sufficient to tide him over the first year is a fool. Second, that the Colonist and the Times, with their beautiful poetical illustrated articles on the Pacific Coast as the Eldorado of the home-seeker, have more misery to answer for than they wot of.

The Week has said many a time and will keep on saying it, that it is the last place for an Englishman without capital to come to, unless as in the case of the men brought out by the Salvation Army, he has an engagement contracted for in advance. Vancouver Island is not and never will be a country for the poor settler, the cost of clearing and of cultivating, to say nothing of the difficulty in marketing, are entirely beyond the compass of limited means.

All the above is a little out of my ordinary rut, but it deals with lounging under two aspects, the voluntary and the involuntary.

Quite a little excitement has been created this week by the wholesale prosecution of speeding autoists. Those who are kicking should remember that the public demanded the action and the authorities would have been delinquent if they had not responded. Automobiles are a luxury, when they are as cheap in Victoria as in London, they will become almost a necessity, and by that time they will be under complete control. Meanwhile the few who are lucky enough to possess one should understand that the possession does not carry with it any title to disregard the public convenience. A chauffeur should be just as amenable to the City By-laws as the driver of a carriage or delivery wagon. Hitherto this has not been the case, and neither the private owner nor the garage keeper have been willing to acquiesce voluntarily on such restrictions as have been imposed for the public service. The problem has been solved, as all problems are solved, in England, by an absolutely strict and impartial enforcement of the law. This has driven the cult to establish private grounds where racing and speeding can be indulged in without let or hindrance. There is no other way out of the difficulty, and if the votaries of an expensive hobby wish to indulge their pastime in their own way it is a very easy matter for them to acquire grounds for the purpose, but the time has gone by even in Victoria when they will be allowed to inconvenience the general public, to say nothing of risking life and limb, for the mere purpose of gratifying a propensity which apparently is only too apt to run to extremes.

In spite of numerous duties of a more serious character I have done a little lounging on my own account this week in the Gorge Park. A month or so ago I paid a flying trip and afterwards dilated on the attractions of the Japanese Tea Gardens, but they then lacked the finishing touches which have since been supplied, and now under the glimmer of the electric light they furnish as pretty an Oriental picture as can be found—outside Japan.

Clifford Denham is also busy with his splendid Bioscope pictures. These are much better than last season and are attracting large crowds already. The orchestra has been strengthened and affords delight to the crowds who find the Gorge Park just an ideal spot to spend an evening. A little later the bathing will come, and before we know it we shall be literally in the swim.

Lounger.

On Tuesday the Driving Park will be the scene of the first day's horse racing this year. Arrangements have been made by the Victoria Racing Association, a newly formed organization, of which Hon. Richard McBride is Honorary President, to give a five days' meet, and judging from the outlook it will prove a grand success. There are at present sufficient horses at the track to fill races for a month's racing, but the local club will be satisfied with five days. Now that the arrangements are completed it is up to the local lovers of the horse to show their appreciation by attending in good numbers. Purses to the value of $5,000 are being given and to secure this it is necessary that every day should see a large attendance. Among the horses at the track are some of the best on the Pacific Coast and four which will start in the Seattle Derby. In obtaining this class of horses the management has eclipsed all previous records and some excellent races should result. It is not only the number of horses that are coming but the directors of the King County Fair Association of Seattle have announced their intention of spending at least a few days here. This should give Victoria a lot of good advertising as the results of the racing will be published in every racing journal in the United States which should reach thousands of people. The races start at 2 o'clock each day and the City Band has been engaged to furnish music. With good weather there should be a large attendance.

Jeyes—Did you have a good day's sport?

Brann—Splendid.

Jeyes—How did my dog work for you?

Brann—Wonderfully. He led me directly to the poultry store.

Let It Be Soon.

When will the people get a show,
Let it be soon, let it be soon,
To know those things they ought to know,
Let it be soon, let it be soon;
When will they see how tight the knot
The corporations big have got
Upon the string that ties the lot,
Oh, let it be soon.

When will a plentiful supply,
Let it be soon, let it be soon,
Of water pure and clear be nigh,
Let it be soon, let it be soon.
When garden hose can ever play
(Not merely minutes every day)
And low the rates we'll have to pay,
Oh, let it be soon.

When will electric meters tire,
Let it be soon, let it be soon,
From climbing higher, higher,
Let it be soon, let it be soon;
When will poor people needing light
Not find it so high—out of sight—
Not unattainable—not quite,
Oh, let it be soon.

When will our public streets be freed,
Let it be soon, let it be soon;
From dirt and dust and grass and weed,
Let it be soon, let it be soon;
When will those hills and hollows be
Levelled up and down a wee,
Conditioned so that all may see,
Oh, let it be soon.

When will our rentals take a drop,
Let it be soon, let it be soon,
A sharp, decisive, sudden flop,
Let it be soon, let it be soon;
Or if the landlords rents will rise
Assessors wide should ope their eyes
Nor valuations minimise,
Oh, let it be soon.

When will that sign, "For Sale, For Sale."
Let it be soon. let it be soon.
Seen everywhere except on jail,
Let it be soon, let it be soon,
Come down, and in its wretched stead
Be something more to cheer be read,
Some trace of life,—not all as dead,
Oh, let it be soon.

When will our boosters cease to boost,
Let it be soon, let it be soon,
For chickens oft come home to roost,
Oft too soon, oft too soon,
When will they try some truth to tell
In boosting what they've got to sell,
Prevaricators go to—well
Oh, let it be soon.

When will our suffragettes gain,
Let it be soon, let it be soon,
For man is only vain—just vain,
Let it be soon, let it be soon,
When woman wears those things—those what?
That specialise the sterner lot,
It may be well—it may be not,
But let it be soon.

When will this doggerel but end,
Let it be soon, let it be soon;
I scarcely thought so much I'd penned,
Let it be soon, let it be soon;
But when stray thoughts assail the brain
Remove the load—relieve the strain—
Repeat, then cease, the old refrain,
"Oh, let it be soon."

Sporting Comment.

The victory of the Victoria baseball team over the Knights of Columbus of Seattle will go down in the annals of baseball as one of the most marvelous victories that has ever fallen to the credit of any team. I am bound to confess that at the end of the eighth innings I had conceded a victory to the visitors and that such was not the case is only due to the determination of every player on the home team. It was a grand game and the locals deserve great credit for winning out. I am very sorry to learn, however, that the local team is at present in a very serious position and it would not be surprising if the club decided to disband. This is entirely due to the small number of spectators who attend the games. Unless there is a decided improvement in this line for the next few games there will be no more baseball for Victoria this season. As I have already pointed out the club has gone to considerable expense in getting things into shape and today the game stands the management several hundred dollars, and judging from the past attendance there is very little prospect of breaking even. As constituted until last week the team was strong but owing to the financial crisis it has been found necessary to release Lang, at third base. Under the arrangements on which he was brought to Victoria the club was to secure a position for him or guarantee him a salary. Despite the efforts of the management no opening was found and it was necessary for the club to make good his salary. Owing to the small gates this has now become impossible and he has been released. He is a good player and strengthens the team considerably, but the finances of the club would not allow of it and he had to be dropped. There are one or two reasons to which this can be attributed. The first is that Victorians do not desire ball. The second is the poor car service. I can hardly believe the first and the second should be improved. If I am correctly informed it is the intention of the club to play another game and if there is no improvement in the attendance a disbandment will take place. I sincerely hope not and it is up to the citizens of this city to patronize the boys. They are playing good ball and are entitled to the support of every lover of good, clean sport in this city, so it is up to the fans to get busy.

This will be the third time I have taken occasion to refer to the absence of the Northwestern baseball scores in the daily press. To many this is a very small item but to the followers of the American game it is considerable. I have been informed that it is impossible to secure this news, but I can hardly understand this. I know for a fact that the scores appear every day in the News-Advertiser of Vancouver and as yet I have not heard of any breakage in either the telephone or telegraph wires between Vancouver and this city, so I can not realize how it is impossible to secure the scores. The scores from all the Eastern leagues are published but not the Northwestern, and I hope that it will not be long until these are also contained in the daily sporting news.

The Victoria Lacrosse team met defeat at the hands of the Maple Leafs of Vancouver in the Terminal City last Saturday, but it was a defeat of which no team should be ashamed. As I have been given to understand the locals played the Vancouver players to a stand still until the last twenty minutes and then, to use a street phrase, they went "up in the air." This should not discourage the team and I expect this afternoon to see the boys in blue and white make a good showing against the Red Shirts of New Westminster. The game will be played on the new grounds at the corner of Pembroke and Cook streets, and I hope there will be a good attendance.

I am very sorry to learn that Fred White had the misfortune to break a bone in his ankle while practicing lacrosse last Monday evening. This is very unfortunate. Fred. was very anxious to give Victoria a winning team and in his endeavours he turned out with the boys on Victoria Day and got severely roasted for his pains. It was a low piece of business handing him a roasting after being coaxed out by the management when it was known that he was not in the best of condition, and it is to his credit that he responded to the call when asked to defend the Victoria colours. I hope his injuries will not keep him laid up for any length of time, but we can hardly hope to see him in uniform again this season.

The Victoria Cricket team celebrated a second victory on Saturday last when the Seattle club met defeat at the hands of the locals. As I have already stated the locals are exceptionally strong and if my prediction does not go wrong they will go through the season without a defeat. The Albions turned the tables on the Garrison on Saturday winning a well played match. With both local teams playing good cricket the lovers of the grand old game can depend on seeing some fine cricket this season.

I have to extend my hearty congratulations to "Bob" Peden, the popular southpaw of the local baseball team, and hope that Mr. and Mrs. Bob may long be spared to enjoy the good things of this life.
