D. Fraser, once proprietor of the Excelsior Hotel, and a lucky partner in the Excelsior Claim at the time of the Golden Cache excitement, left for the Coast last week.

E. Santini is out of the hospital in Vancouver now, and will return home in a few days, his injuries having sufficiently recovered.

A. Minty is recuperating marvellously, with his dislocation — and has begun to eat quite heartily again.

A. Martley had a horse stolen last week.

The skating rink is now ready for the cold weather. Mr. McFarlane allows the waste from our admirable water system to be turned on to it, which will insure good ice all winter.

The hunting season is over, and a very successful one it has been for Lillooet, about 14 parties going out, bringing in about 30 fine specimens of mountain sheep, besides goats, caribou and bear.

Bulletin No. 17 says Lillooet is the place for Bighorn, and by the past record they are not far out.

Chas. Bowden, who has been away from Lillooet a number of years, returned from Atlin, and is now trying his luck on the "Lillooet Atlin," the mouth of Bridge River.

J. Knight, who has been working on the dredge, has gone to Toronto.

W. Haylmore is still pushing ahead with the tunnel on his lease, on Cayoosh Creek, above the Enterprise, where he has been working some months, and expects to strike a rich pay streak any day.

A big fall of snow is reported from the upper country, which will be a good thing for both miners and ranchers.

J. Marshall has been grinding a lot of wheat lately, and is producing better flour this year on account of the wheat being so good. He also gives a good yield.

The cold snap is over, —snow all gone.

All householders should attend the school meeting on 11th Jan. It will be very important and interesting.

Ven. Archdeacon Small will be here for morning and evening service next Sunday.

H. Seroy is in town, after a summer's prospecting, on McGillivray Creek and Blackwater and reports some rich strikes.

W. G. C. Manson expects to leave for Vancouver in a few days to arrange for the construction of a steamer to be put on Quesnelle Lake by some rich Americans, who intend using it for hunting and exploring the lake.

Mr. Reed expects Mrs. Reed back in a few days.

There was skating on the river the past week, and as a result of skating at night one young lady has a badly sprained ankle.

The scholars are practicing for a School Concert, for Christmas closing exercises.

MINING NOTES.

A couple of Vancouver Engineers came up the Fraser River in a canoe a couple of weeks ago in quest of gold, but returned to Lytton by stage. They intend coming up in the spring, to try Bridge River for placer. There was a report that the Fraser was to be very low this fall, and a good many people, mostly from Seattle, came up to see if they could not scoop up the gold in the bottom of the river, but the river had not quite dried up, and most of them returned home, sadly disappointed. The river has dropped quite a bit lately, and the spring may see some rich pockets struck, as that is the best time to reach them, by going out on the ice with long-handled shovels, as the Indians did a few years ago, when some of them made as high as $33 a day.

The dredge has started up and is now in excellent shape to go ahead, as thorough repairs have been made by Manager Schlecker. They have been taking out from 60 to 100 ounces of gold a week and the bar they are working on is becoming richer as they go in on it. If a Mr. Schlecker had been at the head of things from the start, dredging on the Fraser would have been a different story.

Messrs. Babb, Walker and Ferguson have everything ready for mining on a large scale next season. They made a few runs this fall and the proposition looks very promising.

Indians are beginning to bring in a little gold.

The Vancouver Enterprise is two or three men shorter this week, having reduced the working force recently. Two of the men left for Lytton on Wednesday's stage.
