TULAMEEN PLATINUM

Creeks and Streams Bear Precious Metal, at One Time Nuisance.

Gold and Platinum Associated in Deposits on Bars—Miners Threw It Away.

Report by Charles Camsell on the platinum deposits of the Tulameen river and which was read recently at the annual meeting of the Canadian Mining Institute at Toronto:

'The tributaries of the Tulameen river worthy of important consideration in connection with the mining of platinum are Granite Creek and its branches, Cedar and Slate Creeks, entering from the south and Bear and Eagle Creeks from the north.

Mining Chief Industry.

British Columbia, whose resources were at first thought to be of little value, except to fur traders, became a mineral producing country after the discovery of placer gold on the Fraser river in 1858 The large influx of miners in this and the years immediately after led to discoveries elsewhere, and in 1860 gold was reported to have been found on the upper Similkameen river at a point a short distance above the mouth of the Tulameen river. It is probable, however, that some bars were worked on the Tulameen river about this time, for after the Granite Greek excitement in 1885, old workings were found on the Tulameen near the mouth of Slate Creek. Although it is now known that some of the bars worked by the pioneer miners contained platinum in association with the gold, no statement in respect of the recovery of the former metal was ever officially recorded in British Columbia. Dr. Dawson, however, mentions having received in 1877 a small sample, containing about an ounce of platinum obtained from some workings on the Similkameen river about three and a half miles above the town of Princeton.

History of Platinum Mining.

For the 25 years following the first discovery of gold on the Similkameen river, placer mining was not prosecuted with any great vigor, and in the latter part of this period was carried on almost exclusively by Chinese. The discovery of coarse gold on Granite Creek in 1885, by a cowboy, one John Chance, revived the declining industry and occasioned the greatest rush in the mining history of the district. Other discoveries higher up the Tulameen, quickly followed, and in the subsequent three years the output of the district reached its maximum. Since then there has been a second gradual decline in output; but it is hoped that this may soon again give place to activity not only in placer but also in lode mining The history of platinum mining in the Tulameen dates from the Granite Creek excitement in 1885, and as platinum is essentially a product of the placers, its history is intimately bound up with that of gold placer mining here. In the early days on Granite Creek when platinum was purchasable at the rate of about 50 cents an ounce it was regarded by the miners as a detriment rather than otherwise, and usually was not even saved in the cleanup. When a little later, however, the price had advanced to about $3 an ounce, the metal when recovered was saved and this has been the practise since.

Where It Is Found.

Not all the creeks tributary to the Tulameen river contained platinum in association with the gold. In general it may be said that the placers on creeks on the southern side of the Tulameen river from Granite Creek to Champion Creek, including the Tulameen itself, carried platinum as well as gold, while on the northern side of the river only Bear and Eagle creeks were productive, although not to a very large extent. The best placers were undoubtedly those of the Tulameen river itself between the mouths of Slate and Champion Creeks. Here the coarsest nuggets were found, and the proportion of gold to platinum was about one to one. Slate Creek was next in importance, and then Cedar Creek, Granite Creek and its western tributaries, Bear and Eagle creeks Boulder creek, flowing into Otter lake north of the Tulameen river, though much worked for gold, contained no platinum. On the Tulameen river itself no platinum was found above the mouth of Champion Creek and below Slate creek the grains became finer and the quantity gradually decreased.

Methods and Progress.

The methods employed in the mining of platinum were those commonly practised by the individual miner when mining for placer gold. Previous to 1891 the miners in the country were without capital, and either worked singly or in small groups on ground which might be developed without large capital outlay and which promised quick returns. The shallow bars and the beds of the streams naturally received first attention, and later some of the benches and deeper gravels. By wingdamming, the beds of the streams were made accessible, while in the deeper workings drifting on the bed rock was the common method employed to reach the pay gravels. The pay gravels in Granite Creek rested on the solid rock, and were in a hard layer compactly cemented together, but which readily on washing.

THE RAGING RIVERS

Waters Damage Bridges on V.,V. & E. and give Much Anxiety.

Highest in Years, Now Subsiding and Danger Averted—Hot Spell Did It.

The highest rise in the rivers for years occurred Monday and Tuesday. It was caused by unusually warm days and nights in the Hope mountains, bringing down a tremendous volume of swiftly running water. There was little damage done locally but the railway suffered much loss and damage by two bridges being partially wrecked between Hedley and Keremeos.

Of course all traffic is hung up on the V.,V. & E and the road is not likely to be in operation for three or four days, if indeed, it is possible to have it open in that time. Meantime travellers are using the old Nicola and Keremeos stage routes and freight is delayed until trains are running again.

The latest report regarding the resumption of traffic puts it at ten days. It is expected that mails will come via Keremeos by special stage. Trains are running to Keremeos.

SALE OF COAL LANDS.

The largest single transaction in coal lands near Princeton was recently accomplished at Spokane, 12,200 acres en bloc, being transferred, Andrew Laidlaw, representing a strong company, inclnding the multimillionaire tobacco manufacturer, J. Macdonald, of Montreal, with Vancouver and Spokane capital, acquired the lands, the price being yet unknown to the public.

The major portion of the lands are those formerly held by the B.C. Colliery Co., near Princeton, the Idaho Coal Co., and certain claims held by C. O. French and J. B. Wood. The lands are handily situated for working purposes. It is said that the company will begin shipping as soon as possible. Mr. Laidlaw is expected to arrive in Princeton shortly, when, no doubt, a more definite statement of the company's intentions will be forthcoming.

CONCERT AND PLAY.

Those who were responsible for the concert and play, 'Turn Him Out,' which was given last Friday night in the I.O O. F. hall before a large audience, have every cause for gratification. The results had an intrinsic value, $81.75, which was a full compliment of that other value which comes of real merit and genuine desire to please the public. The dance was well attended and the music and floor beyond criticism.

The following is the cast of characters in 'Turn Him Out:' F. E. Groffman, Nicodemus Nobbs; E. Waterman, Mr. Roseleaf; G. H. Armstrong, Mackintosh Moke; Mrs. Marlow, Mrs. M. Moke; Mrs Waterman, Susan (Maid); S. Moore and Victor Ryder, two porters.

In the concert Mrs. Waterman sang; Mrs. Marlow and Mr. Lumsden, duet; Mr. Waterman, recitation; W. Daly, violin solo; Mr. Lumsden, song; Mr. Coulthard, cornet solo; Mr. Groffman, song; Mrs. Sproule, accompanist. Refreshments were served. Proceeds were in behalf of the Church of England.

CANADIAN MINT SHOWS GOOD PROFIT.

An Ottawa despatch says regarding the Royal Mint that since its opening on January 1st, 1908, there has been a net profit to the Dominion of $63,857 after allowing $13,100 as interest on the cost of construction.

The profit on the coinage of silver was $172,544, on bronze $21,565, and miscellaneous $1,148, giving a total gross profit of $194,958.

Deporting United States silver from Canada involved considerable expense. The experiment was first tried in 1906. In that year the value of coin returned to New York was $580,224 and the cost of removal $7,383. The policy then lapsed three years.

It was started again August 30th, 1908 and from then to January 19th, 1910, it cost $5,197 to deport coin valued at $561,760.

GRANITE CREEK NEWS.

Granite Creek, May 4.—The Columbia Coal & Coke Co. recently completed building their ferry on which to cross the Tulameen river opposite Collins gulch from which point they intend building a road up to their property. N. Huson brought up a load of material last week which is being packed up from Granite to the mine, where a force of men are working.

J. J. Marks and family, of Hedley, have taken up their residence in Granite.

L. Lavalley and wife came up from Princeton the other day and as a result he has sold his outfit to the C.C. & C. Co.

L, Marcotte recently went to Princeton and Hedley on a business trip.

INVITATION.

Mrs. Swanson, who is leaving shortly for Scotland, begs to extend a general and cordial invitation to the public of Princeton and vicinity for a social dance to be held in the Oddfellows' Hall on Friday evening, May 20th. An earnest welcome is assured.

All Orangemen are invited to attend the meeting to be held in the I.O.O.F. hall on May 19th, at 7:30 p.m.

KING EDWARD VII.

By the death of our King last Friday night an Empire of many nations, and kindreds, and tongues mourns for him who had endeared himself to every subject, high or low. Though sovereign, he was essentially a man of the people, entering into their joys and afflictions with the spirit and tenderness of a father. No one could think of him as a ruler, although he was one: real, firm in discipline and fair in judgment, but he ruled so wisely that he commanded the love of all. Some of his great benefactions in behalf of the sick poor will reveal a true nobility of spirit that wins always and at all times. He loved peace and so he promoted it by his good words and offices, the full force and effect of which cannot be known until history has made it public. In this respect he will be handed on to future generations as 'Peacemaker.' Like his illustrious mother he added much to the popularity and esteem of the British among other nations, and so, too, by their splendid personalities have they done more than all legislation to knit the colonies and motherland into a compact whole. Canadians have a peculiar regard and affection for our late, deeply lamented king, in that he could be kingly and yet remain democratic enough to constitute one of the people. So he entered into our hearts and we love him as the good friend. Citizens of Princeton and the district generally extend their sympathy along with that of the whole Empire, to the bereaved widow and children.

A residence for C. Graham, Mine Superintendent for the Vermllion Forks Co., is being built on Fenchurch Av. East.

C. J. Wilson, Vernon, of the P. Burns Co, butchers and pork packers, is in town on a business visit.

J. A. Macalpine, chief of commissary for Stewart & Welch, railway contractors, went to Spokane to consult an eye specialist.

COPPER HANDBOOK

(New Edition issued March, 1908.)

SIZE: Octavo.

PAGES: 1228.

CHAPTERS: 25.

SCOPE: The copper industry of the world.

COVERING: Copper history, geology, geography, chemistry, mineralogy, mining, milling, leaching, smelting, refining, brands, grades, impurities, alloys, uses, substitutes, terminology, deposits by districts, states, countries and continents, mines in detail, statistics of production, consumption, imports, exports, finances, dividends, etc.

The Copper Handbook is concededly the World's Standard Reference Book on Copper.

The miner needs the book for the facts it gives him regarding geology, mining, copper deposits and copper mines.

The metallurgist needs the book for the facts it gives him regarding copper milling, leaching, smelting and refining.

The copper consumer needs the book for every chapter it contains. It tells what, and explains how and why.

The investor in copper shares cannot afford to be without it. The Copper Handbook gives statistics and general information on one hand, with thousands of detailed mine descriptions on the other, covering the copper mines of the entire world, and the 40 pages of condensed statistical tables alone are worth more than the price of the book to each and every owner of copper miuing shares.

PRICE: $5 in buokram with gilt top, or $7.50 in full library morocco.

TERMS: The most liberal. Send no money, but order the book sent you, all carriage charges prepaid, on one week's approval, to be returned if unsatisfactory, or paid for if it suits. Can you afford not to see the book and judge for yourself of its value to you?
