The home friend and cook's delight: Princeton coal.

SIMILKAMEEN STAR

It is manly to be independent; mulish to be stubborn. I'm an ass!

The Similkameen valley is so varied in resources that it cannot fail to suit all classes of men: Mineral land for prospectors and miners; farming, fruitgrowing and grazing land for the agriculturist; timber land for the mill man; homes for the million:

Vol. XI. No. 40. PRINCETON, B. C., WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1910. $2 a Year in Advance

COAL IS OUR STAPLE

Large Area of Coal Ground Which will Afford Fuel For Ages.

Changing Name of Company—Coal is of Best Domestic Quality—Good Supply.

Changing the name of the Vermilion Forks Mining and Development Co. to that of the Princeton Coal and Land Co. calls for some passing remarks. Under the former name the company has been in existence in Princeton for about eleven years, the latter name having been only recently acquired by legislative act. The Princeton Coal and Land Co., L'd, with head office in London, England, is managed in Princeton by E. Waterman, agent, other officials of the company being E. S Neave, secretary, 15 Gt. St. Helens St., London, Eng., and A. Hickling, managing-director, Norfolk Lodge, Streatham, London, England.

Market Will Widen.

The coal mine is now shipping steadily and everything points to a steady increase in output. When it is considered that the consuming area for Princeton coal is limited, owing to the unfinished state of the V.,V. & E., it is, under the circumstances, producing all that is demanded of it. A visit to the mine well repays anyone not familiar with coal mining, for then one gets an idea of the great labor and expense in opening up and developing a new mine. Here one sees the wonderful provision made in nature's storehouse for the comfort and necessities of humanity. Millions of tons of energy deposited here awaiting the sturdy miner's muscle to bring to surface and distribute wherever the needs of man demand.

Right-Feet of Coal in Face.

Under the courteous guidance of Robert Naylor, who came here from Nanaimo to install the lighting plant, electric signals and telephone, and whose general knowledge of electricity, steam pumps, engines, boilers, etc., makes him generally useful around a coal mining plant, a party of ladies and gentlemen were recently initiated into the mysteries of the science of coal mining. Mr. Naylor, with infinite pains and kindness, explained many things, from the power of heat in baking bannocks down to the latest discoveries in the realms of hydrostatics. The dynamo room, in utter darkness as one entered was transformed into a flood of dazzling light; electric signals reaching from the mine to the engine and hoist room in charge of Mr. Gordon, a born engineer, careful and competent; through the telephone the party were introduced to E. B Hall who as engineer-in-chief receives reports and directs the operation of the mine.

James Holden is superintendent of the mine, recently succeeding Chas. Graham, who is now superintendent of the Middlesboro coal mines, employing 350 men. Mr. Holden comes from Hosmer, where he gave the fullest measure of satisfaction.

The Princeton Coal and Land Co., has a very valuable coal property, which virtually has illimitable possibilities in production. An eight foot seam of pure coal is now presented in the face of the workings and there are other strata underlying. The present and future of Princeton largely depends upon the coal mining in and around Princeton. At present the mine is working one full shift and as the winter draws on a large demand may be expected, together with an increased payroll.

THE GOSPEL OF PEACE.

Rev. G. R. B. Kinney, Methodist, conducted service in Oddfellows' hall Sunday night, a large audience giving close attention to an earnest, soul appealing sermon. His sincerity and honest purpose to do good are apparent, and these with self elimination in the pulpit are most refreshing and appreciated by the church going public. His monthly visits here will, no doubt, be looked forward to with interest, resulting in spiritual growth, unity where discord lurked and having those fruits which tend to harmony and happiness. To such preaching no one, be he pagan or theosophist, socialist or scientist, could possibly take any reasonable objection. Mr. Kinney stated that he did not come here to create any discord, that there were good and bad ministers, and that he was pleased to see so many present. Outspoken, without affectation or love of pelf, sincere, Mr. Kinney is sure to wear well here, in consonance with his record at other places.

PORTLAND CEMENT WORKS.

C. R. Briggs, secretary-treasurer of the British Columbia Portland Cement Co., Ld., recently arrived from Spokane and is busy getting things in shape for active construction of buildings on the company's property, Onemile. This week fifteen men will be employed in building bunk and cook houses. This force will be increased when the other buildings for manufacturing purposes are begun. Mining operations will also be started in due course The office of the company and its chief place of business is in Princeton. The capital stock of the company is $500,000, in 5000 shares of $100 each. The incorporators are R. P. McLennan, J. A. Harvey and L. W. Stone, all of Vancouver, and L. W. Shatford, of Hedley, and R. Cross of Spokane, Wash. The official notice of incorporation will appear in next week's Star.

THE WEEKLY GRIST

Excellent Drives in the Country Districts over Good Roads.

Increase Working Force on V.,V. & E. —Missionary Appointed to This Field.

J H. Kenuedy, C. E., arrived in town last week in connection with his official position on V., V. & E. railway. One hundred more men have been added to the working force on construction between Princeton and Tulameen. Mr. Kennedy was suddenly taken ill with rheumatism while here and will probably be removed to some hot springs for treatment.

The Presbyterian home mission board recently closed its session and made among a number of other appointments that of C. D. Kerr to the Princeton mission field. His duties are expected to begin next Sunday. He takes the place of Mr. Conn, who has been removed to a farming district, Okanagan Centre.

An excellent country drive is now possible through the beautiful valley and lake country up one Onemile The improvements in the road recently made give a more even grade and conduce to speed and comfort. Some fine ranches are to be seen along the road, which include those of Percy Rowlands, Billy Green, W. H. Hagerman, A. F. McKenzie and W. Murray. There is also good mineral land in this section.

M. Nicholson is relieving in the Bank of Commerce during the manager's absence, coming here from Penticton. Mr. Nicholson has recently come from Dawson City, Yukon Ter., where he served in the bank for two years.

A church of England minister has been appointed to Princeton and services are expected to begin about the middle of October.

Avery & Avery report the sale of Lot 13, block 15, Merritt, from Lillian Gertrude McFadden of Princeton, to John A. McDonald of Merritt—price, $1,100.

Dr. Lazier writes from Ft. George that there is great progress in that rising town, it being full of live, wideawake people. He mentions J. R. Campbell as doing a thriving business in drugs and stationery. Many friends here will be pleased to hear of the success of these young men.

D. G. McCurdy is agent for the celebrated Oliver typewriter, orders for which may be left with him at Carle's store, Bridge street.

Mr. and Mrs. Marlow left last Saturday on a visit to relatives near Kamloops. Mr. Marlow is on his annual vacation and a large circle of friends wish both he and Mrs. Marlow 'happy days' during their month's absence.

A social dance will be held in the I.O. O.F. Hall, Friday night, 30th inst.

Mrs. Hagerman laid on the sanctum table of the Star a pretty bouquet of flowers grown in her garden on Onemile. Considering the backward summer and unusually early fall frosts the flowers bespeak idealistic conditions on Onemile.

For Sale—Morris chair, Singer sewing machine, screens, table, cook stove, horse hair mattress and cot kitchen utensils. Enquire at Massonat's jewelry store.

R. Fitzgerald piloted a party of Vancouverites over Hope mountains into Whipsaw camp last week and showed them the various workings. Thos. Kiddie, the well known smelterman was in the party. They were all pleased with the camp and will shortly return via Princeton.

Victor Voigt has been home on vacation from college studies at Portland, Ore., and has been prospecting at Steamboat mountain, where the recent stampede occurred. He and Geo. Aldous staked a claim each and they stand to make a couple of fortunes if the gold holds out. The woods are full of prospectors and good strikes have been made. In six months Vic will be a fully qualified M.E., and we think he is showing good judgment in his purpose to begin his professional career in Princeton. Success to him.

A. Hickling left Monday for London, Eng., after about two months' visit.

E. Waterman went down to Grand Forks last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Armstrong, Keremeos; Mrs. W. H. Armstrong, Cargill Armstrong and the Misses Woodrow, Vancouver, and the Misses Vincent, Victoria, were a party of visitors in Princeton last Friday. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carmichael and Harry Armstrong was guide to the various points of interest, describing the beauty, expansion and great natural wealth of Princeton and district.

L. W. Shatford, M.P.P., has presented Penticton with land and a lakelet to be used as a public park.

NEW GROCERY BUSINESS.

O. H. Carle, wholesale fruit and vegetables, and retail grocer, of Keremeos and Princeton, is opening up a large stock here and will be a factor in the commercial life of Princeton. He is located in the French block and keeps a varied stock of first class goods. Mr. Carle is an experienced eastern business man and will have his headquarters at Keremeos, the Princeton store being managed by D. G. McCurdy, a popular and energetic young business man. See ad. in next week's issue.

THE BLARE OF THE 'SUNSET.'

The Saturday Sunset editor is a rantin', tearin' example of those afflicted with that dread disease cacoethes scribendi. Every time he says anything about the V.,V. & E. he seems to get an attack of writers' colic, cramp or worms, something that just seems to turn him sour toward everyone and everything that crosses his narrow little trail. It is too bad that a paper which is mechanically nice and tasty should be marred from week to week with the mental apparitions of a dreamer. Instead of reason, consistency of argument and the respect that is due to all honestly expressed opinion, the Sunset man employs raillery, bombast and ethics which savor of the barnyard. A newspaper that opens its vials of abuse upon all who do not express opinions agreeing with it cannot command respect nor carry any weight with intelligent persons. If there were even gleams of humor to offset the mad frothings of this prolific, yet quixotic scribbler, there would be some relief to the stress of our plaint; but humor there is none and wit is absent. Star has no desire for notoriety, does not want its fair name trailed in the dust of the front page of Saturday Sunset and unless left quite alone in the future it will resort, not to the sinuosities of legal entanglements in long drawn trial, but to the short and swift arbitrament afforded by coffee and pistols straight.

THE CAUSE, THE EFFECT.

Because the Hedley Gazette and the Star supported the broad guage railway policy of Premier McBride during last election campaign and opposed John Oliver and the Saturday Sunset's narrow guage scheme of connecting up the Similkameen with the coast, the latter never loses an opportunity to show its petty pique. One of its wide columns in the issue of Sept. 17th was filled with stuff wholly irrelevant of the question raised by the Star, which suggested that pressure be brought to bear on the Dominion government through the board of trade to urge upon Mr. Hill the early completion of the V.,V. & E. Everyone knows that Mr. Hill is within the bounds of the letter of his charter. But the spirit of it is in consonance with the general public opinion that the railway would be built along ordinary business lines, having once begun it would be speedily completed and brought into earning condition. But Mr. Hill does not build the V.,V. & E. on ordinary business lines; he builds a while then rests a while, builds some more then takes a long breath, builds another stretch then stops from sheer exhaustion. Now Mr. Hiil has other railway projects in Canada and he will require legislation to build them. Until he shows a disposition to complete the V..V. & E. continuously and speedily the government would be well advised by the various boards of trade to withhold any further legislation in his behalf. This, in effect, is what the Star first suggested and this is what the Sunset endeavored to ridicule. If, as it alleges, it is the friend of the Similkameen why does it not put aside that horrible growl and nasty personalities when the interests of this district are at stake? Star ventures to suggest to our contemporary to cease belng destructive and a mere faultfinder; rather be constructive, extolling the resources of the beautiful Similkameen and praising her editors for their untiring boost and labor in the uplift of humanity generally.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Teddy of the hippopotami and rhino in Africa is now turning his guns on big game in the United States. Recently he poured some hot shot into that hydra headed monster, the trust. His little bullets hardly grazed the thick skin of the enormous beast. However, he will probably use a revolutionary bomb on the brute during the hunt and thus gain the plaudits of the people. If Star may be allowed, it would suggest that Teddy make his next shot at the great American pig—the grafter.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is again at the capital after his trip to the west covering some ten thousand miles. The question is being asked: what will be the political effect of his trip? So far as his winning back the lost and strayed Liberals is concerned it is doubtful if one vote has been reclaimed. B. C. has been sadly neglected in the matter of appropriations that eastern provinces might be pandered to and kept in line. Princeton will be irrevocably Conservative unless justice is done.

With the completion of the waterworks Princeton will be right up to date in improvements and it will be incumbent on the citizens to patronize this priceless boon of good and pure water. The waterworks are an asset of the town which cannot fail as an inducement to people to reside here.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF LIFE.

The reason why people succeed who mind their own business is because there is so little competition in their line.

The smile of some is merely the veneer used to conceal envy.

No man has a great mission who slights little ministries.

You cannot live for people without living with them.

Lessons learned in the cradle last to the grave.

The person who neither recedes nor progresses in religion is a spiritual corpse.

Cast no pearls before swine nor waste time in trying to make a mule appreciate reason or common sense.
