Diamonds, platinum and gold in Princeton district.

SIMILKAMEEN STAR

The emptiest life is that which knows not God.

Princeton district belongs to that best and last west which is attracting the attention of the world—Unlimited mineral resources, ideal climate and home of big game, fish and fowl—Best route to Steamboat mining camp; prospector's paradise—Cement works building.

Vol. XII. No. 22. PRINCETON, B.C., WEDNESDAY, MAY 24, 1911. $2 a Year in Advance

WEALTH OF MINERAL

Extensive Copper and Other Deposits in the District of Princeton.

Descriptive Summary of Mineral Resources by Geologist who Made Report.

At the Independence Camp on the head of Bear Creek, is another large low grade copper deposit. The ore here lies in a granite porphyry dike, which is intrusive between schists ahd granite. The entire dike is mineralised with copper sulphides but the values are concentrated only along certain lines of fissuring which traverse the dike, forming deposits of the Butte type. The siliceous nature of the ore is the principal drawback to the development of these deposits.

The gold-copper ores at Law's Camp, also on Bear Creek, are replacement deposits in limestone. The limestones are interbedded with schists, and are intruded by granite and dikes of granite porphyry. The replacing minerals are pyrrhotite, chalcopyrite, galena and blende. The values are fairly high in copper. gold and silver; but from the nature of their origin the ore bodies are hard to follow.

At Hedley, copper ores are found as contact metamorphic deposits in limestone near the line of junction, between diorite and gabbro. These ore bodies contain considerable quantity of arsenopyrite, in addition to chalcopyrite and pyrrhotite, with correspondingly high gold contents, often of sufficient value to admit of the mining of the ores for the recovery of the gold alone.

A great number of claims have been staked and are being prospected in the neighborhood of the mouth of Five Mile Creek on the Similkameen River. The deposits are both veins and contact deposits situated on the contact of either granite or diorite, the principal copper mineral being chalcopyrite. Other deposits of somewhat similiar character are located on One Mile Creek north and east of Princeton.

At Aspen Grove, which lies about 25 miles south of Nicola Lake, native copper and copper sulphides are found impregnating volcanic rocks that have been intruded by porphyritic and granitic eruptives. A similiar occurance of ore is found on Copper Creek, which flows into Kamloops Lake from the north.

GLORIOUS BASEBALL.

A return baseball match was played on Sunday between the Princeton and Coalmont-Tulameen teams in which the latter scored 2 to 8. Capt. Wigmore, with his usual suavity, umpired, and his decisions delivered with hair splitting and hair raising precision, won approval of even fans who stood to lose. Our boys seem to bring home glory every time they go after it, and they are beginning to feel as though the championship of the Similkameen would again fall to their lot. It is probably a little early in the season to speculate but as long as victories come this way it is pardonable to elate somewhat. What about a match on the 2nd of June, the King's birthday?

DOMINION DAY.

Is it not about time to be moving in the direction of Princeton's grand annual celebration on Dominion Day? It is only a few weeks to Saturday, 1st July, and a public meeting is now in order to arrange preliminaries. With a fine new band to play 'O, Canada,' Princeton should make a brave showing on the national holiday. A big program of sports is possible this year with the influx of new athletic blood and increase of population generally. Good sports are the spice of life and that nation or community which does not produce games or athletes is decaying or dead.

MINES AND MINING.

Owing to lack of coke at the smelter at Grand Forks the Granby mines shut down last Monday throwing 500 men out of work. This is due to the Crow's Nest strike of coal miners, still unsettled.

C. F. Law, the well known mining man, was in town last week on his way to the upper Tulameen. He has returned recently from Europe and has succeeded in organizing a company to work placers on the Tulameen river for gold and platinum.

Knight & Day are building a stopping place at 14-mile on the Hope trail for their own convenience in packing into Whipsaw.

J. C. Edwards of Spokane has been in Princeton and vicinity for a week studying the mining possibilities of this section.

C. S. Jennings of Spokane, mining expert, arrived last week on his first visit to Princeton district. He went up to Whipsaw and saw the silver-lead ore which has made that camp famous, expressing the belief that a great future would surely dawn upon that camp. Mr. Jennings is interested in the tungsten deposits just south of the international boundary line, the product of which is already absorbed by a large German concern. He has taken a bond on the Lost Stevenson mine in favor of Spokane capitalists.

Thos. Murray of Rossland and Jas. Higham of Elk City, Id., passed through Princeton last Saturday bound for Steamboat via Hope trail. They would not take the direct trail now building as it was uncertain when it would be open for through traffic.

THE WEEKLY GRIST

Weather is Fine on Victoria Day and Some go to Keremeos.

Whole Family of Coyotes Rooted Out and Now Chickens will Feel Easy.

J. Priest, photographer, has recently arrived from Merritt and is prepared to attend to any orders he may receive.

Col. Robert Stevenson is at present visiting with his family at Sardis.

A number of sportive Princetonians went down to Keremeos to help celebrate Victoria Day.

T. C. Brooke and family arrived from Keremeos last week and have gone into residence on the Westwood estate. Mr. Brooke is a poultry fancier.

Today being a holiday business generally is suspended, only the 'devil' and a few other poor workingmen being obliged to labor. Never mind fellow sufferers, it will be all holiday by-and-bye.

Mrs. E. Waterman and Dolly returned last week from a visit to relatives in California.

The Tulameen hotel has had extensive improvements made, including baths, closets, septic tanks and all the modern conveniences usually found in a well conducted public house. Messrs. Kirkpatrick & Barnes are uptodate and progressive.

Seven coyote puppies were dug out of their den last week and brought to the government office for the usual bounty by H. McCann. He also caught the old ones and thus broke up a bad gang of sheep and chicken thieves. Cougars are also reported in the vicinity, one being caught measuring 15 ft. 4 in. from tip to tip. These are not friendly to man and it is much safer to lift your hat to one than simply wound his feelings or his skin.

Mrs. G. Marshall, of Innisfail, Alb., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Gellatly.

Bells! bells!! bells!!! oh, those cow bells. How they ring, ding, dong, morning noon and night. Bossie is all right in her place. It is rather dangerous now to take a walk on the beautiful green swards after dark.

Before Justices of the Peace Waterman and Thomas on Monday the trial of Wm. Mattison for cutting Furman McLean in a fracas was heard. L. H. Patten appeared for Mattinson who was sentenced to two months imprisonment in Kamloops jail where he was conducted by Const. Ewart. Considerable sympathy is expressed for Mattinson who is an old man and acted under strong provocation in self defence.

Edward George is the obliging clerk of the scales, recently arrived, assistant to J. Gellatly in P. Burns Co., Ld.

G. L. Fraser, superintendent of the Columbia Coal & Coke Co. at Coalmont was in town last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Howse and Miss Howse were visitors last week, having come in their automobile and returning next day. Mr. Howse reports prosperity and progress throughout Nicola district and at Merritt particularly. For prettiness and cleanliness of location he thinks Princeton has them all beaten and was pleased to see the evidences of progress in buildings and the cement works.

P. Y. Smith was a visitor to town during the past week.

Fire Warden Coulthard has received regulations for campers which will be posted all over his district. Everyone should read them carefully before lighting a fire outdoors.

Bill Scruby is reported to have located a clam bank on the coast.

BRITISH COLUMBIA MAGAZINE.

The May number of the British Columbia Magazine, edited by Pollough Pogue and published by the Mantoman Co., Vancouver, maintains its usual excellence and contains articles of interest to prospectors and all others concerned with mining. True to its name this magazine is largely devoted to the upbuilding of the province, descriptive of its great resources and of its hunting and fishing fields. It should command a wide circulation not only at home but in foreign lands where eyes are now turned on this new and last best west. Its illustrations are perfect and the whole tone of the magazine is clean, capable and clever. The current number describes Steamboat mining camp and should be read by all desiring reliable information about it.

FINE NUGGET DISCOVERED.

'Hope-Steamboat Nugget' is the name of the newspaper published at Hope and giving the mining and all other news pertaining to the now celebrated Steamboat camp. The paper is neatly printed and in every respect upholds the high calling to which it aspires. The editor, R. J. Clark, is well known in journalistic circles and if he is the same Clark the writer met 'some forty years ago' on his grand tour of America, he is a cyclonic terror in handling the instrument that is mightier than the sword. Percy Godenrath, or 'Goodenough,' as his chums style him, is financier for the Nugget and has probably attended more births and wakes of newspapers than any other man on the western slope. The Nugget looks good in the outcrop and we hope it will prove a real mine for its owners.

RECIPROCITY, THEN AND NOW.

The father of the old National Policy, Sir, John A. Macdonald, had no thought of annexation to the United States when he proposed reciprocity in trade with that country, nor was he accused of disloyal motives for wanting to extend the commercial business of Canada with a neighbor. Funny thing, now that Sir Wilfrid Laurier makes a like proposition for the extension of trade he is accused of all that is disloyal and unpatriotic; reciprocity now means annexation and the disruption of the empire and, in any case the raw resources of this country will be grabbed by our neighbors and we, the people of Canada, reduced to the condition of mere vassals. It is an awful picture of ruin and national rot that the anti-reciprocity press and politicians now draw. But what did Sir John, the great spirit of the Tory party, say, when he proposed reciprocity? Listen: 'The government of which I am a member, is appealing to the country with a policy which we believe will be heartily endorsed by a great majority of the electors. We have made to the government of the United States proposals for reciprocity in trade, which we have good reason to believe will result in an arrangement by which the markets of the United States will be reopened to the products which our people desire most to send there.' The inconsistency of the Tories, the press of which the Hedley Gazette is a notable example, in lauding Sir John to the seventh heaven for a reciprocity policy which is identical with that of Sir Wilfrid, whom they condemn, requires no further emphasis than mere mention. The Tories have a zeal without knowledge by which a great tactical blunder is committed. By forcing the question of reciprocity to a vote of the country they shut out all hope of victory. Among the great silent mass of consumers, as opposed to the noisy manufacturers and monopolists scattering their cartoons and literature broadcast, there is the deep rooted principle which combats any interference with the right of the subject to purchase where prices are lower or sell where they are higher. And one of the first things enlightened, progressive legislators will aim to do is the erasure of all barriers which hinder the free interchange of trade, following which more friendly relations, if not universal peace, may be expected.

CONTROL VICE IF NOT CONQUER IT.

All frontier towns have had to grapple with the various problems which concern the moral, political and social welfare of citizens and it is of the highest importance to start right and lay the foundations of the new town firmly and orderly. In unincorporated towns there are only the magistrates and the police who represent that authority which clothes them with power to cope with the common vices of gambling, drunkenness and prostitution. Since it is the experience of past centuries, recorded in history, that the total suppression of vice was well nigh impossible with unregenerate man, it is only possible to control and confine it to the minimum number of depraved humanity. The guardians of the peace, the church, the press and all good citizens have a work to do in controlling vice and assist those whose duty it is to enforce the law regarding it. A great deal is said these days about the 'necessary evil' in palliation of wrong doing. Of course there is no such thing as a necessary evil; it is not found in philosophy nor in God's law, and it is the invention of weaklings who would rather tolerate vice than combat it. If vice be permitted to go unchecked soon the bloom of purity will fade from the cheeks of the innocent, the home will become corrupt and the abomination will flaunt itself in every strata of society. Vice infected houses should be removed beyond the gates of the city, just as pest houses are, and the names of all who make their habitation there, of either sex should be recorded for public inspection and police purposes. The intimate relation of sin and disease is now well known and the cure of both requires similar treatment—segregation will help because it confines the sin or the disease to a certain quarter and thus lessens the dangers of contamination.

France is reputed to be one of the most wicked countries on earth and it has the lowest birth rate. Dr. Bertillon says the French nation is in danger of dying out.

At last conservative old England is adopting modern methods and will pay its legislators. Hitherto only rich men could enjoy a seat in parliament but now the poorest proletarian may sit alongside that moneymaking lawyer and erstwhile Canuck, J. Martin, Esq., M. P. for St. Pancakes, Lunnon-in-th'-smoke. When the lords are abolished, class distinctions eliminated and the pauper poor properly provided for there will be little fault to find.
