THE MARKET.

New Westminster, July 7th.

Visitors to the market this morning were agreeably surprised to find business being conducted there as if there had been no fire, though the usual lunch facilities were absent. Market Clerk MacKenzie had his office at the opposite end of the structure from where it was when the fire destroyed his office furniture and he was on the job all the time and nobody had occasion to find fault through any delay in transacting business with the market clerk.

The attendance at the market was small in the early morning hours, but it was steady and all of those who came seemed to have a desire to purchase immediately and then go elsewhere. As a result, there was a small but steady string of buyers at the stands most of the time. By ten o'clock, however, the attendance was up to the average and the stands were doing a rushing business.

The poultry offerings were larger than usual, and attracted quite a crowd of buyers. There also were a number of young pigs on the market.

The auction ring, as usual, was the centre of activity after ten o'clock and the offerings were numerous and varied. The first animal put up for sale was a chestnut hackney gelding, broken to ride or to drive single or double. The man who rode the horse into the ring used a whip on him to make him show his paces and another attendant also used a whip on the animal for the same purpose, but these tactics were quickly stopped by Officer Pentland, who was not a bit slow in informing the horsemen that abuse of animals was not tolerated by the police officers of this city. The bidding on the hackney started at $100 and ended with the sale of the horse at $170.

One of the features of the market was the drop in the price of new potatoes. Last week the tubers brought $5 per sack, but today they dropped a dollar in price. There was no change in the price of old potatoes.

Strawberries stiffened in price and sold at $2.50 per crate, twenty-five cents per crate more than they brought a week ago. Gooseberries dropped in price from 15 cents to 8 to 10 cents per pound.

The wholesale meat offerings were small, but the retail stands did a rushing business, with no change in prices recorded, and the only change in the wholesale price of meat was in pork, which sold at 11 to 12 cents, as against 12½ cents last week.

There were some shrubs on the market, but the sale was far from brisk, though the flower stands did a fair business, and had one new flower on the market, the tuberous rooted begonia being offered for sale for the first time this season. They sold readily at 35 cents per plant.

Poultry.

An exceptionally large offering and low prices were the two outstanding features of the poultry market today. The poultry section of the market building was full to overflowing, and the bulk of the offerings was snapped up by the merchants.

The bulk of the poultry offered was of the broiler class, the ranches evidently taking the opportunity of weeding the young roosters out of their flocks. At the outset of the market it looked as though the offerings would be smaller than usual, but the arrival of the Chilliwack tram and the Transfer put a different complexion on matters and resulted in fairly flooding the market.

Eggs went up a little in price, bringing from 30 cents to 32 cents at

For the first time for some weeks a few crates of geese were offered. There seemed to be very little demand for that class of bird and the offering changed hands at 90 cents apiece.

The following were the quotations;

WHOLESALE MEAT—

Beef, carcass	11c
Beef, hindquarters	12c to 14c
Beef, forequarters	9c to 11c

Agassiz Excursion

Seventy people took advantage of the cheap excursion to Agassiz on the 12th from Abbotsford. A large number went from Sumas and Huntingdon also a large number from Mt. Lehmand and Matsqui. It was a jolly bunch.

The Orange Association of the Fraser Valley, says the Daily Columbian, can mark down the Twelfth of July celebration at Agassiz as one of the most successful in the long list of local successful anniversaries of the Battle of the Boyne. All things combined to favor the excursion from New Westminster and the proceedings at the Upper Valley town. First class train accommodation, warm sunny weather, complete arrangements on the part of the entertaining lodge, a pleasant spot for an outing and stirring speeches in defence of the principles of liberty and equal rights. The day was an occasion for congratulation and nothing transpired to mar the pleasure of the demonstration and the care-free picnic of the Orangemen, their families and friends to the number of nearly one thousand.

The main features of the celebration for members of the order were the grand parade in which twelve lodges of Westminster county and district No. 1, four lodges of the lady True Blues, and many visiting members took part, and speeches at the agricultural grounds.

The theme of the addresses was the grand principles of the Order its purposes and aims for the strengthening of individual liberty and the guaranteeing of equal rights to all, civil, religious and political.

The excursion train carried three or four hundred from New Westminster and hundreds joined the train at Mission City and intermediate points, the nine coaches of the train being crowded, when Agassiz was reached. The Atlantic express also brought numbers from Port Moody and Vancouver.

Forming at the Orange Hall, the procession marched over three hundred strong, to the agricultural grounds. The ladies of the True Blue lodges were given the post of honor and following the Grandview band as proudly marched as those of the sterner sex, with the new banner of New Era lodge of True Blues, waving in the breeze. The order of the procession was as follows; Grandview Band, Lady True Blues (four lodges) representing Agassiz, New Westminster, Abbotsford, and Mission City. Then followed the lodges of Westminster County No 65 comprising New Westminster 1130; Ladner No. 1612; Langley No. 1638; Hazelmere No. 1735; New Westminster No. 1593; Port Moody 1653; Hammond No. 1866. No. 1 district comprising Chilliwack lodge No. 1470; Mission City No. 1629; Abbotsford No. 1867; Mt. Lehman No. 1868; Agassiz No. 1940 Black Preceptory including members of Royal City No. 459, G. R. Matthias, Wor. Preceptor, of Mission City Preceptory, F. E. Pakenham, Wor. Preceptor.

The parade was marshalled by J. J. Hood of New Westminster County assisted by O. T. Hubbard of Agassiz. The chief members of the lodge occupying places of honor in the march were Junion Deputy Grand Master Edwin Busho f Mission City; Wm. Pope, county master of Westminster County, R. L. Ashton, district master F. E. Pakenham, grand auditor.

Space forbids our giving a report of the speeches. It might be mentioned however that several members of the Abbotsford lodge took a prominent part.

School Board Meets

The annual meeting of the Abbotsford school district was held on Saturday July 8th in the school house with a fair attendance.

Mr. J. W. McCallum was elected chairman and Mr. H. Alanson as secretary.

Mr. R. H. Eby wsa appointed as auditor.

Moved by Mr. J. W. McCallum and seconded by Dr. Swift that Mr H. McArthur, the principal be granted a salary of $1000.00 for the coming year. Carried.

Moved by Dr. Swift and seconded by Mr. H. Gazley that Miss Archibald's salary remain as it is, namely $67 per year. Carried.

Moved by Mr. Gazley and seconded that the auditors report be accepted. Carried.

Moved by Mr. Gazley and seconded by Dr. Swift that the sum of $600 be raised by taxes from the district for the carrying on of the school for the year 1912 and Matsuqi and Sumas be billed with their share of the expenses for the remaining balance required for the ensuing year. Carried.

The meeting then adjoYurned

THE CONSERVATIVE MEETING

Mr. J. D. Taylor, M. P. of New Westminster riding, spoke to a fair audience in the Imperial Hall on Monday evening last. Mr. J. B. Cade was chairman. Mr. W. J. Manson, M. L. A. for Dewdney was also on the platform and spoke.

Mr. Taylor dealt with the New Homestead Act and the way it would affect the homesteader who had not succeeded his patent, especially in his riding. He gave advice to all who had not yet secured their patents to communicate with the Department at Ottawa or with the office at New Westminster at a very early date.

In regard to Reciprocity he said that Laurier's 'a little too late" to the delegation from Niagara who waited on the government last winter had stirred up considerable feeling against the idea that the representatives of the government had placed the people of Canada.

After the usual votes of thanks and the singing of the national anthem the meeting closed.

BE A BOOSTER.

If you see some feller tryin'
For to make some project go,
You can boost it up a trifle,
That's your cue to let him know
That you're not a goin' to knock it,
Just because it ain'ty our "shout"
But you're goin' to boost a little
'Cause he's got the "best thing out"

THE USES OF SALT

Salt and water will sometimes revive a person when unconscious from a hurt. For poisoning with alcohol, an emetic of warm water and salt should be frequently given. A tea spoonful of salt in a glass of water is a sure cure, in many cases, for stomach trouble, relieving colic, and helping digestion.

A bag filled with salt and heated is a great comfort to any one suffering from neuralgia. There is nothing more restful to tired eyes than a bath of warm salt and water. If the head is washed occassionally with salt and water, it will lessen the falling out of the hair. Salt added to the bath will be found almost as invigorating as a dip in the sea.

If the carpet is sprinkled with salt before sweeping, it will be found that little dust will arise, and the carpet be wonderfully brightened. Salt thrown on burning soot will soon extinguish the flames. If it be sprinkled on the stove when the kettle has boiled over, it will prevent all disagreeable odors. If sprinkled on the coals when meat is to be broiled it will make the fire clear and also bright.

To remove egg stains from the spoons, rub with moist salt. If straw matting be washed with salt and water it will look like new. These are some of the very numerous ways in which salt is an aid to us. It is so common that it is within the power of everyone to keep it for emergencies, as well as for cooking.

THE K. J. Co's FIRST SHIPMENT

In less than five weeks after the arrival of the Kootenay Jam Company in Mission City, the first car of jam was shipped to Vancouver on Tuesday the eleventh July It was a straight carload of the canned fruits for which this company have already made a name for themselves. It was principally rhubarb and contained about 600 cases.

Other shipments will shortly be made.

The secretary of the school board informs us that the department will not grant the cleaning of the old room the painting of the old building and the new basement under the old building.

This does not appeal to the Post at all and if the people of Abbotsford school district will think the matter over, we believe, they will think the same as this paper does in regard to the matter.

Thoroughness in school work is the one thing required of the pupils of the public school. We and their teachers expect this of them. Surroundings count for much, so the psychologist tells us and although Abbotsford has a fine school but at the same time it would be well to have the work completed right up to date.

———o———

A cheering word often comes to our town to help us keep on building. On Thursday there was a visitor to the town who has travelled over many parts of the world. His remarks to the editor was that a man would "have to travel some to come across a town that would appeal more to the investor than the town of Abbotsford." That sounds nice. Don't it?

———o———

It will be gratifying to the citizens to see that the pupils of the public scool have been so successful at the recent entrance examinations. The principal of the public school is to be congratulated and so are the people of Abbotsford.

———o———

The question is this; What effect will reciprocity have on the bill presenting instincts of the mosquito?
