UNTO HIM A PARTNER

WAS TAKEN YESTERDAY BY WILLIAM O'BRIEN

The Celebrated Editor and Parliamentarian of the British House of Commons—The Ceremony was Attended by many of His Faithful Admirers.

LONDON, June 11.—Scenes in and about Brompton Oratory on the occasion of the marriage of Miss Sophia Raffalovitch to William O'Brien today were characterized throughout by evidences of Irish political enthusiasm impossible of concealment, and many leading Nationalist members of Parliament present were treated to somewhat noisy proofs of the popular esteem in which they are held. The church was filled to full extent of its capacity. The guests included Herbert Gladstone, large majority of Parnellite members of Parliament, many English members, a number of prominent French residents and a great gathering of ladies. The interior of the edifice was beautifully decorated with flowers, palms, etc. O'Brien was late in arriving and looked pale and worn as he took his place at the altar by the side of his bride, who, although commonly described as tall, lithe and beautiful, is really short, dark and undeniably homely. Dillon bore his part as groomsman perfectly and contributed greatly to the smoothness with which the affair was conducted. Little girls acted as maids of honor. Parnell looked ruddy and appeared to be in excellent health and spirits.

London Gleanings.

LONDON, June 11.—The St. James' Gazette in an article on negotiations now being carried on by England and Germany relative to territory in Africa says: It is probable that a settlement will be reached by the terms of which the Germans will evacuate Witu and abandon their claims to territory behind that place. The Gazette further says that the line will be drawn across the Victoria Nyanza 1 degree south of the equator to the eastern boundary of the Congo State. All disputed territory north of this line will be British and all south of it German. The English will be entitled to construct and use a road from the Victoria Nyanza to Lake Tanganyika. The English will also have absolute control of the Stevenson road from Lake Tanganyika to Lake Nyanza and of the region around Lake Bangweolo and the Urungu territory.

The U. S. Navy.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Bureaus of construction and engineering of the Navy Department today received bids for new naval vessels which were opened in the secretary's office yesterday. Secretary Tracy, it is understood, is under the impression that the figures submitted on armored cruisers are excessive and special report on this point will be made to him tomorrow. It is not believed that the bureaus will make any recommendations but will simply submit comparative figures for the secretary's information and guidance. Taking the bid of $3,700,000 as a basis, the armored cruiser at a weight of 8,100 tons would cost $370 a ton, whereas the armored coast defense ship Monterey will cost $407 a ton. The other two armored vessels now under process of construction, the Maine and Texas, are also in excess of the estimate of $370 a ton, the former being $380 a ton, and the latter $396 a ton.

Presbyterians in Assembly.

NEW YORK, June 11.—In today's session of the Returned Presbyterian Committee on divorce it reported in favor of limiting divorce to cases of adultery, or wilful desertion. Report opposing the use of or trading in tobacco was adopted. Reference was again had to the vice-president's building in Washington being used partly for liquor business, and this was condemned as an indirect participation in immorality.

Dispatching Trains.

ST. LOUIS, June 11.—Train Dispatchers' Association of America opened its second day's session at the Odd Fellow's Hall this morning. Report of the committee on train rules was passed without alteration. One was to prevent a new train being run until the time table bearing its number has been issued. It was ordered that all places where trains meet or pass should be designated by small type on the table giving the number of the train to be met or passed. Also ordered that all figures should be spelled out in train orders.

A Railway Combine.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The Commercial Advertiser this afternoon says that the Richmond Terminal & Northern combined in the purchase yesterday of Baltimore & Ohio stock from the city of Baltimore and that one of the most stupendous deals and combinations that has been made in years is on the tapis. Both the Richmond Terminal and Northern Pacific want to reach New York and it is stated that yesterday's purchase of the Baltimore & Ohio makes this possible.

Proprietors in Trouble.

BUFFALO, June 11.—Proprietors of the Genesee House are in trouble with the German-American bank which foreclosed a mortgage for $12,500 which it holds against furniture, and today the sheriff seized the furniture and began removing. This action will probably result in closing of the hotel.

A Tornado.

MILTON, Ont., June 11.—Violent thunder storm here today developed into a tornado which wrecked many buildings and fences on the line of the township of Esquesing. Path of the tornado was 50 yards wide. No fatalities are reported.

According to Rule.

KINGSTON, June 11.—The band of "A" Battery refused to accompany the Forester's excursion on an American steamer today because the captain refused to haul down the stars and stripes. The colonel says it would have been in violation of British military rules to permit the band to board the boat.

Vassar College.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y., June 11.—The commencement exercises at Vassar College was held in the college chapel this morning. Upon the platform was the college faculty, board of trustees, college alumni and a few guests. Among them were Vice President Morton, wife and daughter. The graduating class occupied seats immediately in front. The gallery was occupied by the rest of the students and visitors occupied the rest of the building. Graduating exercises were of a very high order and the address of President Taylor to the graduates was especially appropriate and touching. Members of the graduating class were dressed in white and reading of their essays elicited many expressions of approval from the large audience present. Tomorrow exercises will be held appropriately celebrating the 25th anniversary of the college.

Free Masons in Session.

WINNIPEG, June 11.—The Masonic Grand Lodge of Manitoba and the Northwest opened here tonight. Grand Master O'Meara in his address refers in kindly terms to the reception tendered him by Vancouver Masons on his recent visit there.

TUSKOWN, June 11.—Thomas Arly, accused of manslaughter in having caused the death of his wife, was acquitted today.

Senate Appropriations.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—House Committee on public buildings and grounds today reported favorably a bill appropriating $200,000 for a public building at San Diego, California. The Senate Bill for purchase of the site for a public building at New Orleans was reported with amendment reducing the appropriation to $500,000.

Money makes the mayor go. That's what John Brown says.

TORONTO TOPICS.

The Medical—The Anglican Synod—Political Speculations.

TORONTO, June 11.—The tenth annual meeting of the Ontario Medical Association opened this morning at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, of the membership 650 being present.

The Toronto Diocesan Synod met yesterday. Among the communications received was one from the Bishop of Toronto, which conveyed information that the synods of the various dioceses in British North America would be requested to elect two delegates each to attend a conference with a joint committee and such representatives as may be appointed by the Provincial Synod of Rupert's Land and from the dioceses comprising that province to be held at Winnipeg on August 13th, for the purpose of considering and framing a scheme for the union of the church in British North America to be submitted to the synod of every diocese for its adoption prior to the next meeting of the provincial synod in 1892.

There is talk of protested elections from several quarters. The Conservatives talk of protesting East and West York, Peel and South Wentworth, and the Liberals of doing the same as to the two Elgins, East Middlesex, Lennox and Prince Edward. The Globe denies that Hon. G. W. Ross is to take another portfolio and give place to Gibson or Harcourt as Minister of Education.

Two ships laden with steel rails are now on the way to unload at Liverpool. Now is the time to buy lots, while they are cheap. 236-2i

Foresters in Session.

KINGSTON, June 11.—The eleventh annual meeting of the High Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters opened here yesterday. The credential committee reported there were represented 73 courts in Ontario, 4 in Manitoba and 7 in Quebec. The High Secretary reported an increase of 1,637 in the membership and $1 in the lodges. The High Secretary's report was also highly satisfactory.

Progress of the Duke.

QUEBEC, June 11.—The Duke and Duchess of Connaught returned to Quebec from the Canepedia fishing grounds today. They will be presented with an address at the Parliament buildings tomorrow.

Domestic Unhappiness.

FALMER, Mass., June 11.—Ed. F. Costello, brakeman employed by the New London & Northern railway instantly killed his little son, 19 months old, today, while the child lay asleep in the cradle. He stood directly over the boy and shot him in the breast. Costello then fired three shots at his wife, one striking her corset steel, which saved her life. Domestic trouble was the cause.

How She Did It.

A few evenings ago as the Westminster-Vancouver train came into our city, a young lady up-town calculating to save time in the walk from the station undertook to disembark on the fly at Lytton crossing, soliciting the aid of the gallant and always willing brakeman of this division, she stepped from the second coach to the ground with no greater mishap than getting her dainty feet bespattered with mud. The traveling public of the fair sex, at least—will learn with regret that the above mentioned chivalrous gentleman has left this division of the road for the mountains.

Nearly Drowned.

About 1 o'clock this morning, while Officer Carty was patrolling his beat in the west end of the city, he heard cries of "police" coming from near Webster's Wharf. Upon closer investigation he found Mr. George Rose in the water up to his neck and clinging to one of the piles of the wharf. The officer immediately procured assistance from the Cleveland Hotel and succeeded in rescuing the nearly drowned man. He was so far gone that he could not stand up, and fears are entertained of his recovery. He was not able to give an explanation of how he got into the river, other than that he was "electioneering for Brown." Mr. Rose was in the street last evening, considerably under the influence of liquor, and the supposition is that he walked or fell over the wharf into the river at the point where he was found. Another five minutes and he would have been among the mysteriously missing. He was taken to the city lock-up and placed in a good warm bed, which may possibly have the effect of bringing him around all right today.

When you have a friend in the Government don't turn him against you.

The Southern Railway.

Mr. Nelson Bennett, president, Mr. Thompson, solicitor, and Mr. Donovan, chief engineer, of the Fairhaven and Southern Railway, drove out in company with Mr. Douglas from Vancouver last night. The object of the visit is to arrange the right of way and other terminal facilities in this city. It will be recollected that a short time ago these gentlemen made certain proposals to the corporation and it is understood that a joint meeting with the City Council will be held, probably today, to discuss the position.

Don't destroy the city's chances of benefits by following the candidate of a Will-o'-the-Wisp party.

$10,000,000 IN GOLD

LYING ON THE BOTTOM OF THE SEA NEAR CAPE HENLOPEN

And a Wrecking Party Have Gone to Recover the Sunken Treasure—Sub-Ports of Entry—Commission Restrained—Drowning Accident—Cowle's Condition.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The wrecking steamer Rescue of the Merritt Wrecking Company, started tonight for Cape Henlopen to begin operations for the recovery of the British sloop-of-war DeBrassck, which was capsized off the Delaware coast on May 25th, 1778. There is every reason to believe that $10,000,000 in gold is in the hold of the sunken vessel, which is supposed to be lying on the bottom somewhere off Cape Henlopen. The English Government wanted on several occasions to send a wrecking party to seek the lost treasure, but as the DeBrask sunk so near the coast of Delaware the United States Government claimed it.

Sub-Ports of Entry.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Norman R. Smith, of Port Angeles, is in the city to urge passage of bill to make Seattle and Port Angeles sub-ports of entry and clearance. Smith says vessels bound for Victoria are obliged to go 20 miles out of their way to clear at Port Townsend.

Commission Restrained.

MONTREAL, June 11.—When the commission appointed to investigate the charge that Contractor Whalen had paid Editor Picard $10,000 to be used for election purposes, met this morning, it was confronted with a writ of prohibition restraining it from further examination of Whalen and Picard. The question of the commission's jurisdiction will be taken into court. The commission adjourned till Monday next.

Has Westminster only one man for all her offices (which have salaries attached.)

Cowle's Condition.

MONTREAL, June 11.—The condition of Cowles shows some improvement today. Physicians appointed by the court to examine him decided that he is able to make a deposition. Accordingly at 3 o'clock this afternoon Judge Doherty proceeded to the hospital and took his sworn statement. It will be laid before the grand jury tomorrow. Hale is still out on parole.

Drowning Accident.

BEAUHARNOIS, Man., June 11.—While Thomas and Frederick Howland were attempting to cross Boikeshead River, ten miles north of here, on a tree yesterday, the former fell into the river and was drowned. Frederick also fell into the water but was rescued. The body has not yet been recovered.

Paddy's Eye Water.

The eight candidates who have been going through the district in a coach canvassing, made a rule that while they were in the coach there should be no political conversation whatever. He who started to talk politics would be fined a bottle of "Paddy's eye water," to be paid at the next station. In consequence of this rule seven of them had to pay the fine, only one getting off. But there is one more day, and tape still lingers with the others that they will yet get even with him. Of course, the "eye-water" was not drunk.

The lots in Liverpool for sale by Messrs. Woods & Foley are in the registered townsite of Liverpool, and what is more, they are immediately adjoining the new wharf, and are located both along the river front and the line of the Southern Railway. 236-2i

At Maple Ridge.

A very large assemblage of electors greeted the district candidates at Maple Ridge last evening. The straight Government candidates—Henderson and Kirkland—were the favorites, and had the sympathy of the audience throughout. The Opposition and "Independent" candidates were subjected to a merciless fire of questions, many of which they were utterly incapable of answering, and seemed greatly relieved when the meeting was over.

Last Night's Meeting.

Herring's Opera House was again crammed to the very doors last night with citizens to receive political pabulum from Mr. J. C. Brown's standpoint. Promptly at 8 o'clock Mr. T. J. Trapp took the chair and introduced Mr. Brown, who was received with great applause. He said that, as he had just finished addressing a meeting at Sapperton, and was somewhat fatigued thereby, he would not detain the audience any great length of time. He came out as a straight Independent—as a member of the Independent party—and had so far seen no reason to change his mind, but would continue so to the end of the chapter. He still stood just where he was when he first came out. The Government at first had acted rather stiff towards the Independents, as the delegation that went to Victoria in regard to the Redistribution Bill, but now they were showing great deference to the new party because of the strength and popularity it had developed. The speaker dwelt at considerable length upon the subject of a new land law for the Province. He stated Mr. Cunningham had got a few paltry amendments attached to the bill, but had utterly neglected to have repealed the bad features of the old measure. As the law now stands, the owner of the building or improvement is not held responsible for more that the contract price, and as contracts are often taken too low, there is not money enough to pay the mechanic. He would advocate a mechanics' lien law requiring the payment of workingmen's demands in full first, before the other demands were considered, and let the lawyers fight over the balance. He touched upon Mr. Davie's letter in TRUTH, and said that as to the matter of letter b see throughout the city, he had been for some time working quietly in the matter, and could safely say that they would be duly provided in a short time. The Prime Minister had said that he desired Mr. Cunningham's return, because he could work with Mr. Cunningham, but not with Mr. Brown. The speaker would accept this if amended so as to read: "I can work Mr. Cunningham, but cannot work Mr. Brown." He then dwelt at some length upon Mr. Cunningham leaving the Government caucus and never returning, yet still holding his allegiance to the party. The two parties—the Independents and the Government—were on trial. The Government says: "If you are good we will give you this and that; but if you are not good you will get nothing." The Independent party was a true call for the people to arise in their might and make a strike for liberty, justice, fair play, and equal rights. The speaker was often interrupted by applause and cheers.

Mr. Thomas Cunningham was then loudly called for and mounted the platform amid vociferous applause. He said he did not intend to make a speech at that time, but would talk to the people at length tonight at the same place. He thought Mr. Brown's criticisms of himself and others connected with him had been unjust and ungenerous. When the lien law came before the Legislature, he had sent word to the workingmen of this city to get together and find out what they wanted, so that he could act intelligently in the matter, and he had got nearly every one of their recommendations incorporated in the bill. He would invite everyone present, including Mr. Brown, to come to his meeting tonight, and he would bespeak for them fair treatment.

Mr. Turnbull next took the stand, and in a tragic manner asserted that Mr. Cunning had ignored the wishes of the people of New Westminster upon the lien law.

Mr. O. B. Ackerman next mounted the platform, and was delivering a fine speech in favor of Mr. Cunningham, when he was howled down by the mob there representing "fair play" and "equal rights."

Mr. Brown again came forward and denied the authorship of the letter in TRUTH signed "J.C.B." With anger plainly depicted upon his countenance, he accused Mr. Ackerman of being the author for the sole purpose of making a point against him (Brown).

Mr. J. C. Armstrong was then loudly called. He came forward and kept the audience in a good humor for some time, making many good points for his candidate.

Mr. J. Ker and Dr. W. Kent closed the speech-making, after which a vote of thanks was tendered the chairman, and the meeting broke up.

PAST AND PRESENT.

EDITOR TRUTH: Sir,—If I am not very badly mistaken, when Mr. Cunningham ran last fall for the vacant seat in the Local House, the Colonists supported him to the best of its weak ability, even going so far as to require its staff to labor all day Sunday and Sunday night, up to nearly daylight Monday morning in order to place before the electors campaign documents favorable to Mr. Cunningham. Now, I would like to enquire of Mr. Cunningham's principles, or the principles he advocates, have undergone such a change as to require the decided flop or stultification that that journal exhibits today? Or is it because its chief editor is Mr. Cunningham's opposent candidate?

FELIX.

New Westminster, June 11th.

Drawn as a Jury.

In New York some years ago a summons commanding Thatcher Magoin to present himself for service in the jury box was returned to the commissioner of jurors, with the information that it had been served on the wrong party. In such cases, however, as is well known, no ordinary excuse is accepted.

"Magoin," said the commissioner, "must appear in person and show cause why he should not be a juror."

"He can't come," was the reply. "He's too busy."

"Such an excuse will not help him. He must come or suffer the consequences of fine and imprisonment," said the commissioner sternly.

"If he did come he'd make things hot for you! Besides, it'll take a derrick and truck to bring him here. He turns the scales at five thousand pounds."

The commissioner expressed the opinion that the speaker had been drinking.

"I'm as sober as you be," said the representative of the absent juror. "Thatcher Magoin is a steam engine located at the foot of Fletcher street. Years ago I was employed by a man named Thatcher Magoin, and I called my engine on Pier 19, East river, after him. When the directory man came to the dock to get names he saw the name on the engine, and he thought 'twas the name of the boss, so he put it down in his book."

It is needless to say that "Mr. Magoin" was excused from jury duty.—Youth's Companion.

Contentment in the Army.

"Fifty cents a day?"

"That's all."

"And you are happy?"

"Happy and contented—yes, why not?"

So spoke a high private in Uncle Sam's army, referring to his official income for standing in readiness to save the country.

"Why shouldn't I be happy?" he went on. "Here I am well fed, well clothed, well cared for, my every want supplied. In sickness they give me care and medicines. My food is wholesome and well cooked. My quarters are comfortable and kept with scrupulous neatness. My friends are in the same social scale with me. We know no rank, no higher or lower. We have our common duties and, these over, our common amusements. We travel around the country in our special trains and get to know something of life in every clime. What more, pray, can a reasonable man desire? Our duty ends with the orders that come to us. We obey and have no further responsibility. We take life easy? Why not? In addition, we have an allowance of fifty cents per day, with the prospect of an increase from year to year. This, with the conditions just mentioned, often leads one to think that we are, after all, getting about all there is of the good in life with but little of its burdens or annoyances."—Detroit Free Press.

A Visit Ruskin Paid Carlyle.

I heard a pretty account once from Mr. Alfred Lyttelton of a visit paid by Ruskin to Carlyle in the old familiar room in Cheyne Walk, with the old picture of Cromwell on the wall, and Mrs. Carlyle's little tables and pretty knickknacks still in their quiet order. Mr. Ruskin had been ill not long before, and as he talked on of something he cared about, Mr. Lyttelton said his eyes lighted up, and he seemed agitated and moved. Carlyle stopped him short, saying the subject was too interesting. "You must take care," he said, with that infinite kindness which Carlyle could show, "you will be making yourself ill once more." And Ruskin, quite simply, like a child, stopped short. "You are right," he said, calling Carlyle "master," and then went on to talk of something else, as dull, no doubt, as anything could be that Ruskin and Carlyle could talk about together.—Anne Thackeray Ritchie in Harper's

MR. THOMPSON RETIRES.

By a reference to Mr. Livingston Thompson's letter in another column, and the returning officer's advertisement, it will be seen that Mr. Thompson has retired from the contest in Westminster district in favor of Mr. J. C. Brankston. This action on the part of Mr. Thompson is highly creditable to himself. Up till yesterday he had made a strong and aggressive contest of the constituency and had won golden opinions from all classes of the people. His retirement at this stage arises purely from a desire to secure a representative in the next Legislature from the Eastern end of the constituency. Mr. Brankston's triumphant return is now assured a preliminary, and Mr. Thompson will find, in the future that the patriotic action at this moment will not be forgotten by his many friends in the district. Mr. Thompson is a young man of a very high order of ability, and he will in all probability yet play a leading part in the politics of British Columbia.

THE CHILLIWACK MEETING.

The ministerial papers in this city have put a strong effort on the issues of grossly false reports of the meetings held throughout the district by a report of the Chilliwack meeting on Tuesday, in our sister's paper. We are informed that the meeting was one of the most satisfactory to the Government side that has yet been held. Mr. Kitchen and the road, which was supported him, were there prepared to kick up a row and if possible prevent the Premier being heard. But they were overpowered by the strength of Mr. Brown's following in the district, and the Premier delivered a most effective address of nearly one hour and a half to attentive, yea, very attentive listeners, frequent outbursts of cheering and prolonged cheering. Mr. Kitchen and similar candidates in those schedules by him to the Premier at Revelstoke on nomination day. The crowd at first laughed good naturedly at the extreme position in which Mr. Brown's friends placed Mr. Kitchen, just as was the case at Revelstoke. But Mr. Kitchen had to be rescued by an adjournment further to hide to him. Mr. Brown, we are informed, by several representative gentlemen who were present, carried the meeting with him from start to finish. The dropping of the curtain was close by cries of Mr. Kitchen's anti-supporters who showed their principle by put an end to the interesting scene in which their candidate was playing a most prominent and painful part. Four-fifths of the electors in Chilliwack will go to the polls tomorrow, we are assured, and have not a ballot with to cast for Hon. Mr. Brown.

TONIGHT'S MEETING.

Mr. Cunningham has called a meeting of electors in the opera house tonight. The Premier and others will address the meeting, and it is to be hoped the disgraceful interruptions to which Mr. Armstrong was subjected last night will not be repeated. Mr. Brown, we presume, may be expected to give a clear statement of the policy of the Government and his own personal actions in regard thereto. His opponents will also have a chance to let their little say, and the public will then be in a position to judge between them.

REPEAT OF THEIR TRICKS.

We learn that the so-called Independent party in the district have concocted a lot of false rumors about the withdrawal of certain candidates in the interest of certain other candidates, which they intend to set afloat at the last moment. This new thoroughly discredited party is determined to stop at nothing to prevent the genuine expression of the people will at the ballot boxes. They have already flooded the constituency with lying reports of almost every public meeting held since the campaign opened, and we cannot credit the electors too strongly to place no confidence in any rumor, however authentic, that they may set afloat. They have been driven into their last trench and will be more unscrupulous than ever in their desperation.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

There is one very marked feature in the attitude of the Vancouver Opposition party in the present election campaign, and that is this: they are stabbing every point to make this city and the district's interests pay to obtain for Vancouver its own selfish ends. The Mainland Society was organized in that city with the prime object of effecting a removal of the capital of the Province from James Bay to Burrard Inlet. At the outset scarcely any pains were taken to conceal that object. It was even openly avowed by some of the less wary of those engaged in the effort. Being themselves impressed with an overweening idea of the importance of the Terminal City, they foolishly allowed themselves to slip into the belief that everybody on the Mainland must be of the same opinion. But the proposition had scarcely been mooted before such a storm of disapproval arose from all over the Mainland outside of Vancouver, that they realized back almost in a panic to conceal their tracks and loudly denied what it was plainly apparent was the true intention of their move. To an extent they succeeded in quieting the alarm and in disarming suspicion. The society was organized, and it gained what ever strength it had on account of hostility to what was dishonestly asserted to be the attitude of the Premier and his Government with regard to redistribution. And since the dishonesty of those assertions has been ventilated by the Premier, the society has continued to dwindle, and it will receive its final quietus at the polls tomorrow. This city and this district have seen through Vancouver's grasping selfishness, and will refuse to be a party to the schemes of a parcel of real estate boomers on Burrard Inlet.

A short time ago we published a prophecy of the result of tomorrow's voting and the only exception that has been taken, so far as we have seen, to its probability is that it does not do full justice to the Government's chances. It is as follows:

	Gov.	Opp.	Ind.	Doub.
Victoria City	2	0	0	0
Esquimalt	1	0	0	0
Victoria District	1	0	1	0
Nanaimo City	1	0	0	0
Nanaimo District	1	0	1	0
Alberni	1	0	0	0
Gulf Islands	1	0	0	0
Lillooet	1	0	1	0
Vancouver City	1	1	0	0
Westminster District	1	0	1	0
Yale	1	0	0	0
Cariboo	1	0	0	0
Cassiar	1	0	0	0
Kootenay West	1	0	1	0
Kootenay East	1	0	1	0
Comox	1	0	1	0

We still adhere to the above. It is true that the member already elected by acclamation in Nanaimo has caused to be published a statement that he will give the Government a general support, but it must be recollected that he was elected as a compromise between the two parties, and if he does his duty he must be in the front rank as an independent. In Westminster district we still believe there is a possibility of electing an Independent, because Mr. Peters is very favorably regarded by a good many Government supporters, and we therefore class one of members for that district as "doubtful." In Vancouver City Messrs. Tatlow and Hoy appear most likely to head the poll, but where six are running for two seats there will always be some room for speculation, so one is put in the "doubtful" column. As to Cassiar, very little can be judged as to the result, but as that constituency was represented in the last House by an Oppositionist, we have given the seat to that faction again. As to Westminster city, we dare not to the electors to decide, and desiring to put a damper on the interest that will, in the absence of a prophecy, continue to be felt in the result till after the ballots are counted.

Although it is quite possible that the above computation of results may be varied in some particulars by the results of the voting there is no question in some men's minds but that the Government will be sustained by a large majority in the next Legislature. The Government has done a great deal for this city and district, and the people would be ungrateful indeed if they allowed themselves to be carried into alliance with the Government by the will-o'-the-wisp faction that has so recently sprung into existence. The octopus hunters, however, will find their occupation gone after tomorrow night.

Mr. Brown draws a very affecting picture of how he was shattered in health and purse through fighting the cause of the Mainland many years ago. He retired into the seclusion of a government situation where he enjoyed a calm quietude and freedom from the ordinary ills of a newspaper editor's life, and only emerged to serve the people as Mayor of the city on the express understanding that he would receive a thousand dollars a year for the job. That is the story as he tells it himself. He was not much of a success as a newspaper editor, though he tells us he shattered his health in trying to be successful. Now, it is somewhat peculiar that Mr. Brown should have been so terribly careful of his health while there was no stipend attached to the mayor's office, and that he should so promptly have forgotten all about his shattered constitution as soon as there was money to be made by serving the people. If he should be elected tomorrow he will have got another paying job. A couple of months work at the capital will set him $600 every year, and at the same time his postmaster's salary of $2,000 a year, and his money order office income of $600 a year, and his mayor's salary of $1,000 a year will be running along all the same. It seems to pay Mr. Brown pretty well to serve the people and forget his shattered constitution. There are lots of men who would forget their constitution for $3,000 a year. It is marvellous, however, how many different offices (with salaries attached) a single shattered constitution considers itself capable of undertaking!

At last night's meeting Mr. Brown could not praise Vancouver enough for its alleged refusal to be satisfied with the Redistribution Bill, because our own city and the district did not get what they wanted. May there not have been another motive? Had the kickers in Vancouver carried their point, and had the two representatives they will have after Friday next, been taken from them, Vancouver electors would have been still on the Westminster District voters' list. What would have been the result? The rural voters of the district would have been swamped by the voters of Vancouver City. Mr. Brown is, he says, in favor of justice to all. This looks like it!

"An independent member is, generally speaking, a member that cannot be depended upon." W. E. GLADSTONE.

Mr. ACKERMAN was howled down by the party whose candidate boasted that he believes in fair play.

The clique of last evening should remember that say as can they, but that it is the silence of the ballot-box which speaks most eloquently upon polling day.

A Comedy of Errors.

Attorney C. C. Babcock is a very honest looking young gentleman, and yet he was twice taken for a thief and once for a dead beat.

Mr. Babcock went into a restaurant on Third street and deposited his umbrella in the rack and hung his black Derby hat on a nickel plated hat hook. When the disciple of Blackstone had finished his repast he walked over to the wall and took what he supposed was his hat, put it on and started toward the counter to pay for his breakfast.

An athletic looking gentleman, who was eating his morning repast and watching his portable property, roared out:

"Come back here, sir, and leave my hat."

All the ladies and gentlemen in the restaurant watched Mr. Babcock as he replaced the hat and took his own.

The young lawyer was as mad as a hornet and somewhat confused at the contretemps. Then he walked over to the umbrella rack and picked up an umbrella. The observant gentleman whose hat Mr. Babcock had taken noticed that it was his umbrella that was being carried off, and he shouted in stentorian tones:

"Drop that umbrella or I'll hand you over to the police."

Mr. Babcock saw that he had made a second mistake, and soon fished his own rain shedder from among the many others that were in the rack.

Then he left the restaurant, and he was called back by the cashier, who came to the door and excitedly said:

"Hadn't you better come back and pay for your breakfast? You will at least avoid being handed over to the police."

As he still had his check for a fifty-cent breakfast in his hand, Mr. Babcock walked back and paid his bill, with the eyes of every lady and gentleman in the place fixed suspiciously upon him.

One elderly lady audibly remarked: "He don't look like a thief, but you can't tell by looks nowadays what a person is, as good clothes don't cost much."—Seattle Press.

With the Tongs.

A great deal of laughter has been expended on womankind for taking the broom as a weapon in "shooing" an enemy, but, after all, why should not one use the implement to which she is most accustomed? Great execution is possible with the weapon of our choice, as an English lady, living in Canada, has proved.

She was one day greatly interested in putting out the family washing to dry. Sheets and tablecloths were on the line, which, to her horror, suddenly fell, dropping her spotless clothes in the dirt.

A large buck, caught by the antlers, was the cause of the trouble. There was not a man within five miles—they had all gone to a neighbor's for the day. The deer plunged about, and the lady overcomed. Something had to be done, and done at once. There was a fine gun in the house, loaded, but the lady would not approach it, as firearms were her especial dread.

Among her many possessions she had a large pair of tongs. She thoroughly understood this firearm, and with all her housewifely instincts outraged, she seized them and began the attack.

Within five minutes the buck's skull was pounded to a jelly, and then the victor, her clothing slightly torn, sat down and indulged in a good cry.—Forest and Stream.

Trout and Superstition.

The trout is derived from a word meaning to cut, just as salmon from one meaning to leap. The former fish has acquired some celebrity in folk medicine. Thus it is a superstition of Shropshire that a pig dish full of cider should be taken down to a river and a good sized trout caught and drowned in the cider, would a person recover from the whooping cough. Trout and cider were then to be carefully carried back to the house, and the sick person must eat the trout after it has been fried and drink the cider. In Northumberland for the same ailment a trout's head is put into the mouth of the sufferer, and, as it is said, the trout is left to breathe in the patient's mouth. Still more curiously, Mr. Henderson relates that a friend, when fishing in Cleveland, was asked by a peasant to give him a "wick" (live) trout to lay on the stomach of one of his children who was much troubled with worms, a trout so applied being a certain cure for the complaint.—Gentleman's Magazine.

Nine Tailors Make a Man.

Everybody has heard of the saying that it takes nine tailors to make a man, and the general supposition is that it reflects upon tailors in some indefinite manner, and no one knows where the saying originated. Now, the truth is that the saying is misquoted, and the proper word is tailers, or tellers, and tellers, as often written, and its origin can be traced back several centuries.

It was one of the customs when a person died in the parish to tell the church bell once for every year of the deceased's life. But nobody from this could tell the sex of the departed, so the sexton, to gratify public curiosity, after ringing in the usual way the number of years, would give eight quick strokes if the deceased was a woman and nine if it was a man. This being rung at the end of the strokes for the years were called tellers, and thus nine tailers made a man.—Golden Days.

Legislative Elections.

To the Electors of Westminster Electoral District:

GENTLEMEN,—As it is difficult to arrange to see each individual elector before election day, I wish to put before you the platform on which I stand whilst seeking your support:

Up to the introduction of the Constitution Amendment Act, I should have supported the present Government, but I now stand independent of all parties on that measure pledged to obtain a fair and just Redistribution Act immediately after the publication of the census returns; such act to be based as nearly as possible upon population, the abolition of the balance of power and the division of districts into one member constituencies. Outside this pledge I claim the privilege of being allowed to support any legislation of a just and beneficial nature which may be introduced by the Government. I will endeavour to impress upon the Government the necessity of the utmost literality in the expenditure for the opening up of all agricultural districts and even if necessary to borrow money for this purpose.

The conservation of all public lands for actual settlement, and the abolition of all sales of land in large areas, will be one of the chief objects I shall hold in view, and to also assist in the greatest amount of land being brought into cultivation. I would advocate the Wild Land Tax being raised to 20 cents per acre.

It will also be my endeavour to impress upon the Government the absolute necessity of their taking steps to assist in the reclamation of the large area of land subject to overflow by the Fraser, so as to render it all fit for cultivation feeling sure that any money spent in that direction will be a good investment as the lands will be greatly enhanced in value for assessment.

From above you will see I stand as a supporter of the Government, except on one measure, and feel sure that you will see that as I am a resident farmer in the district our interests are identical and I hope to be able to materially advance the interests of the district should you honor me as your representative.

I am Gentlemen, Yours Obediently,

Livingston Thompson.

Harris Prairie, 19 May, 1890. 224-dwtf

To the Electors of New Westminster City:

GENTLEMEN,—In response to a requisition numerously signed, which has been presented to me, I beg to offer myself as representative of the city in the Provincial Legislature.

I frankly confess that, aside from the great question of the just distribution of legislative power, I would scarcely care to be a candidate. If you do me the honor to elect me I shall make that question my first consideration at all times, and in order to do this it is essential that I keep quite free from any entangling alliances with either Government or Opposition. But to the people and the advocacy of the rights of the people, in this matter and in all others, I can fully and freely pledge myself; and with these, be they on what side of it. Honor then may, who are actuated by a similar spirit, I will work cordially.

The present crisis demands special treatment. We of the Lower Mainland are denied our just share of legislative power, and so long as that is the case our true policy, in my opinion—nay, the policy which our sense of self respect compels us to adopt is to return no man to the Legislature who will not make the righting of that wrong his first business. It may safely be assumed that those who shall be found willing to do right in this matter will be the most likely to do right in others also.

Notwithstanding the utmost devotion to this first question, your representative will have to deal with many other matters, and perhaps it will be sufficient now to say on this point that I believe there is room for a good deal of work before the administration of public affairs can claim to be what it should be—government by the people for the people. I should earnestly endeavor to do my share of that work.

I believe I may safely assume that you need no assurance of my deep and abiding interest in everything that makes for the prosperity of New Westminster City.

I am, Gentlemen,
Very truly yours,

21 6 tf J. C. BROWN.

Provincial Election

To the Electors of the Westminster Electoral District:

GENTLEMEN,—At the urgent solicitation of a large number of electors throughout this District, I have consented to offer myself as a candidate to represent you in the next Legislative Assembly.

As most of you are aware, I am a supporter of the Government, as I believe it to be a progressive one, its general policy being a wise one and calculated to promote the best interests of all sections of our common country.

A pledge having been given that after the session of 1891 is taken, such legislation will be introduced as will render full justice to all portions of the Province in the matter of representation, I believe such assurance will be satisfactory to you, and that the promise will be redeemed at the earliest possible opportunity.

With yourselves I have witnessed the satisfactory progress our District has made within the last half dozen years. I believe that even greater results are yet in store for us. This being the case, I will advocate and support continued liberality on the part of the Government in the expenditure of public moneys for opening new roads, improving those already built, constructing bridges, and other public improvements throughout the District in order that the settlers may be enabled to bring their produce to market with the greatest ease and at the least possible cost.

I shall, if elected, see to it that the efficiency of the school system is maintained.

Attention will likewise be given to such measures as will necessarily come up for consideration in connection with our municipalities.

Realizing the importance of railways to this District, and the lack of a line from the coast eastward along the valley, I will support such legislation as will remedy this long felt want.

In conclusion I have to say that my policy shall be the greatest good for the greatest number. The judicious expenditure of the revenue of the country, consistent with its requirements. A liberal railway, mining and land policy, and such other measures as may be deemed necessary to the best interests of all classes.

I will endeavor to see as many of you as it may be possible for me to do so between now and polling day.

Soliciting your vote and influence,

Parliamentary Election

—1890—

To the Electors of New Westminster District:

GENTLEMEN,—Having been requested by a large number of electors of this District to offer myself as a candidate to represent you in the House of Commons, to which request I have much pleasure in complying, I beg to state that should you do me the honor to elect me as your representative whilst giving the present Government my free and independent support, I would do my utmost to favor the following amongst the many measures that I consider would be beneficial to the interests of this Province and the Dominion at large.

To urge the further improvements of the navigation of the Fraser and other rivers, the protection of their banks, the improvement of any harbors in this District, and the construction of canals where necessary for the purpose of allowing farmers and others every facility to reach a market.

To encourage agriculture by protecting all such articles that can be produced in this Province, and to lower duties on all that cannot, and which are absolutely the necessaries of life, and increase the tariff on luxuries so that the consumer would be even taxed less than at present.

To increase the representation in proportion to the wealth and importance of this District.

To increase and have adequate mail service to all portions of the Province and free letter delivery in cities.

No diminution in the Chinese Restriction Act.

To have the Fishing Regulations amended to meet the requirements of this Province.

To have a Dry-Dock constructed at some suitable point on the Mainland to meet the growing demands of this District.

To urge the exchange of Lands in Peace River for the Lands in the Railway Belt.

And that Mining Machinery be admitted free of duty until such is manufactured in the Dominion.

To appoint efficient Immigration agents in all important localities.

To urge the Dominion Government to contribute to make Roads and Bridges through Dominion lands.

To urge immediate aid in any measure to prevent the overflowing of Dominion lands in this Province and to reclaim those subject to inundation.

Having been a resident of this District for over twenty years and knowing its requirements, I should be in a position to advocate your interests, and also my having had the honor to be your representative for the last four years in the Provincial Legislature would place me in a position of knowing something of Legislative routine.

I hope to visit each polling station during the canvass and more fully explain my views on the various topics of the day, which would be impossible to do in a short address.

I have the honor to be,
Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,

Parliamentary Election.

—1890—

To the Electors of New Westminster District:

GENTLEMEN: As I have already announced, I beg to offer myself as a candidate for the seat in the Commons made vacant by the death of our late member, and I come before you as a supporter of the Government of Sir John Macdonald, reserving to myself, of course, the right to act independently should the action of the Government in any matter seem prejudical to our interests.

I would strongly urge immediate attention to the improvement of the River where required, for the protection of the rich agricultural lands of the District, and, if elected, I shall at once proceed to Ottawa and leave no stone unturned to secure the immediate appointment of a competent engineer with a view to the prompt undertaking of this most important work.

As you are aware, the duty on certain kinds of mining machinery has been remitted in this Province as a special concession to British Columbia on account of the special conditions obtaining here. I would strongly urge the further application of this principle of special tariff arrangements, so as to relieve consumers of goods which must be imported, while preserving the protection of our agricultural and other interests.

The land laws of the Dominion, having been framed without close consideration of our requirements, are in many points unsuitable, for example in the conditions as to clearing. I would endeavor to secure immediate reform in this important matter.

Subsidies having been granted to railways in the various provinces of the Dominion, I should urgently present the claims to similar assistance of railways within our own Province.

Should the City of New Westminster decide to build a bridge across the Fraser, I should use my best endeavors to obtain a substantial subsidy for the work, urging that an undertaking of this character should rank with canals and railways as one entitled to national aid.

The next census will undoubtedly show such an increase in the wealth and population of this District as will constitute an unanswerable claim to increased representation in the Commons. That claim, if elected, I shall support to the utmost of my ability.

Although, with the growth of the District, the mail service has been improved and extended, it still lags far behind our requirements. I should give special attention to this part of your representatives work, feeling that it is one which is of vital importance.

I should urge the enactment of such sobriety regulations, especially in the issuing of licences, as would, without any injustice to the concerns, the importance of which to the prosperity of the District all must recognize, fully protect the free citizenry, and encourage the settlement amongst us of the greatest possible number of that industrious and hardy class of men.

All enactments and regulations for the protection of white labor would receive my hearty support.

Continued work towards the improvement of the harbors of New Westminster and Vancouver, and the efficient lighting and buoying of the same, is a matter which would have my closest attention at all times.

In a word, I should constantly urge upon the Government the wisdom of a liberal policy in public works in this District, the vast resources of which make it certain that such a policy would be amply justified by results.

Trusting to have the opportunity of seeing every elector before polling day.

I am, Gentlemen,
Very sincerely yours,

To the Electors of the District of New Westminster:

GENTLEMEN,—One of the Candidates for the Commons circulated a report that sufficient pressure would be brought on me to retire from the field. GENTLEMEN,—

I beg to announce myself as an independent candidate for the position of one of your representatives in the Provincial Legislature.

C. B. SWORD.

Matsqui, May 28th, 1890. 97-2t

To the electors of New Westminster District:

GENTLEMEN,—I offer myself as a candidate to represent you in the Provincial Legislature, on the platform suggested by the Mainland Association, free from any pledge to either party.

I hold myself at liberty to give an independent support to any Government that may be chosen by the people. As an elector, I think the District would make a mistake should the electors endorse last session's Redistribution Bill, by returning either the Hon. Mr. Robson, or candidates hampered by pledges to support his Government, as representatives of this constituency.

Mr. Robson is standing for Cariboo as well as for Westminster District, so there is no need to fear that the Province will be deprived of his services should the majority of the electors agree with me on this point.

I am in favor of dividing Westminster District into ridings.

Any measures that appear to me to be for the benefit of the Province would have my support, and I think that some safe scheme might be devised by which the credit of the Province might be lent for local improvements.

The contract system might to be more strictly carried out.

I should also like to see some modification of the municipal system, by which localities outside of municipalities might have more direct control of the expenditures in their neighborhoods, so as to secure the most economical and efficient disposal of such funds and relieve the central Government from the invidious task of deciding between different claims.

Speculation in wild lands, whether lumber, agricultural, or mineral, should be discouraged.

Should you elect me I will do my duty to the best of my ability, and trust you will give me credit for honesty of purpose, even should you dissent from my judgment.

Your Obedient Servant,
C. B. SWORD.

Gordon E. Corbould

New Westminster, April 14, '90

To the Electors of New Westminster District:

GENTLEMEN,—At the request of many friends from all sections of the District I beg to offer myself as a candidate for a seat in the Legislature at the approaching Provincial elections.

I shall, if elected, be a supporter of the present Government, in so far as it may, judging their measures are just to all portions of the Province.

The conventional allotment of representation agreed upon at the time of confederation I conceive to have been based upon what was deemed an equitable adjustment at that period of our history, subject to such subsequent revision as our altered circumstances might from time to time necessitate. Any showing of personal illness of depopulation between Vancouver Island and the Mainland to be conserved in perpetuity would have been antagonistic to the principles of free government and would be a fatal barrier to the future harmony, prosperity, and well-being of the Province. Holding these views I shall, if elected, strenuously oppose any measure for the further redistribution of the representation which does not aim at the complete obliteration of all existing sectional boundaries.

I shall advocate a more conservative policy in the disposal of our timber lands, analogous to any judicious measure to prevent the depopulation of timber by forest fires.

I will support a liberal expenditure in the opening up for settlement our agricultural lands and the development of our mineral resources.

Upwards of eighteen years of active pioneer life in the District have made me familiar with the wants and difficulties incident to the condition lot of every settler, and should I be returned as one of your representatives, I will endeavor to do my part to give each portion of the District due recognition.

I shall endeavor to meet as many of the electors as possible during the canvass, and shall be glad to explain further my views on public questions.

I have the honor to be
Gentlemen,
Your Obedient Servant,
JOHN KIRKLAND.

To the Electors of New Westminster District:

GENTLEMEN,—At the earnest request of a large number of the electors of New Westminster District, I have consented to become a candidate to represent you in the Provincial Parliament.

I will endeavor to briefly present to you some of the principal points in my platform.

1st. I am in favor of representation by population and will consider it my first duty to secure a fair and just representation for the Mainland.

2nd. I am in favor of dividing the District into ridings.

3rd. I will endeavor to increase the grant to municipalities from $1,000 to $3,000 per annum.

4th. I would also be in favor of raising the tax on wild lands to such an extent as would prohibit speculators from holding large tracts of land, to the detriment of actual settlers.

5th. I am in favor of the Government adopting a public works policy and borrowing a million dollars, and expending the same on roads and bridges throughout the District and also on a scheme for the reclamation of overflowed lands.

6th. I would strongly urge upon the Provincial and Dominion Governments the necessity of aiding the City of New Westminster in the immediate construction of a Traffic Bridge across the Fraser River.

7th. I would also use my best endeavors to have a railroad constructed from Port Moody to the Delta.

8th. To repeal clause 9 of the Public Schools Act.

9th. The cutting of a canal from Mud Bay to the Fraser, thereby draining a large portion of the Delta, and avoiding the dangers of Point Roberts.

10th. The erection of a Traffic Bridge at Pitt River and the extension of the Westminster road through to Agassiz.

I shall also endeavor, if elected, to visit all portions of the District prior to the meeting of Parliament to learn your wants, so as to be in a position to discuss the same intelligently during the session.

In conclusion, gentlemen, I would ask you for your votes, confidence and support at the forthcoming election.

I remain,
Yours faithfully,
ARTHUR M. HERRING.

Provincial Election.

To the Electors of Westminster District:

GENTLEMEN,—I have determined to offer myself as a candidate for your suffrages at the present Provincial election. It will be impossible for me to make a general canvass of the District. Indeed I do not consider it necessary. Having represented you continuously during the past eight years, I prefer to be judged by my works, rather than by any words I might speak, were a personal canvass possible.

In soliciting a renewal of your confidence and support, I have only one stipulation to make. Should you return me, I have to ask that you will elect as my colleague two men who will assist, instead of hinder, me in working for the good of the District. There is quite enough for a united delegation of three to do; to send a divided delegation would be folly.

It may reasonably be expected that I should refer to a subject that seems to be agitating the public mind in this part of the Province—the subject of Representation. The reasons and circumstances which led me to give reluctant assent to a temporary measure which I freely admit is unsatisfactory and does not meet the reasonable expectations of this part of the Province, must already be sufficiently familiar to you. I shall, therefore, content myself with stating that, should the result of census taking next year show such a preponderance of population on the Mainland, as I feel confident it will, myself and colleagues stand pledged to obtain such further legislation as shall bring representation more into conformity with population.

It is my intention to hold public meetings in two or three of the most important centres of population in the District, when I hope to discuss more fully the various questions of public interest. Meanwhile, I ask the Electors not to allow themselves to be misled by the gross misrepresentations circulated by unscrupulous and designing enemies.

I have the honor to be,
Gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
JNO. ROBSON.

227-13 w6t

To the Electors of New Westminster District:

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to announce myself as an independent candidate for the Legislative Assembly at the coming election.

As most of you are aware, I am an old resident of the District, and largely interested in its growth and prosperity.

I am in favor of the division of the District into ridings, and shall insist upon our having our fair share of representation, according to population and resources, in the Legislature.

As this District contributes very largely to the revenue, it is clearly entitled to large appropriations for public works, and substantial grants to the various municipalities.

I am a strong advocate of a free traffic bridge across the Fraser at Brownsville, and should urge that the Government subsidize that work, and I should also press for the construction of a bridge across the Pitt River.

I am utterly opposed to the immigration of Chinese, and their employment on public works of any character.

I am strongly in favor of borrowing the money necessary to develop the agricultural country by opening up roads along the section lines.

I should advocate any reasonable assistance to a railway from Hope down the south side of the Fraser, as such a line would give a vast impetus to the development of our District.

If you do me the honor to elect me I shall do my best to advance our interests in these and other matters.

I am, Gentlemen,
Yours sincerely,
JAMES PUNCH.

Court House Buildings.

The last of the old land registry buildings slowly wended its way up Lorne Street yesterday afternoon, with the assistance of a captain, block and tackle and a horse. The line of the new Government buildings will be about twenty feet further up the hill than the old ones. The present court room and registrar's office will not be torn down until the new building is far enough advanced to allow of its utilization for those purposes.

She had for the city 25 tons of freight, 50 tons for the Canadian Pacific Railway and 15 tons for up-river. A Dangerous Fall.

On Saturday morning last the carpenters in the Presbyterian Church at Chilliwack were confronted by the Rev. M. Ross. It was the anniversary service of the Odd Fellows. While the proceedings were going forward, a yearling colt wandered unknown through the open door and passed up through the centre aisle two-thirds the way to the pulpit. The entire made no move to give this stranger a seat, therefore, he came to a standstill and listened gravely to the words of exhortation as they fell from the lips of the eloquent preacher. But, whether he knew he was regarded as a sinner or a heretic, unfortunate hands were presently laid upon his mane and he was shooed out of the sacred edifice, and then the preacher went on with his sermon.

Strengthen the Premier's hands. He is the only advocate we have in the cabinet.

Found by a Bull.

By the steamer Rainbow, arriving from the Bute Inlet camps yesterday, we received news of a peculiar accident which occurred on Thursday last at Algeanow's camp, north of Bute Inlet. A Upper named John Mulroney, while at work, was forced to make a jump to avoid a falling log, and in so doing approached unfriendly one of the cattle, a young animal that had only recently been broken to the yoke. Whether from fear of natural viciousness, is unknown, but the animal at once attacked the unfortunate man, impaling him. Timbers arrived on the alternate, inflicting a terrible wound. When help arrived the nigger was very weak from loss of blood, and when the Rainbow left on her way down, he was too ill to be moved, and not expected to live. He had been but a short time in British Columbia, and hailed from near Goderich, Ont., where his parents reside.

Don't throw away your votes on candidates who, even if elected, will be in Opposition, and powerless to do the constituency any good.

Important Railway Deal.

The Seattle Press prints the following startling bit of news: "It is a truth that the Great Northern railway and the Canadian Pacific railway are very closely allied for both offensive and defensive operations; that several of the gentlemen prominently connected with the latter company are directors in the board of the former, and have great weight in its councils. The Great Northern is an American company, and its headquarters on the Pacific Coast are at Seattle. The Canadian road has located its western terminus at Vancouver, in British Columbia. What could be more natural than these companies, so allied up in financial dealings, and so closely connected in their personal relations, should determine to build a line connecting their terminal on the Pacific Coast? And is it not an open secret that for this purpose they have already completed their surveys under the name of the Fairhaven & Southern, have a good portion of their road completed, and work on the connecting line so far advanced that it can easily be turned over to the operating department by the close of the present year? In fact, this diagram of the railroad situation in this state, as to these lines, may be accepted as accurate."

We want a bridge. Our only hope is from government assistance. A bridge would add 25 per cent to every foot of real estate in the city. Vote for your own interests.

ELECTION CARD.

To the Electors of New Westminster City and District:

GENTLEMEN—At the urgent request of a large number of the Electors of the above Districts, I have consented to become a candidate, and request your support and patronage.

My political banner is uplifted, and on it will be seen, printed in gold letters, "Straw Hats—good coverings for massive craniums; Men's Fancy Flannel Shirts; Balbriggan Underclothing; Summer Coats and Vests; Linen Dusters; Pique and Fancy Vests; White and Black Flag Hats," all of which are very suitable wear for the present political campaign, which is liable to be very warm and close. (An endless variety of Men's and Boy's Suits, Felt Hats, etc.

Electors, rally around this standard, and down with monopolists and high prices.

I am perfectly sure I can give you better value for your money than any other candidate in the field.

Yours respectfully,

J. E. PHILLIPS,

Columbia St., New Westminster.
