OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE GRAND LOYAL ORDER OF BOOSTERS

VOL. VI., No. 21. ABBOTSFORD, B. C., FRIDAY, APRIL 4, 1913 8 $1.00 PER YEAR

PUMP GUNS ARE NOW BARRED.

According to the amendments to the Provincial Game Act made at the late session of the Provincial legislature, "It shall be unlawful for any person to use or have in his possession a pump or repeating shotgun of any kind with a magazine capable of holding more than one cartridge, or any automatic shotgun of any kind. Any such automatic, pump or repeating shotgun unlawfully found in the possession of any person may be seized and confiscated by any game warden, constable, or peace officer."

It shall also be unlawful for any resident of the Province to hunt for, take, or kill any animal or bird, or to carry firearms of any description, or airguns, or traps or other devices for the purpose of capturing any animal or bird, without first taking out a license in that behalf." Licenses shall be in the form of a badge, the carrying fee for which shall be as follows "For badge and ordinary license to carry firearms and hunt birds and deer, two dollars and fifty cents." "For badge and a general license to carry firearms and hunt birds and animals, five dollars."

Ordinary licenses shall be issued free of charge to prospectors having a free miner's certificate, during the open season, while actually engaged in prospecting, and to farmers and their sons hunting on the land on which they permanently reside. Members of the Canadian militia while carrying rifles on dut or to temporary visitors who come for the purpose of shooting in clay pigeon competitions, are also exempt from the license fees.

These amendments will undoubtedly have the effect to abate the dangerous nuisance of the small boy with the .22 rifle and air-gun.

TO ASSIST FARMERS

With a view of assisting the farmers in selecting the best material for their dairy herds, Mr. Henry Rive and Mr. V. Bjorsen are making a tour of the agricultural districts of the Fraser Valley. Testing stations for the purpose of discovering the percentage of butter fat and other qualities of each individual animal thus enabling the dairymen to select only such cattle as will give the best results, will be established at different points. Two stations at Chilliwack, one in Langley and the other in Delta, have ben selected.

A competent official will be stationed at each of these testing points and dairyman desirous of acquiring statistics as to the performance of any animal may bring same there for his information. Animals not reaching the required standard may thus be eliminated from the herd.

Mr. Rive is a provincial dairy inspector, while Mr. Bjorsen is a member of the animal health department at Ottawa at present investigating the records of pure bred dairy stock in the Fraser Valley district.

CANADA POWER CO. OPEN SUB-STATION

Electricity is fast becoming a prominent factor in the generating of motive for running large industries throughout the country, and more especially is this apparent in the smaller towns where there is an electric line in close proximity. In nearly all cases the growing industries in these localities do away with the old-time steam method and adopt electric appliances to drive their various machines.

As an instance of this the Western Canada Power Company, whose large electric plant is situated at Stave Falls on the north bank of the Fraser River, and who supply nearly the whole Fraser Valley with light and power are opening up a sub-station at Kilgard. From this new station light will be supplied to this rapidly growing community, as well as motive power for the Kilgard brick works.

The station is built on the same lines as the Company's various substations throughout the Valley, being of metal sheating with a concrete floor.

The building at Kilgard is already completed, with all the machinery on the spot ready for installation. On Wednesday last a number of employes from the central station at Mission City with their camp equipment and other paraphernalia passed through Abbotsford on their way to put the finishing touches to the work and in the course of a few weeks the juice will be turned on.

The same company which supply Abbotsford with light and power have their men busily engaged remodelling the present office here, and in the course of a few days a number of new transformers will be installed to take the place of the present ones which are becoming inadequate to the increased demand for more light and power.

SURE SIGNS OF SPRING.

B. J. Gurnaey so industrous he could not change his adv. in the Post.

A. J. Henderson, "Fergie," and Rube Thornton out fishing.

J. J. Sparrow wearing that smile that won't come off.

Jack Bates wearing a straw hat.

Tennis Meeting

A those interested in a Tennis Club for Abbotsford are cordially invited to attend a Tennis Club meeting to be held in the sample rooms in the old Pool Rooms next to the Abbotsford Hotel. on Saturday, April 12th, at 7.30 p.m. sharp. Ladies are especially invited to attend.

GONE, BUT NOT FORGOTEN.

M. Dan McGillivary, well known in football circles and who for several years held a position in the grocery department of the Pioneer Store, left on Thursday to take up a similar position in Saskatchewan.

"Dan's" genial smile will be missed in Abbotsford as he was a prime favorite with all.

Mr. W. Wells, another well known Abbotsfordite, also left the same day on a few weeks vacation to his people in Alberta.

Mr. Dominy, of Rosedale, will also join the above two and journey to his old home on the Prairie, where he intends to dispose of his interests there and then return to Rosedale where he has purchased a livery and feed stable there. He also intends to bring some thoroughbred stock back with him.

Mr. Dominy knows a good country when he sees it.

"Dan" paid a parting visit to Mt. Lehman to bid a fond farewell to friends there before his departure, and the showers of copious tears shed on his leaving resembled a young cloud burst.

PRESENTATION

On Monday evening, the 24th, the pastor, suprintendent and teachers of the Presbyterian Sunday School of Abbotsford, met in the home of Mrs. D. Fraser and presented Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Johnston with a handsome copy of the Bible in appreciation of their interest in the church and Sunday School. During the evening refreshments were served and a jolly time enjoyed by all. Mr. and Mrs. Johnston leave for Vancouver, where they will reside in future.

INQUIREY RE GOATS

During the past few months the Live Stock Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture has been in receipt of numerous inquiries as to where it might be possible to purchase either Angora or Milch goats. It would appear that in many parts of the Dominion the demand for these useful and profitable animals is rapidly developing and that those who at present have any surplus stock can find a ready sale for them if a channel of communication between supply and demand is established. Accordingly as a means of starting a convenient Directory of Canadian Breeders of Angora Goats and Milch Goats, the Live Stock Commissioner will be pleased to receive from such breeders information regarding their respective flocks covering the following points:

1, Kind and number of goats kept.
2, Usual number for sale each year.
3, Approxomately the price asked.
4. If possible a brief statement regarding expenses found necessary and the returns which may be expected by one engaging in raising this class of stock.

Communications supplying the above information should be addressed to the Live Stock Commissioner, Ottawa, Ont. Such leters do not require postage.

Mr. F. Kickbush, of the Customs department, is now in charge of the Customs office at Upper Sumas, Mr. Ruthig, the former officer having resigned. Mr. Ruthig intends moving back to Abbotsford.

TRAP CLUB HOLD GOOD MEETING

The Abbotsford Trap Club held a very successful meeting on Friday evening, when Dr. Swift was elected president, with Mr. R. Copeland vice-president and Mr. Geo. Clark, sec.-treas.

The treasurer reported a credit balance of $32 besides about $20 worth of pigeons from last year.

It was recided to move the present traps into town as soon as the necessary arrangements could be made with the B. C. E. R.

The membership fee which was last year $5 has ben reduced to $1.50 for this year, while targets will be 1 cent each. Mr. Alanson stated he would provide members of the club with ammunition at wholesale prices.

The first shoot of the season will be held on Saturday next and all are invited to attend.

A letter was received from the Vancouver Gun Club askling the co-operation of this club in forming an Inter-Club Team Shoot with the various cities throughout the province which possess a gun club. All clubs to shoot on the same day and the highest scores sent by wire to headquarters. The rules and regulations would be defined later if the club declared to join.

It was decided to join this association, and the secretary was instructed to get the details.

BUILDING ACTIVITIES KEEPING PACE

Messrs. Henderson & Taylor's surveyors were engaged Wednesday in getting the proper grades, levels, etc., for the construction of the Gazley block on Essendale avenue, an account of which appeared in these columns recently.

Mr. J. A. McGowan is erecting a fine dwelling on the Yale road a short distance from Abbotsford. When completed the building will be occupied by Mr. Blair and family, the recently arrived ladies' and gents' tailor.

Mr. Gillon is erecting a handsome bungalow outside of town on the Yale road.

The bungalow recently erected on Grand Boulevard for Messrs. Liddell and Morrison is now completed with the exception of a few artistic interior decorations which these gentlemen claim they will soon possess if they have to beg, borrow or steal them from their numerous lady friends. In the meantime a house warming will be held on Saturday night when the new householders will give a correct demonstration of the meaning of the word "hosts."

The Pioneer Store has just received a choice selection of spring goods for ladies, including silks, ginghams, and other attractions dear to the feminine heart.

Mr. T. Sutherby, of Ladner, visited Abbotsford this wek.

Our Shibboleth—Neither for nor agin the Government.

Friday, April 4, 1913

Have you registered that vote yet? It might be worth money to you.

The general financial head of the United States has passed away, leaving thousands of dollars for some one else to finance better or worse for the community. It would be a good idea for us poor fellows if all the money reverted back to the government above a certain amount and to be spent in building roads and bridges throughout the country. Some day the same would happen when some British Columbian millionaire passed away, if that were also law in this country. But then in the meantime there is a whole lot of work and thinking in many of us yet.

(From Fraser Valley Record)

In regard to the lighting of the town there is no person laying any blame to the Western Canada Power Company, because the light is in darkness. The committee having the matter in hand asked the company to turn off the lights that is the reason why they were turned off. It is generally understood that the lights would still be burning if the committee had delayed instructions.

There is however, no blame attached to the committee as this paper believes they were acting as the majority of the people thought was right, but did not see where the money was coming from. The committee were not authorized by any power to keep the lights on when it was not known how they were to be paid for.

The fault all lies in the fact that a bill was not made law at the last session to enable the provincial assessors of the town and other unorganized districts of the province where light could be had to pay for it in this way.

Of course it was an oversight, there is but little doubt, unless it be the fact that the provincial government are asking us in this manner to incorporate. But then they are treating us so well in respect to building streets and sidewalks in the town that the majority of the property holders do not feel like incorporation at the present time.

There are many little towns in the province—several in the Fraser valley, placed in exactly the same position as Mission City—too young for incorporation, but yet needing all the requirements and conveniences that would be forthcoming if they were in the proper position to incorporate.

TO BUILD A CITY BUILD THE CITIZEN

Some thirty-five members of the Victoria Progressive Club met at the weekly lunch at the Balmoral yesterday to listen to an address on the Science of City Building from Mr. James Wood Pogue. Mr. L. P. Mac lean, the president of the club, was in the chair, and after a few words from Mr. J. L. Beckwith, introduced Mr. Pogue as the field manager and director of the Sheldon School of Business Building of the British Empire.

Mr. Pogue described himself as the child of an Irish father and a Scotch mother, an American Anglo-Saxon, whose mission it was to teach the science of business and city building to all parts of the British Empire.

His first contention was that a city was composed not of houses but men, and that in order to build a city successfully it was necessary to build up its citizens. "Build weak men and weak cities would result; crooked men and a crooked city will follow. The value of a citizen to his city was not to be measured by what he spoke or did, or by his reputation, but by his character. To build up a man attention must be given to physical development, for, though the body was not as important as the brain, well developed physical powers. And greater than either body or brain was the soul."

The great thing to do, continued the speaker, was to find out the point in which each citizen was lacking and put that right. Often a small change would mean the difference between the failure and the successful man. The self-reliant man so far from being afraid of obstacles, welcomed them as opportunities of showing his power to overcome them. All that cities needed to become better cities, greater cities, was more men, better men, and they must strive to see that they were building such men in Victoria.

THE SMALLEST COUNTRY ON THIS GLOBE OF OURS

London, March 17—The newest of all European countries is far and away the tiniest. Its name is Mount Athos, and it only came into existence a week or two ago, when the ambassadors of the Powers decided that, however else the Balqan question is settled, Mount Athos is to be an independent holy republic.

It is a mountain twice as high as Ben Nevis, near Salonika, and is certainly unique among the countries of Europe in the fact that no woman has set foot in it for five centuries. When, some years ago, the Queen of Roumania announced her intention of visiting it, the rulers of the holy mountain threatened to commit suicide if she persisted.

The new republic, which has a little seacoast of its own, holds another record. It is the only state in Europe who national income is obtained solely by selling cruscifixes, rosaries, amulets, and similar holy objects. As Mount Athos contains 21 monasteries, the export is quite a large one.

The least known of the other pocket countries of Europe is San Marino, in the heart of Italy. It also is a mountain, surrounded on three sides by perpendicular cliffs. It possesses nearly 100 castles with an army of about one man to each castle. The last time San Marino was at war was when one general and 23 men solemnly marched out to assist Napoleon, who received them with full military honors.

A little principality in Austria, Liechtenstein, has nominally been at war with Prussia ever since 1866. At any rate, peace has never been made.

EGG SUPPLY SMALLER.

With the diminishing supply of eggs on the market, caused, it is said, by the reservation of eggs for hatching purposes and the cessation of the importation of the commodity from the States, a strong tendency to strengthen was noticed in the price of eggs at the weekly market this last week. and some of the farmers express the opinion that the price of 35 cents per dozen would prevail next week. Cut flowers, seed potatoes, fresh lettuce, also featured on the market this morning besides a number of fresh veal carcases.

The supply of eggs has been very noticeably decreased, butter, however, in the same department still remains steady in both supply and demand. The market was attended by a splendid array of shippers this morning and all household commodities, flowers and foodstuffs met with a brisk demand. The supply of meats was somewhat larger although prices were seemingly not affected. In all departments the proximity of spring was noticeable, more fresh meats, less eggs and poultry, and the supply of greens and fresh fish, heralding the arrival of springtide. Cut flowers, rose bushes, bedding pansies and wallflowers and seed potatoes also spoke this fact and the demand for the produce in its briskness recalled the markets of the middle months.

A good supply of duck eggs for hatching purposes were offered at 50 and 75 cents, respectively, and buyers were found at both prices. An unusual number of squabs and pigeons were offered for sale at 60c a pair and met with a mediocre demand at that price. Chickens were more scarce although the prices in this department remained the same as last week. Although the supply of apples were not large, several boxes changed rands at prices ranging from $1 to $1.25, some securing the latter figure.

In the vegetable department prices of potatoes remained stationery at from $8 to $12 a ton, seed potatoes selling for $10. A supply of fresh, early lettuce was offered at $1.25 a box, containing about 30 heads. Flowers were especially increased in supply this morning, cut narcissus selling at 25c a dozen, cut tulips 25c a dozen, and cut carnations at 40c a dozen, were offered in abundance. For the first time this year bedding plants pansies and wallflowers, were offered for sale at six plants for 25c respectively.

BIRTH—On March 31, 1913, to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. B. Hill-Tout, a daughter.

Mr. Waller, of Peardonville did a land office business in Abbotsford last week in the insurance line.

Mr. Roberts, formerly of Peardonville, has opened up a Plumbing shop in the old creamery building and expect to do a thriving business.

Logging operations are becoming active on Beaver River, a logging locomotive and a car load of ties passed through Abbotsford bound for that locality.

Mrs. B. McElroy has returned from visiting her mother, Mrs. McCrusker in Seattle. Mrs. McCrusker accompanied her daughter back and will enjoy the splendid climate around Abbotsford for a few weeks.

Messrs. Blair & Son, the ladies' and gents' tailors have opened up their new store and from the numerous orders already received expect to be kept busy.

Mrs. Thomas, accompanied by her sister Miss Messick, were Sumas visitors Wednesday.

Miss Zeagler spent the week end with friends in Vancouver.

Lloyd Vanetta is convalescent after a severe attack of typhoid.

Mr. J. Turner, of Vancouver, has been appointed by the B. C. Lumber Association as weighing inspector for Abbotsford, and commenced his duties immediately.

Little Miss Clark entertained a number of her young friends on her fifth birthday.

Mr. Lee, the Abbotsford baker expects to be in his new premises by next Monday. The building is all completed but the delay was caused by the glass ordered for the front windows not being the right demension.

Miss O'Sullivan, the popular teacher of the Peardonville school, spent the Easter holidays with friends in Vancouver.

Mr. Broderick and family, formerly of Vancouver, are now residing in Peardonville, on the property known as the Roberts Place.

Mrs. Clarkson and daughter, of Chilliwack, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Campbell.

Miss Clara Fadden and Miss Gladys Fowler, of Sumas, were the guests of Mrs. Davenport on Wednesday last.

PROFIT IN KINDNESS.

Speak to a Cow As You Would to a Lady.

Too few breders and dairy farmers give the needed recognition to the basis on which the dairy industry is founded—the motherhood of the animal furnishing the milk. One of the most successful of the early Wisconsin dairymen had for his motto, "Speak to a cow as you would to a lady;" and when he was asked if he removed his hat when entering the stable door in the morning, he replied that he certainly would if he could get more milk thereby, writes a contributor to Farm and Home.

What owner, especially in testing, has not noticed that some one of his milkers are liable to get more milk from the cows than were the other milkers. It is the personal equation the regard the cow has for her attendant, that gives hand milking an advantage over the machine; and the more nearly the cow has adopted her milker in the place of her calf, the greater will be his success as a milker. There is usually a vast difference in results between the milker who gets a cow into position by pushing the leg of the stool into her flank and then kicks her on the shin to make her step back, and the one, who gains the same end with patience and gentleness. Who can blame the cow for wanting to kick the first man?

Aside from the knowledge of how to feed in general and the study of the special wants of the individual cows, to attain the greatest success a man must win the affection of the cows. Some will say that this cannot be done. But if the calf and growing yearling is treated gently and kindly, and then is stabled and handled before freshening like a cow, there will be no such thing as breaking the heifer to milk; she will take it as the regular thing.
