GAZLEY BLOCK ABBOTSFORD, B. C

THE PRISONER OF WAR

In the prison Camp at Geissen
There a captive soldier lay
In his lonely cot lay pining
For the dawning of "the day";
For the day of retribution
That should loose the bondage chain,
That should free the world from sorrow,
That should set him free again.

But his heart was sad and weary
And his days were dreary long,
Drooping low and drooping lower.
Now his hearty spirits gone.
Oft he thought him of his homeland,
Of his many friends of yore.
Could they only know the trials
Of a prisoner of war.

Day by day he watched in silence
As the daily mails came in;
Day by day the soldier languished,
As no token came for him;
Not a word or sign to cheer him,
Not a line from o'er the sea,
Sad he watched his comrades' rapture
That were now more blest than he.

Can we leave him, friends, to languish
Bear his load of grief alone?
When it takes a slender pittance
Shall we hand him but a stone?
Let us reach the hand of friendship.
Help him pass each bitter day;
In the prison camp at Geissen
Let us smooth his thorny way.

Let him know his friends remember,
Let him know they understand
Let him feel the hearth fires burning
In his home and native land.
Let us soothe his bitter hours,
Let us feel no qualm of shame,
That a lonely heart e'er waited
For the cheer that never came.

That is the plight of many a war-worn soldier lad languishing in a German camp, pining for the freedom that once was his, longing and hoping for a message or token from his far away home for the tiny offering that is meat and drink to him.

What does this mean to you and me? Can we fail to heed this mute appeal? Will you help us brighten his darker moments, to give him the homeland cheer from the only source whence that cheer can come—from you. Then come to the Masquerade at Matsqui, Friday evening December 1, for the benefit of the prisoners of war. The Mackness orchestra will provide the music.

A committee has donated the expense for music and provided for refreshments; and in addition each member of the committee will pay the regular admittance. Surely readers, this cause is worthy of your support.. Help us to make this the grand success of the season. Watch for the posters. Remember the date December 1. We assure you the best of times, and better still, that you never may feel

MATSQUI

An excellent concert was that given by the school children, who had been carefully trained by the teachers. There was an excellent attendance and the proceeds were most encouraging. Everybody had a good time.

A masquerade ball will be given in the Matsqui Hall on Friday, December 1st for the benefit of the prisoners of war. A committee has donated the expenses for music and provided refreshments. Mackness Orchestra will be in attendance Dancing from 9 p. m. to 2 a. m. is promised with refreshments.

PERSONALS

Mr. H. S. Coburn our new blacksmith is doing a good business and intends staying in Abbotsford.

A. P. Slade of the Meadowbrook Creamery, of Clayburn has rented the vacant store n the Gazley block and hasstarted in the flour, feed and farm produce business.

Mrs. Green of Coghlan was a week end visitor in town.

Mrs. Sutherby, Sr., has returned to Ladner after spending an extended holiday at the home of her son Mr. F. Sutherby, of Abbotsford.

Mr. Wm. Roberts was a visitor to the coast cities this week.

Mr. C. Sumner, of J. Copping butcher shop, has decided to wait until the war is over when he will probably buy a flying machine. Charlie has the same old smile on while cuting beef as he had while selling real estate in boom days, and is just as big a booster for Abbotsford as ever.

Miss Lillian Hill-Tout has sent to Miss Pelly of Vancouver $25.00 for the Prisoners of War Fund. The amount was made up by selling recipes for a Prisoners of War Cake, by a cheque from Mr. J. J. Sparrow, of $5.00, and small donations from Abbosford and Pine Grove

The bazaar held in the Gazley Hall by the Ladies Aid of the Presbyterian church was a decided success. There was a fine display of fancy and plain sewing, home-made candy and also home cooking, for which he Abbosford ladies are noted. The evening social was also a success and the programme was a good one. The receipts amounted $120.55.

Miss George of Vancouver, is filling the vacancy of school principal here caused by the illness and death of Mr. Dougherty, who resigned the position on account of poor health.

Mr. Dougherty, formerly the principal of the Abbotsford public school, who died recently in the hospital in Vancouer, had just taken charge of the school at the summer holidays, and during his short stay made many friends among the pupils and parents, who regret the sad news of his death.

The schol children will give a concert at Christmas in the Gazley hall. Teachers and pupils are working hard to make the affair a success.

Abbotsford owns a fire ladder which should not be taken away by any person or persons except in case of fire, or only with the consent of the fire chief It is not public property for the use of any person requiring a ladder. It was away this week frof its accustomed place and had a fire occurred the citizens would have been hampered in their work on account of the ladder. It is hinted that some day someone will be prosecuted for taking away that ladder, so please leave it where it will be handy in case of a fire.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETS

The Abbotsford board of trade held a meeting last week and took up the question of a better mail service. Locked bags are to be placed for each local point along the line from Huntingdon to Mission City.

The question of the present high cost of living was taken up and pretty thoroughl discussed The board has affiliated with eastern boards who are waging war against the increased prices A sample of the present wrapping paper was one of the things taken as an illustration and sent east.

The board's views on other matters were also sent to the Board of Trade at London, Ont.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1916

Since the change of train service on the C. P. R. at the beginning of the month there has been much dissatisfaction with the service from several sources, Mission City does not appear to be so badly off as a number of other points along the line.

One particular source of dissatisfaction appears to be with the train which comes from Vancouver to Huntingdon and return. The claim is put forward that it leaves Vancouver in the morning before the trams are running and returns too late at night. It has been suggested that a better service to the valley would be that this train leave Vancouver in the morning a little later and return on the summer schedule. If this were done it would make this train of excellent service locally, but of course the C. P. R. may not see it that way.

The matter of a better service between points on the line between Mission City and Huntingdon has been remedied by the placing of locked bags between the different points. We believe the Abbotsford board of trade did good work when they took this matter up with the postal authorities.

Every municipality along the north side of the Fraser river are taking up the matter of the uncertainty of the Hope local—some now calling it the hopeless local. The local board at its last meeting decided to add their request for a better service.

Of course the C. P. R. could not please everybody but the present service comes in for so much criticism from so many different sources that it would appear that no point except Mission City is satisfied that the company is giving the best service possible.

The question of labor for the coming year appears to be not only the problem of the fruit grower but also affects the general labor market of the Valley. For the fruit growers to make their crop a success they must have help that is not too expensive and at the same time give them good value for the money paid. How to get this labor is one of the important problems that the local growers will have to solve before the berry season comes around again. The matter will eventually have to be solved for the grower by the government taking the matter up.

It has been suggested that Oriental labor be brought in and a strict accounting of each of the individuals be kept, so that when the market again becomes more easy that these can be returned to the land of their birth unless they pay the head tax. How this would work we are not prepared to say but if there is no other solution to the question, better this than that the prosperity of the country be kept back.

THE APPLE MARKET AND CAR SHORTAGE

Jobbers and retailers are complaining of the slow movement of apples from B. C. points. Country points are not overly well supplied with apples and what they have are all B. C.'s. It is regrettable that more cars could not have been placed before this because this cold spell will affect the movement to some extent. Jobbors, however are waiting patiently for their cars.

This year afforded B. C. an excellent oportunity to properly show her wares. From Winnipeg west British Columbia apples are to be seen and there will be a good many more rolling to prairie towns. People are being persuaded by the retailers to purchase boxed apples because "Ontario has a poor crop this year." This argument is being used in hundreds of towns by energetic retailers.

Some Manitoba retailers are selling B. C. crated stock at $1.50 to the consumer and are doing a good business. In one prairie town which your Market Comissioner visited last week there was to be seen but one lot of American apples, while every where B. C. brands were to be noticed. This is sa it should be.

Hereoes of Northern Fires

The Rev. Mr. Conn received a great deal of attention from the eastern papers after the fires of Northern Ontario. "M. L. M." writing in a Toronto paper has the following to say:

"Recent reports from the scenes of the late fires in Northern Ontario show that all who deserve credit for humane and even heroic work in connection with them have not reached the public ear. Furthermore it would seem that some who did exceptionally well in the matter of giving relief and accommodation to the fleeing refugees have not only been overlooked, but were at the time actually misrepresented.

To the former class belongs Rev. Mr. Conn, of Matheson, who, according to Mr. Cohen, manager of the Croesus mine, was probably the most heroic figure of the terrible fire. In the words of the report given, Mr. Conn "dug the graves, prayed over and buried eighty-seven victims."

In carrying out his humane and self-imposed task under the trying circumstances of the fire, and its accompaniments of ruin and environment of distress, the physical and mental powers of Mr. Conn must have been sorely tried, and there are none but will concede that he was indeed one of the most heroic figures of the fatality.

Other heroes who did giant work were the engineers who ran their trains back and forth thru walls of flame that reared up on either side, threatening them with death if they dared to enter their territory. These men, however, saved hundreds., and how they did it was the wonder of all who witnessed their work or benefitted by it. That those men should get some public recognition would seem to be but a simple act of justice. So far this does not seem to have been done."

The above was accompanied by a picture of the Rev. Mr. Conn standing in front of the post office with his hat in one hand and a Bible in the other, under which was "Rev. W. Conn, one of the heroes of the North-

ARMY SERVICE CORPS WANTS RECRUITS

An Opportunity for Which Many Eligibles Have Long Been Waiting

In viewing the recruiting returns of the different provinces of the Dominion one is profoundly impressed by the splendid response made by the manhood of British Columbia in the time of the Empire's need.

This record is indeed one to be proud of, but there is still a very large number of eligible men in the Province, who, for various reasons have been prevented from doing their duty, and it is to these that the officer commanding, No. 19 Company Canadian Army Service Corps, with headquartes at 1117 Seaton St. Vancouver, B. C., issues this appeal.

Instructions have just been received from Headquarters to enlist men of the following trades and occupations for Overseas Service with the Army Service Corps:

Horse Transport Drivers, Supply Clerks, Mechanical Transport Drivers, Bakers, Butchers, Farriers, Wheelers, Saddlers, Fitters and Turners Blacksmiths, Electricians.

The advantage of a man being able to work at the occupation he follows in civil life will be apparent

The men as recruited will be given a little preliminary training here and sent forward in drafts.

The pay allowances etc., are the same as in other branches of the service; in the case of a married man the wife receiving $20 per month Separation Allowance in addition to Patriotic Assistance of as liberal a nature as the resources of the fund will permit. From this it will be seen that a soldier is able to leave his wife in fair financial circumstances whilst he is away. Regardless of Patriotic Fund assistance a man can be sure that his wife is receiving at least forty dollars a month, i. e. $20 a month of his own pay and $20 Separation Allowance.

This reference to the financial aspect is not made with the idea of conveying the impression that in calling upon a man to serve his country, it is necessary to appeal to him from a dollars and cents standpoint—far from it— but it is only right that a man should know exactly where he stands in this respect and any further information which may be desired in this connection will be gladly furnished on application to above address 1117 Seaton St., Vancouver.

Your Ad. in This Paper

Will Find the Right People

BECAUSE THE RIGHT PEOPLE ARE LOOKING FOR YOUR AD.

If you COULD (although, OF COURSE, you can't) stop every man you meet on the streets and ask: "Do you want to buy a pair of shoes?" (Or any other kind of goods) You might find half a dozen who would say "Yes." Perhaps not one of these, however, would want to buy the article you want to sell.

If your advertisement, however, were to be printed in these columns this week, it would "stop" EVERY MAN IN TOWN WHO WANTS TO BUY SHOES, OR CLOTHES, OR ANY OTHER ARTICLE—and it wouldn't "stop" anyone who didn't want to buy. That's the beauty of the advertising way of finding a buyer. The ad. finds the buyer through the simple process of being easily and readily found BY the buyer - And if, among the prospective buyers of goods, there is one to whom your goods would be a bargain, and your ad. is a convincing one, you'll sell what you want to sell.
