PLANS ARE COMPLETED FOR ANNUAL BAZAAR

A very well attended meeting of the W. A. of the M. S. A. Hospital was held in the Bank of Montreal Chambers on Wednesday afternoon. A report was received from Mrs. T. S. Saunders that a donation of narcissus had been given by James Bond and Co. of Vancouver. Mrs. Eby reported a donation of remnants from Drysdale's store in Vancouver. Mrs. G. Zeigler gave a favorable report of the arrangements for the supper to be given at the bazaar. Convenors of other committees also gave splendid reports of the work in hand for the bazaar. It was decided that the next regular meeting of the Auxiliary will be held on the second Thursday in December (14th) in the S. F. A. Hall at Matsqui. All members intending to attend this meeting are requested to meet at the Post Office corner at 2:30 p. m.

Parcels for the bazaar will be accepted at the Abbotsford Theatre all day on Thursday, November 23rd. During the bazaar a checking booth for parcels for the convenience of the public will be managed by Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Kelly. A committee to make arrangements for the building of the booths consists of Mrs. Eby, Mrs. McCullough and Miss Peck. Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. Brydges and Mrs. Eby were named as a pricing committee. The ladies unanimously made a choice of geen, red and gold for the M. S. A. Hospital colors. Arrangements are well in hand for the holding of the bazaar, which promises to be as great a success as that of last year. The affair is receiving the support of the entire community and a record attendance is expected.

POULTRY CONVENTION AND BANQUET

The Poultry Convention was held in the G. W. V. A. hall on Tuesday afternoon and was well attended. Mr. C. McDiarmid was in the chair. A most excellent time was enjoyed.

It was decided at this convention that the 1923 Poulry Show will be held in Mission City.

At the banquet in the evening Mr. N. Hill presided. The affair was heartily enjoyed by the large number present.

The Harmonic Orchestra supplied the music for both the banquet and dance.

(A full report will appear in next issue. Owing to the lateness in which the prize list was completed we are unable to furnish a report this issue).

ARMISTICE DAY IS WELL COMMEMORATED

Armistice Day was commemorated in Abbotsford in the holding of several different functions. Friday evening the annual masquerade ball of the G. W. V. A. was held in the Abbotsford Theatre and was the greatest success of its kind ever held in the district. Costumes to represent very many characters were worn by the large gathering of dancers, confetti and balloons adding to the gaity of the event. Heun's orchestra supplied the music. Prizes for the best costumes were won by the following: ladies' first, Turkish costume, unknown lady; gents' first, nigress costume, Mr. A. Monroe of Hammond; ladies' second, carry-all shopping bag costume, Miss C. Trethewey; Gents' second, sheperd with live goat, C. O. D. Bell of Matsqui.

The door recipts were $100 dollars over those of last year and the G. W. V. A. are to be congratulated upon the success of the affair. The social success of the evening was no less than the financial one, goodfellowship being the watchword of all present.

In honor of the heroes who gave their lives in the Great War, a memorial service was held at 11 a. m. on Saturday at the foot of the G. W. V. A. flagpole on Essendene Avenue, when address were given by Rev. A. H. Priest and F. J. R. Whitchelo, president of the G. W. V. A. The closing prayer was made by Rev. W. Robertson. The sale of poppies during the day was very large and the little flower was worn by all.

On Sunday afternoon under direction of the Abbotsford and District Great War Veterans' Association a memorial service was held at Hazelwood cemetery, St. Nicholas, when the graves of comrades A. Ker, G. Davis and Capt. Cornwall were decorated with flowers by members of the association. Appropriate music was creditably rendered by the Abbotsford brass band and addresses were given by Rev. W. Robertson, F. J. R. Whitchelo and Capt. Rev. A. H. Priest. The service, in which citizens from all the surrounding district took part, opened by the playing of the "Maple Leaf Forever" by the band and was closed by the singing of the National Anthem. Special services were held in the Presbyterian and Anglican churches in the evening.

Mrs. T. Andrews and her daughter Evelyn have returned home after enjoying a holiday of two months in Vernon, B. C.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1922

Stumps and speculation are two of the deterrent influences that have prevented the settlement of the Fraser Valley, so as to keep pace with the growth of the coast cities. Both must be eliminated and good roads built so that the Fraser Valley can keep pace with the cities' growth and prevent the importation of foods from foreign countries.

Of the two deterrent influences the stumps are probably the worst the stumps cannot long be expected to remain on a Fraser Valley ranch filled with trees and stumps. The removing of stumps is as important to the Fraser Valley as is irrigation to the Okanagn. It certainly must be very discouraging to the man who undertakes to clear land by individual effort. He can grow old at the job and yet not have sufficient to protect his old age let alone supply the demand of the increasing population of the province.

Taxes are high in the Fraser Valley, but not high enough to build our roads as they should be to make country life the pleasure desired, yet the taxes and upkeep of the roads comes high on the man with the stumps—the man upon whom the Valley is depending to till the soil. Growing for the market is an expensive proposition even after the initial cost of clearing the land has been met. That the burden is much heavier thon the farmer on new land can afford is instanced by the fact that but little new land is being cleared these days in the Valley.

It is estimated that but one acre in fifteen of the fertile land in the Valley is producing. Yet to undertake to clear some of our land is one of the biggest jobs a man can assume. Some big jobs are given government assistance, but not the clearing of land; and it is understood that our Land Settlement Board does not favor loaning money to the man now on the land but is in favor of helping the new settler. Why not help the man now on the land, who who has had a little experience? Would we not be further ahead?

Cheap money, cheap powder and stump eliminating machines, with good roads, would make the Fraser Valley, the agricultural paradise it was intended to be by nature.

The government that will map out a course of this kind will be as Gump says; 100 per cent, for the people, thus a winner.

The farmer party—the Progressives—are now without a leader, Crerar having resigned both the leadership and also the seat in Marquette which he represented. This is the beginning of the end of what promised to be the stormy petrel in Canadian politics. Wonder what pressure was brought to bear on Crerar, as the fact that the Grain Growers were not in favor of his retaining the position, seems but a poor excuse. Last year when Crerar headed the party at the election the G. G. did not raise any objection that the public was aware of. Had he been successful in having enough following in the House of Commons to form a government, would the same G.G. have still had their objections? We think not.

Politics make strange bedfellows and one would not be surprised to find that this is the first step in the disorganization of the party and the Liberals going to the country after the next session of the House. With the Progressive leader out of the way it is just possible that a certain element in politics would feel that another election would return the Liberal party.

Class government in Ontario according to the present premier is not a success, and without a strong leader at Ottawa the Progressives will probably go back to their first love in politics. The trend of affairs in politics would indicate that public opinion is of the firm belief that two parties in Canadian politics is distinct enough a division.

BERRY BY-PRODUCTS

We submit the following item from the Seattle Produce News, for the serious consideration of the B. C. Berry Growers.

We have been working on the possibilities of a market for frozen berries, either in the crates frozen as they come from the field, or in gallon tins. Several experiments have tried in Washington and Ontario, but nothing of a definite kind has been started until Mr. F. Grossman, of the North Pacific Berry Growers, brought forth his ideas.

A new market is being developed for the surplus fresh berries of Western Washington, which is fraught with great possibilities for the advancement and future prosperity of the berry growing industry in this district.

"For the past two years the surplus strawberries have been put up and frozen in 400 lb. barrels, but it was not until this season that Frank Grossman, sales manager for the North Pacific Co-operative Berry Growers, conceived the idea to put up all varieties of berries in small containers for the bakery trade.

"An initial pack was put up and placed in cold storage, and a short time ago the frozen fruit was introduced to the local bakery trade through Grossman Bros. The success of the venture was instantaneous, as the bakers declared that the fruit was just the same as fresh and made the most delicious filling for pies and other pastry. The local manager of the Northern Pacific dining car service was enthusiastic over the first order delivered, and will suggest that the fruit be used over the entire system.

"All the fruits are solid pack and are put up two in one. Two pounds of berries to one of sugar. Loganberries, blackberries and raspberries are packed in five-gallon tins and the strawberries in ten-gallon kegs. The tins weigh about 45 lbs. and the kegs 90 pounds net. Blackberries are quoted at 10 cents, loganberries 12 cents, raspberries 15 cents and strawberries 15 cents, to the bakery trade."

THE 1922 SEASON

The season of 1922 has been very disappointing to almost all those engaged in agricultural pursuits. Many other lines of industry have had their own troubles, especially those directly connected with the agricultural industry. The signs of the times point to a considerable betterment for next year. There will be much more ready money circulating, especially amongst prairie farmers.

We have noted several things that can be done to make the lots of the farmer easier, especially the fruit farmer. Several matters connected with transportation need adjusting. Many things that can be absorbed by his market and easy to grow in B. C. will be discussed during the winter campaign. We welcome the new Greenhouse Mens Organiaztion now formed in Victoria, and we will endeavor to form another such organization with headquarters in Vancouver. Carlot shipments to prairie points of greenhouse vegetables will be rolling in 1923 season. We expect to lay plans for distribution, etc., before greenhouse men in the near future.

Our ideal is to have all B. C. producers united in one selling organization. If we succeed in this it will be a record organization. Space forbids a review of this season's fruit and vegetables—we will deal in detail with this subject in our annual report. Prospects for the balance of this season are bright.

Apples are firming in price, and winters in storage should sell at a satisfactory price. Figures in our hands from a reliable source indicate that the amount of apples in storage for winter supply is not more than can be consumed at prairie points. We consider that a proportion of these should be stored in distributing points in the prairies, so that in mild weather they can be sent to near-by points that are at present understocked.

We find that the three prairie provinces have an abundant supply of potatoes, with no prospect of an eastern or United States market. B. C. potato shippers in the dry belt will find a market here for a limited amount of select stock, apart from that and perhaps some certified seed potatoes, little need to be expected from the prairie.

We have had several welcome letters pointing out errors that have inadvertently been made. In every case corrections have appeared when needed. The object of the Bulletin is to guide the fruit growers in B. C. in all that pertains to marketing their fruit. We extend thanks to all who have co-operaed with us to this end.

WEEK IN CALGARY

The weather this week has been ideal.

The wholesale fruit men held their usual weekly meeting on Wednesday in the Board of Trade rooms. It was shown the apple market had been brisk during the week when 3,200 to 3,400 boxes of apples had been sold. It was also shown that country stocks were getting low, and that a good country demand was expected soon.

Jobbers are all cleaned up on onions, and are looking for new supples.

The first car of California vegetables arrived in Calgary today containing cauliflower, head lettuce and rhubarb. The car arrived in good shape. The contents sold at: Cauliflower $3.50 per case, head lettuce $7.00 per case, rhubarb. The car arrived in good shape. The contents sold at: Cauliflower $3.50 per case, head lettuce $7.00 per case, rhubarb $5.00 per case.

Alaska has 1000 automobiles. Three years ago there were only 200.

Literary Society Enjoys Meeting

A full house greeted those taking part in the meeting of the Literary and Debating Society on Nov. 8. The evening was devoted mainly to Sir Walter Scott and his works. Mr. Dunbar gave an outline of the author's life. Dunach— school pupils under Miss Carr gave a scene from "Ivanhoe;" Mt. Lehman pupils under Miss Ferguson and Miss Stafford contributed selections from "The Lady of the Lake," and sang Scott's "Lullaby to an Infant Chief." Mrs. Roy Lehman and Miss Kitty Taylor delighted all with vocal and instrumental numbers respectiely. Mr. Farber spoke on the influences of the writer. An informal dance closed a pleasant evening.

A debate on the resolution that machinery has done more harm than good is being prepared for the meeting on Nov. 22.

Miss Agnes Macphail of Dennison was the guest of Mrs. Frank Baldwin, New Westminster, for a few days.

The Hallowe'en season has been an extended one this year. Dennison High School was the first to celebrate, when the girls entertained their fellow students and friends on the afternoon of October 27. Music, readings and games, followed by refreshments, gave pleasure to all. Dunach school, with a somewhat similiar programme, gave their concert and dance on Saturday night in the municipal hall. The afternoon of October 31 was the time chosen by the Mt. Lehman school to present their choruses and dialogues to a pleased audience. Later, games were played and the afternoon closed with Hallowe'en delicacies. Jubilee school held a concert and dance on Novemer 3 which was most enjoyable to all present. On Hallowe'en, witches, ghosts and the practical joker held sway. In most cases the revellers gave pleasure, but in a few instances they exceeded bounds.

The Y. P. S. held their social meeting on Friday, Oct. 27, in the Memorial hall, which had been decorated with Hallowe'en colors and symbols. After a brief business session the meeting was put into the care of the social committee who had arranged a delightful programme. Community singing, games and contests filled up the time. The committee, consisting of Mrs. Gamsby, the Misses Macphail, Taylor, Brown and McLean, and Masters Walters and Oswald, rendered "jazz" selections. Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. Green, assisted by willing friends, served refreshments. It was announced that the meeting on November 11 would be given by the missionary committee.

A splendid supply of fruit and vegetables was generously given by the members and friends of the local True Blue lodge for use in the True Blue Home, New Westminster. Further donations have been promised. Mr. S. Harvey looked after the shipping from Mt. Lehman and Mr. Alex. Bates attended to the details at Gifford station.

MATSQUI HAS FENCE PROBLEM

MOUNT LEHMAN, Nov. 9.—With bad weather approaching, when roadwork is difficult, and a depleted exchequer prohibiting expenditure, the November meeting of the Matsqui Council was of little importance to the ratepayer.

Fatherly advice and small charitable donations, with the passing of the usual accounts marked the business session, allowing the councillors an early adjournment.

Coun. Ware raised the question of gates and fences across public roads, instancing the Valley road at Clayburn, which was gated at the railway crossings. It was undesirable for property owners to have gates across travelled roads, although these seem necessary until the roads are fenced, or cattle will stray. The solution will be found in road fences and cattle guards.

Owners disputing over property line fences are to have their problem settled by the properly appointed "fence-viewers," whose duty it is to define these lines, and whose decision is final.

The danger of unlighted horse-vehicles meeting autos after dark was brought up by the recent Mt. Lehman accident which just avoided serious results. Under present laws, wagons and buggies are not compelled to carry lights, but a bylaw could be passed to enforce the provision if the people thought it necessary.

Mr. Pihl, rural mail carrier, reported the danger to travellers caused by some Chinamen blasting near the road and placing no warning sign or person to safeguard the public. The "mail" had been showered by rocks and dirt when passing. The employer of the Chinamen will be notified of the danger.

The residents of Matsqui showed the true spirit of generosity when notified of the conditions of a family near the dyke. The council were told of gifts of hay and potatoes, cash and apples, and joined the donors with a $15 grant.

Other instances of necessity were quoted, where the council were ready to help, but technical difficulties were in the way.

The government does not pension persons who hold land of high assessment, although it may be entirely remunerative. The owners do not want to lose all claim to it. The council cannot reduce its assessed value to the detriment of adjoining property.

The advice of the municipal solicitor is deemed essential.

MT. LEHMAN SCHOOL REPORT

The class leaders in Dennison High School for October were: First year, Lily Reef; second year, Drummond Oswld; third year, Magie Donaldson, R. G. Dunbar is principal.

In Mt. Lehman senior room the following held first place for October: Entrance, Eudora Walters; Senior Fifth, Gordon Taylor; Junior Fifth, James Gibson; Fourth Reader, John Dennison. Miss Ferguson is principal.

In the junior room Pauline Moore led in the Third Reader; Hubert Farber in the Second Reader and Verona Farber in the receiving class. Miss M. Stafford is teacher.

POTATO RECORD AT STAKE IN B. C.

Last year Mr. J. Caul of Huntingdon exceeded the highest yield recorded at the experimental farm at Agassiz, by about three tons. He took 30,300 lbs. of potatoes from one acre of ground. That was the second crop from the land. It was thought that a record was established for potato growing.

Now along comes the Vernon potato record which goes it one better: Noel Leishman, B. X. planted 55 lbs. of seed and dug 1500 lbs. of Carmen No. 1 marketable spuds. This is a yield of 27 to 1.

He also planted 9 sacks of Netted Gems to the acre which yielded 17 tons.

Next!

Glad to hear that the Okanagan can grow good potatoes as well as "fuzzless, skirtless" peaches.

When your telephone is left accidentally off the hook, it registers the same as a call at central. If the operator gets no response to her "Number, Please," the number is handed over to the repairing forces as being out of order. All this involves tests, reports and time. In the meantime, no one gets you on your telephone.

"Off the hook" is a very common cause of interruption to telephone service. By the exercise of care in this connection you will protect your service and avoid inconvenience to yourself and others.

CLAYBURN

Mrs. T. Seldon was hostess to the Matsqui Women's Institute on Wednesday last, when twenty-four members and six visitors attended the November meeting.

Mrs. Richmond and Mrs. McMorran gave a cooking demonstration that was much appreciated, and many mental notes were taken for future culinary service.

The importance of having a woman member of the School Board was realized, after a long and interesting debate on school matters, and the Institute will endeavor to select and support a trustee candidate in the new year elections.

Work for the Matsqui Institute stall at the M.-S.-Abbosford Hospital bazaar was planned and distributed and a committee named for its management. The business session was followed by a delightful interval for refreshmets served by the hostess.

Miss E. Farr Is Given Shower

The home of Mr. G. H. Rottluff Mountain View farm, Matsqui Prairie was the scene of a very pretty shower given in honor of Miss Emma Farr daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Farr, of Matsqui and sister of Claude Farr well known athlete, on the occasion of her approaching marriage to Mr. J. Saunders returned soldier and prosperous farmer of Matsqui Prairie. Little Misses Ruth and Freda Mundy drew the gifts into the diningroom in an express wagon gaily decorated with blue and with ribbons and presided over by a large kewpie. The wedding takes place on Thursday, November 16th.

MR. N. HILL ADDRESSES MATSQUI HIGH SCHOOL

The regular meeting of the Matsqui High School Literary Society was held October 6, 1922, when the second and third years entertained. They were favored by a piano-solo by Stella Hurum, a reading by Eva Carlson and a song by Mabel and Maud Beharrel.

Mr. N. Hill, of Abbotsford, spoke to us the following meeting, October 20th, on the "Machinery of the Banking system." He traced the origin of the banking system to the system now in use. Mr. Hill, also, explained how the surplus money from the older provinces in the east, is sent to the younger in the west, and at this time of the year to Winnipeg, needing all the money it can get, being the centre of the wheat district.

A vote of thanks was moved by Miss Maud Beharrel and seconded by Mr. Cecil Yarwood, which showed the appreciation of the pupils.

Premier Answers Mr. Bowser's Charges

VICTORIA, Nov. 7.—"I have paid four bits many a time to see a vaudeville show and have not seen half as good a performance as we had here when the leader of the opposition made his speech," remarked Premier Oliver recently in completing his address on the address in reply to the speech from the throne.

The Legislature was not the place for public entertainment, continued the Premier, and, considering the time consumed by Mr. Bowser, his speech had cost the people in the neighborhood of $4000. They might well ask if it is worth it, he said.

The Premier declared that the opposition leader committed an act of treachery of a serious nature when he had sent out telegrams Wednesday evening to the effect that the member for Cranbrook had been deprived of his right to speak, the Premier taking advantage of a technical point.

In Mr. Bowsers absence, Mr. R. H. Pooley and Mr. J. W. Jones suggested that "treachery" was hardly a parliamentary word, whereupon Premier Oliver tendered an apology, but said he would leave it to the House to understand what was meant.

Dealing with the question of finance, the government leader referred to a question asked Mr. Bowser, when he was premier, by Mr. Brewster, then leader of the opposition. The answer was that the estimated deficit on March 31, 1917, would be $3,375,359. When asked how this would be met, continued the Premier, Mr. Bowser had replied that the government was considering the matter. He said such an answer should discredit Mr. Bowser's criticism of the present government's financial policy, and he asked opposition members if they thought their leader was playing fair with them.

Premier Oliver repeated his statement made at the Nelson convention that the operation of the Civil Service Act had resulted in the transfer of patronage from ministers of the crown to the Civil Service Commission. The result had not been satisfactory to the people of the country nor to the government and there would have to be a change.

He twitted opposition members over their former prediction that loans placed in New York would ultimately cost the people 15 per cent. before redemption. With Canadian money at a premium the government's policy had been proven a wise one.

The Premier did not mind listening to Mr. Bowser's "misstatements" but he did not wish the people who did not know the opposition leader to place credence in them.

Turning to P. G. E. Railway affairs, the government leader read extracts from his diary to show that in January, 1920, representaties of the Vancouver and Victoria Boards of Trade had urged the government to complete the line not only to Prince George but to a junction with the E. D. & B. C. The delegation included such men as President W. H. Malkin of the Vancouver Board of Trade, and J. L. Beckworth of Victoria.

He told how he had heard Mr. Bowser state from the platform at Pouce Coupe that if his government had not been defeated the line would have been completed by this time. He read from the Sullivan report to show that at that time the efficiency of labor was at a low ebb while materials were high.

He then took up the statement of Mr. Bowser that the Premier was responsible for the wastage of $20,000,000 in the construction of the P. G. E.

"But I find the total amount of money paid out on all accounts since we took it over and up to September 30 last was $18,902,186," the Premier went on, "and that included not only the work on the Northern Construction Co., but payment of interest."

These other payments included in the $18,902,186, the Premier detailed as $3,326,929 interest on debenture stock: $2,862,378 other interest charges; totalling upward of $6,000,000 for interest alone; $1,394,650 for loss in operation and $1,271,503 for the purchase of rails.

"We have in these nearly $9,000,000 accounted for," he went on. "This leaves not quite $9,000,000 expended in construction since the government took it over and not the $20,000,000 which the leader of the opposition says."

A little breeze developed when the Premier took up some of Hon. H. H. Stevens' statement, repeated by W. K. Esling, Conservative member for Rossland. He referred to one of these to the effect that a reputable firm had offered to complete the P. G. E. for $6,000,000.

"I characterize that statement as a figment of the imagination, without a shadow of foundation for it, and I challenge the member for Rossland and to produce anything in substantiation in the construction of the P. G. E.

Still another statement which he referred to was that in which it was alleged that the liabilities of the P. G. E. when taken over by the government were less than $20,000,000. The Premier read from the reports that the liabilities on February 22, 1918, when the line was taken over, amounted to $24,240,011.47, and there were further liabilities such as $210,000 for land contracts for rights-of-way and $1,271,000 for rails, all contracted for by the old company.

Next was the criticism that the accounts of the Northern Construction company had not been studied. The Premier said that as far as this Legislature was convinced it was interested in the accounts of the company no further than they related to its dealings with the P. G. E.

Next the Premier took up Mr. Bowser's criticism that the government was not encouraging the fruit industry of the province because it did not send B. C. fruit to London, wither a former government sent it and captured first prize.

He pointed out that when the present government took office it found speculative companies had got hold of fruit lands of the province, sold these lands at big prices, separated the ownership of the land from the companies supplying them with water, and which companies had put in cheap irrigation works. It was found that these irrigation works fell down just when the trees were coming to the bearing stage, and the companies could not deliver the water, with the result that loss faced the fruit men.

"As the Premier of this province I advise the Liquor Board that it was not the wish of this government to put stores in any place in opposition to the desires of the people," he added. "I ask if Mr. Bowser were returned to office if he would defy the vote of the vast majority of the people, defy the law put on the books by the elected repesentatives of the people, and go against his own oath of office to carry out that law?

"It is all very well for a man with a gift of satire and language to put up a vaudeville entertainment here, but this House is for the transaction of public business.

"I want to tell my friends that although I voted for prohibition there is a bottle of whisky in my house at the present time and that when I went on that famous trip over the P. G. E. not a drop of liquor passed my lips."

Referring to the A. F. Proctor case again, the Premier asserted that "when they say that the chief engineer was intoxicated they say what is not true." He referred to Mr. Proctor as "a gifted man who had mde a slip and has paid an awful penalty."

It is pitiable to see the leader of the opposition for the sake of a laugh jump on a man when he is down," the Premier went on.

Mr. Jones—Oh, Mr. Proctor is young yet.

Premier Oliver (continuing) — I might go further and say that it is almost contemptible.

Touching upon Mr. Bowser's reference to making brandy out of peaches in the okanagan Valley, Premier Oliver said he thought the twist given the matter by the opposition leader was most contemptible. Still, he would frankly say that so long as the government was selling brandy he would approve the sale of brandy made in this province.

His son's name being brought into the matter annoyed the government leader. True his son had discussed the use of surplus fruit but the truth was that his son suggested making acetic acid and combining it with lead brought from the Trail smelter to manufacture arsenate of lead for fruit tree spray. He explained that last summer $23,000 worth of this had been bought by the Okanagan buyers.

At this juncture the Premier was visibly moved and his voice quavered as he asked:

"What was the quality of mind and brain of a man who will attempt to hold up another to ridicule when he is doing his best to serve the people?"

Hon. Mr. Oliver next reviewed the hearing of the charges against Dr. A. R. Baker and referred to Mr. Pooley's remarks about him. However, he explained, Magistrate Shaw was an appointee of Mr. Bowser's government, and it ill behoved the Esquimalt member to refer to him as a "lap-dog."

Premier Oliver criticized Mr. Pooley for not appearing in court in Vancouver to give evidence before the royal commission until a "blue paper" forced him there. The member for Esquimalt was charging that the cost of the enquiry, which the Premier said was $6,112.44 might have been saved if the Legislature itself had disposed of the matter. However, the necessary witnesses were not available while the House was sitting, it was explained, and it was much better to have a commission than to keep the House in session for an indefinite time.

The government leader said that Mr. Pooley had not shown very good citizenship by refusing to appear before the commission until forced. The latter interjected that he had made his intention not to do so clear before the Legislature prorogued and he added that "We at least saved the beaver."

"Hear, hear!" came from the member for Fort George.

"I have heard of people who came into the world to save it, but it needs a lot of saving yet," returned the Premier.

He then dismissed Mr. Bowser's speech by saying that he could not find one constructive suggestion in it. Nothing had been offered by the leader of the opposition that would help solve the University problem or show a way out with regard to the P. G. E.

"Nothing but the misstatement that we wasted $20,000,000!" he exclaimed, and then asked what Mr. Bowser had to say about the schools—nothing but that retrogression had set in. Still, he continued Mr. Bowser's government had established the present school system.

In concluding Premier Oliver said:

"I stand on the judgment of both sides of the House and the judgment of the people. The government is entitled to the best advice of every members, and those members who do not strive to improve conditions through their assistance are not true representatives of the people."

Mt. Lehman News

Mrs. Middleton of Mission City was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Lehman for some days. While here Mrs. Middleton was busy renewing old friendships.

Messrs. M. and D. McAskill entertained a house party of Vancouver friends during the Thanksgiving holidays. The guests were the Misses Fraser, McDonald, Macaulay and Mackay, and Messrs. Fraser, Ferguson and D. A. McAskill.

The West Matsqui Co-operative need more room for feed storage so they have plans made for the erection of another building adjacent to their present store. Mr. S. Nicholson is in charge of the work.

Large congregations attended the Thanksgiving services held in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday, Nov. 5. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers, fruit, vegetables and grain by Mrs. Forrester, Mrs. McDonald and the Misses Gillis, Lewis, Bates and McDonald, with assistance from Mr. D. Nicholson and D. Oswald. During the morning offertory the Girls' choir sang "Who Givest All." The gifts of fruit, etc., were sent to the Presrbyterian Girls' Home, Vancouver, where they were greatly appreciated.

At the regular meeting of the Mt. Lehman Women's Institute, held on November 8, further arrangements for the concert and dance to be given on Dec. 1 were made. In order to form a library for the Institute it was decided that each member contribute a book. A resolution voicing disapproval of W. I.'s affiliating with or having representation on the directorates of other societies was passed. It was decided to become more fully acquainted with parliamentary procedure by studying the rules laid down by the Department of Agriculture. Mrs. J. D. Fearn gave an interesting paper on "Labor Saving Devices for the Home." Mrs. Bates, Mrs. Athole Lehman and Miss Edna Bates were hostesses. A welcome visitor was Mrs. Middleton of Mission City. In all probability Mrs. Middleton will show her large collection of useful and fancy articles, made from flour and sugar sacks, at the December meeting.

GOVERNMENT HAD MAJORITY OF 12

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 11.—An amendment offered by Mr. Catherwood, Conservative, Dewdney, during his address in the debate on the Speech from the 8hrone, resulted in the legislature sitting until two o'clock Thursday morning. The amendment expressed regret over "the inefficiency of the Land Settlement Board." After a heated debate the government was sustained on division. The government majority was twelve.

Mr. J. A. Catherwood, Conservative, Dewdney, spoke briefly congratulating the ministers concerned on the consolidation of the statutes and the Sumas reclamation scheme, but regretted no mention had been made of the necessary protection work on Nicomen Island.

Liquor act amendments, he said, did not come any too soon, and he criticized the goernment for not holding an election to fill the vacant seat in Vancouver.

Mr. Catherwood took up the question of amendments to the game act, asking that farmers be given permission to shoot pheasants destroying crops and to trap muskrats damaging drains or crops.

The dyking act was also touched upon, Mr. Catherwood claiming that the acts should be consolidated and all dyking schemes brought under the new act. The mothers' pension act and workmen's compensation act came in for commendation, but Mr. Catherwood thought that there should be more sympathetic understanding in the administration of these acts.

Miss Florence Parton has returned to Cedro Wooley, Wash.

Rev. Mr. Condgen of the Federated Church of the City of Sumas, will conduct the services in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening. Rev. W. Robertson will preach in Mr. Congdon's Church in Sumas.

Chilliwack Athletes Visit Mission City

Mission entertained Chilliwack in football and basketball yesterday, with Mission winning in the former by 2 to 1, while the basket ball games have not been played at the time of going to press.

The football game was slow in getting stated, the referee being unable to appear, which necessitated the end of the game being played in very poor light. Chilliwack was first to score when they rushed the goal in earnest; Plumridge made a nice save but on the rebound the ball was placed well out of his reach. Mission evened up soon after when Dave Galliford rushed the goalie after a long shot, with the result that the latter missed it altogether.

Play was resumed at half time without any interval as darkness was settling already. Chilliwack took the offensive at first, but Mission soon found themselves and Hamilton put the home team one up when he beat the backs in a sprint and placed the ball in the corner of the goal. This concluded the scoring and it was just a matter of getting the game over as it was getting too dark for good fooball.

Line up—Plumridge, J. Galliford, Appleby, Beaton, C. Galliford, Fuzino, Lock, Cox, Hamilton, D. Galliford and Northcote.

On Thursday afternoon friends and parents had the pleasure of visiting the new school and viewing the same. Many pleasing and complimentary remarks were made as to the wonderful improvement made in the school building and the conveniences installed especially in regard to the heating plant.

SUMAS W. I.

HUNTINGDON, Nov. 11.—The conference report of Mrs. F. Thompson occupied most of the business session of the Sumas Women's Institute on Thursday. The meeting was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Simonds, at Huntingdon. There were present Mrs. E. Austin, Mrs. L. Curtis, Mrs. A. W. Finlay, Mrs. E. F. Lunn, Mrs F. B. Fadden, Mrs McGarva, Mrs F. Thompson, Mrs. Thompson, Miss Lunn and hostess. A detailed discussion of the report brought out many problems of interest, the chief being the gradual spread of Orientals in the country. The delegates had received instructions from the convention to recommend the passing of resolutions urging the Hon. Charles Stewart to bring up measures for prohibiting the further immigration of Orientals. Individual members (of whom there are now about 36,000) were requested to bombard the authorities with private letters, also.

Convinced that it would be far better sanitarily and otherwise for the junior scholars to have a proper room of their own, instead of using the Municipal hall for a school, as at present, the meeting passed a resolution urging the School Board to build a new addition to the Whatcom Road school.

Congratulatory letters to two members were ordered on motion by the ladies, one to Mrs. Winifred Fadden on the arrival of a son, and one to Mrs. J. Miller on the birth of a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Green of Williams Lake spent the week end as the guests of Mrs. M. M. Shore.

Miss Florence McPhee who has been ill in the M.-S.-A. Hospital is progressing favorably.
