contemplated driving the tunnel on through the mountain, to come out nearer the Bulkley River. That will be the route through which the ore will be taken out, doing away with what is known as the little tramline and facilitating the handling of the output very much.

The total length of tunnel through the mountain would be about 7,000 feet. It would have the advantage also of opening up other properties on the mountain.

The prospects at the mine are exceedingly good. If the body is proved at depth as expected the future of the property is the best. It will become one of the big producers on the coast.

COURT'S TRIBUTE TO CAPTAIN CARSS WHO MET FATE

At the opening of the Supreme Court yesterday Mr. Justice Morrison took occasion to make reference to the loss sustained by the local bar in the death of Capt. A. Carss in action a few weeks ago. He referred to the promise of a brilliant legal career of this young officer, who would have distinguished himself had he been spared.

Losses like this were being suffered every day by Canada. It gave a slight idea of the appalling sacrifices which so many young Canadians have been making for the cause of liberty and justice.

SCHOOL FOR BLIND CHILDREN OPENED IN THIS PROVINCE

In May last a school for sightless children was opened at 1238 Melville Street, Vancouver, under a skillful and well experienced teacher, Mrs. E. Burke. It opened with some five children in attendance and has since increased to seven or eight. The Government is providing for the expense, so that the parents are not charged anything whatever. The children are receiving the best of attention in the "Braille" System, which is the most modern and perfect system of writing without sight.

A Vancouver correspondent writes: To visit this school and see the pupils and their teacher at work is worth anyone's while. The little boys and girls are very happy. So far, the pupils are attending are from Victoria and Vancouver, but it is intended, and, also very desirable, that the unfortunate little ones should be gathered from the various portions of the Province and given the benefits of this most necessary and very helpful training. Any parents or others who know of sightless children would be well advised to immediately communicate with the undersigned in order that all may be in readiness for the first of the New Year. No blind child should be denied the advantages for the sightless any more than a sighted boy or girl should be brought up without a common education—the need is even much greater, and, in providing such a school, the Government deserves very great credit.

DISAGREEMENT BY THE SECOND JURY

R. R. GOSDEN IS AGAIN FREED OF THE CHARGE OF PERJURY

It Is Thought Unlikely That A Third Trial Will Be Attempted.

For the second time R. R. Gosden, charged with perjury in connection with the Vancouver plugging episode, has been given his liberty, owing to the jury disagreeing. Crown Prosecutor Moresby is reported to have said after the conclusion of the trial:

"Without a doubt the defence in this second trial was considerably stronger than that produced at the trial last June, and I have reported that in my opinion a conviction cannot be secured, and it is no use going ahead with the case to any further extent."

The jurors deliberated only three hours and eighteen minutes, and partook of their luncheon during that time also. It was stated to the Crown Prosecutor that the first ballot showed eight to four for conviction, but the position of the ballots remained steadily unchanged until the last, which showed 10 to 2, and shortly before 5:30 the jurors decided it was useless to continue. Their foreman merely reported, "We are unable to come to an agreement, Your Lordship."

His Lordship, Mr. Justice Gregory, in summing up the evidence to the jurors explained probably just how Gosden appeared to him. He said: "The accused is a picturesque character. He has strong convictions, and he also has apparent strength and courage. These are the attributes of an honest man, but they are also the attributes of a man who might set himself against organized society. While it might be apparent that the accused had been a bad man, that is no reason why the jury should allow itself to be prejudiced against him. The jury is to bear in mind that under the laws it were better to allow a guilty man to escape than to convict an innocent one."

The Grand Trunk Pacific Telegraph Company, through Mr. G. B. Brien, City Manager, makes the following announcement, which will prove of considerable interest to relatives of soldiers serving at the front.

No charge of any description is made on the addresse for transmission or delivery of official telegrams regarding casualties, and no payment should be made to any person in connection with them.

The Grand Trunk Pacific Telegraph Company will transmit, free of charge, three messages to the record office in Ottawa, requesting information of any soldier who has been reported wounded or missing. Official notice from Ottawa must be presented at the telegraph company's office when making request for this service.

Any "next of kin" to a soldier, who finds the name of the soldier in the casualty list, and who has not been officially notified, may send a collect message to the officer in charge of records at Ottawa, requesting information.

Supreme Court Awards Fifteen Hundred To L. J. Mackay For Injuries

The Supreme Court sittings opened yesterday with Mr. Justice Morrison on the bench. Yesterday the case of Mackay vs. Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Company was disposed of. In this action the plaintiff, L. J. Mackay, sought damages for having had his leg broken at the Cold Storage through a box of fish falling against his leg. Just a little before 6 o'clock last evening the jury returned a verdict that the defendant company was responsible, and fixed the damages at $1,500.

This case was the only one in which a jury will be called. The jury consisted of Alex. Finnie (foreman), James Hunter, Walter Harper, Harry Atkins, A. Clapperton, Alfred Kyte, A. W. McLean and T. Bramley. For the plaintiff, W. E. Williams appeared, while W. Fulton represented the defendant company.

The evidence for the plaintiff showed that Mackay had been employed trucking fish boxes through the glazing room of the Cold Storage. He had on this occasion stopped while another trucker, Holton, came up behind him with a box. His evidence was that one wheel of the truck went into a depression about three-quarters of an inch deep in the floor where the top coating had worn off the cork. The box fell from the truck and broke his leg.

Dr. Kergin testified as to the character of the break. He did not expect the leg would get much better than it was at present.

Evidence for the defense was given by Gus Anderson, who knew the place and had made an impression on a tin sheet of the hole as it was a few months later.

L. L. Le Roux, the foreman of the room, testified that Mackay at the time said Holton had run into him.

D. Crist, who put the boxes of fish on the truck, testified that Holton was holding his truck very awkwardly.

John Mathieson, the General Superintendent of the Cold Storage, said the covering of the floor was watsonite. It had a little resiliency. He did not know of this particular hole. Any holes that developed were covered by metal sheets to save the cork underneath. They never had any fear as to the workmen.

In addressing the jury Mr. Fulton contended that there was really no negligence in the eyes of the law on the part of the company. Employees were obliged to provide a reasonably safe place to work. This had been done and no carelessness on the part of the company was shown.

Mr. Williams, for the plaintiff, argued that the company had a right to know of this damage. He claimed damages because the man was now lame and could not follow his old occupations of tie cutter or prospector.

Mr. Justice Morrison in addressing the jury dealt with the case as it appeared under common law, and as under the Employers Liability Act. There was a duty cast upon both the employer and the employee to exercise care. He alluded to the fact that some of the evidence put forward might be more applicable had Holton been hurt.

The jury, after being out for about half an hour, returned a verdict as given above.

GOSDEN'S ACQUITTAL.

The acquittal for a seconod time of R. R. Gosden, charged with perjury, would seem to promise that this charge will be dropped. In both instances the jury disagreed over the verdict. It may be urged that politics entered into the deliberations of the juries. That may be so, but if it is, the honors would seem to be divided between the two political parties on that score. The result of the trials has been to the disadvantage of M. A. Macdonald, however, whose word was pitted against Gosden's. If the latter stands not guilty of perjury, Mr. Macdonald must be regarded as guilty. It seems to be agreed in the south that Mr. Brewster is, in view of the situation produced, going to leave Mr. Macdonald out of his cabinet.

THE CITY MARKET.

The report presented at the last meeting of the City Council, relative to the management of the City Market should remove any suspicions that might be aroused by wild, baseless reports that are sure to become circulated. The public should remember that under the present control, established by the council, the City Hall keeps absolute check upon the market clerk's transactions. This is not done because of any suspicions. It is done as a simple matter of business. The market clerk can keep off shipments received by him and sold, only 7 1-2 per cent. commission. All the rest of the money, outside of the express or freight and the hauling of the produce to the market, goes directly to the shipper. It is difficult to conduct a market in a place situated like Prince Rupert in such a way as to give the consumer benefits in cheaper products and avoid working some injustice upon local dealers. Certainly there is no graft in connection with the market.

Production and Thrift

"CANADA from her abundance can help supply the Empire's needs, and this must be a comforting thought for those upon whom the heavy burden of directing the Empire's affairs has been laid. Gain or no gain the course before the farmers of Canada is as clear as it was last year—they must produce abundantly in order to meet the demands that may be made, and I believe this to be especially true in regard to live stock, the world's supply of which must be particularly affected in this vast struggle. Stress and strain may yet be in store for us all before this tragic conflict is over, but not one of us doubts the issue, and Canadians will do their duty in the highest sense of that great word."—HON. MARTIN BURRELL, Minister of Agriculture.

"MODERN war is made by resources, by money, by foodstuffs, as well as by men and by munitions. While war is our first business, it is the imperative duty of every man in Canada to produce all that he can, to work doubly hard while our soldiers are in the trenches, in order that the resources of the country may not only be conserved, but increased, for the great struggle that lies before us. 'Work and Save' is a good motto for War-time."—SIR THOMAS WHITE, Minister of Finance.

THE CALL OF EMPIRE COMES AGAIN IN 1916

TO CANADIAN FARMERS, DAIRYMEN, FRUIT GROWERS, GARDENERS

WHAT IS NEEDED? THESE IN PARTICULAR—

WHEAT, OATS, HAY,
BEEF, PORK, BACON,
CHEESE, EGGS, BUTTER, POULTRY,
CANNED FRUITS, FRUIT JAMS,
SUGAR, HONEY, WOOL, FLAX FIBRE,
BEANS, PEAS, DRIED VEGETABLES

We must feed ourselves, feed our soldiers, and help feed the Allies. The need is greater in 1916 than it was in 1915. The difficulties are greater, the task is heavier, the need is more urgent, the call to patriotism is louder—therefore be thrifty and produce to the limit.

"THE AGRICULTURAL WAR BOOK FOR 1916" is now in the press. To be had from The Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

PARTICULARS RECEIVED REGARDING ANYOX ACCIDENT

Seldon E. Stebbins Body Will Be Forwarded To His Old Home.

Further particulars have been received in the city regarding the untimely death of Seldon E. Stebbins at Anyox, B. C., while in the employ of the Granby Company.

It appears that Stebbins, along with J. Pottenger and three assistants, were working on the wires on the main railway line from the mines. Seldon Stebbins was at work on a trolly car. J. Pottenger was working with him on the tower of the car and the three assistants were on the ground. The trolly was on the main line. An engine, which had been at the bunkers, started down the track, going slowly.

The workmen were under the impression that the engineer saw them at work on the track, but apparently there was some misunderstanding. The engineer did not see them. The engine went right along and struck the trolly car. Pottenger jumped in time to save himself. Stebbins, who realized his danger too late, tried to get down the ladder of the tower, but before he could do so the car was struck by the engine and he was knocked off the trolly. He fell under the engine, death being almost instantaneous.

An inquest was held over the remains on Monday evening, when a verdict of accidental death was brought in.

The remains will be shipped east on Thursday's boat to Lowell, Vermont, U. S. A., where his relatives reside.

Christian Science Society services are held every Sunday at 11 a. m. Sunday School at 12 noon. Wednesday evening meeting at 8 o'clock. Hays Building, 245 Second Avenue.
