Vol. XII. No. 25. PRINCETON, B.C., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 14, 1911.. $2 a Year in Advance

SLOW RAILWAY BUILDING.

No Indications of Advance on the Last Remaining Link.

J. H. Kennedy, chief engineer of the V. V. & E. railway, has announced that the Great Northern railway has definitely abandoned the idea of building a line between Sumas Landing and Hope, paralleling the Canadian Northern line, but through an arrangement with Sir William Macbenzie will use that line for a distance of thirty-eight miles. The Great Northern will probably reciprocate by permitting the Canadian line to use its tracks between Vancouver and Port Kells, at least until the latter has built its line between Port Mann and Port Kells.

During his month's tour, Mr. Kennedy secured the approval of the board of railway commissioners at Ottawa of the plans of the V. V. & E. railway for forty one miles from Tulameen to the source of the Coquihalla river. While at St. Paul, Mr. Kennedy was authorized to call for tenders for the construction of nine wooden bridges on the line between Abbottsford and Sumas Landing, in the building of which some five million feet of timber will be used.

No instructions for the construction of the line from Tulameen to the summit have yet been issued. The work will be heavy. The impression prevails that it will not be undertaken until next year, as the outfits of railway contractors working have been withdrawn from railhead to Tulameen.—Province.

[The railhead is still at Princeton and there is not a sign of tracklaying on the completed grade to Tulameen. J. Macalpine, chief of commissary for Stewart & Welch, railway contractors, is the last of the firm's employees remaining here. A lot of contractors' rails and implements are rusting nicely in the yard, all on account of Jim. Will he ever get this last link built?—ED.]

DOMINION DAY.

Owing to improvements on Vermilion Av. no races or sports can be held on it as in former years. Dominion Day is drawing near and no suitable grounds have been found. It will not redound to the credit of Princeton to permit her day to pass without proper celebration. Outsiders are planning to spend the day with citizens and it will be a disappointment if there is nothin' doin'. Seeing that the gentlemen are hardly equal to the task of providing a day's menu of celebration sports perhaps the ladies would suggest and assist them out of the dilemma. An old fashioned picnic with games, baseball, foot races, swings, band, bucking horse exhibition, squaw races, daylight dance, calithumpian procession, feudejoie, balloon or kite ascension, fireworks, barbecue, &c., would help pass the 'day we celebrate.'

PRINCETON BRASS BAND.

Statement of Receipts and Expenses—Band will Enlighten and Please.

The bass horn, bass drum, snare drum, cymbals and fixtures for purchase of which a snbscription list was circulated among the citizens, have arrived and are in use. The other band instruments are owned personally by members of the band who are also devoting their time to this worthy object, a valuable asset to any town. The following donations are acknowledged and others whose names are on the list are reminded that the subscriptions are due. The management would be pleased to hear from any others wishing to help along the cause. The instruments are the well known Williams Class A Artist, used by many of the leading bands in Canada. Cost of instruments, $97.03, express $23.35, total $120.38

BATSTONE—THYNNE.

The marriage of Miss Ethel, daughter of John G. and Mrs. Thynne, to Mr. E. Batstone, was solemnized at the parental home, Penstowe Ranch, Otter Valley, on Wednesday, June 7th, at high noon. The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. J. Williams, Anglican, in the presence of relatives and a few friends. At the conclusion of the solemn service a splendid luncheon was served and toasts proposed. The happy couple will reside in Otter Valley and are now receiving the congratulations of many friends, in which Star heartily joins.

WILLARSON—TREE.

The wedding of Miss Branch Tree to Charles Willarson was solemnized at Velva, North Dakota, U.S.A., on Wednesday, June 7th, in the presence of friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The bride is a sister of Mrs. L. Huston and has many friends in Princeton. The groom is one of the pioneers of this section and is head of the firm Willarson & Co. The popular couple arrived in Princeton Monday and are in residence on Halliford Av., the recipients of showers of congratulations. Star extends felicitations.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Population of Princeton must Show Steady Growth.

S. L. Smith, of the Hedley Gold Mines Co., was a visitor to Princeton last week, the first time he had set foot in the great coal town of the Similkameen. As with all strangers, the first thing that impressed him was the natural beauty of the town. With the great and varied resources surrounding Mr. Smith appreciates the possibilities of development.

Mr. Cleveland, D.L.S , is working up Silver creek on the west slope, endeavoring to find a route for the interprovincial trunk road over Hope mountains.

At the concert the other evening there was considerable te-heeing and audible whispering, much to the annoyance of performers. The habit of te-heeing and tittering at public gatherings is a borrowed custom from the Cannibal islands, where the natives te hee just before feasting on a good, fat, tender missionary. The habit is spreading in America and one not infrequently observes it even at religious services.

Born—On the 12th inst., the wife of W. J. Waddell, of a son.

Born—On the 13th inst., the wife of Geo. E. Wardle, of a daughter.

Geo. Wardle returned Monday from a flying trip to Hope over the mountain trail. He reports Hope booming and in the jargon of 'leetle Bateese, she will boom some more.' A very rich strike has been recently made in Steamboat camp and it is all the talk of the town. A moving picture show, two newspapers and flourishing bnsiness have revived the long sleeping hopes of oldtime Hopers. Luke Gibson has had an injunction put on an opposition ferry and is now in full possession of his ferry rights on the Fraser river.

The hum of industry has caused C. L. Cummings to seek larger premises and he will build next to the livery stable on ground leased from T. Day.

Drop around and see the cement building blocks next Star office in lumber yard made by J. Knudson.

STEPPING HIGHER

Constable N. Ewart, who has been on the provincial police for some years, has been promoted to another department of government service with headquarters at Keremeos. His appointment is in succession to the late fire warden, W. T. Atherton, a position with increased pay and likable duties. During Mr. Ewart's term in Princeton he has proven to be a capable and consciencious officer, brooking no interference with his duties and performing them with most general satisfaction to the public. He has maintained order and reduced infractions of the law to a minimum. His many friends here will wish him continued promotions and prosperity.

THE HOSPITAL BENEFIT.

Concert was Splendid Success and Nets Hospital Goodly Sum.

The concert in aid of the hospital last Friday night was a grand success from every standpoint. The audience was large and appreciative, the hospital benefitted by the handsome sum of $35, the concert was the best ever given here and everybody was delighted. This briefly summarizes what otherwise might well fill two columns.

It would be difficult to here present an analytical review of the various numbers on the program, only a few of the more salient parts may be touched, leaving to the audience their generous meed of testimony as to the details. Mrs. Brown has a rich, resonant and withal a musical voice which impresses her audience from the first uttered note to the last ebbing trill. 'O, Dry Those Tears,' was probably her best selection, but in all she won prolonged applause, to which she cordially responded.

Miss Daly as a pupil reflects great credit upon her teacher (Mrs. Brown) and gives much promise. A bright future is in store for this young lady, her musical talent and voice leaving no doubt as to her already discovered and latent ability. She won many deserved encomiums.

The Misses Marjorie and Gertrude Smith charmed the audience with their exquisite instrumental selections, one being played with the left hand alone which showed unusual skill and ability. The gifted young ladies have a certain touch and mastery of the piano which command appreciation and genuine applause.

Mr. Daly gave two numbers on the violin, for which he was encored. His style and execution are classic, creating a favorable impression on his auditors who wili always welcome him. In the cello duet with Mrs. Smith both were loudly applauded.

Little Miss Wheeler gave recitations in such quaint and humorous style that won the hearts and plaudits of all.

Mr. Sauve is right at home with the jargon of the habitant and his readings were well received. It is hoped he will appear again.

Mr. Waterman was in his usual good form as chairman and expressed thanks to Mrs. Brown and all her company for their generous help.

A brick made from a fine quality of clay found at Granite Creek may be seen at the store of F. P. Cook. In appearance it is not unlike terracotta and is fine grained and almost colorless. There appears to be a considerable body of it although development may yet prove anything. A Mr. Seeley of Merritt has located the ground, which lies near the bridge. It is said to be a good potter's clay and veins of it are found on Welldo.

LONDON TIMES' BAD BREAK.

A paper posing as the leader of independent English political ideas and thought, yclept the Times, of London, displays a narrow, islandish spirit when it accuses Sir Wilfrid Laurier of using a 'fine syrup of words' in speaking of imperial unity. For any newspaper possessing the generally paraded intelligence and honor of the Times to sneer at Sir Wilfrid's protestations of loyalty to the empire after he has given so many proofs of his sincerity, shows a carping, prejudiced, if not malicious, spirit From whom came the preferential tariff, imperial penny postage, the blood of patriotic sons on the veldt and many other loyal tokens tending toward imperial unity and the consolidation of the empire? The Canadian premier initiated and gave effect to legislation which made these things actual links in the problem of a geographically scattered yet indivisible empire. Now, the Times with very bad manners fairly insults the man who is guest of London and the British nation and strives to weaken his prestige in the imperial conference. The hypocrisy of the Times in flaunting an ostensible independence and at the same time pandering to the anti progressive Tories and fogey fiscal reformers, is unmistakable. As the elder and possibly more independent of several children in the family of empire neither Canada nor its Premier will bend the knee to any section of the British public who require servility or cringing as a test of loyalty. Equality and a full partnership are the only terms on which a solid foundation for a great Anglo-Saxon empire may be laid. On these terms it may be possible to include the United States, our strayed elder brother, in the grandest federation the world has ever known. The British empire will exist only in name so long as the mother country wants her children to remain of the apron string kind. Organic union will come when the 'independent' Times and the British public as a whole recognize the fact that Canada is of age and must be taken into the councils of the parent if expenditure of money and its attendant responsibilities are to be shared in the protection of the empire. Can it be reasonably expected of a son to contribute toward armament that dear old pa in a fit of passion may with it some day attempt to flog him? When the son sits in council with his father there is common cause and united action; denied that the son either leaves the parental roof and sets up for himself or remains at home little better than the hireling. Sir Wilfrid as a dutiful son, has averred his loyalty time and again, and his works prove it. He has offered all any self respecting premier could and he is waiting for the mother country to manifest some preference for her own children. Britain does a rattling good business with her colonies in lending money and trade and if it were not for these mere sentiment would not bind. Business is business, and all governments cater to it. Star has guardedly refrained from any remark that would embarrass the members of the imperial conference or jeopardize the pending arbitration peace pact between Britain and the United States, but it cannot allow the opportunity to pass to condemn the Times for its petty, personal attack upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He is the leading statesman of the empire, working for the common weal of united empirists and all humanity; he is opposed to militarism, a fading fad of the jingoes and such blatant newspapers as the Times. Imperial unity from the pen of a Times scribe is nothing more than a party warhoop, lacking in that sincerity which convicts and converts, yet provoking animosity and agitation. Our part ing advice to the Times is not to trifle with this great question, cutting out all personal animus and forgetting that Canada is a mere playground of partizan politicians striving to hold or gain the reins of power. It is now a nation within an empire, to which dignified position it has been elevated by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and if his words are given due consideration the questions of united empire, reciprocity and universal peace will soon be solved.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

It is shown on reliable data that Canada has enough wheat growing land to supply the world with breadstuffs. In the Peace river country there is room for millions of wheat growers and beyond in the Mackenzie river basin there is a vast lone land waiting for the pioneer farmer, fisherman and miner.

The one outstanding need of the Similkameen is a smelter to treat the abundance of ores known to be scattered all over the district. Here is every requisite for cheap treatment of ores. Coking coal, water power, short haulage and splendid sites are available for smelting operations on any scale.

To the Sheriff of the County of Yale.

We command you that you attach, seize and safely keep all the personal property, credits and effects, together with all evidence of title, or debts, books of account, vouchers and papers belonging thereto of A. J. Saunders, to secure and satisfy Wilson Bros., a certain demand of $252.08, with his costs of suit, and to satisfy the debt and demand of such other creditors of the said A. J. Saunders, as shall duly place their writs of attachment in your hands, or otherwise lawfully notify you of their claim, and duly prosecute the same. And we also command the said A. J. Saunders, that within three weeks from the first publication of this writ, he do cause special bail to be entered for him in our County Court of Yale in an action to recover $252.08 at the suit of the said Wilson Bros.: And we require the said A. J. Saunders to take notice that his personal property, credits and effects in British Columbia have been attached at the suit of the said Wilson Bros., and that in default of his putting in special bail as aforesaid the said Wilson, Bros., may, by leave of the court or a Judge, proceed therein to judgment and execution, and may sell the property so attached. And we command you, the said Sheriff, that as soon as you have executed this writ you return the same with the inventory and appraisement of what you have attached thereunder.

Witness His Honor, F. R. Brown, Judge of the County Court of Yale, this 5th day of May, nineteen hundred and eleven.

TOWN AND DISTRICT.

The Bishop of Qu'Appelle in his valedictory charge at Regina last week makes the following reference to the Rev. Jas. Williams, lately come to Princeton: 'The Rev. James Williams is now working in B.C. He is a well read, conscientious and devoted priest, and had long been a worker in the diocese.'

C. V. Semerad is expected back from Edmonton this week.

The rivers have attained their highest and the danger point is believed to be passed

Felix Darragh of Princeton has by the death of his uncle, F. Darragh, Kruger mountain, inherited a ranch valued at $15,000, besides a valuable mineral claim at Cobalt, Ont.

A dance, to which the public are invited, will be given in the Irwin block, Friday night. The invitation is extended by O. H. Carle, the grocer, who is removing thereto, and by Bert Irwin who will thus dedicate his fine new block to public uses.

Dell Young and Bert Thomas took a fine band of horses over Hope trail for the coast market.

Census taking is strictly secret, for any violation of which officials may be punished with a term in the penitentiary. Every enumerator is sworn to secresy.

In the case of Sidley v. Cudworth heard in Greenwood on the 8th, Cudworth pleaded inability to justify the charges contained in the libel, admitting their falsity, but being addressed to the attorney general, it was held as a privileged communication, therefore not actionable, as it was professed to having been done in the public interest. The judge charged the jury to this effect, who found for the defendant.

Thos. C. Tanner, representing the Bank of Vancouver, is selling stock in that financial corporation to Princetonians. No doubt it is a good investment.

The Hope trail is now in good condition for travel. Considerable snow is found on the summit, but it is going off rapidly.

Jas. Malone is the new partner in the firm of Kirkpatrick & Malone, proprietors of the Tulameen hotel. He has been a resident of Nelson for years and comes to Princeton with a high opinion of this town and district.

L. T. Joudry, jeweler, has just received a fine safe from Hamilton, Ont., which will give both security and stability to his increasing business. He has also received some beautiful Coronation spoons, which are designed as souvenirs of the crowning of King George V.

L. C. Barnes, late Kirkpatrick & Barnes of the Tulameen hotel, has retired from the firm and will in future devote his energies to mining in the diamond belt, where he has some promising locations.

Val Crockett came in from Merritt last week and expects to run a tramp auto throughout the Similkameen if there is business.

W. Gosnell, of Nelson, is in town on a business visit.

The stork is not of the singing class of bird but nevertheless is a welcome visitor, bringing joy and gladness to many a home. It may be that this bird is in league with the census enumerator to boost the population of Princeton for every soul in which said enumerator receives 5 cents and side expenses.

MINES AND MINING.

A lot of prospectors are now working east of Steamboat along the new Princeton trail.

Chas. Camsell, Dominion geologist, is expected here in two or three days from Ottawa.

E. E. Emmons of Vancouver arrived in town last week and will be engaged with placer mining operations on the upper Tulameen.

Alex. Sharp, M.E., consulting engineer for the P. Burns Co., was in town yesterday on his way to Granite Creek.

Alan M. Bateman of Cobalt, Ont., is a student of geology having arrived in advance of Mr. Camsell and party who will work in the diamond zone and at Steamboat this summer.

Dissolution of Partnership.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership formerly existing between W. J. Kirkpatrick and L. C. Barnes, as hotelkeepers, was this day dissolved by mutual consent and the business will from henceforth be carried on by W. J.
