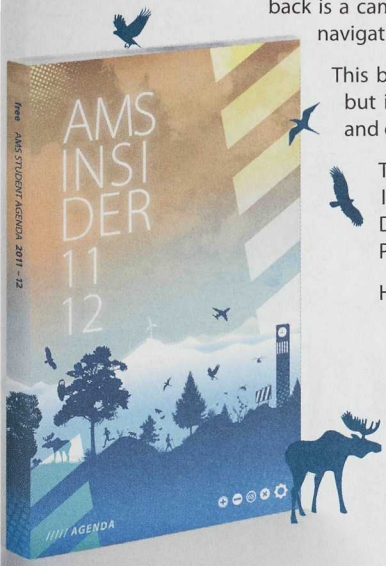
About the Insider:

Welcome to the 2011-2012 school year and latest edition of the AMS Insider! This book is your inside guide to all things student life. Be in the know with coupons and resources that will help you navigate campus, clubs, UBC bureaucracies, and even academics. From September to April you will find everything you need to live, study, and play as a student in this book.

The Alma Mater Society (AMS) is your student society and voice on campus. In line with its mission statement: to improve the quality of the educational, social, and personal lives of the students of UBC, this book aims to enrich your campus experience. If this book does not answer any questions you may have, please use the contact information to get in touch and we will be happy to help you with any student-related issue.

Each section of this book is tabbed and organized to help you find what you are looking for:

- The first section is an introduction to the AMS, who is in charge, your student government, AMS services and resources, and other campus services.
- The second section is a comprehensive list of all the student clubs and undergraduate societies on campus. If you can't find anything that you are interested in, there is also information on how to start your own club!
- The third section helps you out with daily life on campus, providing information on businesses, food outlets, transportation, housing, and much more!
- The final two sections are an agenda for you to keep track of your academics as well as events happening on campus. Some of the great AMS events are even included right in the calendar so you won't miss them! Included at the back is a campus map, the most important item in navigating your university experience.



This book is the key to a great year at UBC, but it is up to you to take advantage of it and get involved in university life.

This year's edition was produced by Insider Editor, Katie Berezan; Graphic Designer, Anthony Incardona; and Photographer, Sandie Chen.

Have a fantastic year!

AMS President's Message

Jeremy McElroy • SUB 238L
604.822.3972 • president@ams.ubc.ca

University is beer gardens, dodgeball, Day of the Longboat, Thunderbird games, and Sock Wars. Education is Pit Night, international conferences, bonfires at Wreck Beach, and Totem Football. Vocation is working in a lab, working in a coffee shop, working that extra "textbook" money out of your parents, and helping a professor take credit for all of your research. Learning is getting comfortable with 150 people on a 99 B-Line, posing nude in the Ubyssey... twice, listening to a band rock out live on CiTR radio, and spending 24 consecutive hours in Irving K Barber, and then running through it in your undies. UBC is so much more than classes, labs, and exams—it's your home. And we're your student society.

The Alma Mater Society of UBC Vancouver (AMS) is your student society. We represent you and more than 48,000 students at the Point Grey campus and affiliated colleges to the University, all levels of government, and Translink. Most importantly, we are champions of student life, supporting more than 360 student clubs as well as the undergraduate and graduate societies to ensure that UBC remains one of the most fun and engaging schools to study at. Additionally, we throw some huge concerts and fantastic parties. The AMS also provides 12 Student Services, including AMS Tutoring, the Food Bank, our peer counselling Speakeasy, and SafeWalk. We have also partnered with the Graduate Student Society to bring you one of Canada's most comprehensive student Health & Dental Plans. And we have fought since 2002 to ensure that you have affordable access to transit through our incredibly successful U-Pass program.

Alma Mater means "nurturing mother," and, like your mom, we are here to support you, feed you, entertain you, and keep you healthy. I guess that makes me President of Your Mom. But unlike your mom, we won't tell you what to do. That's the RCMP's job. If this is your first year at UBC, I hope you are ready for some of the best experiences of your life! And if you are returning, let's make this year even better than the last! I wholeheartedly believe that all UBC students should treat every September like it's their first year, even if—like me—it's your sixth. We only get one kick at the can of this "student" business.

Once again, the AMS is at your service, and I am your humble servant. We are enhancing student life, and we hope you enjoy it. Cheers.

Most Respectfully Yours,

Jeremy McElroy

UBC President's Message

Stephen J. Toope

As you start your studies this year, I want to offer a challenge: stretch yourself. Immerse yourself in the ideas presented by your professors. Make friends with classmates from different backgrounds and walks of life. Try a new activity in one of the many student clubs, sign up for a community service learning Reading Week project, or register to study abroad.

It may seem odd to welcome you with a challenge. You have already worked very hard to arrive here. However, what makes UBC such an exciting place is our vision for what a university education should be.

In our Place and Promise plan, UBC commits to transformative student learning. We mean learning that changes things, a cacophony of experiences that re-jigs how we think. Learning happens in many ways, in many places, and in many kinds of relationships.

While our campus may seem like a big place, especially if you are a new student, the opportunities around you are amazingly rich and diverse, if not unparalleled. You will have the chance to learn from extraordinary teachers and researchers, take part in the country's largest community service learning and travel study programs, soak in world-recognized museums and performance venues, and hear from Nobel laureates and world leaders.

I hope you will engage every aspect and activity of our university community on the way toward your UBC degree. This is what we want you to take with you when you graduate: an openness to ideas that stretch you, and a way of thinking that will help you see new possibilities and contribute in whatever field you choose to pursue.

This is not something new for UBC students. Your university has a strong tradition of student activism, and a student government—the Alma Mater Society (AMS) of UBC Vancouver—that has always provided great opportunities for involvement in campus life.

I join them in offering my warm welcome and very best wishes for a successful year.

Meet Your Executives

Your AMS executives are the workhorses running the show behind the scenes. They work (and play) hard to represent you and all of your needs to the university and beyond. Your elected executive (and appointed ECSS) work together to manage everything from the $15 million AMS Budget, 12 AMS services, and 360+ student clubs; to the internal and external University affairs; and any other student issue you can think of. Take a moment to say hi—they would love to hear about any ideas and issues you may have.

Matt Parson

VP Academic & University Affairs
SUB 238K • 604.822.3092
vpacademic@ams.ubc.ca

Welcome to yet another year of amazing potential here at UBC. As the campus comes alive for its 96th year of classes and its 103rd year of existence as a university, there is much to get excited about. UBC continues to develop in all areas as it evolves through time. With its campus constantly transforming, the academic landscape shifting, and the student experience improving, the AMS is committed to being there every step of the way to ensure students are properly represented.

The role of the VP Academic and University Affairs is to act as your liaison with the university and different campus groups regarding academic, planning, and other policy issues. My job has a broad set of expertise and interests, yet all of them contribute toward one thing—improving your student experience here at UBC. I look forward to serving you this year, helping you discover all this campus has to offer, and ensuring that the University hears your voice as a student.

Priorities for my office this year are:

- Academic Matters: summer semester reform, lecture capture, student evaluation of teaching, exam database, learning spaces, senate, improving curriculum, and student development
- Campus Development Matters: student housing, Land-Use Plan, University town and non-institutional development, new buildings and development, Public Realm Plan, etc.
- Campus Community Matters: governance, mental health, community building, UBC Greek system, international student involvement, and accessibility.

What are your thoughts about Campus Life and Academics? Feel free to send me an email or drop by my office in the SUB.

VP Finance • SUB 238M
604.822.3973 • vpfinance@ams.ubc.ca

Fellers, welcome back to the 2011–12 academic session. I am the Vice President Finance of your AMS at UBC Vancouver.

The VP Finance:

As the Vice-President responsible for AMS finances, my job involves overseeing the financial transactions of not only the AMS, but all AMS clubs and undergraduate societies. I also work closely with a team of managers and permanent staff on the operations side of our businesses.

I am responsible for our budget of over $15 million, most of which is funded by your student fees. I also work closely with our committees to make sure that we are diligent in making important policy decisions that affect the future of our organization and future students; for example, I make sure that our policies on donations are fair for students.

A big part of my work this year has been my focus on sustainability. I work closely with our Sustainability Coordinator to implement projects that will lower the footprint of the AMS, make UBC a more environmentally-friendly place, and increase awareness of sustainability issues. Another part of my responsibilities is the AMS/GSS Health & Dental Plan.

My major goal for the coming year is to make sure that our student government is financially secure and fiscally responsible. I will also be working on several projects involving sustainability, our businesses, and our financial services.

About Me:

I was born in Iran, migrated to Azerbaijan and then moved to Winnipeg before settling in Vancouver.

I have lived in the Lower Mainland for the past decade and graduated from Killarney Secondary, I am now studying International Relations and Economics.

If you like Italo-Disco, aesthetics, or anything else that I like, you will probably like me!

Say hi if you see me around campus. I might just say something back.

Mike Silley

VP Administration • SUB 238G
604.822.3961 • vpadmin@ams.ubc.ca

If you're a first year or just entering UBC, welcome to our campus. If you're a returning student, I'm glad you've come back. It's a great pleasure to introduce my role, my goals, and a little about me to you as the Vice-President Administration.

There are two main areas I deal with: I oversee the Student Administrative Commission (SAC) and I manage the New Student Union Building (SUB) Project. If you've ever joined a club, booked a room, or been in the SUB, you've experienced a little part of what I do with SAC! The NEW SUB Project is the construction of a brand new student-driven, sustainable SUB. With a price tag of over $103 million, we are designing this building to be the heart of campus! It should be completed by 2014.

There is no lack of ambitious goals when it comes to the current or new SUB. One of our most important tasks is to keep the NEW SUB Project on track and ensure that the process is transparent and student-driven. We will soon begin the construction phase of the project. As for clubs and SAC, I recently finalized digitizing all the 360+ constitutions we have floating about, and I am now implementing processes to make the administrative aspect of running a club more efficient and effective than ever before!

If you have any questions, comments, concerns, queries, quarrels, quandaries, criticisms, or conundrums pertaining to the AMS, feel free to contact me, and I'll do my best to help you or point you in the direction of someone who can!

Katherine T. Tyson

VP External Affairs • SUB 238J
604.822.2050 • vpexternal@ams.ubc.ca

The Vice-President External Affairs is responsible for the advocacy branch of the AMS. They work with and lobby the municipal, provincial, and federal governments on behalf of the students of UBC Vancouver. The VP External Affairs also works with and advocates to external organizations, such as Translink and other student societies.

Some of the goals for the upcoming year include: lobbying for better transit solutions, such as a Rapid Rail Transit Line (Skytrain) along the Broadway Corridor to UBC; working towards increasing affordable housing for students; reforming the currently inaccessible and insufficient Student Loan Program; as well as promoting and creating a more student-involved governance structure at UBC.

The VP External office is working to better connect with other student societies in the province so that there is a unified student voice to the provincial government on post-secondary issues.

In my time as VP External a lot has already happened! The AMS passed an historic referendum, there was a Federal General Election and a Provincial By-Election, and the final phase of the Translink consultations concluded.

On a personal note, I am pursuing a degree in Honours Political Science and International Relations with a minor in Economics and Asian Language & Culture. During my time at UBC, I've had the privilege of having my education translate into relevant experience working for UBC Career Services and as an intern for the Department of Canadian Heritage, Official Languages, and Status of Women in Ottawa. Within UBC, I was a two-time AMS Arts Councillor, the committee chair of the University and External Relations Committee, and a member of IRSA's Model NATO team in Washington, DC. I've also had the pleasure to be involved in many clubs, and encourage everyone to take advantage of as many opportunities as possible during their university experience.

If you would like to get involved in the AMS please give me a call or send me an email.

I'm honoured to represent such a vibrant and dynamic student body.

Cheers,

Katherine

Pavani Gunadasa

Executive Coordinator of Student Services • SUB 249B
604.822.9949 • services@ams.ubc.ca

Hello (again) UBC! I can hardly believe that this will be my third year serving as the Executive Coordinator of Student Services (ECSS)! The ECSS oversees eight student services offered by the AMS. I provide training, guidance, and support for the amazing team of coordinators who manage the day-to-day activities of the individual services. I sit as a non-voting representative on the Student Council and the Executive Committee. In both roles, I speak on behalf of the Services and work to promote their interests within the AMS and the UBC community. I am also involved with a number of ongoing AMS and UBC projects, programs, and initiatives geared toward supporting students, fostering academic learning, promoting wellness, and enhancing student life.

I am originally from the beautiful island of Sri Lanka, and my lifelong ambition has been to pursue a career in psychiatric medicine. I believe that mental wellness is key to fostering academic success and that increasing awareness about mental health issues is as important as providing quality support services. As such, I am pleased to be involved in mental health initiatives at UBC and in the community.

My third year as ECSS is a unique and exciting opportunity to build on the strong foundation that the services coordinators and I have built over the past two years. Since 2009, we have worked hard to increase the visibility, accessibility, and quality of the services; as a result, we have seen a significant increase in its demand. Our other key accomplishments include increased partnerships with university groups and involvement in campus-wide programming, increased efficiency in spending while increasing programming and services for students, and securing a guaranteed level of funding for the services.

Through these improvements and others, we have set a high standard for student union services in Canada. I feel that we can push the bar even higher this year through a detailed external review of our AMS Services that will compliment the self-study review carried out during the previous year, and allow us to engage the entire campus community. If you have any ideas, questions, comments, or concerns about your AMS Student Services, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Have a great year!

Pavani

Student Council

The AMS Council is the highest elected decision-making authority in the student society. Council is comprised of student representatives from each faculty and affiliated colleges, the Executives, the Ombudsperson, and the Executive Coordinator of Student Services. From setting policy to determining budgets, AMS Council determines the AMS' priorities and activities.

AMS Council is designed to be an open and welcoming space for any student to give input on the AMS' functioning and express concerns with their student experience at UBC. The AMS relies upon active, interested students to help guide its actions.

Make it a goal to attend at least one AMS Council meeting this year and have your voice heard by your student society. AMS Council meetings are held every second Wednesday at 6:00 p.m. in the SUB Council Chambers; food and refreshments are provided.

Annual AMS Elections

www.ams.ubc.ca/elections

"Bad officials are elected by good citizens who do not vote." –George Jean Nathan. The voting public is just as important as the election candidates! Remember: your student fees are helping five AMS executives earn money—if for no other reason beyond the monetary, get what you pay for and vote! Vote online or at a polling station with your UBC student card.

If you love your student union and would like to turn that love into devoted hard work, or if you think your student union isn't all that and you can think of tons of ways to improve it, you might want to consider running for an AMS Executive position.

The elections are open to everyone. Your AMS is committed to supporting all candidates and seeing them through the election process.

Run for it!

Besides voting, you can also run for these positions by following these steps:

Act fast!
AMS Elections take place near the end of January, but to run in these elections, you need to get in the game earlier. You need a campaign, promotional materials, platform speeches, and so on.

Research and choose a position!
You can run for President, VP Academic and University Affairs, VP Finance, VP External, or VP Administration. During the elections, you can also run for Senate or Board of Governors.

Get nominated!
Pick up a form from the AMS Administrative Assistant (adassist@ams.ubc.ca) at the AMS Executive Offices (SUB Rm. 238) in late November.

Get 50!
Fill out the form and get 50 other registered UBC students to sign it. Once this is complete, submit it per the directions on the form.

Be campaign ready!
Spend your winter break creating your campaign, posters, fliers, and speeches.

Meet candidates!
Attend the All-candidates meeting in early January.

Showtime!
Show them what you've got! The process usually takes two weeks. Make sure you are familiar with the rules, because you'll want your campaign sanctioned!

Last but not least... get elected!

AMS Lobbying

SUB 238J • 604.822.2050
vpexternal@ams.ubc.ca

The AMS has a long history of advocating on behalf of students—from the Great Trek in 1922 that established our Point Grey Campus, to the Great Farm Trek in 2008 that protected the UBC Farm from commercial development. The AMS has always provided a strong voice for student interests. We meet with the university administration; the municipal, provincial, and federal governments; and other external organizations to enhance the lives of UBC students.

The AMS lobbies the provincial government on issues such as student loans, accessibility to education, childcare, housing, and funding for post-secondary education. We do this independently as well as with other student societies in BC. The AMS lobbies the federal government as a member of the Canadian Alliance of Student Associations (CASA)—a federal student lobby group.

UBC students have a long history of successful advocacy, and to continue this we need your help. To help the AMS in our efforts to create positive results for students, please contact your VP External, Katherine T. Tyson to get involved and have your voice heard.

www.casa-acae.com

CASA, the Canadian Alliance of Student Associations, is a coalition of student associations from across Canada; our very own Alma Mater Society was a founding member in 1995. CASA attends relevant committee meetings and hearings, and meets regularly with Federal Members of Parliament, Cabinet Ministers, Senators, and Public Servants to discuss issues relating to post-secondary education.

To quote its mission statement, CASA endeavors to "advocate for students through policy development and research, awareness campaigns, government relations, and partnerships with other stakeholders." Working with the federal government, CASA presents a united front of students who lobby for accessible, affordable, and innovative post-secondary education. Some of the issues under CASA's umbrella include: tuition, student loans, scholarship foundations, student grants, debt reduction, interest relief, undergraduate research, and more.

Your VP External, Katherine T. Tyson, can assist you in addressing concerns pertaining to post-secondary policy on federal and provincial levels.

Student Legal Fund Society (SLFS)

604.827.1208 • slfsdirectors@gmail.com
www.studentlegal.org

Have you been treated unfairly and wish to look into taking legal action? The Student Legal Fund Society was created by students in 1998. SLFS provides advisory, legal, and financial assistance to initiate and continue advocacy, lobbying, and litigation. Our interest lies in improving education and access to education at UBC, as well as dealing with other matters of law that set broad precedent and concern UBC students. The society has six directors elected annually and a seventh director appointed by AMS Council. Visit our website or contact us to get involved.

AMS Commissions

The AMS Commissions are the organizing bodies of the AMS' biggest student-led operations. If you are interested in learning more about or participating in AMS projects and campaigns, get in touch with your Commission leaders today!

External Commission (XCom)

Associate VP External: Sasa Pudar
SUB 238J • 604.822.2050
avpexternal@ams.ubc.ca

The External Commission assists the VP External in advocating the municipal, provincial, and federal governments as well as external organizations such as Translink and other student societies. The External Office advocates on behalf of students on issues such as reforming our student loan program, transit solutions, affordable housing, childcare, and a governance structure that involves students. If you would like to share your opinions, become involved, or have questions we would love to hear from you.

Finance Commission (FinCom)

Associate VP Finance: Rohit Kumar
SUB 238F • 604.822.2361
avpfinance@ams.ubc.ca

AMS FinCom works with the VP Finance, Elin Tayyar, in overseeing all financial matters of your student society. Important programs that FinCom administers include the AMS Clubs and Constituency Budget Review, student grant applications (Clubs Benefit Fund, Constituency Aid Fund and Student Initiative Fund), and Club Treasurer Orientations. Remember to take advantage of student grants, which offer financial assistance for students with various innovative projects. Apply now!

Student Administrative Commission (SAC)

SAC Vice-Chair: Alannah Johnston
SUB 238F • 604.822.2361
sacvc@ams.ubc.ca

SAC works closely with the VP Admin in overseeing the SUB's operations. The commission is primarily a resource for its constituents—which includes AMS clubs, constituencies, and resource groups. SAC also ensures that subsidiaries are functioning smoothly (both independently and as a whole) by providing room bookings, locker rentals, consultations, club constitutions, and much more! SAC meetings are held every week and you are welcome to attend!

Christy Clark, MLA
Vancouver–Point Grey

As your MLA for Vancouver-Point Grey, I am pleased to have the opportunity to wish the students and faculty of UBC a great 2010-2011 academic year.

If you need assistance with provincial government issues I encourage you to contact my constituency office.

University Governance

In addition to the Student Council, there are a couple of other governing bodies at UBC. These combine the powers of university officials, faculty members, and student representatives to oversee the functioning of the university as a whole. Get to know your student representatives, or consider becoming one yourself!

UBC Board of Governors (BoG)

bog@ams.ubc.ca • www.bog.ubc.ca

The Board of Governors is the highest decision-making body at UBC. It is responsible for managing, administering, and controlling the property, revenue, and affairs of the university. The Board is composed of the Chancellor, the President, three student reps (two from Vancouver and one from Okanagan), eleven people appointed by the Lieutenant Governor, three elected faculty members, and two elected non-faculty members. More information including minutes, schedules, and agendas of Board meetings is posted on our website. The student representatives from UBC Vancouver are Sean Heisler and Sumedha Sharma.

UBC Senate

senate@ams.ubc.ca • www.senate.ubc.ca

UBC Senate governs academic affairs at UBC and works alongside the Board of Governors. The Senate creates new courses and programs, sets admissions and academic policies, and manages scholarships and awards. The Senate is also a student's last resort for appeals on academic discipline and academic standing issues. The Senate is made up of 90 Senators, 18 of whom are students. Being involved in Senate is a great way to have an impact on the UBC community. Senate meets monthly from September to May in Irving K. Barber Library, Rm. 182. Email Sean Heisler or Justin Yang, your Student Caucus Chairs for more details.

DEAR UBC STUDENTS,

As your Member of Parliament for Vancouver Quadra, I want to wish you the best of luck in the upcoming school year.

UBC is the heart of Vancouver Quadra with its rich history, world-leading sustainability, and academic excellence. You have an important role in contributing to Canada's future and I encourage you to connect with your elected representatives to have your say.

I value your ideas, and invite you to attend my public events, correspond by email, or connect online through twitter, facebook, and my website. I look forward to hearing from you this year.

Regards,

AMS Services

Let's face it, life as a university student is not without its challenges Luckily, your AMS offers a multitude of student-run, free services to make life a little bit easier, a little bit fuller, and all around better—take advantage of it!

AMS Advocacy Office

Coordinator: Crystal Hon
SUB 249G • 604.822.9855
advocate@ams.ubc.ca
www.ams.ubc.ca/services

The Advocacy Office provides free confidential support in representing students engaged in formal conflict with UBC—regardless of guilt or innocence. Our mandate is to assist students who are involved in any of UBC's formal appeal structures at all levels—faculty or senate. We help students with matters of academic and non-academic discipline, academic standing, financial assistance, and appeals of decisions made by the University. We also connect students to resources in dealing with personal and academic issues. Contact us today—we are here to help!

AMS Firstweek

Coordinator: Alyssa Koehn
SUB 249K • 604.822.1989
firstweek@ams.ubc.ca
www.amsfirstweek.com

Known at other universities as "frosh week" or "welcome week", AMS Firstweek welcomes new students and celebrates the return of all students to UBC through a week of wicked events. Firstweek is designed to take a typical year-long UBC campus experience and jam it all into one week of fun and insanity! Firstweek is not your typical campus tour—unless your idea of a campus tour includes huge concerts, epic dance parties, sweet improv shows, a massive indoor-outdoor pool party, and a hundred opportunities to make new friends across the campus! Check out our website for more info and events!

AMS Food Bank

Coordinator: Michelle Ning
SUB 58 • 604.827.5325
foodbank@ams.ubc.ca
www.ams.ubc.ca/services

We all know the struggles of being a student involve completing assignments, acing exams, and at the same time managing a tight budget. The AMS Food Bank is a free student service that is designed to support any UBC student who has a valid student ID with a free 7-day supply of non-perishable food items. In order to access the Food Bank please visit our website for office hours or make an appointment through email.

AMS Minischool

Coordinator: Daniel Chow
SUB 249D • 604.822.9342
minischool@ams.ubc.ca
www.ams.ubc.ca/services

Have you ever wanted to learn what a good pint of beer or a glass of wine is all about? Ever wanted to learn how to play the guitar or how to DJ? How about improving your fitness with pole dancing or meditation? AMS Minischool provides these hobby courses and many others that deliver high-quality, extracurricular education at the best rates available. Registration for the October term starts in September and the February term starts in January. Check our website for a complete list of courses and remember to register early!

AMS Ombuds Office

AMS Ombudsperson: Jay Shah
SUB 249F • 604.822.4846
assist@ams.ubc.ca

If you feel that you have been treated unfairly, or need to resolve a conflict with regards to the AMS, the AMS Ombuds Office can assist you. The Ombudsperson acts impartially, is independent of any administrative body, and provides a confidential service. Our services include mediation, conflict resolution, investigation, and general assistance in navigating the structures of the AMS. For assistance with university issues, please contact the Ombudsperson for Students (pg. 31).

AMS Rentsline

ubc@rentsline.com
www.amsrentsline.com

The AMS Rentsline is an accommodation service geared to Vancouver's West Side. Each student with a UBC interchange email address receives five free ad listings when registering with their interchange account. Browsing the website is free. The website allows users to browse listings by distance from UBC, type of accommodation, neighbourhood, and rental cost. There is also a useful free service that will email users according to their preset criteria as soon as a listing is posted

AMS SafeWalk

Coordinator: Courtney McNaught
SUB 100A • 604.822.5355
safewalk@ams.ubc.ca
www.ams.ubc.ca/services

AMS SafeWalk strives to increase campus safety by offering nightly walking services throughout the school year. Our co-ed, two-person teams will accompany you anywhere on campus and ensure that you arrive at your destination safely. Our service is friendly and free of charge. You can access the SafeWalk office through Campus Security and the Blue Phone service or use any of the direct-line phones

AMS Sexual Assault Support Centre (SASC)

Coordinators: Kristin Kendrick & Vicki Poulios • SUB 119A & B 604.827.5180 • sasc@ams.ubc.ca
www.ams.ubc.ca/services

We provide female, male, and transgendered survivors of sexual assault (as well as their friends, family members, and partners) with care, non-judgmental emotional support, hospital accompaniment, legal accompaniment, and information about options. All of our services are free, confidential, and conducted in a private setting. Volunteer opportunities are also available. For more information, please visit our website.

Shinerama

Coordinator: Aviva Rappaport
SUB 100B • shineramaubc.ca
shinerama@ams.ubc.ca

Shinerama is Canada's largest student-run campaign that raises funds and awareness for the fight against Cystic Fibrosis. Celebrating its 21st birthday here at UBC, Shinerama is the AMS' primary charity campaign. Last year we raised over $30,000 for Cystic Fibrosis and we hope to break $40,000 this year. If you're interested in getting involved feel free to contact us and look out for our main event, Shine Day, on September 10th, 2011.

AMS Speakeasy

Coordinator: Vivian Lam
SUB North Concourse
604.822.9246 • speak@ams.ubc.ca
www.ams.ubc.ca/services

Need to talk? Speakeasy provides peer support and referrals to the UBC community. Our volunteers are carefully chosen and trained to assist students in dealing with a wide range of issues including depression, substance abuse, suicidal thoughts, and exam stress. With access to a private support room, all drop-ins are strictly confidential. We also have connections with many external resources, so if we can't help you, we can refer you to someone who can. Please visit our information desk on the North side of the SUB Main Level.

AMS Tutoring

Coordinator: Justin Yang
SUB 249O • 604.822.9084
tutoring@ams.ubc.ca
tutoring.ams.ubc.ca

AMS Tutoring offers free, drop-in tutoring for several first-year courses, including chemistry, math, physics, and economics. Come visit us with your questions at the Irving K. Barber Learning Centre Monday through Thursday from 3:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. AMS Tutoring also offers free online tutoring, paid appointment tutoring, final exam review sessions, and free tutoring in Place Vanier and Totem Park residences. Need help in a subject we don't tutor? Check out our tutor registry online. For more information, please visit our website.

AMS Volunteer Connect

Coordinator: Tina Liu
SUB 249A • 604.822.9268
volunteers@ams.ubc.ca
www.ams.ubc.ca/services

GET INVOLVED! Are you are looking for volunteer experience or need volunteers for your organization or special event? AMS Volunteer Connect has all the tools you need to get connected. We offer volunteer and internship placements on campus, throughout the Lower Mainland, and abroad to meet all of your needs. Check out the Volunteer Connect board located in the SUB Main Concourse for volunteer opportunities! Join us at our two volunteer fairs, or drop by our office for one-on-one consultations. AMS Volunteer Connect will connect YOU to the best opportunities! Visit our website for more information.

Find a health practitioner at www.ihaveaplan.ca.

Why a Health & Dental Plan?

The Plan is a critical service of the AMS and GSS designed to fill the gaps in provincial health care. As a student at UBC and a member of the Alma Mater Society, you're covered by the AMS/GSS Health & Dental Plan. The cost of the Plan is part of your student fees.

Covered by Another Plan? Weigh the Costs and Benefits

Being enrolled as a dependant in a parent or spouse's employee benefit plan usually requires your family member to pay additional costs to have you covered. The AMS/GSS Plan may provide better value. You can also combine it with your other plan to maximize your overall coverage—up to 100%—and eliminate out-of-pocket costs.

Alternatively, you can opt out of the AMS/GSS Health & Dental Plan by providing proof of equivalent health and dental coverage.

Change-of-Coverage Dates

All enrolments and opt outs must be completed between Sept. 6 - 27, 2011. Only new Term 2 students can opt out or enrol their spouse/dependants between Jan. 3 - 25, 2012 for coverage from Jan. 1 - Aug. 31, 2012.

Vision Network

30% Off Prescription Eyeglasses
When visiting an optometrist or an optician who is part of the Studentcare Vision Network, you save at least 30%—up to $75 on prescription eyeglasses. They also offer savings on the cost of eye exams and contact lenses.

Up to $200 in Savings for Laser Eye Surgery from LASIK MD

Dental Network

Get Up to 90% of Your Dental Costs Covered by Visiting a Dental Network Member

Your Plan covers many dental services such as checkups, cleanings, fillings, and wisdom teeth, for 50-70% of the cost, to a maximum of $750 per policy year. The Dental Network provides an additional 20% in savings, so your total coverage is up to 90% of your dental costs.

Health Networks

Massage Therapy Network
$30 for a 30-minute treatment and $55 for a 60-minute treatment (plus HST).

Chiropractic Network
$35 for an initial assessment and $30 for subsequent visits.

Physiotherapy Network
$35 for an initial assessment and for subsequent visits.

Student Resource Groups

www.ams.ubc.ca/ams-resource-groups

The AMS Resource Groups are a safe and open space for students to find support and discuss pertinent issues on the topics of race, justice, gender, sexuality, the environment, and more. Meet fellow student intellects, scholars, and activists to participate in dialogue and facilitate social change.

Allies at UBC

SUB 245F • allies.ubc@gmail.com
alliesatubc.com

Allies is a group of men who work with men to end violence towards women. We do this by critically evaluating masculinity, relationships, sexuality, and the power dynamics of society. We hope to make men aware of the driving forces that condone violence against women by holding regular group discussions. We also conduct outreach workshops for various campus groups where we teach men how to improve their relationships and sex life. Allies is famous for its White Ribbon Pancake Breakfast in late November, which raises funds for resources that benefit women's groups and survivors of sexual assault.

Colour Connected Against Racism

ubccolourconnected@gmail.com

Colour Connected Against Racism (CCAR) is a member of UBC Resource Groups that supports and organizes events dealing with issues of race, ethnicity, culture, or any multifaceted topic that plays into these themes. While our main goal is to confront issues of racism and inequality, we are just as interested in supporting initiatives that help facilitate understanding, sharing, and plurality on campus and in the Lower Mainland.

Pride UBC

SUB 245C • 604.822.4638
prideubc@gmail.com • www.prideubc.com

Pride UBC offers educational and social services regarding sexuality and gender identity to the UBC community. Pride UBC provides support and information to those who self-identify as gay, lesbian, bisexual, transgendered, as well as those who do not identify, or those who are confused about their identity. Pride UBC assists those coming out, supplies a forum for discussion, holds social events, and educates the wider UBC campus about the variation in human sexuality. Members come from diverse backgrounds and everyone is welcome regardless of sexuality.

Social Justice Centre (SJC)

SUB 245A • 604.822.9612
socialjusticecentre.ubc@gmail.com
www.socialjusticecentre.org

The SJC aims to serve all students interested in finding progressive solutions to societal injustices. We work towards progressive social change by raising awareness about social justice issues and providing contacts to socially active people and organizations. We provide a forum for discussion about social justice issues, facilitate concrete actions in response to discussions, and foster student engagement and activism. Check our website for monthly events, displays, workshops, and much more! There are lots of opportunities to get involved, so please contact us!

Student Environment Centre

SUB 245B • 604.822.8676
enviro@ams.ubc.ca
studentenvironmentcentre.com

If you are concerned about ecological problems facing the planet, the Student Environment Centre is the place for you. We connect students with environmental resources, educate students on ecological problems, fund student-driven initiatives, support and foster a community of concerned and informed individuals on campus, and provide a forum for sharing ideas. Past events include the No Other World (NOW!) Conference, Stuff Swaps, speaker series, and Buy Nothing Day. Everyone is welcome to attend our weekly meetings or to drop by our office anytime with ideas, questions, or more!

Womyn's Centre

womyncentre@gmail.com

The Womyn's Centre is a welcoming place for female-identified, transgendered, and intersex folks to hang out. It is also a great place to meet our friendly exec; eat; study; nap; use the Centre phone; attend fun workshops; obtain free condoms, menstrual products, resources, books, and pregnancy tests; and contribute to what goes on at the Centre! Stop by to find out what kinds of exciting, fun, creative, and empowering activities, discussions, and events we will be putting on this year!

Access & Diversity (A&D)

Brock Hall 1203 • 604.822.5844
access.diversity@ubc.ca
www.students.ubc.ca/access

A&D works with the University to create inclusive living, learning, and working environments for all students to thrive. We provide leadership in development programs, policies, and processes that enhance our community for students of all abilities, racial and ethnic backgrounds, sexual orientations, and gender identities. We determine and facilitate disability-related accommodations for students, faculty, and staff with disabilities and produce alternative format materials for people with print disabilities. A&D provides study and social spaces for students with disabilities at the Crane Library, and for women at the Women Students' Lounge.

Counselling Services

1040 Brock Hall • 604.822.3811
students.ubc.ca/livewelllearnwell

Counselling Services offers primarily short-term counselling for UBC students. In the first appointment, a counsellor will gather the information required to enable rapid service-matching based on a student's individual needs. Referrals will then be made to services within our centre, to other services on campus, and/or to appropriate services in the community. Emergency appointments are available on a same-day basis. In addition to individual counselling, Counselling Services provides group programs on a variety of topics, including anxiety management, mood management, and skills for successful life management.

First Nations House of Learning

1985 West Mall • 604.822.8940
fnhl.coordinator@ubc.ca
aboriginal.ubc.ca • www.longhouse.ubc.ca

The FNHL, located in the Longhouse, has a wide variety of resources for First Nations, Metis, and Inuit students. We aim to improve UBC's ability to meet the needs of Aboriginals and make university resources more accessible to Aboriginal people. We offer many services, including tutoring, counselling, admissions and academic advising, housing, and health. We also offer a computer lab, social lounge, and the Xwi7xwa Library. Throughout the year, we host events for the UBC Aboriginal Community and encourage all First Nations, Metis, and Inuit students to get involved or stop by for a visit.

Office of the Ombudsperson for Students

1043 Brock Hall • 604.822.6149
ombuds.office@ubc.ca • ombudsoffice.ubc.ca

The Ombuds Office is an independent, impartial, and confidential resource for students to help address and resolve concerns about unfair treatment at UBC. The Office provides general resource information and makes appropriate referrals, identifies and explains relevant university processes and policies, and works with students to plan and explore options on how best to move forward. The Office does not act as an advocate for the student and does not take sides. The Office collaborates with all UBC community members on matters related to fairness and promoting systemic improvements.

& CONSTITUENCIES

From academic to social, athletic to philanthropic, there is no shortage of clubs to share your passion, interests, and desire for something new. Clubs are a great way to build friendships, learn new skills, and take a break from the academic side of university life.

Clubs

www.ams.ubc.ca/clubs

Need a reprieve from lectures, readings, and assignments? Perhaps you just want to get away from the stresses of academic life and watch a movie, enjoy some wine, play some video games, or dance your troubles away. Consider joining a student club! If one of the 360+ clubs doesn't accommodate your eccentric or wacky hobby, speak to the Student Administrative Commission and start your own!

How to Start Your Own Club with the AMS

With over 360 student clubs, UBC is one of the most active universities in Canada, but there is always room for more fabulous clubs that do amazing things. So if you think that you would like to start a club, here is what you need to do:

Does the club already exist?

If you want to form a Soccer Club and there is already a Soccer Club in the AMS Clubs Directory, you may have a hard time starting up the club. If you are unsure if the club idea already exists, contact the Clubs Administrator (sacadmin@ams.ubc.ca) with an outline of the club you wish to form.

Meet for a 15-minute consultation/ information session

Before filling out any documents, SAC needs to meet you, provide you with all the necessary information, and answer any questions (e.g. how to write a constitution, where to find resources, etc.). This meeting is crucial for starting a club! Before the meeting, please take the time to review the Clubs Constitution in the downloads section on the SAC web page.

Prepare documentation

Once you are confident with creating the club, it's time to prepare all the documents (all documents must be typed):

- Club constitution
- Budget
- One-year plan of intended activities, events, etc.
- Letter of intent addressed to the SAC Vice Chair

Present to SAC

Submit a copy of all the documents (as indicated above) to the executive secretary in SUB 238A (glass office on the left). Failure to submit all items will result in delays in the club constitution process. Your documents will then be reviewed by SAC. If no revisions are necessary, you will be invited to a SAC meeting to make a five-minute presentation followed by a short Q&A session. SAC will then decide whether to constitute the club or not. Some of the criteria used by SAC are:

- If the club's mandate furthers the mission statement of the AMS
- If the club's mandate does not overlap with the mandates of existing AMS internal groups
- If there are sufficient resources within the AMS
- If the club is open to all AMS members
- If there is adequate justification for AMS affiliation
- Other criteria as determined by SAC

All of the information and forms to start a new club, as well as a list of existing clubs is available on the website.

Clubs Benefit Fund(CBF)

www.ams.ubc.ca/student-government/finance-commission

The CBF is a fund that awards grants to clubs for one-time projects that not only help your club, but benefit the AMS and the student population in general. For more information on eligibility and how to apply, visit the Finance Commission's section of the AMS website.

Constituencies

As a student at UBC, you are already represented by a constituency! Every faculty has an undergraduate society who's there to take care of you. These Undergrad societies host some of the most notorious parties, dances, and academic events on campus. Get involved and see what students with similar academic interests can offer you!

Agriculture Undergraduate Society (AgUS)
President: David Liu • 604.822.5085
davidlhm@gmail.com • www.landfood.ubc.ca/agus
Hello! We are the undergraduate student society of Land and Food Systems and we're here to enrich the lives of all LFS students. Send us an email if you have questions, suggestions, or want to get involved!

Architecture Undergraduate Society (ArchUS)
President: Mike Taylor
ArchUS is the representative body for UBC Masters of Architecture and Landscape Architecture students. We are their voice in the administration and a portal to the architecture community beyond. Through design competitions, project grants, and a quarterly publication, we are able to enrich the academic experience. We also facilitate social events, peer support, and field trips to provide relief from the rigour of the studio. We are here to help build architects.

Arts Undergraduate Society (AUS)
President: Justin Yang • 604.822.4403
aus.president@arts.ubc.ca • www.aus.ubc.ca
The AUS represents over 11,000 Arts students at UBC Vancouver. Our goal is to enrich the Arts student's experience by lobbying on behalf of our constituents, organizing social events, and offering a variety of academic and student services throughout the year. Don't miss our annual flagship events, including frAUSh and Arts Week. Come visit us in the Meekison Arts Student Space in Buchanan D to get involved today!

Commerce Undergraduate Society (CUS)
President: Johannes Rebane
executiveassistant@cus.sauder.ubc.ca
www.cusonline.ca
The CUS enhances the lives of commerce students through leadership, academic, and social initiatives. Our services include mentorship and tutoring programs, intramural sports, conferences, POITS (our beloved beer garden), frosh orientation, and a special projects fund. With all the time and energy of every student involved and the countless volunteers who've helped at each event, the CUS at Sauder is one of the largest business undergraduate societies in Canada today.

Dental Undergraduate Society (DUS)
President: Jonathan Hung
jonlhung@gmail.com
The DUS represents dental and dental hygiene students in the Faculty of Dentistry. The DUS council serves to voice students' opinions to the faculty, as well as organize multiple social and sporting events throughout the year. We also play an important role in expanding alumni relationships and act as a liaison with outside dental organizations such as the Canadian Dental Association (CDA) and the Vancouver District Dental Society (VDDS).

Education Students' Association (ESA)
ubceducation@gmail.com · ubcesa.wordpress.com
ESA is the organization made up of undergraduate students in Faculty of Education degree and diploma programs. The executive members of ESA are elected by students and together strive to enhance the educational, social and professional experience of students in the program. The EUS hosts a diversity of events and services for engineering undergraduate students, and amazing things are on the horizon. We seek to blend the traditional with the new and promote something altogether unique. We have our age-old anthem, unmistakable red jackets, E-Week—now mixed with career fairs, competitions, tutoring, an e-nEUSletter, and more. With a brand new Engineering Student Centre on the way, it's a great time to be an engineer at UBC!

Forestry Undergraduate Society (FUS)
President: Amanda Harvey
fuspresident@gmail.com • www.forestry.ubc.ca/fus
Do you love the smell of chopped wood? Hear the call of the Marbled Murrelet? Do you agree that 'plaid ain't bad'? Join the FUS for great events like Forestry Week and symposiums, and participate in our rich tradition in Loggers' Sports. We are the voice for Forestry students on campus; our voice can be heard in every facet of environmental and forest sciences.

Graduate Student Society (GSS)
President: Adrew Patterson • 604.822.3203
president@gss.ubc.ca · www.gss.ubc.ca
The GSS of UBC Vancouver represents and advocates on behalf of graduate students to the University, the government, and the public. We provide academic, professional, social, and recreational services to graduate students. GSS advocates for adequate student scholarships, bursaries, loans, and other financial aid. GSS promotes graduate student representation at all levels of decision making at UBC-Vancouver.

Kinesiology Undergraduate Society (KUS)
President: Jarrett Woodhouse
kus.pres@gmail.com
Your KUS is a student-run organization specializing in fun and crazy events. Don't miss out on our legendary Boat Cruise, infamous Pit Nights, and the recently revamped Dinners for Kinners! We also offer opportunities for involvement and growth such as tutoring, Career Fair, Frosh, and more. Keep your eyes peeled for new initiatives brought to you by this year's KUS! To get involved with the KUS, join us at our first general meeting in September in the second week of school.

Law Students' Society (LSS)
President: Martin McGregor
mmcgrego@interchange.ubc.ca • www.ubclss.org
The LSS represents all Juris Doctor students in the faculty of law, oversees the activities of the student body, and serves as a liaison between students and faculty administration. The Academic Issues Caucus represents student interests to the Faculty Council and its committees, while the Student Affairs Caucus coordinates social activities and supports clubs within the Law school.

Library & Archival Studies Student Association (LASSA)
Co-Presidents: Myron Groover & Siri Hiltz
lassa.slais@gmail.com • www.slais.ubc.ca/people/students/student-groups/lassa/index.htm
LASSA is the student association for post-graduates in the School of Library, Archival, and Information Studies (SLAIS). LASSA provides support and advocacy for students and acts as an informal liaison between the student body and the faculty of SLAIS. Throughout the year, LASSA organizes and hosts social events, professional development opportunities, and orientations for new students.

Medical Undergraduate Society (MUS)
President: Michael Yang
president@ubcmed.com • www.ubcmedicine.com
The MUS is an executive of medical students. We represent our members to the UBC Faculty of Medicine and its committees, the Senate, the AMS, and the Canadian Federation of Medical Students. We promote education, expand educational experiences, improve the well-being of members, and serve as a liaison between medical students and faculty.

Music Undergraduate Society Association (MUSA)
President: Michelle Poon • ubc.musa@gmail.com
www.music.ubc.ca/student-resources/musa.html
MUSA provides services and activities to assist students of Music and help them unwind from the stresses of everyday life. Our many events include Winter Formal, Expo and Gronk—start and end school year barbeques, and bi-monthly bake sales to coincide with our Noon Hour Recitals. MUSA is also a great resource for those who are looking for musicians to perform at your next event.

Nursing Undergraduate Society (NUS)
President: Emily Beinhauer
ubc.nus@gmail.com
The NUS is comprised of nursing students with an intense interest in health, and the social and emotional aspects of care provision. Navigating a two-year accelerated BScN program, we are a diverse group whose members' interests span research, teaching, community activism, volunteering, international engagement, art, athletics, and farming! We welcome all faculties to connect with us and we encourage you to contact us with project ideas.

Pharmacy Undergraduate Society (PhUS)
President: Rina Serjeant
phus.president@gmail.com • www.pharmacy.ubc.ca/programs/students/phus PhUS is made up of elected undergraduate student representatives from the Faculty of Pharmaceutical Sciences. In addition to being a liaison between the students and the faculty, PhUS is well known for hosting its annual social events such as Big Brother/Big Sister Night, Skits Night, and Winter Gala.

Planning Students' Association (PSA)
President: Lauren Klose
lklose@interchange.ubc.ca • www.scarp.ubc.ca/psa
PSA is open to students in the School of Community and Regional Planning (SCARP). We represent SCARP students to faculty, the university, and planning professionals. Our activities include: orientations for incoming students, social events throughout the year, student to professional networking, and student to student skills training. We also participate in SCARP decision-making processes such as faculty hiring and student admissions.

Regent College Student Association (RCSA)
President: Stephen Shaw • 604.221.3336
rcsa@regent-college.edu • www.regent-college.edu
The RCSA represents and serves students of Regent College. Many of our weekly events, including Tuesday chapel services and evening lectures are open to the community. We sponsor intramural sports and pick-up soccer. Come visit our independent coffee shop (The Well), the Lookout art gallery, our prayer chapel, and the new John Richard Allison Library—one of the best theological libraries in Western Canada.

Science Undergraduate Society (SUS)
President: Kiran Mahal • 604.822.4235
president@sus.ubc.ca • www.sus.ubc.ca
SUS' main mandate is to enhance the academic, social, and personal experiences of all science undergraduate students at UBC. All UBC science students are members of SUS and get full access to all of our services such as social events, leadership opportunities, sports team rebates, funding for clubs, scholarships, grants, awards, and more! We also offer resources for getting involved—come visit our office in the Abdul Ladha Science Student Centre.

Social Work Students' Association
President: Keely Hebert
keelysw@hotmail.com
The Social Work Students' Association represents Bachelor of Social Work students and strives to ensure full representation at UBC. Our main focus is to develop effective relationships and to bring awareness to issues within our community based on humanitarian and egalitarian ideals. Furthermore, we believe in social justice and equality, and therefore advocate for all student concerns and issues.

AMS History

An early president of UBC once remarked that no other university owed as much to its students as UBC did—and he meant this quite literally. Over the years, UBC students and the AMS have raised millions of dollars to pay for buildings on campus, including the Aquatic Centre, War Memorial Gym, and Brock Hall, which was built in 1940 as the first Student Union Building.

The very campus itself owes its existence in part to the efforts of the students. In 1922 the government was dragging its feet over providing funds to build the campus and students were crammed into temporary buildings near the Vancouver General Hospital. The students marched to Point Grey, where the campus was supposed to go, and convinced the government to cough up the money needed. This event is referred to as the Great Trek.

Fun Facts

It hasn't all been hard work for UBC students; here are some of the other things they've been up to over the years.

UBC Seagulls?

- In 1933, the Ubyssey newspaper conducted a contest to name the yet unnamed sports teams, and "Seagulls" won. The Ubyssey's editors decided this was a ridiculous name and redid the contest. Other names suggested were Prowlers, Grizzlies, and Cossacks. But in the second vote Thunderbirds won.

The AMS used to forbid drinking on campus.

- Though it now sells liquor at the Pit and elsewhere, as recently as the 1940's AMS rules forbode drinking.

David Suzuki named the Pit Pub.

- In 1968, David Suzuki, then a biology professor at UBC, published an article saying there should be a pub on campus. He later served on an AMS committee looking into having a pub, and came up with the name for it.

There was once a bowling alley and a video arcade in the Student Union Building.

- The bowling alley was in place from the time the current SUB opened, in 1968, until 1986. The arcade was brought in some years after the SUB opened and lasted until 2006.

One of the Executive positions in the AMS Elections was decided by a coin toss.

- In 1975, both Jennifer Fuller and Tom Manson received 963 votes for the position of Internal Affairs Officer. It took a coin toss to give the position to Jennifer Fuller. The coin turned up heads.

UBC celebrated its centenary in 2008 even though it didn't open its doors until 1915.

- In 2008, UBC decided to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the act that decreed there should be a university in British Columbia. That act was passed in 1908, but UBC didn't actually start functioning for another seven years.

There's a picture of Edgar Allan Poe in The Pendulum.

- Long after the Pit was created, a contest was held to name a new restaurant going in beside it. The winning entry was The Pendulum, playing on the title of Edgar Allan Poe's famous story, "The Pit and the Pendulum." The picture was put up to explain the literary allusion.

The NEW SUB

www.mynewsub.com
newsub@ams.ubc.ca

In April 2008, UBC students approved the construction of a NEW SUB through an AMS referendum. Since then, the AMS has been working around the clock to turn students' vision into reality through a participatory, student-driven process.

The NEW SUB Project is the biggest project the AMS has ever undertaken—an eye-catching 255,000-square foot building in the heart of campus at University Square. This project is under the administrative and creative control of the AMS, giving us the opportunity to greatly expand student amenities and services including social and resource space, bookable rooms, club space, food outlets, entertainment, and recreation facilities.

Sustainability is a top priority for the NEW SUB. The new building will be a pinnacle of sustainability, achieving Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) Platinum rating at a minimum. We are also striving to make the NEW SUB a "Living Building" by incorporating the most rigorous sustainability requirements into the built environment.

In April 2010, UBC students participated in the architect selection process for the NEW SUB, and we have since been working with Dialog B+H through an Integrated Design Process. This past summer, we completed the Design Development phase and construction plans are now being drawn. Once these documents are complete, construction of the building will begin. Students have been engaged and consulted throughout the process—and will continue to be an integral part throughout construction and upon completion of the building scheduled for September 2014.

Sustainability

The AMS and UBC strive to make this campus one of the most sustainable Universities in Canada and the world. Sustainability is not just riding bikes and hugging trees; it is a way of thinking and acting that takes into account the broader community. Learn about and get involved with some of the great initiatives happening on this campus.

AMS Sustainability Office

Coordinator: Justin Ritchie sustainability@ams.ubc.ca
www.ams.ubc.ca/

In March 2011, the AMS passed a student referendum to establish a fund for student-led sustainability projects. This year will mark the first year of the Sustainability Challenge—where thousands of dollars in funding will be awarded to student applicants. For all of the information you need about the fund, visit our website.

The AMS is committed to making UBC as environmentally-friendly as possible. Your student society works towards raising environmental knowledge and awareness in the student body through the UBC Reads Sustainability Program, and by continually reducing material waste with sustainable practices in the SUB through AMS businesses. To create a New SUB that leads the world in campus sustainability, much planning and many projects have been undertaken with students. Visit us online to learn more about our initiatives, such as water bottle refilling stations.

The AMS Sustainability Office carries out the AMS Lighter Footprint Strategy—an outline for developing ecologically-responsible action in AMS operations and student life across campus. The AMS recognizes that the habits students develop while at university will serve as the foundation for our global society. That's why we are determined to foster sustainable behaviour in our services and increase outreach to students. If you have questions concerns or suggestions, please send us an email!

Campus Sustainability Office

2210 West Mall, Rm. 218 • 604.827.5641
sustain@interchange.ubc.ca

The UBC Campus Sustainability Office coordinates the University's numerous operational sustainability initiatives and provides a central hub to engage with the campus community and facilitate operational sustainability learning and practice.

The CSO's activities support the University's Place and Promise sustainability goals of developing UBC as a living laboratory for environmental and social sustainability, and embedding sustainability as a central component of its operations.

UBC Sustainability Initiative

2202 Main Mall, Rm. 445 • 604.822.9376

The UBC Sustainability Initiative (USI) main office coordinates efforts across teaching and learning, research and campus operations.

The USI office aims to expand on UBC's position as a leader in campus sustainability and reinforce the University's goal of providing an exceptional learning and research-rich environment that advances global citizenship and a civil and sustainable society.

There is more to university life beyond the classroom and the library. AMS Events invites all students to come out and play!

AMS Events exists to enhance student and campus life, as well as liven up the local Vancouver entertainment scene. We are your source for concerts, guest lectures, and a variety of entertainment, which is usually hosted on campus. We serve as the in-house talent buyer for the Pit Pub and the Gallery Lounge, while also providing experienced event management for Firstweek, Welcome Back BBQ, and the AMS Block Party. In addition to our ever-expanding events calendar, we also put on weekly gigs that have become a part of UBC lore.

If you are planning an event and have questions, want to rent some PA, or need help booking entertainment, drop us a note and we will do our best to help!

AMS/GSS Health and Dental Plan

SUB Lower level, Rm. 61 • 1.877.795.4421 • www.ihaveaplan.ca

The AMS/GSS Health & Dental Plan is extended health and dental coverage designed specifically for students to cover expenses not covered by basic health care plans. More detailed information about the Plan is available on the website or at the Health & Dental Plan Office on campus.

Who is covered?
All AMS and GSS members who pay AMS fees for the Health & Dental Plan are automatically enrolled, including full-time and part-time students, international students, and those auditing a course. To verify if you are enrolled in the Health & Dental Plan, check your fee statement and look for the "AMS med/dent fee" line item. You can do this online through the Student Services Centre at https://ssc.adm.ubc.ca.

What if I already have health and dental coverage?
If you're covered by another extended plan (i.e. parent or spouse's employee plan), you can combine both plans to maximize your overall coverage and reduce or eliminate out-of-pocket expenses. You may also choose to opt out of the AMS/GSS Plan and have the fee reversed from your student account. All opt outs must be completed within the Change-of-Coverage Period (see below) or within three weeks of your registration date, whichever is later. If it is your first time opting out, you will need to provide proof of other health and dental coverage. Visit www.ihaveaplan.ca and follow the on-screen instructions for opting out.

What is covered and how much does it cost?*
The Plan includes benefits for prescription drugs, health practitioners, dental care, vision care, travel coverage, and more.

The total cost of the Plan is $214.37 per student, included automatically with university fees each September. The policy year is from Sept. 1, 2011 to Aug. 31, 2012. Students beginning in Jan. 2012 will be assessed $142.91 for coverage from Jan. 1 to Aug. 31, 2012.

Mandatory Health Insurance for new International Students (iMED)
iMED is the mandatory basic health insurance program the University provides for new international students. All new international students are automatically enrolled in the iMED plan, which provides coverage for the three-month waiting period for BC MSP or for the entire length of a one-term exchange. Medical benefits include emergency hospitalization and medical services for an unexpected sickness or injury. Once you register for your first class, a fee of $120 (for all students except one-term exchange students, for whom the fee is $170) will appear on your student account and your card will be sent to you via email; print it and keep it with you at all times. For more details about the iMED policy, please visit the iMED web site at www.david-cummings.com/imed.

Can I enrol my spouse or dependants?
Students may complete an additional enrolment process and pay an additional fee to enrol their spouse/dependants. Common law and same-sex couples are eligible. Visit www.ihaveaplan.ca and follow the on-screen instructions for enrolments.

Change-of-Coverage Period *
Students can opt out or enrol their family during the following periods only:

- Students starting in September: Sept. 6 – 27, 2011
- New students starting in January: Jan. 3 – 25, 2012.

Blackout Period
Claims processing is delayed until after opt outs and enrolments have been processed. Returning eligible students who were covered in 2011's Winter Term 2 will not experience a Blackout Period in Winter Term 1. All other students will have a Blackout Period during the first two months of Winter Term 1. Only new Winter Term 2 students will experience a Blackout Period in 2012's Winter Term 2.

Claims can be dropped off at the Health & Dental Plan Office, but they will not be processed until the Blackout Period ends. You may also hold your claims until this time. Remember: claims are your responsibility until received by the Insurer. Practitioners and pharmacists can't accept Pay Direct or assignment of benefits during the Blackout Period.

* Please note that at time of printing, the costs and Change-of-Coverage Period for 2011/2012 were subject to change. Visit www.ihaveaplan.ca for more information.

Tuition Fees & Financial Options

Financing your education isn't always easy. There are many factors surrounding tuition and money—get informed. If you are experiencing financial hardship, the provincial government, UBC, and the AMS offer many options to help ease the burden.

The Cost of Education

Post-secondary education is an expensive endeavour, and we live in an increasingly expensive world. Tuition for Canadian citizens and permanent residents is set by the university and regulated by the provincial government. Domestic tuition cannot increase by more than 2% per year. Domestic tuition accounts for approximately a third of the cost of attending UBC. International students' tuition is set by the university and accounts for 100% of the cost of attending UBC.

Co-operative Education Programs (Co-op)

www.coop.ubc.ca

Co-op Programs creates employment opportunities for enrolled students. Placement in a faculty's Co-op program helps translate academic classroom experience into the professional world. Co-op helps students integrate paid, full-time, four-month work terms into a university degree program.

Work Study/Learn Program

www.students.ubc.ca/careers

Work and study at the same time and help fund your education. UBC and the AMS offer a variety of part-time Work Study/ Learn jobs on campus that can be molded to fit your class schedule. Visit Career Services for more information.

Government Student Loans

www.studentaidbc.ca

The government provides loans to students with difficulty affording post-secondary education. Apply for provincial or federal student loans at least six months before the end of your school term, and you are allowed a six month grace period after graduation before loan repayment begins.

UBC Student Bursaries & Scholarships

www.students.ubc.ca/finance

Students who have maxed out their student loans and still have unmet needs may qualify for UBC bursaries under Policy 72. Bursaries are based on financial need and have a rigourous application process. UBC also provides scholarships for students who demonstrate academic excellence. These come in the form of President's Entrance Scholarships, and faculty recommended awards.

AMS U-Pass & SUB Fee Bursaries

www.ams.ubc.ca

The AMS also provides financial hardship subsidies. If the U-Pass or SUB Renewal fees are causing you undue financial stress, you can fill out the application form (on the AMS website) for a partial or full subsidy. Resources are limited, so not all applicants will receive bursaries.

Safety on Campus

Blue Light Phone and Campus Security

Blue Light phones are available at various locations around campus. We provide you with direct access to Campus Security, 24 hours a day. For safety concerns, assistance, or general information, push the button and security will answer your call. Safety phones are also located in most campus elevators.

Personal Security Awareness

Personal Security on UBC campus is an important consideration for everyone regardless of age, gender or ability.

- Follow your intuition about your personal security.
- Be aware of your surroundings and the people around you.
- Let someone know where you are going and when you will return. Ask them to call you at your expected return time.
- Program SafeWalk into your phone and use it to request accompaniment while walking on campus.
- Know the location of the UBC Blue Phones.
- When jogging or walking, remain in areas of high visibility. Remain alert by not wearing an iPod or other devices that could prevent you from hearing any signs of danger.
- Wear high visibility clothing for safety around vehicular traffic.
- Know your location and be able to describe where you are if you need to call for help.
- Only accept a ride from someone you know well.
- If having a conversation with someone you meet, refer to 'we' to indicate you are not alone.
- Put the UBC Campus Security number in your cell or desk phone speed dial.

Transportation Options

The road to education should be easy, affordable, and sustainable. That is why the AMS UBC aoffer many alternatives to driving to campus. Take advantage of these transportation options for getting to, from, and around UBC.

Bike Co-op

ubc.bikecoop@gmail.com • bikecoop.ca

The Bike Co-op is dedicated to improving the UBC community cycling experience. We provide cycling resources and services to the campus community and work to promote and improve cycling at UBC. Volunteer at one of our work parties (full of good people and delicious food), where you can learn about bike repair and earn a key to our famous Purple & Yellow Bike fleet—an on-campus community bike share program. A love of bicycles is all you need! Also visit the Bike Kitchen, our shop in the SUB, to fix up your trusty steed, build your own dream bike, rent a cargo bike, and much more!

The Bike Kitchen

www.thebikekitchen.com

The Bike Kitchen is a full service, nonprofit bicycle repair shop. We specialize in inexpensive, refurbished bicycles and offer a full selection of new and used parts. Customers may repair their own bikes or we offer assistance to those who need help. We love teaching people how to fix and maintain their bikes as a form of community empowerment. Show us your student card and receive 10% off new parts. The shop has its own entrance on the North side of the SUB. Ride safe!

UBC Transportation Planning

trans.plan@ubc.ca • www.transportation.ubc.ca

Transportation Planning develops and implements transportation policies and programs that support UBC's vision for a sustainable campus. Our office administers the U-Pass program, provides secure bike parking facilities, and end-of-trip facilities throughout campus and supports access to sustainable transportation initiatives including emergency ride home and car share programs. Starting this fall, the new provincial U-Pass program will bring significant changes to how the U-Pass program works, and how passes are distributed.

The U-Pass

www.upass.ubc.ca

The U-Pass is a three-zone, monthly bus pass that provides unlimited access to all Translink services (city buses, community shuttles, Skytrain, and the SeaBus). UBC students are entitled to pick up a U-Pass every month. The U-Pass is one of the most-missed student amenities post-graduation, so make the most of your U-Pass, save money, and help the environment!

U-Passes can be picked up by eligible AMS members between the middle to end of each month, from the UBC Carding Office, located inside UBC Central.

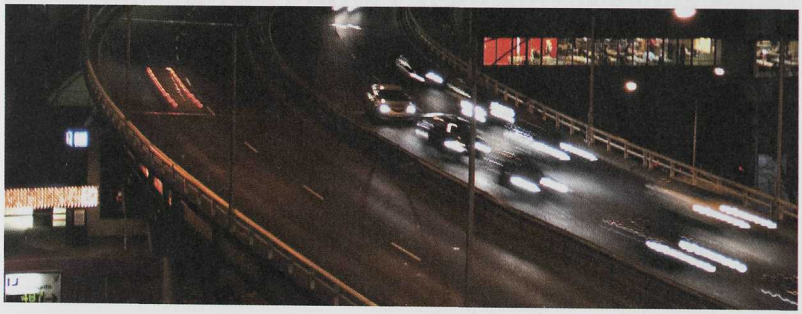
If you feel strongly about affordable, high-quality transit, contact your VP External, Katherine Tyson (SUB 238J, 604.822.2050) and help build a healthy culture of public transportation!

NOTE: The Provincial U-Pass Program starts September 2011—U-Passes will NOT be mailed to residences, and must be picked up monthly at UBC Central.

UBC Ride Share Program

604.879.7433 • 1.888.380.7433
info@ride-share.com • ubc.ride-share.com

Need to drive or be driven to campus? Fill those empty seats in your car or someone else's car by getting matched up with someone who has a similar route and schedule to your own! Simply register for free at ubc.ride-share.com and search for matches. You can also ride Monday to Friday in an available Vanpool for a monthly fare.



Student Housing

Immerse yourself in campus life by making it your home. A broad range of students live on campus from first year students to upper year graduate students and their families. In September 2011, 567 new beds at Totem Park will be open, to support the transition and success of incoming first year students. Find the living situation that best fits your needs.

Your Rights as a Renter

UBC Residences

You are governed by your tenancy contract and not the Residential Tenancy Act. You can contact your Residence Life Manager or the University's Equity Office if you feel the contract has been violated.

Off -Campus Renters

You are covered by the Residential Tenancy Act. Your security (damage) deposit cannot be greater than a half-month's rent. Your rent can only increase by CPI (2%) if you have lived in your place for more than a year. To enter your suite, your landlord must provide you with written notice 24 hours in advance. You have a right to complain to the Residential Tenancy Branch if you feel these terms are not being met.

You have many additional rights as a renter—know them. Read the Residential Tenancy Act online at www.rto.gov.bc.ca or www.tenants.bc.ca. You can also contact your VPExternal for more information.

Your Rights as a Worker

Minimum wage in BC is being raised in three stages: May 1, 2011 to $8.75; November 1, 2011 to $9.50 and May 1, 2012 to $10.25.

You are entitled to a 30-minute, unpaid meal break if you are scheduled to work over five hours. Overtime pay is time-and-a-half after eight hours and double-time after 12 hours worked in one day. If scheduled, you have to be paid for at least two hours. Contact the Employment Standards Branch with questions or concerns at 1.800.663.3316.

The UBC Botanical Garden offers much to see and do! Start in our Asian Garden, where you will encounter one of the largest rhododendron collections in Canada, with over four hundred different kinds. Travel the continents in our Alpine Garden and see thousands of alpine and montane plants from around the world. Take pleasure in the formal beauty of our Physic Garden, full of traditional European healing herbs. Learn pruning techniques and admire the elaborate espalier in our food garden. Other features include a Native Garden, Carolinian Forest, and Garry Oak Meadow. Be sure to experience nature high above the forest floor with a guided tour on our newest attraction—Greenheart Canopy Walkway.

Chan Centre for the Performing Arts at UBC

6265 Crescent Rd. • 604.822.9197
chan.centre@ubc.ca • chancentre.com

The Chan Centre is a unique part of UBC campus life—a place where artistic and academic disciplines integrate to inspire new perspectives on life and culture. The programming reflects the values of UBC through its annual roster of dynamic artists and topical speakers. Most events have ticket prices with student budgets in mind.

Nitobe Memorial Garden

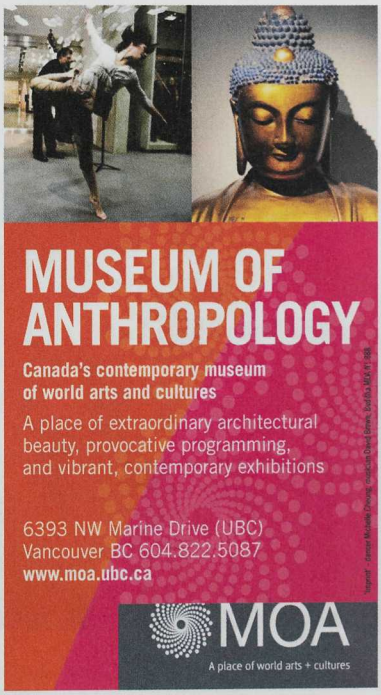
1895 Lower Mall • 604.822.6038

Experience the calming nature of the Nitobe Memorial Garden and learn the story of the traditional Japanese tea and stroll garden. Celebrated for its contemplative views and relaxing atmosphere, the garden is considered to be one of the most authentic Japanese gardens in North America, and has been judged to be amongst the best outside of Japan.

Norm Theatre

SUB Main Concourse

Named after Normand Bouchard, a long-time executive of the UBC Student Film Society (FilmSoc), the Norm Theatre is one of the most popular and well-used facilities in the Student Union Building. It is also an integral part of the SUB Conference Services. With its rich past, the Norm has hosted speaking engagements from local notables David Suzuki and Mike Harcourt; hosted film festivals and regular screenings; and is used for various conferences and lectures. The Norm dates back to the original construction of the SUB in 1968.



Campus Lifestyles

If the numerous clubs, groups, and events on campus are not enough, here are some more close-knit communities that you can get involved with on campus. These are great opportunities to plan your social life, make lasting friendships, and stay active.

The Interfraternity Council (IFC)

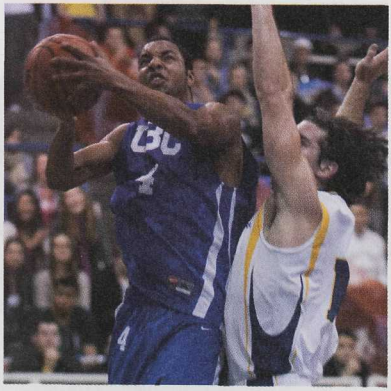
President: Ryan Trasolini • bcfrats.ca

The IFC is a self-governing body that represents the nine fraternities at UBC. Consisting of a delegate from each fraternity and an executive council, the IFC strives to promote all aspects of fraternity life and academic pursuits. The Council also works to achieve its common goal of membership development and service to the UBC community. These goals are achieved by focusing on chapter development, student scholarship, community service, member education, as well as alumni and public relations.

Sororities of UBC

www.ubcsororities.com

For more than 80 years, the Sororities of UBC have been connecting women and setting the standard for excellence. With countless opportunities for leadership development, academic dedication, community involvement, and lifelong friendships, we truly offer the whole package for students seeking a well-rounded university experience. UBC Sororities hosts a recruitment process at the start of September.



goThunderbirds!

www.gothunderbirds.ca

From Olympic champions to professional sports superstars, the UBC Thunderbirds connect you to sporting excellence every weekend during the school year. T-Bird games offer you a chance to watch many high-performance athletics in world-class facilities at a price you can't beat.

UBC students are eligible to join the "Blue Crew," a T-Bird fan club that gets you into every single UBC home game, a t-shirt, and tons of insider deals and specials for only $10. Every week there are free tickets to varsity games courtesy of the AMS available at the Outpost. Come out and support your T-Birds and bring the noise!

Student Recreation Centre (SRC)

6000 Student Union Blvd · 604.822.6000
www.rec.ubc.ca

UBC REC is proud to offer one of the most innovative university recreation programs in Canada. Students, staff, and community members are all encouraged to get active with fun activities. UBC REC offers Intramural Leagues featuring nine different sports, over 25 events and tournaments, and instructional classes. There are drop-in sports in the three gymnasiums, and UBC students with a valid ID play for free.

For the SRC daily drop-in schedule and information on programs and activities, please visit our website.
