Flatly in Favor Of the C. P. R.

Joseph Martin Denounces the V., V. and E. Promoters.

J.C.BROWN "EXPLAINS."

The Leaders of the Opposition Leave the People in the Lurch—Government Joyful.

VICTORIA, B. C., May 7.—The debate on the railway bill was resumed this morning by Mr. McPhillips, who was followed by Joseph Martin. He said that there were only two courses open, either to have the road to Kootenay built by the government or make arrangements with the C. P. R., as the bill proposed to do. It was impossible to obtain competition by granting a bonus to a company independent of the C. P. R. to build the line, for ultimately the two would be amalgamated and the people of the province would have to pay for the large profit of the bargain to the independent company.

Mr. Curtis asked if competition had not brought benefits to Manitoba.

Mr. Martin's answer was that the experiences of Ontario and Quebec were before us, and that competition had never been obtained. He denounced the V., V. & E. as a company after a bonus, only that they might put it in their pockets, and that the patriotism of Mackenzie & Mann was put on only to delude the people and to obtain money.

A Rumor.

It is rumored that the house has been prorogued until the 15th of July, when it will resume business and, this time, settle the railway question.

COMMUNICATION.

An Explanation.

To the Editor Princeton Star:

SIR,—It is necessary, on account of several reasons, to make public the facts in regard to the medical consultation lately held at the Dodds ranch.

Both physicians practically agreed as to diagnosis, namely, peritonitis, with probability of abscess formation.

It was an obscure case, and we were perfectly certain that, owing to the loss of time necessary to obtain assistance and supplies, that the patient was rapidly sinking, and that it had become a surgical, instead of a medical case.

We concluded that the operation indicated was the only hope of saving life. A careful research showed that our diagnosis was practically correct, but that the condition had become so intensified that no surgeon could do the least good. The operation was then concluded, such cases never having been known to recover.

This regretted death of such a highly respected lady has given certain person or persons, unaware of the true facts of the case, an opportunity to say that the operation was experimental.

The above facts give a positive denial to such statements, as all medical and surgical authorities corroborate our procedure.

H. A. WHILLANS, M. D.

Princeton, B. C., May 7th, 1901.

Our Streets.

It is quite time that the present spectacle of the streets of Princeton in their neglected condition, was changed. Grading operations should be at once commenced. Take our main business thoroughfare, for instance. Nothing has been done; the grade is here and everywhere as nature has left it. It is a disgrace, especially so at this period of the town's development, when we are, as we all hope, on the eve of great expansion. Prospective business men coming to town are at once placed at the disadvantage of not knowing at what point to start building operations, with likelihood staring them in the face of having, perhaps, six feet of terra firma excavated from before their premises.

Princeton Lawn Tennis Club.

A meeting for the election of officers of the above club will be held on Monday, the 13th inst., at the Tulameen hotel. Important that all members should attend.

J. CHARLES MCINTOSH,
Secretary pro tem.

Town Topics.

Dominion Day Celebration—Princeton's Lawn Tennis Club—Meeting to Elect Officers—Timely Remarks on New School House.

No time should be lost in preparing for the coming celebration on Dominion Day. This is a matter that should engage the attention of every citizen of the town. It is for the benefit of all and to the detriment of none. More time and care should be taken with these preparations than in previous years. Track facilities will have to be procured the townsite, because of buildings not now offering the opportunities of the past. Especially should this matter engage the energies of all citizens, for we all believe that Princeton is the hub of the Similkameen, and we should show outsiders that it is so.

Notice will be found in another column calling attention to the meeting of the Princeton Lawn Tennis club. This meeting is an important one, called for the election of officers of the club, and should be well attended. Tennis is a pasttime that everyone will enjoy, especially during the long summer evenings. To the ladies of the town the opportunities afforded by such an association should be especially attractive, and the means of enjoyably whiling away many a weary hour. Turn out, everybody, and show that the club has your support.

Pressure should be brought to bear in the right quarters to have a move made in the direction of the immediate erection of a school house. The school is the fundamental basis from which all good citizenship springs. No town deserves the name without educational facilities. No other attraction is so strong to the pater familias than the opportunities afforded of procuring instruction to his young family, and to such should we cater. The future of the town, to a great measure, depends upon the character of its citizen. See to it that a permanent school building is the result of your efforts.

Dominion Day Celebration.

A public meeting will be held at the Tulameen hotel at 8 o'clock next Monday evening, to consider what Princetonites intend doing on July 1st in the way of sports on Confederation Day.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

Harry Duncan has hung up his "shingle" as notary public.

Mine Host Aldous has added a pool table to his hostelry, the Tulameen.

Mr. A. C. Davis came in from Kennedy Mountain last Saturday, and returned Sunday.

Rev. T. Neville arrived in town to-day and will hold service in the school house to-morrow at 11 a. m.

Mr. J. H. Jackson came in from his ranch last Thursday, and is enthusiastic over the crop prospects.

Mr. T. McAlpin has a force of men busy at his saw-mill, about a mile and a half from the Similkameen bridge.

Mr. George Armstrong left last week for Yale, firstly, to make his census report, and, secondly, for the coast, to hunt up his overcoat.

Surveyor Hislop, accompanied by Mr. Wm. Simpson, who left last week for Kennedy Mt. on a surveying expedition, returned last Tuesday.

Mr. Geo. Simmons, who has been laid up with rheumatism the past week, is around again, looking somewhat lighter in weight, but still in the ring.

Mr. Fred Revely arrived from Vancouver on to-day's stage, after an absence of eight months, the greater part of which time was spent in the Kootenay.

Dr. Whillans is making extensive additions to his commodious residence on Bridge street, opposite the school house. Coming events cast their shadows before, eh, Doc?

Mr. Frank Aikens returned to-day from Roche River, where he has been prospecting the past week. Frank is looking wise and is keeping mum concerning hii trip.

Our genial friend W. J. Armstrong, traveling salesman for Messrs. Stone & Wellington, nurserymen, of Toronto, Ont., has been doing a good business for said firm the past week. Mr. Armstrong expects to leave to-day for Keremeos.

Our popular doctor had a bad toothache last night, and, about one o'clock this morning, after having suffered terrible agony for some three or four hours, decided that a bad tooth was not the proper thing, and yanked it out himself. Looks like more preparations!

Every day witnesses the arrival and departure of numbers of mining experts, prospectors, miners, etc., and as a consequence the government official, Mr. Hugh Hunter, is kept busy answering questions and looking after the interests of the mining community in general.

Ye Editor's Little Jokelets.

WHAT DID IT.

Teacher—Let us take up now the impersonal verbs. In the sentence, "It rains," what is it that rains?

Johnny Upjohn—It.

* *

WHY HE GROWLED.

Hoax—I saw you at the theater last night. You were in the dog seat.

Joax—Sir, what do you mean?

Hoax—Were'nt you sitting in K—9?

* *

WHY SHE DISCARDED HIM.

"Don't despair, Edward; even if father does say you'll be young enough to marry five years from now."

"Oh, I don't care for myself; but how about you?"

* *

NEW MOTHER-IN-LAW JOKE.

"How does it happen that Fraulein Lechen is still unmarried? She is a pearl among women."

"Perhaps the young men are afraid of mother of pearl."

* *

LUCKY.

Blinks—Lucky man, that fellow Jones.

Winks—I don't see how you make it.

Blinks—Why, he took out a life insurance policy for £1000 and died six days before the company failed.

* *

A COSTLY ERROR.

Young Doctor—Did you ever make a mistake in a diagnosis?

Old Doctor—Yes. A shabby old fellow came into my office one day, and after I told him he had a stomach ache and charged him two dollars, I found out that he was rich enough to have appendicitis.

* *

"You know Will was just crazy to marry me," said the young bride.

"Yes; that's what everybody thinks," replied her jealous rival.

* *

The Man Up Town at the Telephone—Hello! Is this the grocer?

The Grocer—Yes.

"Have you got any very old cheese?"

"Yes; I've got some that's all right. I'll call it if you'd like to speak to it."

How About This?

And now a medical professor comes forward and says that bald-headedness can be cured by rubbing whiskey on the spot. We have seen many bald-headed people put this remedy about six inches below the spot and rub the anatomy in the region of the vest pocket, but it didn't seem to make the hair grow.—New Denver Ledge.

This remedy finds much favor in Princeton, but seems only to affect the prolongation of the hirstute appendage of the experimentors.

HYDRAULIC PIPE.

It sometimes seems as if the precautions we take in the making of RIVETED STEEL PIPE are really more than are necessary. But the result is a never varying standard of excellence that has placed our pipe beyond competition. Every sheet of steel that is to be used in pipe making is submitted to the examination and tests of an expert. And when the pipe is complete every inch of it is subjected to the most rigorous tests before being allowed out of the works. The result is summed up in the fact that 95 per cent. of the Hydraulic Pipe used in British Columbia bears our mark.

PARLIAMENTARY VAPORINGS.

The country is being treated to a series of experiments in wind at the provincial headquarters—Victoria. The people of the province are anxiously awaiting for the herald of the pioneer of civilization—the railroad—and are getting—wind. It is exciting, it is exhilarating, but it is not legislation. To read the perorations of the weighty orators, the subtle fencing of the tried debator would lead the average constituent to believe that the railway was an assured fact, but the result is dispiriting.

This reminds us of the case of a well-known lawyer back east, who, upon the taxation of his brief, asked for an increased counsel fee. The taxing officer demurred, but the lawyer persisted, declaring that the judge had listened most attentively to his two hours' argument. His lordship's notes were produced, when the annotation was found to be: "Mr. X., vox et ———." This is what the people of British Columbia are receiving from their representatives on the railroad question—voice and———nothing.

DEVELOPMENT WORK.

History relates that in 1492 one Christopher Columbus, acting as agent for the firm of Ferdinand & Isabella, having their head office at Castille, planted his discovery post in America. Through lack of proper development work the holdings of them and their successors have disappeared into the capacious maw of their more aggressive competitors. Be prepared. Have your properties opened up, your showings glistening, your development work projected to its fullest extent. Be prepared for the cyclone, for the roar of the railroad is heard in the land. Camps have come and camps have gone, but the climax is yet to be capped, and the Similkameen will wear it, for it fits. Look out for Princeton; it will be a hummer.

CURRENT LEGISLATION.

Bill to discourage railway competition, intituled "The Coast-Kootenay Railway Act."

Bill to amalgamate the Province with the C. P. R. The assets of the province to become the property of the railway corporation. To come into force concurrently with the "Coast-Kootenay Railway Act."

The provincial legislature has been in session about two months, and the only thing done up to the present time has been the province.

The electors do not ask the government for much. They simply request to be allowed to spend a little of their own money in bonusing a road which will save them that cash many times over.—Vancouver World.

Waiting, still waiting.

The People vs. C. P. R.

Competition Paralyzed—Ruin!

Legislation. Salvation? D——nation!

God help the sheep when the wolf is judge.

The Coast-Boundary railway is wanted, not a year from now, but to-day.—Saturday Post.

The general opinion of the government's railway policy is that it is very very broad, but not half so broad as it is "deep."—The Times.

For the Summer Girl, 1901.

This much is known about the summer girl of 1901:

She will wear a shirtwaist.

She will wear a very long skirt.

Down her front will hang many ends.

Her belt will be tied in front with a big bow.

Her hat will be between a Ladysmith and a sailor.

Her neck will be twisted with ribbons of silk or velvet.

All her ribbons will be finished with metal tabs of brass or silver, or with tabs of gun metal.

Grace will be of paramount importance to the summer girl, and all her clothes are built to secure it. Her skirt will be very long and sweeping, so lengthy that it touches the floor all the way round, and almost conceals her trim boots. At the back it will quite train, and will necessitate the constant holding up.

The summer girl of 1901 is out buying her summer wardrobe. You can see her in the street every day, for she is shopping slowly and deliberately and making her dollar go. She walks with a cheerful step, this coming summer girl, for she recognizes the fact that there are handsome garments offered her, and that she will be pretty.

Frank Aiken leaves to-morrow morning for Aspen Grove.

LOST.

LOST—Last Thursday, between Chas. Barber's house and the school house a gold neck chain with locket attached. Finder please return to Janet Findlay.

For the Summer Girl, 1901.

This much is known about the summer girl of 1901:

She will wear a shirtwaist.

She will wear a very long skirt.

Down her front will hang many ends.

Her belt will be tied in front with a big bow.

Her hat will be between a Ladysmith and a sailor.

Her neck will be twisted with ribbons of silk or velvet.

All her ribbons will be finished with metal tabs of brass or silver, or with tabs of gun metal.

Grace will be of paramount importance to the summer girl of 1901 and all her clothes are built to secure it. Her skirt will be very long and sweeping, so lengthy that it touches the floor all the way round, and almost conceals her trim boots. At the back it will quite train, and will necessitate the constant holding up.

The summer girl of 1901 is out buying her summer wardrobe. You can see her in the street every day, for she is shopping slowly and deliberately and making her dollar go. She walks with a cheerful step, this coming summer girl, for she recognizes the fact that there are handsome garments offered her, and that she will be pretty.

Frank Aiken leaves to-morrow morning for Aspen Grove.
