ROYAL TRUE BLUE LODGE CELEBRATES

An entertainment was held under the auspices of the Loyal True Blues at the Orange Hall, Abbotsford, on Friday last, June the 17th Brother Haritte, of Orillia, Ont., Supreme Grand Master was in attendance, also six distinguished brethren from Vancouver.

Brother Haritte spoke on the objects and principles of the association. A large programme of songs and recitations was filled after which refreshments were served consisting of sandwiches, cake, strawberries and cream, etc.,

A hearty vote of thanks was moved by Bro. Matthias and seconded by Bro. the Rev. J. L. Campbell, for the Brothers who had travelled far to talk to the Abbotsford fraternity and the meeting which opened with the "Maple Leaf forever," closed with many cheers for the distinguished visitors.

DREDGE LEAVES CHILLIWACK

Next week Alex Cruickshank's dredge which for the past two years has been employed in ditch digging throughout the Valley, will be taken down the Chilliwack river and into the Fraser to the Coast, indicating that no more ditches will be dug in this district in the near future at least. All told, Cruickshank and his crew have deepened or dug complete about 21 miles of ditches, leaving that part of the township to the south and east of the city in a very good condition as regards drainage.

About $40,000 has been spent on ditches in the Chilliwack Valley; this amount includes the original ditches, which have been deepened as well as those recently constructed.

That portion of the Chilliwack river between the mouth of the Semiault river and the Semiault intersection ditch has been cleaned and deepened. but no other improvement to the Chilliwack will be attempted at this time.

The principal part of the work just completed included the deepening of the Semiault river, from its outlet to the McGuire road, a new ditch along the McGuire road to its intersection with the Gibson road; thence along a line parallel to and about a half mile south of the Prairie Central to the Upper Prairie road and thence along the Upper Prairie, past Elk creek, to a point about half a mile south of Hope Slough.—Progress.

CLEAN-UP DAY WANTED

Our town is greatly improved in appearance by the construction of the roads going forward. We will be glad to see the sidewalks put down. Let us have a clean-up day as they did in Vancouver. when the citizens generally removed unsightly objects from about their premises.

ABBOTSFORD POLICE COURT

William Robertson, who has for sometime been working on the Clayburn road, was charged before Judge McPhee, with assault by a fellow workman. The evidence on being summed up appeared so conflicting no verdict was rendered

He began to celebrate the release in right royal good style, but was brought to a standstill by Constable Black, who is capable of arresting a man twice as obstreperous as what Willie could be.

He was again brought before Judge McPhee and fined $5.00 and costs for disturbing the peace.

This is the first case to be brought before Mr. J. J. McPhee alone, and those who heard the way in which he dealt with the evidence given express their approbation of the masterly way in which he handled the case

PUBLIC ENTERTAINMENT

The public entertainment given by the I. O. G. T. Lodge, No 78, on last Tuesday evening was a grand success, although the wet weather interfered with the attendance. Mr. Perry and Mr. See from Sumas added very much to the enjoyable programme of the evening.

The programme consisted of songs, readings and recitations, refreshments were served.

WATER POWER AT CHILLIWACK,

Plans have been announced by the Vancouver Power Co., a subsidiary organization of the British Columbia Electrical Railway Co which contemplates the development of 100,000 horse power of electrical energy. The source of the power is located in Chilliwack Lake and Jones Lake, both lying in the Chilliwack district, some distance east of Chilliwack and connected by the Vedder river and other streams flowing from these storage reservoirs with rapid descents to the Fraser River.

To fully develop the two sources of power the British Columbia Electric Railway Company will expend the large amount of $10,000,000.

The company has several engineering parties now in the field near the new sources of water power and state that it is possible operations on the new plants will be started during the present season One inaugurated they will be rushed to completion. The full plant will probably not be installed at once but a start made and additions to the equipment will be installed as necessitates demand.—Progress.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE

Capt. Dutton will begin his addresses on the liquor traffic in the Presbyterian church next Monday evening. He is supposed to be a capital speaker and his addresses are not of the usual line, and are are well worth hearing. Hear him on Monday evening the 27th at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Parton, Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs McCallum and Miss Luke, delegates of the W. C. T. U. left on Monday evening's train to attend the conference in Westminster.

GOVERNMENT WORK VERY SATISFACTORY

Mr. A. A. Cruickshanks, accompanied by Mr. J. J. McPhee, made a tour over the government work on Thursday of this week, visiting Mt. Lehman, Peardonville, Clayburn and outlying districts where government work is being carried on and found the work being done in a very satisfactory manner.

The new Clayburn road will be a grand thing for Abbotsford. When completed it will enable the people of Clayburn to reach this town by a shorter route. It is even now being used before it is completed It will make a difference of several miles.

MAPLE GROVE ITEMS.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. Richard Hartnell and daughter returned from Tacoma, Wash., on Tuesday, where they were to consult a lung specialist for Miss Hazel. She will return there in a short time for treatment for tuberculosis.

The Maple Grove and Clayburn school will close Wednesday, June 29, for the summer vacation. The school has now a roll call of nearly sixty pupils.

Another room will be built during the summer holidays, and two teachers employed instead of one Miss J. McKay will return to her home in Prince Edward Island and we are sorry to hear she will not be our teacher for the coming term.

Mr. Doan Hartnell, one of the Maple Grove Lumber Company, left Wednesday for Vancouver on business for the firm.

The course of Bible Readings being held here in All Saints church has been discontinued for a while

The Maple Grove Lumber Co.'s donkey engine is running nearly to Abbotsford for its logs now.

The many friends of Mrs. John Fox who lived here so long will be iinterested to hear that she succeeded in getting her divorce last Saturday at Bellingham, Wash. but only on condition that she did not marry under six months.

Mr. Howe and wife of Port Hammond are visiting Mrs. E. R. Remington of Maple Grove.

MOSEY

STARTED UP AGAIN

The Pine Grove Lumber Company have started up under the management of Mr. Howe after a short idleness, during which time many repairs were made and new machinery put in. The company is now in a position to turn out first-class work, excellent workmen being engaged.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS

Entrance Examinations are being held in the Abbotsford school this week. Mr. William Burns, principal of the provincial Normal school is the presiding examiner.

Some nine pupils are taking the opportunity of aspiring for higher education. Two are from our own school and the balance from the surrounding district.

The results will be known in about four weeks' time.

Mrs. George Clark has returned home after spending a pleasant holiday at the Coast.

FRIDAY, JUNE 24, 1910

What are you doing these days to further the interests of Abbotsford?

—o—

It is the duty of every citizen to give a part of his time to furthering the interests of his town. It is given to few of us to be stars in the leadership of men, but all can help, and the day may come when an opportunity may be given to shine, and shine very brightly.

A sucker is said to be born every minute but a great statesman only once a century. But there are degrees of greatness that all go to make the great statesman shine. This degree of greatness is enhanced by those men who do the noble work of promoting the interests of their own town or community. Be wise in your day and generation. The opportunity of greatness may come your way.

There is a large floating population around Abbotsford, and law and order is being maintained to a degree nowhere excelled in in any other part of the province. The word to "pass along" is quickly given by our new provincial guardian of the peace. It is said that hoboes stay outside the town and enter only when night comes, even then don't stay long. The words "there is a policeman in Abbotsford" is supposed to be written in tramp language on the trees alongside the roads leading to Abbotsford.

The provincial government did a wise thing in sending a constable to Abbotsford, but we think the surrounding municipalities should contribute something towards the support of a good man in that position as it is in the outlying parts that the work is being carried along that makes the drawing card for the hobo class.

A REVOLUTION. WITH ROOSEVELT AS LEADER.

We hope it will not be considered necessary for the Times to apologize to its readers for the amount of space it has been devoting to the sayings and doings of Theodore Roosevelt. The Colonel is unquestionably a great man, one of the greatest men of this or any other time. The splendor of his endowments and of his accomplishment is attested by many things, not the least of which is the fact that now he has returned again unto his own, while they have given him a royal reception—a reception far beyond that ever accorded any other American—do not exactly what to do with him after they have received him. He is loved by the multitude, and feared apparently hated, by those who have hitherto swayed that multitude, bent it to their political will. That royal salute of twenty-one guns fired from the fleet which is the creation of the Colonel was a tribute to the Imperial intellectuality and personality of the man. According to one of the leading newspapers of New York, it is significant of coming events of paramount importance to the great republic It means that while, like Brutus (a republican of an earlier day) Roosevelt is an honorable man, like Caesar (of the days of Brutus) he may also be an ambitious man. He may also, as the results of the conquests he has made in Africa and in Europe and of the adulation he has exacted from royalty cherish ideas which are not consistent with the integrity of the republic. To put the matter pointedly, the New York World hints that the Colonel is an Imperialist, and that a man of overpowering personality, who cherishes such ideas as those of Roosevelt is dangerous to the republic. Our Gotham contemporary represents an element not allied with either of the great political parties which is at a loss to know what to do with Roosevelt. There are others. Those others are chiefly composed of Republicans who resent the failure of President Taft to redeem his pledges. They stand for tariff reduction, for the relief of the common people from the tyranny of trusts and combinations. They intimate that they may be forced into the position of forming a new political party with Roosevelt at its head. They do not fear the erection of a Roosevelt dynasty in the country whose declaration of principles holds all men to be free and equal. They hold that a new species thraldom has been evolved from republican institutions, and they declare this autocracy must give way to a real democracy.—Victoria Times.

The other evening we picked up an exchange and saw the following;

Q. What are men made peers for?

A. For various reasons.

Q. Name some of them.

A. For winning battles, for serving their party in the House of Commons, for being old and no longer of any use to it, for being troublesome to their colleagues, and for being political nuisances that cannot be got rid of in any other way."

It would appear that a few years of politicallife in England might entitle Joe Martin to a peerage if being troublesome in politics count for much He certainly appears to keepup the same old game as he did while in B. C. It will sound nice, and we are sure the Vancouver province would like it. My lord, Joe Martin!

If he succeeds we might see "Honest John" cross the Atlantic.

THE POET PHILOSOPHER

A healthy thistle once I found I took it home, and in the ground I planted it with tender care and murmured as I labored there "When I am old this thistle tree will be a boom and joy to me. Its boughs will bear me dates and figs and nuts and prunes and thing-me-jigs; and when I am tired and worn and frayed, I'll sit beneath its shade, and hear the song birds, on its limbs pour forth their sweet stemwinding hymns." Ah, recollection sorrow brings—I've done so many foolish things! I've planted thistles all my days, I've planted in countless ways. My thistle orchard's long and wide, but I am not swelled up with pride. I see so many bright young lads forsake the roof trees of their dads, to have life's fun while life is young and from existence knock the bung I mutter while my bosom bleeds "Alas, they're planting thistle seeds." Oh, every wild and foolish break indulged in now will help to make your field of thistles grow and bloom until they won't have standing room. If you would have a stately oak to rest beneath when old and broke, an acorn is the thing to sow; don't plant a thorn and watch it grow. Walt Mason.

Wonder whose thistles those are on north side of Essendene Avenue west of the railway track.

Acorns are very good in their place but a scythe would look better there.

—o—

AUTOMOBILE CRAZE

Ridiculous as it may seem to most banking and bond interests it now is figured seriously that the principal cause for the apathy in the domestic market for bonds is due almost entirely to the craze for automobiles and motor yachts which is credited with using up the greater part of the surplus income of persons who hitherto have been large bond investors. Estimates on motor cars to be manufactured this year place the number at 140,000 and their value at about $210,000,000. Estimates on the number of automobiles already in use involve about 800,000 and the estimates on the expenses average about $800 a year on each car, or an aggregate of $750,000,000 a year for the 940,000 cars. The grand total for the purchase of new motor cars this year and for the maintenance of these cars and those already in use, therefore is figured at $962,000,000. A large part of this amount, it now is thought, would go into bond investment were it not for the growing desire for all sorts and conditions of men to own and operate horseless carriages.

A short time ago the Penticton Press published an editorial that caused several men to call at that office and introduce the editor to a pond of water. Seven of these were fined $10 and costs for thus expressing their indignation, and then the attorney-general has asked the editor to resign his position as justice of the peace, which he refused to do. The editor said in part the following in the editorial that caused the sensation;

"This parasite class, the satelites of the throne at once gave voice to great grief at the death of the monarch. All the servants of the nobility, the game-keepers, the hostlers, the gardners, the tenants the clergy and all the officials, who hold their position from the hands of the nobles, mournfully utter 'The world is sorry.' The merchants who sell to the aristocracy and royalty the wares which are consumed in extravagance or vice, repeat the cry, 'The world is sorry' The colonies take up the refrain, the government at Ottawa squanders thirty-five thousand dollars in draping the government buildings in black. What nonsense for

"The pious homes of Scotland
"The pure homes of Ireland
should guarantee pure pious and merry homes in Canada where descendants of such noble parents are found. In Canada we inherit the good qualities of the Britishers and should be ambitious to excel in all virtues and graces which characterize a superior people. We are not a savage, but a christian and a civilized nation. In any case we are nominally a christian nation. This nation is made up of homes and homes are made up of persons or individuals. What the homes are the nation will be. The home is the unit and foundation of the nation. The unit of the home, the normal home, is the father who in this connection includes the mother. He is the house band, its head, its support; she is its life, its ornament and grace. He is the breadwinner and she is the bread maker. The home to be be happy must have the hearty co-operation of both.

THE MARKET.

New Westminster, June 17th,—Cherries appeared on the market to-day for the first time this season and sold at from 4c to 5c a pound. The quality was not good, and the demand was not up to the supply, which was large. Fruit growers attribute the poor quality of the first of the season's cherries to the action of some bug on the cherries, while others claim that the cut worm is affecting the trees The stone of the cherry is full size started to grow well earlier in the season, but that the bugs or cut worms have prevented an adequate supply of nourishment going to them to properly develop them. They claim that the cherries but there is little body to the fruit In some cases where spraying and other attention was paid to the trees the cherries are looking well and the crop will be well up to the the average.

There was a fairly large attendance and business was brisk. Meats of all kinds were fairly plentiful and resulted in no material changes in price over that of last week. Pork was present in fair quantities and sold at the top notch price of 15 cents per pound.

The price of eggs advanced two cents a dozen as a result of a brisk demand and sold at 32 cents wholesale and from 35 to 40 cents retail. The advance is expected to be but temporary as the supply is undiminished. Butter is coming in large quantities and as a result of the only moderate demand dropped five cents per pound. It sold at 30 cents retail and 25 cents wholesale. Fowl sold at quotations, there being a good demand for broilers of a good size.

Strawberries were rather more plentiful than last week and the price dropped from $2.25 a crate to from $1.75 to $2.00 a crate. Gooseberries also dropped one cent a pound on account of the large supply.

THE IRISHMAN'S PRAYER.

Oh, Lord hear this prayer—the prayer of your servant, Dennis O' Toole. Bless all true-hearted Irishmen, an' curse all the blue-nosed English—an' send us a bountiful supply of blackthorns to knock lumps out of our English inimys Let the green flag soon flutter over College Green, an' blow up the English parliament—when all our boys are out of it. Give us another O'Connel, to swamp them with his eloquence—an' another Brian Boru to lade us on to Victory Scatter the Dublin Castle crowd to the North Pole or the South Pole—or better still, send him to a place that is hotter than Abbotsford; Paint the whole of dear old Ireland green—Let not a blue spot be seen upon it—an' rare up another lot of patriots that'll knock fourteen sorts of mud out of the British Empire B'ess our men in the House of Commons and double-d— the remainder Send us a parliament of our own in double-quick time—for we are all well able to conduct our own affairs an' our naybours' across the way an' all.

That you'll speedily answer this is the prayer of the Playboy.

D. O'TOOLE.

"Men worry more than women Yes, they not only have everything to worry about that women have but they also have the women to worry about too. Eh? Jack.
