Young Lady Drowned In The Tl-El River

While bathing in the Te-el River a few days ago, Miss Rose Hollingsworth, a sister of Mrs. F. D. Rice, lost her life. The young lady it seems, got into difficulties in a deep hole in the river, and although a gallant attempt at rescue was made by a young man named Hillier (a brother of the wireless operator at Dead Tree Point), she disappeared for the third time before he could reach her. Another man named Ruff was successful in finding the body, which he brought ashore, and worked on it for four hours, but without success. The deceased young lady was about 24 years of age and was a native of Ontario, where her parents reside. Along with her sister, Mrs. Rice, they were camping for the summer months at the Te-el river, near Mr. Rice's survey camp. The accident is most regrettable and the deepest sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Rice in their sad bereavement. The funeral took place at Queen Charlotte City.

Minister of Marine Visited Naden Harbor and Langara Island.

Hon. J. D. Hazen, Minister of Marine, H. S. Clements, M. P., and party, visited the whaling station and cannery at Naden Harbor last Thursday week, coming over in the Estevan from Prince Rupert. They also visited the new first order lighthouse on Langara island.

Good Progress on Road Work.

E. M. Sandilands, government agent and road superintendent, paid a visit of inspection to the various road camps at this end of the island recently. Mr. Sandilands was well pleased with the progress and substantial work now being done on the roads and trails. Mr. Chas. Spence accompanied Mr. Sandilands throughout the trip of inspection.

The Wallace Fisheries gasoline boat Finn was here in search of salmon during the week.

Mrs. Rudd and daughters, the Misses Hilda and Mary Alice, were visiting in Massett during the week.

H. S. Clements, M.P., for Comox-Atlin has declared that he believes the government should stop issuing further licenses to Asiatics for fishing in the province. He also thinks the department should investigate the conditions under which the present licenses are held. The exploitation of the fishing industry ought to be curtailed, he says, as far as possible in respect to international rights.

Tennis Tournament On Saturday First

On Saturday next Queenstown will be en fete, the occasion being a grand tennis tournament between the Massett and local clubs. Play will commence at 1.30 p.m. There will be ladies' doubles, ladies' singles, mixed doubles, men's doubles, men's singles, and one set doubles for 1913 players.

Arrangements were completed last week by the local executive and the visiting team will be entertained at the expense of the Queenstown Club. In the evening there will be a dance in the Yakoun Hotel, with good music and refreshments. A general invitation is extended to all, so come and have a good time.

Skidegate Man Was Found Drowned

Robert Green, formerly a rancher at Lawn Hill, and who had acreage near Queen Charlotte City, committed suicide at Refuge Bay last week. It is stated that the man was deranged, and had been acting in a peculiar manner for some time past. He was on his way to Prince Rupert on the Prince Albert and his actions on board the steamer were such that the captain had him watched all night. He, however, landed at Refuge Bay while the steamer was in port and did not show up when the time came to sail. Green's body was found afterwards on the beach. Deceased was about 32 years of age and was well known at the southern end of the island.

Humphbacks Are Scarce.

The run of Humphback salmon has been very poor so far this season. To date only 98 cases have been put up by the Wallace Fisheries at their cannery at Naden Harbor. It is to be hoped that the fish will run some this week, or else the cannery may close down.

School Trustees Elected.

A meeting of residents took place recently for the purpose of electing school trustees to serve during the next three years. Mr. A. R. Mallory was appointed chairman of the meeting. It was agreed to raise $180 to supplement the teacher's salary for the coming year. The trustees appointed were Messrs. B. L. Tingley (3 years), W. Cross (2 years), and W. Singer (1 year.) A. R. Mallory was appointed auditor.

Although, as yet, Queenstown comes under the category of an assisted school, but with the increasing settlement in this neighhorhood it won't be long before a properly organized school district is formed.

Telegraph Line Will Be Great Benefit

The construction of the telegraph line between Queen Charlotte City and Massett, which will link the north end up with the wireless station at Dead Tree Point, marks another step in the onward march of civilization on Graham island. A few weeks ago a crew of men arrived at Skidegate for the purpose of erecting this line, which, when completed, can be used either for telephone or telegraph messages. It will supply a long felt want to business men and residents at this end of the island, as the only means of communication with the outside in the past was by mail, once a week in summer and every fortnight in winter, The line from the wireless station will follow the coast to Te-el, thence overland to Queenstown, thence along the shore of the inlet to Massett, and thence by wagon road to Tow Hill. Two operators have been appointed one at Massett and the other at Queen Charlotte. There will be call offices at Queenstown, Nadu and Woden, thus linking up all the settlements on the east side of Massett Inlet. It is expected that the line will be in operation by the end of September.

Is Now A Benedict.

Although his friends were unaware of the nature of his visit to Victoria, Mr. E. J. Tingley, a very popular young man of Queenstown and well known all over Graham Island, owing to his long residence here, went away very quietly a few weeks ago and done a very good stroke of business as well as a wise thing —by getting married. His bride is Miss Ruth Hilda Woods of Victoria. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. Stevenson of the Emanual Baptist Church. The bride was given away by her father and her sister. Miss May Woods was bridesmaid and Mr. J. S. Patch acted as groomsman. The honeymoon was spent in a tour of coast cities. Mr. and Mrs. Tingley will arrive home to-morrow when they will be warmly greeted by their friends on Massett Inlet.

Church Services every Sunday as follows:—Queenstown, 3 p.m.; Sunday school, 2.30 p. m.; Choir practice every Friday evening at 8. Graham Centre, 7 p. m.

Hay-making has been in full swing during the past week along the banks of the Yakoun river, and energetic men like Bert Tingley and Walter Cross were at it late and early. Although they sowed not they reaped a fair harvest for the few days spent with the scythe, and both have now a few tons safely on the stack in their barn yards.

With this issue, The Islander makes its first publication at Queenstown, Massett Inlet. Owing to delay in getting the plant shipped from Queen Charlotte, The Islander is a fortnight late in making its appearance here. The Publisher, however, is satisfied that the moving of the paper to Queenstown is for the better. Development is proceeding much faster at this end of Graham Island, consequently the population is increasing more rapidly than at any other point. The prospects are of the brightest, and with the great probability of the coal measures proving of commercial importance, Queenstown and district will reap much benefit therefrom. As in the past, our aim and policy shall be to boost, in a legitimate manner, the potentialities of the Queen Charlotte Islands. Your co-operation is needed by subscribing for The Islander.

Massett Inlet.

Massett Inlet provides two tides daily on which small craft travels at the rate of six miles an hour, without propulsion of any kind, affording the settlers an outlet that is rarely found in any other place. Along the shores of the inlet several ambitious towns are springing up, with good residences and a few business houses. At the entrance is located the Indian Reserve, with 350 inhabitants, who are considered progressive and far above the average natives. Three miles from the entrance is the town of Massett, with stores, hotels, church, school, residences and sawmill. There are several good streets and a substantial wharf was built recently by the Dominion Government. A short distance further is another townsite, what is known as Delkatla which is beautifully situated on the shores of a bay of the same name. Lots are selling at fair prices and there are many fine residences. A few miles further up the inlet is the Woden river, where a large number of settlers have located. The land in this vicinity is excellent, but a large portion is tied up with coal licenses. A general store, boat-building yard, school and two churches have been built, and there are other indications of progress and prosperity at the "Holy City." The Nadu is also the home of a large number of settlers, who are all busily engaged clearing and cultivating. On the other side of the inlet, near Ship island, is Sewall City, a pretentious townsite, on which there is a sawmilll, hotel, general store and several dwellings. During the past few months Sewall City has grown rapidly, mainly through the energetic work of Mr. S. D. Sewall. A large number of recent arrivals have purchased acreage and are busy clearing and erecting homes. Kumdis island is one of the best farming propositions on the inlet, and is taken up by farmers, timber and coal operators. Situated on the east shore of the large salt water lake at the head of the inlet, is Graham Centre, another townsite, on which a large number of lots and two acre blocks have already been sold. There is a post office, general store, hotel and several residences along the waterfront, and there is no reason why Graham Centre should not grow. Queenstown is situated at the extreme head of the inlet, near the entrance to the Yakoun river. The townsite is well laid out and commands a splendid view of the whole lake. There are stores and a first-class hotel doing business; there is a school, and a church and several residences. A large number of property-holders intend building as soon as the lumber is on hand. Streets are being cleared, also the site for a sawmill and machine repair shop. The construction of the Government wharf will be proceeded with shortly and when completed the progress of the town will become more rapid. The possibilities of Queens- are great, being central to a vast farming district as well as to the timber and coal-fields.

Miss L. Tingley and Miss F. Woods, representing the Queenstown Tennis Club, were in Massett last Thursday making arrangements with the Massett Club for the tournament on Saturday first.

GRAHAM CENTRE

Divine service was held at Graham Centre last Sunday by Rev. H. H. Greene, who expressed himself pleased with the large and responsive congregation. The collection taken at the service is to be devoted to the building of a church, the site for which has been donated by Mr. Chas. M. Adam, owner of Graham Centre.

Captain S. Ferguson was recently engaged renovating Fred. Nash's palatial cruiser "Polaris," which was anchored alongside his homesite, Graham Centre. The Captain states that the anchorage there is the best he knows of around the island for a mosquito fleet.

Some of the residents here are daily enjoying plentiful dishes of luscious strawberries grown in their own gardens. New potatoes have already been dug and give promise of a bountiful crop.

Mr. C. de B. Green was a recent visitor here and expressed surprise at the splendid growth and display of Miss Adam's flower garden. There he found minionette, poppies, sweet peas, Japanese hops and other flowers in great profusion.

Mr. T. L. William is contemplating the extension of his chicken ranch. He is of the opinion that the island has great possibilities for chicken farmers on a large scale.

Recent visitors at Graham Centre were Mrs. T. Graham, Miss Martin, Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Millard, Messrs. F. C. Wright, Fred. Nash, H. Scott, W. Singer and Jas. McClay.

Mr. W. R. Tunnah visited Graham Centre Monday, coming down from his ranch after spending several months actively engaged in development work. He states that he is of the opinion that Graham Island has a great future before it as a sheep raising country. Mr. Tunnah has had many years' experience in sheep-farming in Eastern and Southern Australia as well as in the United States, and is fully qualified to judge the possibilities here.

WODEN

Elder Watson, of Woden, is contemplating making a trip to Queenstown shortly. Elder, we shall all be pleased to see you.

F. L. Portmore did not strike water with the willow, but he did strike a good place for a pre-emption, from the appearance of his garden.

Wm. Hudson is working night and day burning stumps and otherwise making part of his pre-emption look like a lawn tennis court.

Fritz Rampmaer, owner of the townsite at Woden, intends making a visit to outside points in the near future. Report says that Fritz will not return alone.

The road work at Woden was completed for the season on July 29. Geo. Vaughn, the foreman, and his crew deserve great credit for the splendid work accomplished. The road is in as far as J. L. Wren's pre-emption.

Campbell & Hazelton have started a boat-building establishment at Woden. They are competent tradesmen and should meet with success. Several orders have been booked by the firm.

Work was recently started on a 14 x 20 schoolhouse, which is being built of yellow cedar logs. Twenty-nine good men and true have volunteered to put up the building. That's the spirit, boys.

Ed. Moe has started a shoemaking and repair shop.

The Farmers' Institute held a meeting at Woden last Friday night when some important business was transacted.

C. C. Grange, proprietor of the local general store, carries a large stock of drygood, provisions and hardware. Mr. Grange is a thorough business man and is very popular in this neighborhood.

Twenty-three affidavits were sent in to the Government office, Prince Rupert, stating that the Coal Co., who control a large tract of land in the vicinity, had not done any assessment work at all.

The Hazelton Bros. tent was burned Monday night at the Woden. They had a narrow escape of loosing everything.

The school-house has been completed at Woden and the building is a credit to the men who constructed it.

NADU

J. Moena, of Bellihgham Wash., is visiting his sister, Mrs' Brickbealer of Nadu.

Mr. Howe is starting a general store and will carry a good line of groceries, dry-goods and hardware. The Islander wishes him every snccess.

Daniel Seivert is the proud father of a bouncing baby girl. Keep the good work up Daniel.

Mrs. O. C. Grant will shortly give a dance at her commodious residence and all the settlers in the neighborhood expect to get an invitation.

F. C. Tingley of the Pioneer Ranch, is one of the most progressive farmers in the district. He has about 14 acres under cultivation and 30 head of cattle including 8 milk cows, Holstiens and Jerseys, to say nothing about a dog which can do almost anything but talk. Mr. Tingley is putting up a concrete silo mill. More power to you old man.

Enoch Rice is busy digging a well and is down thirty feet. He expects to strike "Adam's wine" in another few feet. We will have a drink with you Enoch, the next time we call.

Ole Anderson, has done a lot of hard work and improvements on his pre-emption. Keep it up Ole, that is the only way to be successful.

Alex Johnson is the wharfinger and general freight agent at Nadu.

J. Langier has 3 acres under cultivation this season, and his crop of spuds are the envy of all his neighbors.

Mrs. Armstrong is feeling quite blue, so our reporter says. Cheer up mother, we'll have automobiles by and by.

The Lilley of the Queen Charlotte Isles.

She lived beside the Yagoun—
Where the natives loved to stroll—
A pretty Indian maiden
With mild eyes—dark as coal.
Her lips were dewy rose-buds;
Her teeth of pearls rare;
And a snow drift, 'neath a shining brow—
Her neck and jet black hair.

How pleasant was her greeting,
When aurora's sparkling gleam
Was filling with its silvery rays
That village by the stream.
And at evening when those maidens
Strayed the river banks along,
The widow's mild eyed daughter
Was the loveliest of the throng.

O brave, brave, native maidens—
We well may call you brave—
It seems the least of all your troubles
Is the stormy ocean wave.
When you leave your quiet valleys
And cross the Queen Charlotte foam
To hoard your hard won earnings
In those canneries far from home.

Take this to my dear mother,
Say we will meet with God above,
And tell my little brothers
That I send them all my love.
May the angels ever guard them
Is their dying sister's prayer,
And folded in the hand woven mat
Was a wreath of jet black hair.

Now cold and well nigh calloused,
This weary heart has grown,
For thy unlucky fate poor natives
And for sorrows of my own.
And a tear my eye will moisten,
When by the Yagoun side I stray,
For the lilly of the Queen Charlotte isles
That withered far away.

Fishing Boat Lost On West Coast.

The gasoline fishing boat Weiding Brothers, belonging to the Independent Fish Co., of Seattle, was wrecked reently near Frederick Sound, on the West coast, and is a total loss. All the crew were saved, although it was reported that they were lost. They rowed 55 miles to Naden Harbor, where Mr. Gilmour, manager of the cannery, treated the wrecked fishermen very kindly and made them as comfortable as possible after their trying experience. The Weiding Brothers had 95,000 pounds of halibut on board. The boat was valued at $25,000.

Queenstown Has Splendid Tennis Court

Club Organized and Officers Elected.

The residents of Queenstown and district are in the happy position of having the finest tennis court in Northern British Columbia, which for the past few months has been largely taken advantage of by a number of enthusiastic players.

At a meeting held recently in the parlors of the Yakoun hotel it was decided to organize a club, which will be known as the Queenstown Tennis Club. The following officers were elected: President, W. Singer; secretary-treas., Miss Laura Tingley; executive committee, Miss F. Woods, Mrs. Greene, Messrs. Mallory, Mayer and Patridge. The membership fee is $5 per annum. To meet special expenses incurred the gentlemen members will be assessed a sum not to exceed $5. The executive committee were authorised to prepare a constitution which will be submitted at a special meeting of the club.

The special meeting was held last week when the executive committee presented the following resolutions:
