ARTS DANCE IS ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

Lee's Little Boys Serve Latest Jazz on Sheba and Man in the Moon.

Skyrocket for the Arts Men! They even persuaded 13 to be a lucky number, for, though it was on November 13th, the ninth annual Arts Men's dance was the prettiest, noisiest and happiest of them all.

Just to make sure that no one would take it for an Aggie affair, the committee saw to it that constant reminders, in the form of electric signs spelling the word "Arts," were placed at advantageous angles. Among the many notable guests was the Man in the Moon. We would not put it beyond the energetic executive to have sent Murray Hunter for him, in his 'bus.

The catering was perfection itself. The cafeteria certainly should be proud of itself. It is hoped that they will be asked again to cater at the big dances. The dining-room was very prettily decorated with ivy and pink dahlias.

No one felt half as worn out after it as every other year, because the committee cleverly sold only a limited number of tickets. As a result, there was freedom of motion—a thing almost unknown in the past.

Yes, it certainly was the nicest party we have ever been at. Sheba looked her very best; Lee's little boys, like rare old wine, are improving with age; and Lester's itself seemed to realize the importance of the occasion by lending itself most admirably to the scheme of decorations. Another skyrocket for the Arts Men!

Many Students to Miss Plays

Not Sufficient Seating Accommodation for All Students to See Xmas Productions.

Each year, on account of the ever-increasing number of students, the Players' Club finds more and more difficulty in providing seating accommodation for those who wish to witness the Christmas plays. This year they regret to announce there will be about 150 tickets short. A certain percentage will be allotted to each class, and it will be a case of "first come, first served." As usual, Thursday and Saturday nights are reserved for students, while Friday will be for outside friends of the Club.

Ticket distribution will take place on Friday, Nov. 16th, from 12 noon to 12.45, at the following places:

WEEK-END REGISTERS DOUBLE VICTORY FOR McKECHNIE SQUAD

Varsity Team Wins First Two Games of Season—Victoria Defeated 11-3, Vancouver 8-0—Improvement Shown in Second Game.

MONDAY'S GAME

Varsity McKechnie Cup team won their second game on Monday, when they defeated Vancouver by a score of 8-0.

Varsity kicked off and pressed for several minutes until the ball went over. Vancouver saved. Their forwards forced the ball to the U. B. C. line, but after several minutes of furious play Varsity pressed them back to centre. Here a nice run by Gee and excellent kicking to touch by McLean took the ball to their twenty-five. Vancouver rallied, vut Varsity soon forced them to the line, where Underhill went over with the ball from a five-yard scrum. Val converted.

On the resumption of play, the Vancouver threes made a splendid run before being brought down on Varsity's twenty-five line. Play continued in the U.B.C. half until the forwards forced it back to Vancouver's twenty-five line. Their three-quarter line broke away, and, by fine kicking, took the ball to the blue and gold line. The men were now fighting with their backs to the wall and succeeded in forcing the play almost to centre, when Vancouver was granted a free kick. Barwis tried for a drop, but failed. Play now zig-zagged from end to end.

SATURDAY'S GAME

Varsity ruggers won the first McKechnie Cup game of the season last Saturday, when the first team defeated Victoria 11-3 at Brockton Point. The game was not a good exhibition of rugby and was slow from the point of view of the spectators, who turned out in larger numbers than previously. Warren was a star of the day, while McLean, a member of the Freshman team, who is replacing Palmer on the other wing, proved that he was worthy of his place. Sparks, who took Hislop's place in the scrum, played a fine game, his dribbling being excelled only by that of his heavy teammate, Gwyther. Underhill played an excellent game at half. Palmer and Hislop were both out of the game owing to injuries.

Boss Johnson, captain of the visitors, was a star at full-back, while Bendrodt on the three-quarter line for Victoria played a fine game. Mike

Senate Will be Elected Next Session

Convocation May Soon Be Composed of U. B. C. Alumni.

The Chancellor and the fifteen elective members of the Senate of the University of British Columbia will be elected by "Convocation" in the spring of 1924.

As there was no Alumni Association in 1912, Convocation at first consisted of all graduates of universities in the British Empire who had been resident in the province for two years or more, and of twenty-five members selected by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council. All graduates of the University have since been added to the Convocation, which is thus fast becoming the Alumni Association of the University of British Columbia.

The elections are held every three years, and at the first election in 1912 Francis Carter-Cotton was made first Chancellor, and held office until 1918,

Candida Will Be Presented Here

Professional Company to Stage Shaw's Work in Auditorium—Miss Dorothy Adams in Cast.

On December 1st, University students will have the rare opportunity of seeing a play of Shaw's. On that date, under the auspices of the Players' Club, the Moroni Olsen Repertory Company will present "Candida" in the Auditorium. This company has played from Salt Lake City through the five western states to Portland, Tacoma and Seattle. It has given performances under the auspices of such institutions as the University of Utah, Whitman College, the State Normal Schools, the Drama League of Tacoma and the University Women's Club of Seattle. Mr. Olsen has played three seasons in New York, with such companies as that of Margaret Anglin and Maurice Brown, and has won high commendation from Metropolitan critics. Miss Janet Young and Mr. Brian Fulger, two of the leading players, have also played in New York, while the rest of the company are graduates of the Cornish School of Music, Seattle. Added to the advantage of seeing "Candida," which ranks high among Mr. Shaw's works, the performance has a certain local inter-

CONTEST MAP POSTED IN HALL

Suggested Names for Streets and Districts to Be of Historical Nature—Contest Closes Friday.

Some weeks ago mention was made of a contest for the choosing of names for the new university district at Point Grey. Owing to the fact that a map was not procurable at that time, the committee was unable to proceed with its plans. A map has now been obtained and is posted in the front hall, so that students will be in a position to suggest names for the different districts and avenues.

This map has been drawn up according to the latest survey, and has marked upon it the new main arteries which are to be cut through to the site, as well as the sub-arteries and residential districts. Names are acceptable for all avenues presented, but particular attention should be directed towards the naming of those regions nearest the university site, namely, sections seventy-two to eighty-five. A request has been made to have historical names applied to these regions.

The contest will close a week from to-day, Friday, November 23. Students will drop any suggested names into the letter-box of the Publications office.

Further information regarding the contest may be secured from any one of the committee—Grace Smith, Ralph Norman, or Cliff Dowling.

Debaters to be Chosen Soon

Idaho, Oregon, and British Columbia to Stage Triangle Debate.

The international debate try-outs will take place in Room 23 on Wednesday, November 21st, at 3.15 p.m. The subject is, "Resolved that United States should immediately recognize the present Soviet Government of Russia." A five-minute speech on either affirmative or negative of the resolution will be necessary.

All those interested in debating, and desiring to try out, should hand their names to the debates manager, J. S. Burton, as soon as possible.

The international debates programme of the university this year is a rather ambitious one. California has accepted Varsity's challenge to debate some time in February, and arrangements have now been completed for the triangular debate between the universities of Idaho, Oregon and British Columbia, to be held on January 18th, 1924. In addition to this, tentative plans have been made for a single debate with the University of Wyoming.

ARTS '24 CLASS PARTY

The senior year held their class party in the Auditorium last Friday evening.

Decorated with Japanese lanterns, streamers of all colors, and Oriental draperies, the Assembly Hall was hardly recognizable. From the dome of the Assembly Hall there hung a huge Japanese parasol, on which balloons were tied.

Dancing started sharp at 8 p.m. Games were provided for the non-dancers, the prizes going to Miss Harmon and Mr. Brand, the consolation prizes to Miss Keilly and Mr. Topper.

A buffet supper was served in Room Z. The table was centred with a mass of chrysanthemums, with candlesticks at either end. Incense gave the proper oriental atmosphere.

After supper medleys were interspersed frequently, which added much pep to the proceedings. Favors were given out by the costumed assistants. Everybody had their share of serpentines, squawkers and fun.

At the toll of midnight the revellers proceeded homeward, tired but happy.

The patronesses for this merry party were Mrs. Eastman, Miss M. L. Bollert, Mrs. H. T. Logan and Miss J. Greig. Honored guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. "Bill" Tannesley. The various committees are to be congratulated for the success of the evening, which was due mainly to their originality and management.

ARTS '27

The Arts '27 class party will take place on Friday night at 8 o'clock. It will be held in the Auditorium, which will be tastefully decorated for the occasion. Refreshments will be served.

Arts '27 is pleased by the success of certain of its members in connection with Rugby. McLean is playing for the McKechnie Cup team, and Tupper, Sparks and Seymour are spares.

SCIENCE '26

Science '26 held their class party on Tuesday at Willow Hall. Streamers, balloons and paper caps gave a festive air to the proceedings.

MODERN SAMSON HERE.

From European capitals during the last year have come press reports regarding the discovery of the strongest man in the world—a man whose physical strength is far beyond all former set standards. He is called KRONOS—and the people of Vancouver will see him at the Orpheum Theatre next week, where he appears in his debut trip on this continent. He is handsome as Apollo and eclipses Hercules, Samson or Sandow for sheer brute strength and endurance. He twines steel and iron bars about his forearm, punches four-inch spikes through heavy oak planking with a naked fist, and performs other great feats little short of miraculous. He appears at the head of a specially attractive vaudeville bill opening Wednesday night.

Music of Shakespeare Interesting Topic

VANCOUVER INSTITUTE LECTURE

The musical qualities of Shakespeare's works was the topic of a lecture delivered before the Vancouver Institute in the Physics Building a week ago Thursday, the speaker being Mrs. Rees-Thomas.

Shakespeare was an ardent and intelligent music-lover, the lecturer declared, many of his finest metaphors having been drawn from the melodious art. His works also contained many pleasing references to the music of the spheres and similar beliefs of the ancients.

The orchestra during the Elizabethan age was the "consort," said Mrs. Rees-Thomas, the chief instrument composing it being the viol, fife, recorder, virginals, and strange to say, the bagpipes, the latter being common to England rather than to Scotland at that time.

Although the Renaissance brought about a revival of interest in musical learning, and although composers were given great encouragement during this period, nevertheless the professional was looked down upon, the speaker said. This custom led Shakespeare to portray his professional musicians as vagabonds or beggars.

LETTERS CLUB.

"Feminism in Nineteenth Century Literature" was the subject for discussion at the Letters Club meeting held at the home of Mr. John Ridington on November 6. Miss Lillian Cowdell, Miss Jean Telfer, and Miss Ruth MacWilliams treated three phases of the subject—the history of the feminist movement, feminism in the novel, and feminism in poetry.

The general conclusion to which the discussion led was that the spiritual phase of the movement only, to the exclusion of its social and economic aspects, can be artistically treated in literature.

DEAN BROCK TO GIVE ILLUSTRATED LECTURE.

An illustrated lecture on "Peoples of the South Seas" will be delievered by Dean Brock, under the auspices of the Faculty Women's Club of the University, on Tuesday, Dec. 4th, at 8.15 p.m. The address will be given in the Auditorium, and the proceeds from the admission fees will be devoted to the Dormitory Furnishings Funds. Students would do well to keep this date in mind. Admission 50c.

Monday Game

At the beginning of the second half Vancouver pressed; but Varsity soon forced them to the line, where the ball went over from a five-yard scrum. Vancouver saved. A fine three-quarter run took the ball inside their twenty-five yard line. Underhill marked the ball and tried for a drop, but missed by only an inch or two. Play swayed between centre and Varsity's twenty-five until the threes broke away, taking the ball well into their territory. The Vancouver three-quarters retaliated. In a splendid run they took the ball within ten yards of the line before being brought down by Domoney. Varsity pressed hard and, after a fine three-quarter run, Cameron went over at the flag. In diving for the line he touched the ball down outside the touch line, and consequently Referee Yeo could not allow Varsity the three points.

Le Roy now made a splendid run for Vancouver before being brought down by McLean. For the remainder of the period Varsity pressed, and just before the final whistle Ramsell broke through with the ball. Val failed to convert, and the score remained 8-0.

Le Roy was the outstanding man on the "Rep" team, with his sensational runs. Varsity played well together. It would be hard to pick out any individual stars. All the men played well. They worked together as a team, putting up a splendid display of Rugby.

Vancouver line-up: Casey Clarke; Bill Roquette, Stan. Allen, Lyall Fraser, Dunc. McFarlane, George Thom; Pete Marshall, Alex. Farmer; Le Roy; Zeke McWhinney, Marc Grimmet, E. V. Pinkham, Cedric Gyles; C. Barwis.

PIANISTS' CLUB.

A very successful meeting of th Club was held at the home of Mis Abernethy on Monday evening las The president, Mr. Gerald Kerr, B.A read an interesting paper on "Morality in Music," which promoted muc discussion on the part of the members.

Miss Abernethy favored with a violin solo, while Mrs. A. White and M R. Telfer rendered vocal duets. Pian solos, illustrating the evening's topi were played by Misses F. Kerr, M Boulton, M. Aske, and Mr. Harol Etter.

Soccer Club Plans Games for Summer

The Soccer Club, at a meeting held Wednesday, Nov. 7, decided to get in touch with the Western Canadian Universities with the view of arranging games. While these universities have a limited playing season, it is thought that inter-collegiate competition may be arranged. According to present plans, the University of California will also be urged to compete. A flourishing team exists there, and a great boost would be given to the game if matches could be arranged. The Soccer Club is in a more fortunate position than the Rugby Club, in that inter-collegiate competition is possible.

A committee of three, Baker, Mosher, and Buckley, was elected to report on the advisability of entering the Connaught Cup or Dominion championship series. This competition starts in March, but would not finish until June. Whether Varsity could field a strong team is doubtful, as many members of the squad will be seeking the elusive dollar. On the other hand, success in this series would advertise the University not only in B. C., where its prowess is known, but throughout the Dominion.

Professor Lloyd will again be asked to coach the team. Varsity is fortunate in having such a keen enthusiast among the Faculty, and the team feels that last year's success was due very largely to his advice and assistance. To Chubb Arnett and Art Mercer, the two hustling soccer team managers, much credit is due.

SECONDS DOWN Mc & Mc in SCRAPPY GAME.

Varsity Seconds finally underwent a change in luck and registered their initial "official" victory, by defeating Mc & Mc's aspirants for Brunswick Cup honors in a scrappy contest by a score of 3-2. Although the play on the whole was of poor calibre, there was plenty of fight in both teams, and the contest was not void of thrills.

U. B. C., playing with a weakened line-up, kicked off, and assumed the offensive. Cant's shot was too high. Following the goal kick, our forwards crowded in, and in a mix-up before the goal the leather bounded off one of the storemen's feet and settled in the net. Mc & Mc gave U. B. C. the surprise of their lives by gaining possession and equalizing from close in, within a minute of the re-start. Varsity was not settling down and their backs were mis-kicking badly. They soon, however, improved in this respect, and Varsity again looked dangerous, Evans' hard drive being particularly good.

After the interval, Varsity came in with a rush, and the ball just failed

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS.

Owing to the nearness of the league games, which begin on Nov. 26, a slight change in the schedule for inter-class basketball games was necessitated. The present schedule is as follows:

1. Arts '24 vs. Arts '27, Wednesday, Nov. 14, 5 o'clock.
2. Arts '26 vs. Arts '25, Friday, Nov. 16, 5 o'clock.
3. Winners of (1) vs. Nursing, Nov. 16, 5.45 o'clock.
4. Winners (3) vs. winners of (2), Nov. 25, 5 o'clock.

Varsity Juniors Lose to South Hill

Thanksgiving morning saw the third team journey to Wilson Park, the home of the strong men of the Junior League. Unfortunately, U. B. C. was off form, and instead of making things close as was expected, the team was humiliated by a whitewash of 6-0. The score does not altogether indicate the run of the game.

Rain fell during the greater part of the play, and the ball soon became very difficult to manipulate. Varsity was mis-kicking badly as a result, while the more experienced Hillmen did not seem to suffer so much in this respect. South Hill kicked off, and registered almost on the start on a low drive. Following the resumption they came down again, and a high dropping shot slipped through Sutherland's hands. For the first time Varsity began to pull together, and several dangerous forward rushes resulted in some effective invasions of the home goal. The third goal came from a penalty awarded against Heaslip. Varsity was now going its best, and several time Blue and Gold was in evidence in front of the league leaders' goal. The fourth goal came from a high shot just before the interval. After half-time Varsity seemed demoralized by the state of affairs, and right from the kick-off Sutherland failed to connect with a dropping shot. Play was around Varsity goal for several minutes, South Hill finally ending the scoring with a low shot. The last twenty minutes found Varsity striving to find its form. The defence was functioning much more successfully, and the forwards were trying hard. No success, however, came their way.

Murray Brink made his initial appearance at a junior game, and several of the superstitious members claim that his appearance was responsible for the slaughter. Perhaps he will be officially advised to discontinue this practice in future.

THE CANON'S ROAR.

Canon Hinchcliffe is on the warpath again. In an address to the Legislature last week, he called attention to the "anti-British propanganda" in the University of British Columbia, and expressed himself as believing that the government would do well to look into the matter before any more of the public's good money was expended on that institution.

One of the pet delusions of Canon Hinchcliffe and his friends has been that certain of our professors are in some way encouraging the growth of anti-British feeling among the students. The accusations to this effect are so utterly false and unwarranted that they are hardly worthy of contradiction. We feel certain that if the students were called upon individually to declare whether or not they had listened to unpatriotic sentiments on the part of their professors, ninety-nine out of every hundred would answer negatively.

And what of that anti-British feeling which is supposed to be so much in evidence amongst the students? There is no such feeling, at least there is no more of such feeling evident than might be found among any other assembly of twelve hundred people chosen throughout British Columbia. There doubtless are a few students in this College who are not amenable to British policy, but surely Canon Hinchcliffe will admit that a University is an institution broad enough to permit of a difference of opinions, even when those opinions are opposed to his own. Yet he and his supporters insinuate that since it is the public's money which is supporting the University no person therein should be so rash as to hold an opinion counter to that of the public. Now, granting that the public thinks entirely as Canon Hinchcliffe does, we cannot help but feel that this is very much like buying a man his dinner and then dictating to him what he shall eat.

SPORTSMANSHIP.

The University teams have built up a reputation for good sportsmanship by consistent clean play and by cheerful submission to the decisions of the referee. Their efforts have been vain, however, if the students continue to support them by the unfortunate methods adopted at Saturday's game.

A rather spectacular play by Varsity could not be taken advantage of owing to the decision of the referee that the ball had been over the line before the play was made. This decision was greeted by a chorus of "boos!" from the Varsity section of the bleachers. No doubt their ardor to support the team was the cause of this display of poor taste on the part of the Varsity rooters, but it was an infraction of one of the most rudimentary rules of sportsmanship. Deriding a referee's decision is not the best way to help our teams in their play, and it certainly will not improve Varsity's reputation in sporting circles.

On Monday a number of students evaded the admission fee by the obvious and simple method of climbing over the fence. They were doubtless inspired by the highest motives, but we feel sure that the team could have won even if these young enthusiasts had been absent. It seems needless to remark that when Varsity is playing the students should either consider the game worth the price charged or stay away.

THE LITERARY SOCIETIES.

It is not at all to our credit that the spectators at a rugby game are numbered in hundreds, while the Literary Societies have an average of two-score at their meetings. This has been the case in the past, but it should not be allowed to continue. A sense of duty should bring students to these meetings, just as much as it brings them to Brockton Point.

Last year there was a movement to amalgamate the Men's and Women's Literary Societies—a movement that was checked, not by honest conviction that such a move was imprudent, but by sheer lack of interest. This week will see an important event in the history of the Societies—virtual amalgamation for one week. It is in the nature of an experiment, of course, and if it is successful (and we can make it successful) we will be just that much nearer our goal.

It is to be hoped that the reactionary sentiment of last year's student body will not again hamper what seems to be a real improvement. Let us give the Literary Societies more than absent treatment. Let us support them in their efforts to amalgamate and, meanwhile, turn out en masse to the separate meetings. They represent the cultural side of our activities, and they bring out the best that is in us. A well-attended Literary Society can win for the University that public support most worth having — the goodwill and sympathy of the truly well educated and enlightened portion of our citizens.

BY THE WAY.

Last year Canon Hinchcliffe was officially invited to address the student body, but he did not avail himself of the opportunity. We wonder if he was afraid that his reception might be "pretty bad."

THE GOVERNOR'S CUP.

The Men's Athletic Society wish it distinctly understood that no postponement of inter-class games will be tolerated this year. This rule will be rigidly adhered to. In order to make this competition successful it is imperative that students of all years enter into the spirit of the contest and support their respective teams. Despite a general lack of interest last year, the race for the cup developed into a close tussle. However this year the teams displaying a "don't care" attitude will be automatically dropped. Surely it is not asking too much of a student to play one inter-class game per week, and, please, to be on time. If you cannot indulge in the branch of sport being played, give your vocal support. It will be appreciated. This University has a reputation for "pep." Show that you are a member of it by displaying some.

Correspondence

This column is maintained for the use of students and others who wish to express themselves on any topic of general interest. The Ubyssey does not assume responsibility for any of the views expressed.

All contributions must be written legibly, in ink, on one side of the paper only. They must not exceed two hundred words in length, and must reach this office not later than noon Monday, in order to appear in the issue of the following Thursday.

COUNCIL REPLY

November 14, 1923.

The Editor,
"Ubyssey."

Sir:—

I am instructed by the Students' Council to take exception to statements contained in a letter appearing in your issue of the 8th instant over the initials W.F. in which the writer claims to have been "shortchanged" in the Students' Cafeteria.

Due to the crowded conditions in the Cafeteria the staff have some difficulty in handling the noon hour rush and mistakes may occur; such errors can be promptly corrected if brought to the attention of the Cashier when they are made.

But when W.F. claims to have been "shortchanged" his letter is impertinent and not in accordance with the facts.

The Council takes this opportunity of again expressing its appreciation of the work of Miss Hansford and her staff in operating the Cafeteria under adverse conditions, for the benefit of the Alma Mater Society.

Yours very truly,
P. M. BARR, Treasurer,
Alma Mater Society.

DEFENCE OF CAFETERIA

The Editor,
"The Ubyssey."

Dear Sir:—

Last week a letter appeared in your correspondence column in which a certain "W. F." complained of being short changed at the Cafeteria. If "W.F." were himself to try to act as cashier during one of the rush hours I am sure he would find some difficulty in always giving the correct change. I think it was hardly necessary to complain in this public way for I feel confident that a word to the cashier at the time would have corrected the matter.

Yours sincerely,
—K.L.M.

RESPECT FOR THE REFEREE

Dear Sir:—

We all recognize the fact that the teams which represent Varsity in different branches of athletics have an immense influence on public appreciation of the University. These teams have a well-earned reputation for playing the game. Supporters of Varsity teams should always bear this in mind lest unsportsmanlike conduct on their part bring discredit to the team.

What was an extremely unfortunate breach of sportsman-like conduct occurred in the Varsity-Victoria Rugby game. If those students who gave the linesman the "Boo" at what they thought was a bad decision would either consult their rule books, or at least, have the decency to respect the judgment of one who is trying to do his part, it would not only be helping the game, but would put an end to much adverse criticism.

Yours truly,
J. L. Bennett.

CANDIDA TO BE PRESENTED

est for the University. Miss Dorothy Adams, who graduated with Arts '21, for two years President of the Players' Club, and for three years a member of its casts, is playing the part of Prossy, the typist.

It may be added that this is not an attempt of the Players' Club to make money, but is rather an effort on its part to give the University an opportunity of seeing a play in which all are, or should be, interested. As the play is one of simple staging, it will not be unduly hampered by the limited space provided by the College platform. The regular price of tickets is $1.10, but a certain number are being reserved for students at the reduced price of 55c. These will be on sale shortly.

SATURDAY'S GAME.

Gregg, a former Varsity McKechnie man, played a stellar forward game for Victoria, while the Brynjolfson brothers also excelled in the scrum work.

Varsity had the edge of the game most of the time, but failed to make additional scores by their slowness in finishing off what appeared to be certain trys.

The Collegians opened the scoring near the end of the first half, when Price went over on a pass from Gwyther, Buchanan making the opening. Val failed to convert.

Victoria was dangerous only at odd times during the first half, and a rally near the beginning of the second period failed to make any counter. Varsity again took the offensive and scored when Ramsell grabbed the pig-skin from a loose scrum ten yards out and dashed over the line after about five minutes' play. Gwyther converted from an easy angle and brought the score to eight.

At one of the few times Victoria pressed, Mike Gregg showed his worth as he rallied his team and went to the College line. Fighting for considerable time yielded little to either side, but Victoria scored when Mike broke away with the ball and made five yards for the first counter against Varsity. E. Brynjolfson failed to convert.

Underhill scored the final counter of the game for Varsity when he made a short run after securing the ball from a scrum near Victoria's line. The try was not converted.

During the remainder of the game Varsity had the edge of the play, although the exhibition of rugby was not up to the usual McKechnie Cup standard.

SENATE ELECTIONS.

when he was succeeded by Dr. McKechnie. At the last election in 1921, Dr. McKechnie was again made Chancellor, and several University graduates were chosen among the fifteen elected members of the Senate. In time these members will be almost exclusively graduates of the University; but at present others with wider knowledge and experience more adequate fill the position.

THE RADIO CLUB

The transformer, which was sent away for repairs, is expected back this week. Work will then proceed on the installation of the new 5-watt. C.W. set, which will line the universities of Washington and British Columbia.

Mass Meeting Rouses Interest in Game

The first mass meeting of the year was held on Friday last, the purpose being to arouse in the student body interest and enthusiasm for the week-end rugby games. As a result the rooting was very good. It is safe to say that the feeling that Varsity was behind it helped the rugby team to its victory on Saturday, and again on Monday.

The meeting opened with the usual vocal competition between the Arts, Science and Aggie men. According to initiation rules the Freshies were seated in the back of the hall, and very materially aided the rest of the Arts men in drowning out the other Faculties. The competition came to an end when Bishop, the new yell leader, united the forces in a short yell practise.

Brick McLeod introduced Mr. Jim Scott, the rugby coach. Mr. Scott spoke of the good work being done by the rugby team. They, he said, were the representatives of the University in the sporting world, and the University should show its loyalty by supporting them.

Dr. Sedgewick, in his characteristic way, urged the students to attend the rugby games by telling them to stay away—if they wanted to. The Doctor himself intends to go to the rugby matches for at least 35 years more. (Skyrocket for Doc.)

A telegram from the Students' Convention wishing Varsity luck in the week-end games, was read by Lorne Morgan.

The meeting closed with more yells, special attention being given to a new bugle call.

MEN'S LIT.

Col. W. B. Forster, chairman of the B. C. Products Campaign, addressed the Men's Lit. last week on the advantage of buying B. C. products. Prof. L. Robertson advanced the case for Free Trade. Foggy weather prevented a large turnout, but an energetic discussion followed the speeches.

Col. Forster outlined the general policy of the campaign as being particularly advantageous to B. C., stating that either Protection or Free Trade would be adopted as needs required. Prof. Robertson then spoke on the advantages of Free Trade. The body of student speakers favored Free Trade, and advanced some very convincing and forceful arguments. Dr. Boggs then criticized the speakers. After a hearty vote of thanks to Col. Forster, Prof. Robertson, and Dr. Boggs, the meeting adjourned.

Literary Corner

IRONY.

A glimpse of a tree
Between two squat and gaudy houses—
The leaves hang listless,
Some bright with the flush
That signals the approach of Death;
Others wan, wrinkled, sear,
Awaiting his voice in the autumn wind.
Soon will the branches stretch
Like long gaunt arms beseechingly to heaven,
A body yearning for a soul,
For release from the stern embrace of night.

The houses stand—complacent, bright,
Man's habitation,
Ignorant like him of this time of death.
But yet in future years those arms
Shall shake in eagerness, as from all time,
Thrilled with the answer yearly given
Their unremitting winter's prayer for life.
Then, clothed in vesture old but ever new, the tree
Shall cast a flickering shade
Upon a heap of rotten timbers lying near.

SECOND DIVISION SOCCER.

by inches to cross the line when the Scotties' goalie missed it. Varsity almost registered from a well placed corner kick shortly afterwards. Evans wasted a good chance by shooting wildly. Just as it began to look like a draw, the ball went in from another scramble in front of Mc & Mc's goal. Again the wholesalers surprised everyone by carrying the leather back to the Blue and Gold citadel and scoring from a scrimmage. Play from this point was improved, but both teams wasted good opportunities. Varsity was fighting hard, and kept the ball for the greater part of the time in the opponents' territory. With five minutes to go Evans pulled off a neat play, and ended it by planting the ball through for the goal that sent U. B. C. into the second round of the competition. This time Mc & Mc failed to repeat. The game was handled by Mr. Armstrong, with Mr. Brown and Dave Taylor on the lines.

Line-ups.

U. B. C.—Davidson; Disney, Butler; Demidoff, Cornish, Ledingham; Underwood, Fanning, Cant, Evans, and Woodhouse.

Mc & Mc—Greenhaw; Atkins, McMillan; Gwilliam, Heill, Wilson; McGill, Moore, Dewar, Fraser, and Drummond.

THE CYNIC SAYS

Perplexed one asks: "When attending a formal dance, should I go for a girl with a car?" Certainly, only choose one with a snappy model.

Our idea of a cheap skate is fifteen cents.

Some big men drive small cars.

A dinner, a dollar, a twelve o'clock swaller.

The student S. O. S. means "send on shekels."

Why do some flappers who are under-developed insist on being over-exposed?

It is a good thing that all the people with novel ideas are not writing books.

Indignant Wife—"I wonder what you would have done if you had lived when men were first compelled to earn their bread by the sweat of their brow."

Indolent Husband—"I should have opened a shop and sold handkerchiefs."

The optimistic salesmen, having a few hours to spare, decided to dine at the village hotel.

One of them turned to the pretty waitress and said: "How's the chicken?"

"Oh, I am all right," she blushed, "how are you?"

It was bed time and four-year-old Tom did not want to go to bed. His aunt, who tipped the scales at 290, said: "Why, Tom, I'm much older than you and I go to bed with the chickens."

Tom looked at her bulk, then replied: "Gee, I don't see how you get up on the roost."

"Mr. Bradley is certainly well read. He repeated an exquisite quotation last night."

LIBRARY RECEIVES RARE VOLUME

Interesting and Historic Letter Included Within.

The University Library has this week been presented with an extremely interesting "Association Volume," "Faraday as a Discoverer," by John Tyndall.

The book was for years the property of James D. MacPhail, Esq., of Moss Lane, Walton, Liverpool, England, for some years President of the Royal Microscopical Society. Tipped in at the end of the volume is a pamphlet, "Craftsmanship in Nature," an address delivered in 1915 before the Royal Institution, Liverpool, by Mr. MacPhail, at that time its president.

The volume was given by Mr. MacPhail to Major J. S. Matthews, who suggested it would be greatly appreciated as an addition to the University Library. To this the owner gladly agreed, and the volume, in addition to the book-plate of Mr. MacPhail, has this inscription:

"Presented to Major J. S. Matthews, late 102nd Battalion, Canadian Infantry, by James D. MacPhail, Liverpool, May 4th, 1923, with the request that it be handed, together with the original letter written by Michael Faraday, to the new University in British Columbia."

The letter from Sir Michael Faraday is to his friend, Sir William Snow Harris, and was written in 1855, when the scientist was 64 years of age.

The letter is not merely of interest as the autograph of a great physical scientist. It is a revelation of those reverent and loveable characteristics which endeared Faraday to all who knew him. It is as follows:

My dear Harris:

I want the pleasure of writing a few words to you. I have nothing to say about science, and I do not know what it is just now that moves me, except it be the glance at your last book just now as it came before me on the desk, and then the long train of pleasant recollections which it brought back from the older times.

Oh! we are getting older—I am at least, and the excitement of former times and things becomes much chastened. Not so the recollections. They become more and more, and they bring back with them such a flood of thoughts of kindness which I have received from all, that I am ready at times to weep with gentle joy. Amongst all this comes our old acquaintance, and it is that which sets my hand running in an almost unintelligible manner.

Every good wish towards you, my dear old friend, from one who has had much of your kindness, and hopes to be grateful towards Him who has directed it.

Ever truly yours,
M. FARADAY.

To Sir William Snow Harris.
Royal Institution, 21st December, 1855.

Major Matthews, of whose interest in the University this gift is evidence, had a distinguished career during the war. He was the sole survivor in his battalion in the fourth and successful assault on Regina Trench, and among his treasured personal possessions is the mud-stained "Orders for the day" for that attack.

NEW MEMORIAL TO PARKMAN

Canada to Have Complete Historical Structure.

It is gratifying to consider the great attention that is being paid to Canadian History at the present moment. The Canadian Historical Association has just organized branches in England and France, which are to cooperate with the parent society in building up a complete historical structure for Canada.

In Vancouver a memorial fund is being raised by our Alumni in honor of one of our late graduates, Norah E. Coy. The fund is to be given to the library to build up a complete Canadian historical section.

The Parkman Centennial Committee is engaged in similar work on a nation-wide scale. Every university in Canada has its representative on this committee, Dr. Eastman representing the University of British Columbia. The chairman of the committee is Sir Arthur Currie, G.C.M.G., and the treasurer, Lawrence J. Burpee, F.R.S.C.

A public meeting was held in Montreal, on November 13th, as a national tribute to Francis Parkman. The speakers were His Excellency the French Ambassador to the United States, J. J. Jusserand; Dr. Bliss Perry, of Harvard; Dr. C. W. Colby, of McGill, and Hon. Thomas Chapais.

Six alternate suggestions for a permanent memorial to Parkman have been laid before the various representatives in order that each may denote his preference. These six alternatives are:

(a) Research Scholarships in Canadian History.
(b) Research Scholarship in North American History.
(c) A Chair of Canadian History in a Canadian University.
(d) A Parkman Monument in some Canadian city.
(e) Formation of a Parkman Society, to encourage work in Canadian History and publish meritorious results.
(f) A Parkman endowment, with the same objects, under the control of the Canadian Historical Association.

Dr. Eastman has voted in favor of suggestion (c), because he considers that "our chief need is some supreme professional authority on Canadian History."
