War Pictures Shown Trade Bd. Members

Thrilling pictures of the allied war effort on D-Day were shown to the Board of Trade members at their monthly supper meeting held in the Travellers Hall on Monday. Col. E. M. MacBrayne, unit organizer for the 8th Victory Loan, spoke briefly, telling of the campaign which begins on Monday, April 23rd, St. George's Day. Similkameen's quota this time will be $200,000, with an objective of $300,000. Col. MacBrayne felt sure that this objective would be reached, and suggested that in addition to the slogan "Invest in the Best", we add Churchill's words, "Another good heave".

Two returned men were introduced to the Board: Sgt. John A. Pinson, of the Canadian Seaforths, who had been 5½ years overseas, and is now on rotation leave; F/O. L. LaValley, D.F.C., who had been two years overseas. Another guest was B. J. Stangroom, here as assistant organizer. F. Butterworth was enrolled as a new member.

A letter from A. C. MacKenzie, Penticton, referring to the Princeton cemetery road stated, "It is true that the road has not a number, but it is officially a public road, and as such, it has been our intention to keep it in passable condition for cars. . . . . The road is now named "Princeton Cemetery Road" and numbered 115.

W. A. Walker, Fire Marshal, Vancouver, had written advising that his office would send someone in the near future to "make a thorough inspection of all fire hazards".

The question of incorporation will be expounded to interested persons here by the Hon. E. T. Kenny, Minister of Lands, who will visit Princeton early in summer.

Liberal Candidate In Coming Election Visits Princeton

A. W. Gray, Rutland, Liberal candidate for Yale riding in the forthcoming Dominion election, spent Friday of last week in and around Princeton. During the afternoon he travelled out the Hope Road so that he might see for himself just what progress had been made, and the condition the road was in.

On Friday night there was a meeting of members of the local association at the home of G. G. Lyall, who is president of the Princeton branch. E. Dallow is secretary. Plans were laid, and arangements will be made for a public meeting to be held on the 24th of this month in the Oddfellows' Hall. This public meeting will be addressed by Mr. Gray, and others whose names will be announced, and will be followed by an Association meeting.

Monday, June 11th, has been set as the Dominion election day.

The cast consists of Mesdames Rea Burton, Grace Lawrence, Nancy Polrock, Pauline Gallo, NeAlma Anderson, Doris Cam, Margaret O'Brien, Diane Knighton, Jean McAulay, Eileen Taylor, and Helen Plecash; Messrs. Reg. Scott, Eugene McDonald, Oscar Kolbo, Stanley Matonivich, R. N. Warne, Jack Fortin, and H. R. Knighton, Jr.

The offer of this cast is purely voluntary and is designed to promote sale of Victory Bonds in the forthcoming loan, an offer unprecedented in the Valley.

The dates of their appearances are:

Copper Mtn., 8 p.m., April 22.
Keremeos, 8 p.m., April 23rd.
Nickel Plate, 2 p.m., April 29.
Hedley, 8.00 p.m., April 29th.

"Trst" is the original Slovenian, and generally Yugoslav, name for "Trieste."

8th Victory Loan Begins Monday 23rd

Victory Loan salesmen for Princeton, Allenby and Copper Mountain held an organization meeting in the Travellers' Hall on Tuesday night. P. W. Gregory was in the chair. Col. E. M. MacBrayne, unit organizer, pointing out the necessity for the present loan, stressed the continued need. "We do not know how long the war in Europe will last", he said, "but we do know the Nazis." Even after VE day in Europe there will be costs of re-establishment and rehabilitation to be faced, as well as a costly part which Canada must play in building up liberated countries; and she will have an important part in the war in the East, though it is not certain yet just what form her contribution may take.

Hedley, Nickel Plate, Cawston and Keremeos were represented at Keremeos, when Col. MacBrayne addressed the bond salesmen of the lower Similkameen Valley. He felt quite confident that added effort would reach objectives higher than last time. There had been no letdown since the Victory Loans began.

On Saturday, May 5th, the 36 piece H.M.C.S. Naden Band will make its first and only appearance in Similkameen at Princeton. The Capitol Theatre has been reserved for this event. Admission will be 75 cents. A 2¼ hour programme has been arranged, and a treat is in store for all who attend.

Major D. F. Gorrie Dies in Hospital

Following a stroke on Saturday, April 7th, Major D. F. Gorrie was rushed to the Princeton General Hospital, where he died on Friday, April 13th. He had been superintendent of the Granby Power Plant for several years, and had apparently been in good health prior to his sudden illness. He was held in the highest regard by all who knew him, and his passing is regretted by all. The sympathy of the whole community is extended to Mrs. Gorrie and members of the family in the great loss they have sustained. The remains were shipped to Nanaimo for interment in the family plot, and funeral services were held on Monday. A memorial service was held in the Anglican Church here on Sunday night for Major Gorrie and Pte. Lawrence Morgan, who was killled in action on Easter Sunday.

Major Gorrie was born in Perth, Scotland, and served his apprenticeship in his father's firm of David Gorrie & Sons. He had been 36 years in Canada, 28 in British Columbia, and six in Princeton. He had lived in Vancouver for twenty years, and was a former mechanical engineer for the Public Utilities Commission there.

Major Gorrie served in the South African war for two years with the Black Watch regiment in the Imperial army, and was with the Fort Garry Horse, and the Royal Engineers in the First World War, winning the Efficiency Medal and the Croix de Guerre.

Surviving are his wife, two sons, Alex of Nanaimo and Frank of Vancouver; a daughter, Barbara d'Auria, and a brother in Scotland. A younger son, Cpl. James Gorrie, was killed overseas in 1940.

Princeton Plans V-E Day Celebration

Hall last Thursday, representatives of local bodies, churches, lodges, etc., elected J. G. Cleveland as chairman of a general committee to organize a celebration to be held [illegible] when it is [illegible] Milne will be general secretary. Committee conveners were appointed, and preparations already under way, will be announced later. The signal for V-E Day, we are advised by the committee, will be three long blasts on the siren.

The 8th Victory Loan opens next Monday, April 23rd.

The best job you ever did has to be done again!

REMEMBER when you were asked to buy Victory Bonds last Fall?

One of the company War Finance Workers asked you: "Well, how much will it be this time, Bert?" And you told him.

Then he asked: "And how about buying another bond—for cash?"

You hadn't thought of that. The one you were buying on the Payroll Plan was going to pinch you plenty.

Suddenly, for no reason, you thought of that husky, fair-haired Stevens kid who lived in the brown house near you. You'd been talking to his mother only a couple of days ago and she told you he'd been reported missing after they'd taken Calais. You didn't know what to say to her then.

So you said, "O.K.—I'll take that other bond for cash."

And he answered: "It's a wise move, Bert. Victory Bonds are a grand investment at 3%. And in an emergency you can get your money back on them immediately."

When you got home and told Mary what you'd done, she didn't squawk. She just said, "What else can we do?"

Two weeks later there was a "V" flag flying over your plant building. And it made you feel warm deep inside to be a member of that winning team.

It was the best job you ever did!

The cost of war is greater now than ever.

The Great President

Last Thursday afternoon President Roosevelt died. He had been resting at his home in Warm Springs, Georgia, seeking relaxation from his arduous duties, when the end came. Sitting before the open fireplace, with no warning to those around him, he lapsed into unconsciousness, and died without pain. When the news was flashed around the world a sense of gloom, and personal loss, came to millions of people. The universal comment was, "We have lost a good friend". He was, indeed, a friend to all freedom-loving people. Few men have so endeared themselves to millions.

He will go down in history as "The Great President"; not "The Great President Roosevelt", but "Roosevelt, the Great President". He magnified his office.

While still a young man, with a future of bright promise before him, he was stricken with infantile paralysis, an insidious malady that robs the body of strength, and saps the mind of will power. He determined that this dread disease should not have dominion over him. While other victims said, "I will, if I can", he said, "I can, if I will".

He that conquereth himself is greater than he that taketh a city. The same spirit which conquered disease in himself, he brought to overcome the evils of national depression when he was first elected president. And when his country was engulfed in the world war he determined that the evil thing that had fallen on the nations should not have dominion over them. He was a leader and commander of the people. He was not a king, but he was a kingly man. The spirit of Roosevelt is mighty yet. His example will inspire those who would win the peace after the sword is sheathed. Like Moses, he did not live to enter the promised land towards which he led his people, a land wherein the Four Freedoms are enthroned, but his soul goes marching on.

The War News Is Good

Yes, the news from the battlefronts is good. Germany is licked, although it might take a lot more bitter fighting to make her admit it. The Pacific war is going a lot better than most authorities would have cared to forecast a year or two ago.

The news just might be good enough to make some of us let up in our efforts; for instance, to take the call for support of the Eighth Victory Loan less seriously than before, to think that, when the shooting stops, our savings stops.

The news isn't that good. It is doubtful if it sounds that good to the million-odd Canadians in the armed forces, many of whom haven't seen their homes and families for over five years, and who are counting on us to get them home as quickly as possible and see them re-established in civilian life.

The news can't be that good to the 8,000 Canadians in prison camps, or to the 45,000 wounded. No matter how good the news is, it must be shadowed with grief for the dependents of the 37,000 Canadians who have lost their lives or who are missing already in the war.

We must look behind the headlines during this Eighth Victory Loan. We must see clearly the need for money to bring our forces home; to look after the sick and wounded; to care for the disabled; to re-establish them in civilian life and find them jobs; to protect those left without support.

The news that will sound good to them is the report of a record over-subscription in the Eighth Victory Loan. —(c).

From a Selfish Viewpoint

Just the fact that the boys who are facing death for us need our support is all the reason we require for putting every dollar we have into Victory Bonds.

Apart from the patriotic urgency, however, there are very good selfish reasons why individuals should restrict their spending to essentials, and put every dollar they can scrape together into Victory Bonds.

In the first place, it takes $2,000 in the bank to earn as much as $1,000 in Victory Bonds.

Again, with the end of the European war in sight, the day is coming when it isn't going to be so easy to save. It hasn't been difficult to earn money in wartime, and it has been fairly easy to save money. Few goods have been available, and it has been patriotic, and therefore "fashionable" to save. These conditions may not exist much longer . . . it is a good idea now to acquire as big as possible a "stake" against the day when there are things to buy, and "Joneses" to be kept up with.—(c).

HUMAN VOLCANOES

If we bottle all our feelings up,
Sometime we are sure to blow our top!
For at the bottom they will not stay—
They are bound to effervesce some day.

If our emotions we try stifling
And with outlets we bear no trifling,
In our old age, with all our leisure,
We shall develop high blood pressure.

It is our pent-up feelings that "emote"
And cause the troubles that are afloat:
If Herr Hitler had "let go" when small,
Der Furore would not be here at all!

THE MAIL GOES THROUGH

The Post Office Department does a job that gets right into the home of every Canadian. Since the war that job has been tremendously increased, anl at the same time skilled help has become scarce and motor, rail, air, and ocean transportation has become short. In spite of that, gross postal revenue has risen from less than $43 million in 1939 to over $73 million in 1944!

The greatest increase in service — apart from mail to the armed forces overseas—has been in air-mail. Three round transcontinental airmail flights are operated daily, and for every pound of airmail carried in 1939, more than four pounds are carried today.

Overseas mail to the armed forces has zoomed, too. In 1944 the post office sent sixty million letters and airgraphs and 32 million pounds of parcels overseas.

Your nearest post office is one of 12,234 post offices across the country, and your postmaster or post-mistress one of 37,000 employees. Canadian mail travels over 39,000 miles of railway, and 15,000 air miles!

Getting the mail through is a mighty job. But post offices do other jobs as well. They sell war savings stamps and certificates, and unemployment insurance stamps, conduct national registration, and issue ration books, gas ration and income tax forms. Canada's postal service is truly an integral part of the war effort.

FARMER, SAVE THAT COCKEREL CHICK!

There's going to be a market —and floor prices — for every pound of Grade A and Grade B poultry meat that can be raised this year. Reason? Canada has arranged to supply to the U. S. Army her surplus up to 30 million pounds — and that's a lot of cheepers. Prices have been agreed upon as follows: Grade A milk-fed—30c per pound; Grade A—28c; Grade B milk-fed—28c; Grade B—26c; Grade C (4 lbs. and up)—20c.

So pamper your little peckers this year to help them "make the grade". Don't destrop your cockerel chicks—there's profit in every pound.

Letters to the Editor

Allenby, B.C.,
April 16th, 1945.

The Editor.

Dear Sir:

I would like to comment, through the medium of your paper, most favorably on shows presented by the "National Trade Union Film Circuit" at Allenby. These films, sponsored by the "Workers' Education Assn.", bring forth an education value which indeed deserves the highest praise. A most hearty thanks also to Mr. A. P. Perry, Field Rep., N.F.B., for his invaluable advice and discussion on recreational facilities and furthering co-operation between Union and Community committees. His remarkable ability to explain recreational problems and his grasp and understanding of local situations, makes one wonder wherein the difficulty was in overcoming the situation discussed.

It is felt locally, that the W. E. A. does much to further a better understanding of Trade problems and helps alleviate class distinction and misinterpretation of National Trade Unionism. It is refreshing to be acquainted through this service, with first-hand information on so many different topics. The appropriation by the Federal Government by Order-in-Council of $40,000 for recreational projects, is therefore thought a step in the right direction and is deserving of everyone's co-operation by making use of the facilities offered.

The films presented are indeed entertainment for young and old and warrant the hearty support of everyone interested in education, recreation and a knowledge of the rapid pace in which the world is forging its road into a brighter, more desirable future.

Our "Hats Off" to the W.E.A. and its splendid staff, who bring to us such good entertainment and also help to bring about a better community spirit.

Sincerely yours,
FRANK MAHONEY,
Pres., Community League.

Harry Richmond New Curlers' President

The annual banquet of the Princeton Curling Club was held in the Travellers' Hall on Thursday of last week, forty members being present at the final meeting of the year, with President Albert E. Bloom in the chair.

The President gave a comprehensive report of the Club's activities for the past season, which was one of the best the Princeton Club has enjoyed. The membership included 60 members and was well represented at bonspiels at Vernon, Copper Mountain and Princeton.

John G. Cleveland, reporting the club's activity at the Copper Mountain Bonspiel, stated that he thought curling was an old man's game but he has found out since that curling is what makes men get old. He also believed that before one enters a bonspiel he should go into six weeks' training so he would be able to take part in all activities both off and on the ice.

J. L. Jenkins reported on the Vernon Bonspiel and outlined the wonderful time the Princeton Clubs had at Vernon this year.

Reg. Scott, chairman of the Princeton Bonspiel Committee, reported on the Spiel held here this year. He gave credit to L. Q. Wilson for his organizing ability and his valuable assistance in making collections of both cash and material for prizes. Mr. Scott also gave a blow by blow description of the horrors and joys of spending five nights in the ladies' parlor in Vernon. This room was converted into a gigantic bedroom to accommodate the curlers at the Vernon Spiel. It was equipped with double decker bunks and according to Reg. the big rush was for lowers. Somehow or other the Princeton boys managed to get the lower shelves and the fellows from Osoyoos, Quesnel and Chilliwack had to take the top decks.

Officers elected for the season of 1945-46, were: President, Harry Richmond; vice-president, Ed. Hamilton; secretary-treasurer, Hugh Bennett; executive: A. E. Bloom (past president), Geo. Schisler, Dave Wallace, Walter Woodhouse and Alf. Sorenson.

A double knock-out competition that was unfinished at the end of the season was "curled" out. The curlers threw darts instead of curling rocks. Alf Sorenson rink won first and Dave Wallace was second.

George Schisler brought up the matter of Lawn Bowling. As it is a summer game and in some respects similar to Curling George thought the Princeton Curling Club should take an interest in this game. President Harry Richmond appointed a committee of R. Scott, chairman, George Schisler, Stan. Wilson, Dave Wallace and Ed. Fitzgerald to make enquiry into the costs and other data.

Victory Loan Sunday Will Be April 22nd

All churches in Similkameen have been invited to observe Victory Loan Sunday on April 22nd, and it is expected that ample reference will be made to Canada's war effort. The letter addressed to ministers by the heads of the various denominations reads, in part, as follows:

We ask our people especially to pray in their churches on Victory Loan Sunday, April the 22nd,—to pray to God for a righteous peace, for His blessing upon our leaders, and upon all the men and women of our Armed Forces. They will, we know, thank God for the courage of men, for the sacrifice of so many who have given their lives for our cause and for those who have given their health. They will pray for God's guidance upon the company who will go forth to sell the bonds, and for those who lend their money.

Sunday, April the 22nd, Victory Loan Sunday, is on the eve of St. George's Day, and Shakespeare's birthday. On these days we remember great names. They inspire us to go forward in something of the spirit which possessed their great souls in the face of danger.

May God be with us all, and help us to finish the task.

War Pictures Shown Trade Board Members

Affiliation with the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, with headquarters at Montreal, was approved. The Chamber seeks to coordinate the work of the various boards throughout the country.

Reg. Scott, chairman, reported on the Associated Boards of Trade meeting held in Keremeos last month. The date set for the coast meeting of Interior boards is May 16th, and members who could attend were asked to do so.

Rev. E. W. Slater told of plans made at recent meeting to celebrate V-E Day. These include religious services, parades, bonfire and dance.

Speaking on the provincial rehabilitation committee, of which C. Nichols is local representative, Mr. Scott said a meeting was called for next Monday in the Travellers Hall, and that representatives of business, agriculture, industry, labour etc., would be invited to attend. It is proposed to form a Princeton Rehabilitation Council, which can prepare briefs with reference to post-war industry and employment.

E. W. Cook moved that we write the Vancouver Tourist Association pointing out the fishing and hunting possibilities of this area. Mr. Harman pointed out the part the Princeton Fish, Game and Forest Association is playing in this regard. Mr. Prideaux thought that the matter should be referred to the local body. R. Colwell commented on recent progressive suggestions for development of mining areas.

Ed. Cook told of a hunter who had crossed a certain area in this district many times in recent years, then a prospector came along with his pick, and broke off a piece of rock, which assayed 16 ozs. of gold to the ton. The inference was that we have a potential gold mine at our back door.

The condition of Vermillion Avenue was commented on by Gilbert Prideaux, who urged that it be oiled, or hard surfaced, immediately. It was stated that this road would be built up this year, in preparation for hard surfacing next year.

P. W. Gregory spoke of plans for development of Manning Park, and said that a party of the Naturalist Society, Victoria, was planning to visit the area this summer.

Sugar for Canning

Points to be remembered about the distribution of sugar for canning during 1945 are as follows:

1. Twenty extra preserves coupons are being made available for purchase of sugar for canning on the basis of half a pound of sugar per coupon. The first two of these became valid on March 15th, a further eight will be valid on May 17 and the remaining ten coupons may be used on and after July 19.

2. There are not sufficient orange colored preserve coupons in ration book five to last the entire year, but when these are used up some other sheet of coupons will be selected for preserves.

Mrs. J. Breslin, nee Mildred Logsdon, was here last weekend with Miss Mary Mahoney, Allenby, who is home on leave before enlisting in the Canadian women's forces. Mrs. Breslin lives in Vancouver. She was a resident of Princeton some 20 years ago.

Worker Scores Company Unions

April 16th, 1945.

Dear Sir:

I would like to know why you published "Blaylock's" anti-labor union article in your paper.

I want to make this comment as short as possible, the article is hardly worth replying to. But there are a few backward people who read your paper and to them I would like to say: "Blaylock has had his own way for such a long time, I am sure it must be hard for him to come down to earth". Mr. Blaylock admits he has the best of harmony with the Union, since he has recognized it. The Union wants harmony with everybody. But we don't want to be slaves, we want a little "say" regarding our means of life. Our means of life, is our job. He who owns the means whereby we live, owns us. This is but one reason we have a Union, to have a little say in our means of life.

Mr. Blaylock objects to the check-off system. Nobody can say there is any crime in the check-off system we have with the "Granby Company". It is hard to have a good Union, if all the workers do not belong to it, because the Union is trying to make life a little better than it has been in the past and the "non-union-man" hitch-hikes and never pays for the gas.

Sincerely yours,
—WORKER.

G. G. LYALL, Prop.

ONCE again the Government has to appeal to the public for more money, to bring the war to a successful conclusion. It has been a long, costly war in money and men's lives, but, according to reports, the end is in sight, although the enemy have a large number of soldiers who are putting up a desperate fight against the Allies, who are advancing all along the line.

The final mopping up may take six months, some returned men predict, and in the meantime we can raise the money to pay the soldiers, and buy Five Roses Flour to make them healthy again.

Replies to Article On Income Tax

Princeton, B. C.,
April 16th, 1945.

Dear Sir:

In your issue of April 12th an article headed "Oh! My Income Tax!", appeared which contained a good deal of misinformation about the Family Allowances and tax exemption.

The statement that the writer would "relinquish" rights to tax exemption for a dependent by taking the Family Allowance is entirely false. No one relinquishes any such exemption, but the actual amount of Family Allowance received will be deducted from the exemption. The amount of $108 quoted as the exemption would still stand, and the $96 of allowance received would be deducted, leaving a net exemption of $12, so the writer would be exactly even, instead of losing the $12 as he stated. By the same token those with larger families would continue to be granted the full exemption of $108 per child, the actual amount of family allowance in each case being deducted. For example, a family with four children would have a total exemption of $432. If the Family Allowance received was $96 for the eldest, $84 for the next, $72 for the third, and $60 for the youngest, the total Allowance would be $312. The result would be that there would be an exemption of $120 still remaining. The whole argument of the writer was built upon a false premise, and looks like a deliberate attempt to deceive the public.

Yours truly,
Princeton Liberal Association.

BONDS

Have you bought Victory Bonds? . . . Good! . . . Very good. . . . Have you any hope for the future? . . . .

There is a healing for our political ailments. There is a balm for our troubled situations. There is a cure-all for our well being as an individual, or, as a community. . . . Do you believe it?

The war effort is of prime importance. Men in the trenches are buddies in a common fight or purpose, and they have buddies at home backing them up in the same purpose,—but why should we be buddies in the trenches and in war, and every man for himself in peacetime? There is a need for a common aim—a purpose of prime importance, in peace time. There is a need for faith in our country, and in our community,— Faith in our neighbors, faith in our Governments, — confidence in God. There is need to keep going also, we must not turn back on the sacrifices already made in good faith.

We have Victory Bonds; are there also peace bonds? There are. . . . It is more necessary for a man's welfare for him to have a clean heart and a right spirit than it is for him to have wealth or abundance of money.

People who put Christ first in their hearts and lives are not forsaken, any more than the one who came to represent God to man was allowed to fail in His purpose.—He was raised from the dead. People who put Christ first—have invested in Peace Bonds,—they can trust one another.

The Bible states that "All the nations that forget God, shall be turned into Hell". Japan and Germany are quite a hell and will probably be more so—especially if Japan gets another earthquake. In the midst of the pride and pomp of a naval demonstration, in by-gone days, Kipling wrote:

"Judge of the nations, spare us yet,
Lest we forget; lest we forget."

When we the people take no tainted money, when we seek a clean heart and a right spirit, when we bow before the sacrifice of the Son of God; and are outspoken about it—then it will begin to show up in our governments. Maybe it is showing up, there are some good efforts being put forth, but we need more.

There is a cure for our social, individual or political ailments; methinks it is spelled with an "R"—Revival. Revival of sacrifice to God, war time or peacetime. It will not come through organizational efforts, religious rallys or propaganda, or mental hygiene—they are the results of it. It can come to those who do not forget God. Prayer changes things.

The younger generation of this age are learning the ways of violence, of scientific achievement. Send them to good Sunday Schools where they may learn the attributes of peace,—may learn of the Prince of Peace.

This war is no Sunday School picnic, but just the same some of our most capable leaders and generals are praying men. General Montgomery, General Eisenhower, General Dobbie of Malta, to mention only a few, are men who give due respect to God—are men of prayer.

Trust, only in our achievements of science and invention, or in our mental achievements, religious, political or hygienic, and our glory will become our shame in stumbling failures. Mankind found the use of electricity but no electric company can compete with the sun, and light up half the globe at once. Put Christ first, put confidence in God, and our efforts will not be in vain. Accept the leadership of that Spirit which says "Praise the Lord for all that we have and all that we are." God has no individual representative in the world today. No politician or preacher can compete with the sun of righteousness.

In the days of Lincoln and Washington, sittings of the government of the United States were started with prayer. They were men of prayer. The results of their efforts are still a glory in the States today. Let us consecrate our wealth to the Lord—give to our best extent to any and every cause we have faith in, but be sure to give. Let us invest in Peace bonds,—and soon our governments will represent the salt of the earth. — A.T.
