THOUSAND DOLLAR TROPHY

—o—

The following communication has been received from the Deputy Minister of Agriculture at Victoria;

"Will you kindly, through the medium of your valuable paper, give publicity to the following communication recently received in this department, with regard to to the One Thousand Dollar Stilwell Trophy to be given for the best exhibit of potatoes at the American Land and Irrigation Exposition to be held at Madison Square Gardens, New York, November 3rd to the 12th, 1911, viz,-

"At the American Land and Irrigation Exposition to be held at Madison Square Gardens, New York, November 3rd to 12th, 1911 there is a One Thousand Dollar Trophy offered for the best exhibit of late potatoes. The exhibit does not necessarily need to belong to one individual, but may be exhibited by a department of Agriculture, Farmers' Organization or by a District. The main point is that the One Thousand Dollar Stilwell Trophy is to be given for the best exhibit of potatoes represented by marketable quality, smooth appearance, flush eyes and uniformity of size. The yield of each variety per acre, which acre must be officially surveyed, must be sworn to by the grower, and attested by two or more reputable witnesses.

"It will readily appear to you that the winning of a trophy of this character will advertise your Province at this great exhibition extensively. We are confident that splendid potatoes can be grown in Western Canada, and are very anxious that one, or all of the four Western Provinces shall take this matter up in a systematic and careful manner, supplying a creditable exhibit so that, if possible, you may win the handsome trophy refrered to.

"Will it not be possibl efor your Department to take up this matter We would like to have a reply from you stating what you would be prepared to do in the way of gathering this exhibit."

POLICE COURT NEWS

(From Fraser Valley Record)

—o—

Last year the report spread around that the Indians had taken Hatzic, but this year the climax has been reached in the stern reality of the capture of the Indians near Hatzic by the hand that wields the sword of the law.

Happiness and whiskey reigned supreme among the Indian berry pickers east of Mission City a few days ago But what a difference in the morning. On Tuesday two Indians and a half-breed appeared before Magistrates Verchere and Murray who dealt out a fine or imprisonment as the case deserved in the eyes of the law.

A special by the name of Levins was appointed on Friday last to investigate the report that whiskey was being supplied to the Indian berry pickers and on Tuesday the following cases were dealt with Harry Cheer, a Whonnock Indian was fined $50.00 and costs for being drunk.

Harry Dan, a Matsqui Indian, was given six months imprisonment for being drunk and having liquor in his possession.

And a half-breed was fined $50 and costs for being drunk and having liquor in his possession.

During the evidence in the Indian cases they stated that they had secured the whiskey at the Matsqui Hotel. John Doe the bartender, appeared before the magistrates, and pleading guilty to the two charges. The fine levied was $100 on each of the two counts together with $5.50 costs.

On Wednesday the following cases were heard and resulted;

Henry Joseph, Harrison, fined $30 and costs together with three months in jail, or in default of payment of fine three months additional.

George Pennar, Harrison, $50 and costs and threemonths in jail and in default of payment of fine an additional three months.

"Every little moment has a meaning all its own" and from authentic authority this saying was certainly exemplified to the limit on Monday night in our two by four skookum house. It appears two parties were arrested for dispensing liquid refreshments contrary to the intrepretation of the liquor Act, and a bottle was found in their possession. The two prisoners were lodged in the aforesaid domicile while the evidence in the case was cached behind the judge's desk and presumably marked Exhibit A.

Though there are no electric lights at present a lamp burns burns brightly through the dark hours of the silent night.

It might also be stated that in this domicile for the transgressor blankets are provided, providing one arrives early enough to get a reserved seat or rather a blanket. This was a quiet night and there wer etwo blankets. Both retired—in separate apartments. Exhibit A remained in the lime light The occupant of suite No. 1 studied this phenomena for sometime while his thoughts reverted back to the days when his forefathers roamed the plains and lassoed the wily buffalo while he himself was at one time considered the only and original twirler with a rope and exhibit A was too tempting to overlook. So tearing his blanket into strips and tying them together, the way Exhibit A was llassoed was a piece of artistic work worth the price of admission alone. Then with the aid of more blanket Exhibit A see-sawed between suites one and two much to the enjoyment of the occupants

Next morning the judge found nothing but the label on Exhibit A and now the delinquent is doing six months labor without any recompense.

POET BORN

The father of Isaac Watts was determined that his boy should not become a poet, and when he did catch him making rhymes, after tiring of remonstrating with him he flogged him. As he applied the whip young Isaac creid;

"Oh father, do some pity take,
And another rhyme I shall never make.'

This provoking the father still more, he applied the lash with a still greater severity, and young Watts again cried out;

"O, my father, do spare my back from pain,
And I shall never make a rhyme again."

The father thoroughly discouraged in his vain attempt to beat poetry out o fthe boy, sent him a way to school, with the special request that the principal flog the boy if he caught him making rhymes. The first morning at the chapel excercise the boy, Watts, looking up at the ceiling during prayers, saw a rat coming down the bell rope. He laughed so loudly, that the teacher, stopping in his prayer, demanded why he laughed. The boy tremblingly answered;

"Well, teacher as there was no stairs,
The rat came down the rope to say his prayers."

The teacher discovered the genius of the boy and encouraged his rhyme making and his hymns to this day are sung the world over.

THE MARKET.

New Westminster, May 9th—Despite the rain the market was thronged with buyers at an early hour and long ere noon all the somewhat scanty supply of produce of the various kinds offered for sale had been bought up, prices ruling fairly strong, and in some instances showing a slight stiffening over the figures of last week.

At the opening it looked as if the market would be unusually small but the arrival of the Huntingdon train helped some and when the steamer Transfer came in late she brought from the lower river points a large shipment of the various kinds of produce prominent among which was a good offering of potatoes from Delta. These were in good shape for this season of the year, and almost compared with the best brands of highland potatoes, of which there was a small lot on the market.

Despite the ever increasing supply, the price of potatoes has apparently reached its limit, as no rise was recorded, figures remaining at the same price. New potatoes of the home grown variety are not yet to the fore, and only a few Californians were sold at 25c for three pounds as before.

The new cabbages on the market were of a larger variety than those offered for the past few weeks, but they also were imported from the sunny south and sold for 5c per lb., which is a somewhat prohibitive price for general purposes.

Two changes in the price of meat were recorded when some beef was offered and sold at 11c a notch lower than the prices quoted recently, while veal on the other hand, of prime quality, went up a point selling at 13 cents. The quality of this latter offering ranged very widely, and was still sold as low as 8c for the worst specimens.

Pork was a little more plentiful but maintained the reasonable price of 12 1-4 while mutton was unrepresented. In the retail meat section only two stalls operated, and the prices remained the same as previously.

Wholesale eggs still remain firm and the supply is apparently inexhaustible. In the retail section the price of 35c remained unchanged, as did the price of butter.

There was a considerable offering of poultry at the market, and all offered was sold, the prices ranged about the same as that of last week.

The following were the quotations;

WHOLESALE MEAT—

Beef, carcass	11 to 12c
Beef, hindquarters	13c to 15c
