CORRESPONDENCE

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the opinions of correspondents as expressed over their signatures.

Mr. Editor,
Dear Sir,

I congratulate "J. L. C." on the more amenable spirit in which he continues his correspondence, but I can scarcely bring myself to admire his ideas of consistency. In his first letter he quoted Reno fight for my confusion as an answer to my plea for clean sport. In his second letter he hurled Reno at my head as an instance of "a clean bill of fare—a fair fight" and in the same breath denounced it as a "reproach and a disgrace and an abomination." How can he logically reconcile such strangely divergent and contradictory views? He evidently wishes Reno to serve as all things to all men. It is a pity, too, that he has entirely mistaken cause and effect in his remarks about the fight pictures being forbidden in many ofthe States. Surely he must know that it is on racial and not immoral grounds that the pictures are forbidden. His confusion with cause and effect remind me of the man who, being found guilty of the murder of his father and mother, pleaded for mercy on the ground that he was an orphan! Religious processions in many parts of the British Empire are forbidden, not because they are immoral, but because they stir up sectarian strife. The Johnston-Jeffries fight pictures are forbidden, not because they are immoral but because they might accentuate social bitterness. Probably "J. L. C." has mistaken the cause because the calm, clear voice of common-sense statesmanship which dictated the action has now been drowned in the howls of the "unco' guid and the rigidly righteous." But it profiteth nothing to carry on an interminal discussion about the right and wrongs of boxing. "J. L. C." is opposed to it, tooth and nail; I am equally as strenuously in favor of it. It is merely a matter of honest diversity of opinion. I, however wish to say that had the recent fight at Reno been fought by white men we would have heard little or nothing of the present frenzied outcry of puritanical zealots. These people have little knowledge of athletic recreations and are little in sympathy with the large mass of their fellow creatures whom they are anxious to convert to the same sour, narrow, cheerless view of life that contents themselves. If J. L. C. is anxious to know what "a clean bill of fare" is, he should endeavor to get to understand the constitution and temperament of the average athlete or sportsman. Or he may make a study of the Queensbury rules; I have no doubt the organizers of the recent Abbotsford fight will only be too happy to oblige him with a copy!

I am not a particularly great admirer of professional pugilism believing that the influence upon the amateur of the man who is "out for the pieces" can be nothing but pernicious. But it will be an ill day for Great Britain when Grundyism becomes rampant and the fighting instinct has been legislated out of existence. It is the stormy man armed that keepeth his house in order and all recreations which conduce to physical fitness are to be commended. For it is the eternal principle by which the universe is governed—that there shall always be through all generations a struggle for existence among men and for predominance amongst nations, and that the fittest shall survive.

If "J. L. C." fancies himself aggrieved by the personal element that has been introduced into the controversy, he has only himself to blame. It was his altogether uncalled for and somewhat superfluous letter which compelled me to express myself vigorously.

Hoping there will be no occasion to enter into a scientific treatise on the elementary principles and requirements of boxing. I remain,

Mr. Editor,

Yours faithfully,
H. H. S.

(Unless good cause can be shown by J. L. C., why the above should be replied to, this will close the controversy in which many have been interested.—Editor)

MOST HAPPILY WEDDED

On Saturday July 23 the Upland Fruit Ranch, Abbotsford, B. C., owned by Mr. D. H. Nelson was the scene of a pretty wedding when the Rev. J. L. Campbell, B. D., assisted by Rev. W. M. Reid of Haney, B. C. united in marriage Mr. Walter Thomas Garnier of Vancouver and Miss Jeannie Barr Shearer of Straiton. The bride was attended by her sister Miss Tibby Shearer and Mr. Hamilton Straiton supported the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Garnier after spending a few days at Straiton with the bride's parents will reside in Vancouver, B. C.

INSPECTED THE NEW ROAD

Road superintendent Cruickshanks walked over the new Clayburn road from Clayburn station to Abbotsford on Thursday morning last. The road is now complete, and he reports the road as satisfactory. Close to Abbotsford considerable difficulty was experienced from the fact that the road bedbed sank and had to be filled in with brush and other material to make it solid. The difficulty it is expected has now been overcome.

This road shortens the distance between Abbotsford and Clayburn about a mile and a half.

BUILDING A JAIL HERE

The provincial government are building a provincial jail here for Constable Black to entertain his guests, while staying in the town. The building is a two storey building. The lower part will be used for a court room and will also have two beautiful rooms for the guests The upper storey will be for office accommodation.

Constable Black expects to be "at home" to his guests within a week or ten days.

NO FIRE PERMITS ISSUED NOW

Instructions have been sent out to officials of the government not to issue any more fire permits for the present, and also to take every precaution to prevent fires.

MATSQUI SCHOOL BOARD

A regular meeting of the Matsqui school board was held in the municipal hall on Saturday afternoon, July 9, 1910. Trustees Cruickshanks, chairman; Connoy, McPhee, Merryfield and Ross being in attendance. A number of communications were read and on motion ordered to be filed.

The vacancies of the teaching staff was taken up by the board and the necessary appointments made from the applications received.

Mr. James Gibson addressed the meeting, setting forth the hardship caused by his five children by the closing of the Jubilee school last term, and which practically prevents them from having access to a school.

The board assured Mr. Gibson that while they regretted that his were the only pupils to attend this school something would be done to re-open this one owing to the large amount of taxes paid by the adjoining properties.

Mr. Angus McLean, contractor of the new Aberdeen school, requested an extension of three weeks on his contract and which was agreed to by the board.

The secretary reported having made a trip to Victoria on June 20 re school matters and was quite confident that through an interview with the Hon. Minister of Education, Dr. Young, the needs of the board would be granted.

The secretary was instructed on motion of the board to arrange with Mr. John Israel for a conveyance of the disputed school site at Mt. Lehman and which is at present registered in Mr. Israel's name.

Accounts were passed as follows

Abbotsford School—N. Authier, supplies, $1.50; grass seed for the school lot $9,36, total $10.86; H. Alanson, supplies, 80c; Abbotsford Lumber company balance on lumber for school fence $30.89.

Glenmore school—Archie Everall, hauling lumber for school fence $4; Maple Grove Lumber Co., lumber for school fence, $36.20.

Matsqui school—Louis Henrickson, unpaid account for work in 1908 on fence, $5; Geo. Cruickshank clearing school rooms, $2; C. R. Crist and sons, school supplies 1.10

It was decided to hold the next regular meeting of the board in the municipal hall on Saturday August 6 at 2 p.m.

The meeting then adjourned.

TUESDAY'S MARKET.

Lindsay Russell, auctioneer of Abbotsford market reports on Tuesday last there were only two horses entered for sale at his yard both of which were sold at satisfactory prices. This being the slack month, no yarding was expected on account of the busy season of hay making but the sale of furniture was highly satisfactory Quite a quantity was disposed of at low prices. Those desiring furniture should attend these sales, as material is being sold at a much lower rate than retail prices.

CENSUS NEXT JUNE

The next census of Agriculture will be taken under date of June 1, 1911.

The area, product and value of field crops harvested in 1910, will be enumerated for fall wheat, spring wheat, barley, oats, rye, corn for husking, buckwheat, beans peas, flax, mixed grain, hay and clover, alfalfa or lucerne, corn for for age crops, turnips mangolds, sugar beets, other field roots, tobacco and hops, and grass seed, red clover seed and alsike seed will be enumerate dfor product and value.

Grain and other field crops for the harvest of 1911 will be taken by areas only, as none of these crops will be ripe at the taking of the census. The products of these crops will be gathered later in the year from the reports of correspondents.

Animals and animal products also under the head of agriculture will include the number of horses three years old and over, horses under three years, milch cows other horned or meat cattle, sheep swine turkeys, ducks, hens and chickens and hives of bees held or owned by each person at the date of the census on June 1, 1911

The number of horses, milch cows other horned or meat cattle, sheep swine and poultry sold in 1910, will be recorded as well as the wool milk, home-made butter, home-made cheese, eggs and honey products of the year, and the quantities of milk and cream sent to factory or sold.

Pure-bred animals registered, or eligible for registration, which are owned at the time of taking the census will be enumerated for horses cattle sheep and swine but their number will also be counted with other animals.

PREMIER LAURIER

Sir Wilfred Laurier has no peer on the political platform in Canada. When he stands on his feet before an audience he is master alike of himself and of those who hear him. Never does he lose control either of his own resouces of power o of the attention of his audience unless it is from sheer physical fatigue. And when he is at his best, when his mind works smoothly and his voice is fresh and his imagination kindles to his theme, then he takes rank with the foremost orators of the age in any land.

The qualities that give distnction to the Prime Minister's platform style are those very qualities which will commend attention and praise during the present tour. The alertness of Sir Wilfred's mind, his frankness of manner, the deftness with which he sends a willowy phrase straight to its mark the unfailing cheeriness of his spirit, and, beneath it all, that certain note of definite conviction which to those who understand gives determined purpose to what he seems to say with airy lightness—these marked characteristics of the Laurier manner on the platform are such that when he faces a western audience one result is inevitable. The conditions meet which make a great occasion. Animosities of race or creed and the antagonisms of party politics will melt and fuse into a common emotion.—Exchange.

A NOTABLE ANNIVERSARY

Thirty-nine years ago on July 21 British Columbia became a province of the Dominion of Canada thus being consummated one of those most important events which was destined to culminate in the creation of an united British confederation extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific on the continent of America. The relations in the year 1871 were for a time not of the happeiest or most harmonious nature. The province charged the Dominion with slackness in fulfilling the terms of the bargain. the Dominion seemed to feel that the province was inclined to be a trifle exacting in its interpretation of the terms of the bond, The chief bone of contention was the construction of the first national transcontinental railway, the conception of which was to convert the union, in the first instance merely an abstraction, into something practical, real and beneficial to the respective parties to the contract. The revenue of Canada in the year 1871, and for some years thereafter was small and increased slowly. The federal authorities of that day felt that the burden of building a railway from the head of navigation on the Great Lakes to the tidal waters of the Pacific would bear heavily upon the taxpayers—more heavily than the benefits to be derived by either the old Dominion in the east or the new sister in the west would justify. There was ne real conception in those days of the wealth lying dormant in the vast prairies separating the "bad lands" of the east from the Rocky Mountains Nor did the value of those possess become established until long after the task which the government of Canada hesitated to do had been completed by a private company, and the Canadian Pacific was opened from Ocean to ocean.

For a number of years after the consummation of the union the people of this province looked upon their neighbors in old Canada with anything but kindly or cordial feelings. But the old grudge has passed away. The union which in the first instance was merely formal is now of the heart. It is as firmly established as any federation on this continent. It is doubtful if there exists any remnant of the old element which resented being called Canadian. All Canadians are proud of the Dominion of Canada, and regard the province of British Columbia as one of the chief of the nine federal divisions. Without it the physical, geographical political and Imperial constitution of Canada would be imperfect incomplete. The incorporation of the province within the scheme of confederation was one of the master strokes of the Fathers of Confederation.—Times.

Fruit Land for Sale

One and one-half miles from Abbotsford on Yale Road.

EASILY CLEARED GOOD LOCATION

Owner must sell within the next month

PRICE $40 PER ACRE

I had placed in my hands 40 acres of the finest Fruit Land in the Fraser Valley, for sale, situated near Abbotsford. For various reasons the owner must sell. Surrounding cultivation is valued at $250 and $300 per acre.

It will cost you about $75 per acre to clear, then you have land that if placed on the market will be valued at the same price as the surrounding land. Is this not a good investment?

NOTE THE PRICE, $40 PER ACRE

I am in the real estate business in Abbotsford and have a fine list of properties placed in my hands. A post card will bring any information desired. Write, wire or call and see me.

But since tha nage and cultivation at y improved the physi on of the province, Ge ods of tilling have bee ed, and in a great ma s the land is not now e rich alluvial sc s of th parts of Ontario.

In 1875 tne sugar beet factory in in Pesen, with a cap ay of 300 metric tons, ere were 128,000 acres which yielded 1,960,000 tos, or 1531 tons per acre. actories were working in year, and each fact capacity of s ucing 1, tons per day of 24 Hour mpaign of 67 days. In establishing a sugar beet factory in Pesen the capital required is placed at a very modest sum, $237,300, and generally the whole is held by the farmers who become its patrons A certain amount is paid down in cash and a further contribution is agreed upon to be paid of the beets to be sent to the factory The re ative small amount put into the capital of factories in Pesen, the thoroughness of beet culture by the farmers the skill with which the works are operated, and the use made of a l bye products make possible the production of refined sugar there at a rate to compete with cane sugar in any part of the world, where the industry is almost necessarily carried on by less effective methods because less skilled labor.

Nothing is permitted to go to waste in the beet sugar industry of Pesen. The pulp is fed to stock the molasses is either used for mixing with pulp for feeding purposes or is used for the manufacture of alcohol, and the lime cake which is so far an absolute waste in Canada is used as a fertilizer and not a pound is permitted to go to waste

The increased production of grain crops and meats, the large development of the dairying industry, the enriching of the soil thro intensive farming are attendant gains of the best sugar industry in this little German province of Pesen within a period of thirty-five years and the lesson it teaches should be an inspiration to the farmers of every province of Canada where climate and soil are suitable for establishing the industry.

HOME GROWN PEACHES

Home grown peaches are now selling in Abbotsford at 35 cents per box. They appear to be of excellent quality.

AMERICANS IN CANADA

The Denver Post deplores the fact that so many Americans are settling in the Dominion, and admonishes the United States farmer to cultivate the thousans of Colorado acres instead of treking to "frozen Canada." The American farmer knows on which side his bread is buttered. He knows what superior inducements are held out on this side of the line. He knows what wheat takes the highest standard in the markets of the world and where the land lies that grows the greatest average number of bushels to the acre. No longer can the cry of "frozen Canada" be crammed down the neck of the intelligent American. Time was; but it is now a thing of the past. To-day he keeps posted. Out of the some 200,000 American farmers who have settled in our great west within less than three years, we read of none except a few sluggards, who have returned; they still keep tumbling over one another to avail themselves of our generous homestead offerings. On the other hand, thousands of former Canadians are leaving the States to take advantage of the exceptional agricultural inducements and the ideal climatic conditions of their birthland.

Americans who are invading the commercial potency of Canada realize that they are entering a modern, progressive, aggressive, growing country, where educational advantages and religious liberty maintain that are second to none in the world.

A large proportion of Americans who are settling in Canada are doing so mainly for the benefit of their sons and daughters, who have every opportunity to "make good" in this young land where young blood is always in demand. Turn back a few years; history shows us that many Americans who came here as boys and girls and acquired homestead privileges have become loyal and patriotic Canadians—knowing only one flag and one country—and who have become forceful factors in our political, commercial, ethical and literary life.

It is only natural that Uncle Sam dislikes to see the better element of his domain—the productive element—emigrate to another country. He does not like to see his own country suffer to the aggrandisement of another. This is quite natural; but to dub Canada a "frozen, barren waste" is silly and foolish in this age of enlightment If Uncle Sam held out similar inducements and could deliver similar goods, is it reasonable to suppose that Americans by the tens of thousands would not be seeking the portals of Canada each year?

British Columbia is receiving a fair proportion of this exodus from the States. Americans are rapidly settling up and developing the Nechaco, Bulkley and other fertile valleys of the province.

You will find few shrewder people than the American farmer. You've got to show him; then he uses his own judgment. Canada shows him.—Ex.

CLOVERDALE NOT IN IT

The Cloverdale people are anxious to get a sugar beet factory in their town, but we understand that Dr. Schumacher has not taken any steps to establish two factories. He has his hands full with the organization of the factory in Mission City alone, although he will interest the farmers in Cloverdale on the growing of sugar beets for the factory in Mission.

BOUGHT AN AUTO TOO

Messrs A. G. Brown through their agent, Mr. F. H. Marshall has sold Mr. Lindsay Russell, our popular and esteemed townsman an International Harvester Company's auto buggy. This buggy is of the high-wheeled type and is specially constructed for use in country towns and rural purposes From the standpoint of economy it will do as much work as two rigs thus saving the cost of one driver as well as the expense connected with the care of extra horses. It is easy to control, will take the steepest hill and on account of the high wheels will go through mud or snow with ease.

PLAY

"All work and no play
Make our lads dull boys;
All play and no work
Make our lads poor toys."

Play should be for recreation and so arranged that it would fit the players for their work again. Life is for work and its aim should be not fun nor amusement but to enjoy these that work would be better accomplished because of them. Field sports, such as base ball, foot ball, lacrosse, cricket, running, jumping putting-the-weight, etc., should be encouraged at such times and in such degrees that the health of the players would be increased and their powers of body and mind developed. Indoor games should be of the same nature and with a similar object in view

Certain field games, especially lacrosse and football are left too much in the hands of professionals who in large measure give up almost the whole of their time and energy to these games. A team will travel thousands of miles to contest a championship and thus turn the play into a business. Much of the time of this band of young men is spent in idleness and as a consequence habits inimical to health and morality are contracted and they are eventually unfitted for discharge of their legitimate professions. The violent exercise of the match game is not conducive to the health of the players and often life is endangered or limbs are broken.

It may well be questioned if an afternoon spent witnessing a match game is well or profitably spent. Much more may it be questioned when young men or old for that matter travel many miles and spend many dollars to witness the contest. These contests encourage idleness and also gambling which is an easy way some think of making money—of making money without working for it or giving a fair exchange. Professionalism in sports is a curse to society. Moderation in recreation is a good thing but excess is an evil Intemperance in games must be avoided as well as intemperance in other things.

OBLATES TO OBSERVE GOLDEN JUBILEE

Arrangements are being pushed forward for the great gathering to be held at New Westminster to celebrate the golden jubilee of the entrance of the Oblates of Mary Immaculate to the Mission field of British Columbia.

The principal celebrations will take place at New Westminster on August 15, when there will be a solemn high mass—coram archepiscopae—in St Peter's Church, until lately the cathedral church of the archdiocese. Workmen are at present engaged in the work of renovation, in preparation for the great event. The mass will probably be sung by his Grace Archbishop McNeil of Vancouver.

After the religious celebration there will be a lawn party in the afternoon at which all the clerics taking part in the celebrations will be present and on the following day a solemn requiem mass will be sung at Mission City for the repose of the souls of the deceased fathers of the order in B. C.

Preceding the jubilee celebrations and commencing on August 8th will be a week's retreat for the Oblates of British Columbia, which will probably be given at New Westminster by Father Welch of Vancouver.

The greatest enthusiasm prevails among the clergy and congregations in the province in connection with the coming jubilee and New Westminster is likely to have a record Catholic gathering on that occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Northcote were in New Westminster on Saturday to see the champion lacrosse match beween New Westminster and the Montrealers.

THE MARKET.

New Westminster, July 22nd—Buyers and sellers made up an average market to-day. Produce was varied and there was a very good assortment of poultry and meats A larger supply of new potatoes than formerly this summer were seen and a fairly brisk demand was also noted. The China men were especially active throughout the morning around the crates of live fowl. When one load was brought into the arena from the Trader a small crowd immediately flocked around the owner, calling excitedly, "how much hee, how much ee you want?" The party who was the centre of attention, seemed to be enjoying the situation in full, but he brought the disappointment when he informed the celestials in these words; "Dey's sold" The owner was a short stocky German and his poultry were of no ordinary appearance.

The following are the quotations

MISSION CITY INKLINGS

(From Fraser Valley Record.)

Mrs. J. A. Tupper is visiting in New Westminster with friends.

Mr. T. R. Lyon of Vanvouver has accepted a position with Mr. G. A. Abbott of this town. Mrs. Lyon and family accompanied him and they will make their home in Mission City.

Among the sports who attended the lacrosse match in Westminster were Messrs Gordon Cox, Geo and Chas Ward, J. and Charles Stokes.

Mrs. H. Windebank left yesterday morning for an extended visit to friends in Vancouver and Victoria.

Mr. N. C. Fraser was in New Westminster on Tuesday on business.

The Montrealers passed through Mission on Tuesday evening. A local enthusiast says that instead of the Minto cup they had a 23 look on them very pleasing to the eye

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Gamsby of Los Angeles, California are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Henry of Hatzic.

Mr. H. L. Nicholson of Matsqui was in Mission on Tuesday evening He reports business good for his automobile, saying that some days he gets business enough for half a dozen automobiles.

THE GENTLE CYNIC

Push and pull are a hard pair to beat.

After all it may be better to be a spendthrift than a lendthrift.

Many a girl will knit her brow who wouldn't darn a stocking.

Most of us try to forget the mean things we say about ourselves.

Some people only tell the truth when they think it is going to hurt.

The pessimist doen't worry about the uncertainties of life because he expects the worst anyhow

A man is sometimes away off when he claims that distance lends enchantment to the view.

If a woman is only sure that her hat is on straight and her shirt is hanging right she feels that she is equipped to conquer worlds.

The average woman is apt to tell all she knows and then some.

It is human nature to feel sorry for people who are so perverse as not to like us.

THE NIGHTMARE

Thenightmare is one of the best known of all animals and one of the most feared. She is wilder than the tiger and more frightful in its speed than the turkey buzzard. A young nightmarq with no previous experience can fling a 200 pound man over her flanks and carry him all over the south seas and the Gobi desert in less time than it would take to look them up on the map.

The nightmare is so called because she is always ridden at night She is somewhat timid but may be easily caught. Mix up a little crab flake, some mayonnaise and some rich pastry and you can catch her with it every time. She will also come for mince pie, for broiled lobster, for chicken salad and for a variety of other temptations, and also after birthday celebrations.

Mrs. J. B. Weir and Master Jack Weir are the guests of Mr. and Mrs H. Alanson

Mrs. Peele of New Westminster has purchased a lot from Mr. C. A. Sumner. It is a noticeable fact that the people of New Westminster and Vancouver are buying considerable real estate in this town and district.

Mr. Fred Mander, wife and son returned on Saturday evening from a trip to Alberta. Fred went a couple of months ago with an idea of taking up land in that province, but he has returned to British Columbia quite satisfied that this province is good enough for him He does not give a very favorable account of crop prospects in Alberta this season.

Social and Personal.

rMs. King was with Mrs. Buker at Pine Grove this week.

Mr. H. A Howe of the Pine Grove Lumber company was in Vancouver on Wednesday.

Mrs. J. A. Blair and children returned home from Cloverdale on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Keswick of Field B. C. were in Abbotsford Tuesday looking over their property here which they purchased a short time ago. They were greatly taken with the future prospects of the town, and highly pleased with the property purchased.

The next meeting of the board of trade will be held on Monday August 1st. Business of importance will probably come up for discussion.

Mr. Hamel, representing the P. Burns Company was in Chilliwack this week on business.

Mr. A. Harrup while using an axe this week cut his knee.

Mr. J. Higginson is building another house on Gladys avenue.

Mr. J. Bates' new house is nearing completion. Not a word. Hush!

Why is Abbotsford like London, England? You see the Sparrow everywhere on the street, but there is not much chirp about our Sparrow of late.

Mr J. A. McGowan will probably take a trip east very shortly.

Mr. J. Sanderson who has been on the sick list for some time is now convalescent.

There is a new rooming house going up on Oscar street. A night's lodging it is reported can be secured in the new domicile for ten cents

A basket social will be held in the Musselwaite school in the month of August. The receipts will be devoted towards purchasing an organ for use in the school.

THE NEW SUB-DIVISION

Plans and specifications have been prepared by Mr. Lindsay Russell for a house for Mrs. Perize of Vancouver who recently purchased eighteen acres from the Provincial Investment Company, and intends to reside in the district.

This is only one of a number of houses that Mr. Russell expects to erect for Vancouver people on the blocks that have been sold.

The lots have not been placed on the market by advertisement and eight out of the fifty-nine have been sold.

A NEW TOWNSITE

Surveys are being made for a new townsite to be called West Matsqui and quite a lot of land has been divided into five acre blocks The work is being done for Messrs McClure and McLagan. The surveys will be complete in about a week.

CLEANING DAY TOO

Thursday morning was cleaning day in Abbotsford and the town looks considerably better now that the planks and other rubbish on a part of the street are all cleared away.

Mr. B. J. Gernaey, our genial sad dler, had a fine time this week and all by himself. Few of our readers will ever realize how it was done and how much he enjoyed it. This is how it happened. There was a monstrocity of a stump on the lot adjacent to his domicile an eyesore to him and the long suffering public and particularly our accommodating knight of the awl Two men came along and blew it out and never jarred the stitches in the harness on the wall. That's all.

Among the guests to town the early part of the week was Postmaster McPherson of Vancouver who has just returned from a three months' trip to the old country,

Dr. A. E. Clendenan of Edmonton spent a few days in town this week

THE C. N. R. CROSSING

The Canadian Northern will cross the C. P. R. track about a mile west of the present town of Matsqui. East of the prairie a tunnel will have to be made thro the Sumas mountain.

NEW STATIONS

The new B. C. E. R. station is nearing completion, and will be an excellent addition to the buildings of Abbotsford.

The company is building another station at Clayburn ,and will soon be completed.

THE COAL PROSPECTS

It is reported that the provincial government have been the recipients of some $1600 royalty on the coal claims staked on Sumas Mt. which were staked recently.

Report has also given rumor to the fact that the owners have had a most excellent offer for a half interest in the property—an offer it understoodt hat will make all of them very rich men.

PROSPECTING FOR IRON

There are strange rumors afloat to the effect that several of our citizens are busily engaged these days in prospecting for iron. They were so successful with the coal that there being indications of iron they thought they were worth investigating

BETTER CUT IT OUT NOW.

Mr. H. H. Skelton met with a nasty little accident this week as he was demonstrating how a printer could use an axe. He slipped and the sharp side of the axe came in contact with his arm. It made the blood come, but we are pleased to report that the patient is recovering very rapidly.

Mr. V. Harrup while unloading hay had his fingers crushed in the fork. Fortunately the three fingers will be all wel again shortly.

MATSQUI OIL IN SIGHT

Mr. Lindsay Russell reports that the B. C. Parafin company have made arrangements to put in the large drill that will bore down to 2000 feet in a short time. The indications up to the present time have proved highly satisfactory and drilling has proven that the oil is running in quite a different direction than was at first anticipated The formation of the ground has been fairly tested so that the geologist will be able to give free expression as to the prospects of the mineral being found and the actual direction in which it is coming from.

Between forty and fifty holes but arrangements are now being made to send this drill into another part of the district to test. further. Information as to where it would be taken was not forthcoming, but it likely to be some considerable distance from the present location.
