Coal is backbone of Princeton, 'Coalopolis,' A destined city.

MINES AND MINING.

John Carlson came down from Leadville last week, having closed down work on the Indiana owing to dangerous snowslides. He has a tunnel contract with A. Phillips of Spokane and has 200 feet entered. Mineralization has improved all the way and galena is showing in veinlets when work stopped. A crosscut of 26 feet had not reached the footwall, indicating a strong lead. Mr. Carlson will resume work as soon as the avalanches have ceased.

Messrs. Rice and Seaman have been making good progress on the big Treasure mountain tunnel but now are hampered with bad air, which will be remedied.

W. T. Burns, barrister, of Vancouver, has been appointed a commissioner under the Public Inquiries Act to investigate the present condition of the coal industry and report to the government when completed. The report will include cost of transportation of coal, the question of a combine existing in restraint of trade, and the suggestion that too much attention is paid to export coal, resulting in a shortage for home consumption, together with all other incidental and related matters. Mr. Burns will immediately enter upon his duties and will visit all parts of the province,

A number of changes were made last week in the British Columbia Copper company's staff A. F. H. Meyer succeeds W. C. H. Wilson; B. N. Ouimette succeeds Meyer; T. Largue succeeds C. Chortlon; J. F. Manson succeeds Largue, and E. McCutcheon fill Mason's position. A new man will be appointed as stenographer in place of Joe Applequist. F. S. Norcross becomes superintendent of the mine in place E Hibbert, and J. J. Johns has been appointed superintendent of Mother Lode, with C. Hammerstadt as foreman.

It is known that a very strong mining company composed largely of railway officials is gaining a foothold here and will begin operations in the spring. Lots of room for two big ore mining companies and smelters.

LEADVILLE LUMPS.

Leadville, Feb. 12.—There is not much change in the routine about here. Winter is on in full bloom and we are all settled down to a steady thing. Some are anxious for spring and some are not caring how long winter lasts for they are all O K.

Notwithstanding the fact that the thermometer once in a while drops from 50 deg. above at noon to 20 deg below at 7 p m. this is a healthy climate. The Indians here never die, they simply dry up and blow away.

The most beautiful sight I ever saw was observed on Olivine mountain recently after a snow storm. The snow hangs on the limbs of the trees and bends them from the top, piling up over the large and lower limbs of the big trees, while it completely eovers the young trees, logs and brush. One can walk through the timber and never touch a limb. The trees look like monuments of snow, with here and there a green bow stuck in all around. Where you can see between the limbs to the body of the tree, once in a while you see bare ground, 15 ft. below. After a thaw and a couple night's freeze one can walk on top of the snow anywhere without snowshoes.

The crosscut tunnel on Treasure mountain is in 330 feet. The Indiana is still in good ore.

There have been 35 claims located here this winter, one, the Carbonate, with a particularly good surface showing.

With the object of opening the huge bodies of unbroken marble marble, believed to lie a few score feet from the surface, a new tunnel, seven by thirty feet, is being driven at Marblehead quarries at Lardeau according to G. B. Wilson, manager of the property. About 17 men are at work at the quarries.

J. C. Reilly and Andy Jensen located a group of eight claims amongst which is the Carbonate.

The lead ores are not all there are on the upper Tulameen; there are others bearing copper and very large, too.

There is the best opening here for a paper mill that one could wish for. Big quantities of pulpwood, sulphur, talc and water for power are at hand.

RAILWAY POINTS.

J. H. Kennedy, engineer of construction on the V.V. & E. arrived from Vancouver last Saturday and went to Coalmont, where grading is under way.

E. E. Coley with Kettle Valley survey party is at Voigt camp running railway lines toward various camps, including the Silver Dollar and Sunset.

Werdenhoff & Jacobson, railway contractors, have two steam shovels at work on construction on V. V. & E.

The settlement of points in dispute between the Kettle Valley railway company and the V. V. & E. is still the subject of conference. No decision has been arrived at and the grading is delayed in consequence. How long, O, how long!

C. J. Seymour, chief of the Kettle Valley survey party in Coquihalla pass, has reached Hope with his final line. Rightofway is being purchased.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

C. J. Wilson, inspector for the P. Burns & Co., Ltd., was in town Tuesday.

W. H. Evans and daughter, Miss Anna, left for Chicago last week to visit relatives there.

At 1 p m. sharp the hockey match will begin at the Owl skating rink today—Keremeos v. Princeton.

INTERNATIONAL GEOLOGICAL CONGRESS.

Socially and scientifically, the last meettng held in Sweeden was notably successful. The opening session was attended by the King of Sweden in person, while at the session devoted to economic problems, a number of the Cabinet Ministers proved their interest and sense of the importance of the occasion by their presence. The arrangements for the conduct of the meeting, for the entertainment of the visiting scientists, and in connection with the several excursions, were planned and carried out with extraordinary ability and precision; and it will require every effort on the part of Canadians to even equal the standard set by Sweden in these respects. It is scarcely necessary to say, however, that no pains are being spared by an energetic and representative executive committee, to which has been entrusted the task of preparing a program for the Twelfth or Canadian Meeting of the Congress.

The Excursions, more especially on the occasion of recent meetings. have been given special prominence. These have two main purposes; one to illustrate, so far as possible, the subjects discussed: and the other to afford visitng members the opportunity of studying the features of gological interest peculiar to the country in which the congress assembles. In connection with the arrangements for the Canadian meeting, provision has been made for over thirty excursions to mining districts and other localities of geological interest in Canada, between the extreme east and west of the continent, and northward as far as Dawson. It is computed, on a basis of numbers in attendance at former meetings, that the representation from abroad, at the Canadian meeting will not be less than, and may exceed, seven hundred. Each excursion will be under the leadership of a qualified guide, who will also be competent to point out and discuss the phenomena constituting the point of interest in each instance. Obviously, the planning and effective conduct of a series of excursions on this scale is no light undertaking; but with the assurance of local aid and co-operation, the duties should not prove insuperable.

The Swedish meeting was marked especially by the publication of a monumental work on 'The Iron Ore Resouces of the World,' to which reports on the distribution and suppy of iron in the respective countries were contributed by eminent authorities. The Executive committee of the Twelfth Congress are to be heartily congratulated on the decision to emulate this example by undertaking the compilation of a companion work on the 'Coal Resources of the World.' Incidently, this report should serve to direct wider attention to the magnitude and value of Canadian resources. The subject of coal resources and supplies will, moreover, form one of the principal topics for discussion at the meeting in Toronto; while other topics of no less economic interest, notably that of the influence of depth on the character of metalliferous deposits, are to be depated.

It is unnecessaiy here, however, to further discuss details, the purpose of the present notes being to give merely a general idea of the aims and work of the Congress and of the significance attaching to its meeting in this country. With a proper realization of the importance of the occasion, the mining men of Canada, no less than the public generally, may be trusted to cordially cooperate with the Congress officials in making the Canadian meeting an unqualified success.

Further information may be obtained by applying to the Secretary, Twelfth International Geological Congress, Victoria Memorial Museum, Ottawa.—H. MORTIMER LAMB.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION.

The Princeton Couservative Association held a meeting last Friday night at which there was fair attendance and important measures considered. The association is alive to the interests of the district regarding railway transportation and the speedy construction of unfinished portions of the direct line to the coast. Its influence will be exerted to have the main line of the Kettle Valley give Princeton east and west transportation in accordance with the demands of this important center The association has a good membership and will, no doubt, prove a helpful factor in procuring the many improvements required in a progressive community. President, C. E. Thomas, secretary, W. C. McDougall.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

The institution of a lodge of Knights of Pythias in the Thomas hall last Thursday night marks an event of social and fraternal importance and is another evidence of the attractiveness of the town for secret and benevolent organizations. Some five or six societies are, or soon will be, established here, which, considering the size of the place, is a splendid record. The Knights of Pythias are a very popular order and their numbers have rapidly increased. The installing officer, Noble R. Binns, P.G, came from Trail, and other prominent Pythians from Penticton and the Boundary were in attendance. After the ceremony a banquet was held at the hotel Princeton, which proved a very pleasant function, lasting until the orb of day had crossed the eastern horizon on its glorions path over and around dear old earth. Following are the officers installed: Neil Thompson, C.C.; Dell Young, P.C.; T. Dignan, V.C.; W. Dignan, K.R.S.; G. G. Lyall, M.F.; P. Russell, M.E.; C. Snowden, I. G.; K. C. Brown, O.G.

The kickers on the farm are not so hard to get along with as the kickers in town. On the farm there is the kicking cow and our long-eared friend, the mule, while in town there is the mossback who does not want improvements. The cow may be sold as beef, the mule traded for a shot gun, but nothing but a funeral will get rid of the town kicker.—Fraser Valley Record.
