On August 12th, eight days after war had broken out between Great Britain and Germany a meeting was held in Lillooet presided over by Wm. Adams, Esq. to open a War Fund in aid of the poor people who would suffer from the effects of the war.

Lillooet citizens and people of surrounding district responded nobly and on October 5th the sum of $500 was forwarded to the Prince of Wales Fund, London, England. Again on November 6th the sum of $500 was donated to the Belgian Relief Fund, Vancouver, and now at the close of the year 1914, the fund is all but ready, to again donate $500, this time to the Canadian Patiotic Fund, the exact total of the fund on going to press is $470.83, but the committee are still hopeful of having the limit, before the New Year.

Bravo Lihooet, although you are not yet a city, you have expressed your patriotism for the Empire and your deep sympathies for its noble defenders, by your generous gifts and large heartedness, as to make you rank with the first city of this fair Dominion.

Although far from the battle's strife, with peace and plenty all around, you have the welfare of those less fortunate at heart, and though not in the fighting line, you are never-the-less able to help supply the sinews of war, to care for those left behind, and to encourage our soldier sons in their noble endeavours to uphold the honour and integrity of the "Flag that never comes down."

General News of Lillooet District

Service in the Methodist church for particulars see the church notice.

The has been considerable activity among local P.G.E. officials during the past week.

Mis McCarty is a visitor to town these days, and the guest of Mr. and Mrs. McCarty of the Lillooet nurseries.

Mr. A. P. Hughes, manager of the Union Bank, paid a flying visit to Ashcroft this week. Mr. Rose had charge of the bank during his absence.

Mrs. W. H. Lawson, wife of the telegraph operator, arrived in town from Ashcroft accompanied by their two children, to spend the New Year.

Mr. Sayers, driver of the P.G.E. special official car, returned this week from the coast cities, where he has been for the Xmas holidays. He says that he spent an exceedingly fine vacation but its a pleasure to be back in Lillooet town once again.

Oh! dear no. The Union Bank of Canada has not gone out of commission. It has only closed its local branch, owing to there not being enough business here for two banks.

GREETINGS

The "Prospector" wishes You All a Very Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Thanking you for your esteemed patronage and courtesy during the past year.

A public meeting was held in Santini Hall on Friday evening December 26, for the purpose of electing officers for the Lillooet Social Club.

The following were elected,—
W. J. Abercrombie, president
T. Sweet, vice-president
W. Dunn, sec-treasurer
Messrs Powers, Prosser, and Bridge, committeemen.

It was left to the above to arrange for a New Year's programme.

The meeting was then adjourned until Monday January 4th, at 8 p.m., when all members, intending members, and those interested are requested to attend. A special invitation has been extended to all ladies.

Canada's Rally

When the great Armada of 31 big ships, carrying 32 thousand of Canada's sons, and escorted by 19 great British battleships, weighed anchor and sailed down the St. Lawrence carrying our men to aid in fighting the Empire's battles, few people realized all it meant to Canada. It has been the talk of the whole world. Statesmen and newspapers the world over commented on it and cried "Bravo, Canada." The illustrated London News said the arrival was "an event unparalleled since William the Conqueror."

News of the departure was censored and kept so secret that few indeed saw the big ships weigh anchor on the Gaspe coast, a sight never before seen on Canadian shores. This spectacle would have been lost to the people of Canada had not the Family Herald and Star of Montreal had their photographic staff there to reproduce it. The photos of the great flotilla are the best piece of photographic work in the history of the art. They secured a panoramic view showing miles of the great troopships and battleships as they swung into line on their way to the Atlantic. In this picture The Family Herald and Star certainly possess a treasure. It will be the greatest Souvenir of the war. It is 13 1-2 inches deep by 46 inches in length. It is reserved exclusively for Family Herald and Star subscribers, and all who become subscribers for 1915. This picture will be sent free to anyone sending one dollar for a year's subscription to that great paper. The demand is already enormous, and every home in Canada will want it. It will be Canada's great memento, and years hence, when neighbors are gathered discussing the great war, this picture will point the story. It will have a priceless value. It is truly magnificent, and full of patriotic inspiration. Those desiring a copy, should order The Family Herald and Weekly Star at once.

War Gleanings

London Dec. 30—News reached Dover last night that a squadron of seven aeroplanes flew over Dunkirk, yesterday and dropped bombs. Two bombs were dropped in Furnes.

The attack on Furness was evidently an effert to wipe out the Belgian headquarters, where King Albert is at present. No damaga was done.

Dunkirk, which is on the eastern side of the English channel, almost opposite Dover, has been the target of German aviators for a long time. It is probable that the attack was made to discover English troops, on the way from England the the battlefield.

London—Dispatch from Venice reports that French submarine boat, has torpedoed the Austrian dreadnought Viribus Unites at Pola,. It is said the hull of the dreadnougt was pierced but that she succeeded in reaching here. The dreadnought is of 20,000 tons displacements, and has a complement of one thousand men. She is one of the four ships constituting the largest type in the Austrian navy.

Rome—General Konraed Von Horbvendorff, Chief of General Staff and Archduk Frederick, declared that no further operations will be taken against the Servians so as not to divert force from the north, despite the demands of the critical Austrian press for revenge.

Up to the end of November Austria - Hungary operated at first three and then eight army corps against Servia, comprising cavalry, first 150,000 men then 400,000 men. Servia has been able to muster at one time no more than 200,000 men.

About December 1st Austria Transfered five corps in aid of German - Austrian campaign in Poland and Austrian campaign in Galicia. From that time on success of Servia was constant, and overwhelming until not an Austrian remained at large in Servia, the King Peter on Dec. 16th re-entered in triumph the former capital, Belgrade, while the Austrians remained in force in Bosnia.

Russian assertions that an important victory has been won over the Austrian forces in Galicia were confirmed today in an official statement from Vienna, in which the admission is made that the Austrians were compelled to retreat along the entire eastern front. It is said the situation in Northern Poland is not affected by this reversal, although Petograd asserts the movement of the main German army has been checked, with losses described as enormocs.

Paris—A Cettinje despatch to the Havas Agecny says that the Austrians on December 28 delivered a series of energetic attacks against the Montenegrin troops in the region of Grahovo, maintaining a violent artillery fire, principally towards Klobouzi. After fierce fighting, which lasted all day, the Austrians were repulsed with heavy losses.

Mining Boom Coming

Mr. Reginald Gibbs from Vancouver Island is visiting his father and mother to spend the New Year with them. He sees great improvements in our town since his last visit some eight years ago.

From all he heard on lhe coast, he expects a big mining boom in Lillooet district.

First Social and Dance

The first entertainment and dance under the managemen of the Lillooet Social Club took place last evening in the Santini New Hall. It was a great success and all present thoroughly enjoyed themselves. A record crowd was in attendance, quite a number remained until the wee small hours and even then were loath to depart.

The music for the evening was supplied by Miss Sebring and her two Brothers, and was highly appreciated by all.

Mr. Slocum rang the old year out and the new year in at the Anglican Church.

There was a grand display of fireworks at twelve o'clock last night, we are informed that it was of the finest ever seen in Lillooet.

Begin the new year by subscribing for your local paper.

Annual Report of Lillooet Mining Division

(Report of Minister of Mines)

Eldorado Creek and Taylor Basin

Dolly. — On this claim, which is located at an elevation about 5,000 feet above sea-level, in the basin at the foot of the mountain on which the Golden King is located, I found a series of open-cuts made in gossan out-crops. The line of strike of these outcroppings is N. 35° W. and can be traced for about 1,000 feet in length, but, as no walls were exposed I could not determine the dip. Much of the surface material yielded a few fine colours to the pan. The most serious work was an open-cut that crosscut the gossan for a width of 45 ft., and averaging about 4 feet in depth and 5 feet wide. This cut was deep enough to expose the rock formation below the gossan, and into which the gossan gradually merged, showing that it had derived its origin from the oxidation of the material below. The material looks like spar, but is apparently quartzose, has a bluish tint, and carries large quantities of "white iron," but whether marcasite or arsenical pyrites was difficult to determine.

I sampled the open-cut in four sections, three taking in ten feet each, and one 5 feet, each of which assay shows: Gold, trace; silver, trace, to the ton.

Although these assays of the underlying sulphides and unoxidized material do not show appreciable values, it would appear from the panning-tests that there is a certain amount of surface enrichment covering quite an extensive area, and it would be only reasonable to suppose that the pyrites in the unaltered quartzose rock found below the gossan should carry values, although my samples would appear to contradict this supposition. Results from one set of samples should hardly be considered conclusive negative evidence, and I would recommend further systematic prospecting, These outcroppings of gossan undoubtedly derive their origin from the pyritous quartzose rock, and, when their extent is considered, it does seem as though a pay-shoot, probably of low-grade ore, occurs somewhere in the lead, and, as the work of prospecting can be carried nn at low cost, further and thorough search should be made.
