MINING VERY BRIGHT

Voigt Camp Permanent, whole Copper Mountain will be Productive.

Leadville Camp Busy with Mining and Preparations for Extensive Development Work.

The Princeton Coal & Land Co. are producing large quantities of coal, their output being limited only by a scarcity of qualified coal miners. The same high grade quality of sub-bituminons fuel that marked earlier shipments is now being mined from a 13-foot face of tne shiny black diamonds. The coal mining industry never looked more favorable for this company, indicated by the widening market and increased orders.

The United Empire Co. expect to ship about 200 tons of coal daily, and Manager Galliac is planning tipple improvements to meet the growing demands.

B C Copper Co. at Voigt camp are keeping up a continuous gait of activity in the development of their immense properties and another diamond drill will be in operation on the east side of the home camp. The company is concentrating their work on the Automatic, Frisco and No. 1 claims, and with very satisfactory results.

F. Weekes, consulting engineer for the B. C Copper Co. at Voigt camp, is indisposed with lagrippe. He is an extremely busy man and has kept up exploratory work with marked energy and ability.

Some very promising strikes have been made on the Ada B. and Princess Maud within the past ten days, and the permanent camp buildings to serve these properties are just about completed.

C Saunders, Billy Fearless and Charley Powell have the contract for supplying wood fuel to the Voigt camp and are cutting on the Verde

A. H. Cannon, general merchant at Voigt camp is doing good business and keeps everything requisite for the men Some idea of the supplies required for food and clothing may be gathered from the fact that 30,000 pounds of these commodities were freighted to this camp last month. Mr. Cannon is prospective deputy postmaster for Voigt Camp P.O.

The diamond drill contractor, W. C. Mitchell, has increased his forces and is working full capacity, three eight hour shifts per day. The payroll of Voigt camp is one of the props to business in Princeton district which is much appreciated.

An interesting item in connection with the development of Voigt camp is the use of black diamond for drilling purposes, the cost of these small but effective stones being in the neighborhood of $15,000 since operations began last summer.

Andy Jensen came down from Treasure Mountain mine at Leadville last week and reports energetic operations. He finds a scarcity of pack horses, so great is the demand for them to get in supplies and material for the companies intending to work all winter. Snow to the depth of about 18 inches has already fallen in the higher altitudes. Winter may set in earnestly at any time in these skyscraping regions and it is this contingency which is causing a rush at the eleventh hour.

Charles Seaman and Carl Bender, of Greenwood, were the successful tenderers for the 600-foot tunnel to be driven by the Treasure Mountain Co. They will push the work until completed.

John Carlson, of Princeton, is foreman in charge of the work on a 200-foot tunnel for the Indiana group. He will work three shifts.

The David Weston mineral claim, owned by Ed Tingley and J. G. Thynne has been bonded to Spokane capitalists.

T. J. Corwin, J. D. MacDonald and others, of Seattle are looking over placer leases held by the former and associates along the Tulameen and Similkameen rivers. From tests made by drilling and actual panning on bars, the pay dirt is rich in gold and platinum and offers a good field for mining on an extensive scale.

An agent of the Guggenheims, it is reported, has been quietly investigating the possibilities of placer mining in this district. Within the past two years much interest in placer mining has been awakened in Princeton district, owing to the undoubted presence of gold and platinum in paying quantities on the bars and benches of rivers and creeks.

A. C. Edwards, of Spokane, has taken a force of men up to Leadville for the purpose of developing the silver-lead properties in which he is largely interested with other Spokane capitalists.

More buildings for the Treasure Mountain Co. are well under way, and include a blacksmith shop, magazine and storehouse. Nine men and a team are employed on these surface operations.

O. Jeldness has bonded the Lambert mineral property and negotiations are being made for others.

CONSERVATIVES, ATTENTION.

The provincial conservative convention will be held at Revelstoke on the 24th and 25th inst. A delegate from Princeton will be appointed at a meeting of the local Conservative Association to be held Friday evening. Members of the association are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Thynne, the well known and esteemed old time ranchers of Otter Valley, are in town. Mr. Thynne reports bright prospects with two railways and the revival of mining.

PATHFINDER ARRIVES

Pioneer of Great Transcontinental Motor Road is Going Well.

Sawmill Burned and Small Quantity of Lumber, Without Insurance to Cover.

Thomas W. Wilby, who is making a transcontinental auto trip from Halifax to Vancouver, as pathfinder for the Canadian highway, arrived in Princeton today. The pathfinder left Halifax on August 27th with the intention of crossing the continent in six weeks, and, unless something unforeseen occurs, he will reach Vancouver in the stipulated time. He will have a good road from Princeton to Nicola, which is becoming familiar to all local motorists. At Spence's bridge he will likely load his car and cross the Hope mountain on the C.P.R., and the Fraser valley has a good road for the final stretch.

SAWMILL BURNED.

On Sunday morning last, about 4 a.m., the mill owned by the Princeton Lumber Co., situate about four miles southeast of Princeton, on the Wolf creek road, was burned to the ground. The fire is supposed to have been caused by smouldering remains from the previous day's stoking, and was purely accidental and unforeseen. The flame had made devastating progress before discovered at that early hour, and all effort was directed to prevention of spread to the lumber piles and outbuildings. Some 15,000 feet of lumber, however, were destroyed, the total loss of plant, etc., being a matter, as yet of conjecture, since it is presumed the boilers and possibly some of the machinery may be restored to use. The estimated value of the mill building and machinery was $12,000. At times from 25 to 30 men were employed. In the yard three-quarters of a million feet of merchantable lumber are piled and ready for delivery. There was no insurance, the rate of 10 p c. being considered excessive The precaution of an efficient watch service, until recently, was maintained The burden of the loss will fall on the manager, W. C. McDougall, who has devoted much time and labor to the development of this much needed industry.

THE BASKET BALL CLUB.

The ball given by the Ladies' Basket Ball club last Friday evening was an immense success and everybody was delighted with the manner in which the arrangements were carried out. It augurs well for the future of the club when at the beginning of their club life they are received with such marked public favor and encouragement. The club will accept and issue challenges to any neighboring clubs, and some good sport may be expected this winter from matches. The net proceeds of the ball was $67. Music by the Princeton orchestra was excellent, to which some sixty couples gracefully paid homage to Terpsichore in the cadences of rythmic motion.

HAWAIIAN MUSICAL CO.

The performance of the Hawaiian Musical Co. on Monday night was well patronized. In their native tongue and dress the musicians proved quite interesting The guitar performances of the leader were exceptionally fine and the feature of the evening. The voices were lacking in those essentials of interpretation and pure rendition which soul stir the listener, the monotone of the vocal selections being commonplace and barren. The pantomimic acting of the clown was good, clever and catchy and produced irresistable bursts of laughter.

GOODBYE, SWEET SUMMER.

The weather turned cold and wet on Monday, and on Tuesday morning a a mantle of beautiful snow covered the higher hills. Youngsters are counting the days until they can coast and skate, and the oldsters look forward to the bright, cheery days of invigorating winter. The Similkameen is blessed with a climate always inviting and anticipative to all, no matter what the season of year may be. Come, glorious winter, spotless white and clean, bereft of 'crobe, bacilla, 'swat the fly,' and all the lurking dangers of poor mortal, material mind!

TWEDDLE—RICHTER.

The wedding of two well known and popular residents of the Similkameen was solemnized at St. Andrews R. C. church, Victoria, on the 24th ult., Haliburton Tweddle to Mrs. Florence E. Richter, widow of the late Frank Richter, of Keremeos. Mr. Tweddle is proprietor of the Grand Central hotel, Keremeos, and Mrs. Tweddle is the owner of a large land and cattle estate. Star extends congratulations and bids the happy couple many years of felicitous married life.

RAILWAY POINTS.

Guthrie & Co., contractors for the section of 42 miles on the V. V. & E. from the present end of the track, about a mile beyond Coalmont, will shortly have a thousand men at work. It is their intention to have camp buildings and all preliminary work well advanced before hard weather comes. Sub-contractors are at the front preparing for grading.

A locomotive crew and steam shovel outfit arrived Sunday and will go to the end of the track from whence a dash of about three miles will be made for Tulameen, the base of supplies during construction.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Dignan Bros'. moving picture show is drawing good houses and is proving a boon to those travelers and sojourners who have an hour to spend in the evening, besides affording resident townspeople a cheap and entertaining form of amusement. The moving picture business is here to stay and is well received by the public,

Mrs. J. A. Brown, of Keremeos was the guest of Mrs. T. A. Osborne last week.

Game Warden Schisler calls attention to the fact that white tailed deer, of which there are a few in this district, are not allowed to be killed. Hunters take warning.

Shooting within town limits is a dangerous practice, many accidents having been caused thereby all over the province. The other morning at 5 o'clock a fusilade of shots was heard, disturbing the slumbers of loyal citizens, who ask that the nuisance be stopped.

Ed Tingley, Otter Valley road foreman, was in town last week, and reports the Nicola-Princeton trunk road in fine

Mrs. F P. Cook was in town from Granite Creek last week, accompanied by her young scion, John Edward Fox, who is a recent healthy and vigorous addition to the family of his proud father.

Mrs. G. H. Sproule, of Hedley, was a visitor to Princeton last week.

Mrs. P. Swanson arrived from Salt Lake City, Utah, on Thursday last, having had a very enjoyable visit with relatives in that city 'beautiful '

In the New Westminster slogan competition the first prize of $100 went to R. A. McLellan, a newspaper man, and the second of $50 was won by W A. Wells, secretary of the warden of the penitentiary. The slogan, 'Follow the Fraser,' took first money, and 'Watch Westminster' second.

It is understood that the townsite of East Princeton will be handled in future by the Peace River Realty Co , who will act as sales agents. This company will advertise the whole Similkameen district as well as the townsite of East Princeton.

J. R. Campbell, of Fort George, arrived on Monday, and will be here a short time. He sees big improvements.

Hunters report considerable game in the hills. Deer are falling to the nimrods in fair numbers, and the venison is of fine quality, Grouse have been peppered at so much near town that they are moving back to the real and proverbial tall timber Sensible grouse! They understand self-conservation, something humans would not do for them, but would slaughter them to the last bird.

J. Fritz, of New Westminster, is in town selling Port Mann real estate, and reports good business.

EXHIBIT RESOURCES.

'Citizens of no mean city' is a quoted phrase of ready application by residents of Princeton. All point with pride to the natural advantages in and surrounding the town. Faith in its great future has never lost grip on the minds and purses of investors. But mere faith and plausible remarks, though self satisfying for some who lack that energizing spirit which breeds action, will not build a city or develop a country. There must be continuous work and publicity, crusades aiming to induce capital and impress upon others the opportunities for sound and safe investment. Western cities are built on the plain and convincing logic of facts presented to those in search of homes or investment. In this 'show me' age it is not sufficient to make profession of one's faith, it must be backed by works, or, in common phrase, the goods must be produced. With all the endless mineral and other natural resources of which Princeton is the center, it would be suicidal to allow these to remain non-productive for want of the energy necessary to make them known to the world. Every device known to publicity promoters is used by progressive towns and districts to attract attention. Exhibitions are, beyond all question, the most convincing proof of natural wealth and fertility. The great work done by newspapers and pamphlets through the medium of illustration and write-up cannot be overestimated, but the final touch to all these can be given only by the actual production and exhibition of the ore, the agricultural product of fruit, grain or vegetable, or whatsoever it may be. Now, it is an undoubted fact that in this district there are many good mineral propositions unknown to the public simply because no one has ever taken pains or sufficient interest to place samples of the ore where they would arrest the attention of expert, miner or investor. Princeton requires today a firstclass home exhibit of all the minerals produced in this section. It would be the best attraction for capitalist, expert mining man, investor and prospector that could possibly be devised. Samples of not less than fifty pounds from each lead, arranged, classified and labeled, so that any person could know what they were and their locations, should be assembled and placed on permanent exhibition in some central and conspicuous place. As an advertisement it would be unique and most valuable. In Spokane, Vancouver and Victoria permanent exhibits of minerals found here should be established as well as at home. Every miner and prospector, mine owner and resident of the district is interested in this question and would profit by its favorable solution. Who, among our public spirited citizens will take this matter up and make of it the success it deserves? The columns of Star are free to aid in the establishment of these exhibits, it remains for residents to father the project and help it along by every means possible. What say you, gentlemen?

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

With the completion of the V., V. & E. and the K.V. railways, Princeton will be on two main lines of transportation, and one hundred and fifty miles from seaports. Then the great automobile road runs right through the town from end to end of the province. Princeton is on routes that afford beautiful scenery, fishing and hunting. Position unexcelled and resources unlimited. What more could mortals want?

The Duke of Connaught has won his way among Canadians through his democratic manner and that certain characteristic of his brother, the late king, and revered mother, by which they are all held in affectionate remembrance. Long live the Duke of Connaught!

It is said that another elixir of life has been discovered, and our days on this old earth may now be prolonged indefinitely. This may suit some people who never figure on paying a bill until death makes them 'cough up' by their affairs being settled through the public administrator. Elixir or no elixir, living or dead, cash is king and is the only 'system.'

The minister of justice for Canada has declared for home rule. Is this a case of zeal outrunning discretion?

'I see by the Star that ..... does not advertise. Perhaps he has moved away. Could you recommend some one with whom I could deal?' This is from a subscriber. The intimation is obvious to advertise your business.

SCIENCE AND INVENTION.

There was recently exhibited in Philadelphia the invention of Dr. Isadore Kitsee, an invention which is a very creditable attempt to produce talking moving pictures. Dr. Kitsee first attacked the problem in 1905. Just how Dr. Kitsee has succeeded in synchronizing a phonograph with a film we are not as yet able to reveal; but in a future number we hope to publish an article in which the invention will be discussed in more or less detail.

It is gratifying to note that the U. S. congress, before its final adjournment in August, passed almost unanimously an amendment to the post office appropriation bill, providing for three kinds of parcels post, two of which are to have a weight limit of eleven pounds, and one a weight limit of four ounces, at different rates, to become operative Jan. 1, 1913.—Scientific American.

Replying to a communication from the secretary of the board of harbor commissioners, Los Angeles, Cal., Col. Goethels states that every effort is being made to complete the excavation and the work on the locks of the Panama canal by June 30, 1913.—Scientific American.

At the Harvard college observatory the most extensive astronomical labor ever undertaken is now in progress. Up to the present time, the largest and most complete star catalogue in existence has been the Draper catalogue, which indexes about 10,000 stars, with careful details concerning their spectra. This catalogue was compiled by Mrs. Williamina Paton Fleming at Harvard before 1891. Since that year, the increasing size of telescopes and improvements in stellar photography have so greatly increased the number of stars shown upon the photographic plates that an entirely new edition of the Draper catalogue, enlarged and giving the record of each star to recent years seemed imperative. Prof. Edward C. Pickering, director of the Harvard observatory, has contemplated such an edifor many months, and in October, 1911, the work was begun. Since Mrs. Fleming's death, in May, 1911, Miss Annie J Cannon has been appointed curator of the astronomical photographs succeeding Mrs Fleming, and Miss Cannon is in charge of the catalogue work. She is directing its progress so ably that what several distinguished astronomers feared they might not live to see accomplished will probably be completed within five years. She has organized the research into divisions and sections, each of which is conducted by one or other of her women assistants. A vast collection of stellar photographs, giving a complete record of the heavens during many years, is available at Harvard through the co-operation of its Cambridge and Arequipa stations, so that abounding material is furnished for the catalogue. The work represents an infinite series of mathematical calculations, preliminary card cataloguing, notations, charting, etc., which depends upon the utmost care in studying and comparing photographic plates, identifying stars, and determining their degrees of brightness, qualities and classes of spectrum For such work women, says Prof. Pickering, have proved their especial adaptability. About 5,000 stars each month are indexed on the cards.—Scientific American.

It is your inalienable right to demand in a range—Economy, Promptness and Satisfaction. It is your privilege to expect the same attention, progress and efficiency in the things you use in your daily work as have been brought about in other and often less important lines of endeavour.

The Gurney-Oxford is the foremost example of cooking efficiency.

The Gurney Economizer regulates all the drafts by lifting or dropping one small lever. It keeps the fire alive for hours with practically no coal consumption. It saves 1 ton of coal in 6. The Gurney Economizer is found only on the Gurney-Oxford range.

The Gurney-Oxford Oven is absolutely and always heated the same on all sides and in all corners because the heat is evenly distributed.

This is a sure and unfailing guarantee that whatever comes out of the Gurney-Oxford Oven is crisp and light and delicious—this is the final test and the point most often advanced by those who cook on a Gurney-Oxford, those who believe it is woman's right and privilege to have in her kitchen the labor, time and money saving principles embodied in the Gurney-Oxford.
