PROFIT SHARE WITH LABOR IS BRITISH SCHEME

London, Feb. 4.—Co-operation in commerce is an old affair, at least in suggestion, and even in experiment, writes H. B. Marriott Wilson in the Chronicle. Many schemes have been put forward since the original successful experiments in Yorkshire in the first half of the last century. It has always semed to idealists, who, after all, are the prophets of this world, that in co-operation of one sort or another is to be found the ultimate answer to the economic riddle. In some ways it exists alread in the form of profit sharing and in the form of bonuses. There is, I think, a great development for it in the future.

In this connection I wish to call attention to a new scheme, set on foot at this critical moment in history, which seems to me to have in it the germ of great economic revolution. This schehe is not the work of mere idealists who stand outside business affairs and dream dreams. It is the work of severely practical business men, men, too, who are at the head of one of the greatest corporations in the city of London. The corporation I refer to is nearly a century old, and commands a vast amount of business. It is one of the largest marine insurance companies in the world. Its premiums in peace time amounted to over $1,500,000, and its premiums in 1916 were nearly $19,000,000. So much for the bread in of its operations. It has for its chairman a distinguished Liberal member of parliament who is a privy counsellor, and among its directors are gentlemen of the highest financial position, mainly connected with the banking world.

The management of this large concern has resolved to make a serious experiment in co-operation with the employees. The project has been carefully considered and is now matured, and I am permitted to give some particulars of it. It has been decided that 2 per cent. of the company's unedrwriting profits over $100,000 shall be handed over to a trust fund for division among the employees. This fund is to be divided into two halves. The one half is to be a long service fund, which will be distributed among the members of the staff in proportion to their length of service. The arange ment is that for five years' service and under ten years one share shall be allotted annually for ten years and unde fifteen years two shares, for fifteen years and under twenty years three shares, for twenty years and under twenty-five years four shares, and for twenty-five years and over five shares. So far as the present war is concerned service with his majesty's forces will be reckoned as service with the company, and in the event of any employee's death so serving the shares will go to his personal representatives. The moiety of the fund is to be divided among the staff at the discretion of the board for efficiency. I will come back to that later.

Let me here take an example which will illustrate the working of the scheme. It is obvious that it has been carefully prepared to reward honest conscientious labor and to encourage talent. Suppose that a clerk is in receipt of $1250 a year after fifteen years service. On prewar earnings of the company he will be entitled through his allotment of three shares to receive an annual bonus, in addition to salary, of $150. In war time, the earnings being so much enhanced, he will double that sum. But he need not stop here. If he be an efficient, valuable member of the staff he will be entitled to receive a further payment from the efficiency fund, which may amount to a much larger sum at the discretion of the directors. Thus a man whose nominal salary is $1250 a year may become entitled to receive $1750; that is to say, he becomes to that extent a partner in the concern and a sharer in its profits.

The attraction of the scheme, and (to my mind) its priority over all previous schemes, is that it makes an emphatic distinction betwene the conscientious, but pedestrian plodder, and the ma nof brains and talent. The trouble with trade unions has ben that their tendency, in the economic sphere, has been to level down the worker to the range of the most inferior. There has been no attempt to encourage or stimulate merit. To that extent the operation of trade unions has been narrow and unwise. But this scheme, while arranging for an honest recgonition of the patient worker, recognizes also the superior qualifications of the man of brains and skill. This is a very valuable advance.

It may be objected that the project is devised for clerks only. It is true that this particular plan is, but that is only because the company employs clerks and nct manual laborers. The management, which has this scheme at heart, wisely contents itself with beginning at home, in the hope that its example may be copied. Already there are many signs and witnesses to the probability that it will be copied widely in the city of London among business concerns. And when it is found that the scheme works well it is expected that the idea will be taken up in other regions of the business world. I happen to know that prominent representatives of the working classes who have been approached on the subject have expressed themselves very favorably and sympathetically toward it. Indeed from the chorus of approbation with which it has been greeted privately, one dares to expect a great deal from what is really a movement in natural evolution, and is in no way a revolution.

This scheme if carried out as it seems likely to be carried out, will serve to merge all the interests in the mercantile and industrial world. It is, in fact, a merger of common interests, of employers and employes No doubt in course of time defects will show themselves, but these can be eradicated with experience and the growth of wisdom. It may (and I confidently hope will) be manifest that the interests of employers and employes are identical, and that the work of both will only tend to the benefit of both. The scheme in operation will stimulate the output of commerce and lubricate its workings Efficiency will get its reward and also faithful service. Whether the end of the division of profits has been reached in this idea I do not pretend to say, but to me it is quite sufficient that a beginning has been made, and a beginning which has to its primal inception the enthusiastic support of so powerful a corporation and of so many men of the highest position and influence, belonging to both political parties. This scheme, indeed, has nothing to do with politics; it is a "national" scheme for the reconstitution of social and economic conditions now and hereafter.

Mosquito Delegation Visits Victoria

(From Fraser Valley Record.)

A delegation from the Fraser Valley will wait on the provincial government this week to talk over several matters, one of the most importantbeing the mosquito qusetion.

From Mission Council will go the Reeve and Councillor Clark, two of Matsqui Council, two from Matsqui school board, one from the Abbotsford Board of Trade and others.

All hope that the government can be induced to take the mosquito question up and do some good work

NOT ON YOUR TINTYPE

Hon. John Oliver, Premeir of the Province of British Columbia, has written a communication, short and very much to the point, to a prominent citizen of this district that owing to the 'financial stringency and other considerations' nothing will be done by the Provincial Government to eradicate the mosquito pest of the Fraser Valley.

Assistance in this matter does not mean the spending of millions of dollars but simply a few thousand dollars would help a lot. But what the public would probably like to know is what the 'other considerations' are.

PULP PLANT FOR HATZIC

In order to take care of their surplus and soft fruits a pulping plant will be installed at Hatzic for handling this year's fruit. A company is being formed and sufficient stock and fruit has been subscribed to warrant running at full capacity during the berry season. The growers interested in this concern have a raspberry acreage comprising seventy-five per cent of the total holdings of the district. It is not the intention of the company to start out on a large scale this year and a small plant will be temporarily installed and will be increased each year. It is expected that eventually the manufacture of fruit juices and other by-products will be undertaken. At any rate this is the idea in view by those interested in the concern. As this district has rapidly become an important small fruit producing centre, the need of a by-products industry has been under contemplation for some time although till lately no definite or concerted action had been undertaken. The move is in the right direction and there should be no reason, unless mis-management, which is unlikely, why this industry should not prosper.

Texas claims to be the greatest bee-raising and honey-making state. This puts a sweet flavor to the former charge of many that it was the greatest hell-raising place on earth.

Graduated War Tax On Incomes

Those Enjoying Highest Incomes Will Pay Largest Amount

If the income war tax law, about to be applied, did nothing more than cause a national stock-taking, it would serve a most useful purpose.

The taking of an inventory of one's resources invariably induces a desire to save and a desire to save when translated, as it very frequently is, into a determination to save, means getting on with the war, as well as happiness all around. This process first an inventory of one's resources then a desire to save, applied to every unmarried person ,or widow and widower without dependent children receiving an income of $1,500 and over ,and to all other persons receiving an income of $3,000 and over will unquestionably result in a large proportion of cases, in a determination to save. And that means more general prosperity and renewed national strength.

But a national stock-taking is only incidental, of course, to the chief purpose of the income tax, which is to provide revenue for the prosecution of the war in as equitable a manner as possible. The tax is to be graduated, according to one's ability to pay. Those who are in receipt of only a living wage or salary will not be called upon to pay; those enjoying the highest incomes be called upon to pay the greatest amounts and the great body of income receivers between, will be called upon to pay in their due proportion.

Moreover, the purpose of the act is to distribute the burden equitably among all classes. By way of illustration, the farmer will be required to add to the value of his actual income, the value of the home-grown products which his own family consumes. This places the farmer on a plane with the salaried man, the value of whose services is wholly represented in the income received and against which he must charge all his living expenses.

Canada has established a war record that is the envy of the World. It is certain that the Canadian people will run true to form in answer to this latest call of their war government.

Mr. Bryan Charges Incitement To Riot

He Says They Were Not Soldiers

On reaching Chicago William Jennings Bryan issued a statement explaining the incident at Toronto, and declared that an organized effort to make him unpopular in Toronto had been carried on previous to his arrival. He says:

"The incident has been greatly exaggerated in many places and made to appear that Canada rejected me. In fact, not more than two per cent of the audience was antagonistic, and these offenders who were said to be returned soldiers though they wore no uniforms would have been put out had I not interefered.'

THE BIG DANCE ON FRIDAY LAST

(From Fraser Valley Record.)

The big dance given in the skating rink on Friday evening last was by all odds the most enjoyable affair held in Mission City for some time. There were present over two hundred couple, representing all the surrounding districts—Dewdney, Nicomen, Matsqui, Abbotsford,Mt. Lehman (although a dance was held there the same evening) Sumas, Ruskin, Whonnock and even as far as Haney, Hammond and Port Coquitlam, showing that all wanted to show their appreciation of the good company they were in when they were saying farewell to the telephone and power men. To say that all enjoyed themselves goes without referring to the matter at all.

The committee in charge of the affair had spent much time in decorating the hall which looked par excellence, and never did the old building look more like a holiday. A most excellent supper was served at 12 o'clock and ably handled by an efficient committee, appointed for the occasion, composed of several Mission City and Hatzic young men and a handsome bevy of young ladies.

The music was supplied by the five piece orchestra composed of returned soldiers and from the numerous encores received made a decided hit.

The committee wishes to thank all those who assisted in any way to make the dance on Friday evening last at Mission Roller Rink the decided success it proved to be and reports the following statement.

Many Deposits Have Been Lost

Number on Opposition Side is 110 And on Government Side 25—Creed and Race Division in House.

The following comes from an Ottawa correspondent:

"No less than 135 candidates lost their deposits, which means that $27,000 well be turned over to the treasury to help pay war expenses. Of these 110 were Opposition and 25 Government candidates. In Ontario 41 Opposition candidates lost their deposits and in Quebec 22 Government candidates failed to save theirs. Every Labor candidate except Rollo, in Hamilton, received fewer votes than the successful candidate's majority, and so the $200 deposit with the returning officer will not be hand ed back.

"But the most significant result of the election is the very manifest credal and racial division in the new House. In Sir Wilfrid's following of 82 men, only 16 are Protestants, while in the Government following of 151, only a half dozen are Roman Catholics, and one, Dr. Chabot of Ottawa, is a French-Canadian. One-third of the population, according to race, have no representative in the cabinet, and according to creed, only one representative, namely the Minister of Justice, Hon. Mr. Doherty.

"In the Opposition there are only 21 members whose native tongue is English, four from Nova Scotia, two from Prince Edward Island, one from New Brunswick, six from Quebec, seven from Ontario, one from Manitoba and one from Alberta. From the Great Lakes to British Columbia the Opposition is represented by only two members—Mallay, of Provencher, Manitoba, and White, of Alberta.

FRIDAY, MARCH 15, 1918

The good people of Victoria are getting very excited and are even suggesting secession from the province and forming a little province of their own. That would be nice to have a wee island in the east and a wee island to the west of the Dominion. There would sure be a rivalry then.

Vancouver island will have to get away from the idea of ruling the province. Vancouver island is but a small part of the province of B. C. and now not like years ago, has but a small part of the population. There is no more beautiful climate nor richer soil, but not enough of it to make a province that the people would be proud of.

PHILOSOPHY OF GLADNESS

The party who tries to carry out the "why worry" philosophy might get along nicely if there were not so many people in the world who hand him something to worry about. Did you ever notice how many people carry mental sandpaper around with them? One who awakens to the brightness and joy of life and the inutility of worry is likely to get a setback the first hour of conversion.

Father was on the "don't worry" wagon just one day, and fell off when he met a wild and untamed streetcar conductor who wouldn't recognize his transfer. Mother read "Pollyyanna" and was converted to the philosophy of Gladness, but she got little further than the frozen-smile stage. Willie came home from schoo: the same afternoon with a bevy of classmates, and they had a rough house on her new rugs, and mother swept the whole party out with a broom; when she got the smile straightened out again, father came home and asked her what in time she was grinning at. Oh, it's work, this ignoring of the obvious!

There is a party within my daily vision who has progressed just far enough in the philosophy of Gladness to wear a waxen smile, but his soul remains arid and unawakened; you couldn't pry him away from two bits with a chisel. These frozen-face boys are rather hurting the cult there is such a temptation to the irritable to hit them with a custard pie, or something.

However, I am going to try this doctrine of Gladness as soon as they get the taxes down, end the war, quit making civic improvemests in my district and clear the neighborhood of cats. I dos't want to fall down on it if I can get the track cleared of the usual and regular obstacles to good humor I might be pretty happy for perhaps two or three days.

Dukes Want Raspberries.

Stating that they will require in the neighborhood of 100 tons of rasp berries to fill thei rrequirements for this year, is the word that has been received by the secretary of the Hatzic Fruit Growers' Assn. form the Dukohobors at Brilliant, B. C., who operate the Kootenay-Columbia jam factory. The Douks will buy in the pail or contract on the bush and are anxious to get a slice of the Hatzic raspberry crop under any conditions. Negotiations are under way between the Hatzic Assn. and the Doukhobors and it is expected that quite a tonnage will be contracted ter on the bush. Pickers will be sent here from the Doukhobor colonies to harvest fruit. Providing the price is right, the advantage of having his crop picked during these days of labor shortage, is quite obvious and it is needless to say that the average grower will be partial to having all or part of his crop handled in this way.

Be A Booster

Do you know there's lots of people
Sittin' round in every town,
Growling like a broody chicken
Knockin' every good thing down?
Don't you be that kind of grouch,
Cause they ain't no use on earth,
You just be a booster rooster,
Crow and boost for all your worth.

If your town needs boostin', boost it,
Don't hold back and wait to see
If some other fellow's willin'—
Sail right in, this country's free,
No one's got a mortgage on it,
It's just yours as muc has his;
If your town is shy on boosters,
You get in the boostin' biz.

If things just don't seem to suit you,
And the world seemo kinder wrong,
What's the matter with a boostin'
Just to help the thing along.
'Cause if things should stop agoin'
We'd be in a sorry plight,
You just keep that horn a-bloin'—
Boost'er up with all your might.

If you know some fellow's failin's
Just forget 'em, cause you know
That the same chap's got some good points,
Them's the ones you want to show
"Cast your loves out on the waters,
They'll come back," a saying true,
Mebbe, too, they'l come back "buttered"
When some feller boosts for you.

We are free to wish all the peoples of the earth a final place in the sun, where peace and prosperity shall reign together, but as to the place suitable for the kaiser, well—As You Like It.

Speed and Satisfaction with the Telephone

Action is the essence of the contract these days. Action means speed. We see it every day in the steady increase in the number of motor cars in use. People want to move quickly, to settle matters promptly.

All the more should the telephone be appreciated. Nothing is more satisfactory for it delivers the message and returns the answer immediately. The motor may be quick, but theh telephone is much quicker.
