A Budget of Interesting News From Many Quarters.

[SPECIAL TO THE CLAIM.]

San Francisco, April 26.—The chief of police has made disclosures of the details of a graft that is far more hideous than any yet unearthed implicating either Reuf or Mayor Schmitz. London, April 26.—Sir George Armstrong, the proprietor of the London Globe is dead.

Vancouver, April 26.—W. J. McKay, the founder of the Atlin Claim and the Nelson Tribune, has purchased the Skeena River News and will commence the publication of the Essington Sun, on May the first at Port Essington.

Nelson, April 26.—The coal famine situation is getting very critical owing to the strike of the coal miners. About 15,000 men are involved. The C. P. R. will be unable to keep their passenger trains moving in another week. The people are appealing to the authorities at Ottawa to keep the mines working.

Vancouver, April 26.—A cheque for $98,500 was tendered by the G. T. P. for the Indian reservations about Kaien Island. The cheque was refused by the chiefs assembled. They now demand just double the amount.

Tokio, April 26.—The Pacific mail steamer Mongolia, in trying to avoid a collision with a sailing vessel, ran on the rocks in Haytoma Straits.

Goldfields, Nev., April 26.—The miners' strike which started seven weeks ago is ended. It is claimed as a victory for the mine owners. The men got eight hours a day but no advance in wages.

Durban, April 26.—A serious native uprising is feared. There are distinct signs of unrest among the tribes. Their conduct is worse than it has ever been since the revolution.

London, April 26.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has observed a complete silence on the discussion of the plans for defences, although every other premier spoke on the subject. From this it is understood that Canada does not favor participation in the schemes for Imperial defence.

Dr. Wm. A. McConkey left last Monday morning for the lower coast. The doctor's visit was but a short one. He, after looking into the matter, did not think there was enough business in the camp, and consequently he left. Atlin is a healthy camp alright alright.

Jim Kershaw and Louis Gierke moved up to Wright creek a few days ago. 'Dad' Davies went outside to have a slight operation performed, when he returns he will go up the creek. 'Lym' Hodges will be 'agoing up some of these days.'

Appreciated.

Thanks to the kindness of M. R. Jamieson and Mr. E. Roselli, the children of the district were entertained by a gramaphone concert at the schoolhouse on Wednesday last. Mr. M. R. Jamieson presided, and by the generosity of the same gentleman everyone present was generously supplied with chocolates. The hearty cheers given by the children at the close of the entertainment for Messrs. Jamieson and Rosselli, was indicative of the hearty appreciation of the children of the thoughtfulness of the two gentlemen.

Church Services.

Rev. A. E. O'Meara will preach at special services in St. Martin's church, next Sunday morning and evening. The morning service will at 11 o'clock, and the subject of sermon will then be "Christ's Salvation and Christ's Service." What Do You Think.

Every mining camp in the world has, at one time or other, suffered from the work of the bogus 'mining man,' 'expert' and wind-jammer. It has been the case in the past and will likely continue in the future. But, that does not prevent us from trying to do our best to keep our camp free from the pest.

Atlin district has for years been worked as a placer and hydraulic camp, with varying success. A couple of dredges were installed at enormous expense—both were rank failures—the story is too well-known for us to continue. A steam shovel was installed on Spruce creek in 1905 and after running two seasons in a desultory manner, the company burst up. The men were not paid their wages, and, we are told there are quite a few accounts owing by the company to merchants in the district. Yet, after the shovel suspended men went to work and proved with the pick and shovel the ground to be extremely rich.

Last fall, according to the assertions of two different 'mining men,' we were to have two steam shovels in the camp by this date. One for O'Donnell and the other for McKee. Where are they?

Now-a-days all eyes are turned in the direction of quartz. That is the magic word. Quartz will make this camp. There is plenty of it and that it runs into considerable values has been satisfactorily demonstrated. What we want is money to develop these properties. Without money we can do nothing. The money must come from the outside, for of a certainty we have none to spare ourselves.

But we must not imagine every Johnnie who comes along, who has on a pair of high tan shoes, and who talks glibly of cross-cuts and tunnels, and speaks of thousands spent in development work, as the 'real thing' investor or mining expert. Within the past season we know of at least three or four of these 'Alladin-lamp blowhards' who came in to camp and tried to fill us up with fairy tales of what they were going to do. In every case the result was the same—'nothing doing.' In one or two instances bills were run up to a considerable amount and then the parties left, without notifying those interested of their post office address. The nerve and brass of some individuals is astonishing, but it is there just the same.

Such a class of schemers and fakirs is a detriment to any community, mining or otherwise, and we surely do not want to be troubled with them any more.

The fault sometimes lies with us. We are very prone to receive with open arms anyone who will promise what we are looking for. We do not first find out whether they have their credentials with them or not. In such cases we have but ourselves to blame. Let us be more careful and not too ready to accept a lot of highly-colored statements as truth until there is some way of proving them so.

The genuine investor, or his representative, is a quiet bird, as a rule, and does not go about blowing his horn, and telling of his achievements. He is here for business. The hardest man in the world to get to talk is the bona-fide monied man. What he usually does is to sit back quietly and let the other fellow do the gassing. "Talk is cheap, it takes money to buy whisky"—or mining properties.

It will be our endeavor to help the legitimate mining man, investor or expert, to the best of our ability and, we add, it will be our endeavor to expose any and all of the other class, it matters not who they are or where they come from. In this we ask the co-operation of every right-minded citizen and miner in the camp. Give us the facts and we will published them, without fear or favor. The truth hurts no one.

It is more fun to see a man read a puff on himself in a newspaper than to see a fat man slip on an icy sidewalk. The narrow-minded man reads it over seven or eight times, and then goes around to appropriate what copies he can. The kind-hearted man goes around to the office and pays what he owes. The successful business man who advertises regularly and makes money by it, immediately starts out to find the editor and the two walk silently down the street together, and the business man takes sugar in his and they both eat a clove or two, and life is sweeter and peace settles down on their hearts for moments. Such is the experience of a grain of mustard seed that falls on different ground.—Ex.

A. O. U. W. & A. B. Dance.

Last Friday evening the Atlin Club house was the scene of a very merry and jovial gathering. The A. O. U. W. & the A. B. societies entertained their friends at a joint dance. The hall had been fixed up and the floor prepared by a very energetic committee, and the comfort and welfare of all was looked after.

About nine o'clock the dance began to the enticing strains of a waltz, and soon the dancers were gliding over the floor. The is no better floor in the district, and the spacious ballroom gives room for a large number of dancers, without crowding. The orchestra, composed of Mrs. C. R. Bourne, T. Hanna, C. P. Hickman, J. Cartmel, and C. R. Bourne, were very generous with their music, and did not stint with the encores. The thanks of all those who were present is due them. The refreshments were of the very best and it reflects great credit on the management on the way in which they were served.

Quite a number of Discovery people were present. Mr. Frank Mobley brought down a load and the stage another. For some reason or other those who came down a la stage had to wait over till morning before returning, which was rather unfortunate as many of them wished to get back early on account of business.

It is to be hoped another dance will be held soon, probably when a few more people arrive from the outside.

Still They Come.

The exceptionally severe cold experienced in the Canadian West during the past winter, has had no apparent depressing effect upon the spirit of emigration which has been manifesting itself recently in Canada's behalf throughout Great Britain and the continent of Europe.

It is stated that emigrants are coming to this country this spring in thousand-lots, and there is difficulty in obtaining berths on the steamships for the vast host. One institution alone expects to send out 3,500, this month and next.

Canadians in all parts of the Dominion will rejoice because the tide of emigration has not as yet reached its flood. All who are able and willing to work and who intend to become good Canadian citizens are welcome. The authorities must, however, exercise the greatest care and diligence in preventing any who are physically, mentally or morally unfit, from getting into the country.

Canada wants vigorous men and women, and must not be made the dumping ground for the 'scum' or 'dregs' of Europe. Emigrants must be thoroughly examined and carefully sifted as well as wisely distributed, or emigration will be a curse instead of a blessing to this country.

It pays to read the 'ads' of our home merchants, they are the ones who make it possible to have conveniences right to hand.

The Member For Atlin.

As Seen From The Gallery.

The duties of the Provincial Secretary are discharged by Dr. H. E. Young, whose constituency extends from the Yukon to the Stikine river on the south, a distance of some 250 miles.

The member for Atlin is a native Canadian, born at English River, Quebec, and is but six years a resident of British Columbia. (Dr. Young was in the camp in 1899.) His choice as the representative of the people of his wild and rugged constituency was not made because good parliamentary timber is scarce, but because it is universally recognised that Dr. Young is eminently fitted for the administrative work incident to membership in the cabinet, and his steady application to the duties of his combined offices adequately represents the man.

The district of Atlin is second only to the Yukon in the fame which it enjoyed in the days of the rush to the far North, and with its steadily increasing mineral output bids fair to rival the more notorious Dawson territory. Its mineral wealth consists both of placer diggings and quartz measures, the extent of which has already induced the investment of a large amount of capital. An English company capitalized at $15,000,000 is constructing a railway to reach the Rainy Hollow section, and an enormous smelter will be built at some point to reduce the output of the mines. This company has already paid out a very considerable amount for properties.

The southern part of the district, around Telegraph, is experiencing a boom, and the member for Atlin states as his conviction that it is undoubtedly one of the richest placer and mineral districts in the whole country. Its isolation and the lack of transportation facilities have proved a very serious handicap, but in spite of these the development has been extensive and will be yet more rapid.

Dr. Young is a graduate in Arts at Queen's University, Kingston, and an undergraduate as M. D., C. M., of McGill University, Montreal. His post graduate studies in medicine were taken at Pennsylvania and London.

The Tie That Binds.

Mr. Otto Miller, of Spruce creek, and Miss Eva Bladow, of Discovery, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the parsonage, last Wednesday afternoon, by the Rev. A. M. Ross.

The marriage was entirely a private affair. The young people drove down about noon time and immediately after the ceremony they went back to Discovery, where a wedding dinner awaited them at the Pine Tree. With a few friends they had a quiet and enjoyable time.

The bride is but a new-comer to out camp, and it speaks volumes for her charms that she should, on such short notice, have captured one of our handsomest and most popular swains in the guazy meshes of the matrimonal net.

It is the universal wish that the Goddess of Fortune may beam upon the pathway of the twain on the journey through life.

The young couple will take up their abode on Spruce creek, where Mr. Miller's interests are located.

Mrs. Roxborough, Mrs. Mobley, Miss Morrison and Miss Blyth were present during the ceremony.
