DON'T DO IT

Ernest Fisher of Coquitlam, appeared in the police court in New Westminster this week on a charge of starting a fire in the bush without a license. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $50 and costs. The penalty was a little severe, but the crown timber agent has come to the conclusion that this is the only way to impress on the public extreme caution in setting out fires is to deal with the case in the police court.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICE

On Sunday, August 21st the Anniversay services will be held in the St. Matthew's church. The church was opened for service on October 28th, 1900 and consecrated on August 15th, 1909.

THE FIRST DANCE

The first dance of the season is to be held in the Maple Leaf Hall on Tuesday evening, August the 23rd. The finest music that was ever heard in Abbotsford has been secured for the occasion—the Bardwell Orchestra of Bellingham Washington. If you don't believe us go to the dance and see.

Dr. Schumacher and Mr. Giroday of Mission City paid our town a visit on Wednesday in the interest of the beet sugar factory. A public meeting will be held here on August the 24th in the evening when the above named gentlemen will address the public on the sugar beet industry. This should interest all the farmers in the district.

Mr. Henry Freeman returned to town on Tuesday evening from Kamloops where he has been spending the past few months. He expects to stay a week or so before he returns. Henry is looking as though the climate at Kamloops agreed with him.

Miss Turnbull is visiting friends in Vancouver.

Abbotsford will be very much on the map soon. Just wait.

LAURIER WILL SPEAK AT WESTMINSTER

Robert Jardine

Will make trip to your town as desired for short meeting.

PARDEE

The above telegram received from Victoria yesterday afternoon by Robert Jardine, says the News, indicates that the efforts put forth by the Liberals of New Westminster to induce Sir Wilfrid Laurier to visit this city before returning east have at last been successful. The premier will be here on Wednesday of next week, but at what time he will arrive is not known

A CASE FOR THE RAILWAY COMMISSIONERS

When the railway commissioners meet at the coast in September they will probably adjourn to the town of Huntingdon to solve the knotty little problem there. The C. P. R. and the V. V. & E. railroads which run right through the centre of the town, have shut off all the streets so that there are only one or two crossings in the whole town.

This action has caused vigorous opposition on the part of the people and the provincial government has taken up the matter. Neville Smith has been instructed to make surveys of the grades and crossings at Huntingdon and the result of his findings will be placed before the railway commission.

The work of surveying was begun this week.

Mr and Mrs. Harry Eby and son left on Wednesday for a week's holiday in Vancouver.

Mrs. and Miss Boyd returned home from Vancouver on Wednesday evening.

Mr. J. W. McCallum left for Vancouver Thursday evening.

Mrs. Moencaux and sons of Cloverdale spent a few days in town this week. While in town they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Blair of the Commercial.

Mrs. Dr. Swift spent a few days with friends in Vancouver, returnhome on Wednesday evening.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 19, 1910

It has been announced that Sir Wilfrid will speak at New Westminster. It would have been too bad if the News had not been permitted to have one of Laurier's speeches without copying it out of another paper.

—o—

The opinion expressed by many is that if John Oliver were appointed to the railway commission it will be an excellent one and one in which the interests of the people would be safeguarded at all times.

During his political career he has made a study of what railways should do for the people and is no doubt well informed as to the rights of the people.

The next few years will see a great many railways built in this province and it would be well to have a representative on the commission from this province. John would be the best man at present available in the province that we know of and his day in politics is most probably over. He should have some reward.

—o—

Considerable news has been overlooked this week owing to the pressure on our space through advertising, and the weather being unusually hot we do not feel like enlarging the paper, so we hope our readers will pardon our crowding in so much advertising. We trust to make improvements in the paper before long that will make it more interesting to our readers.

THE POOR PARSON

What's the matter with religion? This paraphrase of the historic question about Kansas is suggested by an article in the New York Post which gives statistics about clergymen's salaries in the United States The inevitable conclusion from a study of the tables is that the average churchgoer is not in earnest about his religion; if he were, he would not suffer his clergyman to exist on the wages of unskilled laborer. Even if he had no personal liking for his pastor, he would honor his work, and would feel it a disgrace that a minister of God should have to be also a martyr. The earthly reward of the clergy in the United States is about $665 The figure is taken from the census report and is official. Contrast this wage with the handsome salary paid to Marcelline, the clown at the New York hippodrome. Marcelline gets $10,000 a year, and has a long holiday. Most of his salary, one may take it for granted is made up by men and women who are supposed to be churchgoers and who are at least Christians. Another circus performer, named Desperado receives $500 a week for diving from the top of a tent to land upon his chest upon a runway far below. Acrobats earn all the way from $50 to $200 a week, so that the poorest of them receives what would keep four clergymen and their families. Consider the prize that was offered too by nominal Christians to tempt two thugs like Jeffries and Johnson to batter each other. It would keep one hundred and fifty ministers and their families for a year. The average professional baseball player earns twice as much as the average preacher. The chorus girl earns more So does the bartender. The hangman earns as much. A fair jockey earns twice as much. Christians are willing to pay far more for their amusements than for their seventh day religious instruction The heathen who make their witch doctors the most venerated men in the tribe show a truer understanding of what religion should be than do we Christians.—WEEK

WOMEN CONVICTS ARE GIVEN MIRRORS.

A prison has been established in Glasgow for women where there is a remarkable amount of freedom, where every woman has a looking glass and where the prisoners are taught by a calistenic instructor to walk gracefully and to regain their self-respect, is one of Scotland's latest efforts at prison reform.

The new jail in Glasgow is a model prisons. It is built on one of the most startling styles by an architect who understands that the most perfect discipline means the most perfect freedom.

Outside the model prison looks like a stone fortress, inside like a fairy palace of white painted balconies and light, open air staircases and corridors built in a series of radiating star-like wings, divided from each other by lofty courts covered with glass. One single warder seated at the centre can control the whole 300 or 400 inmates at a glance. It needs no espionage, no watching, no degrading sense of suspecting and "kecking" at each cell door. The cells are not kept fast locked like the English prison cells.

Every kind of industry istaught that isp ossible—first-class laundry work and the getting up of fine lin—contracts being taken from the chief hotels, and the long lines of the laundry hung with the beautifully ironed and starched lingerie Professional cooks are hired to give instructions in the making of dishes, and special stoves are brought into the prison chapel, where the demonstration takes place.—Ex.

THE FISHING SEASON

An advertisement of the fishing season and of the attractions of the now famous interior as a fisherman's paradise, contains the following description of a fisherman; "He riseth up early in the morning and disturbeth the whole household mighty are his preparations; he goeth forth full of hope; when the day is far spent he returneth smelling of strong drink and the truth is not in him." We wonder if this ad relates to any of our local devotees of Isaac Walton.—Ex.

ODE TO CANADA

Oh! Canada! thou fair, thou lovely land,
Oh! let me sing a while thy praises loud,
Happy and Free upon thy hills I stand,
And view thy glories nature hath endowed.
And have they called thee "Lady of the Snows?"
Is that the only title for thee found
Land of the apple of the vine more shows
The glorious riches that with the abound.
Land of the forest and the bright blue lake,
The wooded hillside, and the ripplling stream,
Where the wild deer comes down his thirst to slake,
And the bright sunshine sets the whole agleam.
Land of the wheat, thy mighty thriving West
Where freedom through the cornfields loves to sing,
'Tis only 'neath the snow thou takes thy rest,
As 'neath a blanket, sleeping till the spring.
To Thee as to the promised land they come,
Those whom sweet Fortune hath not smiled upon,
And here with thee, they hope to make a home,
Where brighter days may soon upon them dawn.
From many a land they have held thy star,
The star of hope to them it did appear,
And led by it, lo! they have journeyed far,
To fashion neath thy sway, a new career.
Blest be the day that saw thy happy birth,
That saw thee from the wilderness arise,
Great be thy future, blessing all the Earth
With all that makes her more a Paradise.

BASEBALL IN HEAVEN

Mattapoisset, Mass., Aug 19—Baseball fans are jubilant today over the possibility that when they reach the golden shore, home runs and base hits may be among the attractions there. At least that is the idea of the Rev. Julian C. Tuthill, of the Congregational church here, who in a sermon declared that there was no reason apparently why the great national game of America should not be found in some form or another in the world to come. He said in part. Heaven is but an evolution of this world. A christian may love a ball game, and loving it remain a christian. Why then is it not safe to prophesy that even the game of baseball will have its place in some spiritual form in heaven?

A tourist concluding a visit to Ireland, was bidding farewell to an attendant.

"Good-bye yer 'onour, and may ecery hair in your head be a candle to light you to glory on the last day."

"Well, Pat," said the tourist showing a bald pate, "when that day comes there won't be much of a torch light procession."

When the young husband arrived home from the office he found his wife in tears. "Oh, James," she sobbed, "I had baked a lovely cake, and put it on the backporch for frosting to dry, and the dog ate it."

BE A BOOSTER

If things don't seem to suit you
An' the world seems kinder wrong
What's the matter with a-boostin'
Just to help things along?
'Cause if things should stop a-goin'
We'd be in a sorry plight,
And just keep that horn a-blowin'—
Boost 'er up with all your might.
If you see some feller tryin'
For to make some project go,
You can boost it up a trifle,
That's your cue to let him know
That you're not a-goin' to knock it
Just because it ain't your shout.
But you're goin' to boost a little
'Cause they ain't no use on earth
Do you know there's lot o' people
Settin' round in every town,
Growlin' like a broody chicken
Knockin' every good thing down?
Don't you be that kind o' cattle,
'Cuse they ain't no use on earth.
You just be a booster rooster,
Crow and boost for all your worth
If your town needs boostin' boost 'er
Don't hold back and see
If some other feller's willin'
Sail right in. This country's free.
No one's got a mortgage on it.
It's just yours as much as his.

Fruit Report

Winnipeg, Aug 8th, 1910

W. E. Scott, Esq
Deputy Minister of Agriculture.
Victoria, B. C.

Dear Sir—

I have the honor to report as follows;

I saw 25 boxes of peaches from B. C. in jobbing house here, had been packed and shipped in apple boxes without paper, just thrown in, apparently had been ripe when shipped, were rotting, too much fruit in one box. This method of shipping peaches is certainto prove unsatisfactory to growers and shippers in the way of diminished returns and at the same time not acceptable to the trade here. Peaches being a tender fruit should be packed and picked in the regulation peach box. Don't attempt any innovations in the way of shipping unless you are prepared to pay for the experiments, more particularly at this time when you are trying to move a good crop for profitable returns. I also saw 15 cases of Olivette cherries here from the Progress Packing Co., Victoria, arrived in good condition, baskets well filled and packed. I further saw about 65 cases of peaches from Vernon in jobbing house here, had been shipped in regulation box were sound and fairly well packed, but showed large chemois colored patches on the fruit, it gave them a bad appearance incomparison with perfect fruit, and would certainly detract from the market price. I supposed it was attribuatable to mildew and this along with other details of orchard work must be done with care and judgment to avoid injury and bad results. The few peaches arriving at present from B. C. are coming in by express no car lots as yet.

Jobbers at this and other points complain of tha unsatisfactory methods pursued by some shippers of B. C. quoting prices and agreeing to ship, then after jobbers have ordered they fail to do so. This annoys and disappoints them and they resolve not tohandle B. C. fruit it it can be obtained elesewhere. This method of doing business is most unsatisfactory and will work more injury to the shippers than the purchasers if this method of doing business is continued in.

Yours truly,
(Sgd) J. C. METCALFE.

ABBOTSFORD DISTRICT MARKET

TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC

Special arrangements have been made by me to supply the public of Vancouver from the 1st day of September with hampers of

Farm Produce

Consisting of Chickens, Ducks, Geese, Fresh Fruit, Vegetables, Butter, Eggs.

What Could Be Better for the District?

Why not, therefore, patronize the man who studies the farmers' interest and is always working for them to obtain the highest price for their

PRODUCTS

I have established a market at your own doors where yon can bring your stock and obtain the highest prices under competition,

WHY, THEREFORE

Sell to the individual who comes to your door and buys at his own prices.

BE WISE FARMERS

Bring your stock and chickens to the market, tell the man who visits your door that he can enter into competition with others there. As you will sure obtain their market value, the dealers value is the most he can make out of it for himself. You do the work and he takes the profits.

I established your Abbotsford Market. I asked you to bring stock, chickens, etc. I advertised for you but my requests were always met with the reply

BUY THEM YOURSELF

Now take this to heart and digest it well, because I know the farmers will not like to hear it, but never the less its true.

A Record of My Purchases and Resales at the Yards

And don't forget it was not more than 24 hours after I made the purchase either: Bought 13 steers for $300, sold them for $418, profit $118; bought 5 pigs for $12 each, sold them for 98, profit $38, bought 2 sows and a boar for $90, sold them for 120, profit 30; bought line of 22 head of cattle for 25 each, sold them at prices averaging 38, profit 286; bought 1 team of horses for 450, sold them for 735, profit 285, and sundry other things, Now look at my commission it would have been $110.35 and look at my profit $733. Now the wise farmers who thought they were gettiug good prices from the fool of an auctioneer just lost $646.45 by their want of knowledge of

RULING MARKET RATES

But still they say the farmer will never get out of his lax and slovenly ways, But he will find he will have to, if he desires to keep pace with the modern ways of the world.

Be Advised from Headquarters

Sell at the places where there must be competition. Be satisfied when you are getting a good price. And if you are not satisfied to sell at the Market Yards now, then I am still prepared to trade, deal or buy from you, and will probably give you better value than you can get from any one else, but mind this I am not out for the good of my health, but only for one purpose, and that is

TO MAKE MONEY

THE ABBOTSFORD MARKET YARDS will be re-opened on THURSDAY, SEPT. 13, 1910, when Cattle, Horses, Sheep, Hogs, Chickens, etc. will be offered, also a quantity of New Furniture, but the Market will be conducted on an entirely different principle in future, viz.:

It Will be a Sale Without Reserve

Because people have been in the habit of putting prices on their stock far and above the market value. Things will always bring their market value if advertised properly and to do this, entries for each sale will close at least 4 days before date of Auction. Then again I have decided to make my markets the same as a Fair and I have consequently decided
