VOLUME TWO. SILVERTON, BRITISH COLUMBIA, SATURDAY OCTOBER 22, 1898. NUMBER 17

BACK FROM THE LARDEAU.

The Lade Brothers, Vincent and Jim, returned on Tuesday from the Lardeau, where they had been working this summer in developing their big gold-telluride property, the Lade group. The main work done on this property this season consisted of a cross-cut tunnel, which will on completion cut the lead at a good depth, now in 72 feet. A specimen from this group, showing free gold in plenty, was forwarded to the Spokane Fruit Fair and attracted much attention in the mineral exhibit. At the close of the Fair the specimen was taken to the Spokane Chamber of Commerce, where it is now on exhibition.

This season has seen big improvements made in the prospects in the Lardeau country. More assessment work has been done and the country opened up more during the last year than in all other years combined and less relocating has consequently been done. The system of relocating claims is felt as a drawback to the Lardeau, as it is in the Slocan or any other section. Mr. Lade tells, for example, of one staker who holds claims and interests amounting to the grand total of 75. How an ordinary prospector as this man is stated to be, can hope to perform his annual assessments is a puzzle—if he intended to. Unfortunately the Lardeau has no corner on this class of people.

THE HALL MINES.

J. D, O'Farrell, writing to the Toronto Globe, touches the quick in the following references to the management of the Hall Mines and their smelter. Mr. O'Farrell is evidently an old timer in and around mining camps and knows whereof he writes. He says:-The Hall mines gave to Nelson its first boom. The chief of these is the Silver King. The Silver King ledge contains ore enough to run a large smelter for a hundred years and about 200 men are employed by the mines and smelter company. The ore is low-grade about 16 ounces of silver, 2 or 3 per cent copper and a dollar or two in gold. That is about $11 or $12 ore. In the mining, smelting and dressing of this class of ore there is a fair margin of profit, provided there is economical mining and capable smelter management. The Anaconda company makes over $5,000,000 a year profit on ore of similar value, but then the Anaconda Company is managed by Marcus Daly, and the Hall Mines Company is managed by a London board. Therefore the Hall Mines Company has only paid one dividend.

To-day I was admiring the talent of a mine manager who built a mill for treating free-milling ore on the crest of a mountain close to Nelson. He spent $15,000 building a mill before he had spent $500 opening up the vein to find whether he had ore to treat or not. Had he found the ore in the vein he would have had to construct an elevator to raise the ore to the mill. He was doing business on the same lines as the crank who spent a fortune in devising means to raise the waters of the Avon to the top of an overhanging mountain in order to create water-power.

COMING HOME.

All the old timers, who during the sunny months have wandered far away, are returning to Silverton at the first appreach of winter. Those who have arrived during the last week hail from all parts of the country. John Popham comes among us again, from the Colville Reservation, on the southern half of which he has been busy driving stakes during the summer. John says he has secured some good prospects.

W. H. Robinson, better known as "Dad Robinson" arrived on Thursday, hale and hearty and glad to shake hands with all the boys. Dad hails from the Pacific coast, where it is said he has bought a ranch and turned farmer, Dad will, of course, put in the winter among us. The Lade boys are back from the Lardeau and many more familiar faces are seen on the streets. A few are yet in the hills and in distant towns but before snow flies we hope to see all gathered in our camp.

A BIG OFFER.

Indisputably the best mining journal published in British Columbia to-day is the Mining Record published at Victoria, B. C. This is a journal that should be read by every miner and prospector in the country and with this object in view we make the following offer. To every new subscriber to the SILVERTONIAN we will on the payment of FIFTY CENTS over our regular subscription price of two dollars, present a years subscription to The Mining Record.

MINING LOCALS.

Stoping has been commenced at the Wakefield mine and the force will be largely increased.

On Sunday last the Ruth mine people knocked down $10,000 worth of ore with one blast. This is the biggest business in that way we ever heard of.—Review.

New bunk houses and offices have just been built at the Queen Bess mine. The buildings are painted and arranged in the latest manner and are made comfortable and attractive for the men.

A new trail to the Essex group is being surveyed and is to be built at once. Work has been started in a new place on the vein, still further down the mountain and indications are that ore will be struck in a very few feet.

Gus. Kruger has taken a contract to sink a thirty foot shaft on the Pembroke claim, which is situated between the Galena Mines and Laura Doone. The work will be rushed as the owners wish to Crown Grant the property this fall.

Cabins and cook-house have been built on the Marion claim and the property is to be worked in earnest this winter. Although only four men are at present at the claim the force is to be largely increased at once. A cook goes to the mine on Monday to look after the inner man of the miners.

A foot of snow has fallen at the Comstock mines and raw-hiding to the wagon road of ore for re-shipment has commenced. Several carloads of clean ore will be shipped at once and 500 tons of concentrating ore is to be delivered at the concentrator, to be used in a test run. The contract for the concentrator calls for it to be completed and running by the 15th. of January next.

Ike Thompson and Jack Smith, who have been running a cross-cut tunnel to tap the Mollie Gibson vein on Ten Mile, which is now in 66 feet, have suspended work for the time being. The property comprises two claims known as the Mollie Gibson and Virginus and they have a fine surface showing the ledge averaging four feet in width. The ore, a galena, running from 60 ounces up in silver per ton. Enough surface work has been done showing the ledge to be a fissure and the cross-cut tunnel when completed will tap it deep enough to prove its true value.

W Kirkwood is back from the Peace River country and intends to remain in the Slocan for the winter, but may return to the north in the spring and resume his prospecting trip at the point where he and his partners left off. He reports more or less gold in that country but no diggings of any great value have as yet been discovered, His party traveled by water using Peteboro canoes and penetrating hundreds of miles into an almost unexplored country. He believes that eventually gulch gold will be discovered on the head waters of some of these streams.

BORN TOO LATE.

The originator of the following gentle method of punishment would have made a grand success as master of ceremonies in the Spanish Inquisition. His way of treating the members of the court of cassation would be "after having been duly drawn up in single file, an executioner duly trained to the work, should cut off their eyelids, so as to leave the eyeball denuded, and then spiders of the most venemous kind should be inclosed in nutshells and applied to the eyeballs, properly fastened behind the culprit' heads. The spiders in a famished condition would slowly and gradually feed on the culprits' eyeballs until nothing but ghastly cavities remained. This done, these hideous blind men should be chained to a pillar erected before the Palace of Justice and on their chests a placard affixed bearing the words "thus does France punish traitors who attempt to sell her to the enemy."

A SAD BEREVEMENT.

An honest countryman, anxious to explore the wonders of the British Museem, obtained a special holiday a short time since. Accordingly, taking with him a couple of friends, he presented himself at the door for admitance.

"No admission to-day, sir," said the keeper.

"But I must come in. I've a holiday on purpose."

"No matter. This is a day, that the museum is shut."

"What!" said John. "Ain't this public property?

"Yes; but one of the mummies died a few days ago, and we are going to bury him."

"Oh in that case we won't intrude," said John, in a hushed voice. So he retired.—Tit-Bits.

THE LAND OF PRETTY SOON.

I know a land where the streets are paved
With the things we mean to achieve,
It is walled with the money we meant to have saved,
And the pleasures for which we grieve,
The kind words unspoken, the promises broken,
And many a converted boon,
Are stored away in that land somewhere-
The land of "pretty soon"

There are uncut jewels of possible fame
Lying about in the dust,
And many a noble and lofty aim
Covered with mold and rust;
And O, this place, while it seems so near,
Is farther away than the moon,
Though our purpose is fair, yet we never get there-
To the land of "pretty soon."

The road that leads to that myst'c land
Is strewn with pitiful wrecks,
And the ships that have sailed for this shining strand
Bear skeletons on their decks.
It is further away at noon than it was at dawn,
And further at night than at noon;
O! let us beware of that land down there-
The land of "pretty soon."

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

THE LOCAL LAYOUT.

Private, bath rooms, at Tom Mulveys.

S. T. Walker of New Denver visited our city last Thursday.

An enjoyable whist party was given by Mrs Barclay to her friends on Thursday evening last.

All Silvertonians are back from the Fruit Fair and tales of city experiences are rife,

Thomas Ardell, who has been spending the summer in Brooklyn, returned to Silverton on Friday.

The first railroad locomotive to blow its whistle in Silverton was one taken through on the barge on Wednesday.

The condition of John L. Retallack, who is down with typhoid fever in Spokane, is reported as serious.

Purser McDonald will be transferred from his present route on the ss. Slocan to the Okanogan Lake service.

T. Struthers, who has been in business, for over a year in Rosebery, is giving up his business there and intends to locate in Greenwood.

The Thistle Hotel is to soon re-open under the charge of Martin Clair. We wish the Thistle management the biggest kind of success.

The condition of the famed New Denver-Three Forks wagon road is reported as once again being in an impassible condition for wagons.

Our readers will be glad to hear of the success of our old townsman W. W. Bouch, who is now in charge of Mrs. Hathaway's Barber Shop in Nanaimo.

Harry Wilson, who has been looking after the interests of W, Hunter & Co. in Brooklyn lately, has returned and is now on duty at the Silverton store of that firm, Laundry, neatly and quickly done at Mulvey's Laundry.

A. Roberts left Tuesday for a two weeks visit to Grand Forks and the Boundary Country. He goes to look the country over and attend to some mining business.

J. M. Barry has bought out the interest of his partner Mr. McKaig in Barry & McKaigs restaurant in Brooklyn and has reopened that establishment, says the Brooklyn News.

Hill Bros delivered 35,000 feet of lumber and 7000 shingles at the dock on Thursday. The lumber is divided between the Comstock and Emily Edith mines and Wm. Hunter, Brandon & Barrett and Brady & Anderson.

Since the close of the swimming season, some of Silverton's young ladies have taken to rifle practise as a pastime. According to the scores made last Sun day with constant practise, in a few hundred years they will be able to hit a bullseye—we think nit.

W S Clark has some splendid photographic views of the Silverton display at the Fruit Fair. In fact, when Billy was not busy dilating on the greatness of Silverton, he was busy taking snapshots, time exposures and flashlight pictures of the cabinet.

Invitations have been issued for the Second Annual Ball of the Slocan Lodge No. 40, I O O F, which is to take place in Slocan City next Friday evening. The Patronesses are Mesdames Linton, Carlyle, Rackliff, Teeter, Andrews and Henderson. The Committee having in charge all arrangements for the Ball, are Messrs. A E Teeter, W Clough, W E Worden, T B Linton, V C Rackliff and T Henderson, Secretary.

An excitfng runnaway, while it lasted, occured on Lake Ave. Wednesday afternoon. A. P McDonald's team while standing at the wharf, took fright and started up Lake Ave. full tilt, with half the town after them. The runnaways turned at the Bremner block, and after dodging across a few vacant lots, were brought to a stand behind that building, being fairly run down by Larry Knowles, the genial proprietor of the Lake View Hotel.

The interest in the St. Leon Hot Spring held by M. Grady of Silverton has been purchased by his partner W. M. Brown. In speaking of this sale the Revelstoke Herald says:-"At the instance of Geo. S. McCarter, the two parties, Messrs. W. M. Brown and M Grady were brought together and an arrangement was arrived at last Thursday, by which on terms satisfactory to both, Mr. Brown is now sole owner of all the land and water rights in dispute."

J. C. Harris has assumed charge of the scavenger work for both Silverton and New Denver. He will supervise and see that the work is promptly and properly performed. We are glad that at last this work has fallen into responsible hands. As it was, if the people of Silverton had obeyed the orders issued by the officials some two months ago, the town would by this time be having as fine an epidemic of fevers as any in the land, as it is there is not a case of sickness in the town. It is a matter of congratulation to both towns that at last a responsible person has been found to assume charge of this work so important to the health of the community.

We have been requested, says the Free Lance editor, to publish a few cooking receipts. We take pleasure in making public the only ones we know:

Bombay Pudding: Take a good fresh egg, beat it up well, add to it a little sugar, a stiff glass of whisky and a cup of milk. Shake well. Add a little nutmeg, Open your mouth and pour the mixture into it. Allow it to settle before taking another.

Gin Croquette: Pare one large lemon, take out the pips and squeeze into a tall vessel. Add two teaspoonfuls of sugar and one glass of Tom Gin. Allow it to cook over a lump of ice for half a minute, add one bottle of soda and one spoon. Serve cold.

The hop given by the Quadrille Club last Tuesday evening in McKinnon's Hall, was pronounced by those attending as the best of the series. Although the attendance was not large, those who were present thoroughly enjoyed themselves and dancing was kept up until the midnight hour had tolled. Music was furnished, satisfactory to all the devotees of the terpsichorean art, by Messrs. J. McMillan and Geo. Davis, Dan Brandon made an excellent floor manager and to his efforts are due much of the success of the occasion. Another of regular hops is announced for next Tuesday evening.

NEWS OF THE MINING CAMPS

ITEMS FROM THREE STATES.

Another Great Strike in the Famous Le Roi—Big Strike in the Standard—Silver Smelter in Montana Starts Up Again—The South Half Doing Well.

A big strike has been made in the famous Standard mine at Wallace, Id. On Thursday night the crosscut from the first shaft level, at a depth of 200 feet below the long tunnel, struck the ore in the big vein.

Since then the miners have crosscut nine feet in amost solid galena, 60 per cent of which is clean shipping ore.

This is the first level opened below the permanent water line in this mine, and gives assurance of the continuity in depth of this great ore chute. The strike is 1100 feet below the surface. The ore assays from 6 7to 70 per cent in lead, and from 58 to 61 ounces in silver. This is even better than the fine ore bodies above, from which the Standard people have paid their great dividends running from $55,000 to $80,000 per month.

The mine, under the management of John A. Finch and A. B. Campbell, is now employing about 150 men, and is shipping about 300 tons of ore per day. The new ore body will be opened up as rapidly as possible, and shipments will then be increased.

The company has ordered a new hoist, and it will be installed about the first of December. It will be large enough to sink 500 feet below the long tunnel level, and will cost $40,000. The cylinders will be 60x20, with Corliss valves, Blake condensers and all the modern improvements. It will sit in a large chamber, 30 feet wide, 64 feet high, and 80 feet long, at a depth from the surface of 900 feet.

Strike in the Le Roi.

Another momentous strike has been made in the Le Roi, this time in the stopes midway between the 500 and 600 foot levels. Eight feet of ore has been uncovered, averaging 18 per cent copper, $50 in gold and 10 ounces in silver, which, according to present prices of copper and silver, gives a total value of $100.10 per ton. With copper at 12½ cents, the copper value alone is $44.10, and the silver, at 60 cents per ounce, is worth $6. The new find is the richest that has ever been discovered in the mine with the exception of the ore in the Ridpath stope, which carries about equal values.

The recent discovery was made in a peculiar way. The ledge at the point where the ore was found is about 60 feet wide, and ore in it occurs in streaks. Development of the mine had been carried on in one of these streaks, which had been stoped for a width of 20 feet. A large body of low-grade ore was removed on the footwall side of the stope. Last week Superintendent Tregear put a machine at work crosscutting the low-grade rock, which proved to be about 15 feet thick, when it gave way to an eight-foot body of splendid gold-copper ore lying close to the footwall.

Need Concentrating Plants.

Every mining man who has visited the gold belt of the Coeur d'Alenes since quartz mining became an established industry has commented on the lack of improved concentrating machinery, although all our ores are base enough after a few feet depth is attained that a large part of the values can not be saved on the plates. This backwardness is the more noticeable because on the south fork the silver-lead miners have the most perfect machinery to be found anywhere in the world.

Until less than a year ago the mills had nothing more effective than bumper concentrators—the crudest concentrating implement known—nothing else having been tried except in the Jenkins and Daddy mills, where canvas plants had been put in with very indifferent success.

Last spring there was a Wilfley vanner added to the Idaho pant, but the mill was shut down about the same time, so there was no opportunity to test it. In Colorado it has proved very successful on gold ores and recently the Granite Mining Company put one in its mill seven miles east of town.

Rich Ore in the Wonder.

As the claims on the south half are opened up they are showing results that are far superior to their surface promise. H. E. Shafer returned from that section and exhibited some assays which he asserts are about an average of those that have been obtained from ores taken from the Wonder, a property owned by J. P. Graves and George Wooster of Spokane and himself. The development on the Wonder consists of two shafts and some surface work. Samples taken from surface cuts assay $16.84. From the bottom of an 18-foot shaft the ore assayed $69.87 in gold and four ounces in silver per ton. From the bottom of a 10-foot shaft, in 10 feet of solid ore, the assays showed a value of $59.53 in gold and $2.82 in silver.

The Wonder claim is near the 25-mile post on the San Poil river and about three miles south of the Davis camp. There are several other claims that have equally good surface showings but the development upon them is very little.

"Taken as a whole, that region is a remarkable one," said Mr. Shafer. "I consider that it cannot be surpassed in either quality or quantities of its mineral deposits."

On Big Creek.

In the Yankee group on Big creek in Idaho, the Blake brothers have a respectable fortune. They have been working there for years, occasionally shipping a carload of ore. Their ore body is small, and they have never felt justified in putting on any considerable force, contenting themselves with working the ground with two or three men, and occasionally leasing part of their works. There are a number of claims in the group on which ore has been found, so there is room for several men working entirely separate from each other. Wherever found the ore has been much the same, being clean and high grade, netting them from $2,000 to $3,000 per carload above the freight and smelter charges. They are six miles from Osburn, but only a little over two from the railroad, and conjointly with George Heller, who has struck ore on the opposite side of the gulch, they are trying to get a side track put in opposite the claims. Work will be pushed all winter both on the Yankee group and the Heller property, and the shipment the coming year will be heavier than ever. While aggregating considerable in money, the tonnage is so small that the railroad company hesitates about furnishing them better facilities.

Silver Smelter Resumes.

The silver smelter at Great Falls, Mont., which has not been in operation for the past two months, will be started up this week, and to an extent greater than for several years past, one furnace being operated that has not been fired since the great slump in silver. About 175 men will be employed at once and, as there is a shortage in the supply, a number will be brought from Helena and other towns. The supply of ore on hand, which has been accumulated since work was suspended, is large. The mines which the company is operating are producing well. The East Helena works of the company have been run almost to their full capacity recently, and the outlook is that, unless there should be some unforeseen change in conditions, the work there will be operated steadily for several months to come.

Asks to Disincorporate.

The Silver Key Mining Company filed a petition in the district court to dissolve and disincorporate the company in accordance with a vote of the stockholders passed on August 17. All assets have been sold, including the Silver Key mineral claim, located on the south side of Granite creek in Flathead county, Montana. The company was capitalized for 1,200,000 shares of which 500,000 were treasury. Two thousand shares had been sold. The petition sets forth that there is $396.80 in the treasury to be distributed among the stockholders and that there are no debts. The hearing was set for December 10.

Mining Briefs.

The stage company have 14 horses and four coaches coming over the state road from Boise which they will add to the equipment on the Lewiston and Mt. Idaho line, says the Grangeville Press.

Two hundred tons of Stemwinder ore has just been run through the Tin Horn mill, in Fairview camp, B. C., with the result that $7 per ton in gold was obtained on the plates, and this, with the gold in the concentrates, will give the ore a fair average value.

With proper transportation facilities the two counties of Washington and Idaho would become the greatest producers of gold, silver and copper on the northwest coast, and the only natural and easy solution of the problem is the construction of a railway from Weiser and up the Weiser river. One hundred miles of iron would settle the question, and we ought to put it down as far as possible this year.

Troops for Manila.

San Francisco, Oct. 17.—Troops from Camp Merriam to the number of 800 marched through the streets this morning to embark on the steamer Senator for Manila. They comprised the Third battalion of the Twenty-second infantry, recruits for the Second Oregon, and Battery D of the California heavy artillery.

The camp was broken early and the men took up their march to the Pacific street dock, where they arrived at 11 o'clock. The Senator is scheduled to put to sea on the high tide this afternoon.

London's famous elephant, Jimona, which was believed to have entered the world via the jungles of India 130 years ago, has just died in Hanley, Staffs. Queen Victoria as a child had a ride on her. At the time of her death she was estimated to be worth $10,000.

An immense eagle swooped down on a flock of sheep belonging to George Stambaugh, a farmer in Mercer county, Pa., and seizing a half grown sheep in its talons, lifted it from the ground, apparently without effort, and carried it away to its nest on a high cliff.

One of the London district councils has just had a prolonged debate as to the removal of a certain public bench at Bournemouth. The bench was known as "the courting bench." It was decided that courting in public is a nuisance, and the bench is to be taken away.

Paris is suffering from an ice famine, and London's stock is very low, owing to the prolonged heated term of the past summer. A few weeks ago the daily consumption in London was about 2000 tons, or double the usual quantity. There is little hope of the supply being increased, the ice houses of Norway and Sweden having been practically emptied of their stores.

Southern lumber speculators have just acquired a tract of 1150 acres of timber land in West Virginia that was granted by King George III. of England to Geo. Washington for his services in the Indian wars previous to the revolution. It was the property of the wife of Professor Kirby Smith of Johns Hopkins university, a descendant of Mary E. Curtis, to whom George Washington willed it.

There are twenty pieces of realty in Pittsburg, Pa., for which owners can not be found. The properties in question range in size from 5 by 60 feet to 60 by 120 feet, and are located in eight different wards. Altogether they aggregate over two acres. What has become of the titles to these lands or the persons in whom they were vested is what neither the city nor county officials have been able to discover.

WORST OF EARLY STORMS.

Child Freezes in the Arms of His Father.

Denver, Oct. 17.—A special from Florence, Col., says:

On Saturday William Leilin and his 10-year-old boy came to Florence from their home, six miles from Florence, to do some trading. After spending the day about town, at 6 p. m. they started for home in their wagon. It was raining when they left town, but when out about five miles the rain turned to a blinding snow storm. The father lost his way and wandered about among scrub pine and in the hills all night. The wagon and team were abandoned and an effort made to reach home on foot.

As the night wore on the little fellow became cold and numb and froze to death in his father's arms.

The father managed to keep alive by walking until he could walk no more from numbness of limb. Daylight broke, and Leilin knew he was not far from home, but was unable to walk. At 9 o'clock his cries were heard by his wife, who went to his rescue. Neighbors were summoned and the old gentleman was assisted to his home, but he was so near dead that he could not give an intelligent account of the night's wanderings, but the dead body of the boy told a pitiful story of a lack of sufficient clothing to keep him warm. He wore knee pants and a small coat, but no underwear nor outer coat. His shoes and stockings were almost completely worn out.

Worst Early Storm on Record.

Kansas City, Oct. 17.—The earliest winter storm in the southwest in 25 years and the worst early storm on record almost completely shut Kansas City off today from wire communication with the south and west and the north. An opening on the east alone kept the city from being totally isolated.

A MAN'S PERSONAL LETTERS.

They Should Not Be Addressed to His Place of Business.

A young man in business is wisest who sees to it that his personal letters do not come to his business address.

Aside from the technical point that he has no right to use his employer's address for social correspondence, and that it is not the place for such letters, it means a freedom from distraction which is valuable to him. The receipt of social letters at business places often means their answer there, and so one evil multiplies into another. A young man's business hours should be devoted to business, and he can not be too strict in the observance of that rule. Nor should our girls seek in any respect to lead our young men to give laxity to that rule. The best kind of a self respecting girl, on the other hand, is she who helps a young man to keep inviolate a rule so obviously for his own best interests, present and future. A girl can not too rigidly let a young man alone during business hours. That is the rule of wisdom, and I wish that every girl would learn it and adhere to it.

Burned Troops' Beds.

San Francisco, Oct. 17.—Fire, steam and water damaged or destroyed a lot of contract bedding material intended for the United States transports now in port during the progress of a blaze which broke out in the Bernard Mattress Company's factory, No. 642 Mission street, Saturday evening. Fifteen thousand dollars' worth of mattresses, pillows and material were burned or soaked to a degree of worthlessness. The company, however, expects to make good the loss in time to avoid delaying the departure of troops now in port.

CHICAGO PEACE JUBILEE

MANY THOUSANDS PRESENT.

President McKinley Was the Honored Guest, and Thousands Shook Him by the Hand—Religious Exercises at the Auditorium on Sunday Evening—Wind Blows Down Some Arches.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Chicago, dressed in her best bib and tucker and resplendent in a festive attire of flags, banners and streamers, with here and there a magnificent triumphal arch spanning the streets from curb to curb and giving a touch of novelty to the miles upon miles of decorated buildings, has devoted the day to giving a hearty welcome to the strangers within her gates.

The railroads estimate that fully 100,000 visitors were handled at the depots during the morning and at 2 o'cock this afternoon, when the massive barricades of the First regiment armory were raised to allow the public to enter, it appeared to the onlooker that the majority of these visitors, together with a large proportion of Chicago's inhabitants, were seeking admittance.

Within the mammoth edifice men, women and children were afforded an opportunity to shake hands with the president of the United States. Almost every city and town of consequence within a radius of 300 miles of Chicago was represented among the masses who participated in the popular greeting and in all respects the demonstration was worthy of the prominent place it occupies as the inaugural feature of the week's peace jubilee.

Sunday's Program.

The jubilee was Sunday night inaugurated with a thanksgiving service at the Auditorium. President McKinley attended and listened to addresses by a Jewish rabbi, a Roman Catholic priest, a Protestant clergyman and a noted colored orator. The applause for the president was terrific, and at one time he was compelled to rise in his box and respond to the frantic cheering of the audience. The services, however, were of a religious character, and at times the solemn silence of the vast assemblage was much more eloquent than could have been the wildest applause.

The president rested during a great part of the day at the residence of Captain Lafayette McWilliams, his relative, where he is being entertained. He did not attend church in the morning. For a short time in the afternoon he was taken for a drive, in company with Mrs. McKinley, Captain McWilliams and Mrs. McWilliams.

The party was driven to the Auditorium at 8 o'clock, and all along the way people lined the streets of the passage of the president's carriage.

Twelve thousand people were in the Auditorium, and many outside unable to obtain admission.

Arches Blown Down.

Two of the jubilee arches, the "Dewey," at State and Monroe streets, and the "First Regiment," at Michigan avenue and Van Buren street, were blown down today by the high wind prevailing. No one was injured by either collapse.

The Michigan avenue structure was badly broken and will have to be rebuilt. The painted canvas depicting the adventures of Colonel Turner's men, was torn in a dozen places. The Dewey arch was nearly completed. When the arch went down the laborers were at work on the Rough Riders' arch at State and Madison streets and thus escaped being carried down with the framework.

WHY HE WAS FULL OF GRIT.

Tenderfoot Sits by While a Stick of Dynamite Burns.

"In the winter of '79," he said, in the Chicago Chronicle, "I was in Leadville, Colo., and the camp was literally swarming with frontier toughs, who took delight in making things interesting for a 'tenderfoot.' One night a few of them got hold of a Boston dude and escorted him to a big general store that was a popular rendezvous for a gang of practical jokers. The dude turned out to be a pretty good sort of a fellow, and finally the proprietor got his ear and warned him that the boys were going to get up a fake fight as a finale, in which one of them would pretend to throw a stick of dynamite in the stove.

"'Just sit quiet, sonny,' he said, 'and they will respect your nerve.'

"The dude thanked him and said he would. Presently the row began, and in less time than it takes to tell it blank cartridges were cracking in all directions. The dude simply grinned and took out a cigarette. At that one of the crowd snatched up a stick from a box and, yelling that he was going to blow everybody to hades, threw it into the open stove. It so happened that he went to the wrong box and got hold of an actual, sure-enough piece of dynamite instead of the dummy which had been prepared in advance. This was noticed almost immediately and the jokers scattered like scared rabbits, leaving the dude in possession. As usually happens, the dynamite merely burned like so much wax. The gang finally returned and found the dude smoking his cigarette, but when he realized that he had really been sitting on the edge of a volcano he nearly fainted and gave away the secret of his nerve. Otherwise he would have passed into history as the gamest man in Leadville."

Funeral of Queen Louise.

Copenhagen, Oct. 17.—The funeral services over the remains of Queen Louise of Denmark took place at 2 oclock p. m. Saturday in the cathedral of Roskilde. The king of Denmark, the czar of Russia, the princess of Wales and all the imperial and royal mourners arrived there by special train at 1:45 p. m. Upon arrival at the cathedral the bier was carried by eight naval captains and eight colonels and placed on a catafalque.

At the conclusion of the services the coffin was borne with the same ceremony to the chapel of Frederick V., where the final rites were performed.

PRESIDENT GETS A DEGREE.

Bryan Regrets That He Cannot Attend the Jubilee.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—The jubilee enthusiasm was heightened today by thousands of flags flung to the breeze, while jostling crowds filled all the streets near the business center. Almost from dawn distinguished guests were arriving. General Miles and staff came in early and were escorted to a hotel.

At 11:30 the presidential party left the McWilliams house for the University of Chicago, where the degree of doctor of laws was conferred on him this afternoon. The president was escorted to the university by cadets of the Culver military academy.

During the day rain set in and continued at intervals and the bicycle parade was postponed until Thursday night.

This afternoon President McKinley with college and other dignitaries marched through rain, mud and slush to Kent theater, University of Chicago, where, with all due ceremony, was conferred upon him the honorary degree of doctor of laws.

After the ceremonies in Kent hall at the university the president was escorted through Washington park and up to the armory. Nearly the whole distance the streets were lined with people who cheered as the president passed. It was after 4 o'clock when the president and Secretaries Gage and Bliss entered the armory with the local reception committee and took their places upon the platform.

For an hour President McKinley shook hands with the thousands of people who streamed by him. For each one he had a smile and a word of greeting.

Letter From Bryan.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—The following letter of declination has been received from W. J. Bryan in response to an invitation to attend the peace jubilee:

"Camp Cuba Libre, Jacksonville.—I regret that duties will prevent an acceptance of the invitation extended by the citizens of Chicago to be present at the national peace jubilee. The American people are pre-eminently a peace-loving people, and it is fitting that they should celebrate the termination of the present war—a war conceived in an unselfish love for humanity—a war which has demonstrated anew the valor of our soldiers and seamen, a war which is destined—let us hope—to establish in the orient as well as in the West Indies that doctrine so sacred to the people of the United States, namely: That governments derive their just powers, not from armies or navies, but from the consent of the governed.

"Thanking the committee for honoring me with an invitation, I am, very truly yours, W. J. BRYAN."

Damages to the Brooklyn.

Washington, Oct. 17.—It will take $11,297 and 24 days' time to repair the damage sustained by the Brooklyn, Admiral Schley's flagship, during the battle of July 3. Such is the substance of the report of the special naval board recently appointed to investigate the matter.

FACTS IN REGARD TO AMBER.

It Is a Fossil Gum and Is Mined on the Shores of the Baltic.

Amber is the fossilized gum of the pine tree of ancient days, which by the action of the sea and wind was converted into the material we see nowadays. The use of amber is very old, for we find it mentioned in the bible. Amber burns easily, sending up a black smoke and giving forth a fragrance. Rubbed on one's hand it gives forth a smell of camphor and eucalyptus. This rubbing is a good test of the genuineness of amber.

Flies and insects are often found in amber and scientists have classified any number of lizards, ants, beetles, moths and fragments of wood which otherwise we should have never known about. The wonder is that the insects are preserved so perfectly and completely. If a fly alights in syrup every one knows that its struggles to get free usually result in the demoralization of the insect, but evidently the pine gum did its work instantaneously.

The town of Konigsberg, on the Baltic, is in the center of the amber industry. Where the Baltic now washes there was once dry land, covered with waving pines, which the salt water finally reached. The pine sunk below the sea, the soil ate up the woody matter and the pine gum, instead of decaying, mummified into amber. Once the Prussian government issued licenses and any one might go amber hunting. The income was very large and finally the business all consolidated in the hands of one firm, which now employs some 2000 people. It has its own railway and the colony of workers is self supporting. The amber hunters dredge until they find a blue loam, which signifies amber in the vicinity. Then a tunnel is run out from shore and regular mining proceeds. In some places the coast is a network of burrows.

The reason small amber articles, such as pins and brooches, are so cheap, and larger pieces, such as cigar holders and pipes, so expensive is that most amber is full of cracks and it is hard to get a large piece quite perfect.

WRECK OF THE MOHEGAN

PLUCKY SAILORS AND WOMEN.

Terrible Loss of Life in the Disaster in the English Channel—The Men Died at Their Posts, the Women Were Brave.

Falmouth, Oct. 16.—The British steamer Mohegan, Captain Griffiths, belonging to the Atlantic Transport Company, has been wrecked in the vicinity of The Lizard, between the Manacles and the lowlands. It is believed about 143 persons were drowned.

The Mohegan left London for New York Thursday, having on board, so far as ascertained at present, 59 passengers and a crew of 115. When the steamer was seen in distress, lifeboats went out from the shore and every effort was made to save the passengers. The coast at this point is extremely dangerous and has been the scene of numerous wrecks. The general opinion is that the machinery of the Mohegan became disabled during the heavy easterly gale which was blowing and she ran ashore and foundered.

A number of tugs, which put out from this port to the assistance of the Mohegan were compelled to return without being able to approach the vessel, owing to the severity of the weather. The life boats landed 31 of the passengers and crew. One of the former, a woman, died after being brought ashore. There are rumors unconfirmed as this dispatch is sent that another lifeboat succeeded in saving six more persons.

The survivors of the Mohegan without exception speak in the highest terms of the devotion, heroism and coolness displayed by the officers and crew of the ill-fated steamer, and declare that all were instantly at their posts when it was known that she had struck. The perilous position of the ship was noticed on shore and a warning rocket was sent up, but it was too late then to avoid the catastrophe, which occurred so suddenly that there was not sufficient time to get all the life saving apparatus out of the ship. The terror of the scene was indescribable—men jumped overboard in an agony of despair, and the women passengers huddled together and refused to leave the deck. The officers remained on the bridge to the last and many instances of sacrifice are recorded.

Members of the crew are known to have stood by and watched the boats launched and put off when it was apparent that these were the only means by which their own lives could be saved. A lifeboat with a load of 40 passengers on its way to the shore, passed many who were battling for their lives in the water, whom it was impossible to save.

The villagers, headed by the vicar and coast guard, stood on the shore and cheered the boat. When the lifeboat entered the little cove the fishermen waded into the sea to help drag the exhausted survivors to their homes, which had already been prepared for their reception and the vicar attended the injured.

Then the lifeboat was again launched and put out for the wreck, on its outward journey, picking up three survivors. The trip to the wreck was fruitless, so far as taking any one from the vessel was concerned, but on its way back to the shore 16 other survivors were taken from the shore. This was just before daybreak. The latest list of the rescued shows that only 11 passengers were saved, including the Pembertons and a maid named Regan or Ryan.

The name R. Kelly appears twice but both entries evidently refer to the same person.

Told by a Life-Saver.

Falmouth, Oct. 17.—A dispatch from St. Keverne, a small town a little to the eastward of the Manacles, said that 18 bodies from the Mohegan have been washed ashore there.

A member of the Port Houstock boat crew named James gave a graphic account of the wreck. He said that as soon as the disaster was announced his crew was summoned to the boat and proceeded to the Manacles. The night was pitch dark and no rocks were discernible, but they heard shouting and pulled toward the spot from which the voices came. No steamer was in sight, but the lifeboat came across an overturned lifeboat to which four or five men were clinging. They were taken on board the lifeboat. Later the crew heard shouting near the overturned lifeboat, and with grapnels managed to right it. Inside the boat they found a woman and two or three men alive. The woman was so tightly jammed in the wreckage that the lifeboat men had to cut away the thwarts of the small boat before they could extricate her. James said the lifeboat passed several bodies of men and women and picked up a couple of men who were floating on wreckage. The lifeboat then met a ship's boat having on board 22 passengers and crew all of whom would have been speedily lost if not rescued at that time, as the boat was waterlogged and rapidly drifting towards the rocks. The occupants of this boat were taken into the lifeboat.

Plucky Women.

While the latter was beating homeward she picked up Miss Noble of Baltimore. "She is the pluckiest lady I ever saw in my life," said James. "She shouted, 'Don't shove me an oar, give me a rope.' The sea then swept her towards us and we caught her hands and got her safely on board in as good a state as could be expected. We had 48 persons then in the boat, including the crew, and could hear shouting from the steamer. We approached her and saw Steward Gray clinging to the jigger mast. We then saw that all four masts were still standing and the survivors were clinging to them. We backed in right over the wreck and succeeded in rescuing the boatswain, cook and others. Next we rescued an engineer who was clinging to the steamer's funnel. All this occupied several hours. We then made for the shore."

Cries Heard on Shore.

Further advices from St. Keverne says the Panic on the Mohegan was terrible and the cries of despair were heard on shore.

One passenger cut away the falls of a lifeboat with a razor and thus saved several lives.

Miss Rondebush and her mother, Mrs. Grandin, entered a ship's boat, which was capsized, and Mrs. Grandin was jammed between this boat and a lifeboat. One of the lifeboat's crew, at great personal risk, jumped on board the steamer's boat after the latter had righted and pulled Mrs. Grandin from her dangerous position. But she was landed in a dying condition and all the efforts made to revive her were useless.

When Miss Rondebush landed later she anxiously inquired for her mother, whose body was identified by the vicar of St. Keverne from the description of a ring furnished to him by the daughter. One of Mrs. Grandin's feet was torn from the leg.

Foundered in Five Minutes.

From the best evidence obtainable at St. Keverne it appears that the Mohegan foundered five minutes after she struck the rocks. She was going at full speed, struck twice, stopped and rapidly settled into the water. As the captain and the executive officers of the steamers went down with her it has been impossible thus far to ascertain how she got out of her course, as Falmouth light and the coast were visible.

Women and the Wheel.

From the Gazette, Delaware, Ohio.

The healthfulness of bicycle riding for women is still a disputed question between eminent physicians and health reformers.

Used in moderation it surely creates for women a means of out-door exercise, the benefit of which all physicians concede. Used to excess, like any other pastime, its effect is likely to be dangerous.

The experience of Miss Bertha Reed, the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. J. R. Reed, 335 Lake street, Delaware, O., may point a moral for parents who, like Mr. and Mrs. Reed, have experienced some concern for their daughters who are fond of wheeling. In the fall of '96 Miss Bertha, who had ridden a great deal, began to fail in an alarming manner. She grew steadily paler and thinner, and it appeared she was going into consumption. Rest and quiet did her absolutely no good. A physician found her pulse at 104—a very high rate. Thinking this may have been due to temporary nervousness when he examined her, he watched her closely, but her pulse continued at that rate for two weeks. He was satisfied then, from her high pulse and steadily wasting condition that she was suffering from anaemia or a bloodless condition of the body. She became extremely weak, and could not stand the least noise or excitement. In this condition of affairs they were reccommended by an old friend to get some of that famous blood medicine, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They did so, and almost from the first dose Bertha began to improve. She continued to take the pills and was by means of those pills made entirely well, and more grateful people than her parents cannot be found in the whole state of Ohio.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved a boon to womankind. Acting directly on the blood and nerves, they restore the requisite vitality to all parts of the body; creating functional regularity and perfect harmony throughout the nervous system. The pallor of the cheeks is changed to the delicate blush of health; the eyes brighten; the muscles grow elastic, ambition is created and good health returns.

PEACE LESS SAFE THAN WAR

WERE MORE FATAL SHOOTINGS.

The Provost Guard Is More Deadly to Our Soldiers Than the Spanish Troops—Soldiers Are Killed in Three States.

Anniston, Ala., Oct. 16.—At 2 o'clock yesterday morning a number of volunteers and regulars from Camp Shipp became involved in a free fight and a riot ensued. The Third Tennessee volunteers provost guard was summoned, one of the guards, whose name has not been learned, fired a shot from his Springfield. A bullet crashed through the brain of Sergeant Heise, Company F, Second infantry, regulars, killing him instantly. It then cut off the thumb of Corporal Conroy, of the same company and regiment. It next shattered the arm of Private A. R. Ardiffin and finally lodged in the shoulder of Private Oliver Shepherd, Company F, Second infantry.

Heise, who was killed, went through the Santiago campaign and was promoted from private to sergeant for bravery shown in the charge up San Juan hill.

Lexington Again Torn Up.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 16.—Intense excitement was caused among the negro soldiers by the fatal shooting of Private Shedwick Floyd, Company I, Tenth immunes, by Provost Guard John Kane, Company D, 160th Indiana, at 10 o'clock last night. Floyd was under arrest and started to run. Twice he was ordered to halt by Kane, but told the latter to go to h—l. Kane leveled his gun and shot him, the ball entering the left side of the back and passing entirely through the body, perforating the lung. Floyd died in the hospital at midnight. The negro soldiers are greatly excited and threaten Kane's life. The latter was ordered to his headquarters by Provost Marshal Gaines.

Quarrel Over a Card Game.

Athens, Ga., Oct. 16.—Privates W. K. Smith and Pat Wood, both of Company G, Sixth Georgia regiment, quarreled over a game of cards yesterday afternoon and Smith shot Wood through the head, killing him instantly.

Robbed the Mail.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 17.—Reports of a daring and mysterious railway mail robbery at or near Alliance, in the northwestern part of the state early Saturday morning, were confirmed tonight by Superintendent Butler of Lincoln. Two letter pouches, one destined for Lincoln on the east bound Burlington train, the other for Black Hills and Montana points on the west bound, were cut open and registered letters and packages of value taken.

The robberies were discovered by the mail clerks after leaving Alliance. The amount stolen is unknown, but many letters were taken. No suspicion attaches to the postal clerks.

STRONG STATEMENTS.

Three Women Relieved of Female Troubles by Mrs. Pinkham.

From Mrs A. W. Smith, 59 Summer St., Biddeford, Me.:

"For several years I suffered with various diseases peculiar to my sex. Was troubled with a burning sensation across the small of my back, that all-gone feeling, was despondent, fretful and discouraged; the least exertion tired me. I tried several doctors but received little benefit. At last I decided to give your Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. The effect of the first bottle was magical. Those symptoms of weakness that I was afflicted with, vanished like vapor before the sun. I cannot speak too highly of your valuable remedy. It is truly a boon to woman."

From Mrs. Melissa Phillips, Lexington, Ind., to Mrs. Pinkham:

"Before I began taking your medicine I had suffered for two years with that tired feeling, headache, backache, no appetite, and a run-down condition of the system. I could not walk across the room. I have taken four bottles of the Vegetable Compound, one box of Liver Pills and used one package of Sanative Wash, and now feel like a new woman, and am able to do my work."

From Mrs Mollie E Herrel, Powell Station, Tenn.:

"For three years I suffered with such a weakness of the back I could not perform my household duties. I also had falling of the womb terrible bearing-down pains and headache. I have taken two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and feel like a new woman. I recommend your medicine to every woman I know."

Follow It Up.

Sit down and cool off suddenly, and then regret it, for stiffness and soreness is bound to follow. Follow it up with St. Jacob's Oil and you will have nothing to regret from a prompt cure.

N. S. Porter has been appointed administrator of the estate of Elisha P. Ferry, deceased, by the superior court of Thurston county, vice Sarah P. Ferry, removed. The coroner's inquest over the remains of the guards killed in the battle continues in a leisurely manner and it may be prolonged a week. It is the evident intention to bring out as much testimony on both sides as possible. Lawyer Mooney is apparently trying to get testimony tending to implicate the inmates of the stockade and the train guards in the battle, while the company's attorney is drawing out detailed individual statements of the personal experiences of the mine guards.

DENVER CUT OFF BY STORM

SAID TO BE SEVERE AT OMAHA.

The Storm in Kansas and Nebraska Knocks Out Telegraphic Communication With the East—Out of Twenty-Five Wires but Two Will Work.

Denver, Oct. 17.—The Denver office of the weather bureau received no reports today from points east of the Missouri river. Since early this morning Denver has been almost entirely cut off from communication by wire with the east owing to the prevalence of unusually severe storms of sleet and rain throughout Kansas and Nebraska.

In Kansas the storm extends as far east as Manhattan. It is reported very severe at Omaha, but it is not known here how much farther east it extends.

The storm came unexpectedly at midnight. Warmer weather was predicted in these places where rain and sleet have since been falling. Of 25 Western Union wires usually in operation between Denver and Omaha and Kansas City, only two could be worked all day. Chicago could be reached only via Ogden, Helena and St. Paul. Postal wires are also down.

The weather in Denver is clear, but cool, and it is not expected the storm will extend so far west.

WORTH WHILE:

It is easy enough to be pleasant,
When life flows by like a song,
But the man worth while is one who will smile
When everything goes dead wrong.
For the test of the heart is trouble,
And it always comes with years,
And the smile that is worth the praises of earth
Is the smile that shines through tears.

It is easy enough to be prudent,
When nothing tempts you to stray,
When without or within no voice of sin
Is luring your soul away.
Bnt it's only a negative virtue
Until it is tried by fire,
And the life that is worth the honor of earth
Is the one that resists desire.

By the cynic, the sad, the fallen.
Who had no strength for the strife,
The world's highway is cumbered to-day
They make up the item of life.
But the virtue that conquers passion,
And the sorrow that hides in a smile,
It is these that is worth the homage of earth,
And we find them but once in a while.

EDITORIAL CUTCROPPINGS.

One of our exchanges after demanding for some time the establishment of a Canadian mint, has humbled itself and is now meekly asking for a firehall.

It is with extreme regret that we learn that Queen Wilhelmina is formally engaged and soon to be married. Our only alternative now is to choose a widow or forever renounce the idea of a royal alliance.

The live question in France is not whether Dretus is guilty but whether it is better to crawl down and acknowlege the rottenness of their government or to provoke a foreign war and stifle the clamorers at home.

There are some people who read the local paper year in and year out, yet never think that the editor must eat occassionally and never give him the price of a subscription to help him on his lowly way. These people double shoot the turn by putting the nickle in the contribution box weekly and flatter themselves that they are purchasing a corner lot in Paradise, on the installment plan.

There are hundreds of people who would feel themselves disgraced if they were seen to rubberneck an imiterant performer's open-air show without shelling out when the hat came around, but these same people are quite content to reap their share of whatever benefits their local paper brings their town, without contributing one cent towards its support. These are the ones referred to by the poet, when he said:

"With soul so small, it could
A can-can dance,
Within the narrow postals
Of a dead nit's eye.

A CONUNDRUM.

If, as is the case, the amount of freight invoiced for Silverton equals the amount of freight invoiced for all other Slocan Lake points; and

The number of miners employed in our mines four times as many as are on the payrolls of all other Slocan Lake towns; and

The amount of business done by our merchants and business men is in proportion to the above; and

Having a future possessed by few towns in British Columbia

Why is it that no enterprising Bank is already in the field in Silverton, doing Silverton's business and growing up with us?

Why does the natural increase of the Canadian people, hardy and intelligent sons and daughters of British ancestry, leave this fair Dominion of Canada, that with its natural resourses is destined to be one of the greatest countries on earth? That they go and stay is proven by the fact that of the English speaking native born Canadians, alive to-day, as many if not more are residents and naturalized citizens of the United States as those who remain within our borders. The principal cause we believe to be the faulty emigration system now in vogue, bringing our young men and women into competition for their daily bread, with the scum of Europe in the east and the scum of Asia in our western Province. Just as long as this continues, will our emigration equal our immigration, and Canada be by far the loser in exchanging her sons and daughters for the offscourings of the old worlds.

THEY TOOK THE HINT.

A minister on a recent Sunday surprised his audience by reading the following announcement from the pulpit:—"The regular session of the Donkey Club will be held as usual at the close of the service. Members will line up just outside the church door, make remarks and stare at the ladies as is their custom. Any member seen to escort a young lady to church like a man and sit with her like a gentleman, will be promptly expelled from the membership." The application was to the point and the effect marvellous.
