ABOUT TOWN

A beautiful horse belonging to Miss Frances Gibson died in Anaconda on Saturday.

This is a season of gaity in Greenwood. It is a succession of tennis, teas, cards, picnics, etc.

The smelter pump was run for the first time this year on Monday owing to unusual low water in Copper Creek.

The entertainment at the Auditoium was not the financial success it deserved to be, owing to a number of other events on the same evening.

Mr. Samuel Barrell, the brakeman on the high line is in the hospital from a crushed heel. He was hurt on Sunday morning while switching at the smelter.

BIG STORM

MUCH DAMAGE DONE.

MANY TREES BLOWN DOWN.

SMELTER SMOKE STACK BLOWN OVER.

At about 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon a big wind storm came up from the south. The wind blew with tremendous velocity for about a quarter of an hour. After this it hailed for a short time, and then began to rain. The rain was accompanied with much thunder and lightning.

Trees come down.

During the wind storm many trees came down. Three or four fell onto houses, some on fences and many across the creek. One fell over the railway. A short time after, the passenger train came by, and ran directly through the tree.

The smelter smoke stack, too.

A little later the smelter smoke stack went over. The town is now filled up with smoke. Telegraph poles were also blown over.

Roads blocked up.

All the government roads in the Boundary valley are piled full of trees. It will be some time before they are cleared.

Runaways and plate glass.

P. Burn's horses were frightened by the lightning and ran home. They did no damage. The West Fork stage ran away also.

Three plate glass windows in Russel-Law-Caulfield Co's store were blown out.
