SUMAS CELEBRATING ALL THIS WEEK

Sumas, this week, is one blaze of lights and colors, and is prepared to entertain one of the largest crowds in her history on the Third and on the Fourth when her week's celebration ends with a special two day program. The carnival shows which have been open all week have attracted hundreds of visitors and are among the best ever seen in the northwest. The big ferris wheel, merry go round, as well as the shows furnish amusement for children.

The racing card this year is the strongest Sumas has ever offered. Good purses are offered and some new track records will be set, according to present indications. Between races boxing exhibitions will be given, addresses will be made and aeroplane flights held over the fair grounds. Relay foot races, dashes, etc., are expected to entertain many and will be held on the main streets of the city. On the fourth motorcycle races will be run from Sumas to Bellingham and return.

Good music has been arranged for during day and evening, while a special orchestra from Seattle will furnish dance music at the big pavilion. The celebration committee promise that there will be something doing all the time of the two days and has arranged special trains and excursions on all roads.

In attending the celebration at Sumas, visitors should not forget the baby show at the big dance pavilion on July 4th. Prizes will be awarded just after noon.

Chas. Sumner of Aldergrove was a visitor in town Thursday.

FRUIT UNION HAS NOW BEEN ESTABLISHED

The outcome of the numerous recent meetings of the fruit growers from Hatzic and Mission District is that an association has been formed with the object of better handling the fruit of this district and in fact as many districts as can be induced to link their name with the new organization.

At the last meeting, held Monday evening, a name was chosen for the association, that of "Fraser Vally Fruit Union." This name is not entirely new as several years ago an organization bearing the same name was launched but has since ceased to exist. However, the name still stands and as it appears appropriate, it will be adopted. With such a name as the one decided upon there is every possibility that it will meet with the approval of growers outside our own district. This was the primary aim of the promoters of the scheme.

Provisional officers have been elected in the persons of E. Osborne and J. A. Catherwood. The first named gentleman will be the first secretary treasurer while the latter will act in the capacity of manager of the board.

Berries will now be shipped in car lots, the first car having been ordered for Friday and another one for the following Monday.

The Presbyterian Sunday School held their annual picnic at Gifford on Dominion Day, when an enjoyable time was spent by the children with the parents and the teachers, at the municipal hall and by the banks of the Fraser river.

ABBOTSFORD BALL TEAM LOSE AT MISSION CITY

The Abbotsford baseball team played a game at Mission City on the holiday with a team from that place the Abbotsford boys being defeated by a score of 12-4.

The game in itself was a good clean one and the score does not indicate the class of ball dished up and apart from one inning when Mission scored six runs the contest was close.

The following report is from the pen of a Mission City fan:

The first game was to have been pulled off at 10:30 a. m., but as the visitors did not put in an appearance until the noon hour, this game was cancelled and thereby disappointed a crowd of fans who were desirous of seeing the morning game.

The afternoon contest was started on the advertised hour and resulted in an easy victory for the local boys by a 12-4 score. The game in itself was a good exhibition of amateur ball and provided many thrills for the spectators. Mission City's two batteries, who divided the game between them, had everything required to win, while the visiting battery did not have as good a day.

Percy Cox started on the mound and had lots on the ball all through his five innings and had the visiting heavy hitters eating out of his hand. In the sixth Boserine took his turn in the box and did equally as well. This inning was a profitable one for the home boys as they fell on the ball for a total of six runs. The pitcher at this stage had nothing on but his glove and the boys fattened their averages on him.

Abbotsford came to bat first but were quickly let down without a hit or run. Mission did no better in their half and the inning ended with a blank score board. In the second Abbotsford were again shut out, but Rodgers for Mission started things when, with Wells on base he slammed the pill far out into the field scoring Wells and himself.

In the third Abbotsford got their first score when by bunching a couple of hits and one or two errors they got two runners around. Mission, in their half also scored two runs on good clean hits. Both teams scored in the fourth, getting one each and Abbotsford got another one in the next frame. The sixth inning was the turn of the game when nearly every local batter on the team got around the paths. Six runs were registered in this inning while the visitors were let down with a duck the seventh got a hit but the bases were empty and nothing resulted. On the other hand the local boys hit the ball hard but not at opportune moments, but got another runner around.

The eighth and ninth inning was featured by several hits by both teams but came at times when there was no one on the paths. The game ended with the above mentioned score.

No particular player on the local team could well be singled out as excelling his team mates, they all played a good steady game and all did well at the bat. The Abbotsford team, on the other hand, made several glaring errors and these were quickly taken advantage of by the local boys.

The line-up:

Mission City: McRae, cf., Johnston 3b., Baserine, c., Wells lf., Grant ss., Rodgers 2b., Creamer rf., March 1b., Cox, p.

Abbotsford: S. McPhee cf., W. Laird 2b., T. DeLair c., Morrisey ss., T. McPhee 1b., Rucker rf., Ward 3b., Ryall lf., Wampter p.

Umpire, Howard Howells.

CLAYBURN NEWS ITEMS

The closing exercises at the Clayburn school were held on Friday afternoon last with a large number of the parents and friends of the children present. It was both interesting and instructive to see the pupils go through their drills and to listen to and see the classes each do their little part. There was a splendid program given by the pupils of the school, among which the following were of note:

Master DeLair, Latin song.
Bessie Varlson, Norwegian song.
Annie Brown, recitation
Misses Seldon and Case, Duet.
Elsie Edmonson, Recitation.
Annie Brown, recitation.
Tom Kerr, recitation.
Miss Healy, Song.
W. Livrseage, Piano Selection.

All in all, it was an enjoyable afternoon, and the teachers, Misses Law and Thompson, deserve great credit for the manner in which the children conducted themselves. Cake and ice cream was served before the closing hour and was very much apreciated by those present.

On Friday night last the baseball boys gave a concert. There was a good turn out and the following excellent programme was rendered:

Miss Ayling, Piano Selection.
Mr. Utley and partner, Coon Song.
Miss Duncan, Song.
Miss Law, Recitation.
Mrs. F. Ford, Song.
Messrs. Brown and Ford, Mandolin Selection.
Miss Sharp and Mrs. Cooper, Violin and Piano Duet.
Annie Brown, Recitation.

Aside from this part of the programme there was a number of the school children present who rendered a part of the programme given earlier in the day. Each item on the programme received hearty applause.

Good for the baseball boys!

Despite the wet weather on Saturday morning there were about sixty men on hand to do a day's free work on Front Road. The brick works shut down for the occasion and teams and helpers from Matsqui and surrounding district son arrived Mr. Pace, Gifford, superintended the work. Everyone worked with a vim and kept the nine teams busy, even the youngsters joined in and gave a helping hand. In all there were about two hundred loads of gravel spread, this being supplied by Mr. Purver. About six hundred or so yards of road were graded and graveled.

While the men were thus busily engaged, the women were also doing their noble share preparing dinner and supper for the workers on the road. Their efforts were greatly appreciated as the tables were made very attractive in several ways. It was a feast of beauty to look upon the flowers that decked the tables, and it could be rightfully said that it was a feast of love that was laid before those hungry men. It had all been prepared with such care and forethought. It did the ladies' hearts good to see how the good things were enjoyed, and it surely did everyone's heart good to see the great difference made in the road after the day's work had been done.

The men had a clean-up, a breathing space and smoke. The women washed up the dishes, etc., and attired themselves afresh. Then all the lovers of dancing met in the school room and had one of the most enjoyable dances held for some time. The company was good, and so was the music and floor, not forgetting the cake and ice cream. During the luncheon hour Mrs. F. Ford entertained with vocal music.

The whole day was a grand success, from the early morning until the last dance, and the thanks of the community goes out to all those diligent workers who helped to bring it to such a desirable conclusion.

AN INTERESTING BOOKLET

There are very few human landmarks left connecting the British Columbia of today with the British Columbia of the time of the establishment of the famous Hudson's Bay Company in the province, of Sir James Douglas, the first Governor of B. C., of the great discoveries in the interior which finally led to the opening up of this province and its present development. Fortunately, we still have with us one of the most notable of all the great pathfinders of this province, Mr. Walter Moberly, whose name is perpetuated by a South Vancouver school, a depot on the C. P. R., a lake, and in several other ways. In "Blazing the Trail Through the Rockies," an artistically got up and profuseely illustrated publication just issued from the press of the "News-Advertiser," Mr. Noel Robinson, a frequent visitor to and one-time resident near Abbotsford, has recorded in a vivid and picturesque manner—and as often as possible in the words of this fine old man himself—the story of adventure and exploration which marked the explorations and discoveries preceding the building of the great railway through this province and also the story, full of romance, of the actual building and of the building of the historic Cariboo Road. This story is told here for the first time in full.

Incidents, serious and humorous, connected with the early navigation of the Fraser River and with the Fraser Valley of the very early days, and of its people and of the founding of Vancouver and New Westminster, figure in this small book. Incidently a chapter has been devoted by the author to a glimpse into Indian life and legend through the medium of a well known resident of Abbotsford, Mr. Chas. Hill-Tout, whose intimate first hand knowledge of the Indians of British Columbia has resulted in a volume in the Native Races of the British Empire series, and whose photograph is among the many photographs of people and of places, chiefly old time, which illustrates these attractive ages.

Every British Columbian should possess a copy.

ABBOTSFORD NOW HAS A HARNESS SHOP

Mr. F. A. Clarke, recently from Vancouver has opened an up to date harness and repair shop in town. This information should be welcome news to the farmers and all others in need of harness or harness repairs.

Mr. Clark is a young industrious man and with the means at hand will no doubt receive the patronage of Abbotsford and surrounding district.

The Misses Steede were the hostesses at a musical afternoon given at their home Thursday. Miss Jackson and Mr. E. E. Rix assisted the pupils present in making the afternoon thoroughly enjoyable.

The closing exercises of the public school were held on Friday, June 26th and were attended by a goodly number of the parents and friends of the pupils. The program of music readings, recitations, etc., was greatly enjoyed by all and reflected credit on the teachers and pupils.

S. A. Morley has returned from his holiday trip.

FRIDAY, JULY 3rd, 1914

The recent attempt at robbery in Mission City again brings up the subject of permitting citizens to be possessed of fire arms.

Had there been several good rifles available at the time of the attempt there is a probability that one or more of the fleeing bandits could have been brought to the ground. However, the provincial authorities in their wisdom have seen fit to prohibit the possession of fire arms without permits being taken out for them the result of which is that very few rifles are now in possession of those in a position to use them to advantage and the man who does own one does not let it be generally known lest he be required to enrich the provincial excheques for his privilege.

The argument has often been put forward that a law abiding citizen has no occassion to carry arms. This may sound plausible to some but in a new country such as this is where the criminal element find little difficulty in evading a few isolated officers of the law it would seem that self protection and the protection of property should be one of the first considerations. The criminal is always armed. Then what opportunity for defence has the average citizen?

Not many months ago the bank at Abbotsford was robbed in broad daylight and it has been a mystery to some of the lay minds why these outlaws were permitted to escape. When it is known that there was not an available rifle in the whole town and that fire arms had to be procured from the American side, several miles distant, the matter is readily explained. Later still at Hazelton a number of robbers made an attempt on the bank there and would have been successful were it not for the fact that citizens there were prepared for just such an emergency with the result that five out of seven of the bandits then and there were made to bite the dust.

It is true that the privilege of possessing fire arms has been greatly abused in past years but this is a case of where the medicine is worse than the disease.

NEW WESTMINSTER MARKET

Several new supplies made their first appearance at the New Westminster market Friday morning. Raspberries grown at Clayton met a ready demand at 3 boxes for 25 cents Sockeye salmon, for the first time this season, sold rapidly at 2 pounds for 25 cents. Cottage cheese was another good seller at 10 cents the pound.

Owing to the rainy weather the attendance from the city was not up to the usual standard. The valley residents were present in large numbers. The number of sellers is getting larger with every market. The city residents that were present seemed to be eager to buy.

The beef prices which took such a sudden raise the previous Friday remained at those quotations, averaging 22 to 25 cents the pound for best beef roasts, 28 to 30 cents the pound for sirloin of beef and 12½ to 15 cents the pound for boiling beef and 18 cents per pound for pot roasts. Veal and pork were also good sellers at the usual prices, viz., 20 to 25 cents the pound for pork and 22 to 28 cents the pound for veal.

Strawberries were in large quantities, but the sale was not very good. The price was held at $1.50 to $2.00 the crate or 10 and 15c the box. Gooseberries and currants met a ready demand at 10 cents the pound for gooseberries and 25 cents for three boxes of currants.

American cherries of a good quality sold rapidly at $1.50 the box or from 6 to 8 cents the pound. Local cherries were in large quantities but they did not sell as rapidly as the American fruit. The price for the local cherries was held at 8 to 10 cents the pound.

New potatoes were in abundance and could be had for 4 to 6 cents the pound. By the sack they were $2.50 to $4.00. Old potatoes remained at the stationary price of $25 to $30 the ton. Most of the new potatoes were grown at Clayton and in the Delta, while a small shipment came from Lulu Island. Tomatoes sold at 2 pounds for 35 cents; by the single pound they were 20 cents.

Cabbages, radishes, carrots, beets and turnips also sold briskly at the usual prices. Lettuce by the head was four for ten cents. The others sold for five cents the bunch. Cabbages sold at from 5 to 10 cents the head. Peas which last week sold at 10 cents the pound could be had Friday at 5 cents.

In the fish department sockeye salmon for the first time this season was a good seller at two pounds for 25 cents. Smelt and fresh herring also predominated at the stationary price of 10 cents the pound for smelt and three pounds for 25 cents for herring. Crabs made a reappearance and went for three for 25 cents.

Around the chicken stalls ducks could be had for the price of 13 to 25 cents the pound. Broiling chickens were a trifle lower and sold at 18 to 25 cents the pound instead of 25 to 30 cents as the previous week. Small ducks and chickens ranged at from 10 to 20 cents each. Old fowl sold at previous quotations. Squabs sold at 50 cents the pair.

Eggs and butter remained at the stationary price of 35 cents the dozen for eggs retail and 35 cents the dozen wholesale, while butter was 30 to 40 cents the pound retail and 25 to 35 cents the pound wholesale. Cottage cheese was a new feature and sold at 10 cents the pound. Devonshire cream was 45 cents the quart. Full cream cheese was 50 cents per pound. Duck eggs for hatching purposes were 75 cents to $1 the setting.

In the flower department celery plants were considered the best seller and went at ten cents the dozen. Cabbage plants were 5 cents the dozen. Orange lilies were 25 cents for one half dozen. Flowering plants also met with a ready demand. Cut roses were 25 cents the dozen while pinks were two dozen for 15 cents and carnations sold at 25 cents for two dozen.

Rabbits by the pair ranged from 50 cents to $1.50.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT RUSKIN

Word came to town Wednesday from Ruskin that an employee of the Stoltz Shingle Co., at that point, had met with a fatal accident there. No particulars are available except that the unfortunate man who was engaged at a cut-off saw was missed from his station and fifteen minutes later was found in the water dead. No one appears to have witnessed the accident. Coroner Stuart was immediatly telegraphed for and will in all probability conduct an inquest today.

The warm weather of the last week brought the water of the upper tributaries of the Fraser river down in quite o flood, and a temporory rise in the Fraser was very noticeable. The water on the gauges on the landing showed it to be within a couple of feet of the high water mark for last year and for the first time this year water came over the road across Sumas Prairie. This is expected to abate shortly.

MT. LEHMAN ITEMS

There was a very interesting time at the school closing exercises at Mt. Lehman. The pupils sang and recited much to the enjoyment of the parents of many who were present.

Rev. Mr. Reid presided and presented the rolls of honor to Miss Catheline Sears, May Gillis, Lucy Owen, Mabel Matheson, Christine McLean and Albert Cox.

At Dunach school, Mr. Auburn, the teacher, was presented with a beautiful clock by his pupils.

Patriotic services were held in the Presbyterian church on Sunday, June 28th. The churlh was decorated with flowers and flags. Suitable sermons were preached by the Rev. Mr. Reid both morning and evening to good congregations.

Miss Annie Reid, who is attending high school in Vancouver, is home for the holidays.

Mrs. Wright, of North Vancouver, is visiting Mrs. C. H. Bell.

WOULD-BE ROBBERS STILL ENJOY THEIR LIBERTY

The bandits who attempted to loot the Bank of Nova Scotia here Monday last have completely disappeared. The provincial police have taken the matter up for investigation and now are in possession of several excellent clues as to their identity.

Constable Clarkson has is in receipt of a photograph from headquarters' gallery that was recognized as being an excellent likeness of a stranger who had been in town for several days before the occurence. This photo and the set of finger prints may be productive of results before very long as the provincial police throughout the district will all be provided with a copy of it and advised to be on the lookout for its original.

SUCCESSFUL MARKET HELD AT MISSION CITY

Although the morning was very wet it was gratifying to the promoters of the local public market, the Board of Trade, to see their latest idea meeting with such marked success.

The market opened at 9:30 with a grand assortment of fruits, vegetables, dressed poultry, honey, cut flowers, bedding plants of various kinds, and native ferns in pots and baskets.

The vendors present far outnumbered those present last week, consequently there was a greater variety of produce for the thrifty buyer to choose from. There is no reason now why the householder who does not posses a vegetable or flower garden should be without these products. Fresh vegetables were obtainable at a price within reach of the poorest. Cut flowers to decorate the table of the epicurist were to be had in any amount. What is it that makes life more worth living than to have good things to eat and nature's best in flowers to look upon, and best of all, the feeling of satisfaction in knowing that the things you buy are grown by white people and your own neighbors?

Many growers during the morning were heard to utter remarks of satisfaction and appreciation at the way the ladies of the town are patronizing the market, and the assurance was given at several sources that vendors would endeavor to cater to the buyers in a way that would be satisfactory to all. One or more of the farmers were equipped with horse and rig and delivered the produce to the buyers' door.

The marketers came with full loads. Some on foot, some on wheel and last, but not the least, the aristocratic motor car, all bearing the best their owners could produce. The produce was all readily disposed of and allappeared to have secured the article most desired. None were seen going away disappointed. It might be mentioned here that there is a demand for local butter. Producers of this commodity would do well to prepare their butter with printed wrappers as a lucerative demand for good butter could very easily be built up, then there is the assurance that cash can be had for all brought to the market.

The display of flowers among the greenery of the vegetables made a splendid appearance. Cut flowers are somewhat of a novelty on the market stalls of a rural district but there is a good demand for them and they were cleaned up in short order.

Electricity on the Farm

There are many lines of work about the farm which may be don by the electric current to great advantage. The first cost of installing a small motor is insignificant compared with the time and labor which will be saved by its work at a small cost for current Pumping water, grinding feed, sawing wood, operating cream separators, churns, etc., are classes of farm work for which electricity is now generally used.

The provision of electric current also makes it possible for you to have the convenience of modern lighting as well as the facilities for using electric labor saving apliances such as Irons, Washing Machines, etc., in the house.

See our Light and Power representative at Abbotsford if you are interested in saving of time and labor made possible by using the electric current.
