Promising Future for Aviation in Interior

PRINCETON FOLK GO UP

Local folk have recently experienced joys of flying. This week a Princeton party in Vancouver unanimously decided in favor of the air. Those who "went up" included Teddy Burr, Maurice Wright, Gilbert Prideaux, Mrs. M. L. Wright and Miss Doris Fee.

Isaac McTavish of Coalmont also took advantage of an opportunity to test his flying legs while on a visit to the coast recently.

BURNS PROVE FATAL TO LOCAL GIRL

Olwyn David Passed Away in Hospital Sunday Night

Burns received Tuesday of last week when a gas tank which her father was soldering exploded, Sunday proved fatal to Olwyn David, well known local girl, and she passed away in Princeton Hospital at 9 p.m.

The accident, recounted last week, occurred when the end blew out of the tank, which was empty. Flames spouted forth and caught the girl's clothing, who was standing by. She made frantic efforts to extinguish the flames by rolling over and throwing dirt on herself, and her father also made a great effort to help her, receiving as a result nasty hand and arm burns, but to no avail. Little hope was held for the girl's recovery.

UNIVERSALLY LIKED

The loss of Olwyn David leaves a distinct gap in the junior life of the community. Of a bright, sunny disposition, she was everybody's friend, a willing worker, and an ideal companion. She was particularly her dad's chum, which accounts for her presence with him at the time of the accident.

Born in Bankhead, Alta., January [illegible], she had received most of her schooling locally, for a time attending the East Princeton school, and later attending Princeton high school, where she was about to enter her second year.

She took a prominent part in community life, and was a member of the C.G.I.T. group and of the local L.O.B.A., also of St. Paul's Church choir.

Besides her sorrowing parents, who reside at East Princeton, she leaves two brothers to mourn her loss, William and Harold, both at home.

FUNERAL

The funeral of the late Olwyn David, seventeen-year old high school girl who met with fatal injuries last week, was held Tuesday afternoon from St. Paul's Church, Rev. J. C. Goodfellow officiating. The funeral was very largely attended.

Pallbearers were Edward Cook, Andrew Vaydo, James Brown, Kenneth Garrison, Marshall Gellatly and Gordon Gibson.

FLOWERS

Floral tributes were ackuowledged as follows: basket spray, Tulameen Coal Mines Ltd.; pillow, L.O.B.A.; wreath, Mesdames Allison, Whitehood, Shook and McInroy; spray, Mother, Father and Brothers; Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Williams and family; Mr. D. Muir and Mrs. A. L. White; Mr. and Mrs. J. Howarth Sr. and Mary; Norman's, Hayward and Coyne; Mrs. Berquist and family; Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Brown and family; M. Parkes; Mr. and Mrs. Francis; Mr. and Mrs. Madore and family; Mrs. A. Moore; Mr. and Mrs. J. Milne; Mr. and Mrs. Prosser and Mr. and Mrs. Gibson; the children of East Princeton; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thomas; (2) Mrs. Barton and family; Mr. and Mrs. H. Lowe; Mr. and Mrs. Watson; Mary and Maude Lowe.

BURN TO DEATH

A pathetic tragedy of the wilds was recently disclosed to Assistant Forest Ranger Harry Allison. Combatting the Smith Creek fire, the party of firefighters heard cries which they recognized to be those of a bear. They eventually saw a big she bear hopelessly trapped, and meeting with a terrible death.

They heard, too, cries of a cub nearby, and, inspired by motives of kindness, started a vigorous search for the little fellow, hoping to save him from an awful death. They failed, however, to locate him, and reluctantly left him to the fate of his dam.

Angus Nicholson writing from Nelson, wishes his old cronies here good luck. "I feel rather sorry for you boys these days sweltering under the heat of Princeton whilst I am up here plying my motor boat daily along the cooling shores of Kootenay Lake."

Fokker Plane Passed Over Princeton Saturday Morning

A powerful monoplane, exploiting for the Western Canada Airways, Ltd., the possibilities of the proposed Western Canada air mail service, passed over Princeton en route to Alberta on its return voyage Saturday morning.

It was the second plane which had passed over in the course of a few weeks, and pretty well establishes the preference by airmen of the southern route, including Cranbrook, Nelson, Grand Forks, Osoyoos, Hope and Princeton.

SPLENDID FIELD

The Alberta plane did not land here, but the Archibald plane did so a few weeks ago, and pronounced the improvised One Mile landing field an ideal one.

Chiefly under direction of Mr. E. E. Burr, who takes a prominent interest in aviation, and is keen to see Princeton selected as an established port by the big services, the flat, a natural landing place, has been improved and made ready for any occasion.

Stones have been removed, and considerable surface improvements made. Planes may now safely land and take off.

SEVERAL POSSIBLE SITES

This location is only one of several possible sites for a landing field. The matter has been thoroughly investigated by a special committee of the Princeton Board of Trade, who are still at work. Their choice for a permanent field was a location on the flat near the old coal mine, overlooking the town from the D'Arcy Mt. side. Negotiations were opened for the acquisition of this property on a lease, but have been temporary stayed with the satisfaction the improvised field is giving. The committee have communicated with Major Tudhope, comptroller of aviation properties, for information as to what is required for a landing field.

The present field is on property known as the Lowe Estate, formerly occupied by the racing grounds. While it would be difficult to secure a title to, there should be no obstacle to securing temporary use of the property. It is proposed to register it as a day port, as Grand Forks have done with their field.

TALK B.C. ROUTE

A Coast-Kootenay air service is being mooted, following the successful flight by W. Archibald of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company. This would be of great convenience to the Consolidated and also to coast and interior commerce in general.

INTO THE NORTH

Seaplanes of the Western Canada Airways are being used to transport men and materials into the central interior, where road traffic is almost impossible. Planes were used to take four men and half a ton of supplies to mining property at Brightwell Lake, and the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company used a plane to take supplies to Bowser Lake.

PENTICTON BUSY

Penticton is also taking steps to lay out a landing field. Under directions of Reeve G. A. B. Macdonald a large cross has been dug out in the turf at the Recreation Grounds, and a flag pole erected, with weather vane.

IN THE INGENIKA

W. R. Wilson, who is arranging for development of mining property in the Ingenika district, in future contemplates planes operating from both Prince George and Summit Lake.

KELOWNA

Kelowna has selected a site and has had a favorable report by Flight Lieut. Morfee of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

PORT ALBERNI

Port Alberni has also investigated the matter of an airport, and is seeking information on the matter.

DUNCAN

A special airport committee has been appointed by Duncan Board of Trade. They are looking for sites for both seaplanes and land planes.

NELSON

The city of Nelson, its council has been told by Major Tudhope, comptroller of civil aviation, has no ground suitable for an airfield. The site he examined recently, fourteen miles from the city, is too small.

NORTHERN B.C.

Northern B.C. is looking forward to the establishment of an air service in the near future. Western Canada Airways, Ltd., are discussing inauguration of a service to lower coast points. Planes would be operated from Prince George, Swanson Bay and possibly Stewart. The company is negotiating for the establishment of an air base at Hudson Hope. Major D. R. McLaren recently in-

HOY, TULAMEEN

Tulameen comes to the fore as an air base. When I. McTavish of Coalmont emulated the ride of Paul Revere, mounting in a plane, Tulameen conceived the idea of starting an air service station on its own. Our Coalmont correspondent talks about a one and a half hour service to Vancouver. Maybe our Blakeburn correspondent would get her dope in on time then. Anyone with a million dollars to invest, please ring up our Coalmont correspondent, Wes Rossiter.

IMPROVE ROAD

A big improvement has been made to the road to Missoula Lake by road gangs on the Yale side, and there is now a bigger difference than ever in the state of the roads in the two ridings.

LOCAL GIRLS WIN RECOGNITION ABROAD

Two girls in whom the Similkameen claims interests have been honored in academic work recently.

WON ESSAY PRIZE

Margaret Schubert, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Schubert, very well known valley residents, now at Armstrong, recently took first prize in the board of trade's competition for the best essay in connection with empire shopping week. A native daughter of Hedley, Margaret has just completed her high school course.

AT WASHINGTON STATE

Helen Swartz, of Spokane, a grand daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Jenson of Tulameen, a junior in the college of home economics at Washington State College, Pullman, has been elected president of the Ellen H. Richards Club, organization of home economics majors. She is active in undergraduate affairs and is a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta, national society.

Princeton District Band will give its second open air concert at the cenotaph Monday evening under the baton of S. R. Gibson. The band is badding a number of new selections to its repertoire.

PICKED UP IN TIME

Prostrated with stomach trouble, Henry McDiarmid, well known Princeton man, who had been engaged at the Twelve Mile Creek fire, was luckily found in time this week and helped to recovery. He had been making his headquarters at Beigie's cabin, but found himself suddenly sick and helpless. He was brought to town and went to Vancouver for treatment.

NEAR TRAGEDY AT OLIVER

As if Tuesday's tragedy at East Princeton were not enough, another near tragedy, it is reported, occurred at Oliver Saturday last. A citizen had bought an empty gas drum, and took it to a garage to have the top cut off with an acetylene torch. The drum had lain outside for a time, and water had collected in the bottom. When the torch was applied the top flew off the drum and hit the roof. Both men received cuts from the flying metal.

CAPS EXPLODE; MAN INJURED

Terribly injured when detonator caps exploded in an old cabin which he made use of when herding sheep, Aeneas Marcel, well known lower valley resident, is in a serious condition in Penticton hospital.

Philanthropy caused his misfortune. Knowing that some young people were about to occupy the cabin, Mr. Marcel endeavored to get rid of the caps for safety's sake. Old and dry, they exploded when he handled them. He lay in the cabin two days before he was discovered, and was taken to Penticton hospital in a serious condition.

End of Seven Devils Is Duly Celebrated Thursday

Modern St. Georges Paid Paid Tribute to Road Camp

With the breaking of the tape Thursday last, with due ceremony, by a Princeton official car, two traditional danger spots of the local highway chain passed out of being in the form of the Seven Devils and the Brushy Bottom section.

The work is part of a large scale project for the remaking of the entire Keremeos-Princeton highway along standard lines. Work was commenced last winter, and will be continued each season until completed.

The task is perhaps the biggest enterprise of modern road making yet attempted in the Similkameen. Started under Angus Nicholson, the balance of the work was done under Engineer V. Latimer, with Harley Hatford as general foreman, and District Engineer G. C. McKay as overseer.

An entirely new road has been built over the most dangerous section of the highway, a standard grade road eliminating many jars and jolts and tortuous turns, and one which will enable motorists to make the forty-five mile trip between Princeton and Keremeos in two hours' easy driving; and which will contribute greatly towards making the Similkameen the highway of the central interior.

Work on the worst section, following the completion of a re-survey of the entire road, started at the beginning of the Atherton grade, and was pushed later from the Keremeos end.

The road, once a winding trail with in many places insufficient room for two cars to pass, will, when completed, be a broad, easy riding highway, with a minimum width of eighteen feet, and a cleared right of way of 60 feet. The maximum grade will in no case exceed six per cent., a full two per cent. less than the standard maximum road grade.

BIG MACHINERY

Expensive machinery has been used to convert a cow trail into a highway. This includes a Caterpillar 60 tractor, using a 2½-yard rotary scraper and a 12-foot back filler; a Caterpillar 30 using a ripper, a Cletrac tractor and compressor.

Local men have found employment in this big undertaking. Ordinary labor was practically all secured locally, and in addition most of the "elite" of the camp are local men.

Hedley Severson of Princeton is operating the Cat 60, L. Armstrong the Cat 30 and Cec. Jones of Jura the Cletrac. Pete Bromley of Keremeos is the official smithy with O. Neistrom assistant foreman, while the most important job of all goes to Jim Brown, one of the best known camp chefs in the district.

TWO NEW FIRES REPORTED THIS WEEK

Though two new blazes of considerable proportions were reported this week, the local fire situation is distinctly good. Most of the bad fires have burned themselves out, and there is not one serious fire at the present time.

Continued warm weather, however, and the presence of much wind, maintains the hazard of fire, and local rangers are maintaining a close watch.

SMITH CREEK

The Smith Creek fire, the most serious of all local forest fires this year, is still burning, but is well under control, and will very soon have burned itself out. All active fighting has been stopped there, but men are still on watch.

TWELVE MILE

A new fire was reported Friday from Twelve Mile, in the vicinity of the Hope Trail. Smoke was soon clearly visible from Princeton. Fire fighters were dispatched at once and the blaze was controlled before it jumped to the timber. It has been completely extinguished.

DUNN FIRE

A fire was reported early this week burning on the Billy Dunn ranch. It is a crown fire on the summit of a bluff, and is burning in windfalls. No timber is in danger and the damage will be practically nil. Fire fighters soon had it under control, and it is being watched.

FOUR MEN OUT

A total of four men are all that are now engaged actively fighting fire. The total number of fires reported this season is now about forty.

NAHUMPTIAN CREEK

Cawston reports that fires which recently broke out in the neighborhood of Nahumptian Creek and above Hedley are now all under control. Patrolman A. H. Cawston states that conditions in his territory are satisfactory, considering the humidity.

Important Step in Relocation of Entire Lower Valley Road

The completion of work on an important section of the Keremeos-Princeton highway was marked with due ceremony Thursday last when a number of representative citizens of Princeton were the guests of District Road Engineer G. C. McKay at a camp dinner, or more properly banquet, at the Brushy Bottom road camp.

The occasion was the completion of the new road around Brushy Bottom formerly a narrow and treacherous bit of trail and the scene of many an auto accident. For some weeks past it has been necessary to make a detour through the flat, while the big steam shovel, operating two shifts, was steadily engaged transforming the hillside trail, hastily constructed along the lines of least resistance by the G.N. railway in 1908, as a substitute for the section of the road through the flat, which they had destroyed, into a highway of standard dimensions.

Early Thursday afternoon, just after the last spade had been turned, the official Board of Trade car, driven by former secretary H. W. R. Moore, and with W. A. Wagenhauser, president, in the front seat, broke the tape in approved style.

THE YANKS ARE COMING

It had been planned for other Princeton cars to follow immediately in procession, but at that moment a big American car happened along and dropped into second place. The incident was taken by all present of a happy augury of the heavy tourist trade which is certain to pass up and down the valley once the highway is completed.

A LA CARTE

Ceremony set aside, the group were seated about the festive board in the big camp dining tent, and Chef Jim Brown did the honors in true style.

Spirits being hearty, many were the complimentary remarks exchanged by the entire delegation, with W. A. Wagenhauser in his accustomed place at the head of the table. Especially did "the honorable Bill" and the efficient road staff, come in for compliments.

Work this year it is expected will be carried as far as the Brewery Hill, on the Princeton side of Hedley stated, Mr. McKay, responding to a toast in his praise. Winter work had been found unsatisfactory, and work would be discontinued about December 1, until spring. Mr. McKay expressed his appreciation of the co-operation lent by the people throughout the whole valley, without which this worth while accomplishment would have been impossible.

SENT UP FOR TRIAL ON ALLEGED HORSE THEFT

Charged with theft of horses, and with branding them with his own brand, Theodore Cuthbert Cochran was Friday committed for trial by higher court when he appeared before Magistrate Waterman in police court here.

The charge was amended to fall under the criminal code from a lesser charge under the provincial brand act, when police secured additional evidence to supplement the former charge.

Cochran intimated that he would seek speedy trial, and His Honor Judge J. R. Brown will be here Friday, when Cochran will have an opportunity to elect, and his trial will likely proceed.

Incriminating allegations were made against Cochran by various witnesses. It was testified that horses the property of William Huff, had been stolen from the Chine Creek range where they had been pastured this spring. The owners noticed animals they recognized as theirs, in Cochran's bunch, and reported the matter to the police.

Evidence stated that Cochran was seen in the vicinity of the range about the time the cattle had disappeared. He was later seen, according to witnesses, driving horses through Hedley towards his Keremeos ranch.

A bit of wire alleged to have been used for making the brands was produced. Dannie Allison swore that Cochran had borrowed the wire from to twist it into the brand, and witness also stated that he had seen Cochran using the brand. The wire identically fitted the brand, and the brand on the stolen horses was Cochran's brand, registered among B.C. brands.

Charlie Squakem declared that he saw Cochran taking the freshly branded horses down to Keremeos.

Defense was reserved, H. W. R. Moore appeared for the prosecution, Mr. Long, acting for H. H. Boyle of Penticton, appearing for the defense.

Looking It Over

[Our own and other people's views.]

GOOD ENOUGH

Princeton's teaching staff will remain practically unaltered for 1929-30. "Too good to change" is the opinion of the school board, following receipt of favorable reports from the inspectors.

It is indeed pleasant when the ratepayers and parents can feel that the problem of the education of their children, and the spending of their money, has been solved.

At the recent annual meeting it was evident that the ratepayers were well pleased with the way the trustees were conducting school matters. It is also good to know that the trustees are so well pleased with the teaching staff.

Let good enough alone is a very sane policy. With ability and harmony going hand in hand, real results may be expected.

ONE MORE PEG

With the breaking of the tape by an official Board of Trade auto, opening the Seven Devils section—or rather burying it—of the Keremeos-Princeton highway, a new lap of the race for public works recognition in the Similkameen was completed. The baton has been handed on, and let us hope will continue to travel at a satisfactory clip until public works in our deserving territory are brought up to standard.

Certainly the Similkameen has been shamefully treated in the past, and this is a genuine complaint, not a chronic kick such as comes from every riding. A comparison will readily substantiate this.

But it is no time to squeal when something is being started, something accomplished. Now that the valley road is being made attractive and Princeton streets are in good shape, Similkameen citizens can readily believe that at last a policy of justice has been embarked on.

The government will find the Similkameen a very loyal and appreciative riding if justly treated, but a mighty troublesome one if stood on. The Similkameen seeks her share; wants nothing more; and certainly will not be satisfied with anything less.

THE COUNTRY EDITOR

Among those who are performing the finest public service for this province are the editors of country and small town newspapers.

It is true that country editors frequently take their inspiration from city dailies in the tone they give to world events. The country editor usually has neither the space nor the facilities to print the great cross section of great happenings that the metropolitan daily can present.

But the metropolitan dailies are not everything. They can not begin to give the intimate picture of human life that the country or small town paper can give.

The country editor is living right with his public. He not only knows what John Jones does, but has a pretty good idea of what John Jones is thinking.

The metropolitan editor learns to know events. The country editor learns to know men. And because the country editor learns to know men and to understand them, he frequently leaves a mark of shrewd and intimate kindliness on his editorial page which the metropolitan editor has neither the opportunity nor the time to acquire.

There are close to a hundred country and small town papers in British Columbia. To be unacquainted with at least some of them is to be unacquainted with the life of this province.—Vancouver Sun.

WELL WORTH WHILE

Several community enterprises are now afield, and it might be well if the Princeton public would ponder just a minute on what community effort means to them.

In any community, wherever organized or unorganized, if there is to be any headway, there must be some effort towards something more than the ordinary course of business.

All work and no play made Jack a dull boy in dad's day, and son is beginning to realize that a little play in its proper place is more than a necessity; it is a mighty good investment.

You have in Princeton many opportunities to show your community spirit. There is the band, the board of trade, the park, the fire tower, and various sports organizations.

Quite a number think most of these organizations should not be supported by what they call charity. They urge proper organization, and sit back with their hands in their pockets and say "I told you so" when something flops.

They may be right, but their attitude is wrong, and whether we agree with them as to HOW things should be done, or not, the fact remains that they should recognize that they nevertheless must BE done.

There are, too, the many indifferent ones, the great majority, the lukewarms, who don't care very much, so they say, and won't help, but kick like blazes when some community effort fails, and spoils their fun.

We all care, and it is a very selfish individual who enjoys the pleasures of others' labors and insolently refuses to help, or as he wrongly says, "be interested." We're all vitally interested; some of us only selfishly, some for the common good.

Princeton and Similkameen folk will have many opportunities to show the stuff they are made of very soon. Let them not say "Oh posh, this is the third time I've been asked to help something or other this month," but let them remember that those who do the asking are asking not for themselves, but for the good of those whom they petition.

A few fine spirited citizens—you know them—do far too much for the good of others, to give themselves a square deal. Instead of frowning at them when they approach you, just remember that something of a very different kind is their just need.

CORRESPONDENCE

Editor, Star,
Princeton, B.C.

Dear Sir:—The insertion in another column announcing the cancellation of the Princeton Ski Club dance, scheduled for the 27th September, calls for some explanation to the public. Our club is already deeply indebted to you for the publicity you have already given to the movement fostering winter sports in this district. May we seek your co-operation yet again?

The facts to be considered are these: A prize dance for the benefit of the Ski Club was arranged to take place in the Orange Hall on Sept. 27th. Tickets were put on sale at 50 cents each. Handsome prizes were offered, valued in all at $600.00. It was hoped to sell sufficient tickets to justify this. 3000 tickets were issued.

The committee in charge, viewing these facts in the right of the present and prospective sale of tickets, feels that it is not justified in going ahead. It feels that the public will not censor its too great optimism, and will judge their present action by the good faith that prompted the original scheme.

The Ski Club is already under obligation to the extent of $130.00, representing work done on the ski hill, and sundry small items. To meet this a dance has been arranged for August 23rd. Those who hold prize dance tickets may turn them in to Mr. I. Knudson as part payment of ticket for August dance; or they may be redeemed by applying to the president of the club, Mr. A. Stenvold; or, and we hope many will take this to heart, they may leave the money with the club as a token of good will, and an evidence of good faith in the future actions of the Ski Club.

This letter is prepared at the request of the Ski Club by the president and the secretary.

A. STENVOLD,
President.

Why Doesn't the Board of Trade Start on Some Constructive Policy to Help the Town
There is the electric light and water rates that could be much improved on if the Board of Trade would take it up with the government. Some other towns supplied by the Kootenay Power Co. get a very low rate, while Princeton's is very high. The Board of Trade is ambitious of acheiving fame and this is the golden opportunity.

COPPER MT. HERE SUNDAY

Copper Mountain meets Princeton here Sunday in a Similkameen baseball league fixture, to commence at 2:30 sharp. Ann attractive game is promised.

Three runs pushed over in the tenth inning gave Okanogan a 9-6 victory over Copper Mountain in an exhibition baseball tilt Sunday. Clever pitching by Lefty Sackman, an old pastimer in these parts, now with the Washington boys, combined with weakness in Copper Mountain's defense, sufficed to give the visitors their margin. By dint of good hitting Copper Mountain managed to keep abreast most of the way.

Heavy hitting featured, each side collecting ten bingles, with Rainey of the visitors clouting for the circuit. Kimberley started for Copper Mt. but was replaced by McKenzie. Sackman went the route for Okanogan. The Mountain used Sparks and Ferko of Princeton, but Callahan was absent from their lineup.

Copper Mountain took a lead in the second, but lost it when the Washington boys pushed one over in each of the fourth, fifth and sixth. Copper Mountain got within fighting distance in the sixth, netting another run, but lost their advantage in the seventh, when three runs filtered over in an Okanogan rally. They came right back in their half, however, and tied up with four counters and the teams battled through two hectic innings before Copper Mt. exploded again and three runs came across. This time Copper Mountain could not recapitulate.

Copper Mt. and Blakeburn Meet in Final Here Sunday

League Executive Decides Against Fall Series

Sunday, August 4, was set for the play-off game between Copper Mountain and Blakeburn, tied for the league football championship, when the executive of the Similkameen Football League met in the Star office Tuesday night.

The kick-off was set for 6 p.m. sharp. W. D. Nicholl of Princeton, in his day a peerless player, center forward for Aberdeen and Glasgow Celtic, and later the choice of the Football Association of England to fill a coaching appointment in Peru; and now coach of the Princeton club, as referee. A. Samuel and J. Norman of Princeton were selected as linesmen.

Dave Taylor, league secretary, was put in charge of arrangements for the game, with W. D. Nicholl and two men appointed by each of the other clubs to assist him. A record crowd is expected at this, the most important game in the history of football in the Similkameen. It will also be the last official game for the season, the league having decided against a fall schedule.

The Wagenhauser cup, symbolic of the Similkameen Football championship, now held by Blakeburn, will be presented at the close of the game.

The field will be put in first class condition, and everything points to a brilliant contest.

Both elevens will be at top strength, it being ruled that new players may be signed up to Thursday, provided they have the nine days' residential qualification.

NO FALL SERIES

In view of the prolonged spring schedule, and other circumstances mitigating against keen competition, it was considered advisable by the executive to dispense with the fall competition this year, though friendly games will be arranged.

MERRITT WOULD ENTER

The Merritt club put forward an application to join the league, but in view of the distance and expense involved, it was considered impossible to admit them for the present, though they were asked to re-apply in the spring, when it is hoped a new complexion will be put on football affairs locally.

President Jerry Brown occupied the chair with Dave Taylor recording. Delegates were W. F. Black and W. Lakeland of Copper Mt. and Adam Bell and D. Bryden of Blakeburn.

THE LIKELY TEAMS

Copper Mountain will have Moore back in goal, recovered from his shoulder injury. McPhee, up from Vancouver where he played with St. Andrew's, and Dave Thomson, the former Ladysmith man, will be a certain choice for backs. Slogar, considered by many the peer of local half backs, and a player of experience; Loberg, star pivot of the North Shore United, and Luxon, an old country player of experience, will be the intermediate trio, with Slogar possibly appearing at center half. Craigen, another Vancouver crack, will be at right wing, his proper place, and he will likely have Johnny Devlin, who has returned after a trip to Vancouver, as his partner. Johnny is known wherever football is played in Wsetern Canada. Johnstone is the likely choice for center forward, if he is recovered from his injury, with Parker at inside left. Both are Vancouver players. Either Kelly, former Nelson flier or Trudgian, of Hedley, will be on the left touch line.

Williams, a promising junior from Nanaimo, will be in Blakeburn's goal, with Miller and McIntosh his defense. Both are considered in the top class. One has considerable old country experience, the other being well known in coast circles. Rae, a powerful player just out from Scotland, will be at right half, with Tom Brown, a young player of many clubs, and late of Southend, B.C. junior champions, at center half. White, a former Nanaimo district player, will flank him, it is likely.

McGregor is a certain choice for right wing. The little Scot, an experienced man, is about the best winger in these parts. Nesbitt, a coast veteran, or Bryce, a new man, are likely choices for inside right, with Lewis, a Nanaimo junior, at center. Stobbart, another coast player, will likely be at inside left, with Haddow, one of the best known local players, on the wing. Williams and Sim, the one a young coast player, the other a young Scot, are possibilities for the forward line.

Hope Holdings Ltd. has been incorporated as a company, with non-persona liability, to operate mining properties in the Hope area. It is capitalized at $500,000 in one million shares.

Princeton Defeated in Last League Game Sunday

Final Standing

Copper Mountain	8	5	1	2	25-6
Blakeburn	8	5	1	2	21-6
Princeton	8	0	8	0	4-38

Failing to develop system in attack or science in defense Princeton failed dismaly at the post Sunday in their final venture in the spring football league, and allowed Blakeburn to run through a 6-0 win to draw level with Copper Mountain and to necessitate a play-off for the title.

The game, played at Coalmont, was mediocre and devoid of interest. As is becoming chronic, Princeton dropped the first goal simply, and then went to pieces. The cleverness of the Blakeburn inside forwards and the thrustfulness of Tom Brown were the chief reason's for so decisive a triumph.

Blakeburn got three in the first half, when they had a big margin, and though matters were more even after the lemons, effective work close in gave them another trio.

Williams, a young player, turned in a nice game and helped himself to two well taken counters, with Haddow also getting two. McGregor and Stobbart were the other scorers.

TEAMS

BLAKEBURN — Williams; Miller and McIntosh; Paterson, Brown, and Mills; McGregor, Sim, Stobbart, Williams and Haddow.

PRINCETON — Bloor; Mottishaw and Rintoul; Dobie, Taylor and D. Nicholl; Arnold, O. Nicholl, W. Nicholl, Rossi and Cousins.

Referee—A. McDonald.

COPPER MT. 8; HEDLEY 2

Copper Mountain did their best to show that the July 1 upheaval, when Hedley set the heather on fire by fighting out a vicious draw, was all a mistake, when, Sunday, for the second week in succession, they administered a severe drubbing to the gold miners. The game, played at Copper Mt., ended 8-2 in favor of the home team.

Play opened fairly evenly, but Copper Mt. soon took the upper hand and their half back line dominated. Goals came with fair regularity when they started. Hedley was always in the picture, and fought back gamely, twice penetrating the Copper Mt. defense.

COPPER MT.—Moore; McPhee and Thomson; Thompson, Craigen and Slogar; Newton, Strutzel, Parker and Kelly.

HEDLEY NEXT SUNDAY

Hedley will likely appear at Princeton in an exhibition game Sunday, August 11, when an attractive encounter should be served up. Princeton has acquired several new men, and when re-organization is undertaken the club should have new strength.

PRINCETON CLUB MEETS

A meeting of the Princeton Football Club will be held in the office of the Star Tuesday evening at 8 p.m.

CURLING MOOTED

Road Roller Ruins Plans to Save Service

Notified of an impending blasting job near Langley Prairie on May 31, a telephone man strung temporary lines along the ground around the scene to take care of the service until the copper long-distance wires, probable victims of the blast, could be replaced.

Bang! went the explosion; down went the copper wires. But service was carried on via the temporary lines.

Everything went smoothly, just as planned, until a road roller ran over the temporary wires, with the result that the direct circuits from Vancouver to Abbotsford and from Vancouver to Abbotsford and from Vancouver to Langley were out for two and a half hours.

SKI CLUB ABANDONS PRIZE DRAWING DRIVE

Plans to Be Well Organized for Winter Activities

IT BEING found quite impossible to make the affair a financial success Princeton Ski Club, at a meeting in the Hotel Princeton Friday evening, voted to cancel the whole affair, and to put on in its place a community dance to be held in the Orange Hall, Friday, August 23rd.

This decision followed the presentation of a report by a special committee, comprising Rev. J. C. Goodfellow, A. Stenvold and J. Mitchell, who, investigating the progress made with the sale of tickets, found that comparatively few had been sold, and that it would be impossible to manage a drive of this sort within the stipulated time.

Because of his continued absence from town, A. Krogstad applied to resign as secretary, his resignation being accepted with regret. Dave Taylor was named secretary pro tem.

The annual meeting, it was decided, would be held October 4, when new officers will be elected and affairs put in order for a big actual sporting drive for the winter, including the opening of the local ski hill and possibly a tournament.

NEED FUNDS

An assessment of one dollar per member will be levied, in order to clear up the club's indebtedness. A. Stenvold and I. Knudsen were appointed to audit the books of the club.

Committees for the dance are as follows: Hall, music, printing, Dave Taylor; tickets, I. Knudsen; entertainment, H. McInroy.

Dave Taylor and H. McInroy were appointed to contribute a report of the activities of the Princeton Ski Club to the Canadian Ski Annual.

A. Stenvold occupied the chair, Rev. J. C. Goodfellow recording. The next meeting will be held August 19.

WRESTLER HERE FOR SEVERAL ENGAGEMENTS

Nelson Jepson, a brawny light heavyweight wrestler from Spokane, is in Princeton and will likely engage a few selected opponents in the course of the summer.

AT COPPER MT.

He has signed to take on Dick Stubbs, Copper Mt. middleweight wrestler, at Copper Mt. in the near future. He aggrees to throw Stubbs twice in an hour.

HERE AUG. 23

Jepson will appear in Princeton August 23 when Joe Hartman will stage another action card, including both wrestling and boxing. Joe has been negotiating with Ernie Arthur of Trail, claimant to the Canadian middleweight title, to take on Jepson.

GOLF PLAY SUNDAY

Monthly medal and spoon play will occupy the men and women respectively of the Princeton Golf Club this week-end. Match play against par will be the orher.

LOWER VALLEY

Rev, Field Yolland has now undertaken full duties in the lower valley. He met the ladies of St. John's Guild, Keremeos, at a tea Saturday, and the wardens and other members of the church committee Monday night.

At the Theatre

PRINCESS

A deep rooted tale of royal love, and the barriers held up against it, was the theme of "Forbidden Hours," starring Ramon Novarro over the week-end. Flashing Bebe Daniels, as a movie sharpshooter, showed up to great advantage in an action picture "Hot News" Monday and Tuesday.

Powerful Milton Sills appears in a railroad story of thrills and homely romance Friday and Saturday (First National), with Fred Thomson, a sportsman on and off the screen, in a western story "The Sunset Legion" (Paramount).

CAPITOL

Large crowds visited the new Capitol for the opening shows. Peter B. Kyne's great, manly story of the westward push of civilization enthralled all who saw "Tide of Empire." "The River Pirate," a red blooded tale with plenty of funny incidents was the Monday-Tuesday bill, with "Excess Baggage," a comedy-romance now running.

Another big bill is promised for this week. "The Street Angel" which shows this week-end, is one of the truly great pictures of the year, the companion picture to "The Seventh Heaven" which took the gold medal for the best photoplay last year. It has the same cast. Monday and Tuesday bring a real novelty in the form of one of the greatest air pictures ever released, "The Air Circus" (William Fox). A host of thrills are woven into a fabric of romance. "Making the Grade" is the title of a humorous comedy romance Wednesday and Thursday, light of theme, it provides a real diversion (William Fox). "Our Dancing Daughters" is one of the most talked of of present day pictures and deals, as the title suggests, with the evolution of manners. There is food for parent and child in this Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer classic.

PLANT TROUT EGGS

One hundred thousand trout eggs were last week placed in the Nickel Plate Mine lake by government officials from the Summerland hatchery. They expect ninety per cent of the eggs to hatch.

INVESTIGATE MAIL SERVICE

Post Office Inspector Trant was a recent vistior to Hedley and lower valley points seeking information and data relative to the establishing a daily mail service, brought about by supplementing the tri-weekly Great Northern service with a mail stage service from Princeton, as advocated by petitions circulated throughout the valley by Princeton Board of Trade.

HOT DOG!

The freak fire of the season was recorded Tuesday morning when the flying eastbound Coast-Kootenay Limited K.V.R. train came puffing into Princeton with the usual steam and more heat than was necessary. It was discovered that the front end of the baggage car had "got hot."

Word was sent to town, and the grim toll of the fire bell awakened the righteous population—some of them even won't be wakened by Gabriel's horn, of course—from their restful slumbers in the cold grey dawn.

Number twelve was on fire. Expeditiously the volunteers got the reel out and up to the station they clattered feet, Fords and all. The hose was speedily reeled out, and with the water ready to go on, someone cautously asked where the fire was. A pump gun and a pyrene would have been more appropriate. As it was, most of the fire had been cut away, but just for luck a little water was played on the end of the car, and a lot on the nozzlemen.

The flyer was able to proceed with her crippled baggage car after a short delay. The origin of the fire has not been reported. Princeton folk are wondering why in the heck the conflagration couldn't have occurred some other place than Princeton; preferrably some place where the flyer does not get in at such an ungodly hour.

MINING NOTES

OFFICIALS PLEASED

Messrs. Reed and Irwin, officials of the Ashington Coal Company, were up from New Westminster last week-end to view local operations just across the Tulameen River from the heart of Princeton. They stated they were very well satisfied with what they saw.

After a trying period cutting through gravel on the surface of the hill, the development gang has now reached easier going, and their persistance in driving from this difficult angle has been justified by indications of striking the main coal body very near the surface.

They will, according to Edward Floyd, manager, be able to take out coal by horse power very soon, and will soon be a real shipper.

Orders are waiting to be filled, and the development of operations is assured, states Mr. Floyd. Machinery will be installed as progress is made.
