EXPOSURE OF GRAFT

Keremeos Correspondent on Shatford's Methods of Doing Business.

EDITOR STAR—Sir: I have just been reading in the Gazette of Hedley a column of guff written by Henry Nicholson, of Camp McKinney. Mr. Nicholson would try to make us new comers believe that L. W. Shatford was a wonder, and that it is through him that we are enabled to stay in this country at all. I may say that it is different in my case to the new comers' Mr. Nicholson speaks of. I was a Conservative in the east, but I would be ashamed to vote for a man who has proved himself to be so unworthy the confidence bestowed in him at the last Provincial election. I don't know what reasons Mr. Nicholson may have for singing Shatford's praises, but I expect he has some good ones. I am afraid if the fulfilment of any promises are hinged on the result of the next election, he will be disappointed. In fact I think there will be quite a few disappointed ones, and they well deserve to be. I think that a man who gets $3 50 per day to boss a road gang, who doesn't know enough to pound sand, ought to be disappointed if he expects that sort of thing to codtinue.

The wagon road from Keremeos to Penticton is a disgrace to everybody connected with it from Shatford down I have heard that about $6,500 was spent on a blind wagon road up 20-Mile Creek without having a survey or estimate of the cost of the undertaking being made beforehand. Some people say that the road will never be finished, as it will cost between $30,000 and $40,000 to complete it. Others say that the only thing to do now is to elect Shatford and he will find money enough to keep a few of his pets employed for at least another term. I have heard, but cannot vouch for the truth of it, that there is a gang of men working this winter on a cribbing just above Hedley town. This work it appears was held back for a winter's job for a few of the faithful, and at the present the gang of nine men accomplished about as much work as three good men would do in the summer time, and that instead of starting the crib work where they left off last winter, and the only place where there is the remotest necessity for the cribbing, they have spent some hundreds of dollars fencing in property belonging to the Hedley Townsite Co., of which our worthy Mr. Shatford is president and owns the greater part. I do not know that the fencing will enhance the price of the property very much, but the appearance of security that it lends may help to sell it to advantage. Hedley seems to be getting the lion's share of public money, and we people cannot assign any other reason for it than that Shatford's Limited corral 75 per cent. of the money spent on Government works between Keremeos and Princeton.

I may have some more to say later on the same lines if any of Mr. Shatford's ardent admirers call for it.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the space taken in your paper, I remain,

Yours truly,

AN UNHAPPY SKINNER.

A CORPORATION BOOSTER.

EDITOR STAR—Sir: Seeing that the friends of Shatford, M. P. P., are in any and every way, through the Hedly Gazette (a paper partly owned by Shatford), telling the public what he has done for his district since he became a member of the Provincial Government, and believing there still are some things that have so far not been mentioned or made public, therefore I will, with your permission, state a few facts concerning Mr. Shatford's doings and then let the public decide if everything that he has done since he became a representative of this district, have been in the interests of the country, or not.

While I have not been in this district as long as some, I have been here long enough to know a skunk when I see one, without necessarily having to put my nose where the perfumery comes from. And the same will apply in this case. I first met Mr. Shatford in 1895, and my impression of him then was not very favorable. I happened to be in his office at Fairview, and during a conversation he asked who I thought done the most of the business at Hedley, himself or Mr. J A. Schubert. My answer was that I thought Schubert did; when he stated that I was mistaken, as he was selling a lot of goods to Mr. M. K. Rogers, then manager of the Yale Mining Co. To which my reply was, "yes, but you are not getting any profit out of that." He said he had to do that in order to hold that trade.

When Mr. Shatford was elected to represent this district, I began to wonder if he would represent the people's or the corporations' interests. But as he was favoring corporations while in private life, I did not think that he would change, excepting for the worse, and I believe that I can show that I was not mistaken. Some time before his election several applications were made to the Department of the Interior for some Indian land situated near the town of Hedley and consisting of 194 acres. The matter was turned over to the Provincial Government to deal with. M. K. Rodg-

DATE OF ELECTIONS

Near at Hand---Voter's List in the Hands of the Printer ---Other Signs.

That the general elections are not far off is evidenced by the activity of the political parties. Perhaps the most significant indication of the nearby elections is the movement of the Socialists. As is well known their representatives in the legislature have bridged many an awkward gulch for Premier McBride, chief of which was the C.P.R. land steal of 800 000 acres on a decayed charter of the Columbia & Western. For violation of all Socialistic principles in voting for that steal the Socialists get tips of elections and other state secrets Indeed a prominent Socialist remarks: "We know the date of the elections." The Socialist candidate for the Similkameen, G. E Winkler, in obedience to his leader and comrade, "Premier" Hawthornthwaite, broke ground last week with a campaign meeting at Keremeos. The Socialist-Conservative party has nearly all its candidates in the field. Liberals must now get in and drill until the last vote is polled.

While it is generally conceded that the provincial general elections cannot long be delayed one fact more than any other indicates that dissolution is at hand—it is this: The voters' lists are now in the hands of the printers. The lists have been revised and are ready for publication as soon as printed. Without a revised voters' list the general elections could not be held. Some over zealous government officials have been touting for those who placed them in position, a very natural thing, but which is usually followed by decapitation when their benefactors fall All the signs are in the political atmosphere that elections are nigh, so be guided accordingly.

LIBERAL CONVENTION.

All the preliminary arrangements have been made for the Liberal convention to nominate a candidate for the forthcoming general elections. The executive committee of the Similkameen District Liberal Association recently convened at Hedley and then decided to hold the nominating convention at Keremeos on the 8th day of January next. Local Liberal associations will at once make choice of their delegates to the convention and the unorganized sections will at meetings for the purpose also appoint delegates. At present there is little likelihood of more than one name coming before the convention. The unanimity of Liberals presages victory in the Similkameen.

ALEX. BELL, MERCHANT.

As will be noticed on page 2 of this issue, Mr. Alex. Bell, general merchant, has seen the wisdom of advertising in the local paper, and the public are requested to watch his space, and learn of the line of goods he carries. Mr. Bell has just become installed in his fine new store, where he has ample room to display his well assorted stock, which consists of groceries and provisions, boots and shoes, hardware, and gents' furnishings. Everything he carries is of the best, and he invites his old customers and the public generally to call and see him and inspect his stock. In the rear of the building is a large store room, and the basement contains a roomy and well ventilated apartment for storing perishable good. The store greatly enhances the appearance of Vermillion avenue.

The postoffice is also situated in the building and is larger and more convenient than the cramped quarters in the old one.

KEREMEOS PROPERTY BONDED.

A Spokane company represented by C. Voorhees and H. Stephens of that city have acquired the Pitman property near Keremeos for a sum reported to be $50,000, which will be paid in aubstantial payments. The new owners have already started an aggressive form of development work which will be continued during the life of the bond. The Pitman property is situated on Keremeos Creek and only a couple of miles from the Great Northern track.

Fred. Revely came up from Hedley last Saturday on business. He reports have enjoyed his recent visit to the coast, when he visited Vancouver, Seattle and Portland, and he also took a run to Spokane. Fred. says every place he visited was booming and thinks it is only a short time before this district will be touched by the general wave of prosperity that is rolling over the Pacific Coast.

The Court of Revision and Appeal for Princeton district has been further postponed to the 24th inst., as will be seen by notice elsewhere.

Government Agent Hunter went down to Hedley on Tuesday on business bent.

Cook & Co. had the misfortune to lose a lot of Xmas goods which were destroyed by fire in an express car on the C. P. R. To make matters worse a freight wagon carrying goods for this company from Nicola, the first of the week, was dumped into Otter Lake, and everything lost.

A meeting of the Princeton Liberal Association will be held in the office of this paper next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of appointing delegates to the convention at Keremeos.

Tickets for the Firemen's Ball on the 2nd January are now on sale, price $2.

CHRISMAS.

I heard the bells on Christmas day
Their old, familiar carols play,
And wild and sweet
The words repeat
Of peace on earth, good will to men!

Memorable is the institution of Christmas. It is a festival of the Christian Church observed on December 25 as the anniversary of the Saviour's birth established by Pope Telesphorus, who died A. D. 138, and throughout the subsequent history of the church the day has been one of the most noted of Christian solemnities. In olden times, confounded with the Epiphany, it was celebrated in the months of April and May. In the fourth century, however, St. Cyril of Jerusalem succeeded in obtaining from Pope Julian I. an order for ascertaining the exact day of Christ's nativity. The great theologians of the time took as a basis the tables of the censors in the archives of Rome, and established the day which has prevailed ever since.

Christmas giving has long been and will probably continue a chief characteristic of the day's observance. By such means do love and friendship find happy expression. But with it all let us not forget the first great Christmas gift, which came from the Father of Lights with whom there is neither variableness nor shadow of turning—a gift which is ours not only for all time but for all eternity.

Of all the days of the year, Christmas is the best on which to turn back the leaves of life and lay aside the wringled spoils of age. This day marks the anniversary of the birth of the Prince of babies, the great lover of little children. So, let every parent let go of care for one day and go to the little folks, enter into their sports and claim an interest in all their affairs, of which they have so many of magnitude that day.

The Star wishes its readers a Merry Xmas and a Happy New Year, and let the keynote of our Christmas be love—"peace on earth, good will to men."

FOR CLEAN POLITICS.

The Conservative press are making a great howl about purity of politics and point to the corrupt practices used to elect the Hon. Mr. Hyman. That unfair methods were used to elect him is to be regretted, but the Liberals were merely fighting the devil with fire. Although there was not a tithe of evidence produced to tarnish the personal reputation of Mr. Hyman, he took the manly and praiseworthy course and resigned.

We would ask our readers to go back with us to the last Provincial general election, and see what the "first Conservative Government British Columbia ever had," did to introduce that much talked about and much desired element into British Columbia politics. The Conservative candidate for Fernie was a gentleman named W. R Ross. The McBride Government appointed as returning officer Mr. Alexander, the business partner of Mr. Ross. At the election then held the Liberal candidate received a majority of the votes cast, but when the returning officer made his official count he threw out several ballots and declared his law partner, the defeated Conservative candidate, elected.

The Liberal candidate applied under the statute for a recount before the County Court judge, but this action was frustrated in the meantime by the returning officer shipping the ballot boxes to Victoria and the McBride Government refused to give them up.

It will be remembered the McBride Government were hanging in the balance, two of his ministers had been defeated, the Socialists had not as yet been bought, John Houston had bolted, and their very existence depended on that Fernie seat, and that seat they must have at any cost, no matter what high and lofty principles were trampled under foot.

This then is the manner in which the "first Conservative Government British Columbia ever had" started out to do business, and it is along these that they have been doing it ever since. The Premier is chasing himself up and down the country waving his arms and shouting "British fair play," and the Conservative press are crying out for electoral purity. What a pretty bunch of sophisticated politicians.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Professor Laughlin, of the University of Chicago, told the members of the Industrial Association of America some solid truths on Socialism, declaring that men, allying themselves with it, admitted themselves failures, and asked society to do for them what they had been unable to accomplish for themselves. He took up the Socialism question with ungloved hands, and said that a man who is temperate, industrious, honest, and thrifty succeeds, while the man who is not, fails. In other words, the man who is fit succeeds and the unfit fails. And when men who fail wish society to do for them what they confess to being incompetent to do for themselves, we have an explanation of the demand for Socialism; for Socialism is the philosophy of failure. The professor contended that labor unions are going to accomplish the good they aim at, not by an abuse of power, but by a sense of responsibility, and by square and honest dealings with those whose interests are inextricably bound up with their own. Labor and capital must work together. Labor must choose wise leaders and capital must co-operate with them in bettering the conditions which make for the good of all. The dangerous abuse of power is to be found in stimulating ignorance to act as arbitrator of difficulties; to make the unfit believe themselves the equal of the fit, a thing hard to understand. Until the Socialists learn that all men are not equal in wisdom, ability and business power, they will never select the wisest leaders or escape from the effects of frightful excesses. —World.

The Nelson Daily Canadian asks the Vancouver World why it does not withdraw its "slanders" of the Chief Commissioner, and the World answers as follows: "If the Canadian will show that Mr. Green swore falsely before the Kaien Island committee when he said that he talked over Cabinet secrets with the Andersons, and that Kaien Island was not sold by the Government for $10,000 to a band of "adventurers, male and female," and afterwards passed on by them to the railway company for $40,000, the World will publish a full and ample apology. Either Mr. Green told the truth or he did not. We prefer to believe that he did. Does the Canadian doubt his word?"

ers stated that he wanted the land for a site on which to build a smelter and that he was ready to start construction as soon as the land was secured.

Mr. Fred. M. Wells wanted a portion of the land to be used in connection with the workings of the Kingston Mining Co., which he represents. That was the time when Mr. Shatford, M.P.P., began to show his colors. His representatives at this place, as well as his friends, took a very active part in circulating for signatures a petition asking the Government to grant to Mr. Rodgers the whole of the tract of land in question, and as nearly everyone was in Rodger's employ or under some obligation to Shatford, of course signatures were easily secured. The result was that Rodgers got a clear deed from the Government to 194 acres of land that had cost him about $2,000, to secure. The said land is easily worth one hundred dollars an acre as fruit or agricultural land, to say nothing about its possible value for a smelter or townsite. Mr Rodgers built a fence around his land and planted fruit trees and began farming. So much for his promise. He had the land and could do as he pleased with it. And the property owners in Hedley had their property and are likely to own it for some time. The very fact that a new townsite could be plotted on this land is sufficient to prevent any deals being made. And the mining industry has suffered equally as much. What was Shatford, M. P. P., doing? Why did he not see to it that other mining companies had an equal chance to have ground to operate from and on which to reduce their ores? Why did he not protect the interests of those that bought lots from him in Hedley? First he sold them the lots, then he took the value of the lots away, which is worse than highway robbery. When you are relieved of your valuables on the road, you know they are gone, but in this case you do not know for certain, and the result is that you are paying taxes on property that may or may not be of any value. Yours, etc,

LOUIS O HEDLUND.

POINTED QUESTIONS.

[The following letter from L. O. Hedlund, Hedley, was refused publication by the Gazette and sent to the Star with the request that it be printed. The subject matter of the letter is of public interest and constitutes a serious grievance in some places; the Star, therefore, gives it space.—ED.]

Editor Hedley Gazette—Sir: Wishing to ask the people in this city a few questions I ask you to publish the following: Why is it that houses of prostitution are and have been for a year past allowed to be run within a couple of hundred feet and in plain sight of some of the principal hotels and within a few feet of residences and the main thoroughfare in this city, while a house situated outside of the city limits and over a quarter of a mile from any habitation has time and again been ordered closed? About four years ago a house which is now in the favored district was ordered to be closed on account of being in a too public place, and the owner had to sell out at whatever price he could get. What has brought about the change? Can it be on account of the Townsite Co'y? After selling all their lots in that part of the town are they less interested in what is going on there while they still have a lot of property in the other direction? Or, is it on account of some personal spite? Or, is it because one or more of the favored houses are partly owned by a prominent church member and a few dimes may find the way into the contribution box Almost every town on the American continent has what is known as a restricted district, but usually those districts are situated as far from business houses and residences as possible. But the powers that be in Hedley seem to wish to have the restricted district in the very centre of the town. I will conclude by stating that I came to this town and made my home here long before any one of you did and I have in the past done my best to leave other people's affairs alone. That is considerable more than the majority of the people in Hedley can say. Yours truly,

LOUIS O. HEDLUND.

The Grany declared another dividend last week at the New York office of the company. A stock dividend of 3 per cent. upon all the outstanding was declared out of the net earnings of the company, payable Dec. 31st. This will make four dividends of a like amount paid by the company in e906.

TROUBLE IN SIGHT.

A San Francisco despatch of recent date says: Ed. Mells, a young man, sent a swift right-hander to the jaw of Tokuchika, a Japanese driver, when the latter refused to clear the way, and in a moment a hundred Japanese and twenty Americans gathered for a race fight. "Come on," yelled Mells, "I'll lick every Jap in the crowd." As a general mix-up seemed about to ensue the police interfered. As an officer led Mells away, the Japanese remarked loudly, "San Francisco will soon be controlled by the Japanese." "The deuce it will," yelled the American, and the bystanders had to stop another fight. The affair is considered significant.

IRON ORE.

There is on exhibition in I. C. Barnes' store a large lump of hematite. Mr. Barnes has a claim of this metal on Ellis creek and is now having development work done. The metal exists in such quantities and in such a pure state that Mr. Barnes believes he has what will prove one of the best iron mines of the continent. Hermatite comprises 70 per cent iron and 30 per cent. oxygen and is especially valuable in the manufacture of steel.—Penticton Press.

WORLD'S FAIR FOR 'FRISCO.

San Francisco proposes to have a world's fair in 1913. Several enterprising citizens have formed a corporation to be known as the Pacific Ocean Exposition Co., which plans to give a mammoth fair in 1913 to commemorate the 400th anniversary of the discovery of the Pacific Ocean by Balboa, and the completion of the Panama Canal. The joining of the two ideas is deemed by the promoters especially appropriate, as it was after crossing the isthmus that the navigator first looked upon the Pacific. The organization is capitalized at $5,000,000.

TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

The Star has received a copy of the programme for the annual convention of the Pacific Coast Teachers' Association, to be held at New Westminster on Monday and Tuesday, January 7th and 8th, from Miss Jean Patterson, corresponding secretary. The programme contains a long list of interesting subjects to be discussed in the interests of education which should prove of great benefit to those engaged in teaching.
